Female succession may occur in the Imperial peerage in any barony of England which was conferred by writ of summons; but it is subject to the rule of abeyance whenever there are more than one daughter, sister, etc., eligible to succeed. The term "Imperial" includes the three series of peers of "England" (up to June 30, 1707), "Great Britain" (thence to close of 1800), and the "United Kingdom" (1800 onwards).

Special Remainders.

There are also a few cases in which "special remainders" have been granted to female relatives in the absence of males.

An Irish peer who holds an Imperial title has also the special privilege of being able to seek election to the House of Commons for any constituency not in Ireland itself.

It was in the reign of Edward III. that Parliament was formally separated into the two Houses of Lords and Commons, and that the deliberations were conducted in separate Chambers.

The original numbers in the House of Lords have been greatly augmented from time to time, and there is no limitation of the power of the Crown to add to it by further creations. The power of the Crown to create Irish peers is limited by the Act of Union, so that one only can be created whenever three of the peerages of Ireland have become extinct.

The judicial functions of the Lords, and their power to pass Bills affecting the peerage which the Commons [illegible] are the only prerogatives [illegible] in these, apart from their personal privileges.

The chief powers vested solely in the House of Commons are those of imposing taxes and voting money for the public service. Bills for these purposes can only originate in that House, and the Lords may not make any alteration, except for the correction of clerical errors.

In addition to the power of expressing assent or dissent by a vote, peers may record their opinion and the grounds of it by a "protest," which is entered in the journals, together with the names of all the peers who concur in it.

Sent to the Lords.

When the Commons have passed a Bill they send it to the Lords. Formerly it was forwarded by one of their own members, who was usually accompanied by not fewer than eight other members.

The Lords send down Bills by two masters in Chancery unless they relate to the Crown or the Royal Family, in which case they are generally sent by two judges. According to an arrangement made in 1855, one of the clerks of either House may be the bearer.

When a Bill has been returned by either House to the other with amendments which are disagreed with, a conference is usually desired by the House which disagrees with the amendments, to acquaint the other House with the reason of such disagreement. The British Constitution is not founded on any single written instrument, but it rests upon a few fundamental principles which are unchangeable, since they have developed from the people themselves.

Power of Sovereign.

In theory the Sovereign is invested with supreme power and authority, and the hereditary House of Lords enjoys equal influence with the elected House of Commons, and every change in the laws of the country must receive the independent sanction of all these powers.

In practice the entire power of the Crown is vested in the Ministry for the time being, and it would be an offence against the unwritten law of the Constitution for the Sovereign to refuse assent to any Bill that had passed both Houses.

When any conflict arises upon matters of importance between the two Houses, it has now come to be equally part of that unwritten law that the will of the House of Commons shall in the end prevail, since it more fully represents the will of the nation.

The Sovereign has a constitutional right to be present in the House of Lords at any time during its deliberations, though he may not be concerned in any of its proceedings, except when he comes in State for the exercise of his prerogative. On the other hand, the Sovereign never enters the House of Commons.

A new peer, or one taking new rank, must be introduced by two peers of his own degree, accompanied by the Earl Marshal, the Lord Great Chamberlain, the Garter King of Arms, and Black Rod. Black Rod keeps order in the House of Lords and summons the Commons.

By a decision of the Court of Common Pleas in 1873, peers cannot vote for or in any way interfere with the election of members of Parliament.

In the House of Lords business may proceed when only three peers are present.

The Lords have their own mace, and will not allow the House of Commons' mace to enter their House. It accompanies the Commons to the door of the House of Lords. It is invariably left outside.

The Lord High Chancellor draws $30,000 a year as judge and $20,000 as Speaker of the House of Lords. He is not disqualified from taking part in a debate and voting, but he has no casting vote.

Slang in Business.

Illustrations of the disadvantage of cultivating local vernacular and slang in one's language are sometimes brought sharply home to business men, as was the case in a letter received the other day by a New York firm from one of their correspondents in the far east, which read in part as follows:

"Will you kindly send us a modern dictionary of American language, as we are unable to understand some of the phrases in your letters? Writing on the —th ultimo, you say, for instance: 'Do not let Messrs. —— hand you a lemon in this deal. If they try it on pitch one for fair right over the plate to Mr. ——, and if he foozles cable —— for a solar plexus.' The terms used are foreign to us, and we entirely fail to comprehend their significance."—Shipping Illustrated.

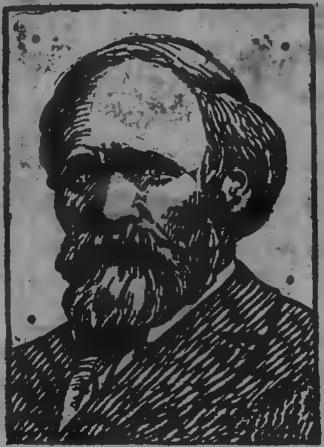
FAMOUS LABOR LEADER.

Keir Hardie Who Is Now on a Visit to Canada.

Mr. Keir Hardie, who is now visiting Canada, is one of the most striking figures in British politics. To him more than to any other is it due that the labor movement in the old country has become a vitalized force, and that there is in the House of Commons to-day a party strong enough to influence the most powerful Government of modern times in its legislative efforts. One of the founders of the Independent Labor party, Mr. Hardie early realized that the voice of labor to be heard and given effect to must be expressed at the polls and in Parliament independently, and accordingly he set himself to organize a party with political aims and a definite political platform. When he first took his seat in the House of Commons Mr. Hardie was regarded as something of the nature of a political freak. Disregarding all traditions, he shocked the dignity of the "best club in the world" by appearing in a suit of hodden grey, and wearing a biled shirt and a workman's bonnet.



J. KEIR HARDIE.

He has learned a good deal since, and now he dresses "more respectably," as the fastidious M.P. would say. Born in a mining village in Ayrshire, Scotland, Keir Hardie was sent to work in the pit when he was seven years old. He taught himself reading and writing, and while still a youth was elected secreatry of a large miners' union. He afterwards took to journalism, edited a local newspaper for some years, and then founded The Labor Leader, the organ of the Independent Labor party. He entered Parliament fifteen years ago. Mr. Hardie is a forceful writer and a fluent and convincing speaker. Like John Burns, he is never happier than when among his books of which he has a rich store.

A CURIOUS CHURCH.

Surrounded by Caves and Used Only Once a Year.

There stands upon a hill in the village of Uphill in the county of Somerset, England, a small and very old church which is surrounded by caves in which the bones of all kinds of animals have been discovered. This historic place of worship, which looks down upon Uphill Castle and the village itself, was at one time the only place of worship for miles around.

For several years no Sunday services have been held within its walls, says The London Tit-Bits, and the only time that the public is allowed to worship there is one night in the year—on Christmas eve—when the vicar of Uphill or some other clergyman officiates. There is a footpath leading up the hill to the church, but as the hill is a very steep one and the distance great very few people visit the church. It is by order of the ecclesiastical commissioners that it is opened to the public once a year.

Curious stories are told regarding this interesting edifice, one of which is to the effect that the church was purposely built on the top of the hill so that the preacher could feel convinced of the sincerity of the faith of those who accomplished the task of climbing to it. The church has been visited by people from all parts of the world. It is the only building in England—probably in the world—in which divine service is conducted only once a year.

A Tragic Heirloom.

Carefully preserved at Slains castle, the Aberdeenshire seat of the Earl of Erroll, is a single playing card, which recalls a never to be forgotten tragedy. It is the nine of diamonds (hence called to this day "the curse of Scotland") on which the Duke of Cumberland wrote his order for the butchery of the brave Highlanders who were taken prisoners at the fateful battle of Culloden.

New Parasite Appears.

A naturalist at Weenen, Natal, has discovered a curious crimson-colored parasite on a native fly, and a specimen has been forwarded to the Government entomologist at Maritzburg for examination.

Freak Newspapers.

One of the most remarkable freak newspapers ever printed was the Luminara, published at Madrid. It was printed with ink containing phosphorus, so that the paper could be read in the dark. Another curiosity was called the Regal, printed with non-poisonous ink on thin sheets of dough, which could be eaten, thus furnishing nourishment for body as well as mind. Le Bien [illegible] promised those who subscribed for forty years a pension and free burial.

THE CZAR'S KITCHENS.

Tests to Prevent Poisoned Food Reaching the Royal Table.

No chef in all the world occupies a more peculiar position than M. Eugene Kratz, the little known but august cordon bleu who presides in the imperial kitchens of the Great White Czar. This remarkable man draws a salary rather larger than that of the president of the United States—about $55,000 a year—and has paramount control of the palace kitchens in all the homes of the imperial family, from Peterhof, the Anitchkoff, the Winter palace, the Tsarskoe-Selo, all the way to Livadia, in the Crimea.

Six times a year M. Kratz makes the round of all the imperial kitchens throughout the empire, and his peculiar position may be realized from the fact that his social rank equals that of a general in the Russian army. And an army this wonderful chef certainly commands, with absolute authority—an army whose "weapons" are not the less important for being mere pots and pans.

Of course a culinary artist of such rank as M. Kratz does little or nothing at all with his own hands, but is rather an inventive genius, titillating the palate of the emperor and his august guests, for when the autocrat of all the Russias wearies of Russian, French, Italian and English dishes he must be tried with some fantasy such as chicken gumbo as made in New Orleans or some of the delightful sweet dishes of the Balkan states and Turkey.

It is well known that in the kitchens of the czar most elaborate tasting ceremonies are gone through, and when the czar is in residence at Peterhof, a palace about half an hour distant from the capital, not only M. Kratz himself, but also his under chefs and certain high officials of the imperial army, are called in to taste every dish that goes to the emperor's table, after which experiment a reasonable time is permitted to elapse to see whether or not the tasters are poisoned. This curious survival of other days comes down from the time of Ivan the Terrible.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

A New Pharmacy Precaution.

With the bottle of medicine the druggist handed out a slip of paper.

"What is that?" asked the customer.

"A list of the things you should not eat while taking this medicine," said the druggist. "Possibly the doctor neglected to give you instructions about that. Very often the doctors do forget. Druggists used to be equally careless, and most of them are yet, but we finally came to be accused of so many mistakes of which we were guiltless that in order to save our own reputation and that of the drug trade in general we established a school of dietetics. In so many cases where complaints were made about the medicine not having the desired effect we were accused of using inferior drugs, whereas it was injudicious eating that caused the evil results."—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Employs Deaf Mutes Only.

Over on New York's east side a prosperous merchant engaged in the bottling industry makes a specialty of employing deaf mutes in his establishment. These silent hands are reported to be more industrious than is usually the experience with unafflicted labor. On an average, the deaf mute bottler earns higher wages than his fellow workman, and he is generally more economical than the latter. Both in perceptive and receptive faculties the deaf mutes are said to excel as compared with those not so handicapped. In point of sobriety, the nonhearing, nonspeaking brother is reputed to set an enviable example.—New York Press.

A Horse With an Annuity.

A horse with an income is King, formerly owned by the late George C. Watts. He is now passing his old age on a farm on a monthly allowance of $150 left him by his former owner. Under the will of Mr. Watts, King was to have an allowance of $200 a year during the period of his usefulness and after that an income of $150 a month until his death. Billy, a pet dog, also received an allowance, but he died last February. Mr. Watts left an estate of $100,000, of which a part will go to charity, but the division of the estate has been delayed pending the death of the horse. King is twenty-one years old.—Chicago Tribune.

Hanged Bound to a Chair.

The agitation against capital punishment which was active in South Africa some time ago has been revived by details, published recently, of a scene at the recent execution of a Kaffir at Pretoria. When the executioner went to the condemned man's cell the prisoner made fierce resistance and struggled violently all the way to the scaffold. At the scaffold the executioner and his assistants cleverly forced the man into a chair, where he was bound so that he could not move. The man and the chair were then hanged together.

JACK TAR'S HARD TIME

THE BRITISH SEAMAN HAS LONG ROUND OF DAILY DUTIES.

Stows Hammock at 3.45 a.m.—Four Hour Stretches of Duty — Erratic Steering—Wages Are Poor — Food Also Scanty and Not Always Good —But Finest Seamen In the World —Face Danger Carelessly.

The following description of a British seaman's life, written by the young quartermaster of a blue funnel liner, is given in The Vancouver Province:

"Show a leg there. Tumble up. Rise and shine, you lubbers, lively now." This is the call that the British able-seaman receives at a quarter to four in the morning. He turns out after a series of stretches and yawns, sleepily rubs his eyes, and proceeds to dress himself, all the while keeping up a running fire of curses directed at the ship, the sea and all that appertains thereto. Having dressed, he lights his inevitable pipeful of strong, and to a landsman vile, tobacco, and waits for eight bells to strike. "Eight bells," a hoarse voice bellows, there is a mellow chiming, and the watch below turns out and relieves the man at the wheel and the lookout. It is our man's trick at the wheel until 3 a.m. and he stands high up on the flying bridge in the bitter wind carelessly glancing at the compass now and then and giving her a couple of spokes occasionally.

Your average tramp seaman is not very particular about his steering. "So long as she gets there, it's all right," he says, and the only time he is forced to steer an accurate course is when the eagle-eyed mates happen to check the course and hurl a few full-favored sea compliments at his poor head. At three bells he is relieved for ten minutes to get a cup of coffee and a smoke, and this welcome relief is much appreciated. Back to the wheel again, he steers until four bells, when a fresh steersman comes on and he joins the rest of the watch under the bo'sun and puts in his time washing paint and scrubbing decks.

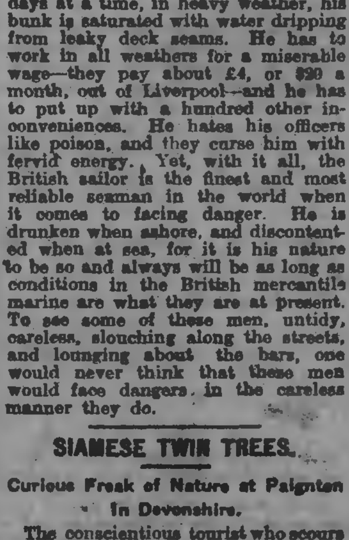
The time drags wearily on, but at last the welcome eight bells come along and his watch goes below for four hours. After partaking of breakfast, generally consisting of hash and coffee, he turns in until seven bells (11.30) when dinner is piped. At noon he turns out again for another four hours when he goes below until 6 p.m. Then he takes second dog watch until 8 p.m., when the old run of four on and four off comes on again.

The sailor's food is of the poorest quality, and often there is not enough of it. His quarters are wretchedly uncomfortable and leaky, and for days at a time, in heavy weather, his bunk is saturated with water dripping from leaky deck seams. He has to work in all weathers for a miserable wage—they pay about £4, or $20 a month, out of Liverpool—and he has to put up with a hundred other inconveniences. He hates his officers like poison, and they curse him with fervid energy. Yet, with it all, the British sailor is the finest and most reliable seaman in the world when it comes to facing danger. He is drunken when ashore, and discontented when at sea, for it is his nature to be so and always will be as long as conditions in the British mercantile marine are what they are at present. To see some of these men, untidy, careless, slouching along the streets, and lounging about the bars, one would never think that these men would face dangers in the careless manner they do.

SIAMESE TWIN TREES.

Curious Freak of Nature at Paignton In Devonshire.

The conscientious tourist who scours the crest of our little world meets with numberless and varied curiosities which are really worthy of record. Of these the twin tree of Paignton may certainly be said to be one, and, although it lies in a cottager's garden, off the main thoroughfare, it is always the subject of a deal of inspection by visitors to the fashionable Devonshire watering place.



SIAMESE TWINS TREE.

By the photographic production there are seen two distinct trees, which, at about four feet from the ground, are connected in a most curious manner by a branch growing from one tree to the other, and, inasmuch as it appears to grow from out of each tree and there is no visible joint in the branch itself it may be classed as one of the world's strangest trees.

As showing the utility of trees, it is worthy of note that this connecting branch forms the bar of an admirable children's swing, and, it may be added, no apprehension is felt by the children's parents as regards the stability of the swing frame.

The Passing of the Old P. A. A. A. Grounds in East City

Only Three or Four Lots of This Property Remain to be Sold—Many Houses are Going up—A Big Change Effected.

A few months more and the famous P.A.A.A. grounds in Ashburnham or the "cricket field" as it is sometimes called, once the scene of exciting athletic contests, the memory of which are still fresh in the minds of many Peterborough people, will be built up with well laid out and substantial residences, in which dwell happy and industrious citizens. The day of the "cricket field" as a place where athletic sports could be played, is a thing of the past, and the change has been effected in a comparatively short time. It is only a few years ago that cricket, lacrosse, baseball and football teams met on the P.A.A.A. grounds to vie with each other in these popular games, and were urged on by cheering hundreds who thronged the little grandstand and other portions of the field reserved for spectators. But that day is gone for good.

A gentleman closely connected with the control of this property informed the Review today that it had all been sold, with the exception of three or four lots. Many houses have been erected on the land in question and it is only a matter of a short time before it will all be built up.

The "cricket field" consisted of about 2 1-2 acres and was located on the east side of Driscoll Terrace in Ashburnham. About five years ago it was closed as an athletic grounds, and divided up into lots, which sold so well that at the present time there are only three or four that have not been disposed of. Mr. C. Gainey is among those who has recently purchased one lot of this property and intends building on it in the spring. This field was used for many years as an athletic field and many are the tales told of the hard fought and exciting games that have been played there.

The Review is informed that when the few lots that remain are disposed of, the sale of this property, about two and a half acres in extent, will have brought the owner of it about $5,000. Property is worth something in Ashburnham these days.

Wonder will the day come when Riverside Park will be divided into lots and made into a residential section.

Good Road to the Lift Lock; Twenty Foot Driveway Finished

Splendid Walks on Both Sides—Thousands of Yards of Clay Removed—Cut on the Summit averaged a Depth of 8 Feet—Material all Used.

The rocky road to the lift lock is no more. Peterborough's citizens will no longer have to blush when taking friends over the big hill to see the great piece of engineering work which has been the means of advertising this city so extensively throughout the entire civilized world. Up to last year, when the Board of Works purchased, or nearly so, a right of way through the Armour estate, and over the Armour Hill the city had no roadway to the lift lock. There were only two approaches, one through private property and the other along the canal bank from the bridge some distance below.

Now, however, there is a first-class roadway. Hunter street has been extended east from Concession street, over the hill to the lift lock. To accomplish this a great quantity of cutting on the hill had to be done. Thousands of yards of clay were removed; big boulders and fence posts were taken away, small knolls were levelled and hollows were filled up. At the summit of the hill an average cut of 8 feet was made, 14 ft. on the north side and 6 ft. on the south side of the road. The driveway is twenty feet wide, with regular sloping banks, which will not wash down, except in case of a very unusual flood. The cutting gradually decreases towards the lift lock until it reaches the level and there a hollow was filled in, so that now there is a regular grade from the top of the hill to the subway under the lock.

There will be no more breaking of rigs and no more stumbling over stones, or posts, or falling into holes. It is a good, level roadway and on each side are first class footpaths. The material taken out of the cut was used in building up the sides for sidewalks. These walks are several feet higher than the roadbed, and a few loads of cinders would make them equal to a cement walk and splendid bicycle paths. A lot of the material was used in widening and filling in streets in Ashburnham, and in filling in the raceway which crosses Hunter street, east of the river, so that good use was made of the clay.

The engineering department was greatly disappointed after work was started on this road extension. All the old residents who claimed to be acquainted with Armour's hill stated that the hill was all gravel. Had this been so the city would have been in great luck as such material is valuable for road work. But when the plows got to work no gravel was found. It is all clay and hard stuff to handle. Just north of the road is a pocket of gravel, and a few hundred yards might be secured, but there was not a wheelbarrow load on the city's property.

Mr Jas. O'Brien is foreman of the work and he has had a gang of about a dozen men several times on the job for the past three months but he is now almost done.

Property Committee Will Make Monthly Tests of Milk Supply

Sanitary Inspector Ball Instructed to Take Samples to Peterborough Creamery and Report Results to the Committee.

There will be a sample of milk taken from every licensed milk vendor in the city, once a month in the future, for the purpose of testing its quality. This will be in addition to the test made by the Board of Health, which is more thorough, as it is a double test, viz., the chemical test and quality test. The property committee has taken hold of the matter and at a meeting last night issued instructions to the sanitary inspector to have samples taken to the Peterborough creamery, and to report to the committee the first of each month.

The members present were Ald. McIntyre, Elliott and Morgan, and Mayor McWilliams.

Chairman McIntyre stated that the milk inspection was the only matter to be taken up. His idea was that tests be made every week in the city and the results published. Mr. P. Downham said that he would make the complete test, if all the samples came on the same day, for $2.00 per month.

The test in Toronto is made for two purposes. First, the chemical test ascertains whether any adulterations have been put in, and the second test is to ascertain the percentage of butter fat. Mr. Downham cannot make the chemical test. All he can do is to tell what quality of milk is being sold.

Mr. Downham was called up on the 'phone and asked what he would charge for making a test of ten or twelve samples at a time, and each milkman's milk to be tested once a month. He said that it would be worth about $3.00.

It was moved by Mayor McWilliams and Ald. Morgan, that the sanitary inspector be instructed to have the milk of each licensed vendor in the city tested by Mr. P. Downham once a month and that he report to the property committee not later than the first day of each month.—Carried.

Can Mr. Hartley Make Thirty Four Miles in Six Hours?

Much Interest Centres in Peterboro—Baillieboro Walking Match Civic Holiday—Quick Time to Springville and Return.

One of the many events of civic holiday that is creating great interest among a large number of people, and especially among the sporting population of the city is Mr. David Hartley's walk from Peterborough to Baillieboro. As the day approaches the interest has become keener, and there are a great many persons who state positively that it is impossible for a man to cover thirty-four miles in six hours. It practically means that he has to walk nearly 5 1-2 miles an hour, and that certainly is going some. But Mr. Hartley is confident of accomplishing the feat, and that he might do so, he has been training every day since his announcement that he would do it. Mr. Hartley has accomplished long walks before, and says that he will do it again. In addition to his walk to Lakefield and Chemong yesterday, he walked to Springville and return, a distance of sixteen miles. He made splendid time, although he was not attempting to do it in any stated time. He finished quite fresh and did not feel any the worse of his tramp, save that he was a little warm. He was not at all dressed for walking, but had on his ordinary clothes and heavy boots.

Mr. Hartley is certainly not getting very much support in his effort to make the walk, as is evidenced by the fact that only a side bet of $15 is up and that is hardly enough to pay the expense of him staying away from his work to make such preparations as is necessary to accomplish a feat of this kind.

Mr. Hartley will leave the corner of Hunter and George streets at one o'clock, going out the Gravel Road by way of Springville, Fraserville, Centreville, and then Baillieboro. He expects to reach Baillieboro at 3.25, so that he can have 15 minutes to have a wash, and have three hours and twenty minutes to make the return journey. The plucky pedestrian is making arrangements to have a man accompany him on a bicycle, who will be a witness also that he does not ride any part of the way, and he will also register the time of his arrival at the different points along the way.

If Mr. Hartley accomplishes this feat he will have done credit to himself and to the city. Peterborough will feel proud that she has a citizen who can accomplish such remarkable feats. If Mr. Hartley accomplishes this feat it will be an encouragement to try a longer tramp.

Four Prisoners For the Central

Left Yesterday to Serve Their Terms Working for the Government

Charles Phelps, Harry Goddard and Ray Bradford, the three pickpockets who a week ago were sentenced to 18 months in the Central prison by His Honor Judge Weller, on charges of picking the pockets of several citizens on circus day, June 25th, were taken to Toronto yesterday on the 4.48 train. The Central prison keeper Philip Swiser, was on his trip picking up all those along the line sentenced to the Central prison. He got a good bunch in this city, there being four altogether. Bert Newman was the fourth man. About a month ago he was given six months in Central prison on a charge of vagrancy. He has since been at Castle Nesbitt and will only have about five months to put in at Toronto. The four were all handcuffed together and there was no possible chance of them getting away. The four took the smoking car. At Central Prison they will be put to work at whatever trade they say they have followed in the past.

A Mexican consulate is to be established at Winnipeg.

Picton Priest Believes in Pigs

Novel Idea Towards Raising Money for Support of Parish

Picton Aug. 6.—Rev. Father Killeen incumbent of St. Gregory's church, is particularly energetic towards the material welfare of his charge. His novel ideas toward raising money are remarkably interesting. This spring he advised every member of his congregation to raise one or two pigs, the proceeds from the sale of which, this fall, will go toward the church. It is anticipated that over $1,000 will be realized in this original way. The congregation intend holding their annual lawn social this month and a week ago Father Killeen distributed $2 worth of tickets for each family of his congregation to dispose of. This means at the very outset $200 in proceeds.

Rev. W. L. Armitage announced on Sunday that the annual thanksgiving service in St. Mary's Magdalene's church would be held Thursday evening, September 19th. Bishop Mills will be present. It is anticipated the church debt will be entirely wiped out. Three thousand dollars stood against the church three years ago, now but $375.

Monday is Civic Holiday; How the Day Will be Spent Several Excursions From the City and Horse Races for Those Who Remain at Home—Printers' Picnic Leading Attraction.

Monday will be Peterborough's Civic Holiday and the day will be observed in the city as one of surcease from labor generally. Civic holiday is one that should appeal to every loyal citizen, as it is the one holiday that should appeal with special significance to Peterborough alone as it is the city's own holiday and as prosperity has attended Peterborough in a great measure during the past year there is no reason why the day should not be observed as a holiday joyfully and gladly.

Peterborough people should not find the day a slow one by any means, as there are several excursions from the city and also several attractions for those who remain at home. Of course the reduced railway rates will furnish an opportunity to many people to visit friends and see the sights in surrounding cities and towns and a large number will leave this evening to spend the holiday out of town.

PRINTERS' PICNIC

The Printers' Picnic at Idyl Wyld is one of the leading attractions of the holiday. The excursions of the types in past years have always been a great success and with fine weather this year's will be no exception to the rule. The steamer Idyl Wyld has been chartered for the day and will leave the Wolfe street wharf at eight o'clock, calling at the street railway landing. At Idyl Wyld there will be a program of athletic sports, including the annual baseball match between the Review and Examiner. Two strong teams will go on the diamond, and a great game is expected.

The Grand opera house orchestra is being taken along, and there will be dancing in the pavilion at Idyl Wyld. Mr. Archie Moore will be master of ceremonies. The printers assure the public a splendid outing.

ANOTHER EXCURSION

There is also another excursion down the river on Monday, that of the Catholic Foresters and Ancient Order of Hibernians to Jubilee Point. The steamer Monarch and palace barge Sultana, will leave the Wolfe street wharf at eight o'clock. A good orchestra has been engaged and there will be dancing on the barge and at the point. A fine programme of athletic sports will be run off at Jubilee in the afternoon. The Foresters and Hibernians are noted for their jolly outings and they will no doubt have a big crowd on Monday.

STONY LAKE REGATTA

One of the attractions for Civic Holiday that will no doubt be attended by a large number from the city, is the Stony Lake regatta, which will be held off Juniper Island, commencing at ten o'clock. There are a number of interesting events and a large number of entries. The regatta will be followed by a dance in the pavilion for which an orchestra from the city has been procured. The steamer "Ogemah" will come around with those from Chemong, and the Empress and Stony Lake will make their regular trips. A late boat Monday evening will leave Juniper Island at twelve o'clock and those from the city desiring to remain for the dance may do so and get home in good time.

TURF CLUB'S RACES

For those who remain in the city the chief attraction will be the Turf Club races at the Driving Park. There is an excellent card for Monday afternoon, all classes being well filled with fast horses. There will be a foot race and three horse races on the afternoon of the holiday, starting at 1.30. Some of the fastest horses in Ontario are entered and splendid racing is assured.

OTHER EVENTS

Among the other events that take place on the holiday, is the excursion of the Brinton Carpet Co.'s employees to Idyl Wyld on the Water Lily.

Mr. Daniel Hartley will also attempt to walk from Peterborough to Bailieboro and return—34 miles in all—in 6 hours. He will leave the corner of George and Hunter streets at one o'clock.

Of course, a large number of private picnics and excursions have been arranged and a most enjoyable holiday is anticipated.

Ashburnham Property Once Sold at "Dirt Cheap" Prices

Interesting Story of How the Whole Block of Land Where Ashburnham is Now Situated Once Was Purchased for a Horse and $20 Cash.

Did you ever hear the story of how the whole strip of land upon which Ashburnham is now built was once sold for $20 and a horse? Perhaps you have, as it is an incident connected with the history of Peterborough, but it is an interesting tale at anyrate and will stand retelling. It was told to a Review representative yesterday by an old resident of the city and proved of considerable interest to the newspaperman. It appears that along about 1800, when the first settlers located at Peterborough, the block of land upon which the village of Ashburnham afterwards sprung up, was given by the government to an English officer to whom the government was indebted for military services rendered. The reward was not as great as one might think nowadays for land was cheap in those days and a whole township could be bought for the price of a good 100 acre farm at the present day. The country was all one big forest a hundred years ago, but here and there a log cabin was springing up and the first inroads were being made upon the mighty woods.

After holding this property for a time the English officer grew tired of his real estate and wishing to leave the district decided to sell it. This was in the early years of the nineteenth century, along about 1804 or 05, to be precise. The story is told and it is well authenticated that the English officer sold the whole block of land where Ashburnham is now located, to Mr. Burnham for a horse and $20 in cash. The purchaser of the land, Mr. Burnham, was the grandfather of Dr. George Burnham, now a prominent resident of Peterborough. Mr. Burnham secured a clear title to the property, giving in return a horse and $20 in cash. Cash was a scarce thing in those days and there was not much of it circulating among the early settlers. Neither were horses valued as high as at the present day although they were not as plentiful.

Soon after this, however, settlers began to come in rapidly and a small village came into existence on the east shore of the Otonabee river. It was known as the "Scotch village" and sprung up several years before houses commenced to be built where Peterborough proper is now situated. It was thought in those days that Ashburnham was the coming town, but such did not prove to be the case. Time has wrought great changes and the property that once sold for $20 and a horse is now worth many thousands and is becoming more valuable all the time.

Undisputed Facts About
Zutoo

Zutoo tablets are now recognized as being without doubt or question, the best and only safe remedy on the market for headaches and colds.

They have practically displaced all other cures, and are now the only one used to any extent.

The reason is doubtless found in this further fact.

Zutoo tablets not only cure headache and colds but, unlike many other remedies, do not affect the heart, nerves or stomach.

CAPT. ROGERS ARRIVES HOME

And is Being Warmly Greeted by Many Friends After Five Years Absence

Capt. G. H. Rogers, of the XI. Rajputs Regiment, India, son of Col H. C. Rogers, postmaster, arrived in Peterborough last night and will spend several weeks here, the guest of his father. Capt. Rogers is on furlough and left India about five months ago. He spent a month in Japan and three months in British Columbia, before coming to Peterborough. He will spend a month here and a month in England before returning to India in October by way of the Suez canal.

It is five years since Capt. Rogers was last home and he is being warmly greeted by a host of friends. He is in splendid health and needless to say has many interesting incidents to relate of soldiering in India and his travels in various countries.

GROWTH OF CANADA'S INDUSTRIES

(Toronto Telegram.

The Government reports issued recently show that there are now 62 big manufacturing concerns in Canada transacting business of $750,000 and upwards. Seven years ago there were only 24 industrials transacting this volume of business in Canada.

Enterprises long established have shared in the general prosperity of the country. Perhaps the best illustration of a solid and substantial growth is that of the Slater Shoe Company which has passed "the million mark," and which stands well up in the race for supremacy amongst Canadian industrials. The Slater Company recently issued a quarter of a million of 7 per cent. preferred stock at par.

It is not yet known whether this stock, or any part of it, is to be offered for public subscription, but the average investor would certainly prefer such an opportunity rather than the many speculative and promotion stocks which are usually the only choice of the public.

LOCALS WILL PLAY LINDSAY

Yes, after a long struggle, the deal has been closed and Peterborough's finest will be seen on the home diamond against the Lindsay selects. We feel that a team can be picked from the League that will make the Peterborough's play all the way. Now, citizens, this game is a benefit for one of our old-time players who was injured in the game six weeks ago, and is not just as good as new yet, so we hope that you will arise to the occasion and give us one of our old time gate receipts—big business. The Peterborough nine, in blue and white, will be here on Wednesday. They play fast ball, too, do those Peter—Lindsay Post.

Local Team is Strengthened

New First and Second Basemen for To-day's Game—Train Leaves at Two O'clock

There will be two new men on the Peterborough line-up for the game in Port Hope this afternoon. "Terry" Spence, of Toronto, will be on the first sack. Chris. Graham having been hurt in the game at Cobourg last Saturday by running into the grand stand. He is hardly in shape to stand a hard game and Spence has been secured for the day. He is a hard hitter and plays the first cushion nicely. A new man will also hold down second. Fred Anderson, of Wellington. Fred is a husky boy and is said to be a dandy with the willow. Several of the local players have seen him perform and claim he is one of the best second basemen playing the game in these parts. The Peterborough team will line up as follows:

Cheatham, s.s.
Burridge, c.
Haliburton, 3b.
Spence, 1b.
Anderson, 2b.
Quinlan, p.

The fielders will be picked from Burns, Flaherty, Callaghan, Johnson and "Dubby" Shea. Dubby is coming from Brantford to help out the locals if his services are needed.

Surphlis and O'Neil will be on the points for the home team.

The special train leaves the G.T.R. station at two o'clock and the fare is 80 cents. A monster crowd is going to cheer on the locals and a great game is assured.

Big Ball Game On the Holiday

Review and Examiner Nines Will Meet at Idyl Wyld

There may be a great match at Port Hope this afternoon, but it won't be in it with the one at Idyl Wyld on Monday, when the Review and Examiner teams meet at the printers' picnic. Those who will be in attendance will see "baseball as she is played" for sure. Corney Burns says it's going to be all day with the Peterborough outfit, as he intends knocking the ball into the lake every time it is sent over. The management of the game are taking along three dozen balls, knowing the prowess of the Review batters and the proximity of the lake to the baseball diamond. "Bill" Metheral will handle the indicator, and will be clothed in a suit of sheet iron to protect him from the assaults of the players. It is to be hoped the "Big Chief" will have his nerve along with him, as the players will not stand for a bum decision—when it's against them. It looks as if the Grit outfit has bought the "Big Chief" over as he was seen smoking a 5-cent "Barmaid" cigar last night, which looks suspicious to say the least.

Summer Meet Of Turf Club

Peterboro' Races Promise to be Very Successful—Many Horses Here

The summer meet of the Peterborough Turf Club on Monday and Tuesday next will be a great two days of horse races. The events have all been filled and fast horses from many outside points will be here. It will be a case of every heat a race. If you want a good day's sport go down to the races Civic Holiday afternoon. The five-mile Marathon race will be a good one.

VAGRANT WAS DISCHARGED

John Ferguson a "Vag" in Police Court—Another Incorrigible Boy

John Ferguson was charged with being a vagrant at the police court this morning. He pleaded not guilty. He had been drinking and did not remember much what he had done. He appeared on a previous occasion in police court and was discharged. He came to the city on Thursday and since then has been begging and sleeping around the city. He is a lumberman by trade and came here from Gore's Landing, and was on his way to Bobcaygeon.

"Here is a quarter," said His Worship, "and go and get a good square meal. If you ever come here again I will send you to Central Prison."

"Well I wouldn't blame you and thank you very much," said the old vag as he left the court room.

ANOTHER INCORRIGIBLE

A young lad of nine years, from East City, was charged with stealing fruit from a garden on Rogers street on two occasions, no dates being mentioned. The lad pleaded guilty and admitted that he knew he was doing wrong, but only took a few apples off the ground.

His Worship remarked that there was altogether too much pilfering being done and people all over the city are complaining of their fruit being stolen. His Worship fined the lad three dollars to be paid in five days or ten days in gaol.

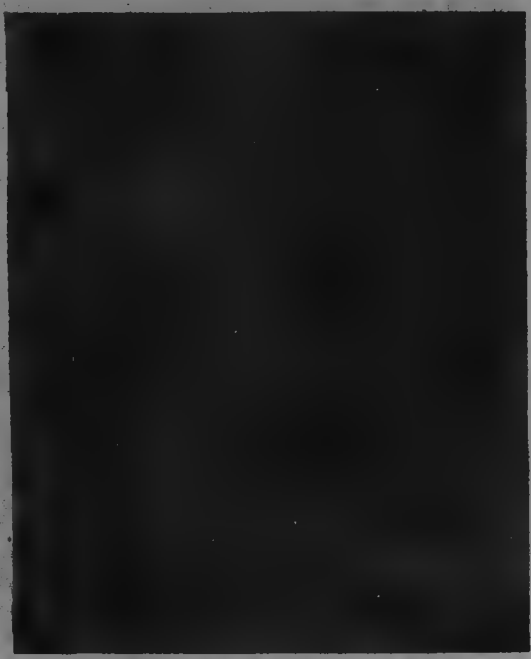
The Charms of the Muskoka Lakes---The Killarney of Canada

The District That Has Been Described as "A World of Lonely Beauty"—The Scenery is not Surpassed Anywhere—Lonely Water Stretches, Verdant Islets, and Equable Climatic Conditions Make Muskoka an Eden of Repose.

Those who have visited Muskoka, so generally and aptly termed "The Venice of the North," and, furthermore, as the "Killarney of Canada" do not hesitate to say, the scenery is not surpassed anywhere, and only equalled in surprisingly few regions of the world.



The Baby Falls, Bala

The districts of Muskoka and Parry Sound, all of which form a great natural park, replete with all the beauties of nature, cover an area of over six thousand miles in extent, and embrace over 800 water courses, including lakes, rivers and streams.

The region is bounded on the east by the clear waters of Georgian Bay, on the west by Haliburton and Algonquin Park, on the north by Lake Nipissing and the far-famed French River, and on the south by the fruitful farms of Central Ontario. The remarkable growth of interest manifested in this charming district by summer visitors, and in the rapidly increasing numbers of permanent residents, is due to the charms of nature, delightful climatic conditions, and ease of access, coupled with a splendid boat service on the lakes, and ample hotel and boarding-house accommodation at reasonable rates. It is a well known fact that nowhere in the world can the health and pleasure seeking tourist enjoy so much for so little money, or with such complete immunity from all extortion as at the Muskoka resorts.

The whole district has been described as "a world of lonely beauty" and therein lies its charm. To those to whom the strenuous life has been a foe it is a region where a perfect rest may be obtained. The vastness of these lovely water stretches, verdant islets, and equable climatic conditions make the Muskoka lakes a veritable Eden of repose, where it is possible to recuperate under the most enjoyable conditions and feel that nature is an infallible healer.

MUSKOKA LAKES.

These famous lakes contain between four hundred and five hundred islands of every shape and size ranging from one of over 1,199 acres to those containing but a single tree or a rugged mass of rock. The majority, however, are densely crowned with pine, balsam, cedar, birch maple, oak, and other varieties of tree life.

The principal lakes are three in number, Muskoka is the largest, Joseph the next in size, and Rosseau, the smallest. These lakes vary in width from narrow channels to stretches of water about six miles wide.

Muskoka Lake is twenty-one miles long and twelve miles from Bala to Port Carling. Lake Joseph, fourteen miles long from its junction with Lake Rosseau at Port Sandfield to lake, while Lake Rosseau is twelve miles long from Port Carling to Rosseau.

The waters of Lake Rosseau and Muskoka Lake are of a reddish brown color, said to be due to the Port Cockburn, at the head of the surrounding mineral rocks. Lake Joseph is fed largely by springs, and the water is so clear that the rock and sand bottom can be seen at great depths.

The elevation of this region, which is about 1,000 feet above sea level, ensures a healthy atmosphere always charged with ozone, and the healing, balsamic odors of great forests of pine, spruce, hemlock, and cedar, give to this district its wonderful reputation for the cure of hay fever, consumption, and lung complaints, and in building up and benefitting all classes of people generally. The Indians knew of these lakes long before the advent of the white man, and the name "Muskoka" means Clear-Sky-Land. To thousands of the citizens of Canada and the United States this name means a land of happiness, redundant with health, and tinged with a halo of pleasant memories.

RIVERS OF MUSKOKA.

These attractive lakes do not monopolize all the attention of the vacation seeker, for on the many rivers of the lovely region will be found hundreds of explorers who annually discover new beauty in their favorite stream. Some are so narrow that only a canoe can penetrate their wanderings, and frequently may be seen a graceful deer or fawn upon the banks, while overhead the birds fill the air with melody.

The Moon and the Muskosh rivers are near Bala, and are in high favor among canoeists, campers and anglers.

Among the other many watercourses are the Dee River, near Windermere, connecting Three Mile Lake with Lake Rosseau: Skeleton River, the outlet from Skeleton Lake into Lake Rosseau; Rosseau River, with its picturesque Falls, flowing into the same sheet of water, and the justly-famed Shadow River at the head of Lake Rosseau. This river is "Nature's Mirror," reproducing with marvellous distinctness every object upon or near its surface, and, as it were, inverting the landscape. The Muskoka River is a magnificent stream with many high falls and rapids, and flows amid interesting scenery into Muskoka Lake.

The gateway to the very heart of this beautiful summer land is easily and quickly reached by the magnificent train service (Muskoka section) of the Canadian Pacific Railway. The journey is one of exceptional interest, and the route is a picture of hill and dale through an interesting and fertile portion of Ontario, until Bala, the most attractive point on the Muskoka lakes, is all too quickly reached. From Bala there is an excellent steamboat service by the magnificent steamers of the Muskoka Navigation Company to all points on the lakes.

BALA.

Bala is the Canadian Pacific gateway to the Muskoka Lakes, and is noted for its picturesque beauty, for here are the celebrated Bala Falls, the charming Moon River and numerous attractions. Bala Bay with its many islands is a beautiful sheet of water, exceptionally good for boating and bathing. This is a favorite resort for lovers of the camera and the palette, because of the beauty and variety of the scenery. In close proximity (from three to four miles) to Bala is Long Lake, Clear Lake, Echo Lake, Nine Mile Lake, and Black Lake, where capital fishing is assured. The Muskosh River, about four miles from Bala, is also noted for its good fishing. At Star Lake, within a mile of Bala, we have an excellent locality for speckled trout, and equally fine trout streams may be found in the same neighborhood. Bala possesses a number of excellent hotels and boarding houses where accomodation may be obtained at reasonable rates. It is a convenient place for sportsmen and campers to obtain supplies and guides.

Island Portage

MUSKOKA.

Muskoka is the station for all points on Lake Joseph. This lovely sheet of water is swept by delightful breezes redolent of the sweet breath of the forests which surrounds its shores. On the island and borders of the lake are the summer homes of many who find in this place all that goes to make a summer outing complete. Its attractions are so numerous, its diversions so many, that every visitor can be accommodated with just the place he or she desires. There are many little side trips and pleasant excursions, all of them tempting and persuasive because of an ever-changing scenic display replete with interest.

BATHING.

The waters of the Muskoka Lakes are possessed of great softness and are delightful for bathing. Here and there in every little bay and indentation of the irregular shore-line Nature, with habitual consideration for her dear ones, has left mounds of shimmering sand, and thither the bathers repair to disport themselves like fishes at play, while at various points are favored spots where expert swimmers dive. Indeed, the Muskoka Lakes make an ideal bathing resort.

OUTDOOR LIFE.

Boating is Muskoka's most popular sport, and fair canoeists, sturdy oarsmen, sailing craft and motor boats from the small "put put" with one person to the up-to-date yachts and launches, are everywhere in evidence. Tennis and golf have hundreds of devotees, and tennis courts, both clay and grass, are abundant. There are also many excellent golf links. For indoor entertainment, dancing, music, billiards, theatricals, etc., help to brighten the evening hours. Another very enjoyable feature of Muskoka life is the absence of formality the free and easy good-fellowship which prevails among all classes of tourists, since each seems to vie with the other in performing kindly acts and adding his or her quota to the enjoyment of the occasion. Here are forgotten all the trammels of social life in the cities, and freedom from conventionality in this great summer play-ground of America may be enjoyed by all.

GENERAL ATTRACTIONS.

There is so much territory here that the Muskoka district is never crowded and for pure, invigorating air, wholesome fare within the limits of the most modest purse, bathing at its best, charming scenery, fishing, and every summer recreation that can be imagined, and all convenient of access the resorts of Muskoka lakes are not equaled elsewhere. The man of affairs can keep in touch with the busy world while recuperating from the winter's strain, and live like a prince at one of the great hotels, the telephone and telegraph at his elbow, and ample fast trains and boats waiting to transport him quickly to his business should occasion demand.

The tired mother and her children can make a choice between innumerable quiet and unconventional spots, assured of complete freedom and rest. At any of a score of resorts young people fond of gaiety will find social amusements sufficient to gratify all their desires, also quiet nooks apart from the pleasure-seeking crowd. Families desirous of exclusive accommodation for an extended varied should make their reservations at an early date, as in the height of the season sometimes these special places are difficult to obtain.

On many of the islands cottages have been erected, the property of Canadians and Americans, but there are numerous charming spots where any party is at liberty to take up their abode for the season.

The whole of this region is a glorious panorama of lake and islet, with an atmosphere of rarest purity. Sunrise and sunset at Muskoka Lakes afford wonderful pictures of Nature in her kindest mood.

(Another reason why the Muskoka Lakes are so popular with tourists is the absence of mosquitoes, and the same is owing to the fact that there are no lowlands. The shores, hills and lake bottoms of this region are of rock-enduring, volcanic rock of the Laurentian mountains, the oldest land in the world, that the vast ages of lapping waters and the puny scratches of man have altered but little. Nature has produced the miracle of planting trees on the hard, primordial rock and islands' promontories, so that when boating or canoeing one is constantly running upon new surprises as the rounding of each island brings new scenery into view. Here one sees trees clothed with light and slumbering air, and surrounded by the placid wave, forming the most enchanting example of what is still happily a virgin world. These gems of Lakes Rosseau, Muskoka and Joseph make a delightful scene with their picturesque cottages embowered in heavy growths of pine and their pleasure boats rocking on the water.

Muskoka is, in fact, an ideal camping ground and plesure resort.

Recent Fire at Ottawa Fair

Destruction of Grand Stand and Experimental Farm Building Will Not Interfere With Fair

Ottawa, Aug. 9.—We desire to inform you that the fire which destroyed the grand stand at our exhibition grounds, and also the Experimental farm building and damaged the ladies' building, will not affect the Fair, Sept. 13th to 21st. Already work has been started on a grand stand that will provide sufficient accommodation for all. The Ladies' Building is being repaired and the Experimental Farm exhibit will be placed in Horticultural Hall. We are putting forth every effort to make this the most successful fair in every respect in the history of Ottawa, and we are sanguine that our work will be appreciated."

THANKSGIVING OCTOBER 31st

Ottawa, Aug. 9.—According to present plans thanksgiving day will be held this year on October 31, the last Thursday of that month.

The Commercial Travellers' Association, however, with headquarters at Toronto, Montreal and Winnipeg, have made representation to the Secretary of State, that the anniversary should be changed to a Monday, so as to allow many persons an opportunity of taking part in the many reunions, who are not able to do so when the celebration takes place in the middle of a week.

The Secretary of State has been assured also that Monday would be a much better day from the point of view of the bank clerks, and of all others who could reach their homes for a week-end celebration, but the week-end celebration is just what the Government is anxious to avoid in the observance of Thanksgiving.

The day is set apart as a holiday, not for the special encouragement of feast-making and of sports, but as a day of national rejoicing in the continued blessings of Providence upon Canada as a people and upon Canadians individually. Whether, therefore the change to Monday will be granted is rather doubtful, but at all events the travellers have the Government's promise that they will be heard before anything is definitely decided.

The Natural Cure For Rheumatism

"Fruit-a-tives" remove from the blood the poison which causes Rheumatism.

Rheumatism means poisoned blood. The kidneys, bowels and skin should rid th system of waste matter. If either of these vital organs become weakened or diseased, the body cannot throw off this waste fast enough.

One of these body poisons is UREA, which is eliminated both by the kidneys and skin. If the skin action is poor—if the kidneys are inflammed—urea stays in the system—is changed into uric acid—carried by the blood to the nerves and joints—and causes Rheumatism.

"Fruit-a-tives" cure Rheumatism because they eliminate urea, by increasing the action of bowels, kidneys and skin.

This is the only possible way in which Rheumatism can be cured to stay cured. And "Fruit-a-tives" is the only remedy in the world that completely eradicates the disease from the system.

"Fruit-a-tives" are fruit juices in which the natural medicinal action of fruit is many time increased by the process of combining them.

"Fruit-a-tives" will cure almost any case of Rheumatism, Sciatica, Neuralgia.

Then tonics and antiseptics are added and the whole made into tablets. 50c. a box—6 for $2.50. At all dealers or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa. 111

The Manager Of the B. & A.

By VAUGHAN KESTER

As he had said, those in front were turning back. The result was a horrible jam, for those behind were still struggling to get within sight of the murderer. A drunken man at McClintock's elbow was shouting, "Lynch him!" at the top of his lungs.

The master mechanic wrenched an arm free and struck at him with the flat of his hand. The man appeared surprised, but not at all angry. He merely wiped the blood from his lips and asked in an injured tone, which conveyed a mild reproof: "What did you want to do that for? I don't know you." And as he sought to maintain his place at McClintock's side he kept repeating: "Say, neighbor, I don't know you. You certainly got the advantage of me."

Soon McClintock was in the very thick of the mob, and then he saw the captive. His hands were bound, and he was tied with ropes to the front seat of a buckboard drawn by two jaded horses. His captors were three iron jawed, hard faced countrymen. They were armed with shotguns and were enjoying their splendid triumph to the full.

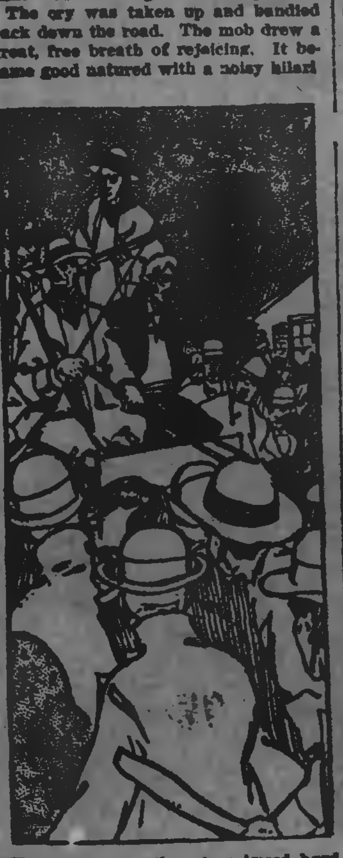
McClintock gave only one look at the prisoner. An agony of fear was on him. The collar of his shirt was stiff with blood from a wounded face. His hat was gone, and his coat was torn. Scared and wondering, his eyes shifted uneasily over the crowd.

But the one look sufficed McClintock, and he lost all interest in the scene.

There would be no lynching that night, for the man was not Roger Oakley. Further than that, he was gray haired and burly. He was as unlike the old convict as one man could well be unlike another.

Suddenly the cry was raised: "It ain't him! You fellows got the wrong man!"

The cry was taken up and bandied back down the road. The mob drew a great, free breath of rejoicing. It became good natured with a noisy hilarity. The iron jawed countrymen glanced around sheepishly.



His captors were three iron jawed, hard faced countrymen.

"You are sure about that?" one inquired. "He answers the description all right."

It was hard to have to abandon the idea of the rewards. "What have you been doing to him?" asked half a dozen voices in chorus. They felt a friendly interest in the poor bound wretch in the buckboard. Perhaps, too, they were grateful to him because he was the wrong man.

"Oh, nothing much," uneasily, "only he put up a good fight."

"Of course he did. He didn't want to be hanged!" And there was a good natured roar from the crowd. Already those nearest the prisoner were reaching up to throw off the ropes that bound him. His captors looked on in stupid surprise, but did not seek to interfere.

The prisoner himself, now that he saw he was surrounded by well wishers and, being in a somewhat surly temper, which was pardonable enough under the circumstances, fell to complaining bitterly and loudly of the treatment he had received. Presently the mob began to disperse, some to slink back into town, rather ashamed of their fury, while the ever lengthening procession which had followed the four men in the buckboard since early in the day faced about and drove off into the night.

An hour afterward the prisoner was airing his grievances in sagacious Mr. Britt's saloon, whither he had been conveyed by the latter gentleman, who had been quick to recognize that, temporarily at least, he possessed great drawing powers. He was only a battered vagabond on his way east from the harvests in the Dakota wheatfields, and he knew that he had looked into the very eyes of death.

CHAPTER XIX.

WHEN Roger Oakley fled from Antioch on the night of the murder he was resolved that, happen what might, he would not be taken.

For half an hour he traversed back alleys and grass grown "side streets," seeing no one and unseen, and presently found himself to the north of the town.

Then he sat down to rest and consider the situation.

He was on the smooth, round top of a hillside. At his back were woods and fields, while down in the hollow below him, beyond a middle space that was neither town nor country, he saw the lights of Antioch twinkling among the trees. Dannie was there somewhere, wondering why he did not return. Nearer at hand, across a narrow lane, where the ragweed and jimson and pokeberry flourished rankly, was the cemetery.

The night was profoundly still, until suddenly the town bell rang the alarm. The old convict's face blanched at the sound, and he came slowly to his feet. The bell rang on. The lights among the trees grew in number, dogs barked, there was the murmur of voices. He clapped his hands to his ears and plunged into the woods.

He had no clear idea of where he was going, but all night long he plodded steadily forward, his one thought to be as far from Antioch as possible by morning. When at last morning came, with its song of half awakened birds and its level streaks of light piercing the gray dawn, he remembered that he was hungry and that he had eaten nothing since noon the day before. He stopped at the first farmhouse he came to for breakfast, and at his request the farmer's wife put up a lunch for him to carry away.

It was night again when he reached Barrow's Sawmills. He ventured boldly into the one general store and made a number of purchases. The storekeeper was frankly curious to learn what he was doing and where he was going, but the old convict met his questions with surly reserve.

When he left the store he took the one road out of the place, and half a mile farther on forsook the road for the woods.

It was nearly midnight when he went into camp. He built a fire and toasted some thin strips of bacon. He made his supper of these and a few crackers. He realized that he must harbor his slender stock of provisions.

He had told himself over and over that he was not fit to live among men. He would have to dwell alone like a dangerous animal, shunning his fellows. The solitude and the loneliness suited him. He would make a permanent camp somewhere close to the lakes, in the wildest spot he could find, and end his days there.

He carried in his pocket a small railroad map of the state, and in the morning, after a careful study of it, marked out his course. That day, and for several days following, he plodded on and on in a tireless, patient fashion, and with but the briefest stops at noon for his meager lunch. Each morning he was up and on his way with the first glimmer of light, and he kept his even pace until the glow faded from the sky in the west.

Beyond Barrow's Sawmills the pine woods stretched away to the north in one unbroken wilderness. At long intervals he passed loggers' camps and more rarely a farm in the forest, but he avoided these. Instinct told him that the news of Ryder's murder had traveled far and wide. In all that range of country there was no inhabited spot where he dare show his face.

Now that he had evolved a definite purpose he was quite cheerful and happy save for occasional spells of depression and bitter self accusation, but the excitement of his flight buoyed him up amazingly.

He had distanced and outwitted pursuit, and his old pride in his physical strength and superiority returned. The woods never ceased to interest him. There was a mighty freedom about them, a freedom he shared and joyed in. He felt he could tramp on forever, with the scent of the pines filling his nostrils and the sweep of the wind in his ears. His muscles seemed of iron. There was cunning and craft, too, in the life he was living.

The days were sultry August days. No rain had fallen in weeks, and the earth was a dead, dry brown. A hot haze quivered under the great trees. Off in the north, against which his face was set, a long, low, black cloud lay on the horizon. Sometimes the wind lifted it higher, and it sifted down dark threads of color against the softer blue of the summer sky. Presently the wind brought the odor of smoke. At first it was almost imperceptible—a suggestion merely—but by and by it was in every breath he drew. The forest was on fire ahead of him. He judged that the tide of devastation was rolling nearer, and he veered to the west. Then one evening he saw what he had not seen before—a dull red light that shone sullenly above the pines. The next day the smoke was thick in the woods. The wind, blowing strongly from the north, floated little wisps and wreaths of it down upon him. It rested like a heavy mist above the cool surface of the lake, on the shores of which he had made his camp the night previous, while some thickly grown depressions he crossed were sour with the stale, rancid odor that clung to his clothes and rendered breathing difficult. There was a powdering of fine white ashes everywhere. At first it resembled a hoar frost and then a scanty fall of snow.

By five o'clock he gained the summit of a low ridge. From its top he was able to secure an extended view of the fire. A red line—as red as the reddest sunset—stretched away to the north as far as the eye could see. He was profoundly impressed by the spectacle. The conflagration was on a scale so gigantic that it fairly staggered him. He knew millions of feet of timber must be blazing.

He decided to remain on the ridge and study the course of the fire, so he lay down to rest. Sleep came over him, for the day had been a fatiguing one, but at midnight he awoke. A dull, roaring sound was surging through the forest, and the air was stifling. The fire had burned closer while he slept. It had reached the ridge opposite, which was nearly parallel to the one he was on, and was burning along its northern base. The ridge flattened perceptibly to the west, and already at this point a single lone line of fire had surmounted the blunt crest and was creeping down into the valley which intervened. Presently tongues of fire shot upward. The dark, nearer side of the ridge showed clearly in the fierce light, and soon the fire rolled over its entire length, a long, ruddy cataract of flame. As it gained the summit it seemed to fall forward and catch fresh timber, then it raced down the slope toward the valley, forming a great red avalanche that roared and hissed and crackled and sent up vast clouds of smoke into the night.

Clearly any attempt to go farther north would be but a waste of time and strength. The fire shut him off completely in that quarter. He must retrace his steps until he was well to the south again. Then he could go either to the east or west and perhaps work around into the burned district. The risk he ran of capture did not worry him. Indeed, he scarcely considered it. He felt certain the pursuit, if pursuit there were, had been abandoned days before. He had a shrewd idea that the fire would give people something else to think of. His only fear was that his provisions would be exhausted. When they went he knew the chances were that he would starve, but he put this fear resolutely aside whenever it obtruded itself. With care his supplies could be made to last many days.

He did not sleep any more that night, but watched the fire eat its way across the valley. When it reached the slope at his feet he shouldered his pack and started south. It was noon when he made his first halt. He rested for two hours and then resumed his march. He was now well beyond the immediate range of the conflagration. There was only an occasional faint odor of smoke in the woods. He had crossed several small streams, and he knew they would be an obstacle in the path of the fire unless the wind, which was from the north, should freshen.

Night fell. He lighted a campfire and scraped together his bed of pine needles and lay down to sleep with the comforting thought that he had put a sufficient distance between himself and the burning forest. He would turn to the west when morning came. He trusted to a long day's journey to carry him out of the menaced territory. It would be easier traveling, too, for the ridges which cut the face of the country ran east and west. The sun was in the boughs of the hemlocks when he awoke. There had been a light rain during the night, and the forest world had taken on new beauty. But it grew hot and oppressive as the hours passed. The smoke thickened once more. At first he tried to believe it was only his fancy. Then the wind shifted into the east and the woods became noticeably clearer. He pushed ahead with renewed hope. This change in the wind was a good sign. If it ever got into the south it would drive the fire back on itself.

He tramped for half the night and threw himself down and slept heavily—the sleep of utter exhaustion and weariness. It was broad day when he opened his eyes. The first sound he heard was the dull roar of the flames. He turned with a hunted, fugitive look toward the west. A bright light shone through the trees. The fire was creeping around and already encircled him on two sides. His feeling was one of bitter disappointment; fear, too, mingled with it. In the south were Ryder's friends—Dannie's enemies and his. Of the east he had a horror which the study of his map did not tend to allay; there were towns there and settlements, thickly scattered. Finally he concluded he would go forward and examine the line of fire. There might be some means by which he could make his way through it.

A journey of two miles brought him to a small water course. The fire was burning along the opposite bank. It blazed among the scrub and underbrush and leaped from tree to tree, first to shrivel their foliage to a dead, dry brown and then envelop them in sheets of flame. The crackling was like the report of musketry.

Roger Oakley was awed by the sight. In spite of the smoke and heat he sat down on the trunk of a fallen pine to rest. Some birds fluttered out of the rolling masses of smoke above his head and flew south with shrill cries of alarm. A deer crossed the stream, not 200 yards from where he sat, at a single bound. Next two large timber wolves entered the water. They landed within a stone's throw of him and trotted leisurely off. The heat soon drove him from his position, and he, too, sought refuge in the south. The wall of flame cut him off from the north and west, and to the east he would not go.

There was something tragic in this blocking of his way. He wondered if it was not the Lord's wish after all that he should be taken. This thought had been troubling him for some time. Then he remembered Dannie—Dannie, to whom he had brought only shame and sorrow. He set his lips with grim determination. Right or wrong, the Lord's vengeance would have to wait. Perhaps he would understand the situation. He prayed that he might.

Twenty-four hours later and he had turned westward with the desperate hope that he could cross out of the path of the fire, but the hope proved futile. There was no help for it. To the east he must go if he would escape.

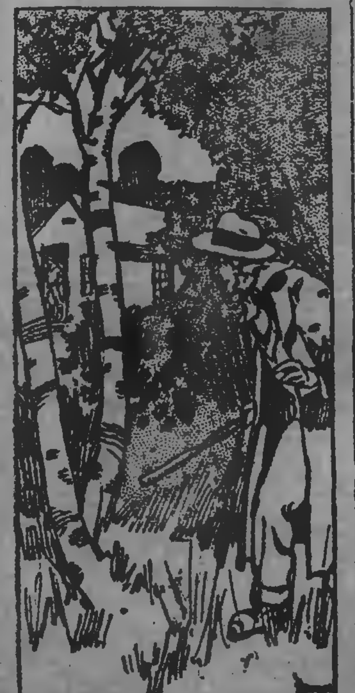
It was the towns and settlements he feared most, and the people. Perhaps they still continued the search. When he left the wilderness the one precaution he could take would be to travel only by night. This plan when it was firmly fixed in his mind greatly encouraged him. But at the end of ten hours of steady tramping he discovered that the fire surrounded him on three sides. Still he did not despair.

For two days he dodged from east to west, and each day the wall of flame and smoke drew closer about him, and the distances in which he moved became less and less. And now a great fear of Antioch possessed him. The railroad ran nearly due east and west from Buckhorn Junction to Harrison, a distance of ninety-five miles. Beyond the road the country was well settled. There were thriving farms and villages. To pass through such a country without being seen was next to impossible. He felt a measure of his strength fail him, and with it went his courage. It was only the thought of Dannie that kept him on the alert. Happen what might, he would not be taken. It should go hard with the man or men who made the attempt. He told himself this not boastfully, but with quiet conviction. In so far as he could, as the fire crowded him back, he avoided the vicinity of Antioch and inclined toward Buckhorn Junction.

There was need of constant vigilance now, as he was in a sparsely settled section. One night some men passed quite near to the fringe of tamarack swamp where he was camped. Luckily the undergrowth was dense, and his fire had burned to a few red embers. On another occasion, just at dusk, he stumbled into a small clearing and within plain view of the windows of a log cabin. As he leaped back into the woods a man with a cob pipe in his mouth came to the door of the cabin.

Roger Oakley, with the hickory staff which he had cut that day held firmly in his hands and a fierce, wild look on his face, watched him from his cover. Presently the man turned back into the house, closing the door after him.

These experiences startled and alarmed him. He grew gaunt and haggard, a terrible weariness oppressed him, his mind became confused, and a sort of panic seized him. His provisions had failed him, but an occasional cultivated field furnished corn and potatoes in spite of the serious misgivings he felt concerning the moral aspect of these nightly depredations. When he raided a spring house and carried off eggs and butter and milk he was able to leave money behind. He conducted these transactions with scrupulous honesty.



Roger Oakley watched him from his cover.

He had been living in the wilderness three weeks, when at last the fire drove him from cover at Buckhorn Junction. As a town the Junction was largely a fiction. There were a railroad crossing, a freight shed and the depot and perhaps a score of houses scattered along a sandy stretch of country road.

The B. and A. had its connection with the M. and W. at this point. It was also the beginning of a rich agricultural district, and the woods gave place to cultivated fields and farm lands.

It was late afternoon as Roger Oakley approached Buckhorn. When it was dark he would cross the railroad and take his chance there. He judged from the light in the sky that the fire had already burned in between Buckhorn and Antioch. This gave him a certain sense of security. Indeed, the fire surrounded Buckhorn in every quarter except the south. Where there was no timber or brush it crept along the rail fences or ran with tiny spurts of flame through the dry weeds and dead stubble which covered much of the cleared land.

He could see a number of people moving about a quarter of a mile west of the depot. They were tearing down a burning fence that was in perilous proximity to some straw stacks and a barn.

He heard and saw the 6:50 on the M. and W. pull in. This was the Chicago express, and the Huckleberry's local, which was due at Antioch at midnight, connected with it. This connection involved a wait of three hours at Buckhorn. Only one passenger left the train. He disappeared into the depot.

Roger Oakley waited until it was quite dark, and then, leaving the strip of woods just back of the depot, where he had been hiding, stole cautiously down to the track. He had noticed that there were an engine and some freight cars on one of the sidings. He moved among them, keeping well in the shadow. Suddenly he paused. Two men emerged from the depot. They came down the platform in the direction of the cars. They were talking earnestly together. One swung himself up into the engine and lighted a torch.

He wondered what they were doing and stole nearer.

They were standing on the platform now, and the man who held the torch had his back to him. His companion was saying something about the wires being down.

He listened intently.

Antioch was in danger, and if Antioch was in danger—Dannie—

All at once the man with the torch turned, and its light suffused his face.

It was Dan Oakley.

CHAPTER XX.

DAN OAKLEY went to Chicago, intending to see Holloway and resign, but he found that the Huckleberry's vice president was in New York on business, and no one in his office seemed to know when he would return, so he sat down and wrote a letter telling him of the condition of affairs at Antioch and explaining the utter futility, in view of what had happened, of his trying to cope with the situation.

He waited five days for a reply and, none coming, wired to learn if his letter had been received. This produced results. Holloway wired back that he had the letter under consideration and requested Oakley to remain in Chicago until he returned, but he did not say whether or not his resignation would be accepted. Since there was nothing to be done but await Holloway's pleasure in the matter Dan employed his enforced leisure in looking about for another position. He desired a connection which would take him out of the country, for the farther away from Antioch and Constance Emory he could get the better he would be satisfied. He fancied he would like to go to South America. He was willing to accept almost any kind of a post—salary was no longer a consideration with him. What he required was a radical change, with plenty of hard work.

By far his greatest anxiety was his father. He watched the papers closely, expecting each day to read that he had been captured and sent back to Antioch, but the days slipped past, and there was no mention of him. Holt, with whom he was in constant correspondence, reported that interest in his capture had considerably abated, while the organized pursuit had entirely ceased.

Dan had the feeling that he should never see him again, and the pathos of his age and dependence tore his heart. In a manner, too, he blamed himself for the tragedy. It might have

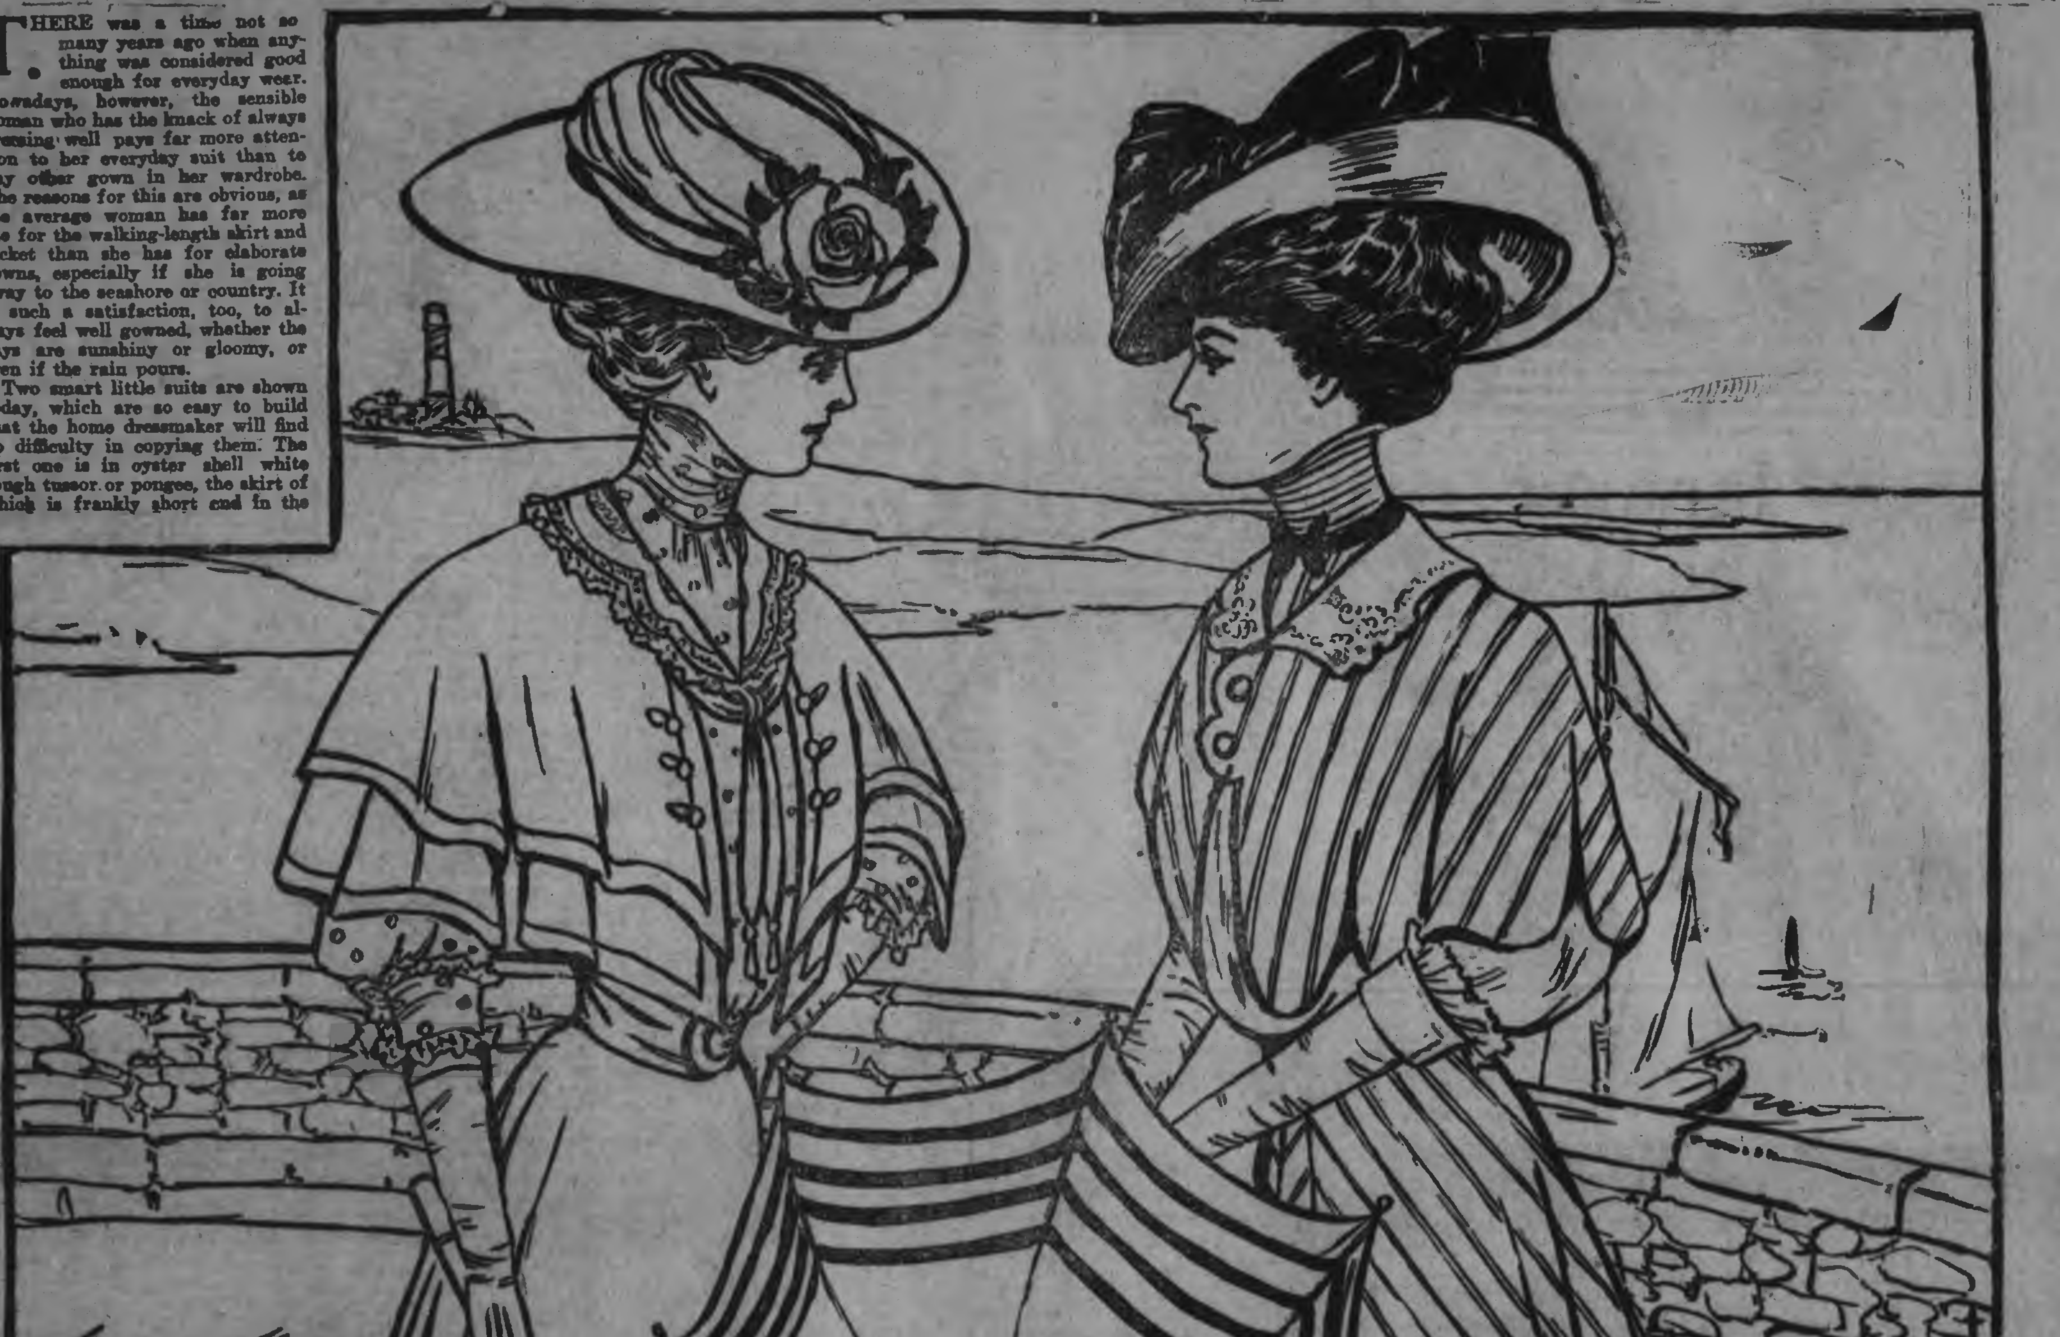
For the Home Dressmaker

SUITS FOR COUNTRY OR SEASHORE WEAR

THERE was a time not so many years ago when anything was considered good enough for everyday wear. Nowadays, however, the sensible woman who has the knack of always dressing well pays far more attention to her everyday suit than to any other gown in her wardrobe. The reasons for this are obvious, as the average woman has far more use for the walking-length skirt and jacket than she has for elaborate gowns, especially if she is going away to the seashore or country. It is such a satisfaction, too, to always feel well gowned, whether the days are sunshiny or gloomy, or even if the rain pours.

Two smart little suits are shown today, which are so easy to build that the home dressmaker will find no difficulty in copying them. The first one is in oyster shell white rough tussor or pongee, the skirt of which is frankly short and in the popular nine-gored circular model finished with a deep hem. A cape coat with an under flounce, and with the long drooping shoulder lines, is worn with this jaunty costume. White tussor-covered buttons with white silk cord loops are used for trimming. The collar is a lingerie affair, and the soft tie in front is of deep rose silk. A large white chip hat has a deep pink and white scarf draped around it, with one huge pink rose in front to match the pink in the scarf and the parasol, both of which give the touch of color needed to liven the oyster white.



Soft white flannel or a linen not too heavy in weight would be equally smart. In this case a touch of red on the hat and a red parasol should be added to a most effective costume.

If linen is the choice for such a suit, another combination that is desirable is of dull blue braided and embroidered in white. The loose little cape with its jaunty lines may be supplemented by a braided skirt, as is the case in most of the French models of this class.

The bold Breton embroideries in red and blue are also much used in Paris for the trimming of string color and white linens, and some of the prettiest French models have English open-work embroidery in color on white or string color. Such embroidery in brown upon natural toned linen is considered very smart. Dull Copenhagen blue on string color is also most effective.

The second model shown is a smart brown-and-white striped flannel. It, too, may be developed in linen if lighter weight material is desired. Two bias panels are used in the front of the circular skirt, which is also trimmed with two bias folds around the bottom.

The cut of the coat is simplicity itself, but it is exceedingly chic with its left side lapels decorated with smoked pearl buttons.

On evening gowns of mousseline or chiffon are draped broad scarfs made of the material, inset with lace insertion and finished at the ends with deep, knotted fringe. These scarfs are sometimes plaited at the shoulders, fall low over the arms, and are either knotted or caught at the bust line, hanging loosely from there on each side of the front. Again, they are brought smoothly over the shoulders in shawl effect and are confined by the girdle.

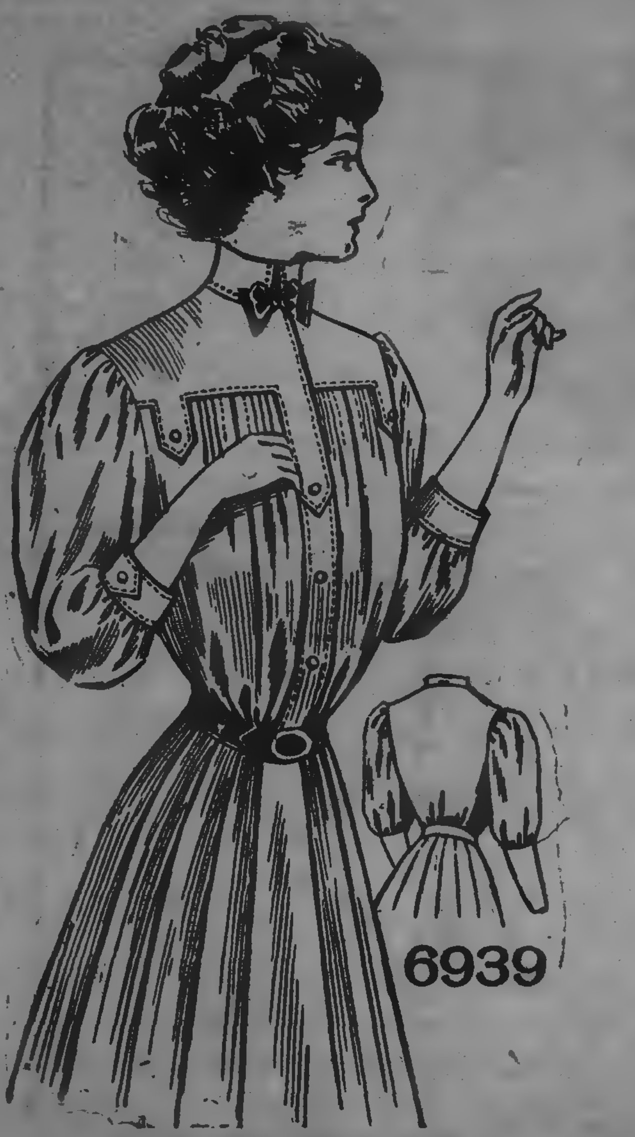
Of Special Interest In Realm of Women



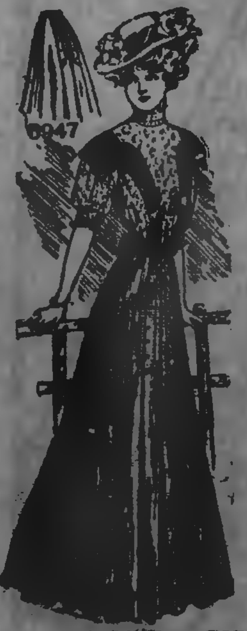
A SMART TAILORED WAIST

The trim shirt waist which closes in front is a real delight after the seige of elaborate lingerie waists which have been worn exclusively. The waist shown is one of unusual style and attractiveness. The yoke has becoming tabs which may be finished with buttons or simply stitched. Two deep tucks turning toward each other and several narrower tucks turning backward provide a pretty fulness. The back is plain. The sleeves may be finished with the deep cuff for full length or with the narrow cuff for shorter style. Any of the washing fabrics, linen, chambray or silk might serve for the waist, 3 3-4 yards 36 inches wide, being needed for the medium size.

The price of this pattern is ten cents.

A Useful Gown

The loose, comfortable gown which slips on easily and requires no elaborate fastening to close it is an invaluable possession in the feminine wardrobe. Such a one is shown and made in a washable silk or Japanese cloth it will prove wonderfully useful and becoming. The broad sailor collar and loose flowing sleeves suggest freedom from restraint and are quite in keeping with the purpose of the garment. For use as a bathrobe or negligee it is invaluable. For the medium size 7 yards of 30 inch material are needed.



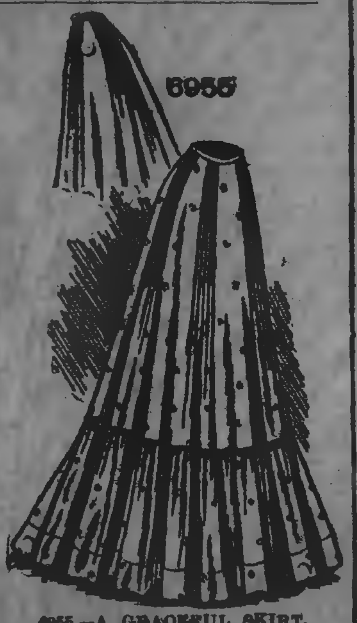
6947.—AN ATTRACTIVE BRETELLE DRESS.

The fashion for bretelle dresses is a very economical one and the woman who must make ends meet by remodelling her last year's dresses or using a left-over skirt with shirt waists by combining it with bretelles, will appreciate the pattern sketched. The skirt is a seven-gored one showing inverted box pleats at centre front and back and three backward turning tuck-plaits at each side seam. Very neat trimming sections are inset at front and back, or may be omitted. The shoulder straps or bretelles are of the material of the skirt and finished with stitching or a narrow braid. Such a costume may be worn with any lingerie or silk shirt waist and prove very smart. For the medium size 5 5-8 yards of 44 inch material are needed.

6947.—7 sizes 20 to 32 inches waist.

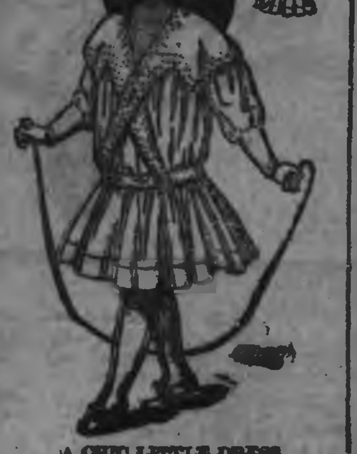
The price of this pattern is 10c.

Leave your order and ten cents at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.



6955.—A GRACEFUL SKIRT.

A pretty fashion for a skirt of silk, washing stuff or cloth is suggested in the one shown. The upper portion is in seven gores with groups of tucks at each seam stitched to below the hips. A straight gathered flounce completes the skirt proper and assures a pretty flare about the feet. This skirt may be in round or sweep length and is dressy enough for any nice gown. For the medium size 7 1-2 yards of 27 inch material are needed



A CHIC LITTLE DRESS.

Some Timely Suggestions Giving Directions in the Leading Styles and the Best Materials to be Used

Preserving Terraces.

If there are terraces where heavy rains cause the sods to slip off, a good and permanent remedy is to set common barberry bushes rather closely on the terrace. The roots will hold up the terrace and keep it safe from freshets. The lawn will be beautiful the year around with the shrubs.

Brushing a Hat.

A hat should always be brushed in the direction opposite to the hands of a clock. Otherwise the pile of the felt is taken out and the hat given a cheap, poor appearance.

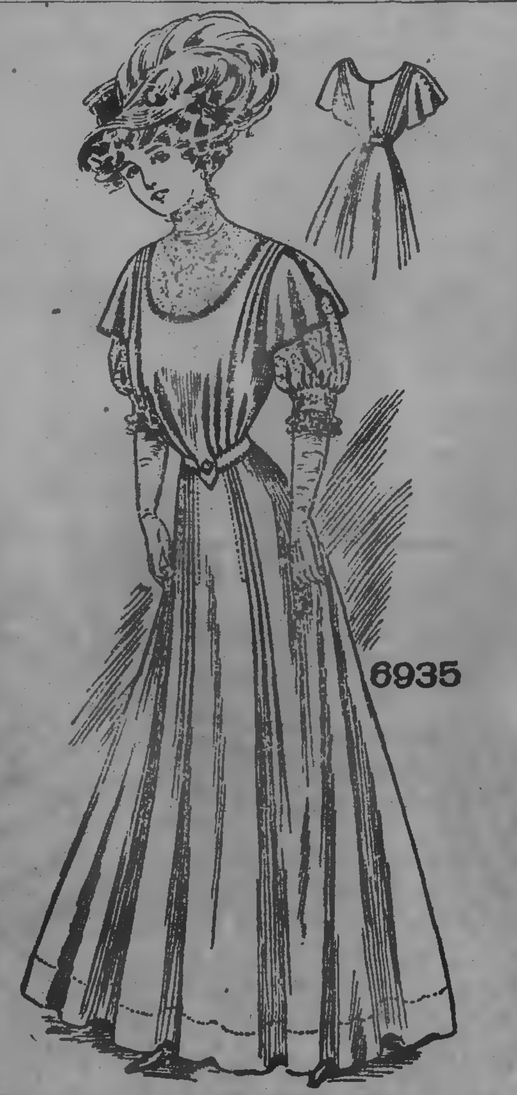
Washing Decanters.

After washing decanters turn them upside down and allow water from the cold water tap to run over them. In about five minutes' time they will be beautifully dry inside, and if the outside is carefully wiped and rubbed they will sparkle beautifully.

The Japanese Bath.

The Japanese bath is always heated to 110 degrees.

The car shortage in the Crow's Nest country points to another fuel famine in the west this winter.

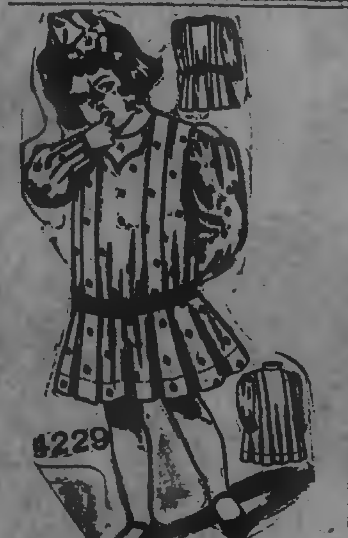


A CHARMING OVER-BLOUSE DRESS

The fashion for over-blouse dresses which are completed by guimpes, is a most youthful and becoming one, and the woman who values a pleasing appearance makes use of the mode. Here is shown a gown of this style quite simple in making and exceedingly smart. The over-blouse is joined to the skirt by a fold of the material, the centre front of the waist extending over the belt in a tab effect, which is most becoming. Tucks over the shoulder and in back provide fulness for the front and good lines in back. Linen, pongee, taffeta, and voile are the most popular materials for these costumes, 6 yards 44 inches wide, being needed for this in the medium size.

6935.—5 sizes, 32 to 40 inches bust measure.

The price of this pattern is ten cents.



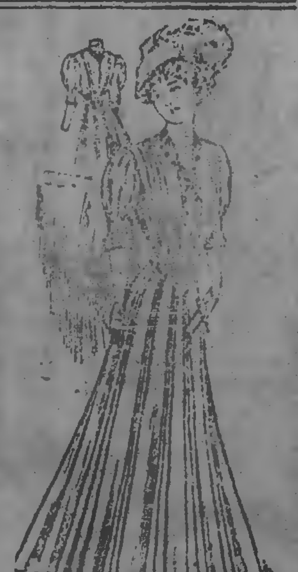
4229.—A PRACTICAL COAT FOR A GIRL.

An odd coat is perhaps more necessary to the small girl than to older persons as she is not so likely to own a suit and must have something of medium weight for the whole year around. Here is sketched a coat of a little more than hip length which realizes the best of the present modes and is not beyond home making. The seams may be lapped and stitched or bound with a narrow braid, while the collar may be of the material or velvet. The coat is box shape and very natty, requiring 1 1-2 yards of 54 inch material in the medium size.

4229.—Sizes 4, 6, 8, 10, 12 years.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

Leave your order and 10 cents at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.

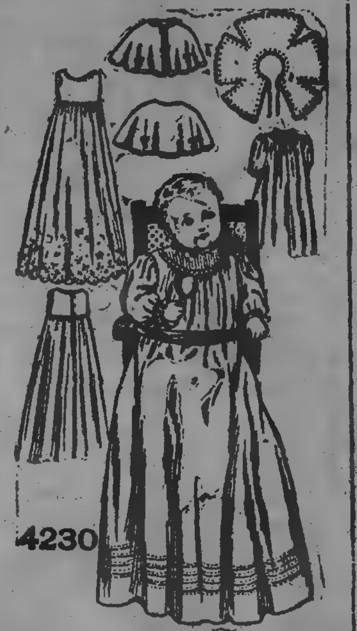


6934, 6933.—A TRIM GOWN FOR GENERAL WEAR.

Particular women appreciate the trimness of a costume perhaps more than any other feature. It is the effect of the whole which counts in one's appearance and the artist in dress recognizes good taste here before anything else. The gown shown is especially attractive for afternoon or morning wear, for paying calls or wearing to church. The waist has its tucks becomingly placed in front and back and sleeve. A chemisette of lace or contrasting material lends a pretty touch at the neck.

Two Patterns, 6934.—6 Sizes, 32 to 42 inches bust measure. 6933—7 sizes 20 to 32 inches waist.

The price of these patterns is 20c, but either will be sent upon receipt of 10c.



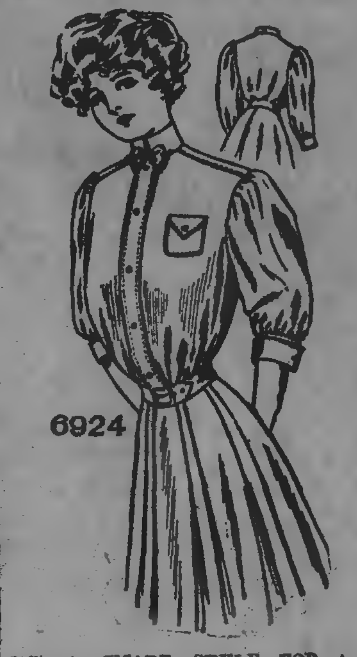
4230.—AN OUTFIT FOR THE BABY.

Three necessary garments for every little one who requires new apparel are shown and may be found simple enough in construction for the veriest amateur to fashion. The dress has a round yoke to which the skirt is gathered front and back. The petticoat is of the usual style with a deep body part and full gathered skirt. The third garment is the ever useful kimono, which is all in one piece and closed under the arms and in front with ribbon bows. Any of the lingerie stuffs may serve for the dress and petticoats and French flannel, challis or cashmere for the sack. The pattern comes in one size and calls for 2 3-8 yards of 36 inch material for the dress, 2 yards for the petticoat and 5-8 yard for the sack.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

Leave your order and ten cents at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.

Favorable progress is being made with the details in connection with the lease of the old Hilliard homestead to the Childrens' Aid Society. Negotiations have been opened with Mr. Stenton, the present occupant of the front half of the building, and if he will consent to vacate the house the Society will probably start fixing it up within a short time.



6931.—A SMART STYLE FOR A PLAIN SHIRT WAIST.

An entirely plain shirt waist can embody quite as much style as the most elaborate one, the lines and finish deciding its quality. Here is shown a blouse of the simplest yet expressive of no small degree of modishness and good taste. It is built on mannish lines, the front closing under the plait and having long or shorter sleeves. A trig pocket is usually pleasing upon a shirt waist of this type, but it is especially so this year when Dame Fashion demands pockets wherever possible. Such a waist may be made in any seasonable material, being equally suitable to tub fabrics, cloth, worsteds and silks. For the medium size 3 1-2 yards of material 27 inches wide are needed.

6249.—6 sizes, 32 to 42 inches bust measure.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

A NOVEL GIRDLE BRETELLE

It is a season of accessories and happy is the woman or girl who is clever with her needle to fashion such becoming apparel. A very attractive girdle bretelle which is full of style and built according to the newest fashion lines is sketched. It may be made of silk, velvet or cloth as well as other seasonable materials and will be smart worn with any style of blouse or shirt waist, the elaborateness of its development deciding its dressiness. Three pretty buttons close it at the waist line. The pieces at the shoulder being joined by straps of braid or velvet ribbon. For the medium size 1 1-4 yards of 27 inch material are needed.

6925.—Sizes, 22, 24, 26 inches waist measure.

The price of this pattern is ten cents.

Brinton Carpet Company Picnic

Employees First Outing Was a Big Success—Went to Idyl Wyld

The employees of the Brinton Carpet company of Canada, Ltd., held their first annual summer outing yesterday. They took the steamer Water Lily at 8.30 at the Wolfe street wharf and they had a thoroughly enjoyable time. Every one on board was acquainted with everyone else as the passengers were all employees of the works and their friends. There were between 150 and 200 on board and the accommodation was all that could be desired. For many of the passengers it was their first trip down the Otonabee and across Rice Lake to Idyl Wyld, where they had dinner. The sail therefore was doubly attractive and the more pleasant. The Water Lily reached the wharf at the summer resort just a few minutes after the Otonabee and so the carpet people were in good time for dinner. On the return trip the steamer left the wharf at 3.30 and sailed across to one or two other points and then home, arriving there in good time for supper. The day was a thoroughly enjoyable one and on account of the early start for home it was not too long.

Band to-night at Jackson Park.

Jolly Outing at Jubilee Point

Foresters and Hibernians Had a Splendid Time

Yesterday's excursion to Jubilee Point, under the joint auspices of St. Peter's Court, Catholic Order of Foresters and Division No. 1, Ancient Order of Hibernians, was one of the largest patronized and most enjoyable outings ever held by these societies. Everyone who went along had a delightful time and was loud in praising those in charge for the excellent arrangements that had been made, and the splendid manner in which everything was conducted.

The excursionists, over 400 in number, made the trip to Jubilee Point on the steamer Monarch and barge Sultana, and covered the distance in fast time. An orchestra was taken along and furnished excellent music for dancing on board the barge. There were dancers in plenty both going and coming, and they enjoyed themselves to the fullest extent.

At Jubilee Point the features were the baseball match between teams representing the Foresters and Hibernians and a tug of war between sides picked from the same organizations. The baseball match was a great contest and resulted in a draw, each team getting four runs. Mr. Hess of the Cordage Company, was referee, and gave satisfaction. The tug of war was won by the Foresters after several hard pulls. There were also many other interesting features that amused the big crowd during the afternoon. The return trip was made in good time, Peterborough being reached about nine o'clock.

Those in charge of the outing deserve credit for the way they looked after everything.

William Barr Drowned While Bathing in the Otonabee River

Lad of 14, Who Could Not Swim, Slipped Off a Rock Into the Channel—Never Came Up Again—Body Recovered Several Hours Afterward—Funeral To-day.

The community was shocked on Sunday when it was learned that William Barr, a boy 14 years of age, had been drowned in the Otonabee river. The young lad went down the river below Crawford's grove with an elder brother for a bath. He could not swim, but intended to try. He was the first to get his clothes off and went directly into the water. He waded out to a rock and climbed up on top of it intending to wait for his brother. But he slipped off and went into the channel, which at that place place is about 12 feet deep. He made no noise and it is said did not come up again. His brother never noticed that William had disappeared until he was ready to go in and then he could not see him. After calling several times he began to realize what had happened. He hurriedly dressed and alarmed the campers and soon a search was started. Pike poles and grappling irons were secured, but for hours the search was in vain. It was not until about a quarter to three that the body was brought to the surface. The drowning occured about eleven o'clock in the morning.

Coroner Dr. Gray was notified and issued a warrant for an inquest, but upon hearing the circumstances considered it unnecessary and withdrew the warrant. Undertaker Belleghem then took charge of the body and removed it to his undertaking rooms on Hunter street.

The deceased with his two brothers resided with their parents at 102 Chamberlain street, from which place the funeral took place this afternoon at half past two o'clock, the service being conducted by Rev. J. G. Potter, in the absence of Rev. Mr. Keith. Interment took place at Little Lake cemetery and the pallbearers were the two brothers and four relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Barr, parents of the unfortunate lad, have only been in this country about two years, having come out from Scotland.

Big Regatta at Crowe's Landing

Crowe's Landing regatta, the first annual event of the kind given by the Upper Stony Lake Cottagers Association, will be held on Thursday, Aug. 22nd. The usual programme of canoe and yacht sailing races, rowing, paddling and swimming races, tilting and upsetting races, will be run off and in the evening a grand masquerade will be held in the new pavilion, when the prizes for the regatta will also be presented. This is the first event under the auspices of the association and it promises to be a big success in every respect.

Ferrozone Adds Vigor and Strength to the System, Purifies and Enriches the Blood, Vitalizes the Nerves and Assures Permanent Good Health.

Let your fight for health begin now, before you feel any warning of physical collapse.

Your whole system needs a thorough cleansing. Likewise, the blood should be purified, made rich and nutritious.

The one cure for that tired, drooping feeling is Ferrozone, the acknowledged king of all tonic medicines.

To restore your appetite you need Ferrozone, certainly you do.

You need it to restore your nerves and to enrich your depleted blood.

The strongest reason why you need Ferrozone is because it will build up your run-down system and make you well.

It's because we know Ferrozone is absolutely certain to cure that we urge everyone in poor health to use it. If depressed, tired, nervous, sleepless, Ferrozone will make you cheery, bright and happy, because it will make you well.

FERROZONE
A Good Appetizer.

MR. AUBREY E. TEMPLEMAN, of Machias, writes: "I have found the greatest satisfaction in using Ferrozone, and consider it is the best tonic made. I was all run down a few months ago, and in a very miserable state of health. I took a few boxes of Ferrozone, and was surprised at the result. Ferrozone drove away that dull, heavy feeling, and put my system in splendid order. I am never nervous or sleepless, and have a hearty appetite. This is all due to Ferrozone, which I recommend in the strongest way possible."

FERROZONE
Gives Real Vigor.

MRS. NORMAN MACADAM, of Bridgeport, writes: "I am in good health to-day as the result of Ferrozone. Before using Ferrozone I was tired and miserable, lacked energy and ambition. But Ferrozone altered all that. It has built up my system, and given me more real vigor than I ever had before. Ferrozone is a good tonic."

Ferrozone Makes the Weak Strong—the Sick Well

● Ferrozone is sold only in 50c boxes, containing 50 Ferrozone Tablets. Six boxes for $2.50. At all dealers or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

The Strike is Spreading; May Become More Serious

Telegraphers Everywhere Are Deserting Their Keys.

Montreal Operators in G. N. W. Quit Work—Associated Press Being Badly Affected—It is Feared That Both Canada and the United States May Be Tied Up Soon — More to Be Called Out To-Day, Says President.

Montreal, Aug. 13.—The telegraph operators' strike hit this town yesterday afternoon shortly after 3 o'clock, consequently 30 of the Great North-western Telegraph Co. went out. It appears that one of the operators refused to take stuff from a New York strike-breaker, and he was discharged. This was a signal for 25 of his fellow operators to walk out. They are mostly union men who are out, and the nine remaining in the office are non-union. So far the C. P. R. men have shown no sign of infection. There was a rumor, however, afloat that the C. P. R. operators would leave at 7.30. So far they are at their posts.

New York, Aug. 13.—Many of the telegraph operators employed throughout the country by the Associated Press struck at 8.30 o'clock (eastern time) last night. All of the night operators in the New York office of the Associated Press, with the exception of the chiefs, are out.

At the sound of a whistle blown in the operating room at 1 p. m. yesterday, the day operators in the Western Union branch offices joined the strikers at once. As the men and women marched out of the building they were cheered by striking comrades who awaited them in the street, but there was no disorder.

The secretary of the local union said the strike was unauthorized and due to the action of a chief operator in ordering out of the building three men who had refused to work wires with strike-breakers and who had returned for their pay. He said the union would stand by the strikers.

The operators in the main office of the Postal Telegraph Co. left their keys at 3.30 o'clock without disorder.

President Ahearn of the local union, in answer to a question as to whether the strike would affect operators on other wires, said, "It is likely that all operators will be called out to-day."

Chicago, Aug. 13.—As setting forth very clearly the Postal Co.'s side in the fight, a letter was given out. It has been addressed to striking employes in Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City and other affected offices in the west by W. I. Capen, general superintendent in Chicago. He says:

"There is, and probably always will be, malcontents and strike-makers among our employes, ever ready to find fault with those holding higher positions and making mountains out of mole hills. It is against this class that I want to warn any man with a family, parent or other dependant upon him for support. Agitators with wagging tongues cause men to leave positions, but they fail to provide food and shelter for their families, and nine times out of ten the agitators hold some union position drawing both salary and expense money out of the fund to which you have contributed a part."

New York, Aug. 13.—Postal operators struck at 3.30 p. m.

Philadelphia, Aug. 13.—The Postal operators went on strike at 3.40 p. m.

Cleveland, Aug. 13.—The operators employed by the Western Union and Postal Companies here struck yesterday.

Buffalo, Aug. 13.—The day force of the Western Union Telegraph walked out at 4.55 p.m. yesterday. The Postal operators have also gone out.

Baltimore, Aug. 13.—The Postal operators of main office struck yesterday afternoon.

Philadelphia, Aug. 13.—The union operators in the office of the Western Union here went out yesterday afternoon.

Washington, Aug. 13.—The Postal operators struck here at 5.15 yesterday afternoon.

Pittsburg, Aug. 13.—At 5.30 last night, one hour after the night force had reported for duty a whistle was blown in the Western Union office here and all members of the union left their keys. Fifteen men had been discharged during the day for refusing to work with cities where the operators had gone out. The Postal operators also went out at 6.30, leaving five men, including the chief operator.

Jacksonville, Fla., Aug. 13.—All Western Union and Postal Telegraphers walked out yesterday afternoon. It affects some sixty Western Union and ten Postal operators.

Washington, Aug. 13.—At 8.30 last night all the Western Union operators walked out. Only the chief operators and a few wire men remained on duty.

Charlotte, N.C., Aug. 13.—The Western Union operators here, about 30 in number, walked out at 6 o'clock yesterday.

Minneapolis, Aug. 13.—The night force, numbering about 16 operators, employed by the North American Telegraph Co., here, went out yesterday.

Saved Two Lives.

Ottawa, Aug. 13.—George McLaughlin, 505 Lisgar street, single-handed, saved the lives of two Italians who were bathing at the St. Louis dam. They had sunk out of sight when young McLaughlin, who is a G. T. R. employe, dived after them. He caught one by the arm and the other round the body and succeeded in bringing both to shore.

Another Half Billion.

Ottawa, Aug. 13.—In nearly every case in the Ottawa Valley, the lumber mills are running day and night.

Although the cutting was two weeks behind in starting, on account of the late spring, the total output for the season promises to be equal to last year, which means about half a billion feet.

HARVEST HANDS NEEDED.

Over 29,000 Stalwarts Are Required to Garner the Northwest Crop.

Montreal, Aug. 13.—To harvest the northwest crop Manitoba requires 11,000 farm hands, Saskatchewan 7,000, and Alberta 3,000.

The first contingent is required to reach Winnipeg by Aug. 25, and the others as soon after as possible.

The Canadian Pacific Railway is preparing to run a series of farm laborers' excursions, and announcement of the dates leaving the various sections will be made in a day or two.

OIL MONOPOLY.

Corporation Commissioner Scores the Standard Oil Operations.

New York, Aug. 13.—Another broadside for the Standard Oil Co. is contained in a report to President Roosevelt by Herbert Knox Smith, commissioner of corporations, on "Discrimination in Prices."

Abounding in invectives, the report pillories the Standard Oil Co. for selling its products abroad cheaper than at home, for maintaining the highest prices possible in those parts of the United States, where it has a complete monopoly, and cutting prices relentlessly where it meets competition, and for using its vast freight traffic as a club to compel railroads to pay high prices for lubricating oil. Then, as a hint that the half has not been told, Mr. Smith closes his report with this passage:

"By your direction, in view of the proceedings of the Attorney-General against the Standard Oil Co., some of the more detailed evidence procured by the bureau regarding price discrimination is at present withheld from publication, and the same is true of other unfair practices, the most important of which are maintenance of bogus independent companies, espionage over the business of competitors, especially by bribing railway employes to disclose their shipments, and deceptions as to the quality of oils sold."

Commissioner Smith says: "In the business of selling petroleum products in foreign countries the price policy of the Standard Oil Co. has apparently been to sacrifice the interests of the American consumer for the purpose of securing the Standard's foreign business, which is a very important one."

SKELETON UNEARTHED.

Ghastly Find by London Workmen In School Ruins.

London, Ont., Aug. 13.—Workmen engaged on the work of repairing St. Peter's school, corner of Princess and Park avenues, yesterday made a ghastly find.

In making certain excavations, a number of human bones were found, which had evidently been buried there for many years.

At first it was surmised that they were Indian bones, but old residents of London recall that half a century or more ago the ground surrounding St. Peter's Cathedral were used as a cemetery. In later years the bodies were exhumed and reinterred in St. Peter's Cemetery in London Township.

Many bodies were overlooked, however, and it is remembered that when the new cathedral was being built—from about 1880 till 1884—it was no uncommon thing for bones to be unearthed as the excavations proceeded.

WANT THEIR LIQUOR.

Haileybury Club Members by Big Majority Declare Themselves.

Haileybury, Aug. 13.—A general meeting of the members of the Haileybury Club was held on Saturday night, at which a large number of local and visiting members were present. The question as to whether the members did or did not approve of the continuance of the charter, recently granted to the club, entitling it to the privilege of furnishing its members with liquor, was discussed. The continuance of the license met with the approval of every member present, with the exception of Rev. Mr. Dennell, who has been actively opposing the license, largely on the ground that it was not desired by the members. This decision ought finally to settle the question and dispose of the only reasonable argument which could have been raised against the granting of the license.

Man Was Deserted.

Kincardine, Aug. 13.—When James Shelton, a respectable but close-fisted granger of Armo, six miles from Kincardine, returned to his house on Friday morning after being out in the fields only half an hour he found a note pinned to the table cloth:

"We have gone for good."

Shelton's wife, Martha Ann, and his daughter, Nora Ellen, had left the house and farm, taking with them a couple of gripe packed with clothes.

Shelton reported the matter to the police yesterday, and asked that something be done to locate the runaways.

Eighty-Four Years Old.

Toronto, Aug. 13.—To-day, Dr. Goldwin Smith, Toronto's leading citizen, and one of the last survivors of the great thinkers and writers who advanced the Victorian era of English literature, celebrates his eighty-fourth birthday.

"Dr. Smith feels the heat, but is in good health," the press was told, in reply to a query as to how he was on the eve of another anniversary.

He is not now engaged in any literary work, except reviews.

Girl Drowns.

Toronto, Aug. 13.—The danger spot on the bay front, at the foot of Brock avenue, claimed another victim last evening, when Viola Myrtle Haw, aged 9, was drowned.

She was playing, about 7 o'clock last evening, with her sisters, Louise, aged 12, and Frances, aged 6, and with Dinah and Blanche Goldberg. Viola walked out on a slippery plank and fell in the water. She did not come to the surface.

No Election This Year.

Montreal, Aug. 13.—The intimation that there would be no Quebec provincial election this year was confirmed yesterday by a member of the Legislature close to the Premier and one of his strongest supporters. This gentleman states that it had now been fully decided to have an investigation into the Baron Lepine charges, and then call a session of the Legislature.

Payment Made Soon.

Ottawa, Aug. 13.—The provincial subsidies will not be paid by the Dominion Government for over a week, or until the full text of the amended B. N. A. Act has arrived from England.

Increase Earnings $56,309.

Montreal, Aug. 13.—The Grand Trunk Railway system traffic earnings from Aug. 1 to 7, 1907, $925,346; 1906, $869,037; increase $56,309.

What Was the Cause of the Terrible Disaster at Essex ?

Responsibility For the Terrible Essex Explosion to Be Placed.

Crown Attorney and Coroner's Jury Will Combine Efforts in Instituting Enquiry—An Expert on Explosives Will Be Summoned — Michigan Central Railway May Be Proceeded Against For Loss of Life.

Essex, Aug. 13.—Responsibility for the cause of Saturday's explosion is to be placed, if it possibly can be done. Not only will a coroner's jury make a searching enquiry, assisted by Crown Attorney Robb, but the Dominion Railway Commission will also enquire. Acting on a request made by the mayor, E. C. Lalonde, chief inspector of accidents, for the board, has been detailed to come here.

Coroner Brien subpoenaed Wallace Ritchie of the Ritchie-Lang Co. planing mills, whose place came toppling over on their heads. Mr. Ritchie is expected to say that the car of explosives remained from Friday, at 9 p. m., that night within the town limits, and this is said to be illegal. Mr. Ritchie was looking at the car half an hour before the crash and saw the stuff leaking to the tracks. Leo Delong, an expert on nitro-glycerine and high explosives generally, will be brought from Leamington to testify.

J. H. Rodd of Windsor, county crown attorney, will have charge of the proceedings. Other witnesses who saw the car blown up are J. H. Coulter, C. E. Naylor, Bert Esselstone, Archie Naylor, members of the firm of Dunbar and Sullivan of Detroit, contractors, to whom the explosive was consigned; Michigan Central officials and others are subpoenaed.

It is said here that several Michigan Central officials acknowledge their liability for damages to at least a limited extent. The coroner found yesterday that the car was labelled "explosives." It bore a placard that it was dangerous and must not be placed within eight cars of engine or caboose. The county attorney wants to examine the firm that sent the dynamite. Both the packing and the sending in the manner done are against the law.

"Whether the Michigan Central officials may be proceeded against criminally for loss of life depends on the evidence produced now and later," said County Crown Attorney Rodd yesterday. "There is no prohibition against carrying explosives, but a special car must be used, and the common law says the utmost precaution must be used in handling them. "I doubt very much that the proper label—'explosives, dangerous'—was on the car, because at one end of the car was the dynamite and at the other was common freight," said Mr. Rodd. "It looks to me pretty clearly like a case of criminal negligence. The stuff was not properly packed, and not put in a special car, and was allowed to remain for 48 hours near the depot. It should have been on a siding three-quarters of a mile away."

License Inspector J. A. Smythe allowed the bars to open yesterday morning.

At the Hotel Dieu in Windsor, Dr. Cruickshank said yesterday that Stimer, the station agent, is in the most dangerous condition, but he hopes for his recovery.

White's Widow to Marry Partner.

New York, Aug. 13.—The American says:

Mrs. Stanford White, widow of the architect whom Harry Thaw shot to death last year, is engaged to marry, according to a rumor firmly believed in their social circle. Her late husband's partner, Charles Follen McKim, is said to be the prospective bridegroom.

The wedding, according to the report, will take place as soon as the trial of Harry Thaw is concluded and the sensation caused by the killing of Stanford White dies out.

Deserted Bride.

New York, Aug. 13.—According to news which has reached Hempstead the awakening has speedily come to Miss Florence Whaley, the 17-year-old girl, who eloped on April 29 with her guardian, the Rev. Jere Knode Cooke, then rector of St. George's Episcopal Church, at Hempstead.

Miss Whaley, it is stated, had been deserted by the unfrocked minister, and is reported to be in a sanitarium in Canada, a nervous wreck.

The whereabouts of Cooke has not been learned.

Another Jailbird Escapes.

Whitby, Aug. 13.—The third jailbird to "fly" inside the month is Jas. Wells, who escaped at noon yesterday. Turnkey Kerr had gone to dinner, and young Wells succeeded in scaling the jail walls by means of boards he got in the cellar and a short rope. He is a dark-skinned, black-eyed boy of 16. Wells already had several charges of stealing proven against him, and was to have been sentenced to a reformatory to-day. All efforts to apprehend him have proved unavailing.

SEFTON RETIRES.

First Defection From the Campbell-Bannerman British Cabinet.

London, Aug. 13.—Lord Sefton, who was appointed Minister of the House when Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman first framed his Ministry, has resigned as a protest against the land legislation inaugurated by the Liberals.

In officially announcing his retirement, his lordship says it was due to "not being in accord with the extreme measures of the Government."

This is the first defection from the Campbell-Bannerman Ministry.

NABBED YANKS.

American Poachers Were Arrested North of the Canadian Soo.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Aug. 13.—Five Americans were arrested at Moore's Point, three miles above the Canadian Soo, on Saturday for poaching in Canadian waters, a gasoline launch and rowboat and a certain amount of fishing tackle being among the confiscated property.

The arrests were made by local Game Warden Calbeck and Fisheries Inspector Hand. The men were brought to the Canadian Soo and fined $10 each, and were then allowed to go. The boats will probably be disposed of by public auction, in accordance with the law governing such cases. When arrested the men had no fish in their possession, and it is supposed that all the catch was thrown overboard at the approach of the officers. The operations of the American poachers have been going on for some time, and the local minions of the law have decided to put a stop to it.

COXEY IN CANADA.

Leader of the Famous Traveling Army Promises New Sensations.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Aug. 13.—J. S. Coxey, leader of the famous army by that name, which in 1894 traveled on foot from Massilon to Washington, in an endeavor to force the views of the eccentric leader upon the United States Government, is a guest at the International Hotel, in the Canadian Soo. Coxey still retains the ideas that prompted his pilgrimage in 1894. He says that his visit to Northern Michigan and the Canadian side would probably have to do with something equally as interesting in the near future.

Coxey still believes that the administration of the United States Government will utterly fail, owing to a mistaken idea as to the manipulation of public utilities, such as street, telegraph and telephone services, which, he claims, should be conducted under a system of municipal ownership, of which he is the father.

TO WALK 1,000 MILES.

Sixty-Three-Year-Old Cincinnati Man Will Make the Attempt.

Cincinnati, Aug. 13.—For the benefit of science, Dan O'Leary, 63 years old, pedestrian, who has walked a total of 98,000 miles during his lifetime, will attempt to walk a thousand miles in 1,000 consecutive hours on a local track.

The track will be well padded with tanbark, and in the centre will be a tent with provisions, where O'Leary will rest each hour after he completes the mile.

Each day physical examinations will be made and a record kept. Local physicians declare it impossible for a man to accomplish the feat, but O'Leary says he will do it.

The start will be made next week.

To Hunt Rodgers Down.

Ottawa, Aug. 13.—It is probable that more will yet be heard of Robert H. Rodgers, who a short time ago deserted his Ottawa bride in Paris, and left her to seek the assistance of the Canadian officials to enable her to return home.

A photograph of the man has been sent to the Paris police, and the whole matter has been reported to the Dominion Department.

It is probable that a member of Mrs. Rodgers' family will proceed to Europe in the fall, and a vigorous search will likely be instituted.

Polygamy Among Mormons.

Ottawa, Aug. 13.—Rev. R. M. Craig of New York, home mission secretary of the American Presbyterian Church, made some strong statements regarding the Mormons in a sermon here Sunday night. He stated positively that, despite denials, polygamy was still quite common among the Mormons, and said that that was well known.

"Nowhere have I found that denied," said Dr. Craig, "except in the Senate of Washington, and I believe it has always been denied in the Parliament of Canada."

Bourassa Candidates.

Montreal, Aug. 13.—The following candidates are announced as Bourassa standard-bearers, and those who understand the situation in these constituencies say that most of them will lose their deposits: Wilfrid Panquette, Hochelaga; Earnest Tetrault, Avocat, Bagot; Joseph Rainville, Avocat, Vercheres; O. Rondeau, Avocat, Rouville; R. St. Julien, Avocat, Napierville; C. B. Major, County Pontiac; Dr. Jobin, Quebec East; Jules Fournier, journalist, Soulanges; M. Godbout, Lac St. Jean; J. C. Bumbray, Avocat, Chateauguay.

Present Challenge Cup.

London, Aug. 13.—(C. A. P.)—Coates, Son & Co., stockbrokers, of which J. G. Colmer, formerly secretary to Lord Strathcona, is member, is presenting a challenge cup valued at 100 guineas, to the Dominion Rifle Association for competition at the annual meeting. The cup is being shipped next week. The first competition will take place at Rockliffe meeting, beginning on the 28th.

Firebug Gets Twenty Years.

Easton, Pa., Aug. 13.—Daniel J. Adams of Allentown pleaded guilty at court before Judge Stewart yesterday to stealing a horse from the barn of Samuel Eberts, near Bath, and then destroying the barn by fire, and was sentenced to twenty years' imprisonment in the Eastern penitentiary.

King Honors Sir A. Geikie.

London, Aug. 13.—(C. A. P.)—The King has conferred the knighthood of the Most Honorable Order of the Bath, civil division, upon Sir Archibald Geikie, eminent geologist and cousin of Dr. Geikie of Toronto.

Young Man Drowns.

Thorold, Aug. 13.—Harry Jacobs, a porter at the City Hotel, while skylarking, fell into the old canal and was drowned before his companions missed him. He was 20 years old and leaves a young wife.

Mrs. John Bolte, of Toronto, is in Buffalo, looking for her husband and has asked the assistance of the police.

'TWAS A GREAT RACE

But the American Defender Sped in by a Mile.

Canadian Boat Led For a Considerable Portion of the Contest—Jarvis Again Got Over the Line First—Adele Was Troubled on the Return Journey With Her Sails—Start So Speedy Patrols Failed to Keep Up.

Rochester, Aug. 13.—Skipper Hanan and his crew of the defender, Seneca, drove another rivet into the fastenings that hold the Canada's Cup at the Rochester Yacht Club house, by sending Seneca over the finish line about a mile ahead of the Adele yesterday afternoon. It was the second of the series and both have gone to the Yankee defender; on Saturday, in a light breeze, that finally died down to a complete calm, and yesterday in winds that varied from 8 to 12 miles an hour.

The start yesterday was made early, a slight delay being caused in placing the buoys. They jockeyed for half an hour near the starting line while the buoys were being placed and when the whistle was sounded both were throwing spray on the imaginary line. Jarvis again got the windward position and the timers caught the challenger going past the line at 11.30. Five seconds later Hanan and the Seneca flashed over and they were off for a nine-mile frolic before the wind.

Almost straight out into the lake they went, the Adele seemed to realize she was sailing towards home and was daring the Seneca to catch her before she could get there. The dare was accepted and they rushed away so fast that the sailing craft in the fleet, although some of them are speedy, seemed to be dragging anchors and even the steamer that carried the judges and the patrol boats had to keep chug-chugging to keep along near the racers.

The Seneca gradually crept up and finally passed the challenger, but it was a merry race, with odds for none and when they made ready to turn the mark, Jarvis obtained the windward place and slowly the large sail of the Adele carried her past the Herreschoff boat.

They rounded the stake boat: Adele at 1.05.20, Seneca, 1.05.36. Then the Seneca was pointed towards the land of Uncle Sam and it was the Canadian's turn to play tag with the defender. Some trouble was experienced with the sails on Adele and her crew was kept busy getting canvass out of the water. When her big sail caught the wind squarely she raced like a hawk, but when it got in trouble she dropped back very perceptibly. They were about an hour running out and it was figured that they would be about two hours coming back. These calculations were not far from the results, although the Seneca made the water fly faster as she neared the finish. The Seneca struck a lull when about half way home, and the Adele almost overtook her. But it was the Seneca all the way, on the last half of the run home, and she gradually widened the gap from 300 yards to half a mile and when she crossed the line she had a lead of a mile.

To-day the third of the series will be sailed over a triangular course. If the Seneca wins there will be no further races and the Canada's Cup will remain on the American side of the lake.

Protection From Japs.

San Francisco, Aug. 13.—Private advices received from the cruiser Buffalo, which left here two weeks ago, state that it steamed away from the navy yard last week under telegraph orders from Washington to protect American interests at Pribiloff Island from the poaching depredations of the Japanese, which have been persistently carried on of late.

INTERNATIONAL COURT.

Four Great Powers to Start Without Miners.

The Hague, Aug. 12.—The new scheme for the international court of justice was drafted on Saturday by Baron Merschall von Bieberstein (Germany), Sir Edward Fry (Great Britain) and Joseph H. Choate (United States).

It provides for the organization as well as the procedure of the court, but not for its composition. It is certain that the court will be started without the adhesion of certain of the minor powers.

While the negotiations urging the proposed automatic periodical meetings are proceeding between the Russian delegates at St. Petersburg, M. Nelidoff (Russian), has declared that he will oppose especially the British proposal that representatives of the powers meet at The Hague two years previous to a meeting of the conference to arrange a program.

M. Nelidoff is of the opinion that such a preliminary meeting would start pacifist agitation throughout the world that would be embarrassing to the various Governments.

One hundred and fifty Russian Hebrew delegates, or one-third of the total represented in the Zion congress which will meet here next week, held a preparatory meeting yesterday, which soon issued an anti-Russian circular. The persecution of the Jews in Russia was denounced.

TROOPS FOR MOROCCO

British Soldiers Held in Readiness to Proceed if Required.

Fierce Fighting Between French and Tribesmen—Arab Losses Are Enormous — Casablanca an Appalling Sight—Not a Building Undamaged —Twenty Thousand Arabs Gathering—Europeans Not Safe From Savage Fanatics.

Gibraltar, Aug. 12.—Two companies of the border regiment are held in readiness here to embark for Tangier in case their services are required by the British Legation. They will only be utilized as a last resort, the British Government being anxious not to interfere with the French-Spanish arrangements in Morocco.

Tangier, Aug. 12.—Fierce fighting between fanatic tribesmen and the French forces outside Casablanca was still in progress when the French transport left the beleaguered town.

The battle started Thursday with a determined attack by the Moors. After a hard struggle the tribesmen were driven back with great loss by the defending force, commanded by Gen. Drude of the Algerian Tirailleurs. Undismayed, the Moors continued to fight, despite the terrible havoc wrought in their ranks by the French artillery.

Latest reports say, however, that the tribesmen are being gradually driven back, the French cavalry and artillery, Saturday, having been seven and one-half miles from the city and alternately shelling and charging the savage fanatics.

Casablanca itself was quiet. The destruction wrought by the shells of the French cruisers is more extensive than at first was thought. Not a house, shop or warehouse is left undamaged. The streets are still encumbered with bodies of dead natives, the removal of which is being carried out slowly. It is an appalling sight, and the stench is so powerful that even those aboard ships in the harbor are sickened by it.

News of the Casablanca attacks on Europeans caused great joy among the natives of Morocco City, where Mouley Hafid, the governor, informed the European residents that he could not insure their safety should measures be taken to punish the Casablanca murderers.

Advices received here from Casablanca are to the effect that 20,000 Arab cavalrymen are mobilizing in the interior. Gen. Drude, the commander of the French force, encamped outside of Casablanca, is awaiting a new attack.

The report that the natives lost heavily during the assault of Thursday on the French camp is confirmed.

Their casualties are described as enormous. The French casualties were confined to two sharpshooters, who were wounded. The Sultan has communicated to the Italian Minister his intention of paying proper indemnity for the killing of three Italian subjects at Casablanca.

This peach crop in the counties of Lake Erie will be a failure because of the late spring frosts and dry weather.

Big Excursion to Peterborough

1000 Visitors Coming From Belleville on Wednesday, Aug 21.

A big excursion will be run to this city on Wednesday of next week, August 21st, when the Holloway-st. Methodist church, Belleville, will bring about 1000 visitors from that city to see the lift lock. The outing is being widely advertised and is creating great enthusiasm. Rev. R. H Leitch pastor of the church, and Mr. George F. Woodley, superintendent of the Sunday school, have the matter in hand. It is about fifteen years since an excursion has been run from Belleville to Peterborough. The incoming hundreds will arrive by special train at ten o'clock in the morning and remain here until six in the evening. Dinner will be enjoyed at Jackson park and during the day frequent trips will be made by steamer over the hydraulic lift lock.

Band to-night at Jackson Park.

NEW THEATORIUM

Work will soon start on the building occupied by B. Y. Moyes and in a few weeks it will be converted into a very handsome and atractive theatorium. Mr. Edwards, of Brantford, is now in the city and it is understood that he will spend something like $3000 putting in a new front and providing electrical fixtures.

Too Much Fire Water Disagrees With Red Men When Holidaying

Indians Created a Riot on Board the Esturion Returning From the Stony Lake Regatta—Charges of Assault and Disorderly Conduct Against the Indians—Illegal Selling Against Darcy's Hotel at Burleigh.

Eight or nine Indians filled with firewater created the greatest excitement on board the Esturion on the way from the Stony Lake regatta that has been experienced for many years, and it will be a long time before any of the passengers forget it. The Chemong Cottagers' Association and the Chemong Yacht Club ran an excursion to the Stony Lake regatta, going out in the morning. A number of Indians were taken on at Indian Village and went around with the excursion. On the return the bunch got off at Burleigh, and when they returned to th eboat they were in fin efettle and set out to thrash everyone in sight. It is stated by an eye witness that the Indians began first to quarrel with themselves, and then some of the fresh kids started to tease them, when the red men became wild. Then nothing would stop them. They slashed and pounded everything in sight and undertook to clean out the boat. They were partially successful so far as the lower deck was concerned, but when they attempted to go upstairs they met with an obstacle which tended to quiet at least a few of them. As soon as the Indians rushed for the stairway several well known residents put up a stiff fight and prevented the mad men running amuck of the women and children. One prominent young fellow threw several of the Indians bodily down the stairs. The fight kept up all the way from Burleigh to Buckhorn, where three o fthe redskins were put off. The others then quieted down and the rest of the trip was made without incident.

During the battle the war whoops and the shouting was terrific. Many men who had never before seen red men under the influence of liquor, say they never went through such an experience before. The ladies and children were badly scared, and it will be a long time before they will care to go on another excursion.

It is reported on the best of authority that the Indians were seen drinking at the bar by several prominent Peterborough people. One man stated this morning that is such conduct is permitted in the north country, it is time the commissioners made a thorough investigation and force more respect for the laws of the country. Information has been laid against the Indians, and an effort will be made to prove a case against the hotel or hotels where the fellows got their liquor.

The County Crown Attorney, Mr. R. E. Wood, is today preparing to take action against Darcy's hotel at Burleigh Falls. The charge will be illegally selling liquor to Indians. The Indians will be charged with assault and disorderly conduct. The case will come before County Magistrate Edmison in a few days, and it is also expected that the License Commissioners in East Peterborough will investigate the charges as well.

Stony Lake Regatta Attracted Very Large Number of Visitors

Number of Entries in Each Event Was Large—Some Exciting Finishes—Presentation of Prizes in the Evening—Notes of the Day.

The annual regatta of the Stony Lake Cottagers was held yesterday afternoon off Juniper Island and was one of the most successful ever held at this popular resort.

There were a great many events and the number of entries in each was large. The different events were watched with keen interest and proved to be very exciting.

The crowd of spectators must have numbered nearly two thousand and Juniper Island all day was the scene of much activity. Long before the hour for the starting of the first event, steam and gasoline launches, skiffs, punts, canoes and anything else in the shape of a boat could be seen wending their way to the island. They came from all points on the lake, and the great distance some had to paddle did not seem to prove any handicap to those who were anxious to see the annual aquatic sports at Stony Lake.

The arrival of the Esturion from Chemong shortly after one o'clock brought over two hundred and fifty of the Chemong cottagers and also a great many from Buckhorn and other points along the route. The str. Stoney Lake and Majestic also were well loaded with people from the city. The late boat leaving Juniper at 12 o-clock last night certainly enticed a large number to take in this outing and enabled them to have a good day at Stony Lake. Thus the large number of visitors in addition to the people residing at Stony Lake made Juniper Island look like a good sized town.

The weather was all that could be desired. The day was very warm, with a north-westerly wind blowing. The wind greatly favored the running off of the sailing races, and was not too strong to interfere in any way with the canoe or skiff races.

THE RACES.

The races were started about two o'clock and the sailing events were the first to be got under way. In the dinghy race there were seven entries and it was most interesting. They covered a course of about seven miles and an excellent breeze was blowing, and splendid time was made. The dinghy race was won by "Sam Paw," of Chemong, Mr. Milne Hamilton's boat. It was closely followed by A. A. Hollingshead, of Chemong, who came second. Mr. Hamilton thus wins the cup presented by Hon. Geo. A. Cox, and Mr. Hollingshead won the silk flag.

The open sailing race was a close finish. Mr. W. Shaw holds the silver cup presented by Hon. J. R. Stratton this year. It was won by Sturgeon Point last year, but comes back to Stony Lake again. Mr. J. S. Knapman's sail boat, the "Signet," was close behind the winner. A silk flag goes to him as second prize. Two flags were presented for 18 ft. sailing dinghy race. Mr. Ross Cameron was first and Mr. Reid Munro second.

The sailing canoe race was entered by four and did not prove so exciting as the other sailing events. Mr. John Roxborough was the first to finish and it was some time before the second one arrived. Mr. Gerald Rackham was second. The first prize was $5, and the second a shaving cup.

The men's single canoe race was very close. There were seven entries and the two winners were very close to each other. Mr. Chas. Gordon, was first and Mr. Harry Simpson was second. Mr. Gordon won the silver cup presented by Mr. H. T. Woodroofe, and Mr. Simpson takes the silver cup presented by the association.

The next was the boy's tandem canoe race and was better this year than ever before. Douglas Mayfield and Percy Stock were first and M. and F. Rice were second.

Miss Genevieve Sanderson won first in the ladies' single skiff and Misses I. Hay and E. Puddefoote were a tie for second place.

In the ladies' tandem canoe race Chemong carried off all the honors. Misses Mildred Bull and Jean Hill were first and Misses P. and E. Denne, also of Chemong, were second.

Frank Rice took first in the boys' single canoe and Percy Stock second.

Miss Gwen Hall carries off the prize for the ladies' single canoe and Miss Helen Hall was a close second. There were only two entries.

The crab race was very amusing and there were a large numebr of entries. In this race one has to paddle right up in the bow. Mr. B. Hopkins, of Sturgeon Point, took first in this and Mr. Percy Stock second.

The tilting race was also very funny and the tilting poles were broken several times before the event was won. Bruce Hopkins and Bruce Wilson, of Sturgeon Point, won this event and they also won this race last year.

The boy's tandem skiff race was won by Clarke Acton and Master Fraser, and Masters Rice and Teskey were second.

Misses Alma Knapman and Rita Cavanagh carried off the honors for ladies' tandem skiff and Misses Jean Hill and Mildred Bull, of Chemong, were second.

The men's tandem skiff race was next. There were five entries in this. The first race owing to a foul in not keeping to the course, had to be run over. Messrs. Clarke and Clarence Acton were first and F. Rice and Mr. Blatchey were second.

The ladies' and gents' tandem canoe race was interesting and very close. Miss G. Hall and Mr. Norman Bels took first, and Miss Helen Hall and Mr. G. Warren were second. Miss Edith Alymer and Mr. B. Stock were third, and gave Miss Helen Hall and Mr. Warren a good paddle.

The Indian single canoe race for a prize of five dollars was a good event. Mr Jack Jacobs took the prize and another Indain, Tobicok by name, was second.

The upset race was entered by two Mr. Percy Gilbert taking first prize and Mr. Bert Stock second. Mr. Gilbert upset his boat, filled it and emptied it very quickly, and owing to it not being satisfactory to the judges he repeated it and yet won the event.

The tug-of-war for four watermelons was very laughable. Four men in each canoe paddled in opposite directions. After tuggngi for some time, Messrs. B. Hopkins, Watson, B. Wilson and G. Warner were declared the winners of the watermelons. Their opponents were Messrs. B. Stock, P. Gilbert, H. Simpson and C. Gordon.

SWIMMING EVENTS.

These were exceptionally good and were entered by a large number. In the men's swimming contest, 100 yds. was the distance. Mr. W. Shaw of Sturgeon Point, won this very easily, and Mr. Geo. Gillott was second. The other entries did not finish.

The next was the boy's race. They had to go the same distance. The winner of this event gets the gold medal, presented by Mr. H. Strickland, of Toronto. Mr. Kenneth Halpine captured it yesterday and Mr. Walter Currie was second.

The girl's swimming race had to be swam over again the first resulting in a tie. Miss Rachel Wise took first of this, followed closely by Mildred Bull. Both young ladies were from Chemong. Mr. R. Neill gave a handsome medal for this event. The judges were Messrs R. Neill, R. B. Rogers, H. Sherin and L. Graham, and the starters were Messrs. Jas. Acton, Henderson and H. T. Woodroofe.

NO PARADE.

Several of the launches and boats were beautifully decorated, but the illuminated parade did not take place. A beautiful display of fireworks were given off Juniper Island in the evening. Masters Harold Knapman and K. Gordon were given the prize for the best decorated boat. They had their sailboats very pretty with Chinese lanterns.

A new feature at the regatta this year and which proved very interesting, was the entertaining to tea the ladies of the Chemong Park Association by the Stony lake ladies. The tea took place in the pavilion which was very beautifully and tastefully decorated for the occasion with flags, branches and bunting. During the afternoon a delightful luncheon was served. Among the Stony lake ladies who served tea were Mrs. Jas. Acton, Mrs. Robt. Neill, Mrs. J. S. Knapman, Mrs. Lawrence Graham, Mrs. J. R. Stratton, Mrs. Harry Thompson, Mrs. Henderson and several others.

THE PRESENTATION.

At nine o'clock the presentation of prizes to the winners took place. The pavilion was filled to its utmost and presented a very attractive appearance, and was gaily decorated. Mr. Jas. Acton, president of the association, was in the chair and called the assembly to order. Mr. J. R. Stratton then came forward to make the presentations in a few appropriate remarks. Thes prizes were then presented and as each one walked forward to get their prize they were loudly applauded.

After the presentation a delightful hop was held for which excellent music was given by a portion of the 57th band under Prof. Gliddon. They also rendered several selections during the afternoon.

GEORGIAN BAY SCHEME.

Member of House Coming—Commons to Amend Patent Bill.

London, Aug. 13.—In the House of Commons an amendment was moved to the patents' and designs' bill, with a view of extending advantages to patents worked in the colonies. Lloyd-George said this would give immunity to American patents, the owners whereof would only have to establish a factory across the Canadian border. Besides in Canada there was a compulsory working law which is in operation against British and American patents. He could conceive nothing more dangerous than the amendment, which was negatived without division.

The British North America Act has received royal sanction.

The conservatism regarding dividends of the G. T. R. directors is meeting criticism. One paper describes the decisions as the latest G. T. R. freak.

E. W. Perks, prior to sailing, said he was going to Canada to further the Georgian Bay scheme, which is well advanced.

Salvation Army Band at Port Hope Received Big Reception

People Turned Away From Town Hall—Open Air Concert Given Early in the Evening—Large Collection Taken up—Left for Cobourg on 11.30 Train.

Special to the Review.

Port Hope, Aug. 10.—The Salvation Army band arrived here this afternoon and there was an immense crowd on the streets to meet them. The band gave an open air concert in front of the town hall early in the evening and made an excellent impression. An open offering was taken up and was subscribed to very liberally, one man placing a five dollar bill on the plate. After the open air concert the band went into the town hall and rendered the special programme. In spite of the very warm night the hall was packed. Everyone wanted to hear the band of the Salvation Army. After they heard it on street they were so delighted that they crowded into the hall to hear it again. The programme was an excellent one and Bandmaster Green and his thirty-five musicians deserve great credit. Their visit here was a great treat to the townspeople and if the concerts on the whole tour are as successful the Army will have a good sum at the end of the journey. The band left on the 11.30 train for Cobourg well pleased with Port Hope and the reception they received.

Exciting Incident During Orange Parade Sunday Night

Young Men, Who Tried to Cross the Street, Were Somewhat Roughly Handled by Some Members of the Order.

There was an exciting time at the corner of George and Simcoe streets on Sunday night as the Orangemen were marching up Simcoe street to their hall, after attending divine service at Charlotte street church. The fife and drum band was leading the parade and was some distance ahead of the main body and two young men who were in a hurry to get up town, attempted to cross between the band and the brethren who were coming behind. When they were about half way across they were jumped upon by several young men wearing the Orange colors who were in the front of the procession and told that the mustn't cross the street and cut through the parade. The fellows who had attempted to cross the street would not have been put out if they had been politely asked to wait until the parade was over before crossing the street but they resented the rough manner in which they were set upon and resented the interference. As a result there was considerable excitement for a time. However, order was restored and the procession moved on.

Several citizens who witnessed the incident, state that the members of the Order who caught the young men when they were crossing, acted hastily in the matter. In the first place no procession has a right to block the public thoroughfare and it is only a matter of courtesy that a person does not cross a street when a parade is on, and if the Orangemen did not like the action of the young men in crossing, they should have asked them politely to wait until the procession was by. Furthermore there was a considerable distance between the band and those who were marching behind. The incident is to be regretted and no doubt the majority of the Orange Order will disapprove of the action taken by those who used such strenuous efforts to prevent the young men from crossing the street.

3000 People at Peterborough Races

Record Crowd on the Holiday—Fine Weather—Good Races

Civic Holiday was a record day for the Peterborough Turf Club. There were at least 3,000 people on the grounds of the driving park to witness the first day's races. It was by long odds the biggest crowd that has ever attended a race meeting in this city. The officers and directors are delighted with their success and have every confidence of a good gate today. The several excursions to Stony Lake and down the river took many more, still there were thousands left in the city and they went to the races.

The day was an ideal one, and the races were all good. Every heat was a race, and the people were satisfied with the day's sport. There were lots of horses on the track and the bookies did a big days' business while many private pools and bets were made.

The foot race, a distance of five miles, was the first event, and it created a great deal of interest. It went to Simpson, the Indian, and he received a great ovation when he came in ahead of Wood by a good lead.

The horse races were very interesting, but the feature of the day was the running race. The third heat was a dead one between Scotty Duncans Marios Carior and Smith and Watt's Elnus Flitt. As the two horses came down the stretch, head and head, the crowd became greatly excited and cheered lustily. Both horses had a first and a fourth, and to decide the winner a fourth heat had to be run, which went to the local horse.

The judges' stand contained the following officials;—P. J. Clunan, starter; C R Nixon and J A Lawless, judges; H C Winch and J A Ashmore, of Lindsay, time keepers, and Jas. O'Shea, clerk of course.

A TERRIFIC EXPLOSION

Car of Dynamite is Blown Up at Essex.

Brakemen Moved Boxes—Were Blown to Atoms—Scores of Persons Injured—Enormous Damage to Property—Every House in Town Rocked—Station Buildings in Ruins—Felt for Miles Round.

Essex, Ont., Aug. 12.—An explosion of dynamite in the Michigan Central Railway yards Saturday morning killed two men, seriously injured several and slightly injured scores of persons, and wrought great damage to property.

The train of which the dynamite car formed a part, the depot and the freight sheds were totally wrecked, every house in town was shaken, had its window glass shattered and its chimneys cracked and broken, and the shock of the explosion was felt for 10 to 15 miles around the county.

Saturday night Provincial Detective Campeau of Windsor, with 50 picked men, arrived and placed the town under a mild form of martial law. The guards were given orders to give scant shift to any persons acting in a way that would pass without question on ordinary days.

License Inspector Smith also took prompt action. As soon as the effects of the explosion were realized he ordered that all the hotels should close until Monday. When his authority was questioned by the liquor men he wired to the license department at Toronto and received instructions to do as he thought best. This time the hotels obeyed his orders and the sale of liquor to the swarming crowds ceased.

Just what caused the explosion is not known.

The wheels of the locomotive ignited enough of the leaked liquid to send a spark or spurt of flame either upward from the track or from the tire of the fatal car as it was moved in the coupling, and this, catching the dripping fluid above, let off the dynamite.

Brakeman Torn to Bits.

Brakeman Joseph McNary, Amherstburg, who was about to make the coupling, was torn to pieces. For [illegible] yards from the side of the car the path his head took could be traced in bloody splinters and cinders until finally it brought up with a terrific crash against a towering lumber pile.

The immeasurable force let loose and the wild chase its movements followed may be imagined when it is understood that while the head of the unfortunate brakeman was driven southward, his body was forced northward, and was 100 rods away when flying missiles caught it and reduced it to gory debris.

Brakeman Leo Conlon, also of Amherstburg, was near the engine when the coupling was made, and his body was driven like a pointed spile into a pile of coal, death resulting instantaneously, although his body was badly scorced by a fire which started in the car behind the wrecked one.

The scene of the wreck is almost impossible of description. There was little on the spot to see but a hole in the ground. When the nitro-glycerine and dynamite let go, the downward force of it was so great that rails, ties and earth gave way for a space double the length and depth of the car in which the explosives were carried.

Car Utterly Demolished.

The rails were bitten off as one would bite a toothpick. The car was simply nowhere to be found. Nothing remained of it but part of the forward trucks just coupled to the engine at the instant of the explosion. Even half of that truck was torn away. A bar from it—a piece of iron 2 inches through and 3 1-2 feet long, was found the distance of five city blocks away in the yard of D. C. Hapgood. Mr. Hapgood says it came into his yard as if it had fallen directly from the sky, and hardly an appreciable time after the shock.

The Havoc.

The railroad depot was unroofed. It was a pretty building of field stone, but the flying missiles plowed completely through its side walls. Its roofs were smashed and twisted and laid out on the road. Its ceilings were doubled up. When the telegraphers came to tap the wires there was not a cleared space within the building large enough for the men to get up their instruments, and so a door laid over the remains of the two ruined benches were set up in the driveway of the depot.

The residences all around the depot were destroyed.

An excursion train with a number of Brantford people aboard was due at Essex station at the moment the explosion happened. "If" the train had not been a few minutes late; "if" it had been standing alongside the depot platform awaiting orders, how many lives might have been sacrificed?

The Trumbull residence was damaged to the extent of $2,000; the Murray residence $1,000, the Methodist Church $1,000, the Presbyterian Church $500, the Sovereign Bank of Canada building $1,000, the Aberdeen Hotel $2,000, Barber Departmental Store $5,000, E. L. Park's jewelry store $1,000 (mostly in dented silverware), A. S. Ferry's machine shop $500 and sundry other merchants who lose from $100 to $1,000 each.

The Essex Canning Co.'s plant, where 75 girls are employed, presented a lively scene at the time of the explosion. The girls ran screaming to the street, many of them suffering from violent bleeding at the nose, while tin cans and peeled tomatoes and other fruits rolled from benches out of windows and down stairways. None of the girls were seriously hurt, although all of them suffer what, besides deafness, is the Essex ailment, severe thumping headaches.

The general loss, however, for miles around was that of glass. Not a window within a radius of three miles remained whole. The glass panes were not only broken, but shattered, hardly a jagged edge remaining in the sashes.

Dr. Jas. Brian, reeve of the township, had been unconscious for [illegible] hours previous to the explosion. His house and bed were violently jarred by the explosion and he died a minute afterwards. He was [illegible] years old.

The people of Essex appeared to be too dazed to rally to the situation in any adequate way. They simply didn't know what to do. Injured persons were left to shift for themselves until outside help arrived.

Engineer Badly Hurt.

Engineer David Cottrell was most terribly injured, and pulled himself by body-wracking efforts from the debris of his engine. Then two citizens gingerly responded to his appeals for aids. They put an arm under the torn and bleeding armpits of the man and started to walk him—walk him!—to the centre of the town, full six city blocks away. The gritty engineer stood the ordeal until he reached the end of the station walk when he fainted.

Conductor Burridge staggered to the Aberdeen Hotel, his head cut and his whole body bruised, and lay there in a heap unnoticed, until "Bobby" Davis dragged out a couch, laid him on it, while messengers were sent scurrying for doctors.

The citizens of the place are planning a meeting to take place some time previous to the convening of the jury, next Tuesday, to take concerted action on the matter of collecting damages. Some of them loudly proclaim that they are absolutely ruined and will be unable to re-establish themselves unless some help is given.

A conservative estimate by business men Saturday night places the damage to the town at $250,000.

The Municipal Building is badly damaged.

The town light system was put out of business completely.

Will Hold Inquest.

As soon after the accident as things had become the slightest bit settled, and people had begun to ask the cause of the terrible explosion that had so completely wrecked the whole town and cost two human lives, a coroner's jury was sworn in by Crown Attorney Rodd, who arrived at the scene shortly after the news was verified in Windsor.

TRAIN WRECK IN TUNNEL.

Freight Train Crashes Into Madrid Express In Mountains.

Madrid, Aug. 12.—The southern express was derailed Saturday near Alcansa and later was run into by a freight train.

Both trains afterwards caught fire. Details of the railroad disaster show that it occurred in the tunnel of Otzaurte, near Alsasua, Province of Navarre, a station on the Northern Railway. The Valley of Cegana is ascended through 12 tunnels, reaching the culminating point of the line over 2,000 feet above the level of the sea in the middle of the tunnel beyond Otzaurte, which is two miles long.

Tunnel Acts as Chimney.

After the wreck of the two trains and the subsequent conflagration the tunnel acted as a chimney, fanning the flames and creating a panic among the survivors who sought to escape from the smoke and heat.

There were only nine passengers on board the southern express when it left Irun, but more persons boarded the train at San Sebastian.

Careful examination shows that nobody was killed but the number of those injured is large.

BIG BLAZE AT LONDON.

Large Car Barns Destroyed — Loss Estimated $150,000.

London, Ont., Aug. 12.—In a fire, the loss caused by which will amount to between $125,000 and $150,000, the barns and five cars of the Southwestern Traction Co. and 20 valuable motors were destroyed on Saturday.

The cause was crossed wires. The lines will be completely tied up for several days and it is not known yet as to whether they will be in operation within a week as to the south of the barns the poles are burned and the tracks are badly warped. It was fortunate that four cars were at St. Thomas, or the entire system would have been completely wiped out.

Eight new motors and twelve old ones were in the building, and they are a complete loss. They are valued at between $2,000 and $2,500 apiece, and will be difficult to replace. Manager Mower stated that the barns would be rebuilt as soon as possible.

Canadian Operators May Strike.

Buffalo, Aug. 12.—"It is my opinion that before the strike is settled, all of Canada and the United States will be affected," declared C. E. Hill of Toronto, Canadian member of the international executive board of the Telegraphers' Union, who was in Buffalo yesterday attending a large and demonstrative meeting of the local operators.

Mr. Hill was on his way to Chicago, where a meeting of the executive board will be held to-day. He said:

"Canadian telegraphers are prepared to strike at the drop of the hat should any attempt be made to force them to receive business from affected points, on this side of the line. The Order of Railway Telegraphers is in full sympathy with us, and will co-operate the moment it becomes necessary in order to maintain our position.

Slapped His Face.

Kingston, Aug. 12.—Jack the Hugger is busy here frightening young girls. He cavorts about the city park. On Friday night he stepped from his hidding-place and put his arms about a young girl, cautioning her to be calm as he only wished to kiss her. There was a struggle, and she succeeded in getting away from him, and, before parting, he received a slap across the face.

Italian Feud Fatal.

Ashtabula, O., Aug. 12.—An old feud between Italians resulted Saturday night in the killing of Barco Bonoccio and the fatal wounding of Arturo and Luco Bonoccio.

The police are looking for Pasquale and Stephen Sarpa and Sastiano Osso.

To Execute Agreement.

Ottawa, Aug. 13.—The agreement between the Hydro-Electric Commission and the Ottawa and Hull Power Co., for the supply of power to the municipal electric plant, will be executed at a meeting of the Commission at Toronto to-day. Hon. Adam Beck has so advised the company.

Archbishop Refuses Aid.

Dublin, Aug. 13.—Archbishop Walsh of Dublin, who was invited to call a conference of John Redmond, John Dillon, Timothy P. Healy, and William O'Brien, with a view to composing the political differences that exist between them, has declined to intervene.

RACE FOR CANADA CUP

Seneca, the Defender, Wins First by Fifteen Minutes.

Was Found Within Her Class—Clever Jockeying at Start — Capt. Jarvis Had the Better of Capt. Hanan—Defender Mile Ahead When Buoys Were Turned — Favored by Light Breeze.

Official time:—
Start—Seneca, 1.00.31; Adele, 1.00.25.
First mark—Seneca, 2.35.30.
Second mark—Seneca, 3.34.30; Adele, 3.46.
Finish—Seneca, 5.58.22; Adele, 6.13.15.

Charlotte, Aug. 12.—After having been weighed Saturday morning, the Seneca was held to be in the required class, and the first of the series of races for the Canada Cup started in the afternoon, under conditions which assured a win to the boat whose fair weather sailing qualities were most pronounced.

After a drifting race, in which the Seneca led nearly all the way, the finish was made barely two minutes inside the time allowance. The first race is therefore a victory for the Herreshoff defender.

The schedule time arranged for the race was 11 o'clock, but at that time preparations had not been made for a start. The Seneca's alterations had not been completed, and the judges had not finished the work of measuring and laying off the course; besides, the wind was not strong enough.

Saturday's race was on a triangular course of seven mile sides, the open being near the mouth of the Genesee River. It was arranged that the first leg should be a beat to windward that is N.N.E., so as to make the other two legs a reach and a run before the wind.

When the final preparatory whistle blew, at 12.50, the Adele and Seneca were jockeying about near the judges' boat, and their movements were watched with the closest attention.

At first, Seneca was to windward, but some clever manoeuvres on the part of Skipper Jarvis ousted her from this advantageous position, and the defender was kept to leeward, despite all Skipper Hanan's efforts to win back again.

The two boats reached back and forth across the line until the whistle blew at 1 o'clock, and then they passed each other so closely that the Adele's bowsprit outlapped Seneca's stern, and Skipper Jarvis claimed a foul.

The Seneca crossed the line about 5 seconds ahead, both boats getting away at the whistle.

The Seneca Leads.

In a quarter of an hour the Adele was leading by about 20 lengths, but the Seneca soon began to creep up, and at 2.30 was pointing higher than the Adele and outreaching her. The Seneca then had a lead of 3-4 of a mile, and seemed to be holding her own. Jarvis pointed out into the lake, endeavoring to get more wind.

At 2.50 p. m. the Seneca had increased her lead to about a mile, and had rounded the first stakeboat. It seemed as though the race would be Seneca's by a large margin, if the boats could finish in the time limit.

The Seneca gradually increased her lead during the run toward the windward buoy. Over this part of the course the wind held fairly steady, blowing at about five miles, and the defender passed the buoy 7 minutes and 8 seconds ahead of the Adele. The official time for both boats at this buoy was: Seneca, 2.35.30; Adele, 2.42.38.

Running for the eastern buoy, the wind dropped off and the boats were almost drifting over the course when they rounded the eastern buoy. The Seneca, by this time, had increased her lead to over 11 minues, having gained 4 minutes on the run. The time at the eastern buoy was: Seneca, 3.34.30; Adele, 3.46.00.

From here to the finish Seneca held her lead and crossed the line at 5.58.22, or just 1 minutes and 38 seconds ahead of time. The Adele did not finish. The only part of Saturday's race which can have any significance is that of beating from the sterling line to the windward buoy. It was here that the Seneca gained the lead, and she entirely outpointed and outfooted the Adele. The rest of the course was a mere matter of drift, and the winner got in with the aid of a few trifling breaths of air.

Outing Proves Tragedy.

Detroit, Aug. 12.—Frank Eden, aged 22, went for a ride with Nicholas Brand early Saturday evening, in a naphtha launch, and, according to Brand, without any warning, he leaped from the boat to the river and was drowned.

The launch was some 500 feet out in the river off the foot of Taylor avenue, Fairview, when the tragedy occurred.

Brand says he poked around in the water for some time, and then, unable to locate the body, put ashore and notified Eden's relatives.

There was more delay and some hours afterward the police were notified. Precinct Detective Repp of the Chene street station went to Eden's home, but could learn nothing that throws light on the situation.

Clew to Swindler.

New York, Aug. 12.—The district attorney's office believes that it has secured clues to a gigantic swindle which has been in operation here for a long time. It is said there has been discovered a clearing house for the handling of forged deeds to city property, and that the officers of the county have signed a trunkful of these documents. The authorities believe the fraudulent deeds have been used for other purposes as well, and an investigation is being carried on.

Run Down by Tug.

Duluth, Aug. 12.—Seven Northern Pacific freight handlers were run down by a tug Saturday night while going home in a rowboat and drowned. They never came to the surface, and one who came up was so injured that he could not save himself.

The compounding department of the Superior Oil Co., at the Soo was burned on Saturday with $1,700 loss. [illegible]

Safest Medicine for Women's Complaints

Women certainly do neglect themselves. They work too hard—over-tax their strength—and then wonder why they suffer with diseases peculiar to their sex.

Most cases of female trouble start when the bowels become inactive—the kidneys strained—and the skin not cared for. Poisons, which should leave the system by these organs, are taken up by the blood and inflame the delicate female organs.

WATER SUPPLY HOUSE OF REFUGE

Windmill Will be Erected Over Never Failing Spring

A new system for supplying water to the County House of Refuge will be installed immediately. As was stated in last night's issue, the committee of whole council met at the home in Lakefield yesterday afternoon. Warden P McNulty occupied the chair and explained the condition of affairs.

The cistern has gone dry as the surface covered by the roof of the building is not sufficient to catch the rain water for the cleaning connected with the institution. Then the spring in the well fluctuates to such an extent that it cannot be relied upon.

The House of Refuge requires a large amount of water, and the committee therefore decided to promptly connect the pumps and the tanks with the spring some 500 feet away. This spring has never been known to fail while the water is pure, cool and flows in sufficient volume to protect the institution in any emergency. To get the water from the spring to the tank, a steel windmill will be erected and a pipe laid under ground. The expense will only be a few hundred dollars and will be well worth the money.

VALUE OF A GOOD NAME

Trade Marks First Invented When Few People Could Read.

(Toronto World)

Trade marks were first invented in the olden days when men would rather fight than read. When St. Crispin made the first leather shoe the shoemaker did not put his name on the door, but he displayed some symbol or sign, so that he who ran might read. These symbols were afterwards displayed on the goods, and in time were recognized as the mark or trade mark of the merchant.

Pictures are the basis of the universal language.

As a means of identification these trade marks have sometimes been accepted in modern commerce as more effective than a firm name. The trade mark is registered, patented, or copyrighted by the Government, and no other firm can use or sell goods bearing any marks nearly like the registered one, without being subject to a heavy penalty.

In time, a trade mark which becomes known by everybody on sight, or a name which grows to be a household word, has a large monetary value. This is termed "Good-will Value." An unworthy article, like an unworthy man, will challenge its name and hide its face markas while the Mark won by Merit is proudly displayed.

In Great Britain and the United States there are scores of valuable trade marks which money could not buy. Some have been valued as high as $10,000,000; while others are unpurchasable. The development of the Canadian industrials, which dates from 1878, has brought many valuable trade marks to the front. Perhaps the best known of these is the simple sign of a school slate, the trade symbol adopted by the Slater Shoe Company years ago, and since stamped on every shoe they make. The name "Slater" is always on the slate. It has been valued alone as worth a million dollars, and it is now thought that the Company would part with it even at that price.

It is not the intricacy nor the artistic style of a trade mark which counts. Its value is in what it stands for with the public. If a man or woman learns by experience that the article on which the trade mark is stamped is worthy and dependable, the value of the trade mark grows each year. The simpler the mark, the easier it is to recall it. One other concern made famous the mark of a pair of hands. The Slate so aptly suggests "Slater" that one could not conceive a happier idea.

The "Sailor Boy" brand of canned goods are the best that are put up. They never fail to please. Try a few cans.

Printers Picnic Big Success; Examiner Team Was Walloped

Manager Paxman and His Outfit Proved a Bunch of False Alarms Even Though Outside Talent Was Drawn Upon—A Most Enjoyable Outing.

"The most enjoyable outing of the season" is the way the printers' picnic variety, the arrangements good characterised by every one in attendance. It was a day of unalloyed pleasure from morning to evening, the weather being of the ideal picnic, and the arrangements excellent in every department, and without a mishap of any kind to mar the day's enjoyment. Of course the Examiner baseball team met with a severe shock, but it was not caused by lightning, and the nine alleged baseball artists will likely recover.

The commodious steamer Otonabee had been chartered for the occasion, and pulled away from the Wolfe street wharf a few minutes after eight with nearly 600 people on board—the largest number ever carried on the new boat. Despite the heavy load, splendid time was made, and Idyl Wyld was reached before twelve o'clock. And incidently it might be remarked that Idyl Wyld never looked prettier than at the present time. It is crowned with a wealth of verdure, while flowers growing in plenty add to the scene of beauty. The majority of those on the outing took their lunch baskets with them, but for those who did not take anything along except a young lady and some spare change dinner could be had at the hotel, and a very satisfactory dinner it was, too.

After dinner a programme of athletic sports was carried out on the grounds in front of the hotel. A pie eating contest was one of the features, and it created great amusement. And no wonder, for the way the boys dug into the blue berry concoction until they had their faces smeared from chin to forehead and from ear to ear, was a sight that would break the solemnity of the gravest of the grave.

RESULTS OF RACES.

There were plenty of competitors in every race and great interest was aroused. The results were as follows:—

100 yards race—1st Burns, 2nd Seymour.

Boys' race—1st Callaghan, 2nd Barrie

Girls' race—1st Lillian Hanan, 2nd Madeline Hickey.

Young ladies' race—1st Bessie Crow, 2nd Lily Crowe.

Married men's race—1st Long, 2nd Sharrard.

Reporters' Race—1st Theobald, 2nd McRae.

Married ladies' race—1st Mrs. Geo. Smith, 2nd Mrs. Sherwood.

Boys' boot race—Evelyn Stewart.

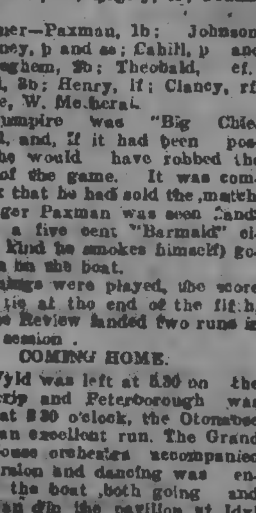
Fat man's race—Archie Moore.

Pie eating contest—1st Barnes, 2nd McIntyre.

Ernest Bartlett, of the Times staff, was the winner of the gold cuff links in the drawing contest for the members of the Typographical Union.

BASEBALL MATCH

Of course the big event of the day was the baseball match between the Review and Examiner teams. The Grits had reinforced their team by several men from the city league, and some more rank outsiders, but they never had a look in. The (Review, as usual, played a strictly home aggregation and put it all over Manager Paxman's dub outfit. The score was 8—6, and had the Review team had the notion they could have made it much worse. But Manager Paxman approached Manager Begley before the game, and requested that the score be a tie. But the genial Thomas could not see things in that light, but, of course, had the generosity not to rub it in too hard, especially as the Grits had on a bunch of imports with baseball reputations, and it would not have been well to puncture them too badly. There was one disappointment in connection with the game,



PUT IT OVER TILL I SOAK IT!

"Paxy" Talked a Lot But Did Nothing Else

and that was the non-appearance of the great Hutchinson of the Bowmanville Epworth League team. The immortal W. J. got cold feet at the last moment and did not attend the picnic, although exactly 833 young ladies (we counted 'em) were lined up along the baseball diamond to catch a glimpse of the veteran's manly form. It is reported that he went to Janetville to see how the big bear was coming along, but the story could not be confirmed. It appears more likely that his absence was due to chilliness in the pedal extremities, and a general fear that he might get his front hair disarranged. Manager Paxman played first base for his motley crew, and proved the biggest disappointment ever. Perhaps Paxy could play ball once, but apparently it was only once. While not wanting to rob him of the glory of his past achievements, it must be said, that as far as punkness goes, he got the biggest pine log in the country beaten a mile, and that's going some, and then some. Mahoney started to twirl for the George street mercenaries, but before he had sent over a dozen balls, the crowd had about as bad an opinion of his work as the ball he was pitching, and—well, it would be ashame to comment. One Cahill then went on to the mound and proved a false alarm. In fact he was pretty much of a counterfeit and didn't earn his salary by any means. "Brick" Theobald also turned out a rank quack, but he was not there like a duck by any means. He bright in spots, but took it to head too much.

BROWN HAIR
R
AA

Theobald Was the "Candy Kid"

Burridge Took the Cake, Pan and All

Harry Burridge did the twirling for the Review, and his curves proved puzzlers for the batters. The whole team worked together like clockwork. "Southpaw" Begley was one of the stars, getting a nice single and scoring a run.

The teams were as follows:—

Review—Bruns, 2b; Wilson, c; Burridge, p; Thompson, 1b; Handley, 3b; MacRae, cf; Begley, lf; Frank, rf.

Examiner—Paxman, 1b; Johnson, c; Mahoney, p and ss; Cahill, p and ss; Belleghem, 2b; Theobald, cf.; Sherrard, 3b; Henry, lf; Clancy, rf.

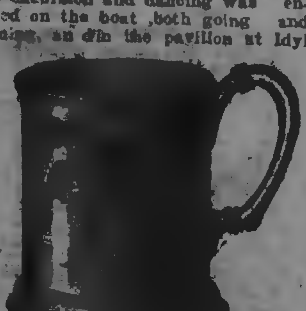
Umpire, W. Metheral.

The umpire was "Big Chief Metheral, and, if it had been possibility he would have robbed the Review of the game. It was common talk that he had sold the match, as Manager Paxman was seen handing him a five cent "Barmaid" cigar (the kind he smokes himself) going down on the boat.

Six innings were played, the score being a tie at the end of the fifth, 6—6. The Review landed two runs in the last session.

COMING HOME.

Idyl Wyld was left at 5.30 on the return trip and Peterborough was reached at 8.30 o'clock, the Otonabee making an excellent run. The Grand Opera House orchestra accompanied the excursion and dancing was enjoyed on the boat, both going and coming, and in the pavilion at Idyl Wyld. Archie Moore was master of ceremonies and was all to the good, as usual. The music supplied by the orchestra was also excellent.



REVIEW—EXAMINER CUP

The officers of local Typographical Union wish to return thanks to Mr. W. E. Wasson, Richard Hall & Son, and R. Westcott for prizes donated, and to Mr. Walter Stocker for courtesies extended.

It was a great day and no mistake, and those in charge deserve hearty congratulations.

Port Hope Team Given Severe Jolt Before Home Audience

Peterborough Nine Pulled Out Great Victory at the Lakeside Town on Saturday—Score Was 10-2 and the Game Was the Best of the Season.

The Peterborough Baseball team journeyed to Port Hope on Saturday and trimmed Blake Crawford's aggregation to a standstill or just as nearly the dead stage as possible for a ba team to get. The score was 10—2 and as a result of the victory the locals are now hot foot after the championship of the Midland league. A victory over Cobourg here next Saturday will tie Peterborough and Port Hope for first place and the boys intend taking no chances against the team who sprang a surprise on Manager Johnson's proteges two weeks ago, when Peterborough was defeated 6—2.

The locals were determined to win on Saturday, but no one expected they would hand the southerners a 10—2 touch. The score was large, comfortably so, and joy reigned in the Peterborough camp, while the Port Hopers were somewhat depressed as they expected to see the homesters come out easy winners and backed their opinion with considerable coin. The result was that many Peterborough enthusiasts had Port Hope money to spend on the Civic Holiday.

The score was a tie at the end of the seventh innings, the tally standing 2—2. Then the deluge came. In the first of the eighth session Surphlis, he of the great reputation was batted all over the lot and seven Peterborough men crossed the home cushion before the necessary three men were out. Just to make it good and sure they added another one in the ninth, while Port Hope was blanked after the fifth innings. Until the eighth innings Surphlis pitched great ball, but it was only a run of hard luck that prevented the visitors from scoring. Three times they succeeded in getting a man on third, but the Port Hope twirler always pulled out of the hole in fine style until the eighth and then it was a procession. Port Hope had strengthened for the occasion by importing Jimmy O'Hearn of Toronto who held down the third sack. Jimmy was there all the time too and added strength to the home aggregation.

Peterborough had also braced up somewhat for the game. Freddy Anderson of Wellington, was on second, while "Terry" Spence held down first on account of Chris. Graham's absence from the city. Anderson's playing was a sight for the gods. He stands over six feet, and made some sensational one hand catches that caused the fans to sit up and gape. He had an extension ladder along with him alright and covered the base in a faultless manner. Anderson will finish the season with the locals. Spence also fine work at the first stop on the circuit and worked in well with the rest of the team.

Quinlan did the heaving for Peterborough, with Burridge behind the bat. The local boy pitched splendid ball. He was only touched safely six times, and these were scattered like the facts in a political speech. He had seven strike outs to his credit, walked one man, and sent one on dead ball. The great Surphlis was pounded for ten hits including a two bagger and gave two complimentaries. He fanned seven men.

The Peterborough team had the homesters beaten a block on the bases, as the number of stolen bases credited to them shows. With one exception every time a Port Hope man attempted to pilfer, he was caught at second, Burridge's masterly throwing to that bag being one of the features of the game. Jack Connors was doing fine work at centre field, until he was injured in the sixth, while trying to steal second. He collided heavily with Kolb and had the muscles in his left shoulder badly torn. He will be out of the game for some time. Flaherty replaced him at centre and did good work. Burns was right there with the hickory again and so was Callaghan, the latter getting two nice hits and fielding perfectly. Haliburton was also there when he was wanted and added in the slaughter in the ninth by pounding out a nice single. Cheatham at short, was also all to the good and shot them over to first in fine style.

The game was witnessed by about eight hundred red hot fans. The special from Peterborough carried three hundred while Cobourg also sent a big delegation, and they rooted for Peterborough as they might for their own team. The rooting was strenuous all the way through, the visitors having nearly as many supporters as the home team. The Grand Trunk furnished excellent service in connection with the special making the run in splendid time. It was an ideal afternoon for baseball and the game was the best of the season.

Peter Duncan of Cobourg, was umpire and gave a square deal to both teams, although there was some kicking from the losers and their supporters. But that was to be expected.

THE SCORING.

Peterborough went to bat and Burns led off with a nice single and stole second. Cheatham went out on a fly to Walters. Burns pilfered third and Burridge was walked walked to first. Spence and Connors struck out, retiring the side with a man on third and second. No runs.

O'Hearn started for Port Hope and connected with the ball for a swift one down the centre that looked good for two bases. Anderson at second bag, jumped straight up in the air and pulled it down with two fingers, making the prettiest catch of the day. The crowd sat up and wondered as the lanky Anderson gave this exhibition of the extension ladder act. Curvin struck out and O'Brien got to first on Cheatham's error. Henderson went out, Haliburton to Spence, retiring the side. No runs.

In the second Haliburton was given a complimentary, Anderson struck out, and Callaghan also retired, O'Hearn to O'Brien. Quinlan connected with the sphere with a grounder to third base that O'Hearn captured and caught Haliburton at the home plate. For Port Hope, Kolb struck out, O'Neill went on balls, but was caught trying to steal second, Anderson again coming into the limelight by a one hand catch of Burridge's throw. Walters went out, Cheatham to Spence. No runs. In the third Burns was first up for Peterborough and went out on a line drive to O'Brien. Cheatham went out, Kolb to O'Brien and Burridge also went out, O'Hearn to O'Brien. No runs.

Brown was up for Port Hope and made the first sack on Spence's error Surphlis struck one to Quinlan and Brown was caught at second. O'Hearn pounded out a two bagger, and Curvin went out on a fly to Callaghan, but O'Hearn managed to score. O'Brien went out on a fly to Anderson. One run.

In the fourth Spence went out on a drive to Haliburton, Connors lived on Surphlis' error and stole second, Haliburton went out, Kolb to O'Brien and Anderson struck out.

Henderson was struck by the ball and took first, Kolb went out on a foul ball caught by Burridge O'Neill connected for a two-bagger and scored on Walters' single, Brown went out on a fly to Haliburton and the side was retired as Henderson had been caught at second. One run.

In the fifth Callaghan got a nice single, but Quinlan, Burns and Cheatham all struck out. No runs. O'Hearn singled for Port Hope but was caught between first and second. Surphlis failed to connect and Curvin struck out. No runs.

Peterborough started to creep up in the sixth when Burridge singled and stole second. Spence struck out but Connors singled and scored Burridge. With Haliburton at bat, Connors was put out trying to steal second. He collided heavily with Kolb and hurt his shoulder badly. He had to retire and Flaherty took his place. Haliburton's grounder was captured by Kolb and the batter did not make first. One run.

O'Brien singled and stole second but stayed there, as Henderson, Kolb and O'Neill all failed to hit safely. No runs.

Peterborough evened the score in the eighth. Anderson went out on a fly to O'Neill, but Callaghan got life on an error by the same man. Quinlan sent out a long fly that Henderson captured but Callaghan, who had reached third while a dispute was on, as to whether Quinlan had interfered with O'Neill in throwing to third, scored, beating out Henderson's throw into the home plate. Burns went out, Surphlis to O'Brien. Port Hope failed to tally in their share of the innings.

The balloon went up in the eighth, when the visitors copped seven runs. Cheatham was first to bat and lived on Brown's error. He pilfered second while Burridge got a nice single. Henderson dropped a fly from Spence and Cheatham scored Flaherty flew out but Haliburton singled and scored Burridge who had crept around to third. Anderson also pounded out a nice single but got caught at the home plate. while Quinlan got to first on fielder's choice. Previous to this a single by Callaghan had enabled Haliburton to reach home. With Callaghan on third and Quinlan on second, Burns smashed out a two-bagger and scored both of them. Cheatham came up a second time, and Kitten Henderson dropped a fly from him, and Burns scored on this error. Burridge pounded out a drive that was copped by O'Hearn and the scoring ended for the innings. Seven runs.

The Johnsonites made it ten in the ninth. Spence was walked. Flaherty went out on a drive to Kolb and Haliburton followed suit with a fly to Curvin. Spence stole second and scored on Anderson's single. Callaghan went out on a fly

Kolb came up for the homesters and was walked, and O'Neill struck out and Walters died on a fly to Cheatham. Brown knocked a grounder out to Cheatham, who transferred to third, catching Kolb there. Anderson made a pretty throw to first and Brown was out, finishing the game with a neat double play.

SITE IN CANADA.

Reported That Booth is Coy of Placing a Colony Here.

London, Aug. 10.—According to authoritative persons the Salvation Army commission appointed to enquire into a site for a Salvation Army colony in Canada says: "Not all rosy." The solution of the problem is as far off as several years ago. The situation is unaltered, except that the Canadian Government is now eager while Booth is coy.

Fred Johnson, clerk of the central unemployed body for London, informs the Canadian Associated Press that the emigration committee has selected 5,000 persons out of 15,000 applicants, these being unemployed and unskilled laborers and families. In all cases they were most carefully investigated, and these investigations have been so thorough that in many cases applicants have been much troubled by unavoidable delay before they could be accepted. The information received after they arrived in Canada is most encouraging, practically every man obtained work immediately on arrival. The chairman of the committee, Walter Hazell, and Rev. J. C. Morris, have sailed on the Empress of Britain, and intend making enquiries as to the best methods of dealing with the question of emigration in 1908.

GEN. PICQUART ASSAULTED.

Assailant in Danger of Being Killed by Crowd.

Rochefort, France, Aug. 12.—Gen. Picquart, Minister of War, was insulted and afterward assaulted in the railroad station here last evening when returning from the dedication of a monument to Edouard Grimaux, who was prominent in securing a revision of the sentence of Capt. Dreyfus.

A workman suddenly emerged from the crowd and was applauding Gen. Picquart and spat in his face.

Gen. Picquart threw off his assailant. Simultaneously with the outrage the crowd with shouts of anger at the indignity offered the War Minister, surged forward and fell upon his assailant, who was trampled and in danger of being killed. He was finally rescued by the police and taken to jail, badly mauled and bruised.

SIX HUNDRED HOMELESS.

Big Fire Sweeps Manila—Many Houses Reduced to Ashes.

Manila, Aug. 12.—Fire in Manila Saturday afternoon destroyed 120 native houses and made 600 persons homeless. The damage is estimated at 68,000 pesos.

The fire originated from an electric wire and swept over a space of 1,000 yards square. A heavy rain prevented the flames from spreading. No one was injured. The homeless are being cared for.

Dr. James A. McLellan Dead.

Toronto, Aug. 12.—Dr. James Alexander McLellan, one of the best known educationists of the day in Ontario, and the author of several valuable educational works, died about 10.30 last night at his home, 89 McPherson avenue. He had been ill for several months, and had resided in Toronto only a short time, having removed from Hamilton on his relinquishing the position of principal of the Ontario Normal School.

Dr. McLellan was a man of great versatility of talent, of wide and varied experience, especially in school matters, and of great insight into complex educational questions.

He was a Canadian by birth and education. He was most patriotic, coming from patriotic forebears, and during his long career as an educationalist he took advantage of the numerous opportunities offered him to inculcate the love of patriotism into the hearts of his pupils.

Bank Teller Drowned.

Alliston, Aug. 12.—While out bathing Saturday afternoon Stafford Murphy, one of Alliston's leading citizens, and well-known throughout this district, came to his death by drowning. He was teller of the Alliston branch of the Bank of Montreal.

Murphy had gone swimming after the bank closed at noon, and it is supposed he was either taking with cramps or was stunned in diving off the shore into a deep pool.

Coal Expert Testifies.

Sydney, N. S., Aug. 12.—Only a fair audience was present at the Steel-Coal trial on Saturday afternoon.

Arthur McCallum, formerly a chemist in the employ of the Steel Company, but who at the present time is in the service of the Coal Company, swore that he had made one analysis on coal from No. 6 and found that it contained 6.13 per cent. sulphur and 11 per cent. ash.

Forger Is Caught.

Brantford, Aug. 12.—The efficiency of the Brantford police department was again demonstrated yesterday morning, when word was received from Chief Mains of Niagara Falls that Charles Stover had been arrested in that place at the instance of the Brantford force. In July last, Stover is alleged to have secured $200 on a forged note at the Traders' Bank in Norwich. Manager Duck of the bank placed the matter with the local force, and the arrest followed. Stover is well-known in Brantford and formerly worked here. He will be taken to Norwich for trial.

Drank Too Freely.

London, Aug. 12.—Thomas Cowcart, aged 21, died in Victoria Hospital Saturday night from an overdose of wood alcohol, taken while at work in Perrin's biscuit works, where he was employed. It is not known whether the dose was taken with suicidal intent.

British Steamer Wrecked.

Lima, Peru, Aug. 12.—A report reaches here of the wrecking of the British mail steamer Colombia of the Pacific Steam Navigation Co. of Liverpool, bound from Panama to Valparaiso. This wreck is reported to have occurred at Eten, a port in the Province of Chiclayo. No details are obtainable.

Bert Yarrington, a young English blacksmith at 1 Mono Road, was drowned in Scott's Lake on Saturday,

527 BLOUSES

SHARP AT 8:15

Recently we were advised that a large Ready-to-wear manufacturer was in a position to offer about 1000 Garments, consisting of Wash Suits, Skirts and Blouses, at a price never before heard of: a price that didn't cover the cost of making. The next train carried our buyer to Montreal, where he secured the the entire lot. Here are 527 Blouses, all beautifully trimmed with embroidery, lace insertion and all the most desirable effects of the season. Any of them are worth $1.00 in the regular way and comprise all the popular dark and light shades; also white

David Hartley Walked 34 Miles In Five Hours and 48 Minutes

Covered the Distance Between Peterborough and Bailieboro—A Wonderful Feat Performed on Hot Day—Great Interest in Result.

David Hartley, east city, yesterday afternoon, made good in his attempt to walk from Peterborough to Bailieboro and return, a distance of 34 miles in six hours.

Mr. Hartley accomplished the feat and in less than six hours, making the distance in five hours and forty-eight minutes.

Mr. Hartley's feat has aroused great interest among the citizens of Peterborough, and they may well feel proud of this pedestrian, who certainly showed the people what he can do in the walking line. Of course it was agreed that Mr. Hartley could go as he pleased and for part of the way he ran, but the greater portion of the distance he walked. He won only a small sum of money over it, as no one seemed to take much interest in the event but now that it is over everyone is talking about it, and wondering if this local pedestrian could beat the record of Reynolds, the Port Hope barber. Mr. Hartley states that he would attempt it, but there would have to be a good sum of money behind it.

Mr. Hartley had only been training about two weeks and was not in as good condition as he might have been. He is a man fifty-three years of age and it certainly was a remarkable accomplishment for a person of his years.

Sharp at one o'clock, he left the corner of George and Hunter streets starting on a little run. Only a few witnessed the start. He was followed by three fellows on bicycles, who timed him at different points.

The day was an exceedingly warm one, the road was dusty, and there was a great many hills to climb. He made the first two miles in ten minutes and the next five miles in 35 minutes. Fraserville, which is a distance of ten miles was covered in one hour and twenty-five minutes. Centreville, a distance of fifteen miles was made in two hours and Bailieboro was reached in two hours and a half. Mr. Hartley spent about ten minutes there taking time to sign his name and word was sent to Peterborough that he reached there all right. He accomplished the return journey in three hours and eight minutes. Mr. Hartley finished quite fresh and was awaited at the corner by a large crowd who sent up cheer after cheer for the walker.

Mr. Hartley referred to the kind treatment he received from the farmers all along the road, many having heard of Mr. Hartley's attempt, were waiting for him and gave him a cheer as he passed. Mr. Hartley says the ladies out that way were pretty good sports. They had lemonade, raspberry wine and tea ready for him but Mr. Hartley had to refuse their kindness for fear that it might in some way interfere with his walk. Mr. Hartley is feeling a little tired today. But in no other way does he feel any worse for his long journey.

PETERBOROUGH CHEESE BOARD

11 5-16c Was the the Highest Price Paid—Offerings are Getting Smaller

The highest price paid for cheese at today's meeting of the Peterborough Cheese Board was 11 5-16c. About 500 boxes sold at this figure, and the remainder went at 11 1-4c. The offering amounted to 2,996 boxes, as compared with 4,595 boxes two weeks ago, when the highest price paid was only 10 13-16c. Ten days make of cheese was sold today and the bidding was fairly brisk. Some of the salesmen were of the opinion that 11 1-4 cents was not enough, but all sold but but three factories. The make of cheese is now on the decline, and the registration on the Board will be getting smaller until the close of the season.

When bids were asked, Mr. Fitzgerald offered 10 3-4c, which was raised to 10 13-16c by Mr. Cook. Mr. Cleine made it 11 1-8c. Then Mr. Squires came in and offered 11 1-4c and secured the first call, and took the following factories ;—Ormonde, Killarney, Daisy D., Oakdale, Warsaw, Brickley, Indian River, and Oak Leaf.

The next went to Mr. Whitton at 11 1-4c., and the following factories sold ;—Cavanville, Westwood, Villiers, Lang and Shearer.

At the same price Mr. Weir took the next lot, as follows ;—Central Smith, Selwyn, Young's Point, Pine Grove, Lakefield, Cedardale and Otonabee Union.

Three buyers then offered 11 1-4c, simultaneously, and a discussion ensued as to who should get the call. Mr. Wrighton settled the matter by offering 11 5-16c., and took the following ;—Warminster, Maple Leaf, Benefort, Trewern and East Emily.

Mr. Wrighton offered 11 1-4 cents for further selections, but Mr. Cook outbid him with 11 1-4c. for the balance of the Board, and took the following ;—Crown, Keene, Myrtle, Fraserville, North Dummer, Fleetwood and Buckhorn.

Mount Pleasant, South Burleigh and Hope refused this offer.

The following is the board in detail ;—

The buyers present were Messrs. Fitzgerald, Whitton, Gillespie, Morton, Squires, Grant, Wrighton, Weir, and Cook.

The board adjourned for three weeks.

Clouds of Dust From C.P.R. Yard

Impossible at Times for People to Pass the Station—Should be Watered

Much has been written, said and thought about the dust nuisance, and especially the dust around the C.P.R. station. Some of the things said and thought would not look well in print although they describe the condition of affairs probably better, at any rate, than does the ordinary English language. All summer the dust from the C.P.R. yards has been very disagreeable. It is a dirty black dust and more injurious than the ordinary dust from the streets, and it has often been asked why the company does not make some arrangement for having their yards watered.

Yesterday the clouds of dust that swept across the yard and up George street into the factories and residences in the neighborhood was something terrific. It was so bad at times that the people walking and driving were forced to take shelter behind some of the factories until the cloud had passed. It was impossible to get through.

If the C.P.R. officials were aware of the condition of affairs, it is felt by the citizens that they would certainly have their yards watered. It would cost very little to have the city's watering carts run over it, or the expense of putting in a hydrant and doing their own sprinkling would not be very much.

Wind Was High at Stony Lake

Water Rough and There Was Little Doing in Boating Line

Yesterday a terrific wind was blowing back at the lakes and the cottagers were kept to their own islands and things were rather quiet after all the excitement of regatta day. The waves were very high and it was rather risky to venture out in a small boat and especially a canoe.

Mr. Geo. H. Williamson and his sister left their cottage at Sandy Point to row to Juniper island. At first the wind was not so heavy and they along alright until they reached "Big Island" on the return journey coming into Clear Lake. The waves were so high that the two were drenched through and Mr. Williamson thought it adviseable to land and wait till the wind went down. Fortunately the "Alberta," Mr. Stratton's yacht, came along and took the two home.

Young Ladies Are in Paris

A cable from London to the Toronto World says :—The World party of "Maple Blossoms" are having a most enjoyable time in London, and much attention is being shown them. On Sunday, Hon. Mr. Fielding, Dominion Minister of Finance, gave them a drive through the parks, now at their best, besides entertaining them at lunch.

On Monday the Tower of London, St. Paul's, and the National Gallery were visited, and on Tuesday the round included the Tate Gallery of British Artists, the magnificent Wallace collection of paintings, armor and articles of vertu in Hertford House, Manchester square, and Madame Tussaud's famous waxworks.

To-morrow, Wednesday, has been fixed for our Paris trip, and all are looking forward to it with eager anticipation.

We have had splendid weather, and all are in the best of health.

AN EXPLANATION

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—Owing to a report which has got abroad in which my name is connected as to weekly services by the Presbyterians at Stewart's Settlement, I would say I did not advocate any such thing as to building a church. We have no intention at the present time or near future that I know of.

Thanking you Mr. Editor, I remain yours,

ALEX. A. STEWART.

Makes an Ominous Prophecy; Financial Disaster is Coming

John D. Rockefeller Tells of Coming Financial Chaos.

His Reply to the Anti-Trust Campaign of Administration — Already Drifting Towards the Rocks—Offer Seven Per Cent. for Large Loans—Oil King Is Through With Business and Says He Is Content.

Cleveland, Aug. 14.—John D. Rockefeller's answer to President Roosevelt's anti-trust litigation campaign is a prophecy of financial disaster that will sweep the country from end to end.

Mr. Rockefeller had just finished his game of golf. Apparently he had thought over very carefully everything he said. He stood beneath the shade of a big beech tree. During a portion of the two hours that he talked with a New York World reporter he had his arm over the latter's shoulder. When he became particularly earnest he gesticulated by striking the palm of one hand with the index finger of the other.

"What, in your opinion, will be the effect on the country of the present policy of the President toward great business combinations?" Mr. Rockefeller was asked.

"The policy of the present administration," Mr. Rockefeller said earnestly and deliberately, "toward great business combinations of all kinds have only one result. It means disaster to the country, financial depression and financial chaos.

"The world already has a fair dose of this, since the extreme penalty imposed on one corporation, with a limited number of shareholders, has caused a loss of confidence, reflected in a falling stock market; a tightening of money, and a fear of the future. The newspapers are full of this slump, and reflect the feeling of unrest. They ascribe it to but one thing.

"What will be the effect when similar action is taken against corporations with myriads of stockholders scattered throughout the country, the investors, the widows, the orphans? There can be but one answer. The present situation will be intensified many fold. It does not require an expert to reason this out. The most superficial thinker can do it.

"I will go further and say to-day, that because of the administration with its reports every five minutes of new actions and of heavy fines, the country is already beginning to drift toward the rocks of financial depression.

"Confidence is gone, and confidence is the basis of all prosperity. With confidence established there can be no stopping of the wheels of progress. Without it all is at a standstill.

"The investor, great and small, locks up his money and refuses to venture forth.

"I do not need your stock market report, your editorials, your predictions and forebodings to prove to myself the truth of my words. I have another way of knowing absolutely—a way which has never failed me in the long years of my business career. That is the way I am judging the financial situation—from the attitude of the financial world toward myself. Let me illustrate.

"There was a time not long ago before the present runaway, hit or miss, impulsive agitation began, that I would be called up on the telephone, say by Kuhn, Loeb & Co., say by Mr. Morgan's office, and in terms asked if I wanted to come in a syndicate, and a certain allotment of shares would be given to me, but I was also told that I would have to make immediate answer. If my reply was that I needed several days for consideration, the telephone receiver would be hung up in all likelihood. When I called several days later, and said I would go in the syndicate I would be curtly informed that I had lost my opportunity; that the syndicate had been completed.

"What is the situation now? I am called and asked to participate in many syndicates, but in none of them is the time for decision fixed on the instant. Instead of the former attitude, I know they are content to wait my decision, and I know there is no danger that I will be too late.

"I can judge in another way. Requests are coming to me to-day for money from quarters it was least expected would be asking for money some time ago. To-day I was offered the unprecedented interest of 7 per cent., for $1,000,000, or $2,000,000, or $3,000,000. The security was beyond all criticism. That would be impossible in this country if there was confidence enough to unlock the money vault of the country.

"I know that the railroads of the United States to-day are unable to borrow money for any length of time. Formerly they could obtain it for eight or ten years in great amounts. They are very well satisfied to take anything they can get now for a short term. Recently I was offered call trusts, one of the safest possible investments, at the rate of 6 3-4 to 7 per cent., and they were very glad to give that rate although there is a margin on the safety side of these loans.

"I judge of the conditions of the country by these things I have told you, and by others which come directly under my notice or under the notice of my personal representatives, my son, and others.

"It is really of no great moment to me. I am through with business. Loss or gain no longer affects me. I am content as I am to-day. I am in better health than I have been for many years. I am happier than I have been for twelve years or more.

"Why are men making these offers to me now? It is because of a lack of confidence. Not a lack of confidence in the resources of the country, not because there is any danger of foreign entanglements, not because of crop failures, nor of the monetary policy, nor of any social condition, but a lack of confidence in this administration."

TO BE INVESTIGATED.

Report That Mr. Judd Will Look Into Escapes From Whitby Jail.

Whitby, Aug. 14.—The escape of the prisoners from the Whitby jail within six weeks is likely to result in an investigation, and in political circles here it is whispered that Commissioner Judd of London will shortly have another investigation.

Some South Ontario Conservatives want Sheriff Paxton removed, and his attitude in seeking to dismiss Fred Clegg, the turnkey, has given a new impetus to the men who have been seeking his dismissal since the accession to power by the Conservative party.

The present sheriff has held office since the death of his father, and received the appointment by reason of his relationship to John Dryden, formerly member for South Ontario.

Two Motorists Hurt.

Stratford, Aug. 14.—An automobile owned by Dr. Deacon pitched into a ditch Monday night, throwing out W. M. Obeirne and Howard A. Higbee of New York. They were hurt, but not seriously injured.

Editor Struck by Trolley.

New York, Aug. 14.—Fred Nye, an editor on The Sunday World, was struck by a Lexington avenue trolley car Monday night and received probably fatal injuries.

NERVY DOCTOR.

Crawls Under Engine to Amputate Limb and Save Life.

New York, Aug. 14.—In plain view of two trainloads of persons bound for Empire City race track Monday, Dr. Case of the Flower Hospital crawled under a locomotive attached to one of the trains and amputated the leg of Thomas Riley, whose limb was crushed under the driving wheels.

Riley, who is a track walker, was run down opposite 44th street. It was impossible to extricate Riley in time to save his life except by amputation, so Dr. Case, with a bag of instruments, crawled under the engine and performed the operation.

His nerve prompted the spectators to cheer as Riley was taken away in an ambulance. At the hospital it was said Riley stood a good chance of recovery.

Trans-Siberian Route.

Ottawa, Aug. 14.—According to a report from Canadian Trade Agent MacLean of Yokohama, the Pacific end of the proposed fast service, all red line, will find the Russian trans-Siberian route a serious competitor.

Recently a traveler from Kobe, Japan, made the trip to Glasgow by the Russian route in 18 1-2 days, and this time, it is stated, may be cut down to 12 days, with improved service and prompt connections.

The British ambassador at Tokio is also said to have recently made the trip from London to Tokio across Russia in 21 days, although three days were lost between Vladivostock and Tsuruga. The time now taken by the C. P. R. route is 25 days.

MAY STRIKE TO-DAY

No Formal Call of Telegraphers Till President Is Consulted.

Meanwhile Many Have Quit Their Keys on Sympathetic Grounds and the Wires Are Partially Tied Up—Telegraph Companies Say They Are Meeting Conditions — New Scale of Wages to Be Demanded.

Chicago, Aug. 14.—This city is the nerve-centre of the striking telegraphers. President Small of the men's union is expected here to-night. Until then no general call for a national strike will be issued. This, however, will not prevent operators in any city from refusing to work with non-union operators at the other end of the wires, thus precipitating trouble locally all over the country.

President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, said yesterday:

"We assume that an affiliated organization which has legalized a strike has a just grievance and, adhering to union principles, we are determined to give the operators our best support."

Improving Hourly.

New York, Aug. 14.—From the viewpoint of the employers of telegraph operators, the strike situation last night was declared to be improving hourly, and the officials of both the Western Union and the Postal companies announced themselves to be more than satisfied with their progress that had been made during the day, and the early hours of the night toward the restoration of wire communications throughout the country. "It is now not so much a question of restoring communication," declared one official, "as it is of re-establishing normal conditions."

The Wall street chapel of the C. T. U. will to-day demand a minimum scale of $30 a week.

Telegraphers' Position.

Percy Thomas, deputy national president, issued a statement, saying:

"The Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America will win this fight with telegraph corporations because it is in the right. We will win because we are on the side of a higher power than man; because the proper development and progress on a part of the people makes for the true development of all the people.

"Our demands are for an eight-hour day, a 15 per cent. increase in wages, equal pay for equal work for men and women, and the companies to furnish the operators the typewriters with which their messages are written.

"Telegraphers have never been anxious for Government control, but any control would be preferable to the present supervision of certain subordinate chiefs in the employ of the company.

"The Government would also adopt a wage scale satisfactory to the telegraphers of the United States. Under Government control telegrams would carry a Federal stamp and any official or other person who inspected the contents of such telegrams as is done at present would come under the penalty of the criminal laws."

Third Esperanto Congress.

Cambridge, Aug. 14.—The third congress of the Esperantists was formally opened in the new theatre here Monday night.

The opening address was delivered by President Zamenhoff, who explained that the whole object of Esperantism was the promotion of feelings of international brotherhood.

Some twelve or fifteen hundred delegates from all parts of the world gave the president a rousing reception.

WAS HARD FIGHT.

Koreans Give Japs All They Can Do at Kangwha Island.

Seoul, Korea, Aug. 14.—After two days of hard fighting with Korean soldiers and the mob, Japanese troops succeeded Monday in capturing Kangwha Island, at the mouth of the Han River.

Kangwha is the site of the famous old forts, and was held by a small garrison.

The first detachment of 200 Japanese detailed to disband the garrison was fired on as both detachments neared the island, and was beaten off. Six Japanese soldiers were killed and six probably fatally wounded, others being less seriously hurt.

The Japanese finally succeeded in making a landing on the northern end of the island, which they held until the arrival of 200 reinforcements with machine guns. Several hours' engagement followed, the Japanese capturing forts and barracks. They killed or captured all the Korean soldiers. Incomplete reports say 40 Koreans were killed and probably several hundred wounded.

Korean officials of the northern and eastern sections are sending daily appeals for help.

The whole North Kyong Province, near the Yalu, is reported in a state of insurrection. Troops have been hurried to the scene.

There are frequent clashes in the mountainous districts of the eastern section between small bodies of Japanese troops and deserting Korean soldiers.

While this condition is likely to prevail until the Korean ammunition is exhausted, the military authorities regard the capture of Kangwha as marking the end of anything like organized resistance.

BAD BOY BURGLARS.

Police Get Big Surprise at Hamilton When Tracing Desperadoes.

Hamilton, Aug. 14.—The city has had a burglar scare for the past month. Regularly a store a week was broken into, and it was thought a daring and skillful gang of desperadoes were at work. The police yesterday traced the stolen stuff to two little boys, so small that the officers were ashamed to arrest them, and they will be summoned to appear before the magistrate. The stores broken into were those of Kartsmark Bros., R. Martin, Thomas Ramsay and Baby and Ecclestone. Two rifles, a dozen revolvers, a bushel of ammunition and a quantity of knives figures amongst the loot. It has nearly all been recovered. The burglaries were committed early in the night as a rule, and the stuff carted off while the streets were crowded. A "jimmy" was used to force the doors and windows.

been averted had he said less about Ryder in his father's hearing. He should have known better than to discuss the strike with him.

One morning as he left Holloway's office he chanced to meet an acquaintance by the name of Curtice. They had been together in Denver years before, and he had known him as a rather talkative young fellow, with large hopes and a thrifty eye to the main chance. But he was the one man he would have preferred to meet, for he had been in South America and knew the field there. Apparently Curtice was equally glad to see him. He insisted upon carrying him off to his club for lunch, where it developed he was in a state of happy enthusiasm over his connection with a road which had just gone into the hands of a receiver, and a new baby, which he assured Oakley on the spur of the moment he was going to name after him.

"You see, Oakley," he explained as they settled themselves, "I was married after you left to a girl who had come to Denver with a consumptive brother. They boarded at the same place I did." His companion was properly interested. "Look here, how long are you going to be in the city? I want you to come and see us."

Dan avoided committing himself by saying his stay in Chicago was most uncertain. He might have to leave very soon.

"Well, then, you must drop in at my office. I wish you'd make it your headquarters while you are here."

"What about the road you are with?"

"Oh, the road? We are putting it in shape."

Oakley smiled a trifle skeptically. He recalled that even as a very young man, filling a very subordinate position, Curtice had clung to the "we."

Curtice saw the smile and remembered too.

"Now, see here, I'm giving it to you straight. I really am the whole thing. I've got a greenhorn for a boss, whose ignorance of the business is only equaled by his confidence in me. If you want to be nasty you can say his ignorance is responsible for much of his confidence. I've been told that before."

"Then I'll wait. I may be able to think of something better."

"There are times when I wonder if he really knows the difference between an engine's headlight and a coupling pin. He's giving me all the rope I want, and we'll have a great passenger service when I get done. That's what I am working on now."

"But where are you going to get the funds for it? A good service costs money," said Dan.

"Oh, the road's always made money. That was the trouble." Oakley looked dense. He had heard of such things, but they had been outside of his own experience.

"The directors were a superstitious lot. They didn't believe in paying dividends, and as they had to get rid of the money somehow they put it all out in salaries. The president's idea of the value of his own services would have been exorbitant if the road had been operating 5,000 miles of track instead of 500. I am told a directors' meeting looked like a family reunion, and they had a most ungodly lot of nephews—nephews were everywhere. The purchasing agent was a nephew, so were two of the division superintendents. Why, the president even had a third cousin of his wife's braking on a way freight. We've kept him as a sort of curiosity and because he was the only one in the bunch who was earning his pay."

"No wonder the stockholders went to law," said Oakley, laughing.

"Of course when the road was taken into court its affairs were seen to be in such rotten shape that a receiver was appointed."

Oakley's business instinct asserted itself. He had forgotten for the time being that his services still belonged to Cornish. Now he said, "See here, haven't you cars you intend to rebuild?"

"We've precious few that don't need carpenter work or paint or upholstering."

"Then send them to me at Antioch. I'll make you a price you can't get inside of, I don't care where you go."

Curtice meditated, then he asked: "How are you fixed to handle a big contract. It'll be mostly for paint and upholstery or woodwork. We have been considering equipping works of our own, but I am afraid they are not going to materialize."

"We can handle anything," and, from sheer force of habit, he was all enthusiasm. He had pleasant visions of the shops running overtime and everybody satisfied and happy. It made no difference to him that he would not be there to share in the general prosperity. With the start he had given it, the future of the Huckleberry would be assured. He decided he had better say nothing to Curtice about South America.

The upshot of this meeting was that he stuck to Curtice with a genial devotion that made him wax in his hands. They spent two days together inspecting paintless and tattered day coaches, and on the third day Dan strolled from his friend's office buttoning his coat on a contract that would mean many thousands of dollars for Antioch. It was altogether his most brilliant achievement. He felt that there only remained for him to turn the Huckleberry over to Holloway and leave the country. He had done well by it.

Dan had been in Chicago about three weeks, when at last Holloway returned, and he proved as limp as Cornish had said he would be in a crisis. He was inclined to be critical, too, and seemed astonished that Oakley had been waiting in Chicago to see him. He experienced a convenient lapse of memory when the latter mentioned his telegram.

"I can't accept your resignation," he said, fussing nervously among the papers on his desk. "I didn't put you at Antioch. That was General Cornish's own idea, and I don't know what he'll think."

"It has got past the point where I care what he thinks," retorted Dan curtly. "You must send some one else there to take hold."

"Why didn't you cable him instead of writing me?" fretfully. "I don't know what he will want, only it's pretty certain to be the very thing I shan't think of."

"I would have cabled him if I had considered it necessary, but it never occurred to me that my resignation would not be agreed to on the spot, as my presence in Antioch only widens the breach and increases the difficulty of a settlement with the men."

"Whom did you leave in charge?" inquired Holloway.

"Holt."

"Who's he?"

"He's Kerr's assistant," Dan explained.

"Why didn't you leave Kerr in charge?" demanded the vice president.

"I laid him off," said Dan in a tone of exasperation, and then he added, to forestall more questions: "He was in sympathy with the men, and he hadn't the sense to keep it to himself. I couldn't be bothered with him, so I got rid of him."

"Well, I must say you have made a frightful mess of the whole business, Oakley, but I told General Cornish from the first that you hadn't the training for the position."

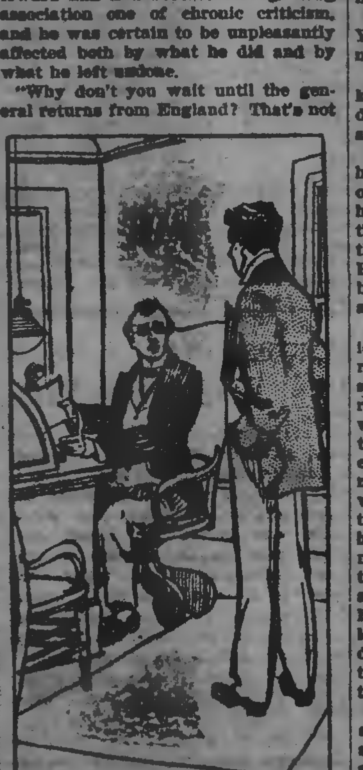
Dan turned very red in the face at this, but he let it pass.

"It's too bad," murmured Holloway, still fingering the letters on the desk.

"Since you are in doubt, why don't you cable General Cornish for instructions, or, if there is a reason why you don't care to, it is not too late for me to cable," said Dan.

This proposal did not please Holloway at all, but he was unwilling to admit that he feared Cornish's displeasure, which, where he was concerned, usually took the form of present silence and a subsequent sarcasm that dealt with the faulty quality of his judgment. The sarcasm might come six months after it had been inspired, but it was certain to come sooner or later and to be followed by a bad half hour, which Cornish devoted to past mistakes. Indeed, Cornish's attitude toward him had become through long association one of chronic criticism, and he was certain to be unpleasantly affected both by what he did and by what he left undone.

"Why don't you wait until the general returns from England? That's not far off now. Under the circumstances he'll accept your resignation."



"I can't accept your resignation."

"He will have to," said Oakley briefly.

"Don't worry. He'll probably demand it," remarked the vice president disagreeably.

"If you are so sure of this, why don't you accept it?" retorted Dan.

"I have no one to appoint in your place."

"What's wrong with Holt? He'll do temporarily."

"I couldn't feel positive of his being satisfactory to General Cornish. He's a very young man, ain't he?"

"Yes, I suppose you'd call him a young man, but he has been with the road for a long time and has a pretty level head. I have found him very trustworthy."

"I would have much greater confidence in Kerr. He's quiet and conservative, and he's had an excellent training with us."

"Well, then, you can get him. He is doing nothing and will be glad to come."

"But you have probably succeeded in antagonizing him."

"I hope so," with sudden cheerfulness. "It was a hardship not to be able to give him a sound thrashing. That's what he deserved."

Holloway looked shocked. The young man was displaying a recklessness of temper which was most unseemly and entirely unexpected.

"I guess it will be well for you to think it over, Oakley, before you conclude to break with General Cornish. To go now will be rather shabby of you, and you owe him fair treatment. Just remember it was these reforms of yours that started the strike, in the first place. I know—I know. What you did you did with his approval. The men are peaceable enough, ain't they?" and he glared at Oakley with mingled disfavor and weariness.

"Anybody can handle them but me."

"It won't be long until they are begging you to open the shops. They will be mighty sick of the trouble they've shouldered when their money is all gone."

"They will never come to me for that, Mr. Holloway," said Dan. "I think they would, one and all, rather starve than recognise my position."

"They'll have to. We'll make them. We mustn't let them think we are weakening."

"You don't appreciate the feeling of intense hostility they have for me."

"Of course the murder of that man—what was his name?"

"Ryder, you mean?"

"Was unfortunate. I don't wonder you have some feeling about going back."

Dan smiled sadly.

The vice president was wonderfully moderate in his choice of words. He added: "But it is really best for the interest of those concerned that you should go and do what you can to bring about a settlement."

"It would be the sheerest idiocy for me to attempt it. The town may go hungry from now to the end of its days, but it won't have me at any price."

"I always told Cornish he should sell the road the first opportunity he got. He had the chance once and you talked him out of it. Now you don't want to stand by the situation."

"I do," said Oakley, rising. "I want to see an understanding reached with the men, and I am going to do what I can to help along. You will please to consider that I have resigned. I don't for the life of me see how you can expect me to show my face in Antioch." And with that he stalked from the place. He was thoroughly angry. He heard Holloway call after him:

"I won't accept your resignation. You'll have to wait until you see Cornish!"

Dan strode out into the street, not knowing what he would do. He was disheartened and exasperated at the stand Holloway had taken.

Presently his anger moderated and his pace slackened. He had been quite oblivious to what was passing about him, and now for the first time, above the rattle of carts and trucks, he heard the newsboys shrilly calling an extra. He caught the words, "All about the big forest fire!" repeated over and over again.

He bought a paper and opened it idly, but a double leaded headline arrested his attention. It was a brief special from Buckhorn Junction. He read it with feverish interest. Antioch was threatened with complete destruction by the forest fires, which for several weeks had been raging in the northern part of the state. All traffic was suspended, and the exact condition could only be guessed at, but there had been repeated calls for help. The neighboring towns had responded to these appeals by sending fire engines and hose, which were still waiting at Buckhorn Junction to go through. Oakley knew that the long drought had so diminished the available water supply that in an emergency of this kind Antioch must depend on the river.

The town derived its regular water supply from a standpipe fed from a small reservoir. In ordinary seasons and under ordinary circumstances the force was sufficient to meet all needs, but on an occasion such as the present the equipment of the local fire department, consisting of two hose carts and a single old fashioned hand engine, would be quite useless.

Oakley's hands shook as they clutched the paper. He forgot his own troubles; all in an instant he was alive to the danger that threatened Constance. She was a prisoner in the menaced town, in the very center of an impending tragedy. The thought of her possible peril sent the blood surging away from his heart.

Ten minutes later Dan again presented himself to Holloway. His face had lost its former look of dogged determination. It had become keen and pinched with a sudden anxiety.

"It's all right, Mr. Holloway!" he cried as he entered the office. "You needn't bother about my resignation. I'll take the first train for Antioch. Have you seen this?" and he held out the crumpled page he had just torn from his newspaper.

Holloway glanced up in astonishment at this unlooked for change of heart.

"I thought you'd conclude it was no way to treat General Cornish," he said.

"Hang Cornish! It's not on his account I'm going. The town is in a fair way to be wiped off the map. Here, read."

And he thrust the paper into Holloway's hands. "The woods to the north and west of Antioch have been blazing for two days. They have sent out call after call for help, and apparently nobody has responded yet. That's why I am going back, and for no other reason."

CHAPTER XXI.

AT Buckhorn Junction Joe Durks, who combined the duties of telegraph operator with those of baggagemaster and ticket agent, was at his table receiving a message when Dan Oakley walked into the office. He had just stepped from the Chicago express.

"What's the latest word from Antioch, Joe?" he asked hurriedly.

"How are you, Mr. Oakley? I got Antioch now."

"What do they say?"

"They are asking help."

The metallic clicking of the instrument before him ceased abruptly.

"What's wrong, anyhow?" He pushed back his chair and came slowly to his feet. His finger was still on the key. He tried again to call up Antioch. "They are cut off. I guess the wire is down."

The two men stared at each other in silence.

Dan's face was white in the murky, smoky twilight that filled the room. Durks looked anxious, the limit of his emotional capacity. He was a lank, colorless youth, with pale yellow tobacco stains about the corners of his mouth and a large nose, which was superior to its surroundings.

Oakley broke silence with:

"What's gone through today, Joe?"

"Nothing's gone through on the B. and A. There's nothing to send from this end of the line," the operator answered nervously.

"What went through yesterday?"

"Nothing yesterday either."

"Where is No. 7?"

"It's down at Harrison, Mr. Oakley."

"And No. 9?"

"It's at Harrison too."

"Do you know what they are doing at Harrison?" demanded Oakley angrily.

It seemed criminal negligence that no apparent effort had as yet been made to reach Antioch.

"I don't," said Durks laconically, biting his nails. "I suppose they are waiting for the fire to burn out."

"Why don't you know?" persisted Dan tartly. His displeasure moved the operator to a fuller explanation.

"It was cut off yesterday morning. The last word I got was that No. 7 was on a siding there and that No. 9, which started at 8:15 for Antioch, had had to push back. The fire was in between Antioch and Harrison, on both sides of the track and blazing."

"Where's the freight?" questioned Oakley.

WEDDING BELLS

GOODWILL—KILPATRICK

The marriage of Miss Nellie Marion Kilpatrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs S J Kilpatrick, University avenue, to Edmund Lionel Goodwill, B. A., of Peterborough, was quietly performed Saturday morning at five o'clock, says the Kingston Whig, by Rev. W. H. Sparling, B.A., at the home of the bride. Immediately after the couple left on the steamer Toronto en route to Montreal.

The bride was given away by her father and was married in her travelling dress of Shantung silk, skirt pleated, and jumper; a tucked net blouse, with pleated tucks and Valenciennes lace. Over this she wore a shirred pongee silk coat, with touches of brown. Her hat was of cream tuscan straw with brown trimmings. The house was radiant with pink sweet peas, white asters, and smilax. There were no attendants The service was quiet, but joyous, befitting such an important event. Among the few guests were Miss Addie Harold, of Belleville and Dr. and Mrs. Victor Goodwill, of Charlottetown.

The bride, a very amiable girl, a successful teacher and church worker, will be much missed, both in the home, the school and the church. Her friends, by tokens of value, remembered her in a very flattering way.

The groom is a son of the late Rev John Goodwill, of Charlottetown P.E.I., a graduate of Queen's University and Osgoode Hall, and a member of the legal firm of Roger, Bennett & Goodwill, of Peterborough. He is a young lawyer, with promises of a clever career.

The couple will take the steamer Campana at Montreal, for Prince Edward Island, where they will spend a month or more, arriving at their home in Peterborough about October 1st.

The best of wishes accompany them on their honeymoon and for their future happiness.

SHILES—FRISE

A very pretty, but quiet wedding took place this morning at ten o'clock at the home of Mrs. John Frise, 176 McDonnel street, when his daughter, Lily, became the bride of Mr. C. Everett Shiles, formerly of New Westminster, B.C., but now of the Statistical Department of Customs, Ottawa. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J P Wilson, Belleville, in the presence of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties The bride was given away by her brother-in-law, Mr. J. C. Miller. Little Miss Ola Parker, made a very charming flower girl. The bridesmaid was Miss Alzena Frise, sister of the bride and Mr. W. P. Hetherington assisted the groom.

The happy couple left on the 11.45 train on a honeymoon trip to the Pacific coast.

THE SPRING HAS BEEN CLOSED

Drove 700 Miles Over Prairies; Good Crop Outlook in the West

Mr. Walter C. Austin Returns From Extended Trip—Peterborough-Saskatchewan Land Co, Negotiating for Sale of 5000 Acres—Money Market is Bright—Residents Have Great Faith in the West.

After an absence of sixty-six days in the West, during which he drove 700 miles over the prairies. Mr. Walter C. Austin of the Peterborough-Saskatchewan Land Company, has returned to the city.

"What about the crops?" was asked Mr. Austin today.

"Well in Saskatchewan and Alberta, they are good when you consider the late cold, backward spring. The seed was put in the ground fully four weeks behind the usual time, and yet so rapid has been the progress that the harvest will not be more than ten days late. There has been plenty of rain of late and the people of the two new provinces are on the whole well satisfied. In northern Manitoba, the yield will be a fair one but in the southern sections of that province the crop will be light.

"I visited, in company with Mr. William Eyres, the land of the Peterborough-Saskatchewan Land Co. comprising 12,000 acres, which is located about 45 miles south of Battleford in the Tramping Lake district. We went over the property section by section and inspected it all carefully and have a most encouraging report to present to the directors. We are negotiating with a party of American capitalists for the sale of 5,000 acres in Township 37, range 19, west 3, and we confidently expect that the transfer will go through. Some sixty-four homesteads in this township, which are all taken up show a splendid wheat yield. I also visited some 8,000 acres owned by Peterborough parties. The land is located in the Birch Lake district and is some ninety miles east of Edmonton. I found everything there in good shape. I drove over about 700 miles of prairie, in all, spending several days in Saskatchewan and Alberta.

IN RAILWAY WRECK.

In leaving Winnipeg, Mr. Austin took the C.N.R. for Edmonton on his way out. At Grand View, Man. the engine while rounding a rather sharp curve, jumped the track, the rails were torn up for a considerable distance and four passenger cars left the track and bumped along the ties for about twice the length of the train before being brought to a standstill. The passengers were greatly excited and would not care to repeat the experience, No one was injured, but it was some seventeen hours before the train was able to proceed."

Speaking of railway matters Mr. Austin remarked that the Grand Trunk Pacific line would be all graded this fall from Saskatoon to Edmonton. Excellent progress is being made. The G. T. P. crosses the land of the Peterborough-Saskatchewan Company.

ABOUT BUILDING.

There is not as much building going on in the towns and cities of the West as last year, but still there is a fair amount. The rush in operations has been stayed somewhat by the rather poor crop outlook at the beginning of the year, the unusually long, cold winter, and the fact that the banks, early this spring, by a concerted arrangement, absolutely refused to advance or loan money on real estate purchases. No matter what a man might be worth in property, the banks refused to accept it as collateral and peremptorily ordered all who had borrowed money in connection with land to pay up forthwith.

"This action on the part of western monetary institutions has been severely condemned by the people, says Mr. Austin and many are most unsparing in their criticism at this attempt on the part of the banks to "club" the country. The result is that real estate in the cities is rather quiet, while the same prevails, but not to as great an extent in the country. It is probable that bills will be introduced at the next session of the Alberta and Saskatchewan Legislatures to enable municipalities to receive deposits from private persons, allowing five per cent. on the deposits, the latter being credited against the taxes of the ratepayers. In some places the banks have even refused to loan money for permanent civic improvements and private citizens have come to the rescue. In Moosejaw, recently, one citizen loaned the municipality $50,000 for needed works. Municipal ownership has been carried to a great excess in the matters of electric light, power, waterworks, etc. From Port Arthur west it is estimated that municipalities have $100,000,000 in debentures, for which there is practically no market at the present time, owing to the stringent money conditions and the action of the banks. The only excuse that the banks offer, Mr. Austin says, for not advancing money on real estate purchase is that they desire to prevent "land gambling," which is accepted by the people as a very flimsy pretext, considering that many millions are allowed out of the country on what is called "call loans."

Mr. Austin thinks that if municipal ownership had not been carried to such a degree and private parties allowed to undertake the construction of the various civic utilities, there would not be such a dead market in debentures.

BRIGHT FUTURE.

"In spite of the long hard winter, scarcity of fuel during the winter months, the late raw backward spring, and the tardy seeding operations, as well as the action of the banks in endeavoring to "club" the country by not advancing money for real estate purposes, Mr. Austin says the feeling in the West is hopeful and strong and that with favorable weather until the harvest is over, nothing can check the progress and go ahead spirit of the west. The American papers—some of them—have been saying unfavorable things in order to prevent the influx of American farmers but they are still coming in, although not in as large numbers as last year. The visitors all say that when a country can come through such an abnormal winter and spring as have just passed and can still go ahead, even when the banks appear to be against its development, that it can come through any emergency all right. The west has been tried and has not been found wanting, and will recover from its present temporary lull and go on in a way and at a stride that will make it the greatest country in the world with the greatest future before. Such is the confident belief of all those who have studied and followed the situation closely and they all exclaim, "more power to the west."

Sawdust Pile Caused Trouble

Firemen Had to Take Engine Over—Mann's Slab Pile Burned

The fire brigade had a lively time on Sunday afternoon and evening. The sawdust pile on the Quaker Oats Co.'s property was again on fire and the boys were given a long run When they arrived there was very little fire, and upon orders they returned to the hall without turning on the water. A short time afterward another alarm from the same box was sounded and the hose waggon made another flying trip. This time the Mann Lumber Co.'s slab pile was on fire. It had caught from a spark wafted from the sawdust pile and the breeze soon fanned it into a fierce blaze. Before the firemen could get the water turned on a considerable portion of the pile had been burned. It is stated by officers of the company that some one other than the Mann Lumber Company will pay the damages caused by the fire.

On Monday afternoon the sawdust pile burned up again and the fire engine had to be taken over. It played on the blaze for a long time but the fire is very hard to get at. It is on the side of the bank facing the river and it is impossible for the men to approach the edge of the bank. The water in the river has undermined the bank. There is a crack right up to the surface and it is about thirty feet back from the edge, so that it is impossible to approach closer, for fear of the bank sliding in.

Fell From Fence; Injured Her Knee

Everyone Was Glad to See Him

After an absence of nearly two years, Mr. Geo. Fitzgerald, appeared on the Peterborough Cheese Board today and was warmly welcomed by buyers and sellers alike. Mr. Fitzgerald was, before his illness, one of the most popular buyers on the Board and his appearance today was made the occasion of a few words of welcome by President Riddell. He was sure everybody was glad to see Mr. Fitzgerald in his place again.

Mr. Fitzgerald is recovering slowly from his long illness and is gradually regaining strength.

Another Fire at Fenelon Falls; An Aged Woman Burned to Death

Residence of Mr. Lane, Bricklayer, Consumed—His Bed-ridden Mother-in-law the Victim—Two Persons Injured—Inmates Had Close Call.

Fenelon Falls, Ont., Aug. 13.—About two o'clock this morning fire broke out from some unknown cause in the home of Mr. Thomas Lane, Fenelon Falls south, which was totally consumed with all contents. The family barely escaped in their night clothes, some jumping from upstairs windows. Miss Jessie Lane, escaping in this way, sprained her ankle very badly. Mrs. John McInnes, mother of Mrs. Lane, eighty-six years old, being unable to escape, lost her life in the fire. Mr. Fred Warren, who lives across the street from Lane's, in endeavoring to rescue the old lady, had his feet badly burned, he being barefooted Dr. F. Aldous, who was on the roof of another building close by, endeavoring to save it from burning, slipped and fell to the ground, and alighting on his feet, was rather badly hurt. Much sympathy is felt for the sufferers. The building occupied by Mr. Herb Scott was also destroyed, but contents were saved. Lane had a small insurance on his house. Loss will be about $3,000 altogether.

Two Boys Badly Injured by Falling From Load of Wood

An accident, which may result rather seriously, occurred this morning shortly before dinner, when two young lads received somewhat nasty injuries by falling from a load of wood and by being struck by a cordwood stick falling on them. Mr. Wm. Porter, teamster for Weir & McIntyre, wood and coal dealers, was taking half a cord of hardwood down to Mr. Thos. Sheehan's house on James street. Geo. McEwen, son of Mr. Robt. McEwen, of Toronto, who is visiting with friends on Mark-st., and Lorne McIntyre, son of Mr. M. McIntyre, boys of about nine years of age, jumped on top of the load and were going with the teamster on his trip. He told the lads to get off and that they would get hurt if they didn't. They however, remained on top of the load. Everything went alright until they came to Mr. Sheehan's. The driver left the team standing in the road and went in the house to see where he was to take the wood. While Mr. Porter was away the accident happened. A stick was projecting out on one side and the boys sat on it both falling to the ground. The cordwood stick hit Geo. McEwen on the head. Mr. Porter was attracted by their cries and a lady who saw the mishap also came to their assistance. The horses did not move and the lady stated that the waggon did not go over the lads as was at first rumored.

Mr. A. Comstock's ambulance was called and also a doctor. Lorne McIntyre was taken to his home at 450 Mark street, and George McEwen was conveyed to St. Joseph's hospital. Both boys were stunned and young McEwen was hurt badly on the back of the head. One of his feet was injured. McIntyre was injured in the lower part of the chest. The attending physician stated that he can not tell as yet how serious their injuries are, but it is to be hoped they are not severe.

Indians Obtained No Liquor There

Report That They Were Served at Burleigh Falls Denied

Mr. Warren Darcy, of Burleigh Falls called up the Review by phone today and stated the report to the effect that the Indians who created the disturbance on the steamer Esturion on Civic Holiday, were seen drinking in the bar at the Burleigh Falls hotel, was wholly untrue.

Mr Darcy stated emphatically that while some Indians had applied for liquor, they were absolutely refused and ordered to leave the bar. "They did not obtain a drop of liquor in my hotel," concluded Mr. Darcy, "and any reports to that effect are entirely misleading and calculated to do us a great deal of injustice."

MARRIED

SHILES — FRISE — At Peterborough, on August 14th, 1907. by Rev J. P. Wilson, Miss Lily Frise, 176 McDonnel street, to Mr. C. E. Shiles of Ottawa.

Spent Jolly Time Down the River

The first annual excursion of Diamond L.O.L., No. 80, was run to Idyl Wyld per str. Otonabee on Saturday afternoon, in commemoration of the Relief of Derry, Aug. 12th, 1689.

The steamer left Wolfe-st. wharf at 1.30 arriving at Idyl Wyld about 4.30, where all spent a very pleasant time until ready to embark for the return trip, which was the most enjoyable part of the outing

An excellent programme was arranged for, Bro. G. Bartley, P.M., acting as chairman. Mr. Bartley, on behalf of the committee, tendered a hearty welcome to all those participating in the first annual excursion of the Orangemen of Peterborough.

An instrumental duet from Mr Campion and Mr. Crowe, opened a fine musical programme.

Miss Mabel and Florence Bartley then sang a duet, and solos were rendered in order from Miss H. Smith, of Rochester, N.Y., Miss N. Robertson, of Trenton, Ont., Miss M. Wilson, of this city.

After another instrumental duet from Mr. Campion and Mr. Loucks, Bro. W. H. G. Armstrong, County Master, gave a very detailed account of the siege of Derry, from the closing of the gates on Dec. 18th, 1688, until the relief of the starving city on Aug. 12th 1689.

Songs were then rendered by Misses Maxwell, McGimsie, Parrington and Newall, and the singing of the National Anthem brought a very enjoyable programme to a close.

The boat arrived at Wolfe street wharf about ten o'clock, every one being well pleased with the success of the excursion.

THURSDAY NOON TRIP CANCELLED
Owing to the Regatta at Chemong tomorrow afternoon the Steamer Majestic, which meets the train at Lakefield at noon, has cancelled this trip for tomorrow only. 1d

The Cup Stays Across the Line; Final Contest for Canada Cup

American Yacht Wins Final Race in a Stiff Breeze.

For a Time the Canadian Boat Challenged and Then Fell Behind—The Adele's Starboard Spreader Broke and She Lowered Sail — Winning Yacht to Be Sold at Auction—Aftermath of Canada Cup Contest.

Charlotte, Aug. 14.—The last race of the Canada Cup series went to the Seneca, the defender, yesterday making the third consecutive win for that boat, and the trophy therefore remains with the Rochester Yacht Club for another year. If the conditions of the two previous events were tame and monotonous, the weather yesterday made excitement enough for all. With a stiff breeze from the southwest blowing at the rate of ten miles, which increased to a heavy gale at the finish, to the accompaniment of a heavy sea, there was every opportunity for testing the sailing powers and staying qualities of the boats and seamanship of skippers and crews. The start was at 11.15. Both boats made a very good start, Adele getting away slightly in the lead and with the windward position. The official time at the start was: Adele, 11.15.10; Seneca, 11.15.13. The course was a triangle of seven miles each side, the first leg being a beat northwesterly. From the weather buoy there was a reach northeast by east a half east to the eastern buoy, and the last leg was a run to the starting point.

Adele made the start under a single reefed mainsail with small jib and staysail. The defender carried whole sails.

Within two minutes of crossing the line Seneca had a lead of about a quarter of a mile, and continued to increase it for about half an hour.

The Adele began to forge ahead, and rapidly closed the gap until, at 12.02, she had gained a slight lead on the Seneca. The wind by this time had increased to 25 miles an hour and a big sea got up, which forced most of the pleasure craft into the harbor. The heavy weather seemed to call out all the Adele's sailing qualities. She held on to her advantageous weather position, and until over three parts of the first leg had been covered the Seneca gained very little. At 12.40 the Seneca had opened up a considerable gap, round the first half at 12.46.12, the Adele following at 12.52.14.

The Adele had behaved so well on the windward work that, with the favorable weather conditions, her backers began to hope that she might pull through first. This hope soon vanished, however, when they saw the Seneca's performance on the reach for the eastern buoy, which she rounded over six minutes before the challenger, the official time being: Seneca, 1.38.19; Adele, 1.45.04.

At 2 p. m. the wind was 30 miles an hour and the Seneca was forced to take a reef in her mainsail. The defender was continually increasing her lead, and at 2.31.33 she crossed the line over a mile ahead of Adele, which did not finish the race. Adele has been hopelessly outclassed in every part of the series, and every advantage she has gained must with justice be ascribed to the abilities of Commodore Jarvis, who sailed the boat for all she was worth.

Yesterday the Adele got all the wind she wanted and a trifle more, too, for she carried a single reef in her mainsail, but even at that her rigging would not stand the strain, and on the final leg home her starboard spreader broke, and any possible chance she had was spoiled. Skipper Jarvis immediately rounded up, lowered the Adele's mainsail and then after a moment started back on the course, with only the head of her mainsail and the head canvas carrying her.

Five minutes la[illegible] decided to nurse Seneca along and scandalized her mainsail, i.e., lowering his peak, and topped her boom up on the lifts, thus bagging her mainsails, the two racers crept on towards the finishing mark. Ten minutes later Adele hoisted her reefed mainsail and set after the leader, but Seneca's advantage was too great to overcome.

The Seneca is to be sold at auction next week, but the chances are that she will remain in the Rochester Yacht Club. She cost the club between $5,000 and $6,000, but will be sold for less than a fifth of that. Vice-Commodore Nicholls of the R.C.Y.C. yesterday offered both Temeraire, the cup challenger of 1905, and Crusader, his candidate this year, for sale.

Serious Race War.

Newport, Va., Aug. 14.—By order of Governor Swanson, a company of 52 soldiers, picked from the Norfolk militia, left Norfolk Monday evening on the steamer Maryland for Onancock, Va., to quell the race war between the whites and blacks at that place. The steamer made the trip to Cape Charles in about two hours and the soldiers were taken to Onancock on the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk Railway.

Fire Destroys Business Section.

Norfolk, Va., Aug. 14.—A large portion, if not the entire, business section of Princess Annex, Maryland, was burned out yesterday morning. It was first reported that the town had been set afire, as the result of recent troubles, but this was found to be untrue.

Man Found Dead.

St. Thomas, Aug. 14.—Charles J. Nicholas was found dead at Port Stanley yesterday of heart failure. He was 30 years of age.

Valuable Catch.

Victoria, B.C., Aug. 14.—The schooner Vera of the Victoria sealing fleet, arrived here yesterday with a catch of 20 sea otter and 228 sealskins. The catch is the most valuable brought into the port for several years. Otter skins are worth from $800 to $1,000, and in addition the sealskins will bring the value to $26,000. The otter were secured in the vicinity of the Coppe Islands. The schooner Oscoo was reported July 31, with 18 otter.

Killed in Mine.

Rossland, B. C., Aug. 14.—John Covello, aged 38, was instantly killed in the White Bear shaft at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He was riding in a skip and accidentally fell out when near the 300-foot level and went hurling down the shaft to the 100-foot level, striking against the shaft on the way down. His head was almost severed from the body.

Boy Drowns.

Oshawa, Aug. 14.—Johnny, the 6-year-old son of David Mitchell, was drowned yesterday morning. With his sister and some other playmates he was fishing in the South Pond and some way fell in. The body was recovered.

His parents came here from Scotland about two months ago.

On Diplomatic Mission.

London, Aug. 14.—King Edward left England yesterday for Marienbad, where he will take the cure. The King will meet Emperor William at Wilhelmshohe to-day, and to-morrow will have a lengthy conference with Emperor Francis Joseph at Ischl. Much diplomatic importance attaches to these meetings.

Croker's Autobiography.

Richard Croker writes to the Journal of Irish Society correcting erroneous impressions which he finds current regarding himself. He denies that he was ever a professional pugilist or owned a gin palace, or that he was ever connected in any way with the liquor traffic.

Nor was his father a blacksmith. He was Eyre Coote Croker of County Cork, who emigrated to America when a young man and through his knowledge of horses attained a position in the veterinary department of the United States army, which he held for many years.—New York Sun.

An Old Oak Jail.

The Brown county (Ind.) jail was built in 1837. The walls are three feet thick and built of white oak timber. The outside and inside walls are built the same as any log house, the logs being hewed one foot square. The inside timbers are put up and down on end, one foot square, making a total thickness of three feet. No prisoner, no matter how serious the crime, has ever dug through these three foot walls. The building is two stories high. The floors are made of square timbers twelve inches thick with lumber nailed to timbers.

Coronation Not Observed.

Rome, Aug. 9.—The Pope yesterday countermanded all the receptions planned in honor of the anniversary of his coronation, fearing that the cardinals might be insulted in the streets while on their way to and from the Vatican.

Chinaman's Body in River.

Montreal, Aug. 13.—The body of a well-dressed Chinaman was found floating in the harbor yesterday morning. The morgue authorities believe that it will be difficult to identify the man. The police have been ordered to investigate the case. They think it is a case of Chinese secret society murder.

SMASHED BY JEROME.

Dread Secret Order Broken Up by New York Police.

New York, Aug. 14.—The secret society of the Hunchakist has been smashed by the efforts of the New York police force.

With the arrest of Kassak Jelalian on Sunday night, the end of the society became certain. This man confessed to District Attorney Jerome, the police say, that it was he who had directed the murders of Father Kaspar, whose body was cut to pieces, and the wealthy rug merchant, Tavshanjian, killed on Union square.

He furthermore stated, it is said, that he had stood by while Bedros Hamptsoonian waited for the coming of the victim and pointed out the man.

It is stated that Father Hartouguessian is not directly connected with the society, though he is still believed to have known a great deal of its inner workings.

When on a visit to the Armenian quarter, in Boston, Police Lieut. Petrosino of New York encountered an Armenian named Hanoojian, who furnished information which resulted in the arrest in this city of Borhas Aliepunerjian.

The police searched the building where he lived, and in the cellar, under a coal heap, they found a number of poisoned daggers, several bombs, a quantity of poisoned bullets, revolvers, and a number of large bottles of hydrocyanic acid.

RELIGIOUS FACTIONS.

Protestants Said to Cheer the Belfast Troops—Birrell's Statement.

London, Aug. 14.—In the House of Commons yesterday, the Irish Secretary, Mr. Birrell, faced a shower of questions concerning the Belfast strike. The Irish members of Parliament wanted the troops withdrawn from Belfast, and others urged the necessity of a full enquiry into the affairs. Mr. Birrell said:

"The Government is fully alive to the urgency of this matter, and is doing all it can to secure a settlement of the most unfortunate strike."

It appears that in the trouble at Belfast, there has developed a cleavage on religious lines. The Protestants have cheered the troops, while the attacking parties apparently have been composed of Catholics.

Belfast, Aug. 14.—During the rioting Monday night, a woman and two men were killed. A recurrence of the disturbance is expected. Captured rioters are taken before the magistrates at the point of the bayonet. Some of the streets were strung with wire to entangle the cavalry, and the gas mains were cut Monday night.

A CRUEL BLOW.

Consequence of Conference Decision May Prove Disastrous.

London, Aug. 14.—(C. A. P.)—A correspondent who, The Standard says, is authorised to speak of the dominate feeling in Canada, writes to that journal respecting the all-red route. He states: "The Imperial Conference was a cruel blow of Canadian aspirations, Canada getting tired of awaiting reciprocity and being frankly annoyed by the insinuations of the enemies of the Empire in England. If the scheme is abandoned, what is Canada to think of British imperialists? The consequences to the Empire will be disastrous."

The Standard, in a long editorial, warmly demanding the establishment of the all-red route, concludes that the scheme is no sentimental vision, but a business proposition."

The Financial News, "on good authority," states that the suggested subsidy for the 25-knot service to Canada is $2,250,000 per annum for ten years, borne equally by the respective Governments.

Woman Burned.

Lindsay, Aug. 14.—Fire at Fenelon Falls at 12.30 yesterday morning destroyed two frame houses, one owned by Mr. Thomas Lane and the other by Mr. William Pyne.

Mrs. John McGinnis, a woman of over 80, mother of Mrs. Lane, was burned to death in the fire.

The fire was started apparently in Mr. Lane's kitchen, and the blaze had assumed such proportions when discovered that it was impossible to rescue Mrs. McGinnis.

Both houses were totally destroyed, with the contents.

Exclude the Japanese.

Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 14.—The Anti-Asiatic League, formed here Monday night, sent a warm resolution to Ottawa, urging immediate action to prevent the landing of Japanese now en route.

One speaker said, let British Columbia drop out of Confederation if Ottawa refuses.

Hon. Frank Oliver comes here today to consider the matter.

Sent to Kingston; Two Years.

Stratford, Aug. 14.—William Easley was yesterday sentenced to two years in Kingston Penitentiary for stealing $57 from a fellow boarder named Henry Holden. The roll of bills was found hidden beneath Easley's hat band after the search had been almost given up. He has a wife and two children in Montreal, and is a painter by trade.

Dangers of St. Lawrence.

London, Aug. 14.—(C. A. P.)—A correspondent of The Daily Graphic states, respecting Lloyd's and the reduction of insurance on vessels engaged in the St. Lawrence trade, that the underwriters consider it too much to expect them to reduce the rate until the number of casualties is reduced.

Life For Seymour.

Jefferson City, Mo., Aug. 14.—Governor Folk has commuted to life imprisonment the sentence of "Lord" Frederick Seymour Barrington, who was convicted of the murder of Joseph McCann.

Premier Sails on 27th.

Toronto, Aug. 14.—Premier Whitney will sail for home by the Cunard Line on Aug. 27.

The compounding department of the Superior Oil Co., at the Soo was burned on Saturday with $1,700 loss.

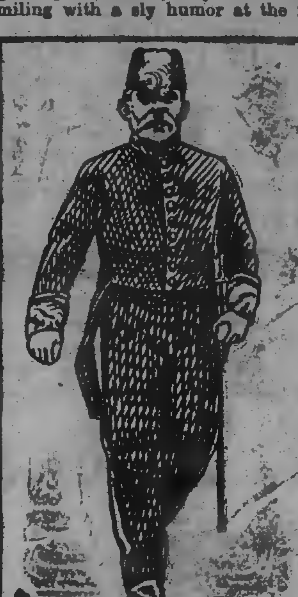
JOHN BURNS' UNIFORM.

Sturdy Democrat Now Appears In Gorgeous Gold Lace.

Although men of all parties admire John Burns for his sturdy and courageous political life, they cannot help smiling with a sly humor at the figure of Mr. Burns in a gold-laced court dress.



JOHN BURNS IN COURT DRESS.

When Mr. Burns became a Cabinet Minister he made a protest against the wearing of the gorgeous uniform which the Ministers are expected to don when called to the presence of the King. King Edward's tact, however, overcame the objection, and now Mr. Burns appears on proper occasions dressed in the finery of which he has often sneered from his democratic platform.

MONUMENT TO PIONEERS.

Vandeleur Honors Men Who Built Up the Nation.

An unusual memorial was unveiled at Vandeleur, Grey County, on Dominion Day, as a tribute to the nation-builders of that region.

MONUMENT TO PIONEERS.

The monument bears the following inscription:

"1857-1907. To the founders of S. S. No. 11, Artemesia, whose courage, honest intention and stability of purpose converted the primeval forest into homes for themselves and those that came after them. Erected by their descendants."

Old-Age Pensions.

A bluebook containing tables prepared on the question of old-age pensions and a memorandum embodying the conclusions of different commissions enquiring into the question, has just been issued.

The estimated total number of people of the age of 65 and over in England and Wales in 1907 is given as 1,616,000, of whom half a million may be assumed to be pensionable. The estimated cost of a pension of 5s. a week for that number is £7,795,000. Assuming that half would be paid out of Imperial funds, the charge on the rates would be equivalent to 4.8d. in the pound on aggregate assessable values.

These figures take no account of cost of administration. The memorandum states that the only appreciable saving in Poor Law expenditure by the establishment of old-age pensions would be in outdoor relief. The number of persons already pensioned by the services, public bodies, or friendly societies is over a quarter of a million.

Some Breezy Notes About Happenings at Chemong Park

Special to the Review.

Chemong, Aug. 13.

The usual weekly dance was held at the hotel on Saturday evening and was largely attended by the hotel guests and cottagers. The music was furnished by Mrs. Alguire and Mr. Whittaker, of Toronto. The dance was thoroughly enjoyed by all those present, particularly by the younger people.

A large number of guests are registered at Chemong Park hotel and are coming and going by each bus. There has been good fishing during the past week and the evenings are perfect for boating.

A jolly little surprise dance was held at Mr. Bull's cottage on Friday evening last in honor of the birthday of his daughter, Miss Dorothy. About thirty guests were present and had a most enjoyable evening. The cottage was prettily decorated and a dainty lunch was served.

It has been decided by the regatta committee that afternoon tea would be served to the visiting ladies on the afternoon of the regatta. It is likely that a marquee will be erected and tea served there. A subscription dance will be held in the pavilion on the night of the regatta and an orchestra from the city, possibly the 57th band, will be in attendance. A large number will attend from the city and busses will be arranged for to leave after the dance.

WEDDING BELLS

ROBERTS—CRAIG

The following wedding, taken from the Hespeler Herald, of August 8th, will be read with much interest by a large number of local people, as the bride is well known here, having once resided in East City and a grand daughter of Mr. John Craig, Hunter street, east city.

The Herald says;

"A quiet, but exceedingly pretty wedding took place at the Queen-st. home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Craig at 12.30 p.m. on Wednesday, when their daughter, Annie Pringle, became the happy bride of Mr. Ed. C. Roberts, a former popular Hespelerite, now residing in Providence, R.I.

"The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. A. Stewart, in the flower-banked parlor of the residence, the bride entering the room on the arm of her father, who gave her away, while Miss Rose Hunsted rendered Mendelssohn's wedding march.

The bride looked exceedingly pretty in a dainty gown of cream taffeta veiled with Brussels net, and trimmings of Irish and Valenciennes lace. She carried cream roses. Her sister, Miss Ida Craig, of Toronto, who was bridesmaid, wore Brussels net, over pale blue taffeta and carried pink roses. The groom was supported by his cousin, Mr. Clarence Fenton, of Toronto.

Following the ceremony the happy couple and the invited guests, nearly all of whom were relatives, partook of a dainty wedding breakfast, served in the prettily appointed and decorated dining room.

"The presents made a brave array, numbering many choice and costly gifts from relatives and friends, and including a handsome cheque, from the bride's father and brother.

"The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome locket, to the bridesmaid a pearl ring, and to the groomsman a watch fob.

"Mr. and Mrs. Roberts left on the 3.15 p.m. train for Buffalo where they will spend a few days before proceeding to their future home in Providence.

Hastings Man For Brockville

C. W. Anderson Appointed Principal of the Public School There

Special to the Review.

Hastings, Aug. 10.—Mr. C. W. Anderson, of the public school staff here, has been appointed to, and accepted the position of principal of the public school at Brockville. He will leave shortly for his new home and will begin his duties the first of September, when school opens. At present Mr. Anderson is employed as one of the examiners in Toronto for the Educational Department.

Mr. Anderson comes to Brockville highly recommended. He was educated at the Norwood High School and graduated with honors from the Toronto Normal School. He has had several years experience as a successful teacher, and was principal of his home school for nearly five years. He will have charge of the fourth book classes in Victoria school.

His family is well known and highly respected. His father was the late David Anderson, a private banker for many years in Hastings. Three of his brothers have followed in their father's footsteps, and are at present bank managers. One of them, Mr. F. D. Anderson, was formerly teller in the Bank of Montreal here, and was well known by many townspeople.

OBITUARY

MRS. P. BOLIN.

The death occurred near Keene on Monday at noon of Mrs. Patrick Bolin, from cancer of the stomach, after several months' illness. The deceased was born in Otonabee and her maiden name was Katherine Gilroy. She is survived by her husband and seven children: Louis, of Peterborough; Roy, of Parry Sound; Gustavus, Emmet, Alfonso, Annie and Margaret at home. Mrs. Hugh Dooley, Rochester, and Margaret Gilroy, Douro, are sisters, and Mr. Michael Gilroy, Colorado, is a brother. The funeral will leave the former home of the deceased, Wednesday at 8.30, and proceed to the Keene Catholic church, after which the interment will take place in the Peterborough Catholic cemetery.

CHILD EXPIRES.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Johe, of Bridgenorth, passed away Monday morning, and the funeral took place to Little Lake cemetery. The bereaved parents will have the sympathy of many friends in their loss.

JEREMIAH McCARTHY.

There passed away at Grand Forks, North Dakota, on July 21st, 1907, Jeremiah McCarthy, at the ripe old age of 87 years. The late Mr. McCarthy formerly resided in Ennismore. He was born in the city of Cork, Ireland, in the year 1820. His father, with a large family, came to Canada in 1825, and settled on lot 7, con. 4, of Ennismore where he lived for a period of 72 years. He and his family then moved to Grand Forks, North Dakota. The late Mr. McCarthy was one of the most respected citizens and most popular men in the township, having held the offices of reeve and county councillor for nearly twenty years. The deceased was a staunch Irish Catholic, and his generous heart would never allow him to close his door to the weary traveller by the wayside. The late Mr. McCarthy in 1863 was married to Mary O'Donoghue, who, with seven children survive him. The children are Mrs. P. F. Flood, of Ennismore; Mrs. Michael Doyle, of Rochester, N. Y.; Mrs. John Crough, of North Dakota, also Katie, Eugene, Dan and James, residing at home.

Mr. Ferguson Gets Splendid Position

Appointed Chief Actuary for Great West Life Assurance Co.

Mr. C. C. Ferguson, of the actuarial staff of the Canada Life Assurance Co., Toronto, has been appointed chief actuary of the Great West Life Assurance Company, of Winnipeg, and will take up his residence in that city. He is a son of Senator Ferguson, of Prince Edward Island, and a brother of Mr. J. Howard Ferguson, manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia, Peterborough. Mr. Ferguson joined the actuary's department of the Canada Life seven years ago, upon completion of his course at McGill, of which university he is a gold medalist. Within recent years several companies have selected their actuaries from the actuarial department of the Canada Life Assurance Company. Mr. Ferguson, since joining the Canada Life, has qualified as an associate of the Institute of Actuaries and a Fellow of the Actuarial Society of America. He has gradually risen to the position of chief clerk of the Canada Life's Actuary's department, and his many friends feel confident of his success in the important position to which he will go on the 1st of October.

Band Received Warm Welcome

Salvation Army Musicians Great Reception at Cobourg

Mr. R. C. Braund, of the Salvation Army Silver Band, now on a ten days' tour, writes the Review as follows, from Cobourg, under date of August 12:—

Cobourg, Aug. 12, '07.

Arrived here Saturday at midnight. Had a march through streets. Sunday the town welcomed us in fine style. Mayor Munson took the chair and eulogized the Army and band. Freewill offerings for the day, $105.85. Americans here summer resorting gave liberally. Cobourg O.K. We played at the prison before we left. They want us to come back to Cobourg again. Will pay all our expenses if we will. Left by International Limited for Trenton.

A letter received from Trenton today states:—

Band arrived here at 11.45 a.m. Capt. Thompson met us at station. People welcomed us with open arms. Huge crowds in streets. Trenton opera house was filled. Friends welcomed back Bandmaster Greene and Mrs. Braund, after being away 16 years. Band post cards are selling well. We take the steamer Varuna for Picton at 9 a.m. Trenton forever.

EXTENDED TRIP TO GREAT WEST

Sheriff Hall Returns From Visit to Several Cities

Sheriff Hall has returned from an extended trip to the West and is now spending a few days at Stony Lake. The sheriff visited Winnipeg, Vancouver, Victoria, Portland, Oregon and other places. He spent some time as the guest of his son, Mr. Sandford Hall, manager of the Bank of Toronto at Quill Lake, Sask. Sheriff Hall reports that warmer weather is badly needed around Quill Lake as, owing to the late, cool weather, the crops in that district are not ripening as they should.

The sheriff thoroughly enjoyed his visit to the west and is enthusiastic in his appreciation of Vancouver and other western cities.

A TRIP TO THE SEASIDE IN COMFORT

The Grand Trunk Railway System have arranged to place on sale on Aug. 12, 13, 14 and 15, round trip tickets valid for return from destination on or before Aug. 30.

The fares from Peterborough are exceedingly low, viz.,

Old Orchard, Me., $16.80.
Portland, Me., $16.55.
St. John, N.B., $19.85.
Murray Bay, Que., $16.15.
Sydney, N.S., $26.35.

Proportionately reduced rates to other points.

For full particulars of these excursions call on Mr. W. Bunton or Mr. F. Sandy, representatives of the Grand Trunk Railway System in Peterborough.

Chemong Park's Annual Regatta

There Will be Some Exciting Contests To-morrow Afternoon

Everything looks favorable for the Chemong Park regatta tomorrow afternoon. The success of the whole affair depends entirely upon the weather now. If the day is fine and a good breeze is blowing, there will be a record crowd to see the best races of the season. Both the Sturgeon Point and Stony Lake Associations, are running excursions to Chemong. The one from Sturgeon Point will start from Lindsay, where a large number of passengers will be taken on.

In the open sailing race a special prize for 18 footers and under has been offered by the Association. This prize is for the benefit of the boats at Stony Lake. There are several large boats, which, under ordinary circumstances, will not give the smaller boats a chance at all. This offer should bring out all the boats from Stony Lake, and a good race should follow.

Walk Out at Canoe Works

Canadian Canoe Co. Directors and Employees Had Difference of Opinion

Owing to a difference of opinion between the directors and the employees of the Canadian Canoe Company as to how the business should be conducted, there are less than half the regular staff at work today. Yesterday the difference came to a head and a large number of the men walked out.

In speaking to the management this morning it was learned that none of the men had been discharged, and any of them who wish to come back and go to work can do so. The trouble has nothing to do with hours, wages or any trade union, and no other factory will be effected. So far as the effect upon the company is concerned, it will not be very serious, as the end of the busy season has been reached, and if the men want to take a few holidays they can do so. However, the company would just as soon have a full staff on. It is expected that the trouble will not last for any length of time, and that soon everything will be running smoothly again.

MANY PEOPLE GOING WEST

C.P.R. Will Run Additional Homeseekers' Excursions

"The North-West Provinces are attracting a big crowd of people this summer," said a visiting C.P.R. official, going on to say, that in view of the volume of traffic, his management has decided to run cheap round trip excursions along into October, a decidedly new departure. That is to say, the well known homeseekers' excursions will leave Toronto Tuesdays, Aug. 27, Sept. 10 and 24, as advertised, and also Tuesdays, Oct. 8 and 22. Second class tickets will be on sale to Winnipeg and all important western towns at remarkably low rates, with a return limit of sixty days.

It should be kept in mind that these tickets are honored in tourist sleeping cars, which are attached to each excursion train, and in which berth can be secured at low prices. On all the excursions this summer space has been at a premium, and to make sure of a berth it is advisable to reserve at least two weeks before one intends moving. The local C.P.R. ticket agent is well posted and will be glad to give any one further information.

CLOSING DAY OF RACE MEET

Fine Races Witnessed by Big Crowd—The Results

The second and closing day of the summer meet of the Peterborough Turf Club yesterday was attended by about a thousand people and the racing was of a nature to please the most exacting. There were three events 2.30 pace and trot, 2.17 pace and trot, and a running race. Every heat was keenly contested and at times the excitement ran high.

The present meet has been one of the most successful events of its kind ever held in Peterborough and the officers of the Turf Club deserve credit for the way in which everything was conducted. Financially, the result was most gratifying and the club will have a nice balance on hand after all expenses are met.

The results of yesterday's races were as follows:—

2.30 PACE AND TROT.

Billy C., W. E. Leith, Millbrook	1	1	1
Little Girl, J. Elmhirst, Keene	2	3	2
Peggy, Geo. Lipsett, city...	3	2	3

The Inspection Should be Rigid

In reference to the Indians who were filled with fire water, creating a disturbance on Monday afternoon on the steamer Saturion, an eye-witness writes the Review as follows;

"There is no doubt that a more lively system of inspection should be begun. Not long ago a tourist informed me that the trip from Chemong Park to Indian Village was a succession of war-whoops and bad language caused by a decided jag. When the boat arrived at the village an Indian dead drunk was lifted from the hold and thrown upon the beach where he was left in the full view of numbers of women and children to sober up. That drinking among the Indians is increasing seems to be an established fact. It is very unpleasant for trippers and must speedily be put an end to, if the tourist traffic is not to be injured.

MRS. O. D. ROBINSON.
Every Woman in America Is Interested in This Woman's Experience.

HER HEALTH DESTROYED BY PELVIC CATARRH.

"Pe-ru-na has prolonged my life and made a new woman of me."—Mrs. O. D. Robinson.

Mrs. O. D. Robinson, 48 St. Felix St., Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:

"I have taken Peruna and it did me more good than all my two years' treatment by special physicians.

"I can really say that I feel like another person. No more swollen feet and limbs. No more bloating of the abdomen. No more shortness of breath. No more stiff and sore joints. You have no idea what your treatment has done for me. It has prolonged my life and made a new woman of me.

"O, such a blessing I have received through your kindness, Doctor, and the assistance of the medicine which you so kindly prescribed.

"I am able to work since I began your treatment, but before I was not able to help myself, much less do any work. All praise is due to Dr. Hartman and his treatment."

The Ingredients of

Zutoo

One ingredient is soda—just old-fashioned soda, that our grandmothers took to settle the stomach, and there is nothing better.

Among the other ingredients there is not one that did not come from old Mother Earth herself.

There is not one that is not approved by both the British and American Pharmacopoeias,—the highest medical authorities in the world.

There is not one that your family physician, even if a personal friend, would not approve of and prescribe.

If you are using some other headache remedy, why do you not change and use Zutoo instead?

It will cure your headaches and colds just as quickly and safeguard you against the bad after effects which may some day come from using the ordinary remedies. Zutoo tablets

Are Harmless as Soda.

Big Celebration at Campbellford

A number of Peterborough people are attending the big Scotch celebration at Campbellford today. Two special trains passed through the city this morning for Campbellford, one coming from Port Hope and the other from Toronto, coming by way of Lindsay. The 48th Highlanders band of Toronto is in attendance and Campbellford is thronged with visitors.

Fierce Forest Fires Were Raging

At Big Island and Hurricane Point—All Danger Now Over

During Monday night and all day yesterday forest fires were raging on "Big Island" in Clear Lake, and also at Hurricane Point. The latest report states that the fire on Big Island is extinguished, and the one on Hurricane Point is well under control. "Big Island" is situated just at the head of Clear Lake and the north end of it was first noticed to be in a blaze on Monday night. It was then spreading rapidly and the extremely heavy gale that was blowing yesterday would cause it to soon spread. This island is owned by Mr. J. R. Stratton and is very large. Mr. Stratton was notified of the fire and at once procured some men to go there and fight the flames. This morning, when the passengers on the morning boat passed, the fire was out. It is believed that the flames originated from a fire started by some picnic parties, who in order to make tea, lighted a fire and went away and did not extinguish it. At any rate, a picnic party had dinner on "Big Island" on Monday, as they were noticed by several persons.

It is thought that the blaze on Hurricane Point was started in the same way and it at first looked like a very serious conflagration, but after a number of men worked at it for some time it was got under control. It has been later learned that the fire is out.

For the past week a number of Americans have been taking their dinner on the Point. They start out early in the morning on a fishing expedition and always take their dinner with them and have it at Hurricane Point. They always lighted a fire, and went away, forgetting to put it out. Picnic parties should exercise more precaution and on windy days should not light fires on the islands. If they do they should extinguish them before leaving the place.

Home in Canada After Long Trip

Mr. Robert Fair Has a Most Successful Business Outing and Lot of Pleasure too

The many friends of Mr. Robert Fair are pleased to welcome him home after his extended visit to Great Britain and France. Mr. Fair has been away for several weeks, and he looks the very picture of health. He had a pleasant and profitable trip and is now ready to settle down to another year's good, hard work.

The steamer Victoria, on which Mr Fair returned, was docked at Montreal at four o'clock Saturday afternoon and he came right through to Peterborough. The passage over was very pleasant and greatly enjoyed, except for two days, when a severe storm arose and raised the waves so high that they washed over the decks and all the doors and windows had to be closed tight.

While in England Mr. Fair visited many places of interest, including the Dublin Exhibition, Belfast, Lakes of Killarney, the shrine where St. Patrick is supposed to have been buried and a number of other historical spots. The weather the first two weeks he was in England was very disagreeable. It was cold and rainy

Mr. Fair's trip was particularly for business, although he indulged in a little pleasure on the side. As far as his purchasing was concerned he is highly pleased. He visited all the leading centres and factories where fabrics are manufactured and he made a lot of excellent selections the benefit of which will be felt by the public during the autumn sale.

One thing that is particularly noticeable in the larger papers in Great Britain is the lack of any reference to the Colonies in a news sense For instance, when the building in London collapsed with such horrible results, not a word was to be had in England except that a building had collapsed in London, Ont If the newspapers over there published more Canadian despatches and less than half of the American rubbish it would be better for England and for Canada. The same thing applies to all the colonies which England claims to be so proud of

On the return journey Mr. H. A. Wheeldon was on board. Mr. Wheeldon is the successor to Dr. Torrington as organist in the Metropolitan church, Toronto. His music at the Sunday service and at the concert was the chief feature. He is a wonderful musician.

Loss From Fire At Bridgenorth

The extensive stables and driving shed belonging to the Kelly sawmill at Bridgenorth was burned this afternoon

A big crowd quickly gathered when the blaze was noticed, and by hard work succeeded in getting the horses out and away from danger. About fifteen tons of hay and some machinery were destroyed.

The cause of the fire is not known, but the conflagration was likely started by a spark from the mill as a strong breeze was blowing from the Ennismore shore at the time the fire started.

The loss will be heavy.

Horse and Buggy Have Been Stolen

Mr. R. Seabrooke, North Monaghan has had a horse and buggy stolen from his farm. He called at the police station today to inform them of his loss. A young man, who gave his name as Rich. Graham and said he came from Port Hope, is said to be the one who took it. Graham came to Mr Seabrooke's last Saturday and hired with him. On Tuesday morning early they were working in the fields and an implement they were using, became broken. Mr. Seabrooke told the hired man to ride the horse down to the blacksmith shop and get the implement repaired. He did so but took the buggy with him also. He left the implement at the blacksmith shop and said he would call for it on his return but he never showed up. Graham is 21 years of age, a little stooped, weighs about 150 lbs., dark complexion and is five feet, nine inches tall. He was dressed in black overalls, a dark coat, and a peaked cap. The animal was a bay mare, four years old, had one white hind foot and a white spot on forehead. It was valued at $150. The buggy was a Tudhope, one without a top.

Mr. Wm. Moffat, city, says he saw a man driving a horse, answering the above descriptions, going up Aylmer street on Tuesday morning.

Mr. Banks Sells His Galt Business

Will Devote all His Attention to His Store in Peterboro'

The business which was so successfully carried on by Charlie Banks north Water street, has been taken over, says the Galt Reformer, by Mr. George McFarland, who for some time past has so ably managed the business in the interests of Mr. Banks. Mr. Banks, who now controls a store in Peterborough, found it impossible for him to divide his attention between the two stores. The Banks store which in the past has been so extensively known as a fully equipped sporting goods house will continue under the ownership of the genial George, to carry a full line of all classes of sporting goods.

Six Months in Central Prison

For Ernest James—On Charge of Vagrancy

Six months in Central Prison was the sentence given Ernest James, who was arraigned before Acting Police Magistrate Frank Adams this morning on a charge of vagrancy. He pleaded guilty. It appears that yesterday he went to a house to beg a meal, which was very willingly given him. While at dinner, he picked up a pair of spectacles and carried them off.

Last night he was drunk and was arrested. At the police station he told his story about the glasses. He said this morning that he knew he had done wrong and came to the police station to give himself up. He came to this country from England about sixteen months ago. He had been working on the farm but at present he was doing nothing. "Six months will do you good," said His Worship and James was taken down to his cell.

Lakefield Man to Have Fine Lawn

Mr. W. H. Merrill has received instructions from Mr. E. Bravender, of Hudson, N. Y., to proceed with the plans of the new lawn at Lakefield, says the Lindsay Post. Mr. Bravender is manager of the Cement Company, which has a branch at Lakefield. Mr. Bravender, is building one of the finest homes in Ontario. His lawns will be laid out by one of the best landscape gardeners that can be had and furnished with the best of ornamental trees and shrubbery, regardless of cost. It would be well for Lindsay if a few of our citizens had some of the spirit of Mr. Bravender.

Comical Mistake Made by Youth

Tried to Drink Down His Uncle's Set of False Teeth

Hunting has its funny side. A few days ago a Peterborough gentleman informed the Review of an experience that he once came across in the woods beyond Stony Lake. Coming late in the evening to a farmer's house he asked for and received board and lodging for the night.

The farmer had a nephew staying with him at the time and on the night in question the boy asked for a glass of water to place beside him on his chair when retiring. In the middle of the night he wakened up and reached out for the glass. He drank its contents eagerly till to his horror he came to a hard substance at the bottom. Hastily lighting a match he examined the object and gave vent to an exclamation that wakened the whole house. "By gosh, blamed if this ain't Uncle Jim's teeth!"

The glass containing his uncle's teeth had been placed at his bedside in mistake for the other.

Conservative Stalwarts Met ; Rousing Gathering in Belleville

Leading Members form Branch of New Association—East Peterborough Represented at the Convention—Officers Elected.

A meeting of the leading Conservatives of six ridings in this district, was held in the Conservative Auxiliary rooms, this city, yesterday afternoon, says the Belleville Intelligencer, with the object of forming a branch of the Dominion Liberal-Conservative Association, the headquarters of which are in Toronto. The object of the association is to help along and look after organization matters. Those who attended today's meeting were representatives of group 18, which consists of the Ridings of East Northumberland, East Peterborough, East Hastings, West Hastings, Lennox and Addington and Prince Edward.

Those present were: G. O. Alcorn, M. P., Prince Edward; W. B. Northrup, M. P., East Hastings; U. R. Wilson, M. P., Lennox and Addington; J. A. Sexsmith, East Peterborough; Geo. J. Sherry, Norwood; W. J. Malley, Deseronto; L. L. Gallagher, Lennox and Addington; W. C. Mikel, Belleville; Dr. Stinson, Brighton; A. A. Richardson, Deseronto.

The following officers were elected,—

President—G. O. Alcorn, M.P., Picton.

Vice-President—A. A. Richardson, Deseronto.

Secretary—W. C. Mikel, Belleville.

The officers of branch 18, and Messrs. Northrup and Porter, M. P. were appointed a committee to frame rules and regulations for the government of the local branch. They will report at the next meeting.

Matters affecting the political welfare of the ridings in this district were then discussed. The members believe the association, which was organized at the suggestion of Mr. R. L. Borden, will be productive of much good to the interests of good government in the Dominion.

Band to-night at Jackson Park.

THE TONIC OF HEALTH

Must be more than a stimulant—must be a food as well.

The "Best" Tonic is FERROZONE, which is both a food and a tonic; it aids digestion, promotes assimilation and converts food into blood, muscle, bone and nerves. No wonder it builds up the weak, makes them strong and vigorous!

FERROZONE

THE GREAT FOOD TONIC

FERROZONE contains exactly what your run-down system lacks. It supplies oxygen to purify the blood, phosphorus to develop the brain, iron to harden the muscles.

No combination of strength-giving, life-sustaining elements can surpass FERROZONE. Instant in effect, lasting in results, no medicine can benefit as much. You'll eat, sleep, think and feel better by using FERROZONE, which is a true tonic. Try it—now.

Ferrozone is sold everywhere in 50c boxes or six for $2.50. By mail to any address from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

ARABS TAKE OUTPOST

Desperate Charge of Moors Against the Artillery.

French and Spanish Defenders Driven Out — Station Recaptured After Fierce Fighting — Bayonet Charge Successful — Transport Arrives With Reinforcements — Moorish Horsemen Plundering.

Tangier, Morocco, Aug. 15.—Several thousand fanatical Moors rushed the outposts at Casablanca Tuesday night, drove out the French and Spanish defenders of one of the stations and held it against the foreign troops for over an hour.

Only the most desperate fighting by the soldiers enabled them to regain possession of the outpost which was finally carried by a bayonet attack.

News of the fight reached here yesterday. Hundreds of the Moors were slain or wounded during the fighting and the troops likewise lost several men, according to the message.

The attack of the Moors was made shortly after midnight. Mounted on their fleet horses, the natives charged directly against the guns, unmindful alike of both the rifle fire and shrapnel.

The outer defences were rushed, the soldiers being compelled to withdraw. The Moors established themselves there.

The Moors were repulsed at other points and driven off. Reinforcements were rushed to the force which had been driven out of their earthworks and several charges were launched against the Moors occupying them.

The French swept over the rifle pits, driving the Moors before them. The natives fought bravely, but were unable to cope with their trained adversaries. Many Moors were cut down beside the guns they refused to surrender alive.

Reinforcements are beginning to arrive in Casablanca in response to calls for more soldiers. The transport Oasis has arrived with men sent from Algiers and Oran.

The Spanish cruiser Rio del Plata has also arrived and landed a force of marines. Three hundred Spanish infantrymen and several troops of cavalry are on their way to Casablanca from Cadiz.

Paris, Aug. 15.—Despatches from special correspondents at Tangier received here yesterday confirm the reports of engagements between the Moors and make plain that the situation is more alarming than is generally appreciated.

Two hundred horsemen have forced the gates of Mazagan and are plundering the European section of the city. Few Europeans made their escape.

The situation at Fez is critical. The population threatens to rise against the Government which is in no position to defend itself.

Europeans cannot leave the city, which is hemmed in by tribes.

A French cruiser has restored calm at Rabat by threatening to bombard the neighboring holy city of Sali. The tribesmen have left the city to join the besiegers at Casablanca.

The bombardment of Fort Fedala, where the natives have a reserve supply of arms and ammunition, is regarded as an immediate necessity.

Gen. Drude proposes to occupy successively Ben Rechid, Casa Medioune and Settat, which are the centres of the wild tribesmen.

News from Morocco City is bad. Tribes in that region have offered the Sultanate to Tony Hafid, whom they have invited to lead them to Fez. It is feared Hafid's loyalty will not be able to withstand the temptation.

The apparent reluctance to send reinforcements to Gen. Drude is regarded here as being a great mistake.

Sir Harry Not Free.

Tangier, Aug. 15—It has been learned that Caid Sir Harry MacLean, the Englishman in the service of the Sultan of Morocco, who has been a prisoner of the bandit Raisuli, since early in June, has not been set at liberty as previously reported.

The British Legation here yesterday received a communication from Raisuli, threatening that unless his terms are accepted immediately he will remove MacLean to a place whither all the armies of Europe, if united, could not follow.

It seems that Raisuli, upon hearing of the bombardment and occupation of Casablanca, succeeded in taking MacLean back from the Kmass tribesmen and removed him to a strategic position in the neighborhood of Ben Larous.

MacLean is well, but he has been deprived of his tent and compelled to occupy an ordinary soldier's tent of small size. He is subsisting upon black bread.

Mrs. Senefield, of Hamilton, was so injured by a car at Crown Point that one leg had to be amputated.

Muriel Edwards, four-years-old, of Brantford, swallowed a gold locket and chain and is under medical treatment.

RAISES PAY OF MEMBERS.

Australian Government Boosts Salaries in Spit of Opposition.

London, Aug. 15.—A despatch from Melbourne says the Government introduced a bill raising the salaries of members from £400 to £600 yearly. Stormy objections came from the economy party, who claimed that the electors should be consulted, but admitted the need of the increase.

The Labor party's tariff committee produced a scheme for protecting workers by, obliging employers who are not paying a fair wage to affix duty stamps on their goods, and also for creating a permanent board of trade to advise the Government and Parliament and in cases where manufacturers are charging the consumer extortionate prices for goods, are protected by the tariff, the board be empowered to recommend the suspension of the duty in proved instances.

The Laborites also want protected goods complying with fair labor conditions to carry the commonwealth trade mark.

KING EDWARD MEETS KAISER.

His Majesty Receives Warm Welcome in Germany.

Cassel, Prussia, Aug. 15.—King Edward reached Wilhelmshohe yesterday and was met by Emperor William attired as a British field marshal.

The monarchs repeatedly kissed each other on the cheeks. The German Emperor had caused elaborate preparations to be made in order to give the King a hearty reception. The road between the railroad station and the castle was occupied throughout its entire line with troops, garrisons from the veteran societies, and pupils from the public schools of Cassel and the towns in its vicinity. Unusually large crowds gathered to witness the meeting of the monarchs. The Emperor and his guest were escorted to the castle by a squadron of Hussars.

"DRUNKS" REPLACE ACTRESSES.

Their Pictures Decorate Saloons to Keep Them Sober.

Fon-Du-Lac, Wis., Aug. 15.—As a result of Fon-Du-Lac's unique "jag" ordinance, requiring that the portraits of habitual drunkards shall be posted in all the saloons of the city, together with notices to saloonkeepers to sell them no liquor under penalty of losing their licenses, the galaxy of "booze" celebrities is increasing.

Mat Dengel has made the unusual request that his own photograph be included in the list on the ground that that was the only way he could get sobered up and return to a decent life. The only photograph to adorn the saloon gallery previously was that of Mat Fargo, a substantial property-owner and taxpayer.

Premier Will Fish.

Ottawa, Aug. 15.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier leaves Ottawa to-day for Charette Mills. He will spend a week at the Shawinigan Fish and Game Club, fishing and resting. He will return to the capital in time to meet Lord Grey on his return on the 25th inst.

Gets Off Easy.

Rochefort, France, Aug. 15.—Edouard Lecoup, who assaulted Minister of War Picquart in the railroad station last Sunday evening, was tried on a charge of assault, and sentenced to four months in prison and fined $40.

Explosion In Store.

Sydney Mines, N. S., Aug. 15.—An explosion in Weddleton's candy kitchen occurred yesterday. Miss Josephine Oram was standing behind the counter, within two feet of a soda fountain cylinder charged to 150 pounds pressure, which suddenly exploded, sending glassware, candy, bottles and other paraphernalia flying in all directions, and destroying a wooden partition. Miss Oram's escape was miraculous. Outside a bad fright she escaped without injury.

Betrayed by Finger Print.

Elizabeth, N.J., Aug. 15.—Traced by finger prints, discernable in an ink impression of a black hand signed to a letter received by Father Feremi of St. Anthony's Roman Catholic Church, in which the priest is threatened with death unless he turns over $600 by Sept. 1, Michael Vessio, an Italian barber, was arrested as the writer of the letter.

Mosquitoes Stop Mails.

Wilmington, Del., Aug. 15.—Mosquitoes are playing havoc with the delivery of the mails along the shores of the Delaware Bay in Central Delaware.

It is learned that a dozen rural carriers who start from Dover have been made ill by attacks from the pests.

The "Sailor Boy" brand of canned goods are the best that are put up. They never fail to please. Try a few cans.

RIVER STEAMER AFIRE

Midnight Blaze on the Hudson Steamer Adirondack.

Two Thousand Passengers Endangered—Ran Vessel on the Beach—Crew Extinguished the Flames—Vessel Resumed Voyage — Staterooms Damaged by Water — Fire Due to Defective Wiring.

Newburgh, N.Y., Aug. 15.—The steamer Adirondack of the Albany & New York line was discovered to be on fire at midnight Tuesday as she was passing Newburgh. The fire gained considerable headway and the officers finally beached her north of Roseton.

As soon as the boat struck, the crew attacked the blaze, which was soon extinguished. The passengers, numbering not far from 2,000, were inclined to be excited, but were calmed by the officers, who assured them there was no danger. Most of them then quietly returned to their staterooms. The vessel was in a bad predicament, her bow being high and dry on the mud bank.

Signals of distress were given and the steamer Green Port of the Citizens' Line of Troy ran alongside and took off several hundred passengers who were anxious to quit the boat. Some of these were landed at Poughkeepsie. While the Green Port was taking off the passengers other assistance arrived. The City of Hudson of the Hudson-New York Line, the propellers Marlborough and Newburgh of the Central Hudson Line, made fast to the Adirondack and finally pulled her off.

The Adirondack, seemingly little damaged, steamed on up the river. The fire was confined to the hurricane deck and burned briskly for a short time. The greater damage was done to the staterooms by water.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 15.—The Adirondack reached here about 8 a. m., under her own steam, showing few external signs of her mishap, and with a majority of her passengers still on board.

About 15 staterooms on the hurricane deck are out of commission, the damage being chiefly by water. General Agent Shaffer believes the fire may have been due to defective electric wiring; no other cause is apparent.

COUNCIL TURN POLICE.

Latchford's Civic Fathers Raid Houses of Bad Repute.

North Bay, Aug. 15.—An interesting story comes from Latchford, which recently blossomed into a full-fledged town with mayor and councillors. Like many of the northern towns, Latchford has been invaded by a detachment of the demi-monde army, which is increasing so rapidly in the district that vicious dives are to be found even north of McDougal's chute.

Mayor McNeil, and the councillors of Latchford determined that their first official act would partake of the nature of a housecleaning.

Each member of the town parliament was duly sworn in as special constable, and accompanied by Provincial Constable Lefebvre, eight houses of ill-repute were raided, and inmates, frequenters and proprietors given summary trial, with the result that the sum of $700 was collected in fines.

BOMB FOR A LORD.

Ashtown Has Walls of His Apartment Shattered.

Clonmel, Ireland, Aug. 15.—Lord Ashtown had a narrow escape from death at his residence, Glenabiry Lodge, yesterday. He was asleep in a room on the ground floor, when a terrific explosion, caused by a bomb, shattered one of the walls of his apartment and destroyed most of the furniture. The explosion did not injure Lord Ashtown, who only arrived at the lodge Tuesday night. The gamekeepers recently had trouble with poachers on the estate and the outrage is attributed to them.

Lord Ashtown has also been threatened by political agitators. At the recent Galway Assizes, a local politician, who is a justice of the peace, was charged with inciting others to murder Lord Ashtown. The politician was, however, acquitted.

SPAIN WANTS FLOUR.

Removes Excise Tax on American Imported Cereals.

Washington, Aug. 15.—The Spanish Government has ordered the removal of the excise tax on importations of American flour.

It is expected that the result will be a large increase in the export flour trade with Spain, as there is a considerable shortage in the cereal crop in that country this year.

2,500 Quit Work.

Montreal, Aug. 15.—The strike is on at the Montreal Cotton Co.'s mill at Valleyfield. The company increased the operators' pay, but they demand 10 per cent. additional. At a conference held yesterday it was decided to close the mill rather than to give any further increase. The number of operators who quit work yesterday is 2,500.

U. S. Fishermen Obliged.

Boston, Aug. 15.—It is announced that a temporary agreement has been reached which will probably be concluded and put in force before the British Parliament adjourns at the end of the month, whereby the Newfoundland fisheries will be opened to the fishermen of Gloucester the coming season.

Wireless From Ireland.

London, Aug. 15.—Marconi announces wireless service to Canada in September, from Clifton, Ireland, to Cape Breton, with ordinary rate 5d, press rate 2 1-2d, plus land charges. A large volume of business is expected.

James Simpson, sr., of Hamilton formerly head of the wholesale grocery firm of James Simpson & Co., is dead, aged 75.

ROOSEVELT WILL NOT MOVE.

President Refers Strike Question to Labor Commissioner.

Oyster Bay, Aug. 15.—President Roosevelt will not concern himself personally with the telegraphers' strike, according to the best information obtainable here last night.

Appeals to the President to take some action looking to a settlement of the strike were received at the executive office here yesterday from Boards of Trade and commercial bodies of a large number of cities. The applications were similar in character to those formulated Tuesday by the Chicago Board of Trade. Each emphasised the importance of the direct action by the President.

The communications have been referred to Commissioner of Labor C. P. Neil. It is understood that no instructions or recommendations have been forwarded to Mr. Neil.

On Strike In Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, Aug. 15.—The Winnipeg telegraphers of the G. N. W. have gone on strike, refusing to work with non-union operators. There are only seven men in the office here, and three non-union men have taken their places.

Twelve at Work.

Montreal, Aug. 15.—There are 12 to 15 men at work last evening at the G. N. W. office.

STRIKE-BREAKERS IN PERIL.

Sixty Men Were Sleeping In Store Which Was Burned.

Binghamton, N. Y., Aug. 15.—The lives of 60 strike-breakers in the Erie machine shops at Susquehanna, Pa., were imperilled and the mammoth storehouse of the company was destroyed by fire at an early hour yesterday.

The strike-breakers had been unable to obtain board in the village and were quartered in the upper portion of the big wooden building in which is stored all the supplies used on the Erie divisions between New York and Buffalo. The fire was discovered in the upper portion of the building and it was with difficulty that the men made their escape. The flames spread rapidly, threatening the entire plant, and help was summoned from this city.

A steamer and a quantity of hose with a force of firemen had been placed on a special train bound for Susquehanna, when word was received that their services would not be needed.

The building was totally destroyed, but the adjacent shops were saved after a hard fight.

The loss is $185,000, and is believed to be covered by insurance. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Arthur Teeple, who fell from a barn at Onwell, is dead.

"The last I heard it was trying to make Parker's Run."

"When was that?"

"That was yesterday morning too. It had come up that far from Antioch the day before to haul out four carloads of ties. Holt gave the order. It is still there, for all I know—that is, if it ain't burned or ditched. I sent down the extra men from the yards here to help them loading the cars. I had Holt's order for it, and supposed he knew what was wanted. They ain't come back, but they got there ahead of the freight all right."

Oakley felt this care for a few hundred dollars' worth of property to have been unnecessary in view of the graver peril that threatened Antioch. Still, it was not Durks' fault. It was Holt who was to blame. He had probably lost his head in the general alarm and excitement.

While Harrison might be menaced by the fire, it was in a measure protected by the very nature of its surroundings. But with Antioch, where there was nothing to stay the progress of the flames, the case was different. With a north wind blowing they could sweep over the town unhindered.

"Yesterday the wind shifted a bit to the west, and for awhile they thought Antioch was out of danger," said Durks, who saw what was in Oakley's mind.

"What have you heard from the other towns?"

"They're deserted. Everybody's gone to Antioch or Harrison. There was plenty of time for that, and when No. 7 made her last run I wired ahead that it was the only train we could send out."

"How did you get the extra men to Parker's Run?"

"Baker took 'em there on the switch engine. I sent him down again this morning to see what was the matter with the freight, but he only went to the ten mile fill and come back. He said he couldn't go any farther. I guess he wasn't so very keen to try. He said he hadn't the money put by for his funeral expenses."

"They told me up above that the M. and W. had hauled a relief train for Antioch. What has been done with it? Have you made an effort to get it through?"

Durks looked distressed. Within the last three days flights of inspiration and judgment had been demanded of him such as he hoped would never be required again. And for forty-eight hours he had been comforting himself with the thought that about everything on wheels owned by the Huckleberry was at the western terminus of the road.

"It ain't much of a relief train, Mr. Oakley. Two cars, loaded with fire engines and a lot of old hose. They are on the siding now."

"Were any men sent here with the relief train?" questioned Oakley.

"No; Antioch just wanted hose and engines. The water's played out, and they got to depend on the river if the fire strikes the town. They're in pretty bad shape, with nothing but one old hand engine. You see, their water mains are about empty and their hose carts ain't worth much."

Oakley turned on his heel and strode from the office. The operator followed him. As they gained the platform Dan paused. The very air was heavy with smoke. The sun was sinking behind a blue film. Its dull disk was the color of copper. He wondered if the same somber darkness was settling down on Antioch. The element of danger seemed very real and present. To Dan this danger centered about Constance Emory. He quite overlooked the fact that there were several thousand other people in Antioch. Durks, at his side, rubbed the sandy bristles on his chin with the back of his hand and tried to believe he had thought of everything and had done everything there was to do.

The woods were on fire all about the Junction, but the town itself was in no especial danger, as cultivated fields intervened to shut away the flames. In these fields Dan could see men and women busy at work tearing down fences. On a hillside a mile off a barn was blazing.

"There goes Warwick's barn," remarked the operator.

"What was the last word from Antioch? Do you remember exactly what was said?" asked Dan.

"The message was that a strong north wind was blowing and that the town was pretty certain to burn unless the engines and hose reached there tonight. But they have been saying that for two days, and the wind's always changed at the right moment and driven the fire back."

Dan glanced along the track and saw the relief train, consisting of an engine, tender and two flat cars, loaded with hose and fire engines, on one of the sidings. He turned on Durks with an angry scowl.

"Why haven't you tried to start that train through? It's ready."

"No one is here to go with it, Mr. Oakley. I was sort of counting on the freight crew for the job."

"Where's Baker?"

"He went home on the 6:10. He lives up at Carson, you know."

This was the first stop on the M. and W. east of Buckhorn.

"Why did you let him leave? Do you mean to say that he's been loafing around here all day with his hands in his pockets? He'll never pull another throttle for the Huckleberry!"

Durks did not attempt to reply to this explosion of wrath.

"Who made up the train?" demanded Dan.

"Baker did—him and his fireman. I didn't know but the freight might come up from Parker's Run, and I wanted to be fixed for 'em. I couldn't do a thing with Baker. I told him his orders were to try and reach Antioch with the relief train, but he said he didn't care who gave the order, he wasn't going to risk his life."

But Dan had lost interest in Baker.

"Look here," he cried. "You must get a fireman for me, and I'll take out the train myself."

He wondered why he had not thought of this before.

"I guess I'll manage to reach Antioch," he added as he ran across to the siding and swung himself into the cab.

A faded blue blouse and a pair of greasy overalls were lying on the seat in the cab. He removed his coat and vest and put them on. Durks, who had followed him, climbed up on the steps.

"You'll have to run slow, Mr. Oakley, because it's likely the heat has spread the rails, if it ain't twisted them loose from the ties," he volunteered. For answer Oakley thrust a shovel into his hands.

"Here, throw in some coal," he ordered, opening the furnace door.

Durks turned a sickly, mottled white.

"I can't leave," he gasped.

"You idiot. You don't suppose I'd take you from your post. What I want you to do is to help me get up steam."

The operator attacked the coal on the tender vigorously. He felt an immense sense of comfort.

Dan's railroad experience covered nearly every branch. So it chanced that he had fired for a year prior to taking an office position. Indeed, his first ambition had been to be an engineer. It was now quite dark, and, the fires being raked down, he lit a torch and inspected his engine with a comprehensive eye. Next he probed a two foot oiler into the rods and bearings and filled the cups. He found a certain pleasure in the fact that the lore of the craft to which he had once aspired was still fresh in his mind.

"Baker keeps her in apple pie order, Joe," he observed approvingly. The operator nodded.

"He's always tinkering."

"Well, he's done tinkering for us unless I land in a ditch tonight, with the tender on top of me."

A purring sound issued from the squat throat of the engine. It was sending aloft wreaths of light gray smoke and softly spitting redhot cinders.

Dan climbed upon the tender and inspected the tank. Last of all he went forward and lit the headlight, and his preparations were complete. He jumped down from the cab and stood beside Joe on the platform.

"Now," he said cheerfully, "where's that fireman, Joe?"

"He's gone home, Mr. Oakley. He lives at Carson, too, same as Baker," faltered the operator.

"Then there's another man whose services we won't require in future. We'll have to find some one else."

"I don't think you can," ventured Durks reluctantly. Instinct told him that this opinion would not tend to increase his popularity with Oakley.

"Why not?"

"They just won't want to go."

"Do you mean to tell me that they will allow Antioch to burn and not lift a hand to save the town?" he demanded sternly.

He couldn't believe it.

"Well, you see, there won't any one here want to get killed, and they will think they got enough trouble of their own to keep them home."

"We can go uptown and see if we can't find a man who thinks of more than his own skin," said Dan.

"Oh, yes; we can try!" agreed Durks apathetically, but his tone implied an unshaken conviction that the search would prove a fruitless one.

"Can't you think of any one who would like to make the trip?" Durks was thoughtful. He thanked his lucky stars that the M. and W. paid half his salary. At last he said:

"No, I can't, Mr. Oakley."

There was a sound like the crunching of cinders underfoot on the other side of the freight car near where they were standing, but neither Durks nor Oakley heard it. The operator's jaws worked steadily in quiet animal enjoyment of their task. He was still canvassing the Junction's adult male population for the individual to whom life had become sufficiently burdensome for Oakley's purpose. Dan was gazing down the track at the red blur in the sky. Back of that ruddy glow, in the path of the flames, lay Antioch. The wind was in the north. He was thinking, as he had many times in the last hour, of Constance and the Emorys. In the face of the danger that threatened he even had a friendly feeling for the rest of Antioch. It had been decent and kindly in its fashion until Ryder set to work to ruin him.

HELP FOR BRITISH NAVY

Not Yet Time For Canada to Contribute Anything.

Earl Grey Denies Report of Recent Speech—Did Not Appeal to Canada—Dominion Should Concentrate Its Wealth — United Kingdom Will Need Assistance for Navy at Future Date.

St. John, N. B., Aug. 15.—Addressing the Canadian Club here yesterday, Earl Grey, Governor-General, said he had been quoted in certain journals, particularly those in Halifax, where he spoke last week, as making an impassioned appeal to Canada to contribute to the support of the British navy.

It was time, he said, that, with her small population, as compared with that of Germany or the United States, the United Kingdom could not be expected permanently to keep up the greatest navy in the world without the support of Canada, but he did not believe the time had come for Canada to contribute anything, and he had never said so.

There were other ways for Canada to expend her present wealth. She should concentrate it on what will increase her strength, for, some day, they will have to help keep up the British navy.

ROSEBERY CONDEMNS SYSTEM.

Makes a Fiery Speech Against the Liberal Government.

London, Aug. 15.—Lord Rosebery made another of his meteoric appearances in the House of Lords Tuesday night and delivered an able speech against the Government. With great rhetorical brilliancy he denounced the Government's Scottish small land owners' bill. The rumor had gone forth that Lord Rosebery was to speak, and the House was filled to listen to a Liberal peer castigate a Liberal Cabinet.

Lord Rosebery declared that he wished the Government well, but he ridiculed its efforts to legislate for Scotland. His complaint was that the bill in question would "crofterize" Scotland. In the most scathing manner and with an abundance of dramatic gesticulation, the speaker declared he would not be a party to the introduction into the healthy body politics of Scotland of the "poisonous baccilus of the Irish-American system."

The Conservative peers were delighted and cheered Lord Rosebery to the echo. His speech was the event of the evening, but the Conservatives themselves doubt whether it will have much practical effect.

ALDERMEN CAUSE SCENE.

Reception of Earl Grey Results in a Tilt With the Mayor.

St. John, N.B., Aug. 15.—The Governor-General, on his first official visit to New Brunswick, was given a royal welcome here.

Earl Grey and party arrived from Digby yesterday, and were received with a salute of 19 guns and formally welcomed by Lieutenant-Governor Tweedie on behalf of the province, and Mayor Sears on behalf of the city.

At a meeting of the common council yesterday morning to pass the civic address to Earl Grey, some aldermen created a scene by finding fault with Mayor Sears for his handling of the arrangements for the earl's reception here. His worship had engaged the opera house as the place in which to present the city address, and it was contended by aldermen that the City Hall or the Council Chamber in the Court House would be the proper place. Other minor features also came in for criticism, and on the whole the critical aldermen now find themselves under fire for bringing up the matter at such a time.

CONFESSES TO FOUL CRIME.

Brakeman Whose Act Cost Five Lives Nearly Lynched.

Boulder, Col., Aug. 15.—John W. Reeves, a brakeman employed on the Colorado & Northwestern Railroad, has confessed that he was responsible for the destruction of the Colorado & Southern station by fire and dynamite Saturday.

Later Frank Kiser, another suspect, also confessed.

The result of their act was the wiping out of five lives and the injury of a half hundred others, besides the destruction of property valued at half a million dollars.

Reeves narrowly escaped lynching.

In 80's, Wed Fourth Time.

Lancaster, Pa., Aug. 15.—Amos S. Miller, aged 83 years, and Susan B. McClay, aged 90, of Lititz, were married Tuesday. They walked to and from the home of the justice, who married them, four miles. Each one was married three times before. Miller lost two wives by death and one by divorce.

Mrs. Miller's former husbands are dead.

Not John D.'s Prophecy.

New York, Aug. 15.—John D. Rockefeller, referring to a widely-circulated interview predicting financial disaster for the nation purported to have been given out by him and printed yesterday morning, said last evening: "There is certainly some mistake about the matter. I neither gave out nor authorized the statements attributed to me."

An Heir to the Hearth.

Essen, Aug. 15.—A son, born on Tuesday to Frau Bertha Krupp Von Bohlen Und Halbach, eldest daughter of the deceased gunmaker, is heir to the enormous fortune of the Krupp family.

Floater Found at Lindsay.

Lindsay, Aug. 15.—The body of a man has been found floating on Sturgeon Lake. His clothes were on the bank and medical men state that he had been seized by cramps.

Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper addressed a meeting in Halifax in favor of R. L. Borden.

TOURING PARTY VISITS CITY

Mr. C. E. Sherin and Family of New York Here for Few Days

Mr. C. E. Sherin, wife and daughters, Misses Gladys and Eloise, are in the city, the guests of Mr. and Mrs H. P. Kennedy, 206 Aylmer-st. Mr. Sherin and party are on an extended auto tour and have already travelled 1,100 miles in their "Peerless" car which is driven by a 45 horse-power motor, under the guidance of Chauffeur Deans.

Mr. Sherin is an uncle of Mr. H. P. Kennedy and is a former resident of Peterborough. Early in the eighties he studied law here and left 23 years ago for St. Louis where he subsequently embarked in the publishing business. He is now engaged in the advertising line in New York city and connected with several important business enterprises. He came from Kingston to Peterborough yesterday, making the distance in about six hours in his touring car. He has visited Montreal and other cities and finds the country roads in some places none too favorable for motoring. Certain portions of the highway are in first class condition, however.

It is seven years since Mr Sherin's last visit to Peterborough and he observes many important changes, and much progress on the part of the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherin and family will remain here for two or three days and will then leave for Toronto, Niagara Falls and other points. Many friends are pleased to meet them

Water at Spring at McCracken's Landing Was Not Found Good

Sanitary Inspector Ball Makes Report to Local Board of Health—Spring Not Being Used for Drinking Purposes—Will Make Another Visit.

Sanitary Inspector Ball just returned from his trip to Stoney Lake this morning. He said he visited the lake, going by way of Chemong. He called at McCracken's Landing, and Dr. Baker of Lakefield was there treating a patient. He found that the spring had been closed. There is no sickness anywhere around the lakes, except in the neighborhood of McCracken's. At that place there is a spring on the hill, that was when he was there, polluted by fourteen cows, which came there to drink. In the opinion of the inspector, the water is polluted at the roadside where the original spring comes to the surface. That is where the cows drink. From there the water runs under ground for some distance and comes to the surface again, near the hotel where it is used for drinking purposes. This is where the samples of water were taken from and found to contain injurious properties. The inspector also stated that it was on this report that the spring had been closed, so far as the use of the water was concerned, although it was still running into the lake.

Moved and seconded that the matter of the water at McCracken's Landing spring be left with the chairman of the Board to investigate and if necessary to report to the provincial board.—Carried.

It is likely that both the chairman and the inspector will visit McCrackens in a day or two.

The Canadian General's New Office Building in Toronto

The Current issue of the Canadian Electrical News contains an excellent illustration of the new office building of the Canadian General Electric Company in Toronto, along with the following reading matter:—

"The accompanying illustration represents the new building of the Canadian General Electric Company, now being erected on the north-east corner of King and Simcoe streets, Toronto. The structure, which is of the modern style of architecture, has a sixty foot frontage on King street, and runs back the whole depth of the block to Pearl street, a distance of one hundred and eighty-six feet six inches. The height of the building is eighty feet, giving five lofty storeys. It will be of absolutely fireproof construction, of skeleton steel, and dark grey brick, with stone and terra cotta trimmings. In the centre of the King street frontage is an imposing entrance of cut stone of classic design. To the west of the building a lot forty feet wide, running the whole depth, has been reserved, so as to give plenty of light on all four sides. A tall wrought iron fence runs the whole length of the King street frontage, with a massive stone gateway leading into the land to the west.

The entire building will be occupied by the Canadian General Electric Company and Canada Foundry Company. The ground floor will be taken up by the head offices, and other departments will occupy the upper storeys. Messrs. Darling & Pearson are the architects. The structure, when complete, will be one of the finest office buildings in Toronto."

Canadian Independent Telephone Company of Toronto is Organized

Will Erect Large Works in Hamilton or Toronto Instead of Peterborough—Expect to Employ 500 to 1000 Hands Within One Year—Business Will Boom.

The Canadian Independent Telephone Company, Limited, of Toronto, Canada, is a $5,000,000 Canadian corporation, chartered by the Canadian Government.

We learn that the company has sold $2,000,000 of stock and $1,000,000 of bonds. Plans for a new factory building, 60 x 200 feet, two stories high have been adopted, and it is proposed to proceed at once to erect and equip the same either in Hamilton or Toronto. The company will manufature a full line of both automatic central energy and magneto telephone apparatus. It starts out with over $200,000 of work contracted, and expects within a year to employ between five hundred and a thousand people.

This company is closely associated with, and is financing the Canadian Machine Telephone Company, Limited, of Toronto, which is the pioneer Independent Telephone Manufacturing Company of Canada, also the General Engineering and Construction Co. Limited, of Toronto.

This company owns the Lorimer automatic telephone patents for Canada, and has an exchange working successfully at Peterborough, Ont. They are also installing Lorimer automatic exchanges at Brantford, Ont.; Lindsay, Ont., and one of 1,200 telephones (ultimate capacity 10,000 lines) at Edmonton, Alta., for the municipal telephone plant.

It is a Canadian company developing a Canadian invention, backed by Canadian business men of standing, and is the first and only Independent telephone company to go about the manufacture of a full line telephone apparatus in Canada.

W. A. Wood, of Wood, Vallance & Co., Hamilton, Ont., is the president of the company, and associated with him are the following well-known capitalists and business men: J. F. Junkin, Toronto, late managing director of the Manufacturers Life Insurance Co.; John H. Tilden, of Hamilton, president of the Gurney-Tilden Co., Limited, and a director of the Sterling Bank of Canada; Alfred Jephcott, of Toronto, president of the Dominion Paper Box Company, Limited; James M. Sinclair, of Toronto, president of the Eureka Mineral Wool and Asbestos Company, Limited; George Hope, of Hamilton, president of Canada Metal Company; Edward A. Shedd, of Chicago, Ill., a director of Corn Exchange National Bank, also a director of Chicago Title and Trust Co. and of National Life Insurance Company of the U.S.A.; Albert M. Johnson, of Chicago, Ill., president and managing director of National Life Insurance Co. of U.S.A., secretary and treasurer Northern Cold Storage Company, and president of the Lorimer Automatic Telephone Company, of Chicago. Other gentlemen, whose names are being withheld for political and business reasons, are also associated in this undertaking, which every well-wisher of the Independent telephone movement in Canada should encourage. Canada has long needed, and undoubtedly will show her appreciation of a strong financial rival and competitor with the Bell telephone monopoly.—Telephone Age for August.

Extended Visit to Western Canada

Mr and Mrs. J. M. White Have Returned From Six Weeks Trip

Mr. J. M. White, secretary-treasurer of the Peterborough Fuel and Cartage Co., has just returned from an extended trip to the West. He was accompanied by Mrs. White. They visited several towns and cities and had a most enjoyable and profitable outing. Mr. White has formed a very favorable opinion of the west and had a most pleasant reunion with several friends. He reports that the crops, on the whole, are in a promising condition, with the exception of oats, which are a little short.

MILL REFUSE CATCHES FIRE

Big Blaze Around the Old Scott Mill Site in Harvey

Fanned by the high wind of Tuesday a small fire at the site of the old Scott's Mills, in Harvey township, grew to immense proportions, and by evening took on the proportions of an immense conflagration. Above the site of the mills were many large holes and calleys in the rocks, and into these, in the days when the mills were cutting lumber, all the mill refuse was dumped. Thousands of tons of the debris took fire, and gave out immense heat and flames. The fire spread to the forest to the west, and will in all probability burn over the territory down to Buckhorn Lake before exhausting itself.

New Lock Begun at Rosedale

On Trans. Canal — Dam Will Also be Built

Operations were begun this morning on the long talked of reconstruction of the T.V.C. lock at Rosedale, where an old wooden lock now exists. The dam and lock at Rosedale control the difference in level between Balsam and Cameron Lakes, about 6 feet. The lock was built many years ago and is now almost useless, and has been marked for replacement for a long time. In connection with the work at this point a new dam will be built, and it is proposed to cut through the drowned land a channel in a direct line from the lock into Cameron Lake, the channel now in use being about the contour of the letter "S", and narrow.

The tug, "Bob Hall," took a couple of scows, loaded with materials and tools, which will be distributed at points along the line of the canal, in addition to a generous share at Rosedale. The tug "Empire" also brought along a scow loaded with cement and lumber.

The engineers of the canal force are at Rosedale, sinking test pits to determine the character of the bottom and holding ground for the new dam and lock, and when the report is in work will be taken up along the lines indicated by the report.

FIRE IN PORT HOPE

Port Hope, Aug. 13. — An early morning fire at Mr. W. J. McClung's store did considerable damage, and two men, who endeavored to extinguish it were enveloped in flames and considerably burned. The fire spread through the rear of the shop and into the storehouse. Mr. McClung's stock received a drenching, so that the loss is heavy. Mr. McClung has insurance of $1,000 on the building and $2,500 on the stock. A small brick house at the rear, occupied by an English family was slightly damaged. Mr. C. R. Menifield is the owner. Mr. Menifield's stock in the store, next door received some damage from water, the loss being covered by insurance.

TOURING PARTY VISITS CITY

Mr. C. E. Sherin and Family of New York Here for Few Days

Mr. C. E. Sherin, wife and daughters, Misses Gladys and Elsie, are in the city, the guests of Mr. and Mrs H. P. Kennedy, 206 Aylmer-st. Mr. Sherin and party are on an extended auto tour and have already travelled 1,100 miles in their "Peerless" car which is driven by a 45 horse-power motor, under the guidance of Chauffeur Deane.

Mr. Sherin is an uncle of Mr. H. P. Kennedy and is a former resident of Peterborough. Early in the eighties he studied law here and left 23 years ago for St. Louis where he subsequently embarked in the publishing business. He is now engaged in the advertising line in New York city and connected with several important business enterprises. He came from Kingston to Peterborough yesterday, making the distance in about six hours in his touring car. He has visited Montreal and other cities and finds the country roads in some places none too favorable for motoring. Certain portions of the highway are in first class condition, however.

It is seven years since Mr Sherin's last visit to Peterborough and he observes many important changes, and much progress on the part of the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherin and family will remain here for two or three days and will then leave for Toronto, Niagara Falls and other points. Many friends are pleased to meet them.

Is Inspecting Public Buildings

Mr. Thos. Hastings, of Ottawa inspector of public buildings for the Dominion Government, is in the city today on a tour of inspection to the post office and customs house, which buildings are under control of the Dominion House. Some painting will be done to these structures and Mr. Hastings is making arrangements for the work.

LINDSAY BOY LOST

Tall for his nine years, fair hair, blueish grey eyes, blue blouse, black trousers with a blue peaked cap, describes Ferdie Kenny, the south ward boy who has been missing since Tuesday morning of last week. When last seen on the Ops bridge by Mr. Jas. Robertson, he was barefooted. The child left his home at eight o'clock and may have gone to some friends of the family in the country As yet no trace of him can be found Keep a sharp lookout fore a lad answering to the above description. —Lindsay Post.

THE CITY AND VICINITY

POSTAL DELIVERY.

Stratford now has free postal delivery. Seven postmen have been appointed and everything is in good shape. When is the street delivery of mail matter to start in Peterborough? Echo alone answers, when?

BOUGHT PLANT.

Mr John Davidson has purchased the electric plant at Millbrook, Ont. He has secured exemption from taxation and the contract for lighting the town at $700 per year.—Canadaian Electrica. News.

REJOICING IN LINDSAY

The excursion of the Woodmen of the World and the Sylvester Band of Lindsay to Collingwood on Monday was largely attended. The Sylvester band won the band tournament by 54 points and the Lindsay baseball team defeated the Collingwood nine 7—2.

IN A QUANDARY.

Ever hear the story of the fellow who caught the bear, after much effort, and then found, in the end, that the bear had caught him! That seems to be the case with the council and the isolation hospital. They made a contract and would now like to give it up, but can't. The contractor, it is whispered, wants a thousand dollars before he will let go.—Belleville Intelligencer.

WORK DELAYED.

The work on the new building of the Bell Telephone Company on Hunter street is being delayed at present owing to the delay in not receiving iron girders from Montreal, which were ordered some time ago. However the iron work is expected in a few days when operations will be rushed.

CIVIC PLANT ABANDONED.

The Board of Control of the city of Winnipeg has decided to abandon the city's electric lighting plant, and to purchase the current required from the Street Railway Company. It is claimed that the purchase of the power from the Street Railway Company will mean a saving of close upon 50 per cent. on the cost of generating it. At the present time the city is generating current for the direct current lamps, used for street lighting. These lamps number about 300. The city also supplies the power necessary for the wells except for the fire booster at well No. 2, which is supplied by the Street Railway Company.

AT CAMPBELLFORD.

A large number of Peterborough people were in Campbellford yesterday attending the Caledonian games.

NEW WALK.

The Board of Works has decided to lay an entirely new walk on Charlotte street just east of the Canadian Machine Telephone Company's office. A force of men is at work today. This is the only way that a really satisfactory job could be made.

BIG CROWD WENT.

A big crowd went to the Chemong regatta to-day. It was the weekly half holiday and every available horse and rig in the city was brought into service. All the busses were crowded to full capacity and many people were left behind.

SERVICE TONIGHT

The Songster Brigade will lead the service of song at the Salvation Army barracks this evening. Mr. Dawson will be in charge of the brigade and the public is cordially invited.

POSTPONED RACES

The postponed sailing races of the Sturgeon Point regatta will be held in the course of a week or so. Mr. Milne Hamilton and Mr. A. A. Hollingshead, who won first and second ny Lake races. Mr. Curry, who finished about five minutes after Mr. Hollingshead in the dinghy class, had Mr. McQuillan, champion sailor of Toronto Bay, sailing his dinghy. Mr. McQuillan is a member of the Royal Canadian Yacht Club and has won the championship of Toronto Bay for the past two years.

SWALLOWS A LOCKET.

Muriel Edwards, the four-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Edwards of Brantford, had the misfortune last week to swallow a whole gold locket and chain. The child was playing with the ornaments, and, in some unaccountable manner the locket, to which was fastened a small-sized chain, suddenly disappeared. The child afterwards communicated to its mother what had become of the jewellery and medical aid was at once sent for. Dr. Bier called and left instructions as to the diet for the youngster, and no serious consequences are feared. The swallowing of the chain and locket did not disturb the little one to any extent and she is doing nicely.

Eloping Couple Had an Exciting Trip

Became Separated but After Many Disappointments Were Re-united

A young couple from a small hamlet up in the Muskoka region, who had been keeping company for some time, decided to bring their love affairs to a climax and enter the bonds of matrimony.

With this end in view the happy twain decided on a runaway match, and last Friday left their homes in the pretty little village of Dorset for Tweed, in Hastings county, where the marriage ceremony was performed.

Their wedding was somewhat romantic and an incident, which occurred while on their "runaway" trip created a great deal of amusement for those who were fortunate enough to hear of it. It will never be forgotten by the young people and as long as they live they will remember their trip to the town where they were to be married.

The young couple, whose names are withheld, on leaving Dorset, decided not to travel as ones between whom conjugal relations were noticeable, but as one's whose affection for each other was nothing more than a "brother" and "sister." Unknown to their friends they left their homes on Friday morning and came to Huntsville where they had to change trains for Orillia. Here misfortune number one happened to mar the pleasure and novelty of their trip. They arrived in Orillia only to find they were too late to catch the train for Peterborough, and were obliged to spend the night in the northern town.

Next day they left Orillia once more, in an endeavor to reach Tweed. It seems their elopment was to be one long string of exciting experiences for at Blackwater Junction they had to change cars again and this is where the two lovers lost each other.

Two trains were leaving Blackwater at the same time, one for Peterborough and the other for Toronto. Desiring that they should not be seen together, they arranged to get on the train, one on each side of the car. The lady got on the Peterborough train, but her lover did not, thinking that the other train was the one to take. The Peterborough train moved out and the fellow was left at the station with the lady's checks and ticket, while all the baggage was on the same train as the bride-to-be. On arrival at Peterborough she found herself alone without money or friends and no checks to even claim her baggage. She told a local gentleman of her trouble and how her "brother" had missed the train. He very kindly took her to his home, where she was given her dinner and tea. The lady was very young and of prepossessing appearance.

The young man, on finding his mistake, did not lose much time in deciding how he was to meet her again. He hired a horse and buggy and drove to Port Perry, a distance of seven miles, which place he reached in time to catch the Port Hope train for this city, arriving here at six o'clock. He inquired at the station for his baggage and also for his "sister." He was advised to ring up the police station to ascertain if they had seen her, but he declined to do so. After considerable worrying on his part, he was put on the track of the good Samaritan who took his "sister" in, and the young couple were soon reunited. The lady's face lit up with joy at sight of her lost lover, and their happiness can easily be imagined. They then put away the disguise of "brother" and "sister" and disclosed the whole story to the good friend in Peterborough whom they thanked heartily. They left Saturday evening on the C.P.R. local for Tweed, where it has since been learned the twain were made one, and are now happy.

Most Remarkable Fish Story of Present Season

Farmer Who Resides Near Stony Lake Had an Experience Which He Will Not Soon Forget.

A Peterborough gentleman who attended the Stony Lake regatta on Monday, was told a strange story by a farmer who resides near the lake, and who had taken a day off from his agricultural pursuits to attend the big aquatic event.

The tiller of the soil ws quite in earnest and vouches for the truth of the story, although it may seem somewhat improbable. It was to the effect that while paddling across Stony Lake one night a short time ago, he was horrified to see a strange object in the water a short distance ahead of him. It appeared to be a fish of tremendous size, and, as it moved about on the surface of the dimly lighted water, its appearance struck terror into the heart of the bravest. But the farmer was no coward, and, wishing to fathom the mystery, started in pursuit of the big fish. It swam away from him for a time, but at last turned and came towards the canoe as if it meant to attack its pursuer. As it came alongside the canoe the paddler endeavored to strike it with a paddle and the strange object sprang out of the water after it had been struck. Then the relater of the story saw what it was. An immensely big fish, in fact one of the largest the farmer had ever seen, had apparently attempted to swallow another member of the fish family almost equally as large, but, of course, was not successful. The tail of fish No. 2 was about a foot down the throat of the larger one, and was stuck there. It was a case of "two in one," and viewed at a distance the two fish locked together, made a very gruwsome object. The farmer did not succeed in killing the fish, as they swam away from the canoe and he gave up the pursuit.

The farmer is one well known in the community where he resides, and is not one who would make up a "fish story." He swears to the truth of the occurrence related above.

Look Upon Milk Bylaw As Something of a Farce

Trades and Labor Council Think That Names of Vendors and Tests of Their Milk Should Be Published—Delegate Will Be Sent to Winnipeg Convention—Sewer Connections Discussed.

The regular monthly meeting of the Trades and Labor Council took place last evening in the labor hall, with President Alexander in the chair and a good attendance of delegates.

Mr. T. J. Begley was elected to the position of corresponding secretary, the delegate occupying that position having left the city.

WINNIPEG CONVENTION.

The question of sending a delegate to the Trades and Labor Congress, which convenes in Winnipeg in September, was considered and it was decided to name the delegate at the next meeting and also to communicate with the local unions in reference to the matter.

MILK INSPECTION BYLAW.

The milk inspection bylaw came up again last evening, and it was the concensus of opinion that the bylaw was considerable of a force. It was argued that what the consumers of milk desired to know was what milk vendors were selling pure milk and how much of it was "doctored." The names of the vendors, it was contended, should be published as well as a statement regarding the quality of the milk offered for sale and the sanitary conditions of the dairies. The statement was made during the evening that "doctored" milk was being sold in the city and better results would be achieved if the inspector would secure samples of milk, when being delivered to customers, have it tested and give results of tests to the public.

SEWER CONNECTION.

The action of the Board of Health in granting a citizen a year's time to connect a terrace with the sewer also received attention, and it was argued that this action established a dangerous precedent. The feeling of the meeting was to the effect that the city council should enact legislation with the object in view of having all residences connected with the sewer whenever possible. One delegate stated that on the east side of Aylmer street, between Murray and McDonnel streets, only two houses had sewer connections, and another delegate pointed out that on Downie street between McDonnel and London streets, was a row of houses having closets over the creek.

The Council adjourned until the next meeting in September.

Athletic Meet is Proposed; Will Be Held in September

Peterborough Turf Club and Athletic Association to Join C.A.A.U.—Grand Programme of Running Races, Walking Contests, etc., to be Put on—Entries from Toronto.

The next attraction for the public at the Driving Park will be an athletic meet. It will likely be put on early in September and according to present intentions a splendid programme will be presented. It will include running races, short and long distances, walking contests, putting the stone, jumping, etc.

The Peterborough Turf Club which is also a chartered athletic association is planning to take hold of the scheme. The directors met with such great success with the two days horse races, and found the public was so greatly interested in the Marathon race, that they have decided to apply to the C. A. A. U. for membership and permission to hold amateur field sports. If this is granted the Turf Club will proceed at once to arrange the programme and to get out the advertising.

There is nothing in the way of sport that should attract such a crowd or create so much interest in the city and district, as amateur athletics.

The Y.M.C.A. has a large number of runners; a lot of the boys have been doing walking stunts and a matched race between Mr. Hartley, of Ashburnham and Mr. Reynolds, of Port Hope, would be a good card. Every encouragement should be given the Turf Club directors and every citizen should give assistance in making it a big success.

If the scheme is carried out, the secretary, Mr. Jas. O'Shea, has the assurance already of twenty entries from one Toronto Club. With such a beginning there would be many more from Toronto and other outside points.

The prizes offered would be valuable and would attract many of the best men in the province.

Enjoyable Regatta Held at Viamede

The Events Were Keenly Contested—Many Guests at the Resort

Viamede, Stony Lake, Aug. 15. — A regatta was held at Viamede on Saturday afternoon under the direction of Mr. W. C. McLean. In spite of the heat, a short programme of sports was run off.

The first race was a canoe race, with no paddles and, after an exciting contest, Mr. Wilfrid McLean, came in first, Mr. Highee being a close second.

The ladies' skiff race, with two in a boat, with one oar each, was won by Misses Bell and Sheehan.

The swimming race was won by Mr Wilfred McLean.

A canoe race, bow paddled, was won by Mr. Highee.

The upset race was won by Mr. Diemer.

The ladies' canoe race was won by Miss Mitchell, Miss Bell coming in second.

Mr. Wm. McLean, who acted as judge, gave great satisfaction and distributed the prizes in a very impartial manner. Another regatta will be held this week.

SONG SERVICE.

The usual song service was held on Sunday evening under the direction of Mr. McLean. Miss Diemer kindly presided at the piano. The song service was greatly appreciated by a large congregation.

On Monday a large number went over to Juniper to the Stony Lake regatta which is the social event of the Stony Lake season.

AN EXCITING RIDE

On Tuesday morning Willie Langford, the eight-year-old son of Mr. W Langford, tried to row from Julian across the bay to his home. The wind was so high that his boat was turned around and he could not guide it. After several brave, but ineffectual attempts to proceed, the little fellow became frightened and called for help. His cries attracted the attention of those on shore and soon two boats manned by Charlie Young and Wilfred Hall and Messrs. Wilfred McLean, Walker, and Woods, respectively, were hurrying to the rescue, and Willie was safe on shore, none the worse for his scare.

A picnic to Lovesick is being planned for Wednesday which will, no doubt prove very enjoyable to all who are lucky enough to be present.

Masquerade Dance at Juniper Island

Held on Tuesday Evening—Many Were in Costume

The annual masquerade dance at Juniper Island pavilion on Tuesday night was one of the most successful ever held on this popular resort and was thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

A large number were present and nearly every point on Stony lake must have sent its representatives.

The pavilion had been prettily and attractively decorated for the regatta and the decorations were left up for the masquerade, which along with the costumes of the masqueraders made a pretty picture. A great number were in costume, many of them being very pretty. Excellent music was provided by Miss Molly Meldrum, Mrs. H. Thompson, Miss Gwen Hall and several others.

REVIEW LETTER BOX

HAS A COMPLAINT

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir.—I read with feelings of intense disgust, a communication in the Examiner signed "Anti-Humbug." Taking it for granted that the writer calls himself a man, I thought it would have been more appropriate if he signed himself "Uncle Humbug." The spirit in which he writes, and the ignorance he displays is so rank that comment is not necessary. It is easily seen to what extent the Army here has drifted from its old-time purity and power. This humbug writer is a sample of the majority, who hold the lines. The few godly ones, who belong to the small minority must feel their position and be very uncomfortable, seeing that by holding allegiance to the governing power here they practically endorse that which is being enacted by this majority. I also notice a communication signed "Old Country," who shows a little common sense but speaks of what he knows not of. The attention of the Army has been called time and again, in the near past, to places of worship—Christian Science included—being disturbed by the lack of courtesy and the breaking of Army rules, on the part of those holding the lines in the Army here. Better for "Old Country" to cease talking of the life and teaching of Jesus while he himself endorses the wrong doing of the controlling power, by taking sides with the same. We, of course, make allowance for his lack of knowledge, being a newcomer, but in time he may have quite a different story to tell.

Yours, in the interest of something real.

Family Cannot Secure a House

Newcomers From England Sleep in Lecture Room of Church

An English family, consisting of a father, mother and seven children, who arrived in Peterborough Sunday night have had a hard time to get lodgings. Last night they slept in the lecture room of the Christian Science church on Aylmer street and were there today when last heard about. They have been unable to secure a house at anything like moderate rent and could not find a boarding house that could give them accommodation. Knowing the position in which they were situated Mr R. J. Todd extended to them the use of the lecture room until they could secure better accommodation, and the offer was gladly accepted. The head of the family is a skilled mechanic and is not without means although the family cannot afford to pay big rent for a house. They will likely get along alright once they get a house. The eldest of the family is about fifteen years of age.

Local Citizens Are Interested

In Newly Formed Neill Shoe Company of Brantford

LONG TIME IN RAILWAY WORK

Mr. Richard Waram Employed by G.T.R. for 24 Years

Mr Richard Waram, G.T.R. car inspector at Peterborough, yesterday celebrated the 24th anniversary of his entry into the railway world. On August 13th, 24 years ago, he commenced work for the G.T.R. at Peterborough and with the exception of a couple of years at Port Hope, has been steadily employed in Peterborough. Next year Mr. Waram will celebrate his silver anniversary.

Banking by Mail

NOT an Experiment

Seven years ago Banking by Mail was an experiment, but to-day it is like the telephone or the railway train—a perfected fact.

Not everyone, however, knows of the advantages of Banking by Mail, because it has not been brought sufficiently to their attention.

People saving even in the smallest way, who have heretofore been drawing only 3 per cent. interest on their money, are enabled through Banking by Mail to secure the benefit of 4 per cent., compounded quarterly, and at the same time have equal security for their money.

4% Compounded Quarterly

The paid-up Capital and Reserve of $2,900,000 places the Union Trust Company in the front rank among Canada's strongest financial institutions, and is a guarantee of absolute security to depositors.

Our booklet F sent free on request, gives full information on Banking by Mail at 4 per cent. interest. Write for it to-day.

Toronto Teacher Has Been Engaged

As Principal of Norwood Public and Model School—Other Notes of Interest

Special to the Review.

Norwood, Aug. 13, 1907.—Mr. R. H. Leighton, late principal of our public and model school, is renewing acquaintances here for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Moore, of Peterborough, spent Sunday, the guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Searight, Peterborough street.

Mr. Edwin Searight of Peterborough, spent Sunday with his parents here.

Quite a number of people left per C.P.R. on Tuesday morning for the northwest. Among those who went were Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Comstock and Mr. P. Comstock of Asphodel.

Dr. Eugene McNicholl is visiting his sister, Mrs. Henry McLaughlin, Spring street.

The cement contractors are busy this week, putting in crossings on Peterborough and Colborne streets.

The weather still remains very dry and warm. The dust is being driven in clouds by the strong winds and the village is badly in need of a good shower of rain.

BOARD MEETS.

The Board of Education met at the High School on Monday night. The members present were Messrs. Squire, Robertson, Waters, Drain, Webster, Finlay, Doherty, Cuffe, and Elliott.

Signed teacher's agreements were laid on the table from Miss Campbell as assistant for the model school term. From Mr. W. M. Elliott, B. A., of Toronto, as principal of the model and public school.

Mr. Jordan, of Peterborough, was paid $20 for a cement walk at the south west entrance of the High school.

Miss Waters was allowed a few weeks leave of absence, she having procured a substitute.

An account of $8.10 from Mr. K. G. Thomson for advertising and telephoning was ordered to be paid.

The Board decided to install a new wood furnace in the high school as an auxiliary to the present coal furnace.

OTHER NOTES.

Miss Ethel Searight left on Monday for Toronto on her way to Vancouver, B. C., where she has accepted a position as milliner.

Mr. G. J. Keefer and son, Harland while fishing at Trent Bridge last week landed a fifteen pound lunge.

Mr. R. W. Waters is enjoying an outing at Stoney Lake this week.

The Norwood Register will be published this week, after a two weeks' rest.

Budget of News om Lakehurst

Peterborough Lady Engaged as Teacher of S. S. No. 8 Harvey

Special to the Review.

Lakehurst, Aug. 14.—Last Sunday morning the congregation of the Presbyterian Church listened to an able address on missions by Mrs. Potter Newman. The speaker fully described the manners and customs of the people of Porto Rico, among whom she has labored for the past five years. Judging from the attention given the lecture was fully appreciated by those present.

In the evening Rev. Dr. Metzler of Bridgenorth, preached to his old congregation in the Methodist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Lancaster of Peterborough, spent a few days last week visiting Mr. and Mrs. Thompson.

Miss Ethel Clarkson of Peterborough, spent Sunday with her parents.

Misses Nettie and Louisa Shearer of Otonabee are visiting at the home of Mr. A. G. Shearer.

Miss Ethel Coons has returned from Bobcaygeon.

Miss Lillie McConnell and Ada Elmhirst, who have been visiting Lakehurst friends have returned to their homes.

The trustees of S. S. No. 8 have engaged Miss Staunton of Peterborough, as teacher for the fall term.

The long continued dry spell makes things rather serious for the farmers, but "hope springs eternal" and as Lakehurst people are very optimistic, they still hope for showers.

'Prentice Boys Attend Church

In Commemoration of the Raising of the Gates at Derry

The 'Prentice boys of the city attended divine service at Charlotte-st. Methodist church on Sunday evening in commemoration of the anniversary of the raising of the gates of Derry. They were joined by a large number of the members of the Orange lodges of the city and district and marched in a body to the church from the Orange Hall on Simcoe street. A sermon appropriate for the occasion was preached by Rev. H. M Manning, who referred to the historic incident of the raising of the gates of Derry and the important events that followed. He exhorted the Orangemen to live up to the principles of their Order and not to lose sight of the object for which they were banded together.

On the return to the Orange Hall it was moved by Bro. S. Adlam and seconded by Bro. G. Carter that a hearty vote of thanks be tendered to Rev. Mr. Manning for his very instructive address, to the choir for excellent singing, to the church officials for the use of church and to members of True Blues and Orangemen and Nassau Fife and Drum band who joined in the parade.

Rev. Mr. Manning made a suitable reply and said it gave him great pleasure to address the members of the Order. Bro. Batten replied in behalf of the Orangemen.

Annual Concert at Stony Lake

Delightful Programme Rendered—Large Attendance

The annual concert of the Stoney Lake cottagers was held at the pavilion, Juniper Island, on Saturday evening.

The association deemed it better to hold it previous to the regatta and not on the evening of the regatta as was first intended. Nearly everyone at the lakes must have gathered at Juniper Island Saturday evening for a larger crowd this season has not gathered at this particular rendezvous. The pavilion was filled to its utmost and those in attendance were certainly well repaid by the excellent programme. It was certainly the best attraction that has ever been given and judging by the numerous encores it must have been thoroughly enjoyed. Hon. Lawrence Graham officiated as chairman in a happy manner. The programme was as follows,—

Solo—Mr. A. Quarrantine.
Solo—Master Clarence Quarrantine.
Solo—Mr. Jas. Quarrantine.
Duet—"Calm is the night," Mr. Jas and Master C. Quarrantine.
Solo—"I fear no foe," Mr. A. Quarrantine.
Solo—"Rose of My Heart," Master Quarrantine.
Duet — Mandolin and Guitar — Messrs. Coke and McCabe.
Solo—"I want what I want,"—Mr. Jas. Quarrantine.
Solo—"My Rosary" Mr. A. Quarrantine.

The solos by the Quarrantine brothers of New York were beautiful and on each occasion they were recalled. Master C. Quarrantine, the boy soprano, has a sweet, clear voice and for a boy of his years, he has a wonderful voice. Mr. Jas. Quarrantine has a powerful baritone voice and his solos were very beautifully rendered. Mr. Austin Quarrantine has a deep strong voice. His solos were greatly enjoyed.

The concert was in aid of the piano fund and the proceeds which were very encouraging go towards purchasing a new piano for the pavilion.

After the concert a delightful hop was held, a large number remaining for the dance.

SUNDAY SERVICE.

On Sunday morning the largest crowd of the season gathered at the pavilion for service. Rev. Dr. Langfeldt preached and his sermon was much enjoyed. The musical part of the service was also very bright. The Quarrantine brothers contributed solos which it is needless to say were much enjoyed. Miss O'Hara of Toronto also sang in the morning. In the evening the usual song service was held, Mr. Colville's island being the place for it last Sunday.

Has Disposed of Over 60 Lots

Mr. M. A. MacNamara, who owns the Kincaid farm, a few miles south of the city, has disposed of sixty-one lots, each 50 x 200 feet, during the past few weeks. These lots are located between Laurier avenue and the river. Mr. MacNamara will shortly place about 200 more lots on the market. He has offered the Radial Railway Company a park of 12 1-2 acres, providing the line is extended south, and it is believed that the proposition will eventually be accepted by the company.

Rev Mr. Petrie, of Kingston, conducted services in the Presbyterian church on Sunday. Next Sunday, Mr. Potter, the sailors' and lumbermen's missionary, will preach.

The Grants to Rural Schools

To the Editor of the Review.

Dear Sir,—Will you kindly permit me to make a few words of explanation in regard to the grants to the rural schools? The general grant is now in the hands of the treasurer, and has been certified by the inspectors for payment to all the schools that have complied with the new regulations in regard to the equipment. The others will receive their grants as soon as official notice is received that they have met the requirements.

This grant consists of—1, a fixed grant of $30 per school in all townships where the total assessment is less than an average of $30,000 per school section. This includes Belmont and Methuen, Burleigh and Anstruther, Cuandos, Galway, and Cavendish, and Harvey. 2. Forty per cent of the salary paid the teacher in excess of $150 in the townships mentioned above, and the same percentage of the excess over $300 in the other townships; 3, a grant of $30 to every school in which a teacher holding a second class or higher certificate is employed.

In addition to this there will be distributed later (before December 1) the special grant on equipment and accommodation, which will consist of —1, A percentage of the total value of the equipment, and 2, a grant on accommodation based on the grading at last inspection, together with any improvements made since, of which due notice has been sent inspector. The county pays the equivalent of this grant. The amount with this equivalent will be about an average of $23 per school.

There will also be a grant to all schools that purchased libraries between July 1, 1906 and June 30, 1907. It is not yet possible to say what this will amount to.

The grants to Continuation Classes are not included in the above. For this year they will be paid on the same basis as last year, but in future according to an entirely new scheme, in regard to which full information can be obtained by those interested if they will communicate with the undersigned.

Thanking you for your courtesy, I am,

Yours respectfully,
RICHARD LEES,
P. S. Inspector.

August 12, 1907.

North Monaghan Council Meeting

The North Monaghan council met on Aug. 12th at 7.30 p.m. in the town hall. All the members were present, the reeve presiding. The minutes of the Court of Revision and the last council meeting were read and confirmed.

Communications were read from E. M. Elliott, county treasurer, showing the equalized values of the townships in the county for assessment purposes. This was received.

From Frank Brown offering to dedicate a street within two years to the township, said street to connect Lundy's Lane to Western Ave.

Accounts were handed in as follows,—John Armstrong, repairs to culvert in road division No. 3, $17.50; John Lynch, repairs to the town hall shed, $3.75; E. A. McDonald, material for building concrete culvert, $76.45; Jas. Morrow, repairs to culvert in road division No. 1, $21.50.

Gravel certificates were fyled from —John Patten, ten yards, div. No. 1, $1.00; Jos. Madill, 114 yards div. No. 3, $11.40; S. G. Bennett, 280 yards, div. No. 3, $28.00; John McIntosh, 172 yards, div. No. 2, $17.20; Jas. Lillico, 224 yards, div. No. 1, $22.40; R. J. Forster, 55 yards div. No. 1, $5.50. On motion of Messrs. May and Morrow, the accounts as above were passed and ordered to be paid.

Requisitions for school monies were received as follows,—

School sec. No. 1—$302.
School sec. No. 2—$600.
School sec. No. 3.—$510
School sec. No. 4.—$500
Separate school,—$80.
County schools.—$80.84.

A requisition for the sum of $1,939.30 was received from the County treasurer for Peterborough county, purposes, 1907. These requisitions were received. Moved by Messrs. Howden and Dobbin,—That the communication from Mr. S. Brown be referred to the township solicitor and if the guarantee contained therein is sufficient to guard the interests of the ratepayers affected then the road commissioner of road div. No. 1, be directed to grade western avenue. This was carried.

Moved by Messrs. Dobbin and Morrow,—That Messrs. May and Howden are a committee authorised to dispose of the material not used in the construction of the concrete bridge at Crawford's Grove to the best advantage.—Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Dobbin and Morrow,—That a committee consisting of the Reeve, Councillor Howden and the clerk, are directed to interview the Board of Works of Peterborough and to take such action as may be necessary to have the city improve their portion of the boundary road.—Carried.

Council then adjourned until Aug. 26 inst., to meet at 7.30 in the town hall.

Double Wedding Was Solemnized

On Tuesday afternoon at the residence of Mr. Jos. Burns, Bank-st., Millbrook, a quiet, but pretty double wedding took place, Rev. G. R. Clare officiating. Miss Anna Burns, daughter of Mr. Wm. Burns, was married to Mr. A. Ward, of the G.T.R. Toronto, and Miss Emma L Burns, daughter of Mr. Jos Burns, was married to Mr. W. J. Johnston, of the C.P.R., Toronto. Only a few of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties were present. The ceremony being over, a dainty repast was served, and the wedding party were driven to the C.P.R. at Cavanville in Mr. Ed. Christie's new surrey, and they took the evening train for their new homes at Clarence Square, Toronto. The brides, both popular young ladies, received many handsome presents.—Millbrook Mirror.

THIS SPEAKS WELL

(Norwood Register)

Kindly congratulate the pupils of the Entrance Class and their teacher, Miss J. MacNaughton, on the way they were prepared and the way they acquitted themselves at their late examination.

There has not been a better prepared class in Stayner P. S. since I have had anything to do with the same. It was a real pleasure to read their papers.

Yours sincerely,
THOS. McKEE, P.S.I.

The above is from the last issue of the Stayner Sun.—Ed. Reg.

The Entrance Class of the Stayner Public School of which Miss J. MacNaughton has had charge have been very successful in the late examinations; 15 out of the 17 who wrote on the examination passing successfully and 9 taking honors. Miss MacNaughton is a daughter of Mr. Donald MacNaughton, of Norwood.

Cobourg Wants League Pitcher

Apparently there will be great doings before the Midland league is over.

Cobourg plays here a week from Saturday and the team that wins will be tied with Port Hope for first place. It is said that Cobourg is after a big league pitcher for the match and in this connection the following from the Port Hope Guide will be of interest:—

"Cobourg and Peterborough will meet in the last scheduled game of the Midland League on Peterborough on Saturday The winning team remains in the running for the championship and a great fight is looked for. Cobourg, it is said, is after a twirler from the Eastern League. There will be great doings before this championship is settled.

BASEBALL

MORE NEXT TIME.

Port Hope Guide says,—The Peterborough press evidently have a small opinion of Port Hope's financial standing. They claim to have taken a lot of money from Port Hope on Saturday's game, leaving the town almost bankrupt. At the very outside figure Peterborough did not carry away more than $75, although their chances were good to take a lot more. One Peterborough sport was relieving himself of an overdose of surplus air on the merits of his team and was falling over the crowd to get up a bet. A Port Hoper flashed fifty long greens at him and he quit like a dead one. Peterborough as a rule don't bet more than $5,000 or $6,000 (?) at a time; just a couple of winters ago, Belleville made them all back up at $2 to $1 on a Belleville hockey match.

Fifty Years of Married Life Happily Culminated

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Battisby, Formerly of Peterborough, Celebrate Golden Wedding in Peterborough—Not One Break in the Family Chain.

A golden wedding of much interest to many Peterborough people took place at Toronto yesterday when Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Battisby, formerly of this city, celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage. The happy event took place at the residence of their daughter, Mrs. M. A. Carl, 1989 Queen street east, and was attended by about forty persons which included the venerable bride and groom's seven children and a number of grand children. The festivities took place on the lawn, which was prettily decorated with flags bunting and flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Battisby and their two sons and five daughters sat at a large table in the centre of the lawn while the grand children and other guests were at smaller tables, arranged around. An excellent repast was partaken of the catering being done by Mr. French of Toronto. After the supper was over there were several impromptu speeches, including one by Mr. Battisby, who thanked the many friends for their well wishes and handsome gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Battisby were heartily congratulated on having attained the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding day and many were the wishes expressed that they might live to see the culmination of their sixtieth year of married life.

Mr. Battisby is 74 years of age, having been born in Kirkcudbright, Scotland in 1833. He came to Canada in 1854 and resided at Cobourg for the first six months, and at Baltimore for the following year. Then he moved to Port Hope and resided there until about twelve years ago when he moved to Peterborough and lived here until a short time ago, when the venerable couple went to Toronto to live with their daughter, Mrs. M. A. Carl. On August 14 1857, Mr. Battisby was married to Miss Ellen Breakey of Port Hope, who has been his helpmate and sharer in life's sorrows and joys for the past fifty years. Mrs. Battisby was a Port Hope girl, having been born there on November 17th, 1839.

To Mr. and Mrs. Battisby were born seven children, two sons and five daughters, and as yet there has been no break in the family chain. All the children are living, all are married and all were present at the golden wedding yesterday. The sons are William Battisby, Jr., Chicago; J. J. Battisby, Toronto; and the daughters are Mrs. M. A. Carl and Mrs. R. A. Gledhill, of Toronto; Mrs. S. B. Laidlaw, Lindsay; Mrs. A. G. Shaw, Chicago, and Mrs. W. J. Thompson, Peterborough. Thirteen grandchildren have been born and all are living but one.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson of Peterborough were among those in attendance at the happy event. Mr. and Mrs. Battisby received many valuable presents including a bag of gold coins from the family of the aged but hale and hearty swain.

Mr. and Mrs. Battisby have a large number of friends in Peterborough and when they lived here, resided at 324 Water street. That they may enjoy many more years of married life is the wish of a host of friends.

One Point Where the Indian Leads His White Brother

"During my term of office as County Police Magistrate I have never yet had a case of an Indian failing to turn up when summoned to appear in court" remarked County Magistrate Edmison yesterday. The statement was made on the newspaperman expressing surprise that the Indians implicated in the fracas on the steamer Esturion were not arrested instead of being served with summonses as has been done. "The Indians will turn up alright," continued his worship, "there need be no fear about that." "I've never yet had one of them fail to obey a summons to appear in court."

In this respect the Indian is superior to his white brother. Many of the latter frequently take French leave when they get wind that they are wanted by the law.

New York City to Install an Independent Telephone System

Representative of the City Here Inspecting the Canadian Machine Telephone Plant—Well Pleased with it.

Among the visitors in the city today is Mr. Conway, of New York, representing the engineering department of that city. He is here for the purpose of inspecting the Canadian Machine Telephone Co's, plant in operation and to make a report to headquarters. The city of New York has, for the past two years, been considering the installation of an independent telephone system and two reports have already been prepared on the subject. Officials are now busy preparing a third report, which is to be final. In this will be found considerable reference to the Canadian Machine telephone plant.

The apparatus in operation here is the only one of its kind in America, although in a short time Brantford, Lindsay and Edmonton will have one. There are very few, if any machine 'phone companies with a plant operating in the United States and none of them are as successful or as satisfactory as the Canadian Company which owns the Lorimer system in Canada. Mr Conway, besides inspecting the plant here, called upon many citizens who are using them and found all well satisfied with the instrument. He himself was well pleased, and will report favorably.

London Street Terrace Again Considered by Board of Health

While Mr. Edwards Cannot be Compelled to Put in the Sewer the Board Orders the Closets at the Rear to be Closed—Will Enlarge the Territory Where Sewer Connection is Compulsory.

A lively meeting of the Board of Health was held this morning. At first it looked as if there would not be a quorum. In fact the chairman and Mr. R Neill waited until nearly ten o'clock and adjourned, but they had not gone out when two others arrived and the meeting was proceeded with.

The Board has decided to have the territory in which sewer connection is compulsory enlarged, if it is at all possible. The matter of the London street terrace owned by Mr. Edwards was also taken up again, and the closets were ordered to be closed.

The members present were Chairman Wm. Eyres, Dr. McNulty, Dr Burnham and Mr. R. Neill.

The matter taken up first was the extension of the territory mapped out in which the board could compel terraces to connect with the sewers. There are, he said, several terraces outside the present territory which are worse than some of those inside the territory. It is an important matter that this should be taken hold of by the board. All the connections cannot be forced at once but they will be carried out in due time. The city solicitor must first be consulted and so the matter was left that way.

LONDON-ST. TERRACE

Some communications were received from residents in the neighborhood of London street in connection with terrace at corner of London and George streets, and the board's action in granting Mr. Edwards an extension of time to connect with the sewer. One communication in the form of a petition was signed by four residents, demanding the board to withdraw the extension of time.

It was asked if the board had any authority to compel Mr. Edwards to connect with the sewer. The chairman stated that while the board had no authority to directly compel a connection with the sewer, they could prohibit any refuse being thrown outside and also compel them to close up the pits.

Medical Health Officer Bingham reported that the statements in the communications were greatly exaggerated. The tenants in terrace used the barrels for their garbage and threw no slops on the outside property. The closets were also clean and well looked after.

Inspector Ball said that he inspected the terrace in question some time ago and he found that the back lot had been used as a common dumping ground. There were seven closets within one hundred feet. They were kept clean but were still a nuisance.

It was moved and seconded that the closets in the rear of the terrace at the corner of London and George streets be closed on or before Sept. 15 and that the city solicitor be requested to send this notice.

Beautiful and Impressive Ceremony at Mt. St. Joseph

Twelve Young Ladies Take Final Vows and Renounce the World Forever—Four Postulants Receive the Holy Habit.

The charming little chapel of Mount St. Joseph was this morning the scene of a beautiful and impressive ceremony when twelve young ladies took the vows by which they renounce forever the world and its attractions, and four more received the holy habit of the Sisterhood of St. Joseph and now enter upon their probation. The event was one of unusual interest and was graced by the presence of His Lordship Bishop O'Connor, a large large number of the clergy and many prominent citizens.

The chapel, with its ivory white walls, tinted with gold, the beauty of the effect being enhanced by an artistic arrangement of ferns and lilies never looked prettier. The altar was beautifully decorated and the general effect was something that will be remembered by those who were present. Low mass was said by His Lordship Bishop O'Connor and the sermon for the occasion was preached by Rev. Father Heenan of Saartoga Springs, N. Y., whose discourse was one of much power. He expressed himself in beautiful language and his remarks were most appropriate for the solemn yet joy giving occasion.

The four young postulants who have spent the past few months at Mount St. Joseph in preparation for commencing upon the important life which they have decided to enter, and who received the holy habit of the Sisterhood of St. Joseph today, are as follows, together with the name they will bear in future:

Miss Mary Lalonde, Cornwall, —Sister Wilfred.

Miss Lena King, Thessalon,—Sister Mary Frances Xavier.

Miss Mary Kennedy, St. John's, Newfoundland,—Sister Mary Frances Borgia.

Miss Mamie Dalton, Newcastle, N. B.—Sister Mary Florence.

The names of the twelve novices who took their final vows after serving a probationary period of two years, are as follows, together with the names they will have in their religious life,—

Miss Bridget Ryan, Renfrew, —Sister Mary Celestine.

Miss Gertrude Markle, Thessalon—Sister Mary Norberta.

Miss Elizabeth Markle, Thessalon—Sister Mary Constance.

Miss Mary Lonergan, Warkworth, —Sister Mary Mercedes.

Miss Alice McCabe, Grafton—Sister Mary Mildred.

Miss Bridget Laronde, Mt. St. Patrick, Renfrew—Sister Mary Eulalia.

Miss Mary Casey, Peterborough—Sister Mary Marcelle.

Miss Ella Teahen, London, Ont.,—Sister Mary Delphenia.

Miss Mary Ellen Crowley, Peterborough—Sister Mary Angelica.

Miss Bridget Mousseau, Vinton, Ont.,—Sister Mary Laurentia.

Miss Mary Gannon, Ennismore —Sister Mary of the Rosary.

Miss Lucy O'Sullivan, St. Chryston, Ont.,—Sister Mary Francesca.

The ceremony commenced with the celebration of low mass by His Lordship Bishop O'Connor. Archdeacon Casey of Lindsay, and Rev. Father McCall were deacons of honor to His Lordship and Rev. Dr. O'Brien was master of ceremonies. The other clergymen present were as follows,—Rev. Fr. O'Sullivan, Port Hope, Rev. Fr. Brennan, St. Mary's, Rev. Father McDonnell, Alexandria; Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, Ennismore; Rev. Father Kelly, Peterborough, and Rev. Father Heenan, of the Redemptorist Order, Saratoga Springs, N.Y., who preached the sermon for the occasion.

After the sermon the four postulants, who were arrayed in bridal garments, and attended by six maids of honor, approached the altar, and were questioned by His Lordship as to their desire to enter upon a religious life. Their answers being in the affirmative as to their desires to renounce the world and receive the holy habit, they were instructed by His Lordship to go out and lay aside their bridal garments and return in the garb of the sisterhood. This being done, they returned, and, kneeling before the altar, received the bishop's blessing. The maids of honor were Helen Warmington, Mary Galvin, Emma Cook, M. McCarthy, Florence Giroux and Gertrude Gordon.

After the postulants had retired to their places the novices came forward to make their final vows. After a few words of encouragement from the bishop, each one in turn kneeled before the altar and repeated the vows that cut them off from the life of the world and bound them to their God forever. Each one of the twelve was presented with a crucifix by His Lordship, with the instruction to keep, cherish and love it forever. They also received the bishop's blessing. The singing of the Te Deum brought the service to a close.

THE SERMON.

As already stated, the sermon for the occasion was preached by Rev. Father Heenan. He referred to the event as one of solemnity, yet one that should be characterized by rejoicing and thanksgiving. Sixteen young women were following the the call of God and renouncing the world, and taking the holy vows which entered them upon a life of obedience, chastity and poverty forever. The reverend Father spoke of the beauty of a religious life and the nobility of the calling of the sisterhood in benefitting mankind, caring for the sick, and performing the many other acts of mercy that fell to the lot of the holy sisters. He congratulated the Sisterhood of St. Joseph on the augmentation to their numbers, and spoke words of encouragement to the new sisters and the four postulants, who had just received the habit. He concluded with an eloquent peroration of much impressiveness.

CAPE BRETON GOES "WET."

Liquor Traffic Restrictions Are Voted Away—Scott Act Repealed.

Sydney, N. S., Aug. 16.—Cape Breton yesterday defeated the Scott Act, the majority so far being 680, with some returns still to come, which are expected to increase the majority.

The act has been in force in this part of Nova Scotia since the early eighties, and has been in a large measure a success. The movement for its repeal was on the initiative of friends of the liquor traffic, who are anxious for a return to the license system. Circumstances have very greatly altered of late years, with the growth of coal mining and the steel industry, and breaches of the act are not uncommon in some places, notably Sydney. Generally speaking, Nova Scotia is "dry" other portions being under prohibition.

The temperance people put up an active fight against the repeal of the act, and the other side also worked hard.

Some question has arisen as to whether the change will affect the City of Sydney, which lies within the boundaries of the county, and the Secretary of State has given it as his opinion that this had better be determined by the courts.

An effort was made to have the plebiscite postponed to a later date, and Alex. Johnston, M.P. for Cape Breton, placed the matter before the Federal authorities, but Hon. R. W. Scott stated that the matter had gone too far.

OLD ORCHARD HOTELS BURN.

One Hundred Building In Flames—Loss $500,000.

Old Orchard, Me., Aug. 16.—A serious fire raged here yesterday. It is reported that three children were burned. Five buildings, including the Hotel Olympia, have been destroyed. Aid has been asked of nearby cities.

At 9.45 p. m. the fire was raging over a territory of about 50 acres, in which are located some of the largest hotels and summer cottages of the shore front. The Hotel Fiske, the Hotel Alberta, the Aldine House, the Lawrence House, the Lewiston House and several other hotels were on fire, and it was estimated that from fifty to seventy-five cottages were also burning.

Engines and firemen from Portland, Biddeford and Saco were on hand, but were delayed in getting water to the flames through the failure of the couplings to fit properly. At that hour the loss was estimated at fully half a million dollars.

Old Orchard is full of summer visitors, but a careful enquiry fails to show any loss of life.

The Hotel Emerson, valued at $75,000, caught fire at 9.05 p. m., and the Boston & Maine Railroad station has been abandoned. More than one hundred buildings were in flames at that time.

It is reported that three men were killed by dynamite used in blowing up buildings to stop the progress of the flames.

JAPS PLAN SEAL RAID.

Have Number of Schooners Armed With Machine Guns.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 16.—A planned and organized scheme to loot not only the rookeries of the Seattle herds of St. Paul and St. George Islands, but also the salt houses where the North American Trading & Transportation Co., lessors of the Pribiloff, and large numbers of pelts salted awaiting shipment, has been discovered, with the result that the United States Government has decided to despatch the cruiser Buffalo to Bevic.

The news was brought here by the sealing schooner Vera, which has returned from a hunting cruise in the north Pacific.

The captain reported that an arrangement had been reached by a number of Japanese sailing schooners, each of which carried, besides their usual armament used in hunting, one or more machine guns on board, to unite in making a concerted raid on the islands.

Must Keep Hotel.

Toronto, Aug. 16.—Complaints have been made to the Ontario License Department of the condition of two hotels at Essex, which were damaged by the explosion of nitro-glycerine in a box car on Saturday last. It is represented that the proprietors are taking immediate steps to renew their bar fixtures so as to accommodate the thirsty public, while they are not in so great a hurry to provide bed and board for the ordinary traveler.

Chief Inspector Saunders states that he has instructed his officers to see that the hotels are put in shape as early as possible.

Took Paris Green.

Mt. Forest, Aug. 16.—Wednesday afternoon, while some women were picking berries near the river, about five miles from Mount Forest, they came upon the body of a man about 26 years of age, lying in the berry patch, and identified it as that of William Davies, a young Scotchman, an employe of James Shaw of Arthur Township. By his side was found an empty bottle, which showed traces of having contained paris green. No cause can be assigned for his rash act.

Terribly Scalded.

London, Ont., Aug. 16.—Paul Latell, an Italian employed in the crystalising department of the McClary Manufacturing Co., while leaning over a tank of water, slipped on the cement pavement and plunged headlong into the water.

He was pulled out at once by a fellow workman. In his agony Latell became a raving maniac, and dashed, shrieking, through the shops. Down to the waist the man's flesh hung in shreds.

The will of the late Abraham Levy, of Hamilton, disposes of an estate valued at $300,205.

City Building Full of Smoke

Tenants of Market Building Given Scare This Morning—Cause Unknown.

Shortly after eight o'clock this morning an alarm of fire was sent in from the city market building, but after very careful examination of the cellars and offices, the firemen had to leave without locating the cause of the smoke. When the tenants of the various stores and offices got down to open up, they found their places filled with smoke. An inspection was made of all the cellaws was made, but no sign of fire could be found. Then the firemen were called, but by that time the smoke had died away.

It was just a year ago that the firemen were called to put out a fire in this block, although at that time some rubbish in one of the cellars was the cause. Recently the tenants have been alarmed a couple of times when opening their places of business in the morning, and it might be well to have an inspection of the building made. There may be some bad electric wiring, or some one may be careless about leaving rubbish in their cellars. No chance should be taken as the city cannot afford a serious fire just now, even though the building is covered by insurance.

Two Children Knocked Down

Ran Into Mr. A. Hunter's Milk Wagon in Front of Cavanagh House.

An unfortunate accident happened this morning at the entrance to the Cavanagh house yards. Mr. A. Hunter, of North Monaghan, a milkman, was driving out of the yard after delivering milk when a small child, aged about six years, who was wheeling an infant in a go-cart on the sidewalk ran under the horse and was knocked down. The go-cart was badly broken, but the children were not injured, although frightened. It was a collision which could not be avoided. Mr. Hunter could not see the youngsters coming and the children evidently did not see the milk wagon until it was too late.

King and Kaiser's Meeting Destined to Make for Peace

Effect of Meeting Between King Edward and Kaiser.

Warmer Feeling Will Calm German Sensibilities—Was Genuine Reconciliation—Meeting Was Most Cordial—French Interests Not Anyway Imperilled—Political Situation Was Discussed.

Paris, Aug. 16.—French opinion generally regards the meeting between King Edward and Emperor William at Wilhelmshohe Wednesday as marking another stage in the relaxation of European tensions.

Like the Swindemunde meeting and the approaching interview between King Edward and Emperor Francis Joseph at Ischl, the papers think it may principally be important in calming the sensibilities of Germany concerning the series of agreements Great Britain has been completing, and that from this standpoint it will strengthen the peace of Europe.

Moreover, Wednesday's meeting is contrasted with the handshake between the King and the German Emperor last year at Krenberg, and there is a disposition to consider the Wilhelmshohe meeting as being something in the nature of a genuine reconciliation between the two sovereigns, whose relations heretofore have been notoriously cool.

So far as French interests are concerned, the impression prevails that they cannot be prejudiced by what occurred at Wilhelmshohe, and that they may be advanced, especially should circumstances later necessitate a broadening of the mandate which France and Spain received at Algeciras.

Cassel, Aug. 16.—King Edward left Wilhelmshohe shortly after midnight. His visit with Emperor William was of short duration, but nevertheless it is regarded as most important, and it is stated in well-informed political circles that in the course of the conversation between the two monarchs the political situation was discussed in the most friendly terms.

Prince Von Buelow and Sir Charles Harding also had a long and earnest conversation, and it is the general opinion that the results of the visit will be far-reaching, and place the relations of Great Britain and Germany upon a better footing.

The toasts at the dinner in the palace were most cordial. Emperor William thanked King Edward warmly for his visit, which, he said, he regarded as an expression of the most friendly feeling. He then referred to the good relations which always had existed between the two countries during the reigns of King Frederick and Queen Victoria, and concluded with saying he considered that King Edward represented the English nation, and that his visit was an expression of the desire for a good understanding between the two nations.

King Edward replied that his dearest wish was to see good relations between the German and the English peoples, and he assured the Emperor that on the occasion of his coming visit to England he would receive a most hearty and popular welcome.

Young Man Meets Deserts for Assault on Girl.

Belleville, Aug. 16.—A tale of swift justice comes from Trenton, near this city. A young man named Malcolm Graham was caught in the act of criminally assaulting Annie Greenfield, a young immigrant girl. The offence took place Wednesday night. Three men, attracted by the girl's screams, went to the scene and caught Graham. Yesterday morning he was taken before Magistrate O'Rourke, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary and thirty lashes. He was brought to the jail here for safe-keeping yesterday afternoon.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Aug. 16.—A destructive fire at Blind River early yesterday morning did $150,000 damage to the plants of the Dominion Lumber Co., Moore & McDonald, Moulthrop Lumber Co., Hope Lumber Co., Morgan Lumber Co., White Pine Lumber Co.

The fire started from an unknown cause at the extreme end of the tramway, on the waterfront. The services of the Soo brigade were requested by wire.

The docks held about 7,000,000 feet of lumber, nearly half of which was destroyed.

The firemen were compelled to remove a portion of the tramway with dynamite and throw the lumber into the river.

Belfast War Ends.

Belfast, Aug. 16.—The negotiations between the arbitrators and the leaders of the strikers resulted yesterday in a settlement of the labor troubles here.

The agreement is in the nature of a compromise. The men return to work today at a slight increase in wages and with fixed hours, while employers are left entirely free to employ either unionists or non-unionists.

To Try and End Strike.

Ottawa, Aug. 16.—Lewis Simpson, manager of the Montreal Cotton Co.'s mills at Valleyfield, is in Ottawa, and had a long conference yesterday with MacKenzie King, Deputy Minister of Labor, in respect to the strike of his 3,500 operators.

An official of the Department will probably proceed to Valleyfield and make an effort to bring about a settlement.

Duke of Pless Dies.

Waldenburg, Prussia, Aug. 16.—Jean Henri XI., Duke of Pless, is dead at Albrechtsberg. He was born in 1833.

Lyttleton Coming.

London, Aug. 16.—(C. A. P.)—Hon. Mr. Lyttleton will visit Canada shortly as the guest of Earl Grey.

The "Sailor Boy" brand of canned goods are the best that are put up. They never fail to please. Try a few cans.

BARBER KILLED IN FIGHT.

Customer's Joking Over Hair Cut Leads to Fatal Conflict.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Aug. 16.—As a result of a drunken row in the Windsor Hotel last night, Edward Hynes, a barber employed at the hotel, is dead, and Thomas Ryan, a blacksmith, who has lived in the Soo for years and is generally respected, is in the cells, and will probably have to answer to a charge of murder.

The row started in the barber shop. Ryan had had his hair cut in the shop some days ago, and last night quizzed Hynes about it, saying that he was not satisfied.

Words followed, and spectators say that Ryan asked Hynes to go out into the yard and settle the matter. Hynes complied, and the two men left the shop, Hynes locking it. Neil McDougall, proprietor of the hotel, went to call a policeman, and, not seeing one, returned to the rear of the house, presumably to put a stop to the fight.

As he reached the yard Ryan was mounting the steps to leave, and Hynes was lying upon the ground dead.

Ryan was located at his home soon after and expressed surprise that Hynes was dead.

Hynes was 38 years of age, and came to the Soo from the American side in June, formerly conducting the grand saloon in the American Soo. He was single and had been regarded as inoffensive. Ryan is about 40 years of age, married, and has a family of three children.

ALMOST SUCCEEDED.

Kidnapper Caught as He Was Crossing Gangway Plank.

New York, Aug. 16.—Within a few minutes of sailing time of the steamship Bluecher yesterday the Hoboken police arrested Andrew Katrucik, who is wanted in Philadelphia on a charge of kidnapping a five-year-old boy.

Katrucik was leading the child up the gang plank of the steamer when the police arrested him.

Fire in Ottawa Suburb.

Ottawa, Aug. 16.—There was a nine thousand dollar fire in Janeville, a suburb of Ottawa, yesterday afternoon. It started in Proulx paint shop, which was destroyed, together with a dwelling and shed belonging to the same man. The buildings were valued at $4,500 and were insured for $200. The fire spread and destroyed a house, belonging to Eugene Favard and a house and stable owned by Jos. Desjardines. In the stable was a valuable bull, which was burned. The fire was controlled with great difficulty. At one time it looked as if the whole village would be destroyed. The efforts of those who were engaged in saving property were embarrassed by a gang of looters, who made off with articles from the burning house, and those in the vicinity of the fire. A valuable gold watch, belonging to Mrs. Desjardines, was among the articles stolen.

Frisco Reformers Win.

San Francisco, Aug. 16.—The primary election in this city resulted in a sweeping victory for the Republican League, or Ryan ticket, which stood for earnest support of the bribery and graft prosecution and the present mayor and board of supervisors. The opposing faction, led by Postmaster Fiske, made a sorry showing, electing not more than 19 delegates to the party convention, which consists of 149 members.

Arthur Teeple, who fell from a barn at Otwell, is dead.

SITUATION IN MOROCCO

European Victims of Recent Massacre Are Buried.

Kabyles Preparing to Attack Again—Sultan Reproaches Military Governor For His Inaction—Europeans to Remain In Fez — Isolated Attacks Still Continue—Strong Force of Warships Present.

Tangier, Aug. 16.—The European victims of the original massacre at Casablanca were buried Wednesday with impressive ceremonies. The foreign consuls, Gen. Drude, commander of the French expeditionary force; a detachment of troops, and Europeans to the number of 500 followed the hearses to the graves. The funeral oration was delivered by the French vice-consul.

The bombardment of Casablanca has produced a deep impression at Fez. The Government received the news well, and at once provided guards for all European residents, urging them not to leave the city, where it guarantees their security.

Advices received here from Fez say that the grand council called by the Sultan to consider the situation at Casablanca has agreed that he shall use all his influence in the direction of peace.

The Sultan's proclamation, counselling universal calm, in the country's great crisis, is earnestly supported, so far as his public affirmations are concerned by Shereef El Cuisan, who is a notorious fanatic and hater of Europeans.

The Sultan has begged the Europeans not to leave Fez, as he would not be responsible for their safety if they depart from the capital.

Reports from Casablanca yesterday indicate that the Kabyles are gathering reinforcements, as if preparing for a final effort to capture Gen. Drude's camp outside that city.

Paris, Aug. 16.—The Casablanca correspondent of The Figaro telegraphs that Muley Amin, the military governor of Casablanca, has received a letter from the Sultan, bitterly reproaching him for his inaction, which the Sultan says was partially responsible for the trouble, and blaming him for not having foreseen and repressed the disturbances.

Vice-Admiral Philbert, telegraphing Wednesday, reported isolated attacks on Casablanca, which the troops easily defeated, being assisted by the shell fire of the French cruiser Cloire.

The cruisers Forbin, Galilee, Cassini and two torpedo boat destroyers are now used in a systematic patrol of the coast of Morocco.

NOTORIOUS OUTLAW ESCAPES.

Germans In South Africa Threatened With More Fighting.

Cape Town, Aug. 16.—The Germans are threatened with a revival of the insurrection in their South African territory.

Jacob Morengo, the chief who has caused them more trouble than all the others combined, and who has been in the custody of the British since he sought refuge in Cape Colony after the last hostilities, escaped on Wednesday, joined with another chief from the German colony, and with 400 followers returned swiftly to German Southwest Africa. The Cape police followed, but the difficulties of the country prevented them intercepting the fugitive chief.

Morengo has repeatedly killed 20 to 30 Germans in ambush and the German authorities have five times joyfully announced his death, but they have never succeeded in killing or capturing him.

HOUSE SAT ALL NIGHT.

British Commons Finally Pass Deceased Wife's Sister Bill.

London, Aug. 16.—The House of Commons devoted the entire night to the report stage of the deceased wife's sister bill, which finally passed its third reading at 6 o'clock yesterday morning.

Wall Street Hit Hard.

New York, Aug. 16.—The loudest grumbling over the service furnished by the telegraph companies was heard in the financial district.

Produce Exchange operators, whose dealings are mostly with the west, had much difficulty in getting telegrams through. Five Western Union operators were at work on the floor of the exchange and two of the Postal wires were manned. Grain quotations from the floor of the Chicago Exchange were about the only despatches which came through on time.

There were several impromptu strikes of messenger boys in various parts of the city. A dozen little strikers from Harlem offices decided to march to the telegraphers' headquarters and apply for funds, although they had been "on strike" less than an hour. They made so much noise about it that they were dispersed by the police.

Landslide on T. & N. O.

Toronto, Aug. 16.—J. L. Englehart, chairman of the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway, is in the city.

The commissioners have another landslide at Swanson's Cut to contend with. About 150 yards of the track has been covered.

Steel is laid 208 miles north of North Bay.

Empress Will Abdicate.

Shanghai, Aug. 16.—The Empress Dowager has announced her determination to abdicate at the next Chinese New Year. She desires, it is said, to hand over the cares of state to the Emperor.

One Dead; 18 Hurt.

New York, Aug. 16.—A boy was killed and 18 other persons injured, several dangerously when a freight train on the Long Island Railroad struck a trolley car at Coney Island avenue.

James Simpson, sr., of Hamilton formerly head of the wholesale grocery firm of James Simpson & Co., is dead, aged 75.

CRANKS AND DOUBTERS.

Redmond Speaks at Wexford on Sinn Fein Society.

Wexford, Ireland, Aug. 16.—John E. Redmond, leader of the Nationalist party in the House of Commons, made an address in this city Wednesday night in reply to a resolution conveying to him the freedom of the City of Wexford, in recognition of his Parliamentary work for Ireland, in the course of which he discussed freely the present conflict between the Nationalists and the members of the Sinn Fein Society.

He described the critics of the Irish party, as actuated by jealousy, or similar motives, and said the members of the party were the choice of the constituencies and not his nominees. They were honest Nationalists, and far less amenable to British influences, and far more independent of the British parties than some of their critics.

Stand In No One's Way.

No invitation to William O'Brien to join the party was needed. He had been asked repeatedly, but he was unwilling to be bound by the party pledge. The position of Timothy Healy, Mr. Redmond continued, was different, but if the National directory or the convention wanted him back he, Mr. Redmond, would not stand in the way.

The policy of the Sinn Fein Society, Mr. Redmond then declared, in withdrawing the members from Westminster was absurd, and found support nowhere in Ireland.

"The cranks and the doubters," Mr. Redmond said, in conclusion, "have had their innings for the past few weeks, but they will get their answer from every quarter of Ireland before the harvest is saved."

Joachim Is Dead.

Berlin, Aug. 16.—Joseph Joachim, the celebrated violinist conductor of the Royal Academy of Music, Berlin, and music director of the Royal Academy of Arts, died yesterday.

He had been suffering for a long time from asthma and had been unconscious for several days. He was born in 1831.

Negroes Can't Vote.

Georgia, Ga., Aug. 16.—By a vote of 159 to 16 the House Wednesday passed the negro disenfranchisement bill, which was previously adopted by the Senate. The lower branch of the Legislature made a few minor additions to those concurred in by the Senate.

Lumber Mills Destroyed.

Montreal, Aug. 16.—The Morin Freres lumber mills at St. Louis, Du Mile End, were destroyed by fire last night. The loss is estimated at about $10,000.

Rev. P. S. Owens, parish priest of Ayton, Ont., died at Dundas.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

The Manager Of the B. & A.

By VAUGHAN KESTER

Copyright, 1901, by Harper & Brothers

He faced Durks again.

"Any man who knows enough to shovel coal will do," he said.

"But no one will want to take such long chances, Mr. Oakley. Baker said it was just plain suicide."

Dan swore like a brakeman out of temper in the bad, thoughtless manner of his youth.

At the same moment a heavy, slouching figure emerged from the shadow at the opposite end of the freight car and came hesitatingly toward the two men. Then a voice said in gentle admonition:

"Don't swear so, Dannie. It ain't right. I'll go with you."

It was his father.

CHAPTER XXII.

ANTIOCH had grown indifferent to forest fires. They were of almost annual recurrence, and the town had come to expect them each fall. As the Hon. Jeb Barrows remarked with cheerful optimism, voicing a popular belief, if it was intended Antioch should go that way it would have gone long ago.

But this summer the drought had been of longer duration than usual. The woods were like tinder, and the inevitable wadding from some careless hunter's gun or the scattered embers from some campfire far up in the northern part of the state had started a conflagration that was licking up miles of timber and moving steadily south behind a vast curtain of smoke that darkened half the state. It was only when the burned out settlers from the north began to straggle in that Antioch awoke to a proper sense of its danger.

It was then that Antioch sent out its first call for help. It needed fire engines and hose, and it needed them badly, especially the hose, for the little reservoir from which the town drew its water supply was almost empty.

Antioch forgot the murder of Ryder. It forgot Roger Oakley, the strike and all lesser affairs. A common danger threatened its homes, perhaps the lives of its citizens.

A score of angry men were stamping up and down the long platform across from the shops or pushing in and out of the ugly little depot, which had taken on years in apparent age and decay in the two days during which no trains had been running.

They were abusing Holt, the railroad and every one connected with it. For the thousandth time they demanded to know where the promised relief train was—if it had started from Buckhorn Junction, and, if it hadn't started, the reason of the delay.

The harried assistant treasurer answered these questions as best he could.

"Are you going to let the town burn without making a move to save it?" demanded an excited citizen.

"You don't think I am any more anxious to see it go than you are?" retorted Holt angrily.

"Then why don't your road do something to prevent it?"

"The road's doing all it can, gentlemen."

"That's a whole lot, ain't it?"

"We are cut off," said Holt helplessly. "Everything is tied up tight."

"You can wire, can't you?"

"Yes, I can wire; I have wired."

"Well, where's the relief train, then?"

"It's at the Junction."

"It's going to do us a lot of good there, aint it?"

"They'll send it as soon as they can get together a crew."

"Stir them up again, Holt. Tell 'em we got to have that hose and those engines or the town's gone. It's a matter of life and death."

Holt turned back into the depot, and the crowd dispersed.

In the ticket office he found McClintock, who had just come in from uptown. The master mechanic's face was unusually grave.

"I have been investigating the water supply with the city engineer. Things are in awful shape. The mains are about empty, and there isn't pressure enough from the standpipe to throw a thirty-five foot stream."

"I wish Oakley was here," muttered Holt.

"So do I. Somehow he had a knack at keeping things moving. I don't mean but what you've done your level best, Byron," he added kindly.

"They've laid down on me at the Junction," said the younger man bitterly.

He stepped to the door, mopping his face with his handkerchief, and stood looking down the track in the direction of Buckhorn.

"They made it so Oakley couldn't stay, and now they wonder why the relief train is hung up. All Durks says is that he can't get a crew. I tell you if Oakley was here he'd have to get one."

"It was a mistake to send the yard engine up to Parker's Run. If we had it here now"—

"How was I to know we'd need it? I had to try to save those ties, and we thought the wind was shifting into the south," in fierce justification of his course.

"That's so, all right," said McClintock. "We did think the danger was past. Only we shouldn't have taken any chances."

At this point they were joined by Dr. Emory.

"Anything new from Buckhorn?" he inquired anxiously.

"No; it's the same old story. Durks ain't got anybody to send."

The doctor, like Holt, fell to mopping his face with his handkerchief.

"Don't he know our danger? Don't he know we can't fight the fire without engines and hose—that our water supply is about exhausted and that we'll have to depend on the river?"

Holt nodded wearily.

"It looks as though we were to be left to face this situation as best we can, without help from the outside," said the doctor uneasily.

Holt turned to McClintock.

"Isn't there some method of back firing?"

"It's too late to try that, and, with this wind blowing, it would have been too big a risk."

He glanced moodily across the town to the north, where the black cloud hung low in the sky. He added:

"I have told my wife to keep the young ones in, no matter what happens, but, Lord, they will be about as well off one place as another when it comes to the pinch."

"I suppose so," agreed the doctor. "I am at a loss to know what precautions to take to insure the safety of Mrs. Emory and my daughter."

It was only 4 o'clock, but it was already quite dark in the town, a strange half light that twisted the accustomed shape of things. The air was close, stifling, and the wind, which blew in heavy gusts, was like the breath from a furnace. The somber twilight carried with it a horrible sense of depression. Every sound in nature was stilled. Silence reigned supreme. It was the expectant hush of each living thing.

The three men stepped out on the platform. Holt and the doctor were still mopping their faces with their limp handkerchiefs. McClintock was fanning himself with his straw hat. When they spoke they unconsciously dropped their voices to a whisper.

"Those families in the north end should move out of their homes," said the doctor. "If they wait until the fire gets here they will save nothing but what they have on their backs."

"Yes, and the houses ought to come down," added McClintock. "There's where the fire will get its first grip on the town, and then heaven help us!"

Night came, and so imminent seemed the danger that Antioch was roused to something like activity.

A crowd composed almost exclusively of men gathered early on the square before the courthouse.

They had by common consent given up all hope that the relief train would be sent from Buckhorn Junction. The light in the sky told them that they were completely cut off from the outside world. The town and the woods immediately adjacent formed an island in the center of an unbroken sea of fire. The ragged red line had crept around to the east, west and south, but the principal danger would be from the north, where the wind drove the flames forward with resistless fury. To the south and east Billup's Fork interposed as a barrier to the progress of the fire, and on the west was a wide area of cultivated fields.

At regular intervals waves of light flooded the square as the freshening gusts fanned the conflagration or whirled across the town great patches of black smoke. In the intervals of light a number of dark figures could be seen moving about on the roof of the courthouse. Like the square below, it was crowded with anxious watchers.

The crowd jostled to and fro on the square, restless and excited and incapable of physical quiet. Then suddenly a voice was raised and made itself heard above the tramp of feet.

"Those houses in the north end must come down!" this voice said.

There was silence and then a many tongued murmur. Each man present knew that the residents of the north end had sworn that they would not sacrifice their homes to the public good. If their homes must go they much preferred to have them burn, for then the insurance companies would have to bear the loss.

"Those houses must come down!" the voice repeated.

It was McClintock who had spoken.

"Who's going to pull them down?" another voice asked. "They are ready to fight for them."

"And we ought to be just as ready to fight if it comes to that," answered the master mechanic. "It's for the common good."

The crowd was seized with a noisy agitation. Its pent up feelings found vent in bitter denunciation of the north end. A man—it was the Hon. Jeb Barrows—had mounted the courthouse steps and was vainly endeavoring to make himself heard. He was counseling delay, but no one listened to him. The houses must be torn down whether their owners wanted it or not. McClintock turned up the street.

To be continued.

Court of Arbitration Not Making Headway—British Delegates Are Hustling on Question of Disarmament—Anglo-Jerusalem Scheme Is Progressing—Zionism or Bankruptcy—Speech by Max Nordau.

The Hague, Aug. 16.—To all intents and purposes, as a result of a sitting of the committee, the throwing of explosives from balloons and airships is forbidden.

M. Beernaert left yesterday afternoon for Brussels, whither he goes holding highly pessimistic views concerning the peace conference and believing that the American proposition for the establishment of a permanent international court of arbitration is doomed.

The British delegates have received instructions to act with vigor, and are doing so. They are pushing forward the American proposition and also arranging the delicate matter of disarmament, which can only be put forward as a wish at the closing session.

A feature of the opening of the Zionist conference here yesterday morning was a grand speech by Dr. Max Nordau. Among other things he said that Zionism was the Hebrew reply to all antisemitism and the persecution of the Hebrew race throughout the world. It was a vital question for Hebrews either to accept Zionism or submit to national disgrace or bankruptcy.

The Anglo-Jerusalem scheme he declared was progressing favorably and would become the banner under which Hebrews would flight, showing the world the power of their civilization. Every Hebrew had two countries—that of his adoption and the Holy Land, and he must be faithful to both.

ESSEX EXPLOSION.

Detectives Are Securing Evidence Against M. C. R.

Windsor, Aug. 16.—Crown Attorney J. H. Rodd claims that evidence is piling up fast against the Michigan Central Railway people in connection with the explosion at Essex last Saturday.

Provincial Detectives Mahoney and Campau are at work securing a quantity of evidence which, it is proposed to use at the adjourned inquest on Aug. 23.

The most significant occurrence within the past few days is the resignation of Conductor Barry, in whose nominal charge the car containing the dynamite is supposed to have been. Barry, who has sufficiently recovered from his injuries to be discharged from the hospital, has no explanation to offer at this time as to why he chose to resign, but it is understood that the prosecution will call him as the star witness when the case comes up again. Agent Stimers and Fireman Madigan, the other victims of the explosion, are still in the hospital, but are mending slowly.

Inquest on Dr. Gibbins.

London, Aug. 16.—(C. A. P.)—An open verdict was returned at the inquest on Dr. Gibbins' body. The railway officials stated all carriage doors were shut, but marks of blood, flesh and hair were found in the carriage of the train whereon the deceased apparently traveled. The doctor's father, said the son, had bad health and had been utterly disappointed in his work at Lennoxville, but was unworried financially and quite cheerful.

Hundreds Exiled.

St. Petersburg, Aug 16.—It is reported that 274 persons throughout the Russian Empire were exiled for political offences during the month of July, and it is officially stated that 54 Russian officers and 85 privates were killed and that 47 officers and 53 privates were wounded while maintaining order during the same month.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Cables Unchanged—American Markets Are Generally Steady.

LONDON, Aug. 15.—London cables are steady at 12c to 12½c per lb., dressed weight; refrigerator beef is quoted at 9½c to 10c per lb.

Toronto Live Stock.

TORONTO, July 15.—Receipts of live stock since Tuesday, as reported by the railways, were 76 carloads, composed of 1033 cattle, 1224 hogs, 1339 sheep and lambs, and 250 calves.

Exporters.

There were no choice, well-finished loads of export cattle on sale. There were some medium lightweight cattle, about 1200 to 1250 lbs. each, that sold around $5, and there was not a single load reported as selling at $5.25 per cwt. Some few export bulls, 1200 to 1800 lbs. each, sold at $3.25 to $4.50 per cwt.

Butchers.

Some lightweight exporters, 1150 to 1250 lbs. each, were bought for butcher purposes at about $5 per cwt. The best lots of butchers' cattle, 1050 to 1100 lbs. each, sold from $4.80 to $4.80, and there were few got these prices. Medium to good butchers sold at $4 to $4.25; common, $3.50 to $3.75; cows, $2.50 to $3.75; common cows, $2.50 to $3.25; canners, $1.25 to $2.25 per cwt.

Feeders and Stockers.

There has been little doing in the feeder and stocker trade, few being offered and few wanted. William Murby reports having bought 80 stockers and light feeders at $2.75 to $3.40 per cwt.

Milch Cows.

Trade in milkers was the worst of the season, some of the commission salesmen reporting them as unsaleable. Good springers were being looked after, but all were slow of sale at much lower quotations, to say the least, and there were several cows reported unsold at the close of the market. The sales made ranged from $25 to $50, and not many at the latter price. See quotations of sales made.

Veal Calves.

There was a good market for good calves, but there were few that could be classed as such; but there was a lot of ill-bred, ill-fed, sour-milk and grass-fed calves that were a disgrace to the farmer that bred and fed them, as well as the drover that would buy such. And we do not know a drover that would want to buy a fillet of veal for his Sunday's dinner out of some of the calves offered. Prices ranged from $3 to $6 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.

There was a fair run of sheep and lambs. Export ewes sold at $4.50 to $4.75; rams, at $3.50 to $4 per cwt.; yearling ewes for butcher purposes sold at $5 to $5.50 per cwt.; lambs sold at $5.50 to $6.25 per cwt.

Hogs.

The run was not extra large. Mr. Harris reports the market as steady at present prices. Selects sold at $6.75; lights and fats, $6.50; sows, $4 to $5 per cwt.; stags, $2.50 to $3 per cwt.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, Aug. 15.—Cattle—Receipts, 150 head; dull; prices, unchanged. Veals—Receipts, 250 head; active on good, slow on common, $5 to $7.75.

Hogs—Receipts, 4000 head; slow; pigs, steady; others, lower; heavy, $6.70 to $6.80; mixed, $6.90 to $7; yorkers, $7.10 to $7.20; pigs, $7.20 to $7.30; roughs, $5.50 to $5.80; dairies, $6.25 to $7.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 1000 head; active; sheep, steady; lambs, 15c higher; lambs, $5.50 to $7.50; yearlings, $6 to $6.50.

New York Live Stock.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Beeves—Receipts, 983; nothing doing. Feeling, dull. Exports, 4350 quarters of beef.

Calves—Receipts, 894. Very little doing. A few veals sold at $5.00 to $8; feeling weak.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 2855. Sheep, quiet and steady; lambs, strong, 10c to 15c higher; sheep, $3.50; lambs, $6.75 to $8.00; culls, $5.

Hogs—Receipts, 1218; nothing doing.

Chicago Live Stock.

CHICAGO, Aug. 15.—Cattle—Receipts, about 5000; market slow and dull; common to prime steers, $4.50 to $7.60; cows, $3 to $5; heifers, $3 to $5.50; bulls, $3 to $5; calves, $3 to $8; stockers and feeders, $2.50 to $5.

Hogs—Receipts, about 19,000; market 10c lower; good to prime heavy, $6.10 to $6.30; medium to good heavy, $5 to $6.15; light mixed, $6.25 to $6.35; packing, $5.50 to $5.85; pigs, $5.50 to $6.50; selected, $6.50 to $6.65; bulk of sales, $6 to $6.20.

Sheep—Receipts, about 16,000; market weak, lower; yearlings, $5.75 to $6.50; lambs, $5.75 to $7.25.

Big Island Being Swept by Flames

Much Valuable Timber Has Been Destroyed by Fire.

The latest report from Stony Lake is to the effect that the beautiful "Big Island," situated at the head of Clear Lake and owned by Mr. J. R. Stratton, is being rapidly swept away, and the once thickly wooded spot has been thinned out. The fire was not checked on Tuesday, as a great many thought, despite the fact that a volunteer brigade, consisting of a large number of cottagers, worked incessantly at it for some time.

The blaze started on Monday evening, and has been raging fiercely ever since, and nothing will save the balance of the island, save a heavy shower. It is hoped that the heavy downpour of rain that has been falling all afternoon will also visit "Big Island." Some very valuable timber was on the island, and very little of it will be saved. The island formerly belonged to the Indian reserve, but about two years ago was purchased by Mr. Stratton.

The frie on Hurricane Point was not out, either, and passengers on the steamer this morning said that it was still burning and was being watched. The rain this afternoon will most likely prove a blessing and the fire will be put out.

THREE INDIANS NOW IN PRISON

Arrested for Creating Disturbance on Steamer Esturion

Three Indians, who were drunk and disorderly on the steamer Esturion on civic holiday, on its way from Stony Lake to Chemong Lake, and greatly scared the passengers, have been arrested and are in a peaceful and quiet mood at the county gaol.

County Constables Archie Moore and T. Cullen made the arrests and put the men behind the bars at Castle Nesbitt. They were brought before Magistrate Edmison this morning and remanded until Tuesday next, when they will be given their trial.

The Indians arrested are Dave and Alexander Jacobs and Isaac Knott, all of the Indian Village, Chemong.

Master Bakers Meeting is Over

Mr. Thos. Hooper Returned Home Last Night After a Pleasant Trip

Mr. Thomas Hooper returned last night after attending the convention of Master Bakers, held in Toronto this week. He reports having had a splendid time. A despatch from Toronto says:

The sixth annual convention of Master Bakers of Canada came to a conclusion yesterday with a trip to Guelph. The delegates were the guests of Messrs. Fleishmann & Co. on the trip, which was a most enjoyable function. Upon the arrival of the party at Guelph special cars were in waiting to convey them to the Ontario Agricultural College, where a luncheon, tendered to the guests by the President of the College, and the Ontario Government, was awaiting them, served in picnic style on the spacious lawns of the college.

Capital Stock of C.G.E. Co. Is Increased to $8,000,000

New Issue of Preferential Stock—An Advance of $3,000,000 in Capitalization—Company is Prosperous—Special Meeting of Directors Held.

At a special meeting of the shareholders of the Canadian General Electric Company held in Toronto on Thursday, the capital stock was increased from $5,000,000 to $8,000,000.

About 35 shareholders were present, and $4,000,000 of the capital stock was represented by proxies.

Mr. Frederic Nicholls, second vice-president and general manager, read the by-law authorizing the above change. Of the new issue, 20,000 shares were to be 7 per cent. preferred stock. Each holder of the old preferred stock was given the option of selling this holding, or of having it redeemed with the new issue of this description of stock. Mr. Nicholls said that the company had an uninterrupted share of prosperity, and the last annual report contained every balance sheet of the corporation for the past 16 years. At present their company, he said, had $5,000,000 worth of work on hand, and $5,000,000 in liquid assets. The directors wanted to apply for letters patent to increase the stock and they could finance it in several ways. The company might stop taking orders for a time, and its $5,000,000 liquid assets would thus be worked up. He thought it would be wiser to increase the capital than to give business to the competitors of the company. The profits last year were over $800,000, and this year it seemed that they would be equally good or better. With profits of $853,000, the company was left $713,000, after the payment of deferred dividends.

Mr. J. K. Kerr said that on the new preferred stock the holders could not get more than 7 per cent. a year.

Mr. Nicholls observed that the proposed increase was much in the interest of the common stockholders.

Mr. Nicholls had received an offer from England for the whole amount of the preferred stock at par, but he thought that the shareholders of the company might want it. The present issue of preferred stock had to be redeemed and the directors desired power to do it.

The resolution was carried unanimously.

Local Oddfellows Return From Grand Lodge Meeting

Triple Linked Order Shows Great Progress—Grand Lodge Will Meet in St. Thomas Next Year—Peterborough Lady Honored by Rebekah Order.

The delegates from Peterborough and Otonabee lodges, I.O.O.F., who had been attending the annual convention at Orillia for some days returned home last night. They are all well pleased with the result of the meeting and are glad they went. Over 800 delegates were present, including twelve from here and the Order in Orillia did their best to give their visitors a good time and they succeeded in every respect. On the evening of the second day a moonlight excursion was run across the lake and everyone thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

Those from Peterborough who were there are Col J. W. Miller, Messrs. W. S. Robinson, Dr. McKercher, Mulligan, Robt. Matchett, Cairns, Geo. Woods, Frank Wise, W. Hill, Jas. Lang, W. C. Matchett, Jas. Tully, and Wm. Gibbs, and Mrs. W. H. Gibbs.

Mrs. Gibbs is the first Past Grand of Gold Link Assembly of Rebekahs of Peterborough, and the only one eligible to attend the Grand Lodge from here. She has been an Oddfellow for only nine months and was elected District Deputy Grand Master for this district, and also Grand Conductor for the Grand Rebekahs Assembly of Ontario. Mrs. Gibbs is to be greatly congratulated upon being thus honored by an organization such as the Rebekahs.

The Peterborough delegates were quartered in the Assembly Hall of the Y.M.C.A., which was furnished with cots. Here the boys made their headquarters and entertained many visitors. They had a great time, and the walls in the Y.M.C.A. hall could tell some good stories if they were allowed to speak.

Col. J. W. Miller, Peterborough, who was a candidate for the office of Grand Warden, though not a winner, stood high in the race and will get there next year. Mr. Dan Derbyshire, M.P., of Brockville, was the successful candidate. He is the well known dairyman and has many friends in Peterborough. Col. Miller will certainly be the man to follow Dan Derbyshire next year.

Invitations to hold next meeting were received from Hamilton, Ottawa and St. Thomas. The contest really narrowed down to Ottawa and St. Thomas and the latter city won out.

The welcome to Orillia was offered by Mayor Curran and Reeve Jupp, for the town, and by John White and J. I. Hartt, for the Order.

GROWTH OF ORDER.

The Grand Lodge opened its sessions in Orillia on Wednesday. W. S. Johnston, of Toronto, Grand Master occupied the chair. In 1906 twelve new lodges were instituted, and three lodges revived. During the first six months of this year ten new lodges were organized and one resuscitated. There were 333 lodges on June 30, 1907, with a membership of 36,585. The disbursements in benefits for the year ending with December 31, 1906, were $291,049.78. The assets of the Order in the Province at end of last calendar year, $1,411,793.26.

The Oddfellows Home at Oakville, represents an investment of $21,867.07. The annual cost of running the institution last year was $1,259.84, or 28 3-4c for each individual, and a per capita tax of 3 1-3c. on the membership in Ontario. The Oddfellows Relief Association of Canada was specially commended by the Grand officers. The Grand Master said: "The growth of the Order in membership and in new lodges during the year has largely exceeded that of any similar period in twenty years, and much of the credit is due to the energy and influence of the Association."

RELIEF WORK.

Col. Cole, of Brockville, from the Committee on the Oddfellows' Relief Association, cited the numerical and financial progress made by it during the year. The revenue was $318,125.83, and the expenditure $246,838.458 the amount in mortuary benefits being $151,356.75. The surplus was $71,987.28. The working expenses were 12 3-4 per cent. of the revenue. The work of the Association was approved by the Grand Lodge.—Adopted.

The mileage and per diem committee reported calling for an appropriation of $7,300, for the expenses of this meeting.

Joseph Oliver, Toronto, on behalf of the Finance Committee provided for sundry expenses incurred by other committees for usual appropriations for the year, including $500 for Missionary work, $75 for tent at the Toronto fair, and $1,000 to the Oddfellows' Home.—Adopted.

Incidentally it came up that there should not be any discrimination in the matter of giving jewels to Past Masters, and with some discussion the matter was laid over for a year.

MR. TULLY PRAISED.

The following paragraph appeared in the Grand Secretary's report which was presented to the Grand Lodge in Orillia.

In connection with the very gratifying increase in the number of lodges, as well as in membership, no small degree of credit is due to Bro. J. A. Tully, representative of the Oddfellows Relief Association. All the work reported by him has been most thoroughly and systematically performed, and he is to be most heartily congratulated on the success that has attended his labors, which has resulted in greatly increasing the numerical strength of the Order in Ontario.

PRAISE FOR MR. HILL.

From the Grand Master's report presented to the Grand Lodge, the following was read;

Bro. Wm. Hill, D.D.G.M., Peterborough District, No. 32, occupies a high place in the long list of D.D.G.M.'s for the year. Like many others he rightly values the responsibilities of his office as well as the honor, and his report show great care, energy and enthusiasm in the work. His district has been increased by one new lodge, Mystic No. 378, at Marmora, and the affairs of all the lodges may be said to be in good condition, assisted by a good staff of installation, which included joint and public ceremonies, and no ritual in sight.

More Boys Up in Police Court

Three Lads Charged With Robbing Jas. R. Bell's Till.

"More incorrigible boys," said His Worship Magistrate Dumble this morning as he looked around at the police court. There were four up again today and the situation has now reached a most alarming state and it is about time something was done to check these lads who are travelling on the road to destruction and will turn out to be criminals with no respect whatever for the laws of the country. Three of the lads appeared last week on a charge of robbing the till of John Hill and the other one appeared on his first offence. Another who also was to have appeared this morning went to the Chemong regatta yesterday and has never returned. The money they took last week, about $4.50, has never been returned to its owner and His Worship reserved judgment in this case until tomorrow morning to give them time to pay.

The charge against the boy for stealing the horse was dismissed, the mother of the boy paying for the rope and whip that was lost.

The charge against three lads this morning was for entering the store of Jas. R. Bell on Sunday last and taking 30 cents, contents of the cash register. Mr. G. N. Gordon appeared for two of the lads. One of them was never in police court before and he was allowed to go with some good advice, but the other two have appeared several times. It is now time that the authorities were looking into the matter.

They pleaded guilty and his Worship enlarged the case until tomorrow to consider what he would do in the matter. The court has been very lenient with them, but they continue in their wrong doing right after they are allowed to go. His Worship let them go home and they will appear again tomorrow morning when the magistrate will have decided what he intends doing with them.

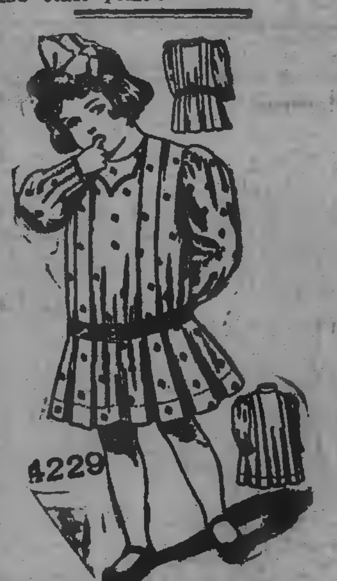
BASEBALL

The Peterborough Baseball Club will practise at Riverside Park tomorrow afternoon. Every player is requested to turn out for practice, as there is a hard game ahead of them.

WEDDING BELLS

O'BRIEN—L'ABBE

The marriage was solemnized Wednesday in St. Jean Baptiste church, Ottawa, of Miss Evelina L'Abbe, of 63 Elm street, and Mr. Henry O'Brien of the Marine and Fisheries Department. Rev. Father Jacques officiated at the ceremony. The bride, who was attired in a handsome navy blue travelling suit, was assisted by Miss Kate McGrath, of Peterborough. Mr. W. J. Cantwell supported the groom. After a dainty wedding repast at the home of the bride, the couple left on a honeymoon trip to Kingston, the Thousand Islands, and other points.



4229.—A PRACTICAL COAT FOR A GIRL.

An odd coat is perhaps more necessary to the small girl than to older persons as she is not so likely to own a suit and must have something of medium weight for the whole year around. Here is sketched a coat of a little more than hip length which realizes the best of the present modes and is not beyond home making. The seams may be lapped and stitched or bound with a narrow braid, while the collar may be of the material or velvet. The coat is box shape and very natty, requiring 1 1-2 yards of 54 inch material in the medium size.

4229.—Sizes 4, 6, 8, 10, 12 years.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

HOSIERY

Some store friend asked us the other day if we were not tired of running these special Saturday night Sales—of selling goods on such a small margin of profit—sometimes at no profit, and even at a loss.

Tired of them? NO! Decidedly no. We consider it the best store policy we ever inaugurated. It brings hundreds of shrewd, thrifty, prudent people; it teaches them the economies of the store—the dependableness of its merchandise. Here's the fiftieth, and we have been as untiring in preparing the bargain list as on the occasion of the first. Every counter in the store convinces you of that. You know the hour (7.30 p.m.)

6947.—AN ATTRACTIVE BRETELLE DRESS.

The fashion for bretelle dresses is a very economical one and the woman who must make ends meet by remodelling her last year's dress or using a left-over skirt with shirt waists by combining it with bretelles, will appreciate the pattern sketched. The skirt is a seven-gored one showing inverted box pleats at centre front and back and three backward turning tuck-plaits at each side seam. Very neat trimming sections are inset at front and back, or may be omitted. The shoulder straps or bretelles are of the material of the skirt and finished with stitching or a narrow braid. Such a costume may be worn with any lingerie or silk shirt waist and prove very smart. For the medium size 5 5-8 yards of 44 inch material are needed.

Leave your order and ten cents at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.

Lydia E. Pinkham

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

is a positive cure for all those painful ailments of women. It will entirely cure the worst forms of Female Complaints, Inflammation and Ulceration, Falling and Displacements and consequent Spinal Weakness, and is peculiarly adapted to the Change of Life. It will surely cure

Backache.

It has cured more cases of Female Weakness than any other remedy the world has ever known. It is almost infallible in such cases. It dissolves and expels Tumors in an early stage of development. That causing pain, weight and headache, is instantly relieved and permanently cured by its use. Under all circumstances it acts in harmony with the female system. It corrects.

Irregularity,

Suppressed or Painful Periods, Weakness of the Stomach, Indigestion, Bloating, Nervous Prostration, Headache, General Debility. Also

Dizziness, Faintness,

Extreme Lassitude, "don't-care" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feeling, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, flatulency, melancholy or the "blues," and backache. These are sure indications of Female Weakness, some derangement of the organs. For and Backache of either sex the Vegetable Compound is unequalled.

Kidney Complaints

You can write Mrs. Pinkham about yourself in strictest confidence.

Long Stretch of Concrete Walk

From Crescent Street to Park St on Romaine—All Schools Have Permanent Walks

When school opens in a couple or three weeks the sidewalks leading to all the buildings will have been completed in concrete. The engineering department has had a large gang of men working for some time on the walks to all the schools with the object of getting them done before the holidays were over, as the boys and girls would like nothing better than to put the job on the ruff. The walk to the Barnardo avenue school has been finished for some time and it makes a decided improvement to the street. The gang is now working on the walks to the King Edward School. This is a big job and will open up a lot of new territory. It will run past a lot of property, on which there is as yet no houses, but it is necessary work, so that the children can get to and from the school. One stretch will run from Romaine on Aylmer across the school lot. The other stretch will run from Crescent street right through to Park street, a distance of 2,300 feet. When this has been completed, all the schools in the city will be well fixed as far as walks are concerned, except the Lake Street Separate school and it will likely come a little later.

Freight Cars Ran into Engine

A smash-up at the G.T.R. station at Millbrook on Friday night last, broke up a couple of freight cars, and knocked the end out of Thexton's coal shed. Half a train had been left up south of the station while the engine went down for water, and the breaks not being tight enough the cars started to run back and met the engine, causing the collision. No one was hurt.

Permanent Supply Secured By St. Paul's Congregation

Rev. Dr. Tolling of Hamilton Will be in Charge Until a New Pastor is Called—He Will Enter Upon His Duties Early in September.

permanent supply

Rev. Dr. Tolling, of Hamilton, Ont., a well known and scholarly Presbyterian divine, has been engaged by St. Paul's church of this city as a permanent supply until a regular pastor is called.

Dr Tolling will enter upon his work here the first Sunday in September and will remain in charge of the congregation until a permanent minister is secured. He comes highly recommended as he is a speaker and author of note and a man of first class pulpit ability.

It is expected that, when the alterations to the edifice are completed, which will be in a few weeks, that several clergymen will be heard with a view to a call.

It is understood that some divines who stand high in the denomination will be heard but, in the meantime, as the congregation has secured an acting pastor, there will be no great haste in inviting a permanent one and, until the right man comes along, no call will be extended.

Trent Canal Creating Interest In England's Shipping Centres

Western Daily Press, of Bristol, Makes Reference to Opening of Kirkfield Lift Lock and the Opening of the Trent Waterway—What it Means to Shipping

The Western Daily Press, of Bristol, England, recently published a long article on Canadian affairs. Among others was the following reference to the opening of the Kirkfield lift lock and the Trent Canal:—

"The Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, Postmaster General of Canada and Minister of Labor, in opening the Kirkfield hydraulic lift lock on the Trent Valley Canal, foreshadowed the construction of the Ottawa and Georgian Bay Ship Canal. "Men in middle life today," he said, "will live to see steamers from Liverpool and Glasgow (he forgot Bristol), discharging their freights at Port Arthur and Fort William, and returning with the golden produce of the West to the markets of the world." Some of the editors see in this declaration ground for believing that the Government is assisting the Ship Canal project, with a view to an early beginning of the work. The surveys are for a waterway 22 feet in depth, which would enable steamers loaded with wheat at the upper lake ports in Canada to take their cargoes straight to Avonmouth docks without breaking bulk anywhere. With respect to the Trent waterway, which the present Government has now carried to practical completion, it materially shortens the distance by water from the wheat fields to the ocean shipping ports on the Canadian side, as compared with the United States water routes. It will carry wheat from Fort William, Lake Superior, to Montreal for 3 cents a bushel, correspondingly reducing the through rate from the West to the Atlantic Coast ports. The Western terminus of the new system is Georgian Bay, and the waterway is in reality a channel through lakes and rivers, via Peterborough, Ont., into Lake Ontario. The whole distance from Georgian Bay to Lake Ontario by this route is only 203 miles, or, counting the return trip, say 500 miles shorter to Bristol and Liverpool than by the Welland Canal and St. Lawrence River route, and 1,500 miles shorter than by the Erie canal (U.S.) route. Grain was carried from Fort William to Midland, on Georgian Bay, in 1906, at one cent a bushel. The Midland cargoes may now be transhipped into 800-ton barges and taken via Trent waterway to Montreal for two cents a bushel. The barges make the trip by this route from Midland to Montreal in six and a half days, or two round trips in a month. One steam barge, with four consorts, two abreast, tows the equivalent of 120 loaded railway grain cars. Barges can carry grain by this waterway with a good margin of profit at one cent and a quarter per bushel, even if they make the return trip empty. This Trent Valley Waterway is the same that the red men used with their canoes long before the pale face was first seen in America, in making their journeys between the far north and the far south. Nearly three centuries ago, in 1615, Champlain, the great French explorer, in attempting to reach the then unknown upper country from Lower Canada, ascended by the Ottawa River, Lake Nipissing and the French river, also a contemplated route for inland navigation (the Ottawa and Georgian Bay Ship Canal), returning by Lake Simcoe, the Kawartha lakes, the Otonabee and Trent rivers, and the Bay of Quinte. With the completion of the Kirkfield hydraulic lift lock, Canada has expended in all for her internal waterways, Canada has expended within a fraction of 115 million dollars. The opening of the Kirkfield lift lock by the Minister was a great event in the history of the surrounding country, and drew thousands of sons and daughters of the soil from far and near to see the Minister and the party accompanying him lifted in their steamer from the lower to the upper waters, floating securely in their great water-tight iron box. Mr R. R. Hall, M.P. for Peterborough West Riding, who has taken a deep personal interest in the construction of the canal, made the opening address, and depicted the enormous advantages, that cannot fail to follow the operation of the waterway. The Hon. Mr. Lemieux, who followed, made a great speech on Canada's transportation developments, and paid a very high compliment to Mr. M. J. Butler, Deputy Minister of Railway and Canals, on the magnificent works whose completion they were celebrating. Mr J. H. McClellan, the superintendent of the canal, was in charge of all the arrangements, and came in for warm compliments for the manner in which he had performed his share of the labors connected with the lift lock and the waterway generally."

Dog in the Hats Had Much Sport

Canine Locked in a Clothing Store Dug into the Straw Hats

Just inside the north entrance to Messrs. Merrel and Meredith's clothing establishment was placed a big clothes basket full of hats and caps, which were being offered at a bargain. In the basket was a printed sign "Take your choice." During the evening one of the clerks went into the store with a friend. They were followed by the friend's dog which was by mistake locked inside. The animal looked every place for a loophole through which to escape, but gave up in despair. An hour or two passed quietly away and then Fido spied the basket of straw hats and caps and the invitation to take his choice. He made a dive for the straw hats as they made the most noise and furnished the most fun. One lot of hats was tossed into the air and shaken and torn until there was little if anything left. Then a bunch of caps was tried, but they were not so satisfactory, and were soon abandoned. Along about eleven o'clock, the clerk and his friend returned and let the animal out just as it was going to tackle another bunch of straw hats. The boys didn't know the dog had been locked inside.

Handsome Mirror Has Been Put in

Yeates Bros., who conduct the up-to-date shoe shining establishment on George street, have just installed a handsome mirror in the compartment of their stand reserved exclusively for ladies. This mirror is 6 feet by 4 feet, and was purchased from a Toronto firm.

Many ladies now have their shoes shined at Yeates Bros. establishment, business in this line increasing steadily.

OBITUARY

MRS C. PORTEOUS.

Mrs. Charles Porteous, formerly Miss Eliza Patton, passed peacefully to rest, after a brief illness, at her home near Manvers Station recently. Her death caused much sorrow in the community, for it came unexpectedly to her many friends and only a few days before she was summoned to join the ranks above, did those nearest her realize the danger.

She was a young woman much beloved in the community. She was kind, affable, considerate of others, very industrious and a true and faithful helpmate. She had been for some years a member of the Methodist church and delighted to join in the service of thanksgiving and praise in His sanctuary on the Lord's Day. A large concourse of friends and relatives paid their last respects to the departed. She was buried in the Fallis cemetery.

Mrs. John Haggart At Old Orchard

Did Not Arrive Until Fire Had Been Extinguished

The friends of Mrs. John Haggart who knew that she had left for Old Orchard, Me. will be pleased to know that she was not in the big fire which destroyed most of the hotels and many cottages at that famous resort. Mrs. Haggart left yesterday for Old Orchard and would not arrive until this morning so that the fire would be over. She intended to stop at the Irving hotel, but as yet it is not known whether it was burned or not. Mr. Haggart is in Chemong today but he intended to leave this evening to join his wife at Old Orchard.

Mr. S. Horiya, a member of the Imperial Diet, of Japan, is in Ottawa.

FOUGHT ALL DAY.

Toronto Man Crossed Lake In Open Skiff—Narrow Escape.

St. Catharines, Aug. 15.—Henry James, of Toronto, had a terrible experience on Lake Ontario on Tuesday. He was out in a small skiff at Lorne Park early in the morning and the heavy wind caught the boat and drove it far out into the lake. James was unable to make any headway towards shore and gradually drifted out into the lake. After making strenuous efforts to reach land he finally became exhausted. The boat drifted wildly on the lake, and during the entire day he was at the mercy of the waves on Lake Ontario. Just before dark Tuesday night a man named Thomas, who lives on the lake shore at a point about half way between Port Dalhousie and the Niagara River, noticed the skiff far out in the lake. There was a heavy sea on, and the occupant was so exhausted he was unable to do anything to help himself. The boat would undoubtedly have been swamped and its occupant drowned had not Mr. Thomas and his brother discovered him, and wading far out into the lake, secured the boat and brought it to land, where James was given restoratives and every aid, and finally brought around, when he was able to tell his story. He could hardly realize he had drifted across the lake. The point where he was rescued is almost directly across the lake from Toronto, and had he not been discovered when he was, darkness would soon have set in and no one would have been able to see him.

MAY INDICT THE M. C. R.

Coroner's Strong Remarks on Essex Explosion.

Essex, Aug. 15.—J. H. Rodd, county crown attorney, is quoted as follows:

"I may possibly indict the M. C. R. for criminal negligence in this case.

"It is barbarous the manner in which, from the evidence heard, railways carry tons of highly explosive substances around in ordinary box-cars.

"I am having this car that exploded traced. I understand it was used as a way freight all the way from St. Thomas; that all kinds of freight was put into it and taken out.

"The law is clear, but evidently it is a dead letter. It says no highly explosive substance may be carried save in specially constructed cars. That means refrigerator cars in hot weather. The fact that the M. C. R. used a box-car makes them liable for damages.

"I will communicate with the Attorney-General and lay the facts before him, with a view to indicting prominent M. C. R. officials.

"I think this should be made a test case, in warning to all carriers or handlers of high explosives.

"The M. C. R. will seek to prove by the way bill they did not know they were handling dynamite.

"That is nonsense. The very way bill they produce is the "dynamite form" used for nothing but high explosives."

PRIESTS PATROL STREETS.

Workmen Stoned by Boys and Girls in Belfast.

Belfast, Aug. 15.—Apparently doubting the sincerity of the authorities, several large crowds spent some time Tuesday in digging up and stacking paving stone to be in readiness for the soldiers, should they reappear.

Last night, Joseph Devlin, Nationalist member of the House of Commons for Belfast, and a number of priests and magistrates patrolled the disturbed area, urging the people to keep the peace and avoid collisions with the Orangemen. At the same time the troops were held in readiness in their barracks should their services be required.

A body from the city workmen attempted to repair the streets, which had been torn up to secure ammunition in the form of paving stones with which to pelt the soldiers. They had not been at work five minutes before a mob of young men and girls began to stone them, and they had to run for their lives, leaving their tools behind them.

OXBOW WAS FIRESWEPT.

Business Portion of Western Town is in Ruins—Loss $175,000.

Oxbow, Sask., Aug. 15.—Early yesterday morning a very serious fire devastated the business section of this town. The fire originated in the rear of Christmas' block and laid in ruins a large number of business houses and the Palace Hotel. Several guests of the Palace Hotel had narrow escapes. The damage, it is roughly estimated, will run over $175,000, and several of those parties, it is understood, have no insurance. Had it not been for the vigorous efforts of the fire brigade and citizens the entire town would have been wiped out, as there was a strong wind blowing from the southeast.

Victim of Chinaman.

St. Thomas, Aug. 15.—E. H. Chase of this city, received news Tuesday night of the death of his son-in-law, Cyrus Winters, at Regina, from arsenical poison. Winters boarded at a restaurant, the proprietor of which loaned some oatmeal to a Chinaman, keeper of a rival eating house.

The Chinaman returned the oatmeal, which was used, with the result that a number of boarders were taken violently ill.

An analysis of the oatmeal revealed arsenic.

Buildings in Danger.

London, Aug. 15.—Acting Mayor Gillean yesterday decided to send to Toronto for the Provincial building inspector, as several large buildings in the city are said to be in a dangerous condition and a repetition of the Reid disaster is feared.

Fierce Forest Fire.

Kingston, Aug. 15.—A fierce forest fire raged within six miles of Parham on Tuesday. A barn and all its contents were consumed in the fire. The damage will be very heavy.

The Penmans Co., of Paris, are opening a factory in Brantford.

The conclave of Knights Templar has begun at St. Catharines.

SATURDAY NIGHT REVERIE

Stratford Herald.

Saturday night seems to have the happy faculty of making people human, setting their hearts to beating softly as they used to do before the world turned them into war drums and jarred them to pieces with tattoos. On Saturday night the ledger closes with a crash, the iron-doored vault comes to with a bang, click, goes the key in the lock. It is Saturday night that the business man breathes free again. Homeward, ho! The door that has been ajar all the week gently closes behind him, the world is all shut out. Shut out! Shut in, rather. At home are his treasures after all, and not in the vault and not in the book—save the record in the old family Bible—and not in the bank. Maybe you are a bachelor, frosty and forty. Then, poor fellow, Saturday night is nothing to you, just as you are nothing to anybody. Get a wife, blue-eyed or black-eyed, but above all, true-eyed. Get a little home—no matter how little—a sofa, just to hold two, or two and a half, in it, on a Saturday night, and then read this paragraph by the light of your wife's eyes, and thank God and take courage.

How many a kiss has been given, how many a curse, how many a caress, how many a look of hate, how many a kind word, how many a promise has been broken, how many a son lost, how many a loved one lowered into the narrow chamber, how many a babe has gone forth from earth to heaven, how many a little crib or cradle stands silent which last Saturday night held the rarest of treasure of treasures of the heart. A week is a life. A week is a history. A week marks events of sorrow and gladness which people never heard. Go home to your family, man of business! Go home, you heart-erring wanderer! Go home to the chair that awaits you, wronged waif on life's breakers! Go home to those you love, man of toil and give one night to the joys and comforts fast flying by! Leave your books with complex figures, your dirty shop, your busy store! Rest with those you love, for God only knows what the next Saturday night will bring you! Draw close around the family hearth; Saturday night has awaited your coming in sadness, in tears and silence. Go home to those you love, and as you bask in the loved presence and meet to return the loved embrace of your heart's-pets, strive to be a better man, and bless God for giving his weary children so dear a stepping stone in the river to the eternal, as Saturday night.

CABINET TIMBER

The problem of reorganizing his Cabinet is evidently giving Sir Wilfrid Laurier many anxious moments. It is a task which he would rather not face, but cruel, unrelenting circumstances will compel him to meet the situation. At present ever ardent Liberals admit that the aggregation is only a mediocre one. Hyman and Emmerson have gone and there are others who should follow their example.

Among the politicians whose records will bear inquiry with a view to a change might be mentioned Aylesworth, Cartwright, Paterson, and Senator Scott. Mr. Aylesworth has not been a success as a public man, and is accused of countenancing wrongs against his own province. Sir Richard Cartwright is accused of throwing over these principles which he promised to carry into office for the good of the country at large and neither Mr. Paterson nor Mr. Scott can be said to be the kind of politicians the country needs. There should be no bolstering up of cabinet where already there are too many third-rate men. Just where better men are to be found is a hard question to answer. It is a problem that the premier is liable to fall down on, particularly in view of the fact that he will be open to the temptation of appointing such men as Archie Campbell or W T R Preston, who would make very doubtful acquisitions to the cabinet. As an Ottawa correspondent points out, the premier would like to replace Mr. Hyman and Mr. Emmerson, who have vacated the two largest spending departments, with public men of large influence, who could bring strength to the administration and figure as leaders in their own provinces. He is not able to find such men. Formerly, he had in Sir Oliver Mowat, an Ontario Lieutenant, with the instinct and capacity of leadership. He has no such helper now. Mr. Aylesworth is active but his activity is more fated than passiveness, and the other Ontario ministers are not even energetic. Sir Wilfrid himself is the only minister with any particular prestige in Quebec, while Mr. Oliver and Mr. Templeman seem to be mere echoes of Mr. Sifton, without his capacity for leadership.

PEN POINTS

An exchange says long hair is a mark of honor. What about long ears? After all, is not a long head the best of all?

Sir Wilfrid Laurier has gone fishing for trout—not for new Cabinet material, as that is plentiful but not exactly suitable.

The town used to be called Essex Centre, but, after the big dynamite explosion there last week, they say the place looked very much like Essex Shattered.

August is now a cool month and the fellow who thought he would escape work in hot weather, if he only delayed his holidays must fee. awfully disappointed.

A dynamite factory at Doemitz, Grand Duchy of Mecklenburg-Schwerin exploded today, says a press despatch. Wonder if the big explosion shattered the name of the place any?

The fall fair season will soon be here. If you have not been asked to officially declare some township exhibition open, or to act as judge on roots, poultry, grain, stock, or fancy work, consider yourself a nonentity.

The consumption of cigarettes in Canada is growing at an alarming rate, an increase of nearly one third during the last year. Just think, Canadians, little and big, rich and poor, white and yellow, smoked no less than 331,974,137 "coffin nails" for the twelve months ending June 30th last. O Tempora! O Mores!

The day of the pass is passing, and may in time be cancelled by all railways. The companies of Canada today do not receive, upon an average, more than two cents per mile for every passenger carried. But some passengers are carried free others at one cent a mile or half a number at two cents, while the occasional traveller pays three. It is unnecessary to discuss the various phases of the pass, or the propriety of excursion rates, mileage books, etc. To abolish the pass is a step in the right direction. Let everyone pay for his railway travel and all pay alike.

The most remarkable thing about the strike of the telegraph operators, which seems to have run along the wires from one end of the country to another, is the general uncertainty as to what is the exact matter in dispute. Ordinarily the cause of the quarrel is pretty well known before the outbreak of hostilities; but in this case, effect seems to run before cause. The people accustomed to the use of telegraphic service, find themselves suddenly facing a situation of unexpected difficulty and perplexity without knowing "where they are at" or whom to blame.

"If you do not like the job get out of it," is the way the man on the street would express it. But here is the way Lida A. Churchill talks about the subject; "There is, in these alert days of competition, of quick opening and closing of places where bread may be earned and a path in which to go forward secured, no time for doing anything that one can't or that is of no moment when accomplished. Know for a certainty that never half the harm has come from a firm and dignified refusal to enter upon or continue in a pursuit not fitted for one as from engaging in such pursuits. What loss the world would have sustained had Handel consented to become a lawyer, Turner to remain a barber, Claude Lorraine a pastry cook, Schiller a surgeon, Pascal a teacher of dead languages, as was intended by relatives. But, great as would have been the loss to the world, the loss to these men themselves would have been far greater.

Is Prospering In Prairie City

Mr. R. M. Dennistoun Has Many Cases and Has Been Very Successful

The many friends of Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, who recently moved to Winnipeg will be pleased to hear from him, even in an indirect way. When Sheriff Hall was out west recently he called upon Mr. Dennistoun and found him in excellent health and well pleased with his new field of labor. He has been exceedingly busy ever since he went out and the best part of it is, he has been successful in a great many important cases. During the spring assizes he had several large cases, which were also profitable, and for the fall assizes he has 23 briefs. Mr. Dennistoun also having a good grasp of Ontario law, has handled the business for several large firms doing business in Kenora, Ont. and has been most successful. Speaking of the prospects for lots of labor, Mr. Dennistoun stated that since he went to Winnipeg, five of the leading lawyers of the city had been appointed to positions on the bench, thus leaving a big gap in the legal business.

WEDDING BELLS

KECK—LOUCKS

A very pretty and interesting event took place at 8 p.m. Aug. 14 at the residence of the groom's uncle, Mr. P. C. Brown, 28 Main-st., North Bay, when Miss Genevieve Loucks, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Loucks, 304 Smith street, Peterborough was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. George W. Keck, of 714 East 24th Street, Erie, Pa.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Johnson, pastor of the McIntyre street Methodist church. The bride looked charming in a gown of cream duchess satin, trimmed with lace and chiffon. She wore a bridal veil and orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of cream roses. The bride was assisted by Miss Nellie Brown, of Ottawa, cousin of the groom, who was attired in white silk trimmed with lace and insertion. She carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was supported by Mr. Ernest H. Cole 1124 Queen street west, Toronto. After the nuptial knot was tied about sixty guests sat down to a choice repast. The groom's gift to the bride was a diamond ring, to the bridesmaid, a pearl crescent and to the groomsman a pearl stick pin. The presents were numerous and attractive, showing the high esteem in which the young couple are held. The bride's travelling dress was of blue ladies' cloth, with hat to match. The happy couple left on the 7.05 train for points west amid showers of rice and good wishes. On their return they will spend a few days in Peterborough with the parents of the bride. Many friends will wish them a long and happy wedded life.

Mr and Mrs Keck will reside at 24 Sussex avenue, Toronto.

Visiting Angler Lost His Money

While Wading in the Water at Healey Falls—Vote on School Addition By-law

Havelock, Aug. 15.—Do not be too flush of cash while on an excursion or fishing expedition is a very good motto for there are many ways in which you can be relieved of your cash. In this case it was neither pickpocket nor thief, but that beautiful swift flowing stream which attracts those in quest of pleasure and enjoyment during the summer months and called the Trent River. Recently a Yankee tourist, carrying a large wad of bills, as those from that country generally do, when they can, while on a fishing excursion to Healey Falls, lost the large sum of $160. He was wading in the stream when the water entered his pocket washing the money out and carrying it away.

Messrs. W. Bryans and W. Falkner have returned from spending a couple of weeks in camp at McCutcheon's Landing, Round Lake.

Reeve Thompson of town, is spending a week's holidays with friends at the Rideau Lakes.

Messrs. Wm. Stark and John Henderson of Peterborough, were the guests of the former's brother, Mr. Cecil Starke on Sunday.

Mr. W. Fairman is attending the annual session of the Grand Lodge, I.O.O.F., at Orillia, this week.

Miss Georgina Falkner spent Wednesday with friends in Peterborough.

Mrs. Wm. Webb and children have returned from visiting friends at Robbin's Landing, Rice Lake.

SCHOOL BYLAWS.

The bylaw for to raise $4,000 for the purpose of building an addition to the present public school building will be voted on Tuesday, August 27th.

Mrs. R. T. Andrews is visiting friends in Creemore.

There seems to be a revival of the old mines in this district. First comes Blairton mines, then Preneveau, and now there are several indications that the gold mines at Cordova twelve miles east of here will re-open once again.

There are several things which point to the re-opening of the mines. Contractor James Scott of town with a large number of men have been at work for the past few weeks repairing the long flume at the air compressor plant. A first-class electrician has been offered the contract for repairing and renovating the machinery of the mines.

"Funny Mr. Dooley," which was to have appeared in the Havelock opera house on August 19th, have broken their engagement and will not show in the town until some time in October.

The band excursion to Stony Lake via Peterborough on Civic holiday, Aug. 21, has been called off on account of the objections raised by several members of the band.

Trades and Labor Council Report

Is Criticised—Milk Test By-law is Defended—Information Was Given

To the Editor of the Review.

Dear Sir,—In your issue last night appeared a somewhat peculiar report from the Taders and Labor Council. It was intended, no doubt, to be sensational, but turned out to be quite ridiculous and reflected discredit upon the Trades and Labor Council, if your report was a correct one. The milk test by-law has not been a farce. The report of the analyst pointed out quite distinctly which milk vendors were selling pure milk. The names of every vendor in the city was published, and opposite each name was given the percentage of butter fat found, in some cases three tests, and in some cases two tests. In no instance did the percentage go so low as to indicate watering or "doctoring," if the Trades and Labor Council know just what that means. A statement was also made in connection with the published milk tests that "none of them (meaning the samples tested) showed either formaldehyde, salicylic acids or borates." That sentence was taken from the analyst's report to the Board of Health and is the only evidence the board or any other body or individual can get that the milk being sold in the city is not "doctored."

It might also be mentioned that the inspector collected his samples from the milkmen when they were delivering their milk to the people. He could hardly get it any other way. He also took the samples out of the big cans in which the milk is carried, and on days when the vendors least expected him to appear on the scene.

If it is correct that any member of the Trades and Labor Council is of the opinion that what he calls "doctored" milk is being sold in the city, it is his duty, to inform the inspector personally and have a sample of that milk sent to Toronto for analysis. He need not be afraid of the inspector using his name, as that official would only be glad to secure any such information.

There was only one point in the whole report of the Trades and Labor Council's discussion on the milk test bylaw, which was not altogether out of place. That was the reference to the sanitary conditions of the dairies. It might be well for the sanitary inspector to prepare a report on the sanitary condition of the various dairies for the Board of Health. Whether or not it would be published is another question, but if any member of the Trades and Labor Council desired any information, he could secure it from the city clerk at any time.

Yours, etc.
FAIR PLAY.

Splendid Music at the Barracks

Songster Brigade Contributed Several Fine Selections.

The entertainment in the Salvation Army barracks last evening, given by the Songster's Brigade, attracted a large number of people who listened to a most delightful programme of sacred song. The brigade led by Mr. Jacob Dawson is an excellent musical organization. Adjutant Wiggins presided and the following excellent programme was rendered,—

Opening song, "We are a band that should conquer the foe."

Chorus by Songsters' Brigade, "Trusting."

Solo, Mrs. Gadd, "I'll go where you want me to go."

Chorus by Brigade, "Through Darkest Night."

Duett, Mrs. Jacob Dawson and Miss Nellie Leader, "A Clean Heart."

Chorus by the Brigade, "Oh come let us thank our Lord."

Duet, the Misses, Wiffins, "Your mother still prays for you."

Solo, Mrs. Wiffin, "Christ is all in all."

Saxaphone solo, Mr. Brown, "The Glory Song."

God Save the King.

Family Re-union Held at Manvers

On Monday, August 12th, the home of Mrs. Michael Sisson, near Bethany, in Manvers township, was the scene of great festivities and rejoicing, when her sons and daughters, children, grandchildren and great grandchildren gathered to hold a family reunion.

The date was an auspicious one, being the birthday of Mrs. Sisson's great granchild. Thirty-seven in all, representing the four generations, were present. A group photograph was taken.

Mrs. Sisson's sons and daughters are G. W., S. W., and John R. Sisson, all prosperous farmers in Manvers; M. H. Sisson, the well known shoe clerk, of town; and Will, residing with his mother on the old homestead; Mrs. Wm. Hannah, Mrs. Fitch and Mrs. Flack, the wives of Manvers farmers, and Annie, with her mother.

Though of advanced age, Mrs. Sisson is in remarkably good health and heartily enjoyed the day's proceedings. Her husband has been deceased for some time. She was one of twins herself, and twins are numerous in her descendants' families.

The day was spent very pleasantly and its joy will remain long with those who took part in the pleasant affair.

DIRECTIONS FOR SENDING IN ALARMS

A Key for the Alarm Box will be found hanging in a small box, with glass front, adjoining the Alarm Box. Break the glass, remove the Key, and open the Box; pull the lever down, when the Alarm is at once transmitted to the Fire Hall, Pumping Station, and residences of the Firemen. Do not attempt to remove the Key from Box, as this can only be done by the use of a small Releasing Key.

HOW ALARMS ARE SOUNDED

The number of the Ward from which the Alarm is sent in is always sounded on the bell, which also constitutes the first number of the Box nearest to the fire, and when an Alarm is sounded, the Ward number is given first, then a pause, and then the remaining numbers of the Box.

Tribute Paid To S. A. Band

How Peterboro' Musicians Were Received in Belleville

The Salvationists of Peterborough have excellent reason to be proud of their band which is now on its first summer tour and which last night gave a concert in this city, says Belleville Intelligencer. Thirty-five in number, neatly uniformed, and all playing silver-plated instruments, with the exception of course, of the drums and string bass, Bandmaster Greene's boys—and girls—made a decidedly fine appearance. And they didn't stop at looks. They had the musical goods all right, and delivered them in large quantities. To begin with, the instruments were in perfect tune, which is more than can be said for all bands. The effect would have been better had the concert been given in a larger hall for the volume of sound last night was rather deafening at times. However when the band struck up on the first number, "Prise March No 2" listeners knew at once that they were up against the real thing in brass band music—the Peterborough S.A. band has no reeds. The different numbers were given with a dash and swang that strongly reminded one of the famous Black Dike band; the different soloists handled their parts in a surprisingly clever way; the tone color though, with reeds intermixed, it might have been more melodious, was full, round and very harmonious: in attack and precision the band showed itself well nigh the equal of many much more pretentious organisations, which have visited Belleville; they were alert to every movement of the decidedly clever conductor, Mr Greene—in short, the band showed up as a really excellent musical organisation. It would, no doubt, be a treat to hear them in "Zampa" or "William Tell." Brigadier Hargrave was the chairman. Some vocal solos were nicely rendered and the pianiste, Mr. Hamilton, deserves more than a passing word of praise.

One of the most pleasing numbers last night was the instrumental quintette by two cornets and three trombones; another splendid number was the band selection "Happy Day." The dear old tune "Nelly Gray was introduced, and the variations and runs of those cornet players were something to remember.

Taken altogether, the Peterborough S. A. band is strictly "all right." And that's no midsummer night's dream.

The band played on Front street at noon today and gave a concert on Victoria Park this afternoon.

Costs $2 to Hit A Chinaman

Police Court Doings This Morning—Magistrate Dumble Back Again.

For assaulting C. Woo and Sou Fun, two celestials ,who keep a restaurant at the corner of George and King streets, last evening, Vermar Wright was fined four dollars to be paid in ten days, at the police court this morning.

His Worship Magistrate Dumble was again on the bench and dealt out justice.

C Q Woo was put in the box. He stated that he had been working in the kitchen and went to the door to cool off. The defendent came along with a stick in his hand telling him to get in out of the door Wright hit witness on the shoulder and when the other Chinaman came to witnesses' assistance, he struck him on the head raising a big lump.

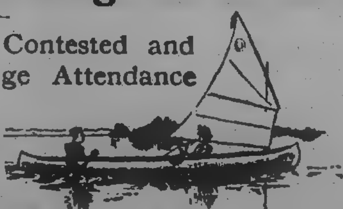
Wright went into the box. He said that he was going along the street with two little spaniels and when he got in front of the restaurant ab ull dogr an out at them. Witness struck at it and then out came C. Q. Woo who witness says chased him with a knife. Witness turned around and hit him on the shoulder. He denied hitting the other one

His Worship said that he did not think these Chinamen would lay false informations. They had a right to protection and they lived peaceably He fined defendant two dollars in each case.

Geo Welding, an old man, who was put out of the Protestant Home on account of having such a bad temper was charged with being a vagrant. He has been sleeping out at nights and his Worship sent him up to Castle Nesbitt for an indefinite term.

Most Successful Regatta Ever Held in History of the Chemong Yacht Club

The Events Were All Keenly Contested and Aroused Much Interest—Large Attendance From All Points on the Kawartha Lakes—Some Close Finishes—The Winners of the Different Events of the Day



Despite the rather threatening weather of Thursday, the annual Chemong regatta was pulled off without a hitch or an incident that would in ay way mar the pleasure of the day.

It was the greatest success in years and it was the prevailing opinion that it was the best regatta ever held at this popular resort under the auspices of the Chemong yacht club. There were a number of interesting events and yet not too many that would tend to make the affair monotonous. They were well contested and some very interesting finishes were made.

The crowd was one of the largest that ever gathered at the park. The resort was thronged with visitors and people were seen wending their way to this beauty spot from all directions and at all times of the day. They started shortly after dinner and from then on until abut nine o'clock in the evening Chemong was the rendezvous of a great many people. The Chemong road was lined with buggies, busses, bicycles and every other kind of vehicle in which one might reach the scene of all the fun. A like condition existed on the the other roads leading thereto. A great many came from Lakefield and from all the surrounding points on the Kawartha lakes. Employees of the city stores and others, who get their weekly half holiday on Thursday took in these acquatic sports. That the Stony lake cottagers reciprocated the patronage the Chemong cottagers paid their regatta was evidenced by the large number who took in the excursion of the steamer Stoney Lake to Chemong. Over 150 came from Stony Lake and everyone went away delighted with the afternoon's sport. In addition to the steamer Stoney Lake, the "Alberta" brought a large party. Mr Jas. Acton's launch the "Hiawartha," also conveyed a company from Stony lake.

The Esturion also brought about two hundred passengers from Sturgeon Point and Bobcaygeon. Sturgeon was well represented and the visitors certainly were not at all backward in cheering their boys and girls, who won a goodly number of the events. It is estimated that about 2000 persons were present.

The park looked its prettiest on Thursday and everything presented life and happiness. The cottages were nicely decorated and looked very attractive. The pavilion was ornamented with flags and bunting as was also the yacht club's boat house. At any time of the season Chemong is very pretty and attractive, but it seemed to be especially so on Thursday. The people were lined all along the bank and the club house balcony was well filled with persons. Every point of vantage from where the races could be viewed was utilised and from the lake the bank lined with its hundreds of people presented a pretty scene. The lake also was dotted with yachts, skiffs and canoes, all loaded with persons who could watch the races better from a boat than on the land.

The course of the races at Chemong regatta outclasses that of Stony lake inasmuch as one can see the whole course and especially advantageous is this in the sailing events. They can be watched from the start to the finish, whereas at Stony lake the course is partly hidden by islands.

The Chemong course for the sailing events was about six miles, and for the canoe and skiff races from Mr. Haywood's island as far as the judges stand which was just out in front of the club house.

About two o'clock the judges went out to their place and the first event was called. The wind was not very strong on Thursday, but there was a nice little breeze blowing and the sailing contests were able to be run off. There was enough breeze for sailing and not too much that would in any way make the rowing or paddling events difficult to accomplish.

SAILING EVENTS.

The sailing events were the most interesting of the day's programme, and the finishes were very close. Probably in no previous year have the sailing competitions aroused so much interest and the finish in each been so exciting. The open sailing race was won by Mr. Robt. Shaw, of Stony Lake, and it might be mentioned that Mr. Shaw is now champion of the Kawartha lakes. He won the event at Sturgeon Point, Stony Lake and Chemong regattas. He is an expert sailor and his boat is one of the finest on the lakes. It has a large area of sail, carrying some 324 sq. feet of canvas, and it certainly can travel at a fast rate. Mr. Shaw receives a handsome silk pennant as prize. His boat was followed closely by the "Cygnet," sailed by Mr. Harry Hall. A special prize was offered for 18 foot sailing boats in this open event. This prize was won by "Sam Pau," Mr. Milne Hamilton's boat.

The most exciting event of the day was the dinghy race for the Kawartha lakes challenge cup. It was captured by Mr. A. A. Hollingshead's dinghy, the "Vonda." It was one of the closest finishes ever witnessed in a dinghy race. There were nine entries in this event, but before the race was won several dropped out. At the end of the first round "Sam Pan" was leading and near the close of the last round "Vonda" and "Sam Pan" were even. It looked like a dead heat, but when within two feet of the finish "Vonda" got ahead and won out, but only by the narrowest margin. Thus Mr. Hollingshead takes first prize and Mr. Milne Hamilton second. The canoe sailing race was not run off, there being not sufficient breeze when the time came to have it.

During the sailing events the men's tandem canoe race was run off. This was won by Messrs. T. Colin and A. Nicholls, and F. Jopling and E. Coons were second.

The ladies tandem canoe race was captured by Misses Flavelle and Knowlson, of Sturgeon Point, and Misses Given and Helen Hall came second.

The girl's tandem canoe race under 18 years, was a good event and closely contested. Misses Ada Mimms and M. Denne were first and Misses Mildred Bull and Jean Hill second.

The boy's single canoe race was very close. Master W. Knowlson, of Sturgeon Point, landed first prize and Master Percy Stock, of Stony Lake took second place.

The rowing skiff for men's singles was entered by seven and all finished very close. Mr. C. Telford captured the first prize and Mr. A. Bowler second place.

In the ladies single rowing race. Miss MacDougall, of Sturgeon Point, took first place and Miss Genevieve Sanderson, who won first place in a like event at Stony Lake, came second. There were only three entries.

In the men's singles there were four entries, and at any stage of the race it would have been hard to say who would win out. Mr. Fred Jopling finished first, followed very closely by Mr. J. Conway.

In the ladies single canoe race, Sturgeon Point again was victorious and incidentally it might be remarked that there were few events that Sturgeon Point was not represented and in almost ever case won out. Miss Ryerson took first and Miss Knowlson came second. Both young ladies came from Sturgeon Point.

The canoe paddling for four men was outside the sailing events the best on the programme. There were four entries, and Sturgeon Point again carried off all the honors. Messrs. Simpson, Knowlson, Ryerson and Forth were first, and Messrs. B. Hopkins, R. Wilson, N. Bell and G. Warren were second.

The gunwale race was most amusing. There were eight entries. They had to paddle standing on the gunwale of their canoe. E. Coons won first in this and Fred Roy took second. The crab race was another laughable contest and a large number entered. Paddling in the bow of the canoe is the rule laid down in a competition of this kind. Dave Bull took first in this and Harold Hill captured second. One of the entries had an upset.

GASOLINE LAUNCHES.

The gasoline launch race was a good feature of the regatta. The first one was for launches 3-horse power and under and launches 6-horse power and under. In the first class, the prizes were taken by Sturgeon Point. There were three entries, the "Viking," "Roy II." and "Altyre," and the race was won in the above order. The "Viking" is Mr. B. Hopkin's launch, and "Roy II" belongs to Mr. Wilson, of Lindsay.

In the second class there were only two entries, the "Wabaso" and the "It." Both are motor boats and are built for speed. "It" also belongs to Wilson, of Lindsay, and took the race from Commodore Bull's "Wabaso."

The judges of the events were Messrs. Walter Davidson, Alex. Elliott. W. H. Hill, Bull. J. Z. Rogers and R. M. Roy.

THE DANCE.

In the evening the prizes were presented by Mr. T. F. Matthews in the pavilion, after which a delightful hop in which a large number participated, took place. Excellent music was provided by a local orchestra.

The following is a summary of the events:—

Canoe paddling, men's tandem—1st F. Colin and A. Nicholls; 2nd F. Jopling and E Coons.

Canoe paddling, ladies' tandem—1st Misses Flavelle and Knowlson; 2nd Misses Hall.

Canoe paddling, boys' 16 years and under.—1st W. Knowlson; 2nd Percy Stock.

Postal Delivery Has Been Started

Stratford Gets It Long Before Peterborough—Something Wrong.

Peterborough has not yet been able to get free delivery of the mails. The system should have been inaugurated here long ago. The Government claims that everything is ready, but no men ar eavailable .The Post Office Department and the Postmaster General are well aware of the reason why men are not available. It is all a question of salary. If the Post Office Department or the Dominion Government think they can get men in this city to work for $400 per year they are away off. Some fifteen years ago, men could be had for that princely salary, but not now, and it is to be hoped never again.

Despatches from Stratford state that the system of street delivery has been started there. Why should a small place like Stratford be given the epreference to Peterborough? Is it because the men work cheaper there? Well hardly. When will the Toronto papers contain a similar despatch to the following from Peterborough.—

Stratford, Aug. 15.—The free postal delivery system was inaugurated in this city today for the first time. Seven carriers traversed the routes throughout the city and it is understood that this number will be supplemented in the near future, in order to make the service more complete and up to the needs of the public. Three deliveries will be made daily for business houses, two for the business and residential section and one for the outskirts of the city. The following carriers were appointed,—J. Dillon, J. A. Gough, C. McGuire, H. Lawson, J. Bannon, W. Austerberry, G. Dalgleish.

BROKE HER ANKLE

Mrs. George J. Forbes Brought to City Today to Undergo an Operation

Mrs. George J. Forbes of McCracken's Landing, who fractured the ankle of his right foot when jumping out of a buggy, was brought to Nicholls hospital this morning. She will have to undergo an operation. Her horse took fright at some girls carrying branches of leaves and ran away a few days ago.

WHEEL CAUGHT IN THE RUDDER

Steamer Otonabee Met With Slight Accident at Lakefield

The steamer Otonabee which went up the canal to Stoney Lake on Wednesday met with a slight accident on the return trip which laid it up at Lakefield yesterday. The rudder was caught in the wheel. The boat came down that night, however, and made its trip down to Idyl Wyld this morning as usual. There was no trip yesterday afternoon by the Otonabee.

THE SHOWING IN RECENT EXAMS.

Wait Until the Returns are Completed is Advice of "Parent"

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—I see in last night's issue of the Examiner that a member of the Board of Education, who evidently does not care to have his name published thinks that a "commission" should be appointed to enquire into conditions prevailing at the Collegiate Institute, in view of the alleged unsatisfactory showing, made by the pupils in the recent departmental examinations, as a very small proportion of those who wrote are said to have passed.

In the senior teachers' examination it is reported that only three out of 25 or more who wrote, were successful and that the percentage in the other examinations was very small.

Now sir— the trustee evidently forgets that the percentage of those from other High Schools and Collegiate Institutes who passed, is not nearly as large as last year, and until we learn the figures from outside institutions, would it not be well to suspend judgment. Then too, if I am correctly informed the examination papers this year were unusually difficult and severe, while a higher percentage of marks was required, in order to avoid being "plucked."

Let us be patient and withhold judgment for the present. I believe we have as competent and painstaking a staff of teachers in the Peterborough Collegiate Institute, as in any school in the province, and to jump at conclusions and to suggest "investigations," "commissions," etc. is a little too hasty.

Wait until we ascertain what proportion of those who wrote from other schools passed, and, when we have these figures at hand, it will then be time enough to suggest or demand this, that and the other thing. Further, when the marks come to hand we will also be able to tell in what subjects the greatest number of failures took place, and perhaps something may be done then to place the finger on the weak points and remedy matters, where greater strength and efficiency is required.

Yours, etc.,
PARENT.

Quaker Oats Co. Will Buy Barley

Any Quantity of Barley or Oats Will be Bought at Highest Market Price

The Quaker Oats Co. whose mammoth mills are located on the banks of the Otonabee river at the Hunter street bridge, make an announcement today that will be great news for the farmers in the district surrounding the city. For the first time since they have been running here, they will buy barley from the farmers. All farmers who have barley to sell are requested to drive it to the Quaker Oats Company's mills, where they will be paid the highest market prices.

The Quaker Oats Company will use the barley in the manufacture of their famous Stock Foods, and as the output is very large, they will purchase all the barley that is offered.

The Quaker Oats Co. will also purchase oats and hope to receive as large, if not larger quantities than ever before.

Few Reapers and Mowers Disposed of

The Crop Outlook Has Hurt Sale of Agricultural Implements

"Do you know," remarked a gentleman to the Review today, "that in spite of all predictions to the contrary and the hopeful views uttered on many sides, that the crop this year will not be more than a sixty per cent. one and I know what I am talking about. Some may be inclined to doubt the correctness of my assertion, but wait until the threshing is completed, and the returns in bushels will amply justify my prediction of the small yield all over Canada this year, as compared with the bountiful harvest of last year.

"Another effect of the late spring has shown itself in the sale of agricultural implements. Comparatively few binders, reapers and mowers have been disposed of. The farmers did not feel justified in buying in view of the crop forecasts, and are getting along with such machinery as they had last year. I understand there was a good sale of cultivators, drills, and other instruments used for spring work, but so far as harvest implements are concerned the output is not nearly equal to that of former years. However, manufacturers and farmers, after several fat years can surely stand a comparatively lean one."

Paul Late'l, an Italian, was badly scalded by falling into a hot water tank at the McClary Works in London, Ont.

A WONDERFUL CURE OF RHEUMATISM

THE CAUSE An excess of uric acid and ureates are deposited in the tissues of the body and joints, causing aches and pains which are called rheumatic.

All the various causes of rheumatism, such as the acute, articular, muscular and gout, have the same common cause—Uric Acid.

To effect a satisfactory cure the uric acid must be removed. This can only be done by introducing into the circulation a remedy which will dissolve the uric acid and stimulate the action of the excretory organs.

No Case That Ferrozone Can't Cure

The remarkable success of Ferrozone is due to the fact that it attacks the disease in the blood. It goes right to the root and cause of the trouble.

Ferrozone is a perfect solvent for uric acid and quickly destroys its evil effect. It stimulates and quickens the sluggish circulation and drives every trace of rheumatic poison out of the system.

Rheumatism Can't Last if FERROZONE is Used.

We have conclusive proof of this. The strongest possible endorsements from people who have been cured after all else failed. If you suffer from rheumatism yourself, or in case you have a friend or relative subject to this disease, read the following—they tell their own tale.

LIFE-LONG CRIPPLE CURED

Mr. Louis Noll, 15 Fulton street, New York, N. Y., writes: "Ever since boyhood I have been a sufferer from rheumatism. My joints were twisted and swollen, and the pain at times was really intense. I used gallons of liniments, vapor baths, and other treatments, but was first noticeably relieved by Ferrozone. It cured me perfectly after taking twelve boxes."

Mr. Henry Heer, Pharmacist, 23 Eldridge Ave., New York, vouches for Mr. Noll's absolute cure. He says: "Mr. Noll has been freed from chronic rheumatism by Ferrozone. For years he has not been so well, and today shows no signs of rheumatic trouble. It is a pleasure to recommend Ferrozone."

The BEST remedy for rheumatism that science has produced is Ferrozone—it is unquestionably the only sure and lasting cure. Sold everywhere by druggists. Price 50c per box or six boxes for $2.50—by mail to any address if price is forwarded to N. C. POLSON & CO., Kingston, Ont., and Hartford, Conn., U.S.A.

FERROZONE, THE ONE SURE CURE.

WILL NOW ARBITRATE

Telegraphers' Union Change Front and Submit Questions.

Railway Operators Will Not Obey Order—Strike Must Be Selected In New York, Not Chicago—Fund of $60,000 to Be Raised—Public Utilities Worked by Government In England.

Chicago, Aug. 17.—The officials of the Telegraphers' Union late yesterday changed front on the proposition to arbitrate and announced that they would accept the offices of the general board of arbitrators of the American Federation of Labor in settling the differences. This board consists of John Mitchell of the Mine Workers, Daniel J. Keen of the Longshoremen, and Samuel Gompers. It was Mr. Gompers who made the above announcement.

U. S. Labor Commissioner Neill left yesterday for Washington. Just before taking his train, he said that the telegraphers' strike could not be settled in Chicago, and that the only place where an adjustment could be reached was in New York.

At the conference held here Thursday night between President Small and Secretary Russell of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America, President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, and several other labor leaders, it was decided definitely that there should be no strike of the 47,000 railroad telegraphers of the United States. The operators will be called upon shortly to contribute a strike fund of $60,000. Two of their general officers attended the conference.

Interest In England.

London, Aug. 17.—The strike of the American telegraphers dominates public interest in England, especially in the midlands, where it delays market reports. Englishmen find it difficult to understand why private corporations in America are permitted to own such vital public utilities as the telegraph and telephone systems, and to charge extortionate rates.

Here the Government owns the telegraph system and charges a moderate rate. It pays its operators good wages and pensions them when superannuated.

In Great Britain there is a flat rate of a cent a word, no matter what distance. This applies even on messages from Penzance to Dundee, a distance of 1,100 miles. The newspapers pay 24 cents a hundred on press messages no matter what distance.

TELEGRAMS BY MAIL.

C. P. R. Operators Refused to Forward G. N. W. Despatches.

North Bay, Ont., Aug. 17.—The effects of the telegraph operators' strike is felt very keenly in Northern Ontario by business men and others. C. P. R. operators at North Bay have refused to transmit any messages handled by operators taking the places of G.N.W. strikers, and as a large part of the Cobalt telegraph business goes over the G. N. W. wires the situation is embarrassing. The C. P. R. Telegraph Co. is taking messages for points reached by the G. N. W., subject to indefinite delay. Messages from [illegible] North Bay, formerly transferred to the C. P. R. company, are held up now, as the operators will not send a word of G. N. W. business.

"Sudbury and other points west report C. P. R. operators as absolutely refusing to handle any G. N. W. business, and the company is not inviting trouble by insisting on the business being handled.

The North Bay office of the G. N. W. is sending Cobalt despatches by mail.

OTTAWANS HAD LESSON.

Refuse to Go Out on Sympathetic Strike Now.

Ottawa, Aug. 17.—Delegates from the Telegraphers' Union from Montreal were in Ottawa yesterday to endeavor to bring about a strike of local operators, but they met with a very cold reception. They were informed that there was absolutely no chance of such occurring here; that there were no grievances to adjust; and as the only reason for a strike would be "sympathy," the experience of the older hands in the strike of 1883 precluded all possibility of one now.

The Ottawa men struck in 1883 out of sympathy with United States operators; they were promised substantial remuneration all the time they were out, but did not receive a cent, and, worse than that, were not even informed of the end of the strike when it had been declared over, with the result that the operators were working across the border for over a week while here they were still out.

To add to the discomfiture, the Ottawa operators had agreed to bear the expense of the female operators, and this they had to do out of their own pockets.

So little interest was taken in the visit of the delegates yesterday that their names and credentials were not even asked.

Pacific Rates Increase.

London, Aug. 17.—(C. A. P.)—Steamship lines engaged in passenger traffic in the Far East, including the Canadian Pacific Canadian-Australian line, have decided on an increase of 10 per cent. by reason of the increase in prices of coal, food and stores.

Bush Fire Burns Hotel.

Wiarton, Aug. 17.—A bush fire yesterday destroyed the Waverley Hotel, situated about 30 miles to the north of this place.

The hotel was owned by George Court, and the loss is about $5,000.

Lightning Strikes Hospital.

Kenora, Aug. 17.—During a severe storm lightning struck the tower of St. Joseph's Hospital and broke several windows. The patients were badly frightened.

Colored Youth Drowns.

Brockville, Aug. 17.—While bathing off the dock at Alexandria Bay, George Tompkins, a colored waiter at the T. I. House, aged 18, was drowned. Tompkins was the sole support of his parents. His father was formerly a slave on a southern plantation.

Ottawa Appointments.

Ottawa, Aug. 17.—Appointments gazetted this week include George Tait, to be port warden at Chatham, and Arthur Monteith, to be wharfinger of the Government wharf at Rosseau, [illegible]

CARS FALL INTO GORGE

Load of Dressed Meat Plunged Into Niagara Rapids.

Another Freight Train Wrecked on Lower Steel Arch Bridge—All Traffic Stopped—Quarters of Beef and Blocks of Ice Circling Round In Whirlpool — The Bridge Is Much Damaged.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Aug. 17.—A Grand Trunk freight train was wrecked early yesterday on the lower steel arch bridge over the Niagara Gorge. The bridge was damaged and four cars dropped into the Whirlpool Rapids. Traffic over the bridge was blocked until 11 a. m.

A heavy train of 35 loaded refrigerator cars was going from the G.T.R. yards on the Canadian side to the Lehigh Valley yards on the American side. There was an engine at each end of the train, as there is an upgrade from the bridge to the Lehigh Valley yards. About the middle of the train a car mounted the rails at the switch near the Canadian side.

The heavily loaded cars tore along over the ties for a short distance, cutting them badly, and, in fact, for probably 25 yards breaking them through between the two tracks. Four cars rolled to the north side of the bridge, and, leaving the tracks, shot into the chasm below. Three struck the water and disappeared instantly, the fourth struck on the rocks near the water and was smashed into kindling wood. The cars were all Swift's, loaded with fresh meat.

The front engine pulled away from the wreck with 13 cars attached, but left one disabled at the American side of the bridge. The local wrecking crew was at once called out and the Hamilton derrick was sent for.

It seems a very peculiar thing that two wrecks have occurred on this bridge within a few months, when it is remembered that the first that ever occurred was this spring. Only on Wednesday of this week was a new railing put up to replace the sections carried away in the last wreck.

POACHERS AFTER BUFFALO.

Rangers May Be Employed to Safe-Keep Them.

Ottawa, Aug. 17.—Inspector A. M. Jarvis, who was sent north in June into the Mackenzie River country, reports that the destruction of buffalo is done by poachers, who have headquarters at Smith Landing, about 400 miles north of Athabaska Landing, and recommends that the whole Mackenzie River district be patrolled in order to prevent this slaughter.

Col. Fred White is of opinion that the best method would be to set aside a reserve and employ trained rangers to gradually drive the buffalo from the north down into this reserve, where they could be easily protected.

The total number of buffalo in the district is estimated at 300. They are of the long-haired kind, known as wood buffalo, and their skins are very valuable, while a buffalo head is now worth upwards of $250.

ELOPERS CAUGHT.

Must Stand Trial for Stealing Rig at Guelph.

Guelph, Aug. 17.—Edward Hornbostle and Mrs. Streeter, who eloped several days ago in a livery rig, were arrested at Aberfoyle and pleaded guilty before Magistrate Saunders to theft of the horse and buggy. Both were committed for trial in the fall.

Thursday High Constable Boyle and Chief Parnell of St. Catharines covered 125 miles in an automobile in a wild-goose chase after the couple.

APPRECIATES THE KING.

Premier Botha Wants to Purchase Big Diamond.

Pretoria, Aug. 17.—Premier Botha yesterday announced that he would introduce a resolution in Parliament providing for the purchase by the Government of the Transvaal of the $1,000,000 Cullinan diamond, the largest in the world, as a present to King Edward in token of the loyalty and appreciation of the people of the Transvaal of the bestowal of a constitution on the colony.

G. B. Shaw Has Close Call.

London, Aug. 17.—(C. A. P.)—According to The Daily Mail, George Bernard Shaw has had a narrow escape from drowning.

He was swimming off Llanbord, Merionethshire, with a friend, when the current carried them away and prevented them from returning to the shore.

After a long time they were landed on a distant sand bank, whence they were rescued.

Mr. Shaw was utterly exhausted, and had given up hope of returning to the mainland alive.

He says he only kept swimming to postpone the unpleasantness of drowning as long as possible.

Irish Tenants' Bill.

London, Aug. 17.—The Irish evicted tenants' bill passed its third reading in the House of Lords yesterday, but the amendments of the Upper House, restricting compulsory powers, are so radical that the Earl of Crewe, Lord President of the Council, said in winding up the debate that the Government could not accept them. He did not despair, however, of arriving at a compromise, and he was still hopeful that the bill would pass in a shape fair to all parties.

Fire at Neustadt.

Toronto, Aug. 17.—A long-distance telephone message last night stated that fire had damaged the brewery and half a dozen houses at Neustadt.

Cholera Outbreak.

Brest, Litouvak, Poland, Aug. 17.—An epidemic, supposed to be cholera, has broken out in the Jewish quarter of this town.

TWO DEAD, FIVE INJURED.

Blaze at Old Orchard More Serious Than First Reported.

Old Orchard, Me., Aug. 17.—Two lives were lost and five persons were injured, three seriously, as a result of the fire which swept through this sea resort Thursday, causing a loss of $300,000; insured for about one-third.

The dead are: Philip Partridge of Pittsburg, Pa., killed by locomotive while crossing track on way to fire.

Unidentified man.

Seventeen summer hotels, sixty cottages and a score of buildings occupied by stores, were destroyed.

The explosion which caused so many injuries occurred in Hogan's drug store, on Old Orchard avenue. It is believed that the fire started from an overlighted lamp. The total insurance on the burned property, it is said, will not exceed $100,000.

As a result of the fire, the season here is brought to an abrupt close, as only one large hotel, Old Orchard, remains. All trains yesterday were packed with persons leaving the seashore.

The persons who were driven from the hotels were compelled to spend the night on the beach. A stiff breeze blew in from the sea, and many suffered, especially the children. Brushwood fires were kept going all night, around which the refugees sat in shivering groups, waiting for the dawn and the warmth of the sunlight.

Five Killed in Collapse.

Chicago, Aug. 17.—Five persons were killed and 11 others injured, three seriously, yesterday by the collapse of a two-storey building at 55 Fry street.

The bodies were taken from the ruins by policemen and firemen, who risked their lives when compelled to crawl under the building to reach the victims.

INTENSIFIED FRUIT JUICES AN IMPROVEMENT ON NATURE

A Discovery that is Revolutionizing Medicine.

Remarkable Success Attends the Finding of a New Medicinal Compound by Combining the Juices of Apples, Oranges, Figs and Prunes.

Fruit helps to keep one healthy. Fruit, in itself, will not cure disease. The medicinal principle—or that part of fruit which has a curative effect—is in such infinitesimal quantities, that it is unable to overcome a diseased condition of the stomach, liver, bowels, kidneys or skin.

Just here is where science stepped in. An Ottawa physician did what nature could not do. He first found that some fruits were stronger medicinally than others—and that apples, oranges, figs and prunes contained all the healing properties of other fruits. There are two principles in fruit juices—bitter and sweet. After extracting the juices of the four fruits mentioned, this physician succeeded in replacing one atom of the sweet principle by one of the bitter. This resulted in an entirely new combination being formed. This new compound was many times more active medicinally than the fruit juices. Where eating fruit only helped to keep one well, this compound actually cured disease.

To make it more valuable still, this physician added the finest tonics and antiseptics, and then, by evaporating the entire compound to a powder, made it into tablets.

This, in short, is the method of making "Fruit-a-tives"—these wonderful tablets — the most reliable cure for Constipation, Biliousness, Stomach Troubles, Kidney and Bladder Disease and Skin Affections. Being made from fruit, "Fruit-a-tives" may be taken by women and children without fear of ill-effect.

Don't take a substitute. If your druggist does not handle them, send 50c for a box to Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

FUGITIVES ARE MISSING

Europeans Who Left Morocco Not Yet at Tangier.

Sultan Greatly Disturbed — Moslem Doctors Demand Holy War—Medical Help For Wounded Is Inadequate — Many Will Die — French General Getting Anxious—Kabyles Are Gathering For Attack.

Tangier, Aug. 17.—There is considerable uneasiness here over the non-arrival of a number of fugitive Europeans represented to have left Morocco City last Saturday under a strong escort and who were expected here last Monday.

Reports are arriving from Casablanca of heartrending scenes, wounded persons are now coming out from all sorts of hiding places. Slight wounds that could have been promptly cured had medical attention been available, are now mortified, and many of the unfortunate natives have to face amputation, and even that may be too late to save their lives. The French medical staff at Casablanca is altogether inadequate to deal with these numerous cases.

The Sultan is said to be greatly disturbed by the attitude taken by the Ulema, the body of Moslem doctors of the law who interpret the Koran. On learning of the occupation of Casablanca by the French the cadi of Fez with several other members of the Ulema, supported the demand of the influential shereef of Kitani for a holy war, and the Sultan is reported to fear deposition, or even assassination, if he declines to take himself personally at the head of the movement.

Casablanca, Aug. 17.—The town was quiet yesterday and business is being transacted. The French authorities are still engaged in clearing up the streets, burning the dead and collecting property.

A quantity of loot has been found and it will be sold for the benefit of the sufferers from the bombardment and rioting. The number of persons killed has been exaggerated.

Killed by Warships.

Probably about a thousand men were killed in the fighting and massacre. The majority were Arabs, killed by the fire of the warships. Only 5,000 persons remain here, and the rest have fled to Gibraltar, Tangier or Spain. The town is now under the control of the French and Spanish authorities and no further trouble inside need be feared. French troops to the number of 3,000 are camped about a mile to the east of Casablanca. Their outposts are in touch with the Moors, and continual skirmishes are occurring.

The Moors have received large reinforcements and the French and Spanish authorities hear that they are planning a great attack on Casablanca for to-day, when, they say, they will drive the foreigners into the sea and burn the town. They are ample troops available to repulse any attack.

Paris, Aug. 17.—The correspondent of The Matin at Casablanca says that seaport is entirely surrounded by Kabyles. Gen. Drude, the commander of the French forces, is showing signs of anxiety. He constantly visits the outposts night and day.

CIRCUS HANDS WERE COOL.

Seats Collapse Throwing Spectators to Ground—Several Injured.

Brockville, Aug. 17.—A panic was only averted during the afternoon performance of the Forepaugh & Sells Bros.' Circus at Burlington by the cool and prompt action of circus employes in calming the excited spectators when a section of seats, containing between 500 and 600 people, collapsed, precipitating the occupants to the ground. Several persons were seriously hurt. Seventeen actions for damages, totalling $27,000, have been started.

SUICIDES AS SHIP SINKS.

Captain of Doomed Barque Couldn't See Passengers Drown.

Buenos Ayres, Aug. 17.—Details received here of the wreck in Flirdero Bay of the American barque Prussia, from Norfolk, March 20, for Port Townsend, announced from Punta Arena, Strait of Magellene, Thursday, say that the captain committed suicide when the vessel ran ashore, and that 14 passengers, in addition to four sailors, lost their lives.

Ontario Boat Wrecked.

Watertown, N. Y., Aug. 17.—The steamer Orien, Capt. L. Bernier, bound for Oswego, with pulpwood, is ashore on Calf Island in eastern Lake Ontario. The crew reached the island in safety, but the steamer is filled with water and will probably prove a total wreck.

The craft is owned by the Quebec Transportation & Forwarding Co. of Quebec.

Baltimore Fireman Killed.

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 17.—It was thought that the work of the firemen, who had for hours fought flames in a big five-storey warehouse on West Baltimore street yesterday, was about finished, when the fifth floor collapsed and a dozen or more firemen were caught in the wreckage.

One of them, George D. Gill, died later.

Had Narrow Escapes.

Winnipeg, Aug. 17.—A collision took place here yesterday when a freight train and a switching engine came together. There was a great pile of debris, four cars being wrecked. The family of Superintendent Thompson were in a private car attached to the freight, and they had a narrow escape.

Blake Returns In Poor Health.

Montreal, Aug. 17.—Edward Blake, who was a passenger on the Empress of Britain, arrived here last night. Mr. Blake is in very poor health. He left for Toronto, where he will rest for some time.

TO PROBE ESSEX EXPLOSION.

Dominion Inspector Will Conduct Investigation Into Causes.

Windsor, Aug. 17.—E. C. Lalonde, accident inspector for the Dominion Railway Commission, reached Essex yesterday with Nelson R. Butcher, official stenographer for the Commission, and immediately began his investigation into the causes of the explosion which wrecked the town last Saturday.

The investigation will be entirely apart from the one started by the crown attorney, and will be for the purpose of presenting the facts to the Commission in an effort to diminish chances of similar explosions in the future.

Inspector Lalonde comes with full power to swear in witnesses and examine them, and he is confident of obtaining some valuable data regarding the shipping of high explosives, a subject on which the Commission is anxious to be informed, this being the first serious accident of the kind in Canada since Mr. Lalonde has been inspector.

Cheese Markets.

KINGSTON, Aug. 16.—At the Frontenac Cheese Board to-day, 661 colored were boarded and 125 white. The opening figure was 11c and the closing 11 3-16c, at the latter figure, about one-half were sold; the remainder were held for a higher figure.

Harvesting Wheat.

Regina, Sask., Aug. 16.—The wheat harvest throughout Saskatchewan commenced yesterday. The yield generally is very heavy.

LIMITATION OF ARMAMENT.

Sir Edward Fry, British Delegate, Is Against the Proposal.

The Hague, Aug. 17.—Sir Edward Fry, head of the British delegation, has communicated the text of the speech which he is to deliver before the Peace Conference, on the question of the advisability of the limitation of armaments, to Baron Marschall Von Biebenstein, head of the German delegation, in order to avoid a misunderstanding on the subject.

For the same reason strong pressure is being exercised on some of the Latin-American delegates, in order to prevent them from presenting, as they have announced their intention of doing, propositions regarding the limitation of armaments. It is reported that Baron Marschall Von Biebenstein is ready to leave the hall of the conference if the Latin-American delegates carry out their purpose.

In his speech, which will be delivered to-day, Sir Edward Fry will announce that Great Britain is ready to communicate yearly her program for the construction of warships, and the expenses involved, to all the powers agreeing to furnish Great Britain with similar information. This exchange of news, Sir Edward thinks, will facilitate a further exchange of views regarding the limitation of armaments.

Conference Ends Soon.

The Hague, Aug. 17.—It is now regarded as assured that the Peace Conference will end between Sept. 10 and Sept. 15.

PURE FOOD BILL ADOPTED.

John Burns' Measure Passes House of Commons—Rigid Regulations.

London, Aug. 17.—The pure food bill introduced by John Burns, president of the Local Government Board, was adopted in the House of Commons yesterday. This bill enables the Board of Trade to institute stringent regulations for the "prevention of the danger arising to the public health from the importation, preparation, storage and distribution of impure articles of food."

In the course of the final discussion on the measure, Mr. Burns promised that the Local Government Board would see that no partiality was shown any interests, home, foreign or colonial, in the enforcement of the measure.

The bill, he said, was absolutely necessary, especially as some of the colonies which had made such a fuss about sending Great Britain only the best food were already withdrawing the regulations which ensure wholesomeness. He heard also, Mr. Burns continued, "from countries not colonies," that the "so-called vigorous regulations already had been relaxed, and that things were drifting to the lax conditions, the revelations of which a year ago had shown that Great Britain was in danger.

YOUNG GIRL KILLED.

Fell In Front of Train—Head Severed From Body.

Winnipeg, Aug. 17.—A girl, 12 years old, had her head cut off at West Fort yesterday afternoon. She was playing in a coal dump, when the train came along and she fell off the coal pile on to the railway tracks. The train ran over her, severing her head from her body.

A man was run over here last night. He endeavored to jump on an express train. His hand was cut off and his head split open. He was taken to the hospital and is not expected to live.

LOADED STEAMER SINKS.

Boat Goes Down In 300 Feet of Water at South Bay.

Belleville, Aug. 17.—The steamer Gunion, laden with pressed hay and tomatoes, sunk in 300 feet of water at South Bay, Prince Edward County. She was at anchor at the time, and sank so quickly that the captain, the only man on board, had all he could do to escape. The cargo, which was uninsured, will be a total loss to A. Farrington & Co., American buyers.

WHITNEY MEETS BOOTH.

Ontario's Premier Promises Army Financial and Moral Support.

London, Aug. 17.—(C. A. P.)—Premier Whitney met General Booth, who is touring the country, at Whitchurch, and spoke at a subsequent meeting.

Referring to Canada's appreciation of the general as a social and religious reformer, he said Ontario was prepared to support him morally and financially.

Girl Drinks Carbolic Acid.

Montreal, Aug. 17.—Accused of stealing from her employer, Bernadette Brossard, a pretty young girl of 16, took poison yesterday morning, and an hour later was a corpse in Notre Dame Hospital.

The girl's employer was Joseph Lussier, restaurant-keeper, corner of Notre Dame and Dufresne streets. According to her employer, the girl had stolen a small sum of money, a dollar or two, and he threatened her with arrest.

Switchman Run Over.

Port Arthur, Aug. 17.—Samuel Hindle, C. P. R. switchman, was killed in the Fort William yards yesterday morning. He was riding on top of a box car, and was jarred off and fell underneath the wheels, which passed completely over his body, killing him instantly.

Del Val, Vicar General.

Rome, Aug. 17.—It is rumored that the papal secretary of state, Cardinal Merry Del Val, whose health is failing, will be appointed vicar-general of the Pope, succeeding Cardinal Respighi, who will succeed the late Cardinal Svampa as Archbishop of Bologne.

Editor Suicides.

Gimli, Man., Aug. 17.—Einar Olafson, a prominent citizen of this place, and editor of the local Icelandic paper, The Baldur, committed suicide by blowing out his brains with a revolver in his office yesterday.

A Chicago buyer was in Montreal, inquiring as to the price of horse carcases for meat.

AUSTRIA WELCOMES THE KING.

Full Agreement Reached Regarding Macedonia and Morocco.

Ischl, Austria, Aug. 17.—King Edward has arrived here on his visit to Emperor Francis Joseph. The exchanges between the two monarchs were cordial, and certain political matters were discussed and cleared up satisfactorily.

After a formal exchange of visits the Emperor took his guest to a family breakfast at the Imperial villa. In the meantime King Edward had received Baron Von Aehrenthal, the Austro-Hungarian Minister of Foreign Affairs. Later the baron called upon Sir Charles Hardinge, Permanent Under Secretary of the British Foreign Office, and the two conferred at length on Macedonia and Morocco.

It is understood that a full agreement was reached regarding Macedonia. Regarding Morocco, Sir Charles indicated that Great Britain would adhere fully to the terms of the Algeciras convention, holding that no third power had a right to intervene in this country.

The unconventional nature of the meeting here is in strong contrast to the glitter and military display attending King Edward's visit to Emperor William at Wilhelmshohe.

BURLINGTON WRECK.

Broken Flange Results In Loss of a Life.

Des Moines, Iowa, Aug. 17.—A special says that a fast Burlington train from Denver to Chicago was wrecked a mile east of Russell Thursday, injuring 11 persons, two of whom may die. The derailment of the front truck of the first mail coach, caused by a broken flange, was the cause of the wreck.

Louis N. Wilson, Kansas City, was killed. The severely hurt include: Mrs. J. B. Rysdel, New Brunswick, Canada, internally injured, may die.

Board of Health at Stony Lake

Chairman Eyres and Inspector Ball Went to McCracken's—Will Inspect the Islands

Special to the Review.

Stoney Lake, Aug. 16. — Messrs. Wm. Eyres, chairman of the local Board of Health, and Sanitary Inspector Geo. Ball, were up the lakes yesterday afternoon on a tour of inspection. They visited the spring at McCracken's Landing, where it is stated all the typhoid fever was taken from. They were not at all satisfied with the surroundings, but as the spring is no longer used for drinking purposes they could do nothing more. But the water is still running via the same course into the lake. This is not desirable and it is probable that some action will be taken to have the water piped from the first spring on the side of the road on the hill to the lake. This will prevent any contamination getting into the water except at the spring itself, and this can easily be guarded against.

Messrs. Eyres and Ball have also decided, it is understood, to make a thorough inspection of all the islands and main shore lines around the lake for the purpose of ascertaining their sanitary condition. The trip is to start next Tuesday and will last a couple or three days. When this is done they will report to the city Board of Health, and if anything serious is discovered it will be reported to the Provincial Board.

WILL ATTEND CONVENTIONS

Mr. S. E. Salls of the Canada Life Goes to Toronto for a Week

Mr. S. E. Salls, district manager of the Canada Life Assurance Company, leaves to-day for a week's stay at his home in Toronto. He will, during this time, attend the conventions of the Dominion and the National Life Underwriters' Associations which are both held in the Queen City this year, being a delegate from the Central Ontario Life Underwriters' Association in both instances. It is understood that Mr. Salls will give a very full report of the proceedings of the conventions at the meeting of the Central Ontario Association here on Monday evening, the 26th inst., the meeting being held in the Toronto Savings and Loan Company's board room.

The Weather Man Was Responsible

For No Concert by Band Last Night—First Miss of the Season

For the first time this season on Friday night, the 57th Regiment band was prevented from giving a concert in Victoria Park, owing to the rain. This was the first interruption to the Friday evening musical events, but there is really no cause for complaint considering the good luck this year and the hard luck last year when it rained on several Friday nights in succession.

This season twelve or thirteen concerts have been given. The music-loving people of Peterborough certainly must have a "stand in" with the weather man since he has done so well. And anyway the rain of yesterday afternoon and evening will do infinitely more good than magic music or mystic melody. It has raised a concert of joy and hope from the hundreds of farmers, gardeners and citizens who grew weary gazing at the parched ground and stunted vegetable development. Welcome rain! Thrice welcome.

Malcolm Graham was sentenced at Belleville to two year's imprisonment and thirty lashes for assaulting an English girl at Trenton.

Fire on Big Island Caused By Negligence of Picnickers

Forgot to Put Out the Fire After They Cooked Dinner—Country Was Very Dry and Yesterday's Shower Did a Lot of Good.

Special to the Review.

Stony Lake, Aug. 16.—What caused the fire on the big island in Stony Lake this week? is a question which many people are trying to answer. One gentleman, who is summering up the lakes, stated yesterday, that when he was going up the lakes the other day, there was a party of strangers on board the boat, sitting quite near him. There was a man and his wife and one or two children. As the boat came within sight of the fire, the different members of the party began to talk of the blaze, and the following is part of the conversation overheard,—

"That fire seems to be on the big island. Why that is where we had dinner yesterday."

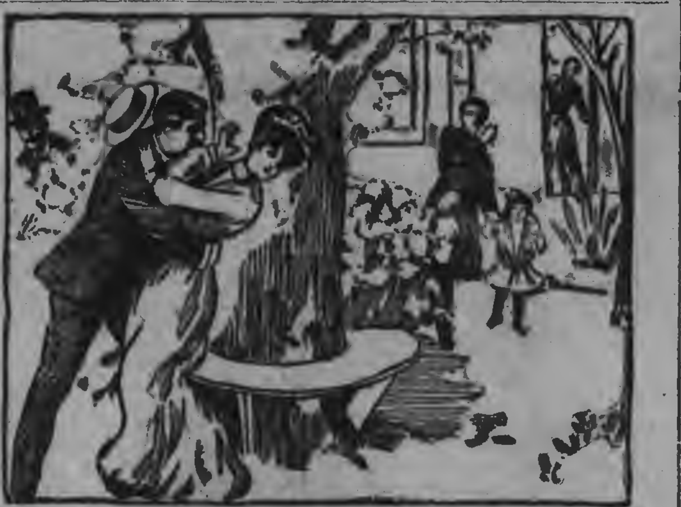
"I guess father you forgot to put out your fire before we came away," innocently remarked the little boy.

In that simple remark lies a tale which if investigated might lead to the discovery of how the fire started. It is a common thing for transient visitors to light a fire on the shores of the islands and go away without putting the coals out. This is the most dangerous thing a person can do, and the cottagers' association would do well to form themselves into a detective agency and watch for these careless individuals. When one is caught, if there is no law to punish him it would be a good scheme to have a public ducking and then place the prisoner in irons and leave him in the sun to dry, so that everyone could have a good look at him and take a lesson to themselves.

RAIN WAS NEEDED.

The past few weeks have been so dry that the young trees around Stony Lake were beginning to turn yellow and die. The grass was dried up and the moss in the woods and under the trees was so badly in need of rain that it cracked and crumbled beneath one's feet. It is year's since the islands and main land were in such a parched condition. Everything was in grand shape for a fire. A burning match or a cigar butt dropped any place was almost enough to start a blaze, and there was plenty of fuel to keep it going.

Yesterday there was a heavy rain which lasted several hours. It was the most welcome visitor that has been seen around that country this summer. It was welcomed by the cottagers, the birds, the cattle, the wild animals, and by nature. Everybody and everything wanted rain. They got it yesterday, and as soon as it began to fall a difference in the air could be felt and one could almost see nature revive and come to itself again.



SCENE FROM "A WIFE'S SECRET"

A beautiful story told in powerful melodramatic style, with laughter and tears cleverly blended. Opera House, Tuesday, August 20th.

Juvenile Offences Should be Checked

One of the most discreditable features of Peterborough is the large number of ill-mannered, vulgar and criminally inclined boys, ranging in age from six years upward.

One of the most serious charges that can be laid at the door of parents, is the gross neglect of their children, and there is an alarmingly large number of Peterborough parents who will have to face that charge.

It is surprising and most regrettable the many boys—mere children—who are every week found in the prisoner's box in the police court, while the number who deserve to be there is much greater.

The charges against these young criminals are theft, house-breaking, store breaking, and practically everything that a boy can be guilty of. Such offences as foul language, lieing, vulgarity, impudence, and every other offence against common decency, are not punishable in the police court, but are extremely prevalent on every street corner and public place in the city.

Is there no punishment within the power of the police magistrate for juvenile criminals? Is there no immediate punishment of negligent, indifferent and indulgent parents? Are the boys of today to be allowed to grow up in crime unchecked, only to bring disgrace upon the city and province when they reach the age of maturity and have become experienced and expert in wrong doing? If that is to be the case then should judgment rest upon the parents and officials who are responsible for the present deplorable state of affairs.

CELLAR FLOODED BY HEAVY RAIN

Bell & Taylor's Premises on Water St. Visited by Freshet

During the heavy rain storm yesterday afternoon, the cellar of Bell & Taylor, real estate dealers, Water street, was flooded, and the occupants had an experience which they would not care to have repeated.

A sewer connection has just been installed and the trench had not been filled up when the moisture descended. The result was that the rain ran into the basement in great quantities from off the street.

Several inches of water covered the floor. Finally men were secured and the trench filled up to the top. The real estate men had a lively experience while it lasted, and would not care to have it repeated.

FAIR SHOULD BE SUPPORTED

St. Luke's Parish Magazine says; "The Peterborough Exhibition promises to be the best ever held yet. Our enterprising friend, Mr. R. H. Leary, who is the president of the exhibition, is putting his whole energy into making this year's fair a great success. Whatever Mr. Leary takes in hand he is bound to put through. All he needs is the support and co-operation of Peterborough citizens, who should take a pride and a greater interest in their fair. Especially the farmers should help to make it a truly agricultural exhibit by exhibiting their products which, after all, are the "raison d'etre," of a fair.

The body of a young Scotchman named Davies was found near Mount Forest, by some women picking berries. A bottle near by contained traces of Paris Green.

A GOOD SWIMMER

Mr. Sherman McCracken, of town, who is stopping at McCracken's Landing, Stony Lake, last week made an attempt to swim across to the Juniper Island store. A strong adverse wind was blowing and the waves were rolling higher than usual. Nevertheless the young fellow reached Eagle Mount. The following day he made the attempt in calm water and came within a few hundred strokes of reaching the northern point of Juniper.

WEDDING BELLS

BIBBY—BREEN.

A very pretty wedding and one which is of considerable local interest, was solemnized in Buffalo, N.Y., on Tuesday, Aug. 6th. The contracting parties were Mr. William Bibby, general road master of the northern division of G.T.R., and Miss K. Breen, of Buffalo. The ceremony was performed at St. Columbus church by Rev. Father Crowley. The bride, who was beautifully gowned in cream voile over white satin, was attended by her sister, Miss A. Breen, while Mr. J. Kagan, of St. Thomas, performed the duties of best man. After the ceremony the wedding party, with their guests, drove to the home of the bride's mother at 426 Swan street, where a dainty and appetizing wedding breakfast was served. Following this were the congratulations to the happy couple, who left on an early train to visit for a couple of weeks in Detroit, Chicago, Pittsburg, New York and then return to Buffalo for a couple of days before going to their new home in Barrie, Mr. Bibby's headquarters.

The bride and groom are both well known in this city, the bride having visited here on several occasions. She is a trained nurse and at one time was superintendent at the Ross hospital in Lindsay, where her parents resided before going to Buffalo. The presents to the bride were numerous and of much value, owing to her large connection of friends and acquaintances among the medical profession in Buffalo. The friends of both the bride and groom here will extend hearty congratulations and best wishes.

The G.T.R. ask for a site near Major's Hill Park for the new station in Ottawa.

HOSIERY

Some store friend asked us the other day if we were not tired of running these special Saturday night Sales—of selling goods on such a small margin of profit—sometimes at no profit, and even at a loss.

Tired of them? NO! Decidedly no. We consider it the best store policy we ever inaugurated. It brings hundreds of shrewd, thrifty, prudent people; it teaches them the economies of the store—the dependableness of its merchandise. Here's the fiftieth, and we have been as untiring in preparing the bargain list as on the occasion of the first. Every counter in the store convinces you of that. You know the hour (7.30 p.m.)

MARRIED

TURNER — CAMPBELL — On Saturday Aug. 10, at the Methodist parsonage, Richard's Landing, St. Joseph's Island, Ont., by the Rev. Edward Crockett, Bertram J. Turner, Winnipeg, to B. Isabel Campbell, London, Ont.

A MESSAGE FROM MARS

Not long since "A Message from Mars" was presented in this city. Its splendid reputation had preceded its coming and there was naturally great desire to see it. It proved to be up to the standard of excellence and the approval given it here was the same as had been extended to it wherever it had been placed on view. Our theatregoers knew of its long and successful runs in London, New York and other cities. There was no disappointment upon the part of our theatre patrons after having seen the play, in truth they were in fact most agreeably surprised at the repeated excellent qualities of the comedy. "A Message from Mars" will again be presented here at the Grand Opera House, Thursday, August 22.

THE CITY AND VICINITY

NO LIGHT THERE.

The Campbellford Herald, Hastings Star and Warkworth Journal, will not be issued this week. Staffs are holidaying.

OBSERVE THE SUN.

Local astronomers should take a look at the sun these days. The spots on the sun's area are very beautiful and are well worth viewing.

AT ST. ANDREW'S

The Rev J. G. Potter will preach at both services in St. Andrew's tomorrow. Morning subject, "A way of Escape." Evening subject, "The only Hope." The Sunday school will meet at ten o'clock in the morning.

POOR APPRECIATION.

Goderich has two of the best local papers in Canada—papers worth many thousands of dollars annually to the best interests of the town. And yet the Council has this year passed these papers by and handed over the printing of the voters' lists to a job office, because of a trifling difference in price. One would hardly expect a town like Goderich to choose Councillors so lacking in good sense—and indeed in gratitude as well.

EVENT CALLED OFF.

A few of the members of the Citizens Band had arranged to run an excursion to Stony Lake per C.P.R. to Peterborough and thence over the lift lock to the lake, per steamer Otonabee, on our Civic Holiday, which was to have been on the 21st or 28th inst., but owing to the indifference manifested toward the project by the members of the band the excursion has been declared off. —Havelock Standard.

C. P. R. EXHIBIT.

The C.P.R. has issued its advertising matter for the Canadian National Exhibition, which is held Aug. 26, to September 8. The rates from Peterborough from the 26th of August to the 7th of September will be single fare, and there will be five special days on which the fare will be very low. One of the features of the exhibition will be the Canadian Pacific exhibit of grains and grasses of the northwest, photographs of the mountains and prairie and Pacific and Atlantic Coast scenery, and hotels and ocean steamships.

"ABOUT THE COMFORTER"

Much Praise for Local I.O.O.F. Men

How They Were Complimented at Grand Lodge Meeting

At the meeting of the Grand Lodge of Oddfellows held in Orillia this week it is pleasing to note that several local representatives came in for special mention in the reports. Mr. Jas. A. Tully, travelling representative of the Oddfellows' Relief Association was referred to in the Grand Secretary's report and Mr W. H. Hill, the retiring D.D.G.M. for the district, who is succeeded by

COL. W. J. MILLER
Candidate for Grand Warden

Bro R. J. Machett, was the subject of eulogy in the Grand Master's report. It is indeed pleasing to the 500 or more triple-linked gentlemen in Peterborough to find that earnest, faithful service is appreciated and recognized by the Grand Lodge.

Speaking of Mr. Tully the Grand Secretary, J. B. King, said;

In connection with the very gratifying increase in the number of lodges, as well as in membership, no small degree of credit is due to Bro. J. A. Tully, representative of the Oddfellows' Relief Association.

The Grand Master, W. S. Johnston in his report paid the following compliment to Bro. Hill;

Bro Wm. Hill, D.D.G.M., Peterborough District No. 32, occupies a high

MR. WM. HILL
The Retiring District Deputy Grand Master.

place in the long list of D.D.G.M.'s for the year. Like many others he rightly values the responsibilities of his office as well as the honor, and his reports show great care energy and enthusiasm in the work. His district has been increased by one new lodge, Mystic No. 378, at Marmora and the affairs of all the lodges may be said to be in good condition.

GRAND WARDEN

Col. Miller, who was not successful this year in being elected Grand Warden, is certain to be the man next year, when the Grand Lodge meets in St. Thomas. Mr. D. Derbyshire, M.P., of Brockville, who was successful in securing the coveted office said so, and what "Dan" says is generally right. The position of Grand Warden is, so to speak, the firing post or pivotal point for direct successorship to the post of Grand Master. Peterborough has in years past had the honor of having one Grand Master, Dr. R. W. Bell and before many years roll around Col. Miller's many friends expect to see him attain this distinction. Mr. M. W. Matchett, P.D.D.G.M., and retiring Grand Marshall of the Grand Lodge is also an enthusiastic Oddfellow and has held many important positions in the Order.

MR. M. W. MATCHETT
The Retiring Grand Marshall

Mrs. W. H. Gibbs, of Peterborough is a lady who has been greatly honored by the Rebekah Assembly. She is a prominent member of Golden Link Lodge, Daughters of Rebekah and was elected to the office of Grand Conductor of the Grand Rebekah Assembly of Ontario, and she was also appointed District Deputy Grand Master for the Rebekahs of this district. When it is recalled that Mrs. Gibbs has been a member of the Order only about nine months, it will be seen that her promotion has been rapid.

Pleasant Dinner Held at Oriental

By Local Graduates and Undergraduates of School of Science

An enjoyable reunion and banquet was held in the dining room of the Oriental hotel last evening when about 25 graduates and undergraduates of the School of Practical Science, Toronto, gathered around the festive board to exchange reminiscences and engage in a heart-to-heart talk among themselves about the "school."

The majority of those present reside in Peterborough and are identified with various industrial establishments here. A few who were in attendance intend going to the School of Practical Science when it re-opens. The guest of honor was Prof. Louis B. Stewart, of the staff of the institution who is spending his holidays at Stony Lake. During the evening an excellent toast was enjoyed and several college songs were sung with great eclat. Mr. C. E Sisson presided in an able manner and last night's social function will not soon be forgotten by those who had the pleasure of participating in it. The toast list was carried out as follows:—

Toast of Canada proposed by Mr. D. E. Eason, responded to by Mr. E. Jamieson.

School and Faculty, proposed by Mr R. Young and responded to by Prof. L. B. Stewart.

Our profession by Mr. E. B. [illegible]ler, responded to by Messrs. H. Munro and E. Doidge.

Other Colleges by G. S. Stewart and replied to by Messrs. G. R. Wright, a McGill College graduate, and Garnet Greer, of Queen's University.

Graduates proposed by Mr. McCordick. Mr. G. R. Munro replied

Undergraduates by J. H. Caster. Mr. Mowbray suitably acknowledged the toast.

Prospective students was replied to by Messrs. W. G. Hall and Graham.

Mr. A. G. Piper was responsible for the toast of the ladies, whose interests were modestly championed by Mr. H. Wilkie.

A very agreeable evening was brought to a close by the singing of Auld Lang Syne and the National anthem.

Cottagers Association Want System of Sewage Introduced

Member of Board of Health Asks the Board to Solve the Problem so That the System Can be Put into Operation Next Spring—An Important Matter.

At the last meeting of the Board of Health the matter of supplying a sewer system for the cottages at Stony Lake was once more brought up. For several years this important question has been introduced, discussed at one or two meetings, and then dropped without anything of a definite character being done. There are several members of the Board who have cottages at Stony Lake, and who are naturally greatly interested in the sanitary conditions of that resort.

Years ago when only a few people lived on the islands, and along the lake shores, it was not a serious matter whether the sewage matter was dumped into the lake or not. But the past two or three years has seen such a rapid increase in the tourist population that it has become necessary for the Board of Health to protect those people against themselves and to protect the people of Lakefield and Peterborough: the sewage of fifteen hundred or two thousand people for several months in the year is a serious matter, and one which cannot be trifled with.

The Provincial Board co-operated with the local board and prohibited any person polluting the waters of the back lakes or the Otonabee river in any way whatever. Thus the cottagers who were using the lake, and the majority of them were, had to provide some other way for disposing of their waste matter. This is where the trouble has been experienced. As is well known, most of the islands are solid rock, with practically no earth on them, and individual vaults or cess pools are therefore not satisfactory. Many of the cottagers are at a loss to know what to do.

One of the members of the Board of Health, brought the matter up at the last meeting, and expressed the desire that it be not dropped this time until a solution was found. He strongly favored a general system of collection. A campaign of education would soon bring the cottagers into line, and it would not be such a difficult matter to work it out. The great majority of them would be glad to fall in line with any scheme which would be reasonable. To discover that scheme is a work for the Board of Health, who might profitably see the co-operation of the Stony Lake Cottagers Association.

Large Stones Must be Removed

From Communication Road or Smith Council Will Take Action

The Municipal Council of the township of Smith met on Wednesday, August 7, at the County Council Chambers, Peterborough. All the members were present, with the reeve in the chair.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

A bylaw was introduced by Messrs. Graham and White, providing for the levying of the taxes for the present year, as follows:—For county rate and school equivalent, a rate of 2 391-1000 mills on the dollar, and for expenses of House of Refuge, 19-100 mills, and for the payment of the statutory levy to schools, a rate of 2 4-10 mills, which passed its several readings.

A bylaw was also passed, levying the sums required by the trustees of the several school sections.

The reeve was instructed to take legal proceedings against W. G. Johnston if the large stones placed by him on the road allowance between lots 4 and 5, west of the Communication road, were not removed before October 1st next, and also to take similar action against H. C. Garbutt if the River Road is not repaired, as agreed upon, where the sand and gravel has been removed by him or with his permission.

The following claims were ordered to be paid;—T H G Dennef overcharge in taxes, $2.39; P Hamilton Company, account, $6.83; W Rosborough, for work, $19; R C Heard, $10.20; Isaac Freeborn, $6.27.

Council then adjourned.

Young Ladies Had Close Call

Went Out in Old Punt Which Sank in Norwood Pond.

Two young ladies of town had a very unpleasant experience last Saturday afternoon, says the Norwood Register. While strolling about the pond at the north side of the village they came across an old punt and thought they would go for a sail. They got in and shoved out some distance from the shore when the old craft began to fill with water and sank before they could regain the shore. The timely arrival of Mr. John Rogers, who was sailing in a canoe some distance from them, saved them from almost certain death as they went down several times and were almost exhausted when taken out of the water.

Sold Invention For Large Sum

Norwood Man Disposes of His Automatic Cheese Box Machine.

Mr. D. J. McLean, of Norwood has sold to the Clark-Demill Machinery Co., of Hespeler, Ont., the right to manufacture and place upon the market, the McLean Automatic Cheese Box Machine. It is understood that Mr. McLean is to receive a large sum in cash and a royalty on every machine sold. Mr. Clark, of Hespeler, the senior member of the above firm, was in town on Saturday and arranged the deal, and Mr. McLean went to Hespeler on Tuesday to complete the same.

This machine which was invented and built by Mr. McLean is the only machine, we believe, which automatically makes a cheese box complete, doing all the nailing and tacking in one operation.

The nails and tacks are simply thrown into hoppers made to receive them and the machine automatically separates and drives them without any more attention from the operator.

The covers are made on the same machine, and it can be changed in a few minutes from boxes to covers or vice versa.

The machine is adjustable for any size box, from fifteen to seventeen inches.

The capacity is 150 covers per hour or one hundred boxes per hour.—Norwood Register.

LINDSAY NINE HAD HARD LUCK

Rank Playing Lost the Game to Peterborough

Speaking of the ball game which was played in Lindsay on Wednesday, the Post says in part:

Umpire Butler handed the game to Peterborough yesterday, when Johnson was allowed a life on first. The score was a tie, 7 all, until then. Johnson stole second, the ball going to centre field, got third and scored on a poor throw to the last sack. The run cost the game.

The entire nine innings was listless baseball, and the Lindsay nine had extremely hard luck. They touched up Burridge for eight safeties, but had a big list of errors chalked up to them. In the second innings the locals playing was simply rank, the Petes scoring five runs. However, the grey and reds pulled up even later. In the eighth innings the score was a tie, two men were out and two on bases, Nesbitt, who was at bat, drove one over shortstop's head. The left fielder happened to be playing out of his correct position and caught the ball.

THE TEAMS.

Peterborough brought up a fairly fast team to play the Lindsay nine a game for a benefit to go to an injured player. They had three intermediates and the rest Midland League players. Lindsay had but three of the old Midland League nine, the rest being all town Leaguers, with little experience. The locals were far from their best. The hard usage many of them got on Monday at Collingwood, taking the ginger out of them. Gray and Burridge were the opposing pitchers, and came off with about even honors, the former having one more strike out. Burridge was not blessed with a numerous assortment of curves but had speed to burn, and used his complete thinking attachment for all he could get out of it. He is an all-round and gentlemanly player. The Johnsons and Sharpe are experienced players and Curtis and Kenury put up good ball. Wilson also showed up to advantage behind the bat. Jack Gray, a local player filled out in left field. The Lindsay infield had nine errors to their credit—or rather discredit—and badly bungled the ball at times. The outfielders had not a lot to do, which may have been just as good for their reputations. The locals hit well and were fairly fast on bases, but were up against the real thing in the shape of hard luck.

Street Railway Company Has Doubled Its Carrying Capacity

Running 14 Cars and Employing 35 Men—Have Six Miles of Track—Traffic Rapidly Increasing—Extension to Young's Point Looked for in the Near Future.

At the present stage of the city's progress and the prosperity of its manufacturers and its citizens, it is a matter of interest to turn for a few minutes to the street railway, which daily transports the people to and from their work and pleasure. This corporation, which, it is true, received a good thing with its charter from the city, has been subjected in the past to much criticism and abuse, whether justified or not, is not for discussion just now.

In spite of the unfavorable comments, the company, which three years ago last April, got its rights and privileges from the city, has been making rapid strides, and each year has seen a substantial increase in its receipts. There has also been a corresponding increase in its expenditure, and the city receives a certain benefit thereby.

In 1893 the original Peterborough Radial Railway Company received its charter and was granted the rights to use the city streets. The majority of the stockholders were local capitalists, and they invested considerable money in the enterprise and got the road running. But they met with many obstacles, and, after operating the cars for a time, abandoned the enterprise. When the system lay idle until the present company took hold of it in April, 1904. Work was started at once upon reconstruction of the tracks and laying extensions, and the 1st of September, of 1904, the first car was started running. Since that time the service has been continuous and constantly improved until today, when the city has as good a service as any place in Canada for its size, and for the amount of traffic.

When the Peterborough Radial Railway passed into the hands of its present owners there was not nearly as much track as at present. The new management built the extension to Jackson Park and established the amusements there which have become so popular. It also continued the line from the Exhibition grounds down to the street railway wharf on the Otonabee river. Altogether there are six miles of rails laid down. This gives a very fair service to the greater portion of the city, although a long line in Ashburnham would be of vast benefit.

The line to Jackson Park has proved itself one of the most popular and profitable. It accommodates a large stretch of territory, which is thickly populated and which is some distance from the business centre. The establishment of the amusements at the park has been the means of increasing traffic. In the summer large crowds go out to enjoy the moving pictures, the cool air, and the attractive music of the 57th band. In the winter great crowds patronize the skating rink and toboggan slide, and thus swell the purse strings of the railway company, and thus make the road a reasonable proposition financially.

The extension in the south end to the river is also a great convenience, to a large portion of the city's population who go boating and who patronize the steamers plying between the city and Rice Lake points. Since the summer of 1904, however, there have been no extensions to the line, although several have been contemplated.

When the street railway was put into running order three years ago, there were five motor cars and two trailers. Today there are ten motor cars and four trailers, so that the accommodation has been doubled. At the start some seventeen or eighteen men were employed. Today there are thirty-five. This all means increased outlay and regular expenditure, but it was found necessary to accommodate the increase in the traffic, which in 1906 was at least 30 per cent greater than in 1905, while the prospects for this year are very promising.

In speaking of the street car traffic, the manager of the company stated that the business to Jackson Park this summer has not been so heavy as formerly, but the general traffic for business purposes is increasing rapidly. The public are beginning to use the cars for running about the city where they used to walk. This will, or should, get better every year as the city grows and a man's time becomes more valuable.

In regard to improvements and extensions to be carried out in the near future, it might be mentioned that a large programme has been prepared, but when it will be carried out is as yet indefinite. The most important of these is carrying the road to Lakefield and Young's Point. The survey has already been made, and an estimate of the cost is between $300,000 and $400,000, including the road bed, cars and all equipment ready to turn on the power and start the cars running. It is a large sum of money, and the company is still considering the advisability of requiring that much, while the money market is still so tight. But it will come some day, and in the near future. When it does it will be one of the greatest things that ever happened in Peterborough. A direct railway to Young's Point, meaning a saving of hours in the morning and at night for those with cottages up the lakes, and a great time saver for the people of Young's Point and Lakefield who come to the city. It would vastly increase the traffic to the lakes in summer and would be a great thing for the merchants of the city, who would be in a position to compete for the Stony lake trade to much better advantage than at present. The early completion of this road is as anxiously looked for by the merchants and citizens as the completion of the Trent Canal by the manufacturers.

At Jackson Park this winter several changes will be made in electric illumination. More lights will be placed in the park and the arrangement will be very artistic. The toboggan slide and skating rink have both proved profitable undertakings, and it is expected that next winter will be the best of all.

Wrong Report Was Circulated

No Fire at Stony Lake Since the One on Big Island—No Cottages Burned

It was rumored on the street in the city this morning that Mr. J. R. Stratton's cottage and Mr. Wm. Irwin's cottage at Stony Lake had been burned last night. Mr. T. W. Robinson's store was called up this morning, but they denied the truth of any such report. There has been no fire at any of the Stony Lake islands, except the bush fire on the "Big Island," and the last sparks of that were extinguished by yesterday's heavy rain.

In Defence of The Milk By-law

Chairman Wm. Eyres Replies to Trades and Labor Council

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—In your issue of the 15th inst., reference is made to certain action of a meeting of the Trades and Labor Council of this city, which I think is very unfair to our milk by-law. The sanitary inspector and the Board of Health. The report says:—

"The milk inspection by-law came up again last evening, and it was the consensus of opinion that the by-law was considerable of a farce. It was argued that what the consumers of milk desired to know was what milk vendors were selling pure milk and how much of it was "doctored." The names of the vendors, it was contended, should be published as well as a statement regarding the quality of the milk offered for sale and the sanitary conditions of the dairies. The statement was made during the evening that "doctored" milk was being sold in the city and better results would be achieved if the inspector would secure samples of milk, when being delivered to customers, have it tested and give results of tests to the public."

The milk by-law is a marvel of excellence and fair dealing when compared with the above. In the report of milk published the name of each vendor, the percentage of butter fat, and the fact that in no case was any adulteration found in the milk, said milk having been taken from cans from which vendors were supplying milk to their customers, the said vendors having no knowledge when the inspector would call a halt till he got sample of the milk, which said vendor was then selling.

The cow stables were inspected early last spring and in most places in good order. A few stables required "cleaning up," which was done.

I would suggest that parties before rushing into print use due diligence to gain some knowledge of what they propose to write about before putting their views before the public.

Respectfully yours,
W. EYRES.

Will Return on Monday Morning

Salvation Army Well Received on Tour—Concert Here Monday Night

The members of the Salvation Army band who are on a ten days tour are expected home on Monday morning. They will give a concert in the S.A. barracks here on Monday evening and will be given a cordial welcome. The band will contribute their best programme on Monday evening. Brig. Hargrave, of Montreal, who is travelling with the band, will also be here. The citizens should give the band a good reception on their return.

Speaking of their reception in Campbellford, a member writes:—Our demonstration here was even greater in this line of concerts than any before. The largest hall in the town was secured an dit was filled to overflowing; standing room was all taken up, many people standing who never attended any demonstration; the largest crowd, people say, they ever saw in the town hall. We all got good places to stay, and all used us with greatest of kindness. We expect great times in Napanee and Tweed and at our home-coming welcome concert in Peterborough. Our trip has been a greater success in any place than either the Temple or Staff bands.

DAIRIES WERE ALL INSPECTED

Were in Good Order Last Winter —Cows are Now Out at Pasture

In speaking with some of the medical health officers in the city in reference to the inspection of dairies, it was stated that the dairies and barnyards were all inspected last winter and a report made. There are no barnyards this time of year, as the cattle are all out to pasture, and cannot help but be clean.

The establishment of a central office for the sale of all municipal debentures was advocated by Mr. Kinnaird of Edmonton at the Union of Municipalities' Convention at Fort William, and met with a favorable response.

Presentation to Miss Mabel Curtis

By Miss Might's Class of George Street Church

A very pleasant social gathering was held at the home of Miss E. Might, George street, on Friday evening, at which the girls of the class expressed their best wishes to Miss Mabel Curtis on leaving for Hazelton, B. C., by presenting her with a beautiful "Mizpah" ring accompanied with the following address:

Peterborough, Aug. 16, '07.

Dear Mabel—It is with feelings of mingled joy and sorrow that we meet as a class to say goodbye to you who have been such an inspiration to us all.

We are thankful that in this call you are realizing one of the desires of your heart, to go where the need is greatest, to the ripened fields where "harvesters are few."

We shall miss you in the class, we shall miss your bright, cheerful smile, your strong helpful experience, the sympathetic touch of your helpful hand. We shall miss you in the Sunday school, in the league, and in the prayer meeting. Nevertheless we rejoice with you that you have been called to move to the front, because God needs you. As the cloud of Jehovah's presence glorified the tent in the wilderness, so His presence abiding with you shall glorify your life, and make all your work divine.

At times you may be discouraged, perchance homesick. Was not the Master so? He will lift the burden, for He is strong. He will still the sigh and awake the song.

We shall pray that from your life may flow some gladsome music, soothing, sweet and clean, as from a fine strung harp, to reach the ear may flow

Some gladsome music, sweet and clear,
As from a fine strung harp, to reach the ear,
Of struggling men,
To bid them pause awhile to listen, then
With spirit calmer, stronger than before
Take up their work once more.
When all working days are o'er for thee
May the rich music of thy life
Flow on eternally.

Signed on behalf of the class,
MISS EMMA L. MIGHT,
Leader.

Miss Mabel Curtis wishes to thank those who so kindly remembered her in contributing to the purse given her Thursday evening, and also for the many good wishes expressed in the address accompanying the gift.

COBOURG MAN UP IN COURT

Dismissed on the Charge of Furious Driving

At the police court this morning, Douglas Wark of Cobourg, was charged with driving a horse at an immoderate rate of speed on Thursday, August 8th, the day of the excursion from Cobourg to Peterborough. Mr. G. N. Gordon appeared for Wark and pleaded not guilty. Mr. F. D. Kerr conducted the prosecution for the complainant, Mr. Harper, teamster, for the city.

Mr. Harper was the first witness. He said that he was driving north on George street on August 8th, between two and three o'clock. He had a load of crushed stone. Mr. Harper said that when he was making his way across the track he saw three men in a buggy driving south rather recklessly. First thing he knew their horse ran into his. The shafts of Wark's buggy were broken and pierced the teamster's horse. The team were in the barn four days and witness had to hire another. Witness would judge that defendant was driving faster than eight miles an hour. The accident occurred in front of Kinnear's store, just about where they are drawing gravel.

Mr. Jos. Firth was the next witness. He works for the city and on this day was on the west side going down George street. He saw the three fellows in the buggy driving down George street. The lines were slack. He did not take much notice of them, until he heard them crash into Harper. There was lots of room for them to pass without going near Harper. Farther on they also collided with a post.

Mr. W. Little was driving with Mr. Harper and corroborated his evidence.

Terence Guerin was called for the defence. He works in Ackerman's. He saw Wark and two others driving down the street on the west side. The horse was trotting. Wark attempted to cross over to the east side but his horse did not get to the street car track, when he pulled back. The team which was coming up the west side pulled over to the east side, then to the west, and then again to the east. He only got partly across the track. When the collision occurred.

Douglas Wark was next called. He and two others came from Cobourg on the excursion on August 8th. After dinner, they hired a horse and buggy. They drove down George street, not very fast, the horse shied at something near Ackerman's. Then he met the team. Witness tried to turn it away, but it went from side to side and ran right into Harper. Witness admitted his inability to hold it.

Mr. Gordon in his summing up, said that the accident could not have been avoided. An object scared the animal and naturally it would run into something and then travelling at the rate of six or eight miles an hour was not very fast.

His Worship stated that he was trying the defendant on the city bylaw, that is for immoderate driving and not on the liability of injury. Another court would have to settle that. The charge for immoderate driving had not been proven and His Worship dismissed the case.

Saturday Market Well Attended

To-day's market was very good, the number of buyers and sellers being larger than last week. There were very few changes in prices. On the outside market there was a good quantity of potatoes. They sold at $1 a bag and $1.10 to be delivered at the house. Other vegetables sold at the usual prices. Upstairs butter was fairly plentiful and in good demand. Holders realized 24c and 25c a lb. 18c and 19c per dozen were paid for eggs.

Two Bad Boys Face Magistrate

Elder of the Two Sent to Industrial School, Toronto

The case of the lads who appeared yesterday, charged with breaking into Jas. B. Bell's grocery store on Sunday last, and the same two who were allowed to go a week ago for entering John Hill's store and robbing the till of $4.50 came up before His Worship at the police court this morning. These boys are Norman LeBar and Fred LeBar. They have appeared three times within the past month and evidently paid no attention to any warning they received from the magistrate. Yesterday His Worship enlarged the case that he might think over what course he should pursue in punishing these boys.

Norman LeBar, the elder of the two was sentenced to Victoria Industrial School, Toronto, for boys, for a term not exceeding five years. The younger brother was allowed to go with a warning.

Improvements to Church Property

The Methodist church property, Norwood, has been greatly improved during the past couple of weeks. Cement walks and steps have been substituted for the old wooden ones leading to the main entrances and the Sunday school. A cement base on the north and south sides of the lot has been erected, which will be topped with an artistic fence; the grounds have been levelled and graded and altogether the improvements add greatly to the appearance and also the value of the church property.

New walks and steps of cement have also been constructed to the entrance of St. Paul's church, Norwood. The church has also been improved recently by the erection of several beautiful memorial windows.

Slow Progress On the New Dam

The town council was rather disappointed with what they saw of the work on the new dam at the Ragged Rapids. Though the water is low and the conditions favorable it is a question whether, at the present rate of progress, the work will be completed this season. The trouble is that the contractors seem to have difficulty in securing men, and have only a small force at work. They are at present constructing a water tight flume along the south side of the power house, through which it is proposed to divert the water while the permanent work is done on the north side. What water runs under the Battle dam will be taken care of by the flumes which are at present in place. The Council instructed Mr. McRae, the engineer, who came up from Ottawa to meet them at the Rapids to urge the contractors to put on a larger staff and push the work more vigorously.—Orillia Packet.

Every Farmer Welcomed Rain

Yesterday's Fall Put New Life into the Root Crops—Did Much Good

"The splendid rain, which fell yesterday was the chief topic of conversation among the farmers on the market this morning, and all the visiting yeomen were in the best of spirits. They said that nothing had been so welcome in week's as yesterday's downpour.

A Smith township resident in speaking of the good effect of the moisture, remarked; "The ground was parched and the pasture exceptionally short. I had some cattle grazing in Harvey township, and had to bring them home this week, as the grass was so poor. I tell you pasture will now grow and the root crop and late grains will come on nicely. The rain is too late to materially effect wheat, barley and oats, but vegetation generally will receive an impetus that it has long needed, while the make of cheese and flow of milk will be materially increased."

Thousands Lose U. S. Citizenship

Only 200 Out of 5,000 Americans in Ontario Have Registered

Kingston, Aug. 16.—There are only seven genuine United States citizens in Kingston, that number alone having complied with the new law passed by congress requiring registration.

In all Ontario out of 5,000 or more persons of American origin, not more than 200 registered The rest have lost their rights and, presumably will now vote in Canada and do business here. They must pay taxes as they get Canadian protection and advantages. They have not taken the oath of allegiance, but through Canadian carelessness they vote on property qualification. Some of them also vote in United States elections.

In Kingston there are 250 persons from the United States. It is said that the demands of citizenship will shut out mariners living in Canada from service on United States vessels.

Floating Craft at Stony Lake Is Valued at About $75,000

Forty Four Gasoline and Steam Launches Counted at the Stony Lake Regatta on Monday—There Were Innumerable Skiffs, Canoes and Sailing Dinghies.

"The people in this section must be very prosperous," remarked a Toronto man, who attended the big Stony Lake regatta on Monday last. "Just to get an idea of the value of the floating craft, which dotted the bosom of the lake, I started in to count and found that there were exactly forty-four gasoline and steam launches there. Besides these, there must, at least, have been 250 sailing dinghies, canoes and rowboats, or about 300 "barques," if I may use this comprehensive term, of all sizes and shapes.

"The great majority were new or nearly so. I never saw such a flotilla before at Stony Lake, and I have attended several regattas. I know something of the cost of motor boats, canoes, etc., and I estimated that the floating stock represented at the regatta was worth at least $75,000. This sum gives you some idea of the prevailing good times and is a strong indication of the growing popularity of Stony Lake as a summer resort and the great interest taken in the big regatta, which is certainly the social event of the season."

Noted Labor Leader Discusses Matters of Great Interest

Mr. Allan Studholme, M.P.P., of Hamilton Pays Visit to Peterborough—Is Engaged in Educational Work in Interest of Trades and Labor Congress of Canada

Mr. Allan Studholme, M.P.P., of East Hamilton, the well known Labor representative, is in the city today and called upon several prominent local representatives of the Peterborough Trades and Labor Council.

Mr Studholme is now engaged in educational work in connection with the 23rd annual convention of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress, which will assemble in Winnipeg on September 16th. A delegate will be sent from here. Mr. Studholme, who is an enthusiastic labor man, has been in Kingston and other places during the past week and has delivered talks on labor legislation and the matters which will come up at the approaching gathering in the Prairie City.

In conversation with the Review today he discussed the labor situation and says that he finds its representatives aggressive and active.

The Trades and Labor Congress is anxious to have Canada made a "white man's country," and to shut out asiatic labor, which is regarded as wholly undesirable.

At present there is a head tax of $500 on Chinamen, but the action of the B.C. Government in placing a similar levy on Japanese was disallowed by the federal government. In New Zealand all Asiatic labor is shut out and the same condition of affairs is desired in Canada. The immigration policy of the government will also receive consideration. Better for the mechanic to starve at home in the Old Country than starve here unless he is competent and industrious. Mr. Studholme is a pleasant conversationalist. He will return to Hamilton this evening and may visit Peterborough in a few weeks when he will deliver an address on labor conditions and legislation.

The Lemieux bill and other questions will be considered at the Winnipeg gathering as well as the "dumping clause" so far as worthless and undesirable emigrants from certain countries in Europe are concerned.

Toronto Has Just Discovered Existence of Daniel's Comet

The Toronto Star has just discovered that there is such a thing as Daniel's Comet, and contained a reference to it in last night's issue. This is the comet, which was photographed weeks ago by Rev. Dr. Marsh, of Springville. In fact only two photos have been taken of the comet. One is by the Dominion Observatory, Ottawa, and the other by Dr. Marsh, who remarked today that this was the same "star with a tail" as had been written up weeks ago in the Peterborough papers, later in the Montreal press, and now in the Toronto Journals.

The Star says:—Daniel's comet (d-1907) was observed through a six inch telescope at the observatory this morning at 4.45 It has the appearance of a very bright nebulous with a tail about six or seven degrees long.

Its approximate position at that time was 17 degrees 5 hours and 50 minutes north declination, and six hours 25 minutes Right Ascention.

It is rapidly approaching the sun, and will soon be lost in its rays. It is decreasing in brightness and is just visible to the naked eye if the observer knows just where to look, but can be readily seen through a pair of opera glasses.

The approaching full moon will greatly obscure its visibility, and after going around the sun it will be easily visible to the people of the southern hemisphere, where it will appear as a bright object in the western sky after sunset.

Toronto people may see this comet by arising about 3.30 in the morning and scanning the eastern sky at an elevation of about fifteen or twenty degrees.

New Rifle Ranges at Various Points

But No Mention is Made of Peterborough Ranges

An Ottawa despatch says;—With the object of promoting an interest in rifle shooting and of improving the standard of the Canadian militia in marksmanship, a number of rifle ranges are now in course of construction in different parts of the country, whilst steps have been taken also to equip the drill halls with miniature ammunition for practice purposes throughout the winter months. Among the ranges, which are now nearing completion, is one at Charlottetown, another at Brandon and a range at Sydney, Cape Breton.

The range at Brandon is largely of concrete construction, even to the butts, which is an experiment in this class of work. The Government also has either purchased land or is arranging sites for new ranges at Kingston, Wolfville, N.S.; Amherst N.S., Fort William, Edmonton, Brockville, Truro and Lunenburg. Where does Peterborough come in?

Valuable Colt Was Purchased

Dr. Johnston and Martin Connors Have an Offspring of Queen's Baron

The owners of Queen's Baron the well known breeding stallion, have purchased a mare and foal and expect to have a record breaking horse in a few years. Dr. T. Johnston and Martin Connors bought Queen's Baron some time ago, and this year put him to service, and as a result there are several very fine colts in the district. The sire is one of the best standard bred stallions in Canada or the United States. He has a mark of 2.15 1-4 secured when 4 years old, and he is a race horse from the ground up.

The mare purchased by Dr. Johnston and Mr. Connors is a half sister to the mother of Maud Keswick. She was owned by Mr. Hunter, of Harwood, and the colt is one of the most handsome little fellows ever brought to the city. He is exceptionally well built and is very active both the mare and colt will be pastured at the exhibition grounds for a while and will then be kept at the doctor's barn.

Speaking of the colt, Dr. Johnston stated with confidence that he expected to raise a horse that would do a mile in two minutes. The colt has speed on both sides of the house and he should be a good one.

Queen's Baron, the sire, will be raced at Peterborough, Millbrook, Lakefield, Norwood, and all the fall fairs in this district and the mare and colt will be entered in their respective classes.

The will of the late Abraham Levy, of Hamilton, disposes of an estate valued at $200,205.

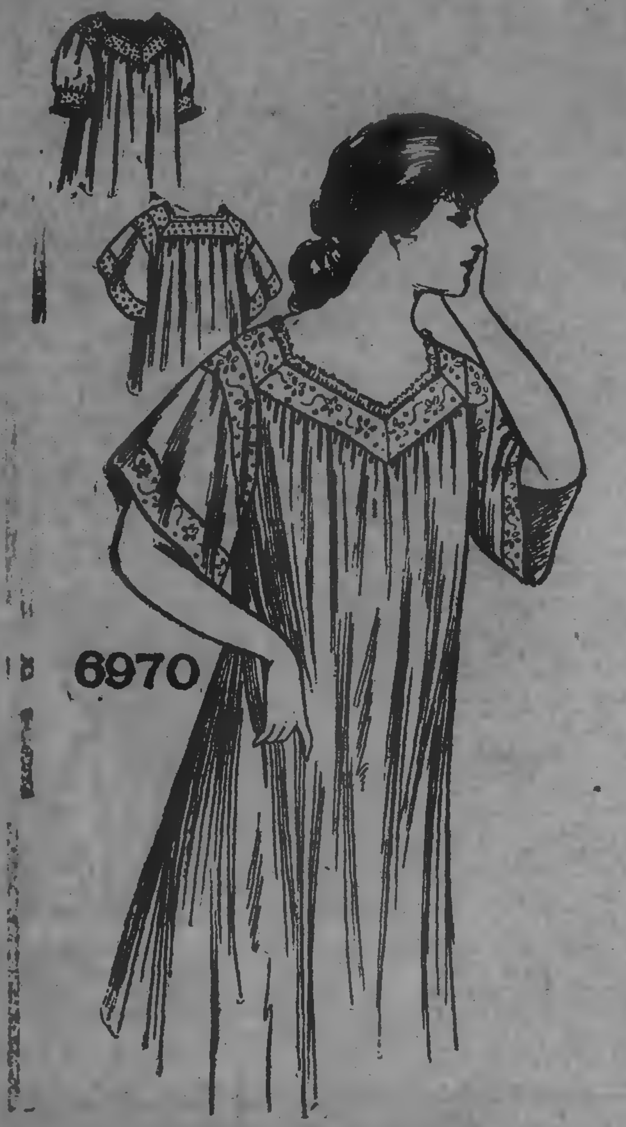
Of Special Interest In Realm of Women



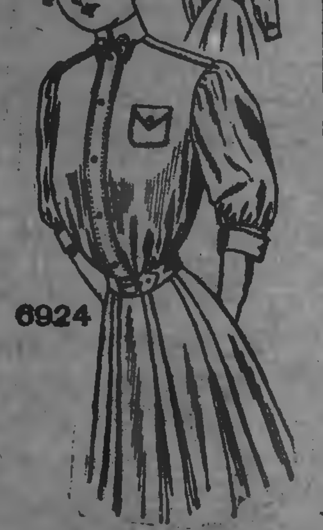
A DAINTY SLUMBER ROBE

The fad for loose, short sleeved nightgowns is one that has always commended itself to the woman who loves to wear sheer, dainty lingerie irrespective of the season. The nightgown shown in the accompanying sketch is one of the prettiest of the new models, and its making is sufficiently easy to bring it well within the scope of the home needlewoman. The mandarin sleeves are a novel feature, and are distinctive of grace and comfort; but if these are not liked the sleeve may be puffed and gathered into a band, as shown in the smaller sketch. Nainsook or batiste may be used for modelling this gown, with embroidered insertion and edging for garniture. For the medium size 5 3-4 yards of 36 inch goods will be needed with 4 1-2 yards of insertion and 2 7-8 yards of edging.

6970.—4 sizes, 32, 36, 40, 44 inches bust measure.

The price of this pattern is ten cents.

Leave your order and 10 cents at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.



6924.—A SMART STYLE FOR A PLAIN SHIRT WAIST.

An entirely plain shirt waist can embody quite as much style as the most elaborate one, the lines and finish deciding its quality. Here is shown a blouse of the simplest yet expressive of no small degree of modishness and good taste. It is built on mannish lines, the front closing under the plait and having long or shorter sleeves. A trig pocket is equally pleasing upon a shirt waist of this type, but it is especially so this year when Dame Fashion demands pockets wherever possible. Such a waist may be made in any seasonable material, being equally suitable to tub fabrics, cloth, worsteds and silks. For the medium size 3 1-2 yards of material 27 inches wide are needed.

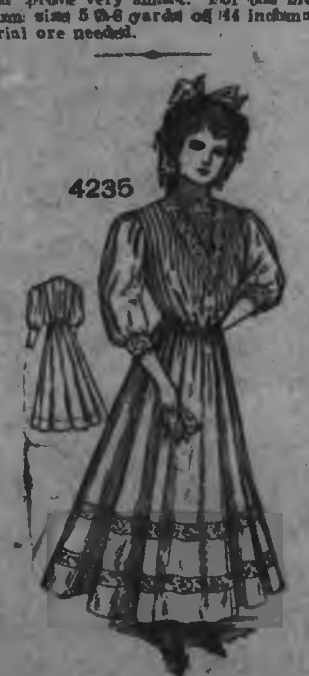
6924.—6 sizes, 32 to 42 inches bust measure.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

Leave your order and ten cents at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.

A Bretelle Dress

This fashion for bretelle dresses is a very economical one and the woman who must make ends meet by remodelling her last year's dress or using a left-over skirt with shirt waists by combining it with bretelles, will appreciate the pattern sketched. The skirt is a seven-gored one showing inverted box pleats at centre front and back and three backward turning tuck-plaits at each side seam. Very neat trimming sections are inset at front and back, or may be omitted. The shoulder straps or bretelles are of the material of the skirt and finished with stitching or a narrow braid. Such a costume may be worn with any lingerie or silk shirt waist and prove very smart. For the medium size 5 3-8 yards of 44 inch material are needed.



4235.—A GOWN OF GOOD STYLE FOR A GIRL.

The summer materials are so attractive this year that every woman and girl wishes as many gowns for warm weather wear as her purse will allow. Here is sketched one of simple style yet altogether youthful and pretty, which the home dress-maker will find quite to her liking. The waist has a deep pointed yoke of Valenciennes lace in strips which is finished with a band of coarse lace. Tucks extend a short distance from the yoke edge and the entire length in back. The sleeves may be to the wrist or elbow as desired. The skirt is in seven gores and gathered at the top. Any of the washing fabrics, pongee, foulard, taffetas or voile might be developed in this way. For the medium size 1-2 yards 44 inches wide are needed.

4235.—Sizes, 14, 15, 16, 17 years.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

Some Timely Suggestions Giving Directions in the Leading Styles and the Best Materials to be Used Brooms.

A heavy broom should always be selected in preference to a light one for thorough sweeping, as the weight aids in the process. In buying a broom, test it by pressing the edge against the floor. If the straws bristle out and bend, the broom is a poor one, for they should remain in a firm, solid mass.

Peruvian Silver Mines.

The old Caylloma silver mines in Peru are situated higher than any other in the world, being between 14,000 and 17,000 feet.

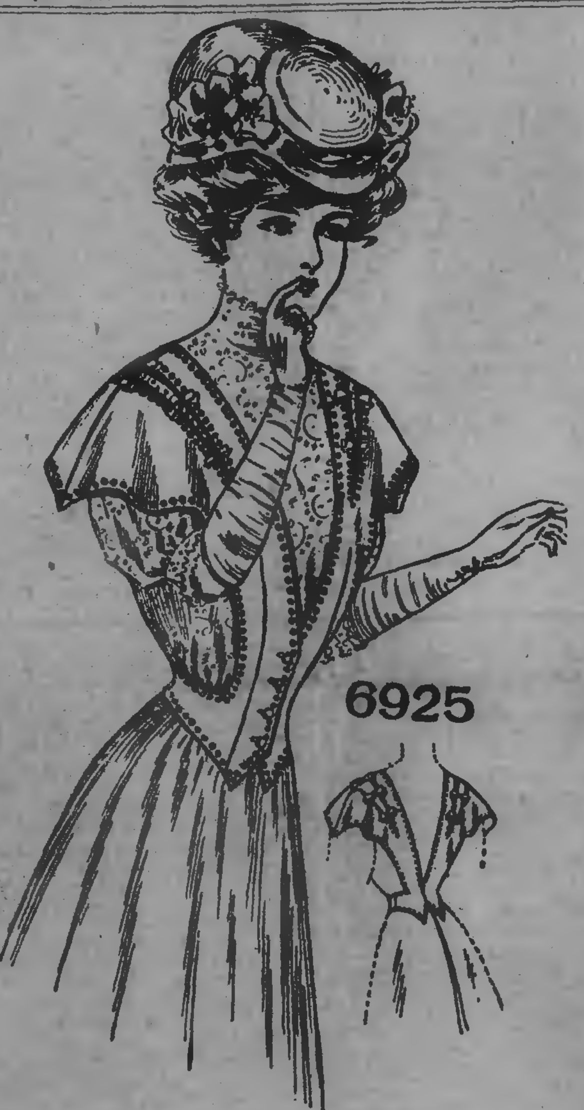
Shake Up Boiled Water.

The flat taste of drinking water which has been boiled is due to the fact that the dissolved air which it contained has been expelled in the process of boiling. By putting the boiled water in bottles until they are only three-quarters full and shaking well enough air will be incorporated with the water to restore its palatability.

Physical Giants Only.

The giants of Tierra del Fuego, the Ona Indians, are stunted in intellect.

Labor Day September 2.



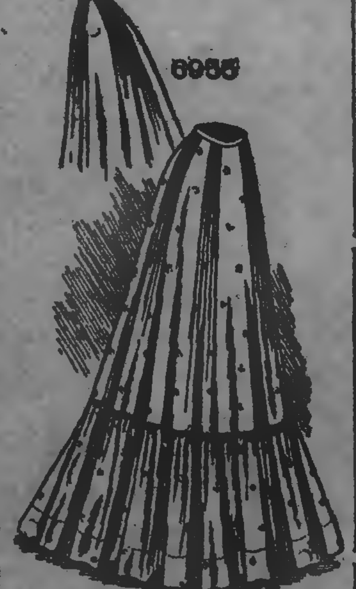
A NOVEL GIRDLE BRETELLE

It is a season of accessories and happy is the woman or girl who is clever with her needle to fashion such becoming apparel. A very attractive girdle bretelle which is full of style and built according to the newest fashion lines is sketched. It may be made of silk, velvet or cloth as well or other seasonable materials and will be smart worn with any style of blouse or shirt waist, the elaborateness of its development deciding its dressiness. Three pretty buttons close it at the waist line, the open spaces at the shoulder being joined by straps of braid or velvet ribbon. For the medium size 1 1-4 yards of 27 inch material are needed.

6925.—Sizes, 20, 24, 28 inches waist measure.

The price of this pattern is ten cents.

Leave your order and ten cents at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.

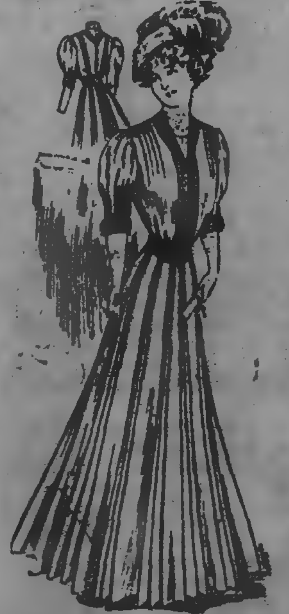


6955.—A GRACEFUL SKIRT.

A pretty fashion for a skirt of silk, washing stuff or cloth is suggested in the one shown. The upper portion is in seven gores with groups of tucks at each seam stitched to below the hips. A straight gathered flounce completes the skirt proper and assures a pretty flare about the feet. The skirt may be in round or sweep length and is dressy enough for any nice gown. For the medium size 7 1-2 yards of 27 inch material are needed.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

Leave your order and ten cents at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.

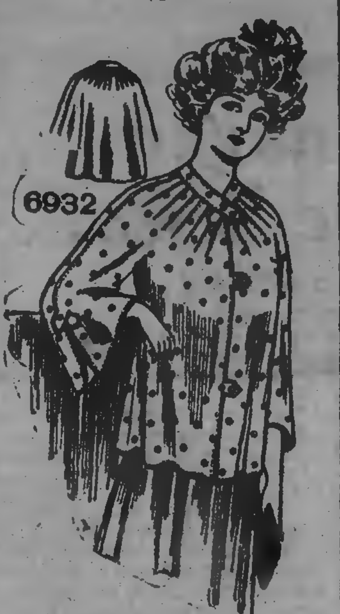


6934, 6933.—A TRIM GOWN FOR GENERAL WEAR.

Particular women appreciate the trimness of a costume perhaps more than any other feature. It is the effect of the whole which counts in one's appearance and the artist in dress recognizes good taste here before anything else. This gown shown is especially attractive for afternoon or morning wear, for paying calls or wearing to church. The waist has its tucks becomingly placed in front and back and sleeve. A chemisette of lace or contrasting material lends a pretty touch at the neck.

Two Patterns, 6934—6 Sizes, 32 to 42 inches bust measure. 6933—7 sizes 20 to 32 inches waist.

The price of these patterns is 20c, but either will be sent upon receipt of 10c.



6932.—A PRETTY TUCKED DRESSING SACK.

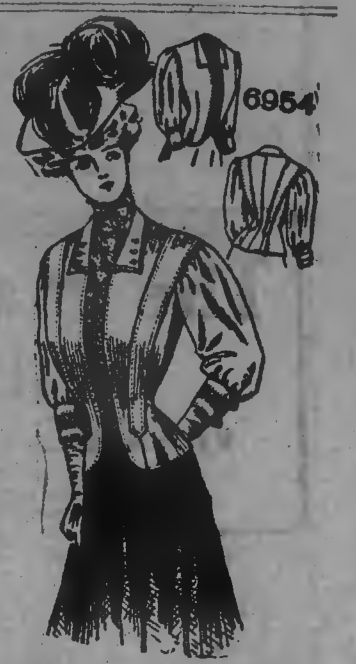
This vogue for tucks manifests itself everywhere nowadays and on all descriptions of garments. The dainty dressing sack illustrated owes much of its charm to this fad of Fashion, for its graceful shaping is effected by means of tucks disposed evenly around the neck. There is no armhole seam, the kimono sleeve being cut with the garment, and as there are but three pieces in the entire pattern the sack may be made with little trouble by the least expert of home sewers. A thin challis was used for the present development, but organdie, batiste, cotton crepe, or any goods adapted to the season may be used, and the sack may either be finished with neck and sleeve frills of lace or left plain as pictured. To develop the medium size 4 1-2 yards of 27 inch material will be required.

6932.—3 sizes, small, medium and large.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

Leave your order and ten cents at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.

Favorable progress is being made with the details in connection with the lease of the old Hilliard homestead to the Childrens' Aid Society. Negotiations have been opened with Mr. Stenton, the present occupant of the front half of the building, and if he will consent to vacate the house the Society will probably start fixing it up within a short time.



6954.—A MODISH AND SERVICEABLE COAT.

This separate coat, suitable for wearing with any skirt, presents a problem which many women find difficult of solution, since it must not be too elaborate to harmonize with a simple gown nor too plain to wear in conjunction with a dressy one. The model sketched offers just the medium needed. The smart Continental collar effect is distinctly a novelty, while the narrow fancy vest and graduated trimming bands are especially becoming because of the impression of youthful slenderness which they convey. The coat, as shown in the larger sketch, is made of chiffon taffeta, with garniture of applique but it could be developed quite as effectively in any flexible silk or woollen fabric. For the medium size 3 5-8 yards of 27 inch goods will be required.

6954.—6 sizes, 32 to 42 inches bust measure.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

A GOOD STYLE FOR A MISS

There are so many variations of the guimpe and over-blouse ideas that it is often difficult to choose between them. If one desires a style which is not just like the many seen everywhere, the accompanying sketch may prove a suggestion. The waist consists of front and side front and back, and side back which separate over the shoulders to show the guimpe of faced yoke beneath. It may be made all in one or the lining may be used as a guimpe. A choice of long or three-quarter sleeves is allowed, the latter being finished with a group of tucks and the long sleeve with a deep cuff. The skirt is a five gored one, tucked about the top and showing a deep hem and tuck at the bottom. The dress may be of gingham, chambray, dimity, challis or pongee, and requires 5 1-4 yards of 44 inch material.

4234.—Sizes 14, 15, 16 and 17 years.

The price of this pattern is ten cents.

"Fall in!" he shouted, and at least a hundred men fell in behind him, marching two abreast. Here and there as they moved along a man would forsake the line to disappear into his own gate. When he rejoined his neighbors he invariably carried an ax, pick or crowbar.

From the square they turned into Main street and from Main street into the north road, and presently the head of the procession halted before a cluster of small frame houses resting in a hollow to their right.

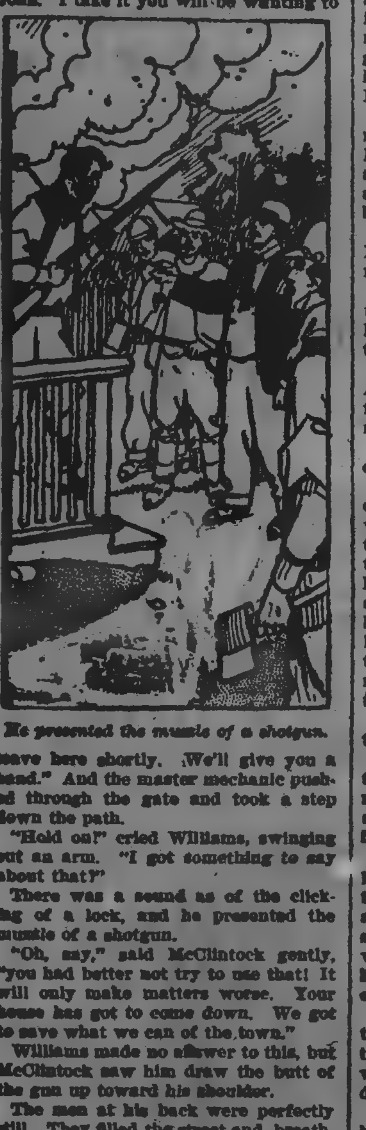
"These must come down first," said McClintock. "Now, we want no noise, men. We'll pass out their stuff quietly as we can and take it back to the square."

He swung open a gate as he spoke. "Williams keeps a team. A couple of you fellows run around to the barn and hook up."

Just then the front door opened, and Williams himself appeared on the threshold. A dog barked, other doors opened, lights gleamed in a score of windows, and the north end threw off its cloak of silence and darkness.

"Keep quiet and let me do the talking," said McClintock over his shoulder. Then to the figure in the doorway:

"We have come to help you move, John. I take it you will be wanting to leave here shortly. We'll give you a hand." And the master mechanic pushed through the gate and took a step down the path.



He presented the muzzle of a shotgun.

"Hold on!" cried Williams, swinging out an arm. "I got something to say about that?"

There was a sound as of the clicking of a lock, and he presented the muzzle of a shotgun.

"Oh, say," said McClintock gently, "you had better not try to use that! It will only make matters worse. Your house has got to come down. We got to save what we can of the town."

Williams made no answer to this, but McClintock saw him draw the butt of the gun up toward his shoulder.

The men at his back were perfectly still. They filled the street and, breathing hard, pressed heavily against the picket fence, which bent beneath the weight of their bodies.

"You'd better be reasonable. We are losing precious time," urged McClintock. "In an hour or two this place will be on fire."

"I've got no kick coming if it burns, but it shan't be pulled down."

"Put up your gun, and we'll give you a lift at getting your stuff out."

"No, you won't."

McClintock kept his eyes on the muzzle of the shotgun.

"It ain't the property loss we are thinking of—it's the possible loss of life," he said mildly.

"I'll chance it," retorted Williams briefly.

"Well, we won't."

Williams made no reply. He merely fingered the lock of his gun.

"Put down that gun, John!" commanded McClintock sternly.

At the same moment he reached around and took an ax from the hands of the nearest man.

"Put it down," he repeated as he stepped quickly toward Williams.

The listening men pressed heavily against the fence in their feverish anxiety to miss nothing that was said or done. The posts snapped, and they poured precipitously into the yard. At the same moment the gun exploded, and a charge of buckshot rattled harmlessly along the pavement at McClintock's feet.

Then succeeded a sudden pause, deep, breathless and intense, and then the crowd gave a cry—a cry that was in answer to a hoarse cheer that had reached them from the square.

An instant later the trampled front yard was deserted by all save Williams in the doorway. He still held the smoking gun to his shoulder.

CHAPTER XXIII.

WHEN Roger Oakley appeared on the platform at Buckhorn Junction Durks started violently, while Dan took a quick step forward and placed a warning hand on the old convict's arm. He feared what he might say. Then he said to the operator: "He'll do. Go see if you can get Antioch. Try just once more. If you succeed tell them the engines and hose will be there within an hour or they need not look for them. Do you understand?"

"All right, Mr. Oakley." And Durks moved up the platform with alacrity. He was relieved of one irksome responsibility. He had his own theories as to who the stranger was, but he told himself it was none of his business.

As soon as he was out of hearing Dan turned to his father and said earnestly:

"Look here, daddy, I can't allow you to do it. We are neither of us popular. It's bad enough for me to have to go."

"Why can't you allow it, Dannie?" And his son recognized the same cheerful tone with which he had always met and overruled his objections.

"It will end in your arrest, and we don't want that."

"It's more than likely I'll be arrested sooner or later, anyhow," he said, with a suggestion of weariness, as if this were a matter it was a waste of time to consider. "The Lord has set his face against me. It's his wish I should return. I've been stubborn and headstrong and wouldn't see it, but look there." And he nodded toward the red western sky. "It's a summons. I got to obey whether I want to or not."

"It won't be safe. No telling what they will do with you."

"That ain't the question, Dannie; that ain't at all the question. It's not what they'll do to me." And he softly patted the hand that rested on his arm.

Dan saw that his clothes hung loosely to his mighty frame. They were torn and stained. He had the appearance of a man who had endured hardship, privation and toil. His glance was fugitive and anxious. "Where have you been all this while?" he asked. "Not here?"

"No; I have been living in the woods, trying to escape from the country, and the fires wouldn't let me. Wherever I went they were there ahead of me, driving me back."

"Why did you kill him? How did it happen?" Dan added. "Or is it all a mistake? Did you do it?"

The smile faded from the old convict's lips.

"It was a sort of accident, and it was sort of carelessness, Dannie," he explained, with a touch of sullenness. "I hit him—not hard, mind you. I know I shouldn't have done it, but he was in the wrong, and he wouldn't listen to reason. I don't know when I ever seen a man so set in his wickedness."

"And now you want to go back. Do you know what it means if you are arrested? Have you thought of that?"

Roger Oakley waved the query aside as though it concerned him not at all.

"I want to be with you," he said wistfully. "You may not get through alive, and I want to be with you. You'll need me. There's no one you can trust as you can me, for I won't fail you no matter what the danger is. And there's the girl, Dannie. Have you thought of her?"

Dan set his lips. "My God, I can't think of anything else."

There was a moment's silence.

"Here," said Dan, thrusting his hands into his pockets. "I am going to give you what money I have. It isn't much."

"What for, Dannie?"

"You are sure to be seen and recognized if you stay about here. Your description has been telegraphed all over the state. For that reason I'll take you with me part way. Then I'll slow up, and you can hide again. It's your only chance. I am sorry I can't do more for you. I wish I could. But perhaps we can arrange to meet afterward."

His father smiled with the unconscious superiority of the man who firmly believes he is controlled by an intelligence infinitely wise and beyond all human conception. No amount of argument could have convinced him that Providence was not burning millions of feet of standing timber and an occasional town solely for his guidance. In his simple seriousness he saw nothing absurd or preposterous in the idea. He said:

"I've wanted to escape, Dannie, for your sake, not for mine. But when I seen you tonight I knew the Lord intended we should keep together. He didn't bring us here for nothing. That ain't his way. There's no one to go with you but me, and you can't go alone."

"I can—I will!" And Dan swore under his breath. He realized that no word of his could move his father. He would carry his point, just as he always had.

Durks came running along the platform from the depot.

"It's no use," shaking his head. "The wire's down. Say, you want to keep your eyes open for the freight. It may be on the siding at Parker's Run, and it may be on the main track."

Dan made a last appeal to his father.

"Won't you listen to what I say?" sinking his voice to a hoarse whisper. "They'll hang you—do you hear? If ever they lay hands on you they will show no mercy!" It did not occur to him that his father would be returning under circumstances so exceptional that public sentiment might well undergo a radical change in his favor.

Roger Oakley merely smiled as he answered, with gentle composure: "I don't think we need to worry about that. We are in his hands, Dannie." And he raised his face to the heavens.

Dan groaned.

"Come, then," he said aloud.

"I'll throw the switch for you!" And the operator ran down the track. He was quite positive he should never see Oakley again, and he felt something akin to enthusiasm at the willing sacrifice of his life which he conceived him to be making.

Father and son stepped to the engine. The old convict mounted heavily to his post, and Dan sprang after him, his hand groping for the throttle lever. There was the hiss of steam, and Joe cried from the darkness:

"All right, come ahead!" And the engine, with its tender and two cars, began its hazardous journey.

As they slipped past him the operator yelled his goodby and Dan pushed open the cab window and waved his hand.

Roger Oakley on the narrow iron shelf between the engine and the tender was already throwing coal into the furnace. His face wore a satisfied expression. Apparently he was utterly unmoved by the excitement of the moment, for he bent to his work as if it were the most usual of tasks and the occasion the most commonplace. He had taken off his coat and vest and had tossed them up on the tender out of his way. Dan, looking over the boiler's end, could see his broad shoulders and the top of his head. He leaned back, with his hand on the throttle.

"Father!" he called.

The old convict straightened up instantly.

"Yes, Dannie."

"You are going with me? You are determined?"

"I thought we settled that, Dannie, before we started," he said pleasantly, but there was a shrewd, kindly droop to the corners of his mouth, for he appreciated his victory.

"I want to know, because if I am to slow up for you I'll have to do it soon or I'll be leaving you in worse shape than I found you."

To this his father made no direct reply. Instead he asked, "Do you think we'll reach Antioch in time to do them any good?" Dan faced about.

They slid into a straight stretch of road beyond the Junction, and the track shone yellow far ahead, where the engine looked down upon it with its single eye. Each minute their speed increased. A steady jarring and pounding had begun that grew into a dull and ponderous roar as the engine rushed forward. Dan kept a sharp watch for the freight.

As Durks had said, it might be on the siding at Parker's Run, and it might not. In the latter event his and his father's troubles would soon be at an end.

He rose from his seat and went to the door of the cab.

"We'll take it easy for the first ten miles or so, then we'll be in the fire, and that will be our time to hit her up."

Roger Oakley nodded his acquiescence. In what he conceived to be worldly matters he was quite willing to abide by Dan's judgment, for which he had profound respect.

"How fast are we going?" he asked. Dan steadied himself and listened, with a finger on his pulse, until he caught the rhythmic swing of the engine as it jarred from one rail to another. Then he said:

"Twenty-five miles an hour."

"It ain't very fast, is it, Dannie?" He was evidently disappointed.

"We'll do twice that presently."

The old convict looked relieved. They were running now with a strip of forest on one side of the track and cultivated fields on the other, but with each rod they covered they were edging in nearer the flames. At Parker's Run the road crossed a little stream which doubled back in the direction of Buckhorn Junction. There was nothing after that to stay the progress of the fire, and the rest of their way lay through the blazing pine woods.

Just before they reached the ten mile fill they came to the strip of burned timber that had sent Baker back to Buckhorn earlier in the day. Here and there a tree was still blazing, but for the most part the fire had spent its strength.

As they swung past Parker's Run a little farther on Dan saw the freight, or, rather, what was left of it, on the siding. It had been cutting out four flat cars loaded with ties, and he understood the difficulty at a glance. On the main track a brick and stone culvert spanned the run, but the siding crossed it on a flimsy wooden bridge. This bridge had probably been burning as the freight backed in for the flat cars, and when it attempted to pull out the weakened structure had collapsed and the engine had gone through into the cut. It rested on its forward end, jammed between the steep banks, with its big drivers in the air. Of the cars there remained only the trucks and ironwork. Near by a tool shed had formerly stood, but that was gone too. The wheels and gearing of a hand car in the midst of a heap of ashes marked the spot.

Dan turned to his father. "Are you all right, daddy?" he asked.

"Yes, Dannie."

"Mind your footing. It will be pretty shaky back there."

They were still in the burned district, where a change in the wind that afternoon had driven the fire back on itself. It had made a clean sweep of everything inflammable. Luckily the road had been freshly ballasted, and the track was in fair condition to resist the flames. But an occasional tie smoldered, and from these the rushing train thrashed showers of sparks.

Dan kept his eyes fastened on the rails, which showed plainly in the jerky glare of the headlight. It was well to be careful while care was possible. By and by he would have to throw aside all caution and trust to chance. Now he increased his speed, and the insistent thud of the wheels drowned every other sound, even the faroff roar of the flames. At his back at intervals a ruddy glow shot upward into the night when Roger Oakley threw open the furnace door to pass in coal. Save for this it was still quite dark in the cab, where Dan sat with his hand on the throttle lever and watched the yellow streak that ran along the rails in advance of the engine. Suddenly the wall of light ahead brightened visibly, and its glare filled the cab. They were nearing the fire.

Dan jammed the little window at his elbow open and put out his head. A hot blast roared past him, and the heat of the fire was in his face. He drew the window shut. It was light as day in the cab now.

He leaned across the boiler's end and, with a hand to his lips, called to his father, "Are you all right?"

The old man drew himself erect and crept nearer.

"What's that you say, Dannie?" he asked. His face was black with coal dust and grime.

"Are you all right? Can you bear the heat?"

"I am doing very nicely, but this ain't a patch on what it's going to be."

"Yes, it will be much worse, though this is bad enough."

"But we can stand it. We must think of those poor people at Antioch."

"We'll stick to the engine as long as the engine sticks to the rails," said Dan grimly. "Hadn't you better come into the cab with me? You'll be frightfully exposed when we get into the thick of it."

"Not yet, Dannie? I'll give you steam, and you drive her as hard as you can."

He turned away, shovel in hand.

Then, all in a second, and they were in the burning woods, rushing beneath trees that were blazing to their very summits. The track seemed to shake and tremble in the fierce light and fiercer heat. Burning leaves and branches were caught up to be whirled in fiery eddies back down the rails as the train tore along, for Dan was hitting her up.

Tongues of fire struck across at the two men. Smoke and fine white ashes filled their mouths and nostrils. Their bodies seemed to bake. They had been streaming wet with perspiration a moment before.

Off in the forest it was possible to see for miles. Every tree and bush stood forth distinct and separate.

Roger Oakley put down his shovel for an instant to fill a bucket with water from the tank on the tender. He plunged his head and arms in it and splashed the rest over his clothes. Dan turned to him for the last time.

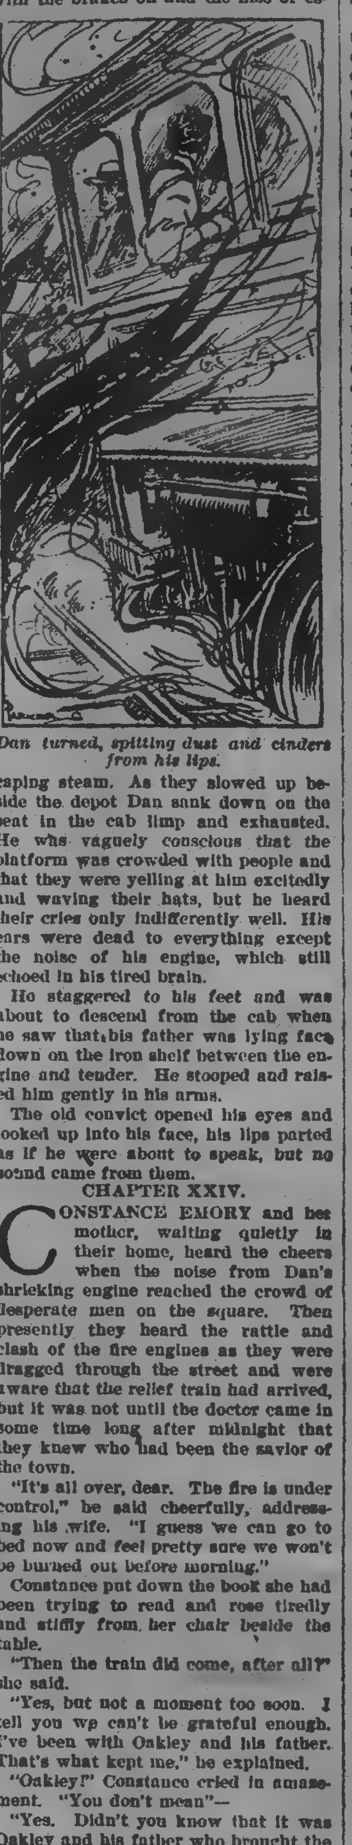
"It isn't far now," he panted. "Just around the next curve and we'll see the town if it's still there off in the valley."

The old convict did not catch more than the half of what he said, but he smiled and nodded his head.

As they swung around the curve a dead sycamore which the fire had girdled at the base crashed across the track. The engine plunged into its top, rolled it over once and tossed it aside. There was the smashing of glass and the ripping of leather as the sycamore's limbs raked the cab, and Roger Oakley uttered a hoarse cry—a cry Dan did not hear, but he turned, spitting dust and cinders from his lips, and saw the old convict still standing, shovel in hand, in the narrow gangway that separated the engine and tender.

He had set the whistle shrieking, and it cut high above the roar of the flames, for off in the distance under a canopy of smoke he saw the lights of Antioch shining among the trees.

Two minutes later and they were running smoothly through the yards, with the brakes on and the hiss of escaping steam. As they slowed up beside the depot Dan sank down on the seat in the cab limp and exhausted. He was vaguely conscious that the platform was crowded with people and that they were yelling at him excitedly and waving their hats, but he heard their cries only indifferently well. His ears were dead to everything except the noise of his engine, which still echoed in his tired brain.



Dan turned, spitting dust and cinders from his lips.

He staggered to his feet and was about to descend from the cab when he saw that his father was lying face down on the iron shelf between the engine and tender. He stooped and raised him gently in his arms.

The old convict opened his eyes and looked up into his face, his lips parted as if he were about to speak, but no sound came from them.

CHAPTER XXIV.

CONSTANCE EMORY and her mother, waiting quietly in their home, heard the cheers when the noise from Dan's shrieking engine reached the crowd of desperate men on the square. Then presently they heard the rattle and clash of the fire engines as they were dragged through the street and were aware that the relief train had arrived, but it was not until the doctor came in some time long after midnight that they knew who had been the savior of the town.

"It's all over, dear. The fire is under control," he said cheerfully, addressing his wife. "I guess we can go to bed now and feel pretty sure we won't be burned out before morning."

Constance put down the book she had been trying to read and rose tiredly and stiffly from her chair beside the table.

"Then the train did come, after all?" she said.

"Yes, but not a moment too soon. I tell you we can't be grateful enough. I've been with Oakley and his father. That's what kept me," he explained.

"Oakley!" Constance cried in amazement. "You don't mean"—

"Yes. Didn't you know that it was Oakley and his father who brought the relief train? The old man is dead. He was killed on the way. It's a miracle that either of them got through alive. Hadn't you heard?"

Constance put out her hands blindly, for a sudden mist had come before her eyes.

"Father, you don't mean that Mr. Oakley has returned to Antioch—that he is here now?"

"Yes, it seems no one else would come. Oakley was in Chicago when he first heard of the fire and started immediately for Buckhorn, where he found the relief train. Oddly enough, he found his father there too."

"Then there was something to the old man after all," said Mrs. Emory, whose sympathies were as generous as they were easily aroused.

"A good deal, I should say. He must have known that he was coming back to arrest and almost certain conviction."

Constance's glance searched her father's face. She wanted to hear more of Oakley. Her heart was hungering for news of this man who had risked his life to save them. All her lingering tenderness, the unwilling growth of many days, was sweeping away the barriers of her pride. "Mr. Oakley was not hurt?" she questioned breathlessly, pale to the lips.

"He is pretty badly shaken up, and no wonder, but he will be all right in the morning."

"Where is he now?" she asked.

Her father turned to her.

"Oakley— You look tired out, Constance. Do go to bed. I'll tell you all about it in the morning."

"Where is he now, papa?" she questioned, going to his side and clasping her hands about his arm.

"Down at the shop. They carried his father there from the train."

"Why didn't you have them bring him here?" said Mrs. Emory quickly. "After this I won't listen to a word against either of them. I would like to show the town just how we feel in the matter."

"I suggested it, but Oakley wouldn't hear to it. But don't worry about the town. It's gone wild. You should have seen the crowd on the platform when it saw Oakley in the engine cab. It went stark mad."

Again Constance's eyes swam with tears. The strike, the murder of Ryder, the fire, had each seemed in turn a part of the tragedy of her life at Antioch, but Oakley's return was wholly glorious.

Her father added, "I shall see Oakley in the morning and learn if we can be of any service to him."

A little later, when Constance went to her own room, she drew forward a chair and seated herself by the window. Across the town, on the edge of the "flats," she saw dimly the long, dark outline of the railroad shop, with its single tall chimney. She thought of Oakley as alone there keeping watch at the side of the grim old murderer who had so splendidly redeemed himself by this last sacrifice.

Great clouds of black smoke were still rolling over the town, and the woods were still blazing fiercely in the distance. Beyond her window she heard the call of frightened birds as they fluttered to and fro in the dull red light, and farther off, in the north end, the muffled throbbing of the fire engines.

If she had had any doubts as to her feeling for Oakley these doubts were now a thing of the past. She knew that she loved him. She had been petty and vain. She had put the small things of life against the great, and this was her punishment. She tried to comfort herself with the thought that she should see him in the morning. Then she could tell him all. But what could she tell him? The time had gone by when she could tell him anything.

It was almost morning when she undressed and threw herself down on her bed. She was disconsolate and miserable, and the future seemed quite barren of hope or happiness. Love had come to her, and she had not known its presence. Yes, she would tell Oakley that she had been little and narrow and utterly unworthy. He had cared for her, and perhaps he would understand. She fell asleep thinking this and did not waken until her mother called her for breakfast.

"I am waiting for your father. He has gone down to see Mr. Oakley," Mrs. Emory said when she entered the dining room. Constance glanced at the table.

"Is he going to bring Mr. Oakley back with him?" she asked nervously.

"He expected to. I declare, Constance, you look worn out. Didn't you sleep well?"

"No, not very. I wonder if they are coming?"

"You might go look," said her mother. And Constance hurried into the parlor. She was just in time to see her father enter the gate. He was alone. Constance flew to the front door and threw it open.

"He wouldn't come?" she cried breathlessly.

"He's gone."

"Gone?"

"Yes, a train was made up early this morning, and he has returned to Buckhorn— Why, what's the matter, Constance?"

For Constance, with a little gasp of dismay, had slipped down into a chair, with her hands before her face.

"What is it, dear?" he questioned anxiously. But she gave him no answer. She was crying softly, unrestrainedly. It was all over. Oakley was gone, and with him went her only hope of happiness. Yet more keen than her sense of pain and personal loss was her regret that he would never understand that she respected and admired him as he deserved.

"I am sorry, Constance, but I didn't know that you especially wanted to see him," said the doctor awkwardly, but with a dawning comprehension of what it all meant. She made no answer.

"What is it, dear?" he repeated.

"Oh, nothing. I wanted to tell him about something, that is all. It doesn't matter now." She glanced up into his face with a sudden doubt. "You didn't see him; you are quite sure he went away without your seeing him; you are not deceiving me?"

"Why, of course, Constance, but he'll come back."

"No, he won't, papa," shaking her head sadly. "He's gone, and he will never come back. I know him better than you do."

And then she fled promptly upstairs to her own room.

This was the nearest Constance came to betraying her love for Oakley. She was not much given to confidences, and the ideals that had sustained her in her pride now seemed so childish and unworthy that she had no wish to dwell upon them, but whenever Dan's name was mentioned in her presence she looked frightened and guilty and avoided meeting her father's glance.

It seemed, indeed, that Oakley had taken final leave of Antioch. A new manager appeared and took formal charge of the destinies of the road. Under his direction work was resumed in the shops, for the strike had died a natural death. None of the hands was disposed to question the 10 per cent cut, and before the winter was over the scale of wages that had been in force before the strike was inaugurated was voluntarily restored. The town had no criticisms to make of Johnson, the new manager, a quiet, competent official; the most any one said was that he was not Oakley. That was enough. For Dan had come into his own.

Early in October there was a flutter of excitement when Turner Joyce and his wife left for the east to be Oakley's guests. When they returned some weeks later they had a good deal to say about him that Antioch was frankly curious to hear.

He had taken his father to Burton, where his mother was buried. Afterward he had joined General Cornish in New York.

To be continued.

Name of Firm Has Been Changed

Will be Known as Canadian Boiler and Radiator Company

The last issue of the Ontario Gazette contains notice to the effect that the Peterborough Boiler & Radiator Company, whose factory is located in Hastings, and is now in full operation, with a large number of orders ahead, will henceforth be known as the Canadian Boiler & Radiator Company, Limited. Several Peterborough gentlemen are interested in this concern, the office headquarters of which will be in Toronto, while the factory will, of course, remain in Hastings. The change of name was decided upon at a recent meeting held here.

Electric Light Should be Placed

At the Corner of Fairbairn and Smith Sts.—A Dangerous Spot

An electric light should certainly be placed at the corner of Smith and Fairbairn streets. Some time ago a petition was presented to the City Council asking for a lamp. It is understood that the Fire, Water and Light Committee, on their annual tour, favored it, but, for some reason or other, the much needed light has not been installed.

A resident of Smith street remarked today: "It is bad enough to do without even a common wooden walk on that part of the street, but worse still to be without illumination. On dark nights, when the people are walking home after witnessing the moving pictures at Jackson Park, it is generally about ten o'clock, the hour when the G.T.R. flyer comes along. There being no light, there have been many close calls, when much of the liability to danger would be removed by an arc light.

Raisins Brought From Australia

First Shipment Arrived on Saturday for Perkins, Ince & Co.

Messrs. Perkins, Ince & Co., of this city on Saturday received a direct shipment of raisins from Australia. So far as is known this is the first direct shipment of this kind of fruit ever brought from the Antipodes to Peterborough.

If the raisins sell well it is the intention of the firm to import a large number from Australia.

AN ORGANIZER WILL VISIT CITY

All Unorganized Labor Here Will be Looked After

Mr. Allan Studholme, M.P.P., of Hamilton, who was in the city on Saturday in the interests of labor, will in all probability visit the city at an early date. Together with Mr. T. J. Begley, secretary of the local Trades and Labor Council, the condition of affairs in the city from a labor standpoint were carefully considered and the necessity of prompt, aggressive organization work pointout. Mr. Studholme was anxious to have a rally of labor men Saturday evening, but it was felt that the time was too short in which to give sufficient notice. He was pleased to think that a delegate would be sent from the local Trades and Labor Council to the Trades Congress in Winnipeg. As a result of Mr. Studholme's visit, it is understood that an organizer will visit this city after the Winnipeg convention and will spend several weeks in organizing all unorganized trades. It is further understood that at the Winnipeg convention an effort will be made to have an organizer appointed for the eastern portion of the province.

Mr. Guerin and bride, will reside in the city, and their many friends will join in wishing them a long and happy wedded life.

TOURING BANDSMEN ARE HOME AGAIN

Warmly Received in Several Towns—Concert This Evening.

The local Salvation Army band which has been on a tour for the past few days, returned home this morning, every member having enjoyed their outing to the fullest. The band was away over a week and visited eight towns, including Port Hope, Cobourg, Trenton, Picton, Belleville, Campbellford, Napanee and Tweed. Concerts were given in each place, and on each occasion packed houses greeted the musicians. It was the opinion of a great many who heard the Temple Army Band, when they were on their tour, that the local organization far outclassed them, and drew much larger audiences. In Tweed where the band appeared on Saturday and Sunday, the opera house was packed and the receipts of the concert amounted to over $130.00.

The bandsmen speak very highly of the excellent treatment accorded them at each place. Tonight, the band will give a welcome home concert at the barracks and expect a large crowd. Brigadier Hargreave will preside and the welcome home will be a cordial one.

Joseph Givens, of East Oxford, was gored by a Durham bull and may die.

Thousands Were in Great Peril; Many Lives Were Endangered

Car of Dynamite Explodes at Kingston, N. Y.

People Had Miraculous Escape—Nobody Hurt—Crowd Was Watching Fire at Railroad Offices — Damage Estimated at $200,000—Whole Town Was Shaken—Traffic Held Up Completely For Four Hours.

Kingston, N. Y., Aug. 19.—The explosion of a car of dynamite endangered the lives of thousands of persons who were watching a fire here Saturday night, which destroyed the West Shore Railroad freight office, sheds and forty cars, causing a loss of over $200,000.

The shock of the explosion was felt from one end of the town to the other and windows were shattered within a radius of several blocks. The dynamite was enclosed in cases, most of which exploded separately, and to this is largely due, the firemen say, the escape of the spectators from serious injury.

So far as known, beyond a few bruises, no one was hurt.

Many of the cars contained oil, which, together with the frame sheds and the inflammable nature of the freight cars, made the fire unusually stubborn. It was four hours before the entire fire fighting force of Kingston, 15 companies, could subdue the blaze. During this time, all passenger and freight traffic was held up.

BUREAU TOUCHED BY APPEAL.

Promises to Do Something for Prisoner Serving Life Sentence.

Montreal, Aug. 19.—"You are Minister of Justice. I know you are. You can do anything you want for me. Just fix a limit to my imprisonment, so that I can look forward to its end and know that I can die in liberty."

This pathetic appeal was made to Hon. Jacques Bureau, Solicitor-General, while he was making an official inspection of the cells of St. Vincent De Paul Penitentiary.

The man who spoke the words was ex-Constable Cowes of Quebec, who was condemned to imprisonment for life for having killed his wife during the winter of 1903.

The Solicitor-General was evidently touched by the appeal, for he turned to Warden Beauchamp and enquired as to the manner in which the convict had conducted himself since his arrival in the prison. The answer was to the effect that the prisoner's conduct has been ideal.

"We will see then," said the Solicitor-General, turning to the convict, "if something can be done for you."

"FLEETWING" IS MISSING.

Belleville Schooner Caught In Storm—Not Heard of Since.

Belleville, Aug. 19.—It is believed here that the schooner Fleetwing, which is owned in this city, has met with some mishap on Lake Ontario. Three of her crew are Belleville men, namely, Captain Clark Taylor, William Babcock and John Gibson.

The Fleetwing left Charlotte Aug. 8, laden with coal for South Bay, and has not been heard of since, though it is rumored that on Aug. 13 she was seen on the lower part of the lake under full canvass. There was a very heavy blow that night, and it is feared that, during the storm, the schooner either went ashore or foundered.

The Fleetwing is an old boat. Mrs. Clark Taylor, wife of the captain, is making every effort to find the whereabouts of the vessel, but so far without success.

Committed for Bigamy.

Guelph, Aug. 19.—In the Police Court Saturday David Cook, the alleged bigamist of Drayton, appeared before Magistrate Saunders on a charge of perjury preferred by Crown Attorney Peterson.

Cook was first arrested on a charge of bigamy, but this is being held over in the hope of hearing of his first wife, who, he says, is dead, but who is believed to be living in Indiana. Cook also appeared on this charge Saturday morning before Magistrate Woodman of Drayton, but was remanded until to-day.

The charge of perjury arises out of the falsely sworn marriage license, which was issued in Elora and upon which he was married to a 17-year-old Barnardo Home girl. The statement by Cook was that he was 25 years of age, while he was really 38, and the girl was also younger than he swore. After the examination of some other witnesses Cook was committed for trial on the charge.

Child's Escape From Death.

London, Aug. 19.—Losing her balance, as she leaned over a screen in the window of the third storey of Mr. Gilmour's house on Adelaide street, Grace M. Ewen, seven years old, plunged head downwards and fell a distance of forty feet to the cement sidewalk below. She sustained a fractured leg and badly injured back. Her escape from instant death was little short of miraculous. Dr. John Wilson says she will recover.

Banquet Canadian Ministers.

Paris, Aug. 19.—Foreign Minister Pichon gave a dinner here Saturday night in honor of L. P. Brodeur and W. S. Fielding, Canadian Ministers of Marine and Finance respectively.

The "Sailor Boy" brand of canned goods are the best that are put up. They never fail to please. Try a few cans.

WAR BUDGET LIMITATION.

Modified British Proposition Adopted at The Hague.

The Hague, Aug. 19.—The Peace Conference Saturday afternoon held its fourth plenary session, which has been termed "the funeral of the limitation of armaments question."

The following resolution, proposed by Sir Edward Fry, was unanimously adopted:

"This conference confirms the resolution adopted by the conference of 1899 regarding the limitation of military burdens, and as military burdens have been considerably augmented in almost all countries since 1899 it declares it is highly desirable to see the Governments earnestly resume the study of this question."

When the resolution was put it was received with a good salvo of handclapping, especially from the Chinese delegates and those from some of the younger republics.

Sir Edward Fry, the head of the British delegation, in a speech proposing the resolution pointed out that the expenditure of European countries and the United States, excluding Turkey and Montenegro, for armies and navies had increased from £251,000,000 sterling in 1899 to £320,000,000 sterling in 1906. Lamenting this fact, he said: "Such is Christian peace in the civilized world in the twentieth century."

It is moderately clear now that the conference is practically at a deadlock. The projected convention for arranging that five years hence the signatory powers should draw up a program to be dealt with by the next conference in 1914 has been abandoned.

The question, therefore, remains open, and affords fresh evidence that the practical sense of the conference has no trust whatever in the present institution. Many hope that if there is another assembly it will be held without the assistance of any naval or military delegates, that it be definitely an international law conference based on the principles of arbitration. They point out that resolutions on armaments, a side question, and the conduct of warfare are so utterly platitudinous as to prove the uselessness of the military element, which has naturally put its professional faith in its own arms above any shadowy restraints that can be accepted here even as international law.

POWER TANK EXPLODES.

Two Killed and Five Injured on River Motor Boat.

Tiverton, R. I., Aug. 19.—A gasoline tank in a motor-boat in the Seaconnet River exploded last night, causing the death of two persons and serious injuries to five others. The boat was a 20-footer, owned by Joseph Chouinard of Fall River, and contained 14 young people who had been on a trip to Newport from Fall River and had stopped at Tiverton on their return.

The Dead.

George Antuya, 18 years of age.
Lydie Murcier, 17 years of age.

Seriously injured are: Joseph Chouinard, aged 20, badly burned about the head and arms; Joseph Bernier, Rose Durand, Marie Moreau and Albertina Durand, all suffering from severe burns.

Ambulances were summoned from Fall River to convey the injured to the hospital in that city.

Suicide at the Falls.

Niagara Falls, Aug. 19.—When Edward Brennan and Frank Thom were walking along the river in Prospect Park, opposite the foot of Falls street they saw a man sitting on the rocks close to the edge of the water. When they spoke to him he jumped up, glanced around and then plunged into the rapids and was swept over the Falls. Peter Landrigan of No. 470 Eighth street, a foreman in the Niagara Folding Box Co.'s factory, is missing, and it is believed the suicide was he.

In the Indiantown quarry near Newcastle, N.B., three men were killed Saturday and two injured.

THIEF'S CLEVER RUSE

Enabled Him to Get Away With Rich Booty.

Dressed as Officer Presented Cheque at Bank and Money Was Paid—Secured Guard of Soldiers — Left Them to Watch Silver—While He Decamped With the Remainder of the Spoil.

New York, Aug. 19.—The Sun correspondent at St. Petersburg sends the following cable despatch: The fame of the cobbler of Koepenick seems to have penetrated as far away as Harbin, Manchuria. A few days ago a man in an officer's uniform presented himself, armed with power of attorney, at the treasury of the Trans-Amur division and demanded 66,655 roubles, the estimated expenditure of the First Brigade for the month.

The papers were in perfect order and the supposed officer received a check on the Russo-Chinese Bank for the amount, which was duly paid. Part of the money was counted out in silver coin, which seemed to annoy the officer, but as the bank had a legal right to make part of its payments in silver he consented grumblingly to take the heavy stuff, but telephoned for a convoy of three privates, who escorted him to the railway station.

There the supposed officer ordered the men to stand guard over the bags of silver and left, carrying off the rest of the money himself. The guard kept watch for 24 hours without any relief coming and would probably still be there had not the garrison commander made inquiries from the staff of the First Brigade, where nothing was known about the officer, his mission or the money.

PRANCED ON CORNICE.

Drunken Hospital Patient Performs Daring Stunt.

Edmonton, Alta., Aug. 19.—An intoxicated man named George E. Wood pranced about on the cornice of the Misericordia Hospital, three storeys from the ground, while in a state of drunken frenzy. Wood has been under treatment in the hospital for quinsy, and having sufficiently recovered to go down town, was permitted to do so. While out of the hospital he imbibed too freely of intoxicants and returned to the infirmary the worse of liquor. He retired to bed peacefully enough, but soon panted for air and freedom. Going out on the cornice he paraded in brief costume like a sentinel on watch until he finally decided to orate to an imaginary crowd below from the vantage position of the tower on the corner of the building.

All attempts to induce him to return to the hospital from his perilous position were vain till a bottle of whiskey was procured. When this was exhibited to his view he immediately retraced his steps, and when once inside was confined to the building till his senses were restored. The occurrence is remarkable, because it would be difficult for an experienced acrobat to make the same trip when sober that Wood did when under the influence of booze.

BANK TELLER'S MISTAKE.

Paid Out $500 Too Much—An Italian Arrested.

Winnipeg, Aug. 19.—The teller of the Bank of Montreal here paid out $500 too much one day last week, and as a result Sim Patrakos, a Greek, is under arrest, charged with having obtained the money. Patrakos presented a check for six hundred and fifty dollars, signed by M. J. Neville, local druggist. On discovery that the cash was five hundred short, Teller W. J. Rapsey claims that he positively remembered that he gave Patrakos ten one hundred dollar bills and thirty fives, thinking that he was giving him fifties instead of hundreds. Patrakos denied that he had the extra money, and the bank placed him under arrest. Saturday in court Patrakos pleaded not guilty, and was remanded for eight days.

Another Monster Fine.

New York, Aug. 19.—The Sun has received the following cable despatch from its correspondent at Willemstad, Curacoa: A despatch from Caracas, Venezuela, says that in the case of the Government against the New York & Bermudez Co., which is charged with assisting the Matos revolution, the Court of First Instance has adjudged that the defendant pay 24,178,638 bolivars, about $5,000,000, in reimbursement of the expenses incurred by the Government in quelling the revolution, and also upward of 9,000,000 bolivars for other losses to the country from the revolution. The defendant will appeal.

Fight Among Sailors.

Quebec, Aug. 19.—There was a row yesterday morning amongst some of the crew belonging to the S. S. Empress of Britain, and one of the men, named Thomas Finerty, was so badly beaten that he is not expected to survive. He was removed in an ambulance to the Hotel Dieu Hospital. Arrests will be made this morning. The authorities are waiting for the ante-mortem deposition of the victim.

Englishman Drowned.

Rosseau, Aug. 19.—William Lovell, one of the crew of the Muskoka Lakes Navigation Co.'s steamer Nipissing, while canoeing near here yesterday, was upset and drowned in about 40 feet of water. The body was recovered shortly afterward. Lovell was about 20 years of age, and lately out from England.

Weds Light Opera Singer.

London, Aug. 19.—According to a published announcement, Capt. Hon. John Reginald Lopes Yarde-Buller, heir of Lord Churston, is married to Miss Denise Orme, an actress, prominent as a singer in light opera. The marriage is said to have taken place on April 24 last.

Dr. George T. McGhie, a well-known physician of Elgin, near Brockville, died on Saturday of heart failure.

KABYLES REBELLIOUS.

Throw Off Sultan's Authority—Postal Carriers Killed.

Paris, Aug. 19.—Special despatches from Tangier say the inhabitants of Fez believe that the Kabyles tribesmen have been victorious at Casablanca, and that the Government is encouraging this belief in order to control the bandits.

The tribesmen in the more remote regions seemed better informed as to the true situation, and are giving anxiety because of their restlessness.

One tribe has thrown off the Sultan's authority and driven out the district governor. Two French postal couriers have been killed between Rabat and Fez and their letters destroyed.

The French consul at Casablanca considers that all serious danger is over.

Mill at Dundalk Burns.

Dundalk, Aug. 19.—About 2 o'clock yesterday morning Dundalk citizens were awakened by the alarm of fire, when it was discovered the planing mill owned and operated by George Wood & Son was on fire. The flames had made such headway that none of the valuable machinery or other contents could be saved, and the efforts of the fire brigade were directed towards saving adjoined buildings.

In this they were successful. Wood & Son's loss on building, machinery and lumber will be about $6,000, insurance $1,000.

Brakeman Killed.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Aug. 19.—John Parker, aged 30, unmarried, a Michigan Central Railway transfer brakeman, while stepping from the top of one car to another when the train was in motion, fell between the cars in Montrose yards and had both legs badly crushed and his spine injured. The man was taken to the General Hospital, where he succumbed to his injuries.

Two Forts Threatened.

Toulon, Aug. 19.—Great forest fires are blazing on all sides of this place and two forts are threatened. Troops are making desperate efforts to control the fire, but thus far with little result owing to a high wind.

Plague In Manchuria.

Harbin, Manchuria, Aug. 19.—The bubonic plague has broken out in South Manchuria and 16 deaths have been reported. Travelers proceeding into North Manchuria are being medically examined at Kangchingtsu.

Earthquake Noticed.

San Juan, Aug. 19.—A perceptible earthquake was noticed here Saturday night. No damage, however, has been reported from any part of Porto Rico.

The Manager Of the B. & A.

By VAUGHAN KESTER

Copyright, 1901, by Harper & Brothers

While abroad the financier had effected a combination of interests which grouped a number of roads under one management, and Dan had been made general superintendent of the consolidated lines, with his headquarters in New York city. The Joyces were but vaguely informed as to where these lines were, but they did full justice to their magnitude, as well as to the importance of Oakley's new connection.

The dull monotony of those fall days in Antioch was never forgotten by Constance Emory. She was listless and restless by turns. She had hoped that she might hear from Oakley. She even thought the Joyces might bring her some message, but none had come. Dan had taken her at her word.

She had made no friends, and, with Ryder dead and Oakley gone, she saw no one and finally settled down into an apathy that alarmed the doctor. He, after some deliberation, suddenly announced his intention of going east to attend a medical convention.

"Shall you see Mr. Oakley?" Constance asked, with quick interest.

"Probably, if he's in New York when I get there."

Constance gave him a scared look and dropped her eyes. But when the time drew near for his departure she followed him about as if there were something on her mind which she wished to tell him.

The day he started she found courage to ask:

"Won't you take me with you, papa?"

"Not this time, dear," he answered.

She was quiet for a moment and then said:

"Papa, you are not going to tell him?"

"Tell who, Constance. What?"

"Mr. Oakley."

"What about Oakley, dear?"

She looked at him from under her long lashes, while the color slowly mounted to her cheeks.

"You are not going to tell him what you think you know?"

The doctor smiled.

"I wish you would grant me the possession of ordinary sense, Constance. I am not quite a fool."

"You are a precious," she said, kissing him.

"Thank you. What message shall I give Oakley from you?"

"None."

"None?"

"He won't want to hear from me"—shyly.

"Why not?"

"Because he just won't, papa. Besides, I expect he has forgotten that such a person ever lived."

"I wouldn't be too sure of that. What was the trouble, Constance? You'd better tell me, or I may say something I shouldn't."

"Oh, you must not say anything"—in alarm—"you must promise."

"Constance, what did Oakley say to you that last day he was here at the house?"

Constance's glance wandered meditatively from her father's face to the window and back again, while her color came and went. There was a faraway, wistful look in her eyes and a sad little smile on her lips. At last she said softly: "Oh, he said a number of things. I can't remember now all he did say."

"Did Oakley tell you he cared for you?"

Constance hesitated a moment, then, reluctantly:

"Well, yes, he did. And I let him go, thinking I didn't care for him," miserably and with a pathetic droop of her lids, from which the smile had fled. "I didn't know, and I have been so unhappy!"

"Oh!"

Constance left the room abruptly.

When he reached New York the first thing the doctor did was to look up Oakley. He was quick to notice a certain constraint in the young man's manner as they shook hands, but this soon passed off.

"I am awfully glad to see you," he had said. "I have thought of you again and again, and I have been on the point of writing you a score of times. I haven't forgotten your kindness to me."

"Nonsense, Oakley. I liked you, and it was a pleasure to me to be able to show my regard," responded the doctor, with hearty good will.

"How is Mrs. Emory and Miss Emory?"

"They are both very well. They were just a little hurt that you ran off without so much as a goodby."

Oakley gave him a quick glance.

"She is—Miss Emory is still in Antioch?"

The doctor nodded.

"I didn't know but what she might be in the city with you," Dan explained, with evident disappointment.

"Aren't we ever going to see you in Antioch again?" inquired the doctor. He put the question with studied indifference. Dan eagerly scanned his face. The doctor fidgeted awkwardly.

"Do you think I'd better go back?" he asked, with a perceptible dwelling on the "you."

The doctor's face became a trifle red. He seemed to weigh the matter carefully, then he said:

"Yes; I think you'd better. Antioch would like mightily to lay hands on you."

Dan laughed happily.

"You don't suppose a fellow could dodge all that, do you? You see, I was going west to Chicago in a day or so, and I had thought to take a run on to Antioch. As a matter of fact, Cornish wants me to keep an eye on the shops. They are doing well, you know, and we don't want any falling off. But, you understand, I don't want to get let in for any fool hysterics," he added impatiently.

Notwithstanding the supposed confidence in which telegrams are transmitted, Brown, the day man at Antioch, generally used his own discretion in giving publicity to any facts of local interest that came under his notice. But when he wrote off Dr. Emory's message announcing that he and Oakley were in Chicago and would arrive in Antioch the last of the week he held it for several hours, not quite knowing what to do. Finally he delivered it in person, a sacrifice of official dignity that only the exigencies of the occasion condoned in his eyes. As he handed it to Mrs. Emory he said:

"It's from the doctor. You needn't be afraid to open it; he's all right. He'll be back Saturday night, and he's bringing Mr. Oakley with him. I came up to see if you had any objection to my letting the town know."

Mrs. Emory saw no reason why the knowledge of Oakley's return should be withheld, and in less than half an hour Antioch, with bated breath, was discussing the news on street corners and over back fences.

That night the town council met in secret session to consider the weighty matter of his reception, for by common consent it was agreed that the town must take official action. It was suggested that he be given the freedom of the city. This sounded large and met with instant favor, but when the question arose as to how the freedom of the city was conferred the president turned, with a slightly embarrassed air, to the member who had made the motion. The member explained, with some reserve, that he believed the most striking feature had to do with the handing over of the city keys to the guest of honor. But unfortunately Antioch had no city keys to deliver. The only keys that by any stretch of the imagination could be so called were those of the courthouse, and they were lost.

Here an appeal was made to the Hon. Jeb Barrows, who was usually called in to straighten out any parliamentary tangles in which the council became involved. That eminent statesman was leaning dreamily against a pillar at the end of the council chamber. On one of the cards he had already penciled the brief suggestion, "Feed him and have out the band." He handed the card to the president, and the council heaved a sigh of relief. The momentous question of Oakley's official reception was settled.

When Dan and Dr. Emory stepped from No. 7 Saturday night the station platform was crowded with men and boys. The brass band, which Antioch loved with a love that stifled criticism, perspiring and in dire haste, was turning the street corner half a block distant. Across the tracks at the railroad shops a steam whistle shrieked an ecstatic welcome.

Dan glanced at the doctor with a slightly puzzled air.

"What do you suppose is the matter?" he asked unsuspiciously.

"Why, man, don't you understand? It's you!"

There was no need for him to say more, for the crowd had caught sight of Dan and a hundred voices cried:

"There he is! There's Oakley!"

And in an instant Antioch, giving way to wild enthusiasm, was cheering itself black in the face, while above the sound of cheers and the crash of music the steam whistle at the shops shrieked and pealed.

The blood left Oakley's face. He looked down at the crowd and saw Turner Joyce. He saw McClintock and Holt and the men from the shops, who were, if possible, the noisiest of all. He turned helplessly to the doctor.

"Let's get out of this," he said between his teeth. The crowd and the noise and the excitement recalled that other night when he had ridden into Antioch. As he spoke he swung himself down from the steps of the coach, and the crowd closed about him with a glad shout of welcome.

The doctor followed more slowly. As he gained the platform the Hon. Jeb Barrows hurried to his side.

"Where is he to go, Doc?" he panted. "To your house or to the hotel?"

"To my house."

"All right, then. The crowd's spoiling the whole business. I've got an address of welcome in my pocket that I was to have delivered, and there's to be a supper at the rink tonight. Don't let him get away from you."

Meanwhile Dan had succeeded in extricating himself from the clutches of his friends and was struggling toward a closed carriage at the end of the platform that he recognized as the Emorys'.

In his haste and the dusk of the dull October twilight he supposed the figure he saw in the carriage to be the doctor, who had preceded him, and called to the man on the box to drive home.

As he settled himself he said reproachfully:

"I hope you hadn't anything to do with this."

A slim, gloved hand was placed in his own, and a laughing voice said:

"How do you do, Mr. Oakley?"

He glanced up quickly and found himself face to face with Constance Emory.

There was a moment's silence, and then Dan said, the courage that had brought him all the way to Antioch suddenly deserting him:

"It's too bad, isn't it? I had hoped I could slip in and out of town without any one being the wiser."

"But you can't," with a little air of triumph. "Antioch is going to entertain you. It's been in a perfect furor of excitement ever since it knew you were coming back."

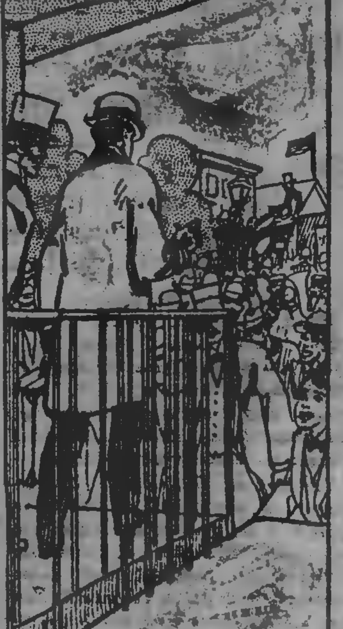
"Well, I suppose there is no help for it," resignedly.

"Where is my father, Mr. Oakley?"

"I guess we left him behind," with sudden cheerfulness. He leaned forward so that he could look into her face.

"Constance, I have returned because I couldn't stay away any longer. I tried to forget, but it was no use."

She had withdrawn her hand, but he had found it again, and now his fingers closed over it and held it fast. He was feeling a sense of ownership.



"There he is! There's Oakley!"

"Did you come to meet me?" he asked.

"I came to meet papa."

"But you knew I was coming too."

"Oh, no!"

It was too dark for him to see the color that was slowly mounting to her face.

"Constance, I don't believe you," he cried.

"I was not sure you were coming," Constance said weakly.

"You might have known that I'd come back—that I couldn't stay away."

"Don't you think you have been a long time in making that discovery?"

"Well, yes, but when I saw your father"—

"What did papa say to you?" with keen suspicion in her tones.

"You mustn't blame him, Constance. It was not so much what he said as what he didn't say. I never knew any one to be quite so ostentatious about what was left unsaid."

Constance freed her hand and, shrinking into a corner, covered her face. She had a painful realization of the direction these confidences must have taken between her father, who only desired her happiness, and the candid Oakley, who only desired her love.

"Was there any use in my coming? You must be fair with me now. It's too serious a matter for you not to be."

"You think I was not fair once?"

"I didn't mean that, but you have changed."

"For the better, Mr. Oakley?"

"Infinitely," with blunt simplicity.

"You haven't changed a scrap. You are just as rude as you ever were."

Dan cast a hurried glance from the window.

"Constance, we won't have much more time to ourselves; we are almost home. Won't you tell me what I have come to hear—that you do care for me and will be my wife? You know that I love you. But you mustn't send me from you a second time without hope."

"I shouldn't think you would care about me now. I wouldn't care about you if you had been as unworthy as I have been," her voice faltered. "I might have shown you that I, too, could be brave, but I let the opportunity pass, and now, when every one is proud"—

"But I do care. I care a great deal, for I love you just as I have loved you from the very first."

She put out both her hands.

"If you had only looked back when you left the house that day you told me you cared"—

"What, Constance?"

"I was at the window. I thought you'd surely look back, and then you would have known"—

"My darling!"

The carriage had drawn up to the Emorys' gate.

Dan jumped out and gave Constance his hand. Off in the distance they heard the band. Constance paused and rested her hand gently on Oakley's arm.

"Hark! Do you hear?"

"I wish they'd stop their confounded nonsense," said Dan.

"No, you can't stop them," delightedly. "Antioch feels a sense of proprietorship. But do you hear the music, Dan?"

"Yes, dear. It's the band."

"Of course it's the band. But do you know what it is playing?"

Oakley shook his head dubiously. She gave his arm a little pat and laughed softly.

"It might be difficult to recognize it, but it's the bridal march from 'Lohengrin.'"

"If they stick to that I don't care, Constance."

And side by side they went slowly and silently up the path to the house.

THE END.

The Ruby.

There are four degrees of merit in the ruby class. The first is the deep blood red oriental ruby—the "cochineal red"—pure, suggestive, without admixture of the brown or violet. The second is the spinel, almost as beautiful as the oriental, but a shade less rich, less supreme in color. The third is the balas, a rose red ruby, valuable in proportion to its depth of tint and esteemed perfect only when it attains a certain size and weight. A small pale balas ruby is of very meager value. The fourth is the almandine, or rubicele, of a yellowish red, oftentimes tinged with brown. The Brazilian topaz is not infrequently made to pass for balas ruby. It is heated in a crucible filled with sand, which drives off the yellow and fills in the rose red tint of the balas ruby. Garnets, too, have often done duty for rubies, and many a writer has confounded garnets, rubies and carbuncles all in a heap together.

Cromwell's Eyes.

In one of Carlyle's private letters sold in London he says: "Oliver Cromwell had no squint, stare or deficiency of any kind in the eyes of him. One eye, probably the left, but I am not sure, was considered bigger than the other."

WORKMEN'S RIGHTS

In Canada a workman may proceed against his employer under the Workman's Compensation for Injuries Act, and at common law. That means untold annoyance and inconvenience to an employer. An employer is even liable for damages to an employee for injury resulting from the negligence of a fellow employee. Oft-times a workman will get back at an employer in this way. The employee may or may not win. Whether he does or not it means a great deal of anxiety to you as an employer. Let us relieve you of all this. OBITUARY

MR. HUGH McFEE.

Mr. Hugh McFee, the oldest resident of Dummer township, passed away last week at his home two miles south of Warsaw. He had attained the ripe age of 92 years, and was ill only a short time from bronchial trouble. The deceased was widely known and highly respected. He was one of the earliest settlers of the township. In religion he was a Presbyterian, being an elder of the Warsaw Presbyterian church, and in politics a Liberal.

There are left to mourn his death five sons and two daughters, four of the sons, James, Andrew, William and David, living in the Canadian West, and the fifth, George, in Dummer. The daughters are Mrs. Yourex of Meyersburg, and Miss Kate, at home. Mrs. McFee died about three years ago.

RICHARD BULLIED.

The death occurred yesterday in Nicholls hospital of Richard Bullied, after an illness of some weeks. Death was due to typhoid fever. The deceased was fifty-four years of age and for many years has resided in this city.

A wife and one daughter, Mary, are left to mourn his loss.

The funeral will take place to-morrow from the family residence, 410 Aylmer-st., to Ashley, where interment will take place.

The Amalgamated Radio-Telegraphic Co., of London, hope to establish a wireless service to Canada next year.

SHOULD BE MADE TO CLEAN UP

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—Churchgoers on Sunday were greeted as usual with the litter strewn along Hunter street, between George and Water streets, being the refuse from the Italian fruit store in that quarter, consisting chiefly of banana skins and paper bags. This store should be made to clean up the mess on Saturday nights. It is said that a corporation employee at the city's expense is kept busy during the week days gathering up the rubbish. It is not fair to those who do not make any mess, that they should be compelled to contribute to the cleaning up of that mess, occasioned by the negligence of others. Such liberties with our streets should not be permitted.

Yours,

SANITAS.

Ald. R. H. Leary Has Purchased McCollum's Livery Business

Deal Was Put Through Saturday—Possession Will be Taken Immediately—Improvements to be Made—Hack Business Will be Added.

An important business change was made Saturday afternoon which will be of general interest. Ald. R. H. Leary has purchased the livery business which has been so successfully conducted for some time by Mr. Bert McCollum. Stock of the barns is being taken to-day and the new proprietor will take possession at once.

Two years and a half ago McCollum Bros. moved to Peterborough from Orillia, and bought out Mr. Leary's livery. Since then they have run the largest and probably the most up-to-date livery and hack business east of Toronto. They kept a large number of good horses and first class rigs, hacks and sleighs and had a big trade. They were both young, genial and obliging boys and made a large circle of friends. Last spring Mr. Robt. McCollum sold his share in the business to his brother and went to Cuba. he purchased a large farm and has since been doing well. Since then Bert has run the business alone, but yesterday was his last day. What he will do in future he has not yet decided definitely.

Ald. R. H. Leary is well known to nearly everyone in the city. For ten years he successfully ran a livery in the same stand he has just bought. He has also dealt largely in horses for the Northwest and recently he has been in partnership with Mr. Jas. Storv in the flour and feed and agricultural implement business. He is therefore not only well known in the city, but also in the country and he is universally liked.

As soon as stocktaking is completed it is stated that the equipment of the barn will be greatly improved. New rigs and horses will be put in. The hacks will be put on the road again and the whole business will be re-organized, so that there will be nothing in the province to surpass Peterborough's leading livery barn.

Raging Fires Extinguished; Many Storms at Stony Lake

Cottagers Had to Remain on Their Islands During High Winds—Party of Ladies Had Exciting Experience—Nightly Hops Are Very Popular—Families Preparing to Leave for Home.

Special to the Review.

Stony Lake, Aug. 19.—The heavy downpour of rain on Friday certainly did prove a great blessing at the lakes, and the fires, which have been raging for the past week at different points, are now out and all danger of them spreading gone.

The fire on "Big Island" is extinguished, but it has left this beautiful spot rather bare looking on the east side. The blaze at Hurricane Point is also quenched, and those who have cottages in the vicinity can rest a little easier now, and any danger of their cottages being swept away by flames is past.

This year at the lakes has certainly been an exceptional one as far as high winds are concerned, and the cottagers say they never experienced anything like the past week for storms. It has been very bad, and yesterday was the first calm day for quite a while. The cottagers have kept to their homes and it was only a few of the bravest and those who enjoy a sail on a rough sea that would venture out. The people had to wait till evening when the wind went down to get after their mail and provisions at Juniper Island.

On Saturday afternoon a party of ladies from "Woodside" cottage, Clear Lake, had an experience which they will not soon forget, and one which they would not care repeating. The party started out shortly after dinner for Juniper Island and there was quite a heavy gale blowing on the lake, but, nevertheless, they reached their destination in safety, after some hard pulling at the oars. On their return trip the wind was blowing heavily and several times it would seem that the little craft in which the ladies were, would be enveloped in the big waves. On reaching "Majestic" Island they decided that they would land there and wait until the wind abated. The supply boat "Bobs" was passing and noticing the ladies stranded on the island, went to their assistance.

The old saying that "it never rains but it pours," certainly came true this day, for the "Bobs" on attempting to land at the island, smashed some of its machinery and was stranded on the rocks. A gentleman, after a while, went to the island in a skiff, and got the ladies home in safety, and they vowed they would never venture out again on such a stormy day. The "Bobs" had to be towed home to upper Stony Lake.

NIGHTLY DANCES

The attendance at the dances during the past week has been the largest of the season, and a great many of the visitors at the lake enjoy this pastime nightly at the pavilion. Saturday night's attendance was unusually large and a very pleasant time was spent.

Next week will see the social aspect of this popular resort at its best, and after that the population will begin to decrease, and things will again look a little quieter. Many will remain through this month but some are talking of leaving the first of next week.

The nights are very cool at the lakes but the days are delightfully warm. In the opinion of a great many people, this is by far the nicest month to spend at the lakes. The scenery at the lakes the latter part of this month, and through September is very beautiful. The fishing during the past week has been excellent, and several fine catches have been made. A young lady from South Beach succeeded in landing a 22 lb. 'lunge in Clear Lake the other day. She had a great time in getting it into her boat, so heavy was it, but after pulling for some time she managed to land it. This is about the largest fish caught at the lakes this summer, and the young lady is quite elated over her catch. Master Douglas Carlisle caught a dandy bass on Saturday weighing over 4 pounds.

SUNDAY SERVICES.

The usual Sunday morning service was held at the pavilion yesterday, and it being the first calm day for some time, enabled a good number to attend. Every seat in the pavilion was occupied, and many sat outside on the rocks. Rev. J. E. Starr, of Toronto, formerly of Peterborough, preached an eloquent sermon, which was much enjoyed by his many old friends, who were glad to see and hear him. Mr. Robt. Shaw, of Toronto, sang very beautifully at the service, "The Song Divine."

In the evening the song service was held at Mr. W. G. Ferguson's "Syndicate Island," and was very largely attended.

The annual meeting of the Stony Lake Cottagers' Association, which was to have been held on Friday last at the pavilion, had to be postponed on account of the stormy weather, there being only four who were brave enough to come out on such a disagreeable evening. The meeting will be held next Friday evening at 7.30 o'clock, and as there are several important matters to come up, it is urgent that all members attend. It is up to the Association to look into these fires, that were such a menace to the cottagers last week. It is believed they originated from picnickers neglecting to put out their little camp fires, and is this is the case the Association wants to get after these parties and see that they are punished for this serious offence. The election of officers will also take place at this meeting, and everything of interest to cottagers will be given due consideration.

OTHER NOTES.

Miss Gladys Boultbee, of Toronto, who has been visiting at "Woodside," Clear Lake, returned home today.

A jolly party is now on board the houseboat "Lotus," and are having a most delightful trip. There are 16 ladies and gentlemen in the party, and Mr. Robson, Advertising Agent of the C.P.R., is in charge of the party. They are mostly from Toronto. They took the boat at Lakefield last Monday, and are taking the trip right through to Fenelon Falls, which is by far the prettiest trip on the Kawartha Lakes. The steam yacht "Victoria" is towing the houseboat. The party are having a two weeks' outing.

Miss Haycock, of Woodstock, came to "Woodside," Clear Lake, on Saturday to spend a couple of weeks.

Mr. W. F. Nelson is spending a few days at his cottage, Clear Lake.

Mr. Walford Hatton is spending his vacation at "Eko Camp," near Burleigh.

Mrs Munro and Mr. Reid Munro came up to their cottage Saturday evening.

Mr. Duncan Walker is the guest of Ald. W. G. Morrow for a few days.

Capt. George Bennett is spending a few days at the lakes.

Miss Edna and Mr. Wallace Armstrong spent Sunday at "Fairy Lake Villa."

Messrs. Graham Ferguson and Ross Cameron were at "Syndicate Island" over Sunday.

Miss Alta Bradd is the guest of Mrs. J. D. Collins, "Cata Moran."

Dr. and Mrs. Bradd are guests at "Viamede" for a few days.

Col. J. W. Miller and Mr. Gordon Miller spent Sunday at "Fern Rock."

Mr. A. O. Meyers is spending his holidays at the lakes.

Mr. E. L. Watson, of Berlin, returned home today after spending his vacation at "Wenonah."

Mr. Thomas Bargie spent Sunday at "Isphеming."

Mr. and Mrs. Little returned to the city today after a pleasant outing at the lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Henderson, of Toronto, came down from their cottage at the lakes today.

Misses Minnie Lightfoot and Florence Corcoran returned home today after spending the past two weeks at South Beach.

Mr. W. Bunton spent the week end at the lakes.

Mr. Wm. Medill and family, who have been camping at Sandy Point, Clear Lake, returned home today.

Mr. Gerald Rackham spent Sunday at the lakes.

Mr. Hague Sawer spent a few days at the lakes last week.

Mr. Jack Barber returned to the city after spending a few days' fishing at Burleigh Falls.

RUNAWAY BOY RETURNED HOME

Charles Burgoyne Remanded at the Police Court To-day

At the police court this morning, City Treasurer Frank Adams was on the bench in the absence of His Worship Magistrate Dumble. There was only one case for him to deal with. Chas. Burgoyne, the youth who was implicated in the robbery of Jas. R. Bell's store a week ago Sunday, on which charge Norman LeBar was sent to the Mimico Industrial School on Saturday, was the offender. Burgoyne ran off to the Chemong regatta last Thursday and could not be found until Saturday night, when he evidently got tired of staying away, and returned home. He was remanded to the Children's Shelter till Friday morning next, when he will be dealt with by Magistrate Dumble.

IN INTEREST OF CANADIAN FORESTERS

Mr. Joseph Halpany Meeting With Great Success as Organizer.

Mr. Joseph Halpany, organizer for the Canadian Order of Foresters, is in the city, after an absence of several months and will spend some time here, recruiting the membership of the local courts.

He has met with great success in his work, during the past five months, and has been in Belleville, Napanee and Ottawa. He has met with splendid encouragement in his work, and in Napanee during July was instrumental in having 48 new members received in the order. In Ottawa and Belleville he also met with much success and his efforts have started off in Peterborough with bright prospects.

At the meeting of Court Peterborough on Friday night, six propositions were received.

Mr. Halpany sang a solo "The Shepherd King," in St. John's church last evening, which was much appreciated. The choir is glad to have him back again for a few weeks.

The Napanee Beaver of a recent date contains an appreciative reference to the work of Mr. Halpany of this city, on the occasion of a visit from John A. Stewart, High Chief Ranger of Perth, and W. G. Strong, of Brantford, superintendent of organization, who paid an official visit to Court Lennox, No. 78, Napanee.

The Beaver says, "Bro. Halpany, the organizer, who secured the candidates initiated during the month of July to the number of 45, was the recipient of hearty congratulations on the result of his work on behalf of Court Lennox. Bro. Halpany left on the afternoon train for his home in Peterborough."

Montreal reports a slight increase in the birth rate and marriage record for the year.

ALL SUMMERY GOODS

Certainly have got a "move on." Move on! move on! says the copper on the corner, AND THEY MOVE.

We said move on! move on! to all our summery goods and a lot of oddments and endments of staple lines—We emphasized our words with radical price cutting AND THEY MOVE.

Move? Why the goods couldn't find owners quicker if they tumbled off our shelves and counters and rolled out of the doors, so anxious are shoppers to own them at our "MOVE ON" PRICES.

Come! Only a few days more. Don't delay. Don't say "soon," soon will be too late. Take warning.

Farm Laborers Trains for West

First Excursion Leaves on Aug. 27th—Additional Homeseekers Excursions

The farm laborers excursion per C. P.R., from Ontario to the Northwest and Manitoba will start on August 27th. They will also be run on Aug. 30 and Sept. 4. The rates will be the same as last year. It is also announced that those desiring to go west on a trip and not to work as farm laborers, should not take these special trains, as much better accommodation can be had on the Homeseekers excursion trains which will leave Toronto on Aug. 27, Sept. 10 and 24, and October 8 and 22. The last two excursions are extra ones.

A. Monteith has been appointed Government wharfinger at Rosseau.

HE COURTED SIX GIRLS AT ONCE

Man Who Eloped With 17-Year-Old Girl Was Breaker of Fair Young Hearts

The Hamilton Times of Aug. 14 says:—A story that sounds like a chapter from a novel is told by Chief William Huckle, of the International Detective Bureau, who went to London Tuesday and brought back a 17-year-old Hamilton girl, who had eloped with a man several years her senior, believing him to be wealthy and well connected. The girl, who belongs to a most respectable family, disappeared last Thursday. At first her people thought she had gone to visit friends, but when night came and she did not return, they became alarmed. The suspicion that she had eloped with the dashing young stranger was partly confirmed when they found a valise and some small articles were missing from her room. On Monday they went to Detective Huckle and asked him to run the pair down. An address found on a piece of paper in the girl's room supplied a clue that led to London. They had twice written to that address before going to the detective, but got no reply.

The man in the case is about 27 years of age. He was a fashionable dresser and his irresistible ways with women, Detective Huckle says, has caused several broken hearts. The fellow comes from Detroit where it is said, he travelled under the name of Charles Eastwood, Stone, and other aliases. The chief admits that none of these is his right name.

Eastwood, as he was known, 'blew' into Hamilton three months ago. He posed as a bank clerk, with good connections, spent his money like a duke and was an all around good fellow. He got acquainted with some good people and was a guest at their homes. Eventually he was introduced to the girl with whom he eloped. Her people thought at first it was nothing more than a summer flirtation. When Detective Huckle and the girl's mother and brother faced her Tuesday she tried to bluff it out. Eastwood was away at the time, looking for work, she said. When informed that instead of a bank clerk the stranger was a pool room shark and wrecker of hearts, the girl yielded and returned to her home.

"Eastwood, as he was known," said Huckle, "came originally from Detroit. To my knowledge he has been making love to six girls at once. He had one in St. Catharines, another in Toronto, one in Montreal, and girls in Buffalo and Syracuse. He visited these places at intervals. He treated the girls like toys and seemed to tire of them in a month or so. After one visit to St. Catharines he returned with a lot of money. However, it was none of my business where he got it."

Huckle says that the man accomplished the ruin of a Buffalo girl who recently left a maternity hospital in Toronto. None of the parties would lay a charge against him because they shrank from publicity.

MORE PRAISE FOR S. A. BAND

Cobourg people had quite a musical treat Saturday evening, Sunday and Monday. The Peterborough Silver Band, under the leadership of Bandmaster Mendell Greene, consisting of about 30 players, played on Saturday evening on their arrival in town. They also played on Sunday, and the park was crowded with citizens who wished to hear good music. On Monday they marched through the town to the gaol, where they played on the lawn. They are making a tour of Canadian towns, and left in the afternoon for Trenton. There are three lady musicians in the number. The music furnished was varied and certainly good.—Cobourg Sentinel-Star.

DENIES PREFERENCE.

C. P. R. Freight Manager Before the Beef Commission.

Winnipeg, Aug. 19.—On Saturday afternoon the Beef Commission sat for the purpose of hearing Mr. Moncrieff's decision with regard to divulging the name of the anonymous writer of a letter in The Tribune newspaper.

A. J. Andrews, B. L., by whom Mr. Moncrieff had been consulted, stated that he had not had time to advise his client whether to answer the question or not, and asked for an adjournment until Tuesday. He also wished to address the commissioners.

On advice of their counsel, Mr. Haggart, the commissioners denied counsel had any locus standi and should not be heard. Mr. Moncrieff then stated that he could not answer until his lawyer had advised him, and he was given until Tuesday morning to finally decide.

F. W. Peters, assistant freight manager of the western lines of the Canadian Pacific Railway, gave evidence as to the charges made to shippers by his company. He denied most emphatically there was any preference shown to large shippers, over what was extended to the small men. He denied there were any rebates allowed to big firms and also said there were the same facilities for small as for large consignments. Stock was never delayed in transit where it could possibly be avoided.

FATAL AUTO CRASH.

Family Almost All Wiped Out In Collision With Express.

Great Barrington, Mass., Aug. 19.—A large automobile containing a party of five persons from Bristol, Conn., collided with the New York-Pittsfield express at Ashley Falls crossing, six miles south of this village, yesterday, with the result that three of the motoring party are dead and the other two are suffering from injuries which may prove fatal.

The Dead.

Charles J. Root, an automobile manufacturer of Bristol, instantly killed.

Mrs. Root, his mother, who died from her injuries while being removed to Pittsfield by train.

Miss Roberts, sister of Mrs. Root, instantly killed.

The Injured.

Miss Mary Root, daughter of Chas. J. Root, removed by train to the hospital at Pittsfield, where her condition was reported as critical.

Miss Katharine Root, aged 14, niece of Mrs. Root, brought to Great Barrington in an unconscious condition, with severe bruises and cuts about her face and body, and internal injuries of an uncertain nature.

TRAPPED IN SHIP'S HOLD.

Russian Burned to Death in Buffalo Fire—Others Injured.

Buffalo, Aug. 19.—Five men were trapped in the forward hold of the steamer Utica Saturday evening and frightfully burned. The fire started from an explosion.

John Roman, a Russian, was taken out of the hold dead.

Others burned were:

Michael Reilly, foreman, fatally burned.

Ignais Wozeniak, fatally burned.

Thomas Mahany, face and hands terribly burned.

Following a puff of flame which shot through a hatchway Mahany came scrambling up from below. His clothing was a mass of flames. He jumped into the harbor and was fished out by the freight handlers. The other four men were too far from the hatchway and could not get out at the first alarm. The freight hoisting tackle was lowered into the hold, and the crew on deck cried out to the imprisoned men to get hold of it. Reilly and Krieger succeeded in doing so and were hauled on deck.

Wozeniak and Roman were taken out after the compartment had been flooded with water.

Fire Spoils Game.

Bridgeport, Conn., Aug. 19.—Fire swept the amusement grounds at Steeplechase Island yesterday, causing $80,000 damage and creating something of a panic upon the 20,000 visitors. No one was seriously injured. Six structures were burned, including the grandstand and bleachers on the baseball diamond, where 3,000 persons had gathered for the Chicago-Bridgeport game. The greater part of the loss falls upon George C. Tilyou, proprietor of the amusement grounds, whose steeplechase park at Coney Island was burned a few weeks ago.

Aeronaut's Fatal Descent.

New Haven, Conn., Aug. 19.—Theodore French, 27 years of age, an aeronaut, met instant death Saturday by falling upon the roof of a factory in West Haven, after a drop of 150 feet.

French was on the program to make a double parachute drop at Savin Rock, a nearby resort. The first drop was successful, but on the second the parachute failed to open. Several thousand people saw him drop to his death.

Little Girl Killed.

Fort William, Aug. 19.—A little girl, 13 years old, named Maxson, was instantly killed by a Canadian Northern switch engine in Westfort. She was playing on the tracks when the engine rounded a curve and struck her. The curve at this point is very sharp and has no protection or any kind of signal. A coroner's jury is making an investigation.

Child Painfully Hurt.

Kingston, Aug. 19.—Robert Shaw, the 18 months old son of Chas. Shaw of King street, while playing with a small stick fell, the stick penetrating the roof of his mouth. The stick made a very nasty wound, the cut in the roof of his mouth being nearly half an inch deep and very jagged.

Sharper Given Sentence.

Belleville, Aug. 19.—William H. Wilson, who was arrested in Toronto, charged with obtaining, by false pretences, $30 from an immigrant named Abiard, in this city, was tried Saturday by Magistrate Masson and given six months in the Central Prison.

The house of John White, of Haldimand township, was struck by lightning Saturday and burned.

SHIPBUILDING LOCKOUT

Fifty Thousand Men Involved in Labor Dispute.

Strike of Calkers at Newcastle Precipitates Trouble in Allied Trades—Boilermakers, Platers, Riveters, and Unskilled Workers to Be Ordered Out—Objected to Work of Apprentices.

New York, Aug. 19.—The Sun has received the following cable despatch from London: Notices have been posted in all the northeastern shipyards ordering a lockout next Saturday. Twenty thousand members of the boilermakers' society and also the platers, riveters, calkers and unskilled laborers incidentally employed by them, in all approximately 50,000 men, are affected by this order, which has been issued by the Shipbuilders' Employers Association and is posted in the shipyards at Barrow, on the Tyne and on the Clyde, in Belfast and other centres.

The notification is the result of a strike by the calkers in the yards of the Armstrong-Whitworth Co. at Newcastle. They struck without notice in connection with a dispute relating to apprentices doing man's work. The boilermakers' society made the situation worse by refusing to order the Armstrong-Whitworth calkers to return to work.

Barrow-in-Furness, Eng., Aug. 19.—By order of the Employers' Federation 1,200 boilermakers were locked out of the shipyards of Vickers, Sons & Maxim Saturday morning, owing to the strike of calkers on the east coast.

MARAUDING EXPEDITION.

British Officer Seizes 4,000 Bales of Balata In Venezuela.

Georgetown, British Guiana, Aug. 19.—Much excitement has been caused here by the invasion of Venezuelan territory by Capt. Calder, in command of a small frontier force from British Guiana, and the seizure of a quantity of balata (the gum of the bulet tree, used for insulating wires, etc., which, it is alleged, had been collected on British territory).

Capt. Calder's force went down the Barima and crossed the boundary into Venezuelan territory, where Capt. Calder, at the point of a revolver, demanded that the Venezuelan commissioner surrender to him 4,000 pounds of balata. The commissioner was unable to resist and gave up the gum. He had made a protest to President Castro and the British consul here against the seizure of the balata and the invasion of Venezuelan territory.

Fears are entertained of the retaliation at Morawhanna, the British frontier headquarters.

There has been much trouble over the balata trade for some time, and the British officials have made strong attempts to prevent illicit trading in the gum.

FIRE AT DASHWOOD.

Brick Building and Entire Block Laid In Ruins.

Exeter, Aug. 19.—A bad $30,000 fire at Dashwood, broke out about 11 o'clock Saturday night. Fire was discovered in the Hartleib brick block of three storeys, occupied by the general store of William Schrumms, and in a short time the whole block, a frame store and stable were in ruins.

Some persons barely escaped in their night clothes. The cause of the fire is unknown. The loss is partly covered by insurance. No. 1 fire engine of Exeter was sent to their relief, but the fire was under control when it arrived. There is no water supply at Dashwood.

Don't Fear Spread.

Washington, Aug. 19.—Five cases of bubonic plague, four of which have resulted in death, have been reported to the health department within the last week. The patients with one exception were of the poorer class of foreigners dwelling in the neighborhood of Chinatown.

The exception was a foreign sailor from a coastwise steamer. Prompt repressive measures were taken by city, state and federal officers, and a spread of the disease is not feared.

The infected steamer was ordered into quarantine with her passengers, and will remain secluded until released by the health department. The two shacks inhabited by the other patients were fumigated, locked up and sealed. The bodies of two Mexicans, an Italian and a Russian Pole, who succumbed, were destroyed in quick lime.

"A" Battery Returns.

Kingston, Aug. 19.—The members of "A" battery are home from Petawawa camp. They arrived by a special train Saturday. The men are well tanned from their outing, and, although the camp has been most profitable and also a very healthy one, they are very glad to get back to the city.

The horses are in fine condition, far better than on their return from the camp a year ago. It is stated that the facilities for the camp this year were far better than last, and taking it altogether, the camp has been one of the best ever held at Petawawa.

Private Must Hang.

Washington, Aug. 19.—Advices received by the War Department from Manila show that the court-martial which tried Private William Taylor, Co. H, 24th Infantry, at Iloile, on Dec. 16 last, for shooting Lieut. Robert B. Calvert, the commanding officer of his company, sentenced him to death by hanging.

Settling in Mexico.

Mexico City, Aug. 19.—Negotiations are pending here for the purchase in Mexico of a tract of 150,000 acres of land to be colonized by Russians. Twenty thousand "molakanes" are to leave Western Russia shortly.

Dr. Theodore Barth, a distinguished German editor and member of the Reichstag, is in Winnipeg.

Fifteen Events on Programme

Of the Regatta to be Held at Crowe's Landing on Thursday

All the events are now complete for the big regatta to be held at Crowe's Landing, Stony Lake, on Thursday of this week. There will be some fifteen contests. Rev. F. D. Roxburgh of Smithville, Ont., is chairman of the Regatta Committee, and Prof. H. Ford of Washington University is secretary. Some valuable prizes have been offered. Mr. John Finlay, M. P., has donated a cup for the yacht sailing race., Mr. H. LeBrun, one for open paddling—canoes—and Mr. Alex. Gibson one for the open sailing canoe competition. Besides these cups a number of silk pennants worked by the ladies will be given as premiums. The first prize in each of the regular events is valued at $1.50 and the second 75 cents.

In the evening the prizes will be presented to the winners at a big masquerade ball, which will be held in the new pavilion. The course at Crowe's Landing, is a fine, open one and all the events may be viewed from start to finish by the large crowd which it is expected will be in attendance.

New Zealand is providing for a new Upper House, and in committee it was resolved that women electors shall be eligible to election as members of this Upper House. Canada has old women in male attire, in its Upper House. New Zealand does well to have the genuine article.—Bobcaygeon Independent.

If the Imperialistic jag, that Mr. Laurier is taking on, does not satisfy the red rag, King and Constitution clique, they are hard to please. An annual subsidy of a million and a quarter dollars for the "all red line" of boats between England and Canada, is laying on the ver-million coloring fairly thick, remarks the Bobcaygeon Independent.

The Examiner says: "Even the poor old Review is trying its hand at Cabinet-making, and is giving Sir Wilfrid pointers."

Perhaps Mr. J. R. Stratton might offer his assistance. He is generally credited with having wrecked the Liberal party in Ontario, and no doubt might achieve the same result at Ottawa if afforded an opportunity.

Here is a rude jibe at the Trent canal, but considering the source from which it comes—The Toronto Telegram—no one will lose much sleep over the item:—"That majestic waterway, the Trent Valley canal, must now be nearing completion. The canal is equipped with lift locks, but what is there to lift except politicians out of a hole. Why, also, should a political canal have four feet of water, seeing that the Trent Valley work was designed to carry constituencies and no other kind of freight whatever?"

A London medical paper is much disturbed about the use of the title doctor. It considers many use it who ought not to, and on the whole it thinks medical men should drop the title of doctor altogether and use the plain Mr. Why observes this authority, should the medical men not be allowed to take a holiday or attend a dinner party free from the announcement of his daily occupation. And there is force in that for while they are so strongly opposed to advertising themselves, why should they everlastingly advertise their calling by being addressed as doctor. In this country where dentists and vets are called doctor, the medical men might with even more cause drop a title that has ceased to carry any distinctive meaning.

There seems to be a serious falling off in the number of young men who select the ministry as a life work. Not only is there a decline in the number of candidates presenting themselves for the work of the gospel ministry, but the quality also shows deterioration. The churches are beginning to feel the effects of this falling off in the ministerial supply, and the church committees are experiencing increasing difficulty in obtaining men to supply vacant pulpits. In thirty evangelical theological seminaries in the country there is a shortage of about four hundred men, as compared with the number studying for the ministry ten years ago, and this despite the great increase in population. In the Presbyterian Church in the United States there are one-third less men studying for the ministry, than ten years ago, and yet the membership of that church during this period has increased from 1,024,000 to 1,304,000. Ten years ago, there was one ministerial candidate for every 840 church members. Today there is one candidate to every 1,740 members.

All the evidence in the Steel-Coal suit at Sydney is in.

Bad Boys Made Indians Angry

Teased and Insulted the Red Men Until They Could Stand it no Longer

As several days have passed since the Stony Lake regatta and the memorable return trip of the Chemong people on the steamer Esturion, some more facts regarding the excitement with the Indians have come out. The Indians were the worse of liquor and were arguing among themselves and having, what they called a good time. There was no thought of attacking or interfering with the other people on board until some of the boys on board took a hand in the matter. Some of them had picked up a few Indian words which were far from being of a moral character, and which if used in English to a white man would have earned the scamps a sound thrashing. These words were hurled at the Indians who naturally took offence at them and it is reported warned the boys not to use them again. The warning was no good, but on the contrary the boys twitted the Indians about their color, etc. Warnings and threats were useless until finally the red man's blood was raised to fever heat and although the mate on the boat tried to keep order things had gone too far, and the unfortunate scene occurred.

While there are few who do not think the Indians deserve to be punished, there is also much sympathy in the city for them. The boys are generally condemned for their part in the affair and especially as they were all old enough and should have known better. Indians are only human. Had a number of white men been on board a boat with a large crowd of Indians or Chinamen, or negroes, and the boys teased and insulted them the result would have been practically the same whether there was liquor in the question or not.

Windmill for House of Refuge

Mr. Neil Cameron Awarded the Contract—Will be Erected at Once

One of the windmills of the Ontario Wind Engine and Pump Co., Ltd., has been purchased for the House of Refuge. The committee of the whole council met in the County Council Chamber Saturday afternoon. Warden P. McNulty occupied the chair and opened up the discussion. The windmill is to be placed over the spring which is some 800 feet away from the Home, but still on county property and the water will be pumped into the big tank. There were several offers from windmill companies, but Mr. Neil Cameron, agent for the Ontario Wind Engine and Pump Co., of Toronto, was the successful one.

Fisherman Gave His Wife Pointers

On How to Land Bass But Will Not do it Again

A good fishing story is now going the rounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Christopher L. Huffman, of this city, are camping on the farm of Mr. David Johnston, fishery overseer, about three miles down the Otonabee river. Mrs. Huffman was complaining to her husband about the poor bass fishing, but on Monday her luck changed. She and her husband discovered a fortunate spot and succeeded in landing a few fine ones. Suddenly Mrs. Huffman felt an unusual tugging and pulling at her line, and Mr. Huffman remarked that she had "a large black bass, and it would "be well to "play him" before attempting to draw him into the boat. This the lady angler tried to do, when suddenly the pole broke and the fish made off down the river with the tackle and part of the rod. Mr. Huffman was greatly amused at his wife's misfortune, and a few minutes later suddenly said, "I have a good one on my line now, and will show you how to play this bass and tire him out before attempting to land him." So saying he started in to give his companion some more pointers. To his dismay, the hook broke, and the bass escaped—and is still at liberty.

Needless to relate, the laugh was then on Mr. Huffman, and since the episode he has not been giving anglers any pointers on how to capture fish!

Resignation of the Inspector

Will be Considered by Board of Education This Evening

At a special meeting of the Board of Education this evening, the resignation of Inspector Duncan Walker will be considered.

Mr. Walker has received an appointment on the teaching staff of one of the Normal Schools and it is believed that he will eventually be made principal of one of the new institutions. He has been a most efficient inspector of public schools in Peterborough for twelve years, and all classes of citizens will learn of his departure with deepest regret. It is likely that the Board will accept Mr. Walker's resignation, not desiring to stand in the way of his promotion and will advertise for a successor.

Mr. Walker, who has returned to the city from spending his holidays in Chatham, Ont., will remain here until two or three weeks after the reopening of the schools on Sept. 3, when he will re-arrange the school boundaries. By reason of the closing of the Menzie school, and the opening of the new King Edward school, this will be rendered necessary. He will also arrange the teaching staff, at the new King Edward school as, it is understood that six rooms of this institution will be utilized after the mid-summer holidays.

Noted Breeder of Boston Terriers

Writer in in Toronto Paper Refers to Dr. D. C. King

Dr. D. C. King, of this city, will exhibit four Boston terriors at the Kennel Show in Toronto. Mr. A. A. McDonald of the staff of Upper Canada College, in the Toronto Telegram on Saturday has an interesting write-up of "News of the Dog World" which contains the following local reference:—

Dr. D. C. King, who is now living in Peterborough, is getting together quite an extensive kennel of Boston terriers. As a boy, at Upper Canada College, he was an ardent fancier, but at that time it was fox terriers that especially appealed to him. Now, he has gone over to the ever-growing body of "Boston" fanciers, and is aiming at owning the best kennel in Canada. One of his recent purchases "Othello," the well-known stud dog that he brought from Mr. Goebel, of Mitchell. He has also been drawing upon some of the prominent kennels in the United States, and Peterborough promises to become a Boston terrier stronghold.

Struck Oak Log on Downie Street

The men engaged in sewer excavation on Downie street, under Foreman Martin Neary, on Saturday unearthed an oak log about nine feet down in the earth. The log was about three feet in diameter and how it got in its present position is somewhat of a mystery. It was located in front of Mr. Tremaine's house and was under a pile of bricks. The bricks were discovered last week and are believed to be remnants of a former brick yard conducted many years ago in that locality on the premises now belonging to Mr. T. J. Begley.

SHOOTING DUCKS OUT OF SEASON

It is reported that several parties have been shooting ducks out of season about nine miles down the river. Overseer Johnston is keeping a sharp look out for the parties, and, if apprehended, they will be severely fined.

CANCER SCOURGE.

A Few Years Will Settle the Question of Heredity.

At the sixth meeting of the general committee of the Imperial Cancer Research Fund held in London recently, Sir Wm. Church said that the vexed question of heredity in cancer would be settled in the course of a few years. By removing tumors surgically mice had been got to breed, and by successively crossing them with other mice naturally suffering from cancer, any hereditary tendency which might exist was being concentrated.

In his review of the work done by the committee in learning more about the terrible scourge of the world, Sir W. Church stated that 1,282 cases of cancer had been reported from the London hospitals during the past year, being more than a quarter of the total number of deaths from cancer in the metropolitan area.

Knowledge of the existence and frequency of cancer in aboriginal races was steadily increasing, showing that cancer was not infrequently associated with native customs or religious rites, which acted as sources of chronic irritation and apparently determined the character and position of the growths most commonly met with.

Referring to family liability to cancer Sir William Church said that the probabilities of dying from cancer were to-day one in twelve for all men above the age of 35, and one in eight for women above 35, as contrasted with one in twenty-one for men and one in twelve for women twenty years ago. It was still impossible, however, to state whether the approximation of the figures represented a real increase of the disease or not.

Referring to alleged cures for cancer, he stated that no curative value could be attached to any of those which had been tested. Particular attention had been given to trypsin, but it was without any effect on the growth or development of tumors.

In conclusion, Sir William alluded to the unremitting attention with which Dr. Bashford, the general superintendent, and his assistants, Drs. Murray and Haaland, and Mr. Bowen, had carried on the work of the research, and the assistance they had received from Drs. Copeman and Hake in examining the gastric secretions of mice.

The Prince of Wales in his presidential speech referred to the handsome gift to the fund of £40,000 from Mr. Bischoffsheim, a vice-president, and his wife, in celebration of their golden wedding. He added that though many new facts had been ascertained as to the disease, they did not as yet justify hopes of a new treatment.

AUSTRALIA'S FUTURE.

Governor-General of Commonwealth Speaks.

Lord Northcote, in opening the Federal Parliament of Australia at Melbourne a few days ago, said:

"The imperial conference was attended by delegates from all the self-governing dominions, who were received with the greatest cordiality by the King, the Government and the people. I am confident that the meeting will promote a much better understanding and more intimate relations between Great Britain and her oversea dominions.

"You will be asked to consider proposals for the amendment of the tariff, in order to place the national industries on a sound and permanent basis under equitable conditions. A bill will be submitted for the encouragement of new industries by means of a bounty. The financial relations of the commonwealth and the states will be further discussed with the state premiers. Great issues are affected, including federalization. The question of old age pensions will be considered.

"A progressive scheme for the improvement of harbor and coastal defences is," continued the Governor-General, "under consideration. I regret to inform you that the new mail contract has been canceled. Fresh tenders will be invited to-morrow. Arrangements have also been completed with the Orient Pacific Company for an extension of their current contract for another year."

After referring to the discontinuance of the San Francisco service the Governor-General said that the service via Vancouver was being renewed for two years subject to the concurrence of Canada and Fiji. Provision would be made for faster vessels and a reduction of the duration of the voyage.

They Climb 700 Steps.

An interesting "mela," or fair, of India is the one at the shrine of Bijasam Mataji, the "Mother of Victory," whose temple is perched on the top of a high hill near the small station of Karwar, reached by a magnificent flight of nearly 700 steps. During the fair there is a continuous procession of pilgrims up the great stairs to worship the divinity who affords relief to sufferers from paralysis.

The goddess is served by hereditary priests, a little settlement of Naths, grouped at the foot of the temple hill. They subsist on the costly offerings made to the shrine, an ancient custom forbidding the Rajah to touch aught of the gifts made to the goddess.

An abundant harvest, with consequent freedom from poverty among cultivators, accounts for the large numbers who flocked to the "mela" this year, 70,000 pilgrims assembling to do homage at this, the only temple in India dedicated to the "Mother of Victory."

Schopenhauer On Genius.

By itself genius can produce original thoughts just as little as a woman by herself can bear children. Outward circumstances must come to fructify genius and be, as it were, a father to its progeny. A man of learning is a man who has learned a great deal, a man of genius one from whom we learn something which the genius has learned from nobody. Great minds, of which there is scarcely one in a hundred millions, are thus the lighthouses of humanity, and without them mankind would lose itself in the boundless sea of monstrous error and bewilderment.

The name of the Toronto steamer, Van Woodland has been changed to Highland Belle.

GIRL AND GOSSIP.

And now the summer girl flits on the scene
With smiling face and, incidentally,
Some dainty and bewildering lingerie
And pretty gowns, pink, heliotrope and green
And blue and all the shades that go between.
All through the day she wields a wondrous power
On tennis court, the bathing beach and lawn,
And gay young men improve the shining hour
To pay due homage ere the chance is gone.
Sweet is the maiden in her love of glee,
And, though full many a covert glance doth warn,
She counts her conquests, one and two and three.

* * * * * * *

Behold the gossip as she sits and knits
And tears that poor girl's morals into bits!
—Laurana W. Sheldon in New York Times.

A Safeguard.

First Beggar—What's that paper you've got?

Second Beggar—List of places where there's a lack of workmen.

First Beggar—You crazy? We won't go near such places!

Second Beggar—Chump! That's why I got it!—Fliegende Blätter.

She Knew a Cocktail.

Lieutenant B., just arrived from duty in the Philippines, came eastward to New York with his wife, picking up en route their twelve-year-old daughter, who had been left with a friend during their absence.

The little one had fallen asleep, and as the train was nearing the Grand Central station her parents fell to discussing the hotel question.

"Well, as we shall only remain one night," said Mrs. B., "I vote for the Manhattan."

The couple were suddenly electrified by their little girl's sitting up and in drowsy tones inquiring:

"Oh, mamma, may I have the cherry?"—Philadelphia Ledger.

The Stolen Ham.

A darky was walking along South street, Philadelphia, carrying a large ham on his shoulder, when he was accosted by a big policeman, who exclaimed gruffly:

"Say, there, you black rascal, where did you get that ham?"

The darky looked around and, seeming to be very much surprised at his possession of the ham, said, "Who put dat 'ere ham on mah shoulder?"—Judge's Library.

Real Stop Watch.

"Hold on there!" shouted the old farmer, looking at his watch. "Yeou be violating the speed laws of this caounty."

"What do you know about our speed?" retorted the angry chauffeur. "You haven't a stop watch."

"Haven't a stop watch? Why, by gum, this watch stops every two or three minutes. Only paid 89 cents for it, neighbor."—Chicago News.

When It Becomes a Personal Loss.

"George, the cook has gone."

"Let her go. I never liked her."

"But she took all my currant jelly and both my best tablecloths."

"Oh, let her go."

"And she carried off the recipe for waffles you like so well."

"What's that? Which way did she go? Why didn't you call the police?"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Hope.

"Do you think," he asked her younger sister, "there is any hope for me? I have tried four times to persuade her to say yes, but she always puts me off. I shall not care to live if she finally refuses me."

"Hope on, Charley. She may keep putting you off, but she's busy getting stuff for her wedding outfit."—Chicago Record-Herald.

PASSED AWAY IN LAKEFIELD

Death of Mr. Wm. Hamilton, a Highly Respected Resident

Mr. William Hamilton of Lake-expired on Sunday. He had a paralytic stroke recently from the effects of which he gradually sank, never regaining consciousness. The deceased was one of the most highly respected residents of Lakefield, and was a resident of the village for many years. It will be remembered that a few weeks ago, Mr. Hamilton lost his son in a railway wreck in New Ontario, on the Canadian Northern Railway, and his bereavement no doubt affected his general health. He leaves a wife, three sons and one daughter to mourn his loss. The deceased was a cousin of Mr. Peter Hamilton of this city, and in religion was a Presbyterian.

The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock to the Lakefield cemetery. Rev. S. S. Burns will conduct the services.

STEEL FOR NEW BOAT ARRIVES

The first shipment of steel for the new boat which will be used for inspection purposes in connection with the Trent canal, has arrived from the Polson Iron Works, Toronto, who have the contract for building the barque.

The steel has been taken to lock No. 6 below, the lift lock where the boat will be put together. It will not be completed until next spring.

Snowden House To Change Hands

Mr. Donald Fraser of London Will Likely be the New Proprietor

Donald Fraser, the well known London, Ont., horseman, who has been secretary of the London Trotting and Pacing Association for a number of years, last week purchased the Snowden House hotel business in Peterborough.

Mr. Fraser is one of the best posted horsemen in this country, and it has been mainly through his efforts that the London harness horse meeting has been so successful. He is also a thorough hotel man and is sure to make the Snowden a popular resort. London's loss is Peterborough's gain.—Toronto Sunday World.

The Snowden House is one of the oldest hotels in the city, and has for many years enjoyed a large and high class trade. Mr. Wm. Snowden, the proprietor, erected the present building, and he has conducted it continuously and is known to the travelling public from one end of the country to the other. It will be a matter of general regret to see the familiar countenance of the veteran hotelman no more. But his many friends will wish him many years of health to enjoy the fruits of his long service.

When Mr. Snowden was seen this morning, he said that the deal had not yet been completed, although he expected it would be in a day or two. Mr. Fraser was here last week and got the business in such shape that an application was made to the license inspector for a transfer of the license. Mr. Fraser arrived in the city today, after spending Sunday at his home in London, and it is expected that he will in a few days be the proprietor of the Snowden House.

If the deal goes through and Mr. Fraser takes over the business he will be given a hearty welcome to the city. Reports from London speak of him as being a first-class hotel man and a great horseman. In the latter capacity, he will be of valuable service to the local turf club.

RE-OPENING OF THE ROLLER RINK

Will Take Place on Thursday Afternoon of This Week.

The Peterborough Roller Skating rink on Charlotte street, will re-open on Thursday next, Aug. 22nd, and will remain open each morning, afternoon and evening.

Mr. S. J. Sheridan has returned from Ottawa and will be in charge.

On a week from next Thursday night, August 29th, a big masquerade carnival will be held in the rink here.

PERSONAL

Rev. E. W. Pickford of Norwood, was in the city today.

Mrs. C. R. Stewart of Bobcaygeon is in the city on a visit.

Mr. W. E. Southby and Miss Southby of Port Hope, are in the city today.

Dr. H. A. Wood's many friends will be sorry to hear that he is ill with typhoid fever at his home, 315 Stewart street.

Mr. Harry McDonald of the T. Eaton Co., Advertising Department, Toronto, is in the city.

Mr. M. L. Henry of the Sun Life Assurance Co., who has been spending his holidays at Chemong Park has returned to the city.

Mr. Geo K. Martin, inspector for the Imperial Guarantee and Accident Co., who has been in Ottawa for some days is in the city. He will leave for Brockville tonight.

FELL OFF A TRUCK AT THE C.G.E. WORKS

The Dan Spence Ambulance was given a hurry call to the C.G.E. Works this morning at 10 o'clock. Jas. Field, a laborer at the factory, fell off a truck and bruised his back, but was not seriously hurt. A doctor was called, and the injured man was removed to his home, at 26 Rutherford Avenue, where his injuries were attended to.

DEAD IN BED SUNDAY MORNING

Mich. Mahoney of Douro Expires From Heart Failure—Was in City on Saturday

The death of Michael Jas. Mahoney, which occurred yesterday, at his late home at Mahoney's corners, in Douro, came as a great shock to his family and a wide circle of friends. Apparently in good health when he retired on Saturday evening, he was found dead in bed on Sunday morning. He had been in Peterborough on Saturday evening and returned home about 8 o'clock, but made no complaints of feeling unwell. When his mother went to arouse him in the morning she was shocked to find her son dead. His passing away was due to heart failure. The late Mr. Mahoney was 26 years of age and had lived all his life in Douro. He was the third son of Michael Mahoney, of Douro, and was unmarried.

Two brothers and two sisters are left to mourn his loss. They are Messrs. John and Wm. and Misses Catharine and Mary, all residing at home.

The funeral will take place to-morrow morning at nine o'clock from the family residence to St. Joseph's cemetery, Douro, for interment.

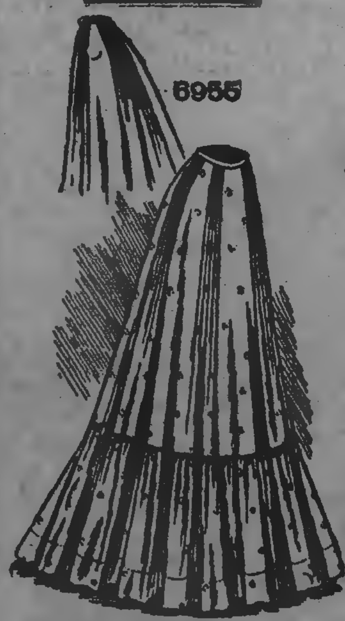
STILL IN LONDON

A card was received at the Munro House today, from Mr. R. J. Munro stating that he was still in London. The card was dated August 8th, and Mr. Munro stated that the party were all in good health and enjoying themselves.



6955.—A GRACEFUL SKIRT.

A pretty fashion for a skirt of silk, washing stuff or cloth is suggested in the one shown. The upper portion is in seven gores with groups of tucks at each seam stitched to below the hips. A straight gathered flounce completes the skirt proper and assures a pretty flare about the feet. The skirt may be in round or sweep length and is dressy enough for any nice gown. For the medium size 7 1-2 yards of 27 inch material are needed.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

Leave your order and ten cents at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.

British Journalists Cannot Visit Peterborough This Time

Mayor McWilliams Got Home Sunday Night—Came Down From Port Arthur With the Party—Two Editors Staying Over for a Few Weeks and May Come to Lift Lock City.

His Worship Mayor McWilliams returned Sunday night on the midnight from Fort William and Port Arthur, where he had been attending the convention of the Dominion Municipal Union. He had a most enjoyable outing and is feeling much better. He took the boat trip both ways, and coming home the British journalists, who have been touring Western Canada, were on board. His Worship was introduced to all the editors and on behalf of Peterborough, extended a hearty welcome for them to visit this city. The British pressmen, however, are due to sail for home on Friday. They spend today in Toronto, Tuesday at Niagara Falls and Wednesday go through to Montreal, where they will be the guests of Lord Strathcona. Thus it was impossible for them to stop off at Peterborough, although they expressed a keen desire to do so. Two members of the party, however, are staying over for another week, viz., Mr. E. Brain of the London Times, and Mr. F. Reider of the Glasgow Herald, and if it is at all possible, they will come back to see the Lift Lock city.

Provincial License Department Will Make Thorough Investigation

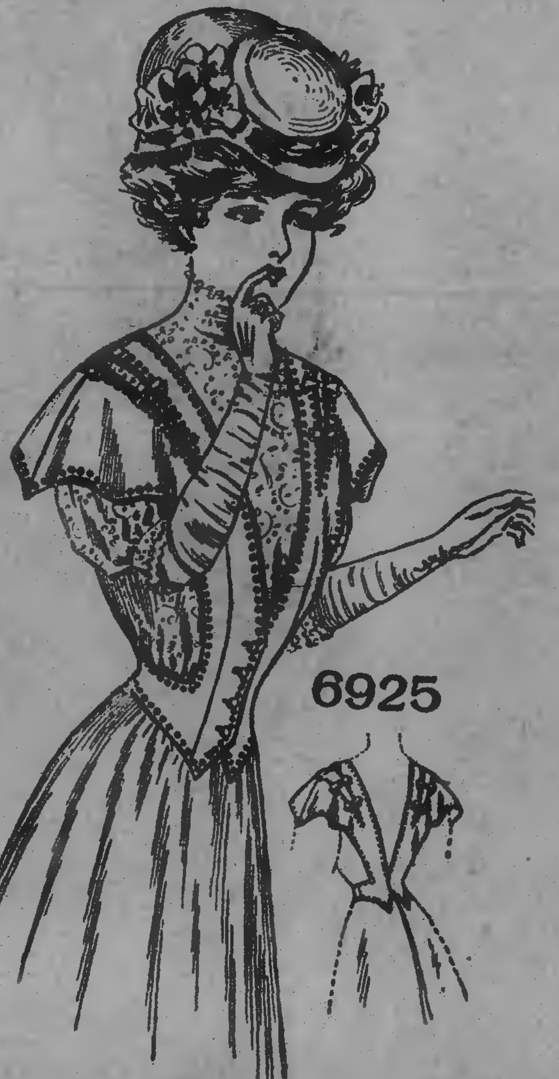
As to Where Indians Who Created Such a Scene on the Steamer Esturion a Week Ago Obtained Their Liquor—Indians Will be Tried To-morrow.

The Provincial License Department will make a thorough investigation into the reports of the disturbance on the steamer Esturion on Stoney Lake, on August 13, when it was alleged, a party of about two dozen Indians, became drunk and terrified all the passengers, says the Toronto Globe. Mr. Eudo Saunders, Chief of the license branch of the Parliament buildings, has already received a number of complaints from some of the passengers of the boat, which was plying from Stoney Lake to Buckhorn. Among those on board were a Police Magistrate and County Crown Attorney Wood. It is thought that the Indians obtained the liquor near Burleigh, where a stop was made.

In the complaints it is stated that a missionary named Potter fought single-handed with the drunken Indians and succeeded in knocking several of them out. The place where the offence occurred is in the riding of East Peterborough, but so far no report has been received from the license inspector in charge there.

The punishment for selling liquor to the redmen is a fine from $50 to to $300 and from one to six months' imprisonment.

The three Indians who have been arrested, will be brought up before County Magistrate Edmison tomorrow.



A NOVEL GIRDLE BRETELLE

It is a season of accessories and happy is the woman or girl who is clever with her needle to fashion such becoming apparel. A very attractive girdle bretelle which is full of style and built according to the newest fashion lines is sketched. It may be made of silk, velvet or cloth as well or other seasonable materials and will be smart worn with any style of blouse or shirt waist, the elaborateness of its development deciding its dressiness. Three pretty buttons close it at the waist line, the open spaces at the shoulder being joined by straps of braid or velvet ribbon. For the medium size 1 1-4 yards of 27 inch material are needed.

6925.—Sizes, 20, 24, 28 inches waist measure.

The price of this pattern is ten cents.

Leave your order and ten cents at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.

COBOURG TO PLAY NEXT SATURDAY

Two Strong Teams Will Meet at Riverside to Battle for the Championship.

The championship ball game between Cobourg and Peterborough, will be played at Riverside Park on Saturday afternoon next. Cobourg is now and has been for some time scouring the country, not only Canada but also the United States, for players. They have determined that if money can buy players for the day they are going to win the game in the lift lock city. The lake town team are coming down strong and they will bring a bunch of rooters along with them.

Peterborough boys are in great shape. They will be strengthened for that game and are going to defeat Cobourg on their merits. The latter team won the last game here and it was a great dose of medicine for Manager Johnson's nine. Since then they have practiced hard and won at least two hard games, at Cobourg and Port Hope. They are also going to win on Saturday, or put up the hardest contest that was ever witnessed on any field in Eastern Ontario. They are all feeling fine and the pitchers are all in good trim. The line-up will be practically the same as played in Port Hope.

BASEBALL

LINDSAY COMING.

The favorite nine from Lindsay will be here on Thursday afternoon to play a return game with the locals. The game is called for 3.00 and should prove an interesting one. The local battery will be Quinlan and Burridge. Lindsay will bring down a strong team and a bunch of rooters.

A heavy thunderstorm at Kenora on Thursday put the telephone and electric light systems out of commission.

Notice is hereby given that William Snowden has made application for permission to transfer his Hotel License for the premises No. 180 Charlotte street, in the City of Peterborough, known as the Snowden Hotel, to Donald Fraser, of the City of London.

And that said application will be considered at the meeting of the Board of License Commissioners, to be held at the Inspector's Office in the City of Peterborough, on the 4th Day of September, 1907, at the hour of 8 o'clock p.m.

All persons interested will govern themselves accordingly.

JOSEPH STEWART,
License Inspector

Dated at Peterborough, this 20th Day of August, 1907.

DOOR OPENERS BADLY NEEDED

Slabs of Wood Still Used to Keep Stable Doors Closed at Fire Hall

A representative of the Review this morning called at the fire department's headquarters on Simcoe street. There was no one on the ground floor at the time, and so the newspaper man simply looked around and came out. The thing that struck him most was the fact that the doors leading from the stables to the main hall, were still held closed by slabs of wood. Why it is so it is hard to say, as the fire, water and light committee issued instructions to have proper openers put on those doors several months ago. Probably the management of the fire hall considers slabs against the doors more picturesque, or may be, the doors can be opened quicker when an alarm comes in. The firemen do not think so and when orders for door openers have been authorized, they should be put on.

There'll be a Hot Time To-night

Property Committee and Library Board to Open Up Question of Public Library

A joint meeting of the property committee and the public library board will be held in the city clerk's office tonight. The chief matter on the slate will be opening the plans for remodelling the handsome building on Simcoe street, donated by the trustees of the Nicholls estate. Some time will be spent on these although no decision will be arrived at, as a deputation is to be sent away to see some of the new library buildings. Then there is to be a long and not discussion as to whether the new institution will be a public library or a mechanics' institute. The two committees will likely be divided on this question and there is no telling where the thing will end or when the interested parties will agree.

Company Will Build New Boat

The Stony Lake Navigation Co., owners of the steamers Stony Lake and Majestic, will build a new boat and place her in commission for next season's traffic on the lakes. The new steamer will supersede the Majestic, which will be used largely for towing purposes. It will be considerably larger than the Majestic and will cost $10,000 or $11,000.

The steamer will be about 90 feet long with 17 feet beam.

Temperance Talk At Epworth League

The usual weekly meeting of the Charlotte street Epworth League was held last evening and an unusually large number of members were present. A very interesting session was held. Rev. H. M. Manning presided and opened the meeting. Mr. Harry Dunford, for twenty-one years a member of the British navy gave a very interesting temperance talk on "Scenes From Life." His address was listened to attentively for over an hour and was much enjoyed.

The regular Wednesday trip of the Steamer Otonabee to Stony Lake will not be run tomorrow on account of the large excursion from Belleville in the city that day, and the boat making two trips over the Lift Lock.

RADIANT WOMANHOOD!

The glory and satisfaction of beautiful womanhood can only be known to those possessing the unlimited advantage of health.

The weak woman can't be happy or enjoy half the pleasures of life. Pallid cheeks, sunken eyes, exhausted nerves all tell of a terrible struggle to keep up.

Nothing overworked women can take will benefit like FERROZONE, which renews, restores and vitalizes instantly; it's a WOMAN'S REMEDY, that's why

FERROZONE

MAKES WOMEN STRONG, PLUMP AND BEAUTIFUL.

FERROZONE contains abundance of nutriment, the kind that forms muscle, sinew, bone and nerve. It sends a vitalizing stream of new life through the weary body, making its strengthening influence felt at once.

Every FERROZONE Tablet means more strength, better appetite, delightful color, bright happy spirits—in short FERROZONE brings true womanly health, and that's worth striving for. Avoid substitutes.

Insuarnce Men Assemble; 700 Delegates are Present

President Allen Handles Draft Measure Rather Roughly.

Seven Hundred Delegates at Annual Convention—All Canada Represented—Banking System Needs Amendment, Says W. J. Bell of Guelph—Contrasts Position of Banks With That of Insurance Companies.

Toronto, Aug. 20.—About 700 delegates assembled at convocation hall yesterday afternoon at the first annual convention of the Life Underwriters' Association of Canada. Many delegates and guests, all prominent insurance men, were present from the United States.

The annual address was delivered by President G. H. Allen of Montreal, who spoke in part as follows:

"I am impelled to say something to you as to the investigation by royal commission, which has had the one happy result of bringing us so close together.

"The details of the report of the commission and the draft bill have been so fully canvassed in the insurance press that I will not allude to them. Suffice it to say that, in spite of the thinly-disguised and even open hostility of the daily press, you, gentlemen, went undaunted into the fight for your companies and the right, with the result that over 200,000 additional people in this country were, through your efforts, convinced of the inestimable benefits of life insurance in 1906. That, gentlemen, is our answer to the royal commission."

Mr. Allen proceeded to deal with the insurance bill, clause by clause, severely criticizing some of them.

"It would be disloyal to the common sense of the Canadian electorate to imagine for one moment that such a clause could become law," he said, in reference to that prohibiting rebate.

B. Hal Brown, general manager of the London and Lancashire Life, spoke on motives and ideals. They must be high and good or the insurance man could not succeed.

A. S. McGregor of London defended the dignity of life insurance, and A. H. Vipond defended the man in the field. He denounced "switching" policies. Let the agent get new insurance. The agents were thought too persistent, but more than once a widow had complained to an agent after her husband's death:

"You should have been more persistent and my husband would not have died without insurance and left his family unprovided."

W. J. Bell of Guelph created a mild sensation by contrasting the banks and the insurance companies. He felt that the Banking Act stood in need of amendment far more than did the Insurance Act. Twelve banks, or 25 per cent., had failed since 1880, some of them as the result of criminality. No insurance company had failed in the meantime, and no insurance manager had gone to the penitentiary. The banks could invest where they pleased, and they were not inspected, but the insurance companies were compelled by the Government to invest in certain securities, and the Insurance Department saw to it that the assets were always on hand to protect the policyholder.

LEADING DOUBLE LIVES.

Sensational Charges Made by a Presbyterian Pastor.

Peterboro, Aug. 20.—At the evening service of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church here, on Sunday, the pastor, Rev. J. G. Potter, created a sensation.

He made a strong denunciation of the inconsistencies of church members, and charged a minister of another Presbyterian church in the city with having been seen drinking at the bar of a summer resort hotel at Burleigh Falls, Stony Lake. He declared that this condition of affairs was intolerable, and further denounced church members for giving Sunday excursions and acting thereon in an unbecoming manner, which they would not do at home. His charge made from the pulpit, that church members were leading double lives, has aroused much feeling among the congregations dealt with.

Shells Explode, Three Hurt.

New York, Aug. 20.—The accidental explosion of three 12-pound shells in the ordnance storehouse of Fort Totten, at Willet's Point, at the junction of the East River and Long Island Sound yesterday, severely injured three artillerymen who were unloading shells.

W. M. Blank, a private of the 101st Co., Coast Artillery, was burned and torn from head to foot by the explosion, and is expected to die of his wounds. Private Sneuser, also of the 101st Co., and Private Alphia of the 82nd Co., Coast Artillery, were injured, but less seriously, and are expected to recover.

Agitation In China.

Berlin, Aug. 20.—A special despatch from Shanghai, published yesterday, says that the situation in China, especially in the Yangtse Valley, continues unsatisfactory.

It is impossible, the message adds, to say whether a general outbreak is impending, but the revolutionary movement gains strength daily, and the secret organizations are growing visibly. The Chinese officials say that thousands of revolutionists are concealed in the foreign quarters of the cities, thus placing themselves outside the jurisdiction of the Chinese courts.

Bullet Through Heart.

Lindsay, Aug. 20.—Alex. Grant, who resides near Manila, is dead as a result of an accident. He was cleaning a revolver in the stable of his father's farm when it was in some way discharged, the bullet penetrating his heart.

Injured by Dynamite.

Belleville, Aug. 20.—Arthur Price, a six-year-old lad living near this city, found a stick of dynamite and pounded it with a stone. He lost two fingers, an eye and was horribly cut about the face, but will recover.

Father and Son Killed.

Merrickville, Aug. 20.—Two Italians, father and son, in the employ of the Orillia Construction Co. here, were killed yesterday by a premature explosion of dynamite.

HOPE TO SETTLE STRIKE.

But Cannot Say When Agreement May Be Reached.

Washington, Aug. 20.—President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, yesterday reported to the executive council of the Federation that he, John Mitchell of Indianapolis, and Daniel J. Keefe of Detroit, had been entrusted by united labor with an attempt to bring about "an honorable adjustment of the telegraphers' strike at an opportune time."

Mr. Gompers was asked when he thought that time would arrive, and replied that he could not say; that it might be "in an hour, a week, or a month, or perhaps not at all."

New York, Aug. 20.—Both the officials of the Western Union and the Postal Telegraph Companies reported their statement that there was nothing to arbitrate when the despatch from Washington regarding the designation of President Gompers and Vice-Presidents Mitchell and Keefe, by the American Federation of Labor was shown them.

E. J. Nally, vice-president and general manager of the Postal Telegraph Cable Co., yesterday gave out the following:

"Reports from all points east, west, north and south, indicate that we start this morning under almost normal conditions, with improved traffic and increased force; not a single place in the company's system this morning where we are not giving good service, and where we are not prepared to give prompt handling to any business the public may file with us. So far as the Postal Telegraph Cable Co. is concerned, the strike is over."

Ultimatum to C. P. R.

Montreal, Aug. 20.—A strike of the Canadian C. P. R. telegraphers is threatened.

An ultimatum was delivered to the company yesterday afternoon that unless the company agreed not to have its operators work with the strike areas in the United States the men would stop work to-day.

REVERSED AND JUMPED.

Engineer's Action Causes Peculiar Wreck at Brantford.

Brantford, Aug. 20.—A peculiar accident occurred on the Tillsonburg division of the Grand Trunk yesterday. At Mount Pleasant an engine and freight collided in a head-on crash about 8 o'clock. The engineer on the west-bound, in order to avert disaster, if possible, reversed the engine, but neglected to shut off the throttle. The crew then jumped and escaped injury.

The engine crashed into the freight and following the impact of the shock began to back up with increasing speed, until, when it reached Brantford, a distance of five miles, it was tearing along the track at the rate of 60 miles an hour.

In West Brantford the engine became unmanned, jumped the tracks, ripping up the ties for some distance in attempting to round the curve.

Gilbert Wentzell was drowned at Mahone Bay, N.S., by a squall.

ATTACK FRENCH CAMP

Sudden Onslaught of Moors Results in Heavy Loss.

Spahis Were Repulsed—Fierce Fighting for Four Hours—Twelve Horses Killed—Moors Subdued by Shells—No News of Caid MacLean—Tribesmen Proclaim New Sultan—No Protest Yet to Other Powers.

Paris, Aug. 20.—A telegram received here from Vice-Admiral Philbert declares that the Moroccans apparently suffered heavy losses during the engagement of Sunday, when the camp of Gen. Drude was attacked.

Advices received from Morocco City declares that Mulai Hafi, brother of the Sultan, has been proclaimed Sultan by the neighboring tribes.

The Government has not received any confirmation of the report that the Sultan of Morocco intends to protest to the powers against France's action at Casablanca.

Will Produce Disaster.

Tangier, Aug. 20.—War Minister Cabbas is reserved regarding the Casablanca situation. In an interview yesterday he limited himself to declaring that a continuation of the present anarchy was a most dangerous excitation, which inevitably would produce disaster. The Minister added that he counted upon the loyalty of France and the prudence of the Moroccan Government to restore order, and was collaborating with the French and Spanish officers for the rapid organization of the international police.

Gerald Lowther, the British Minister here, has received no communication from Caid Sir Harry MacLean or his captor, the bandit, Raisuli, for five days. It is only known here that Sir Harry was alive Aug. 12.

Moors Repulse Spahis.

Casablanca, Morocco, Aug. 20.—A large force of Moors suddenly descended on the French camp on Sunday, but were driven off after a sharp conflict. The tribesmen advanced to within eight hundred yards of the city, when Gen. Drude sent against them under cover of the guns of the warships, a detachment of fifty, Algerian Spahis (Arab horsemen in the French service).

The Moors permitted this small body of cavalry to advance for a half mile unmolested, when they suddenly ambushed them and in a wild charge got right among the spahis.

The French officer in command of the spahis and several of his men were wounded, but the officer rallied his force and slowly retired, fighting until a large body of spahis from the towns succored their comrades and routed the Moors.

The fighting covered a front of about 16 miles and lasted from 7 to 11 a. m. The French field guns with machine guns acted with deadly effect in repelling the attack of the Moors, and shells from the cruiser Gloire also rendered efficient service. The spahis and sharpshooters each lost one man killed and had several wounded, including Capt. Coud of the spahis. About a dozen horses were killed.

FLEETWING IS SAFE.

Boat Reaches South Bay After Being Storm Bound.

Belleville, Aug. 20.—Word reached this city late Sunday night that the schooner Fleetwing, which has been missing since Aug. 12, had arrived safe and sound with all hands at South Bay, the port for which she started from Charlotte on the 6th instant. She was caught by west winds and driven to the eastern end of the lake, and for many days was unable to get out.

Fined for Cruelty.

St. Catharines, Aug. 20.—A farmer named Frank Die was fined $2 and costs by Magistrate Comfort yesterday morning for unmercifully beating Roy Courage, an 11-year-old home boy whom he had taken to work for him on his farm. The lad, who is an intelligent, bright-looking little chap, declared on the witness stand that his employer beat him and kicked him, and also choked him, simply because he did not go fast enough. The lad, it turned out, had run away from two institutions in Toronto, and for this reason the magistrate showed leniency.

Bradt is Fined.

St. Catharines, Aug. 20.—Ald. L. C. Bradt, who was the cause of a civic investigation some months ago, was yesterday morning fined $5 or ten days in jail, for assaulting Mrs. Edwin Moore.

Bradt is a farmer and was at the city market on Saturday, when Mrs. Moore and himself became involved in a dispute, and an assault resulted.

Some time ago Mrs. Moore's husband and Bradt's daughter left the city together, and since then nothing has been heard of them.

Old Walls Fall.

Kingston, Aug. 20.—The walls of the old stone mill at Kingston Mills, over a century old, fell on Saturday. A year ago a crack appeared, and grew wider as the months went by, and the wall fell with a final crash on Saturday. Half the building is gone.

The mill was used by the Government for the accommodation of the U. E. Loyalists. The mill in those days was used by farmers who drove one hundred miles.

Man and Horses Burn.

Massilon, Ohio, Aug. 20.—A livery stable and two residences were burned yesterday. Lawrence Line, a hostler, was burned to death and 68 horses, including two race horses, were destroyed.

Prince Bill Arsives.

Norfolk, Va., Aug. 20.—The Swedish cruiser Fylgia, with Prince Wilhelm abroad, reached the Jamestown Exposition ground yesterday.

James Simpson, sr., of Hamilton formerly head of the wholesale grocery firm of James Simpson & Co., is dead, aged 75.

BUBONIC PLAGUE GERM.

Indian Government Concludes It Is Spread by Rat Fleas.

Simla, Aug. 20.—The Indian Government announces that the plague commission, which has just finished the first stage of its enquiry, decided that the bubonic plague is spread by rats, that the vehicle of the contagion is the rat flea, and that the life of the plague germ in the soil, floors and walls is of short duration.

The Government recommends the destruction of rats, the improvement of the construction of houses and the reduction of the food supplies of rats by the protection of grain stores.

Praises Rockefeller.

New York, Aug. 20.—According to a despatch to The Tribune, from Cleveland, John D. Rockefeller was invited to contribute $1,000,000 to the cause of evangelism on Sunday. Shortly after hearing the invitation made from the pulpit of the Euclid avenue Baptist Church by the Rev. Courtland Myers of New York, Mr. Rockefeller gripped the preacher's hand cordially and invited him to Forest Hill to dinner.

Mr. Myers, in his sermon, attacked newspapers, charging them with responsibility for the impression that present day conditions, economic as well as sociological, are rapidly nearing a crisis which might cause revolution.

Incidentally he praised Mr. Rockefeller's recent utterance, which he pleaded for "fair play" for big corporations.

Mr. Myers added his own appeal for a square deal, and predicted that "the present attitude of misrepresentation, misunderstanding and criticism cannot long be endured."

Diamond for King.

Pretoria, Transvaal, Aug. 20.—In accordance with the resolution introduced by Premier Botha, the Transvaal Assembly yesterday authorized the Government to purchase the Cullinane diamond, the largest in the world, valued at $1,000,000, as a present to King Edward in token of the loyalty and appreciation of the people of the Transvaal for the bestowal of a constitution on the colony.

Heavy Frost.

Dannamora, N. Y., Aug. 20.—Quite a sharp frost occurred throughout the Adirondacks Sunday night. At Lake Placid, Upper Chateaugay Lake, and other points the thermometer registered from 30 to 35 degrees above zero.

Architects In Session.

Montreal, Aug. 20.—The Institute of Architects of Canada opened its first annual meeting here yesterday morning, and will continue in session until the 24th.

1000 Visitors will be Here Tomorrow to See the Lift Lock

The Holloway street Methodist church, of Belleville, will conduct an excursion to Peterborough tomorrow to view the big hydraulic lift lock.

This excursion will be run from all intermediate points between Belleville and this city. The visitors will arrive by special train at the G.T.R. station at 10 o'clock in the morning, leaving Belleville at 7.15 a.m. On reaching here the visitors, who, it is expected, will number fully 1,000 persons, will take trips over the lift lock.

The steamer Otonabee will make two trips from the Wolfe Street wharf—at 10.30 a.m. and 2.30 p.m. The picnickers will enjoy dinner at Jackson Park. The special train will leave for home in the evening at six o'clock. Tickets from Belleville station to Madoc Junction inclusive, are good for two days. The committee in charge of the big excursion, which it is expected, will be the largest visiting Peterborough this season, is composed of Messrs. George T. Woodley, chairman; O. S. Hicks, secretary, and Jas. Hudgins, treasurer. The Bellevillians and their friends will be accorded a hearty welcome to Peterborough.

Found Their Son Bathed in Blood

Horrible Discovery Made by Parents on Their Return Home

Mr and Mrs. Alexander Grant, living near Manilla, were horrified, on returning from church Sunday, to find their son, Andrew, a young man about twenty-five years of age lying in the stable, bathed in his own blood. Nearby was a revolver, still warm, with one discharged cartridge in its cylinder. The unfortunate young man was still breathing, but died before medical aid could reach him.

The victim of the fatality had but recently returned from Cobalt. The other members of the family had driven to church, leaving him alone. He was well known in the neighborhood

That the revolver was accidentally discharged while Grant was cleaning it is a theory advanced by many. The youth had no cares or worries that would be likely to lead to suicide. Much sympathy is felt for the family and the whole neighborhood is in gloom.

G.T.R. Engineers Get 10 Per Cent Increase

A Montreal despatch says; The engineers of the G.T.R. claim to have received a ten per cent increase in pay as a result of the Ottawa Board of Arbitration. The official announcement does not state the amount of increase granted the men, but the agreement is to last for three years.

General Booth Returns to Canada

General Booth, head of the Salvation Army will return to Canada, and will address a big meeting in Halifax on August 22nd. He will also speak in Moncton and St. John, N.B. and will then visit several American cities. He will not come further east than St. John in Canada. The general is a great traveller.

LOCAL NEWS ITEMS

RESCUED THREE MEN

Three young men were rescued from a watery grave near Stewart's, down the river Otonabee, on Saturday evening. They were upset out of a skiff. The launch "Aletha," came along and picked up the trio of unfortunates.

WILL BE EXAMINED

A young man residing on Stewart street, who has apparently been out of his mind for some time, was taken to the police station today by P.C. McDonald. He will be brought before the Magistrate this afternoon and sent to gaol, where he will be examined as to his sanity.

LEADING DOUBLE LIVES

Rev J. G. Potter, a Presbyterian minister in Peterborough makes the charge that many Peterborough Presbyterians are leading dual lives. If he were to extend his investigation he would probably find a whole lot of other people besides Presbyterians who are trying to serve two masters.—Hamilton Herald.

HONEY TO GO UP IN PRICE

In view of the probable shortage of the honey production this year, the Honey Crop Committee of the Ontario Beekeepers' Association decided upon an increase in prices. The wholesale price of No. 1 white honey will range from 11 to 12 1-2c. a pound and the retail from 14 to 15 cents a pound. Comb honey will be very scarce, it is said, the first grade bringing $2.50 to $2.75 and the second grade $1.75 to $2.25. The Crop Committee consisting of Messrs Sibbald, Couse and Craig, of the Ontario Beekeepers' Association discussed the features of supply and price and demand. Reports indicated that fully fifty per cent. of the bees throughout the country perished during the last winter. In some places the honey flow has been poor, making the crop practically nothing.

MAY INDICT COAL DEALERS.

Alleged Illegal Combine to Boost Prices at Ottawa.

Ottawa, Aug. 20.—A movement has been engineered to have the coal merchants of Ottawa indicted before the grand jury at the Fall Assizes.

Coal has risen during the last two weeks from $7.25 to $7.75 per ton, and a "coal combine" is alleged. The matter is now in legal hands and advice is awaited as to whether the advance made unanimously by the dealers comes within the scope of the classes of the criminal code prohibiting combinations in restraint of trade.

If the legal opinion is that the law covers the case an indictment will be laid, but if there is any doubt on the matter it is proposed that a movement shall be inaugurated for the signing of a mammoth petition to Chief Justice Falconbridge, who will preside at the Fall Assizes, to ask him to mention, in his address to the grand jury, the undue increase in the price of a necessity of life in this latitude.

It is understood by those who are "engineering" the movement that the traffic managers of the railways are ready to testify that there has been no increase in freight rates; in fact, the opposite is the case.

HURT IN EXPLOSION.

Peculiar and Serious Accident Happens at Niagara Falls.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Aug. 20.—At 9 o'clock yesterday morning, Robert Little, superintendent of the waterworks, and Herman Webber, sewer and plumbing inspector, with an Italian laborer, went into a manhole of the trunk sewer at the corner of Simcoe street and Victoria avenue to make an examination.

When at the bottom of the manhole, one of the trio lighted a match and an explosion from gas occurred, blowing Webber out through the manhole and 10 feet into the air. He was badly injured, one arm being broken and face and hands scorched. Mr. Little escaped with a few scorches, and the Italian was badly burned and bruised. The presence of gas in the sewer was unexpected, and not supposed to be regular sewer gas but has filled into the sewers from natural gas leakages.

KILLS TO AVENGE HONOR.

Chicago Woman Shoots Man for Circulating Stories.

Chicago, Aug. 20.—Because she believes he had caused her husband to leave her and broken up her home by circulating malicious stories, Mrs. Baergei Ansolino shot and killed Felipe Ferreo Sunday in an alley in the rear of her home.

Mrs. Ansolino escaped and has not been arrested. According to the stories told by neighbors, the woman acted in defence of her reputation, and it is their belief that she will not be punished.

RAID CONFIRMED.

British Government Learns Officially of Calder's March.

London, Aug. 20.—The Foreign Office yesterday received confirmation of the raid made by Capt. Calder, at the head of a small frontier force, from British Guiana, into Venezuelan territory, and the seizure of a small quantity of balata (gum), alleged to have been collected in British territory. The action is attributed to the overzealousness of the frontier officers, and the Government will take steps to settle the matter diplomatically.

Haywood a "Comrade."

Stuttgart, Aug. 20.—Herr Babil, during the course of his references, at the opening of the International Socialist Congress here Sunday, to the Haywood murder trial at Boise, Idaho, which he stated "ended with the brilliant acquittal of our comrade," said:

"This trial has shown all the world that in the United States liberty, law and justice exist only on paper. It is to be hoped that these incidents will stir up the American workingman so that, like the English comrades, they will soon have a good number of representatives to Washington."

A series of immense mass meetings held Sunday afternoon were attended by 40,000 to 50,000 persons.

Tablet Unveiled.

Salisbury, Eng., Aug. 20.—In the ancient and beautiful Salisbury Cathedral Ambassador Whitelaw Reid yesterday afternoon unveiled a handsome tablet in memory of those killed in the terrible accident a year ago, when, by the derailing of the American Line boat, 28 persons, mostly Americans, lost their lives.

N. B. Makes Big Loan.

St. John, N. B., Aug. 20.—Premier Robinson, who is in the city, made an important announcement concerning the financial affairs of the province. The Government has been able to arrange a loan from the Bank of Montreal for £300,000, at a rate of interest which figures out a little less than 5 per cent.

Auto Smashed by Train.

Moncton, N. B., Aug. 20.—An auto driven by R. W. Simpson of the I.C.R. general offices was last evening struck by a special bearing Earl Grey and his party to Point Du Chene, to catch a steamer for Prince Edward Island. The car was smashed to bits and the occupants had a narrow escape from death.

Steel-Coal Trial Over.

Sydney, N. S., Aug. 20.—The Steel-Coal trial, which has been the big event of the past two weeks in Sydney, was brought to a close at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Judge Longley's decision will probably be given within a month.

Convicted of Assault.

Beamsville, Aug. 20.—A young man, Joseph Barber, was yesterday morning convicted before County Judge Carman, upon the charge of committing an assault upon a Polish girl, and was sentenced to four months in Central Prison.

A heavy thunderstorm at Kenora on Thursday put the telephone and electric light systems out of commission.

WORKMEN'S RIGHTS

In Canada a workman may proceed against his employer under the Workman's Compensation for Injuries Act, and at common law. That means untold annoyance and inconvenience to an employer. An employer is even liable for damages to an employee for injury resulting from the negligence of a fellow employee. Oft-times a workman will get back at an employer in this way. The employee may or may not win. Whether he does or not it means a great deal of anxiety to you as an employer. Let us relieve you of all this. Our liability policies are designed to do this very thing.

Will be glad to explain our plan.

FAUST.

The Porter J White Company representing Goethe's immortal 'Faust' is booked to appear at the Grand Opera House on Saturday, August 24th, matinee and night. The character of Marguerita is entrusted to the care of Miss Olga Verne and she proves thoroughly worthy. Miss Verne acts the part and looks it; she makes up beautifully; she is graceful, ingenious, sweetly in ocent and possesses a fine voice. Altogether she is indeed an ideal Marguerite Miss Verne iss supported by a most excellent company of fifteen metropolitan players, including Frederick J. Wilson, who is all that can be desired in his presentation of 'his Satanic majesty.' The scenic effects are a marvel and complete settings are carried for the entire six acts.

Port Hope Man Relieved of $56

John Uglow, who resides just west of Barlow Cumberland's on the Lake Shore Road, claims to have been held up and robbed on Friday night last, says a Port Hope despatch. Uglow was in town that evening on business and returned home between 11.30 and midnight. He was driving and upon reaching his gate he was pounced upon by three men and severely beaten. In the scuffle which followed, he was relieved of his money, about fifty-six dollars. He has strong suspicions as to the guilty parties.

Grand Concert Crowe's Landing

East Stony Lake Cottagers Had Pleasant Evening

A most successful concert was given at Crowe's Landing, Stoney Lake last night, under the auspices of the East Stoney Lake Cottagers Association. The proceeds, which amounted to a good sum, were for the benefit of the new pavilion fund The programme was mostly of a musical nature, the vocal selections being given by Mrs. Morrow's pupils. Mr. Davidson acted as chairman and made a very neat address. Judge Hudspeth of New Jersey, also gave an address. He referred to his early days as a Canadian boy and the warm spot he still has in his heart for Canada. He intends to spend the summers of the declining years at his cottage at Stoney Lake. His Honor also favored the audience with several selections on his exlent graphophone. Next Monday night there will be another concert at the cottage of Mrs. H. LeBrun.

The programme was as follows,—

Vocal Duet—"The Battle Eve." Messrs. John King and Archie Frowde.

Vocal Solo—"Irish Love Song," Miss Hackett.

Vocal Solo—"Absent," Miss Pentland.

Vocal Solo—"The Clang of the Hammer," John King.

Solo—"A May Morning," Mrs. Davidson.

Solo—"The Mighty and the Mighty Deep," Mrs. Melvin of New York.

Solo, "A Serenade," Archie Frowde.

Duet—Miss Hackett and Mr. King.

By special request Mrs. Morrow gave a special rendition of "The Daisy."

Local Rink Won In First Round

Taking Part in the Dominion Bowling Tourney at Toronto

A rink from the Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club is taking part in the fifteenth annual tournament of the Dominion Lawn Bowling Association on the new greens at the Woodbine Park, Toronto. The lawn is as level as a billiard table, and the largest in the world. Sixty-four games were played yesterday afternoon, leaving thirty-two rinks yet in the run for the trophy. A strong east wind made considerable difference in the run of the bowlers playing westward. Th s was the only fault players' found. Many games were notable for their large ends.

Roosevelt's Speech Contains But Little to Allay Unrest

And Restore Confidence in the Financial World--No Reference to the Depression in Securities--Government of Corporations Referred to.

Special to J. R. Heintz & Co.

Provincetown, Mass., Aug. 20.—President Roosevelt delivered his much-looked for speech here today. Wall Street has been anxiously waiting to see what he might say on the famous anti-trust and railroad legislation subjects.

It shows that he has not changed his mind one whit. The speech contains very little that Wall Street will regard as tended to allay the unrest and restore confidence in the financial world. There is not a single reference in it to the depression in the securities and money markets. The speech deals in the question of government of the corporations, mostly.

The President said, in part;

"Once for all let me say that as far as I am concerned, and for the eighteen months of my presidency that remain, there will be no change in the policy we have steadily pursued; no let-up in the effort to secure the honest observances of the law, for I regard this contest as one to determine who shall rule this free country, the people through their governing agents, or a few ruthless and domineering men whose wealth makes them particularly formidable, because they hide behind the breastworks of the corporate organization."

New York, Aug. 20.—The Street did not like Mr. Taft's speech and after opening barely steady, the market soon took a downward shoot and lost from 1 to 8 points. B. R. T. was probably the weakest of the lot, but all the active stocks suffered.

When Mr. Roosevelt's speech was published another drive was made owing to the unfavorable character of it, but at the lower level there was good support offered and it was soon seen that the list was heavily over-sold and a strong rally took place which carried the market from 3 to 6 points up. Shorts were frightened buyers and the advance was mostly at their expense.

Sentiment for a wonder seemed cheerful today and a large majority of the advices strongly advised purchases on any and all drives this week for good turns. The rally held right at the close which was the best of the day.

Reports of hard frost and ice formed in the Northwest gave the grain markets a strong tone today. Wheat was up over a cent, corn 1 1-2 and oats nearly 2.

Grand Opera House Opening For the Season in a New Coat

Messrs J. J. Turner & Sons Have Repainted the Building Inside and Outside--Artistic Work in the Entrance--Several Improvements Yet to be Made.

A most picturesque lobby awaits the crowds that will enter the Grand opera house this evening to hear "A Wife's Secret." Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons have had a force of painters and decorators at work on the building for some time and both the interior and exterior present a fresh, new and cheerful appearance. The outside of the opera house is very attractive and one of Messrs. Turner's handsome electric signs adorns the entrance.

The lobby is just now being finished. The wainscoting and wood work have been given a rich coat of green paint with an old rose trimming. The walls have been all painted and a very pretty border around the top gives a decidedly artistic look. The design is baskets of full blown roses looped together with blue ribbons. The ceiling is also artistically decorated, while a gilded moulding around the wall just below the border sets the whole thing off. Across the entrance to the theatre proper, and close to the ceiling are the words "Please get your Tickets Ready."

The interior of the theatre has been freshened up and several improvements made, including a brass railing around the front of the boxes and the first balcony. A very pretty green velvet curtain hangs from the brass rail to the woodwork and adds much to the appearance of the boxes. In the near future canopies will be erected over the boxes so that the occupants will not be nearly so conspicious. Several other improvements will also be made during the winter as soon as it is possible to get the men who have been rushed with other work all season.

One of the most important changes and one which the public will not see, is the thorough overhauling of the dressing rooms and furnace room. These have all been thoroughly cleaned out and freshened up and will very materially add to the comfort of the performers in the different shows that will appear here during the coming season.

A new orchestra will furnish excellent music this season and Messrs. Turner should receive a very large patronage. They are endeavoring to secure the best plays possible and are starting out well. After tonight's performance will be 'A Message from Mara," on Thursday night, and Faust on Saturday afternoon and evening.

Pretty Church Wedding was Celebrated in Lakefield Today

Special to the Review.

Lakefield Aug. 20.—Today in St. John, the Baptist's Church, Lakefield, the marriage of Miss Gracie Lillicrap, only child of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Lillicrap, to Mr. Herbert Stuart of Calgary, Alberta, was solemnized, the officiating clergyman being the Ven. Archdeacon Warren of Toronto, assisted by the Rev. W. J. Creighton, incumbent of the parish.

The ceremony was performed at 12.30 p.m., in the presence of a large number of guests, and at its conclusion, a reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents which was attended by many friends and relatives of the family. The bride looked most charming, attired in a dress of white silk (Princess style) trimmed with Bebe Irish lace and white silk applique, white embroidered veil and orange blossoms. The bridesmaid, Miss Kathleen Blomfield, was dressed in pink Dresden muslin with trimmings of Cluny lace over white satin, and white lace hat trimmed with pink.

The best man was Mr. Grover, of the Bank of Toronto, Toronto. Shortly after the reception the happy pair drove to Peterborough, en route to Toronto, where they will spend a few days. The remaining weeks of the honeymoon will be spent at "Pinehurst," Mr. Lillicrap's residence on Stony Lake. The future home of the young people will be in Calgary, Alta., in which place, Mr. Stuart holds an important position in the Sun Life Assurance Company.

The bride was the recipient of many handsome and costly presents. Appended is a list together with the names of the donors,—Mrs Singwood, silver mounted oak photo frame; The Misses Atwood, silver mounted oak biscuit jar; Mrs. Atwood, Japanese vase; Mrs Morris, leather hand bag; Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Graham, silver soup ladle; the members of the W. A., silver berry spoon; Miss S. Strickland, embroidered tea cloth; Mr. and Mrs. E. Atwood, silver mounted oak butter dish; Miss LeFevre, silver bon bon spoon; Miss Spence, set of salt and peppers; Miss Jessie Dench, salt cellar; Mr. and Mrs R. Q. Dench, burnt wood tray; Miss Traill, vase; Miss R. Traill, bon bon dish; Mr. G. Roger, pair Venetian vases; Mr. and Miss Hilliard, cut glass dish; Mr. and Mrs. Langley, silver toast rack; Mrs. Halifax, diamond brooch; Major and Mrs. Leigh, diamond brooch; Mr. and Mrs. Dela Fosse, fern bowl; Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, silver fern pot; Mrs. Harding, silver tray; Mrs. S. P. Wigg, salad set; Mrs. Lillicrap, silver mounted ebony brush; Mr. and Mrs. Davidson, silver sugar tongs; Miss M. Davidson, Limoges cup and saucer; Mrs. Beasley, silver cold meat fork; Mr. and Mrs. R. Q. Dench, tea set; Mr. J. Dinwoodie, jewel case.

Many other valuable presents were also received, a full list not being obtainable today.

Will Advance Salvation Army $50,000 to Aid Colonization

Senator George A. Cox Will Assist General Booth in the Work—Ten Townships in Nipissing and Algoma Will be Sold Army bo the Ontario Government--District Comprises 230,000 Acres and Will Accommodate 1,440 Settlers

Provided that the townships in the great clay belt in Nipissing and Algoma are found to be suitable for colonization purposes, Hon. Senator Cox, is prepared to advance to the Salvation Army authorities a sum of about $50,000 for the prosecution of a scheme of colonies in Ontario, at a reasonable rate of interest on the security of the land, says a Toronto despatch. The report of a commission which recently surveyed the land is now being perused by Senator Cox, and upon his estimates of its contents depends the success of the present proposition.

This great colonization scheme, drawn up by the heads of the Salvation Army, have just been approved in principle by General Booth and the Government officials, and it awaits the sanction of a joint commission of the Army and the Government to be carried into effect. Its features are these,—

The Government is to sell to the Salvation Army ten townships, comprising 230,000 acres in Northwest Ontario. The price to be paid is 25c. per acre, payment to be spread over a period of ten years without interest. The Army to locate 144 settlers on each township, each having the usual sized homestead of 160 acres. Men experienced in clearing land for agricultural purposes, also officials of the Army, trained in settlement work, are to supervise the colony.

"Nothing is yet settled," said Senator Cox to a reporter last night. "If the land and other matters, such as climatic conditions are satisfactory, the scheme will in all probability succeed. If the report, which I have not yet considered is of an unsatisfactory nature, the Army will have to cast about for more suitable land."

"The plans of this scheme were submitted to Gen. Booth, during his recent tour in Canada. Of course the ultimate idead is that the settlers may acquire the land they have cultivated. It is one of the many meritorious things about the Salvation Army this principle of theirs, to give every man a chance to do something for himself, in the new land of his adoption. It is the essence of this colonization scheme and its main obect."

"The undertaking may, moreover, be considered a sound business proposition. If the present scheme is successful no one can say how far similar efforts may go."

Senator Cox declines to give further details of the matter, reserving further information until a definite decision has been reached as to the suitability of the land under consideration.

THE CITY AND VICINITY

TO-NIGHT'S EVENTS

Re-opening of the Grand Opera House—A Wife's Secret.

City Hall—Joint meeting of the Property Committee and Public Library Board.

QUARTERLY BOARD.

The Quarterly Official Board of Mark street Methodist church will meet tonight at seven o'clock at the church.

NOTHING DOING.

The "nothing doing" sign was hung out at the police station this morning. Everything was very quiet at the mill of justice.

INSPECTOR BALL.

Sanitary Inspector Ball left this morning for Stony Lake where he will make a thorough inspection of the lake water and the streams running into the lake.

NO WEEKLY TRIP.

The regular weekly trip of the steamer Otonabee will not be run tomorrow on account of the boat making two trips over the lift lock with the excursionists from Belleville.

A GREAT RUSH.

Two lady barbers are now at work in Peterborough shops, and customers are falling over each other in their haste to get into the chairs and have their stubbly chins rubbed by the fair latherers.—Lindsay Post.

DRUNK ARRESTED.

A drunk, who was peacefully resting up against the Bank of Commerce building this afternoon was taken into custody by P. C. McDonald, and placed in a cell in the police station.

NEW STEAMER.

The Lindsay Post says; A rumor is in circulation to the effect that the Trent Valley Navigation Co. have secured plans for a new steamer for the Lindsay-Sturgeon Point route to be constructed in time for next season's trade. The craft will be of light draft, with an iron hull, to withstand the pounding by sunken logs, and powerful engines capable of turning up a speed of 13 miles an hour. The Point in 45 minutes will not be impossible then.

HEARD AGAIN.

The merry whistle of the steam thresher is heard on all sides and nearly all grains are ripe.

BIG ORDER.

The Dominion Government has given orders for $1,000,000 worth of additional rolling stock for Intercolonial Railway, Kingston, Cobourg, Montreal, and Amherst works, get the orders.

VOICE FROM LINDSAY.

A man in Peterborough was fined 15 cents for being drunk and disorderly. The Lindsay Watchman-Warder is now looking to the time when they will be paying people in Peterborough to get drunk and make a disturbance.

GOT A JAG ON.

On Tuesday, Herbert Cooney of Peterborough, was up before Police Magistrate Holland, and pleaded guilty to a charge of being drunk. He was rather young in looks, but old in badness. Fined $1 and $2 costs.—Cobourg Sentinel-Star.

KEEP DOWN WEEDS.

The weed and potato bug nuisances should be well looked after. Both are great multipliers. It would be a good plan to burn some of the weeds that are natural and are now being harvested on some of the back streets. The wind is a great helper in the spreading of the weed nuisance.

MR SPENCE'S MOVEMENTS

The Fenelon Falls Star says; Mr. A W Spence, of Peterborough, Ont., passed through on Wednesday, to Rosedale, where he will have charge of surveying operations there for the next two weeks, on the completion of which tenders for the new locks and other improvements there will be immediately called for, and the work pushed to completion.

ENJOYING THEMSELVES

Mr. George Schneider, Mr. George F. Schneider, Mrs. F. S. Schneider and Mrs. Charles Richer, who left for Europe some weeks ago, are now in Strasburg, Alsace, Germany, where they are the guests of Mr. Schneider's sister. They will remain abroad for some weeks yet. The party are having a very pleasant time. They spent four weeks in London.

OBITUARY

The death occurred yesterday afternoon at three o'clock, at Nicholls hospital of Harriet Pearson of this city. A week ago Sunday last, she was taken to the hospital with typhoid fever, and everything that medical aid could give, was of no avail to save her life. She was the daughter of Mrs. John Pearson, city and was 34 years of age. Ten years ago, she was married to her now surviving husband Samuel Pearson. Particularly sad is this death as it was just about three months ago, that the deceased's brother died, and at the present time, another sister, Mrs. Furber is lying dangerously ill at the hospital with typhoid fever. The late Mrs. Pearson was a member of the Charlotte Street Methodist church, and was a devoted Christian.

Four sisters and three brothers are left to mourn her loss. The sisters are Mrs. Furber, Misses Bella, Carrie and Ada, residing at home. The brothers are Thos. of Minnesota, and Fred and Robert of this city.

The funeral will take place tomorrow at 2.30 o'clock from the family residence, 675 Bethune street, to the Little Lake cemetery.

Fraserville Farmer Thinks Frame Took His Horse and Buggy

Mr. Seabrooke of Fraserville, who had his horse and rig stolen on Tuesday morning last, was in town on Saturday, informing Chief Bond of the facts of the case says the Port Hope Guide. A report of the theft appeared Friday night, and it will be remembered that the gent in question, gave his name as Graham, of Port Hope. While working on Tuesday, he broke one of the prongs of the scuffler, and left by horse and rig for a blacksmith shop to have the prong repaired, but forgot to return. Mr. Seabrooke gave Chief Bond a good description of the man and the Chief is satisfied that it is Norman Frame, the smooth fellow who passed the worthless cheques on John Curtis and J. B. White and later, escaped from the Cobourg jail. The description tallies exactly with that of Frame, and he told Mr. Seabrooke, the same story as he gave Chief Bond when arrested here.

Is Enjoying Life In His New Field

One of the officials of Mark street Methodist church, has received a letter from Rev. J. G. Lewis, of Picton, the former pastor of Mark street congregation. Rev. Mr. Lewis is delighted with Picton and with his new church. He was cordially greeted by all the different organizations. He has a congregation of over 130 families, and has been kept busy visiting them all. He is confident that his stay in Picton will be a very pleasant one.

A TRULY IDEAL WIFE

HER HUSBAND'S BEST HELPER

Vigorous Health is the Great Source of Power to Inspire and Encourage —All Women Should Seek It.

One of the most noted, successful and richest men of this century, in a recent article, has said, "Whatever I am and whatever success I have attained in this world I owe all to my wife. From the day I first knew her she has been an inspiration, and the greatest helpmate of my life."

Mrs Bessie Ainsley

To be such a successful wife, to retain the love and admiration of her husband, to inspire him to make the most of himself, should be a woman's constant study.

If a woman finds that her energies are flagging, that she gets easily tired, dark shadows appear under her eyes, she has backache, headaches, bearing-down pains, nervousness, irregularities or the blues, she should start at once to build up her system by a tonic with specific powers, such as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Following we publish by request a letter from a young wife:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:

"Ever since my child was born I have suffered, as I hope few women ever have, with inflammation, female weakness, bearing-down pains, backache and wretched headaches. It affected my stomach so I could not enjoy my meals, and half my time was spent in bed.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman, and I feel so grateful that I am glad to write and tell you of my marvelous recovery. It brought me health, new life and vitality."—Mrs. Bessie Ainsley, 611 South 10th Street, Tacoma, Wash.

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Ainsley it will do for every sick and ailing woman.

If you have symptoms you don't understand write to Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free and always helpful.

Bank of England Pays Many Notes

Used 93 Tons of Paper Worth Nearly $7,000,000 in Five Years

Among the many interesting sights taken in by Mr. Robert Fair, of R. Fair & Co., while he was in England recently, was his trip through the mammoth building of the Bank of England. The head office of that great financial institution is a wonderful place and Mr. Fair had the pleasure of being shown through. He was particularly interested in the printing department where all the Bank of England notes, the post office orders, etc., are turned out. In this connection might be mentioned the number of notes paid by this one bank. The following circular, which was handed Mr. Fair, refers to it:

BANK OF ENGLAND

The stock of paid notes for five years is about 91,000,000 in number; they fill 16,000 boxes, which, if placed side by side, would extend to a distance of nearly three miles. If these notes were placed in a pile, they would reach a height of seven miles or joined end to end, would form a ribbon 11,847 miles long. Their original value was over $6,942,382,000 and their weight nearly ninety-three tons.

SALVATION ARMY BAND CONCERT

Large Crowd to Welcome Musicians Home From Ten Day Tour

Fresh from a triumphal tour of ten days, the Salvation Army rendered its excellent programme in the barracks last night. While away the band was given a great reception in every town. The attendance at all the concerts was far in excess of anything anticipated. Naturally the men and officers are delighted. They are all feeling well and are looking fine in spite of the fact that they worked hard. Early in the evening an open air concert was given at the corner of George and Simcoe-st. and then a large crowd followed the musicians to the hall, where the following programme was rendered;

March, Prize March No. 6.

Vocal solo, Bandsman Pearson.

Instrumental quartette, "Nearer to the Lord."

Selection, "The Old, Old Story."

Address by Brigadier Wood of St. Louis

Trombone solo, "The Cross is not Greater Than His Grace." Bandsman Moynes, band accompaniment.

Vocal solo, "Your Money" Bandsman Gandy.

March, "The Tredegar."

Vocal solo, "Get There," B'Dept. Bandmaster Darling, banjo accompaniment.

Instrumental quintette, "He is Risen."

Selection, "Happy Day."

Song, full chorus, "History of the Band." Bandmaster Greene.

Address by Brig. Hargreave, of Montreal, who has been in charge of the tour.

Selection, "The Old Times."

Doxology.

Board of Education Accepts Resignation of Mr. D. Walker

Who Will Take a Position on the Normal School Staff in London--Will Advertise for New Inspector of Public Schools--Trustees Express Regret at Mr. Walker's Departure.

At a special meeting of the Board of Education last night the resignation of School Inspector Duncan Walker was accepted and it was decided to advertise for a successor.

There were present Messrs. Robt. Fair, chairman, W. H. Hill, John Crane, Dr. Burnham, Wm. Pringle and W. A. Robinson.

Mr. Robt. Fair was again in the chair after his trip to the Old Country. Before any business was proceeded with, Mr. Fair took occasion to thank the Board for their kindness in granting him leave of absence and also Dr. Burnham for acting as chairman. He had enjoyed himself very much and was greatly benefitted by his outing. He referred to the Dublin Exhibition and especially to the Canadian exhibit, which, he said in the opinion of everyone was the best. It made one glad that he was a Canadian.

The business of the meeting was then proceeded with. The usual routine was dispensed with, and the special matter for which the meeting was called, was taken up. Mr. H. Morphet acted as secretary, in the absence of Mr. W. G. Morrow and the following letter from Mr. Duncan Walker, tendering his resignation as public school inspector, was read;

Chatham, Aug 6, 1907.

To the Chairman and members of Board of Education, Peterborough

Gentlemen;

As you are aware, I have been offered an appointment in the Provincial Normal School at London and owing to the many opportunities which it affords I have decided to accept it and to tender my resignation as inspector of your public schools.

In taking this course I have to thank you most heartily for the many favors you have conferred upon me during my ten years in your service and I can assure you that it is with the greatest reluctance that I now sever my relations which have ever been so cordial.

I shall be in Peterborough in a few days and hope to be able to be with you to make arrangements for the opening of your schools in September.

Believe me
Sincerely yours,
DUNCAN WALKER

WAS ACCEPTED

Mr. W. H. Hill moved that Mr. Walker's resignation be accepted. He did not think the School Board should stand in the way of the inspector's promotion. He was sorry to hear of his resignation. A more able or conscientious man could not be found. Mr. Hill said that he did not know an official who was so popular with the teachers, the pupils and the public in general. They would have great trouble in filling his place. On moving that his resignation be accepted, Mr. Hill also moved that a proper testimonial be prepared and sent to Mr. Walker. Mr. Walker will remain here until the 10th of September.

Dr. Burnham seconded Mr. Hill's motion which was carried. He also moved that Mr. Walker's resignation be referred to the committee on appointments and that they have authority to advertise for applicants, the salary of the new inspector to be governed by that of the principal of the High School, that is the minimum $1600 and the maximum $2000 per year.

This resolution was seconded by Mr. Hill and carried by the Board.

The meeting then adjourned.

More Presentations Are Made to Miss Curtis on Eve of Departure

Grace Church Sunday School and Primary Class Tender Gifts—Appreciative References Made to Her Worth and Work---Parting Eulogies,

Miss Mabel Curtis, who is leaving the city for Hazleton, B.C., where she will engage in mission work, has been made the recipient of several appreciative addresses and parting gifts.

At the session of Grace Church Sunday school on Sunday afternoon Mrs. Brigley read the following address, while Miss L. Higgins, on behalf of the school, made the presentation a writing desk. Mr. J. J. Hartley, the superintendent, presided.

To Miss Mabel Curtis;

On behalf of the Grace Church Sunday school, we cannot permit you to leave us without giving expression to the esteem in which you have been held by the teachers, officers and scholars of the school; the regret your departure occasions and the appreciation of the valuable services rendered by you in connection therewith.

Your noble record of faithful service in connection with church and Sunday school work has left its impress on the hearts and minds of many. Your humble, consistent Christian walk, and your diligent, self-sacrificing efforts in the Master's cause have been an example to us all, and we feel we cannot sever the tie that binds us without showing our appreciation of your services.

We ask you to accept this writing desk, and the earnest prayer of our hearts is that He who directs the paths of those who cannot commit their way unto Him, may go with you in your new sphere of usefulness. May the consciousness of His abiding presence be a never-failing help and shield; may you find abundant opportunities for the exercise of those gifts and graces which have endeared you to us, and may you continue to enjoy for many years to come increasing happiness in your self-sacrificing efforts towards the highest of all aims, that of bringing souls to Christ.

Signed on behalf of the school.

WM. HARTLEY,
Secretary.
J. J. HARTLEY,
Superintendent.

Peterborough, August 18, 1907.

FROM PRIMARY CLASS

The following was presented from the Primary Class:—

Dear Miss Curtis:

It is with sad hearts that we gather today in our school, knowing it is the last time we shall meet together in the relation of Sunday school teacher and scholars. We cannot tell you how much we shall miss you, nor how much we all love you, and it just seems as though we cannot let you go so far away from us. But then we remember that our loss will be gain to other little children, who do not know about the dear loving Saviour, whom you have taught us to love. So we cannot say "stay with us," when they are asking you to go and teach them, too, about Him, and we know that God has a greater work for you to do in His vineyard there.

As a little parting gift from us, we ask you to accept this picture of our class, and as you oft times will look into our faces, recalling the hours spent in this little room, we want you to ever remember that the precious truths you have sought to teach us will not be forgotten, and that each Sunday, as we gather here, we will pray for you and your work in your far away home. May health and strength be given you. May God bless and keep you and make you a blessing, is the prayer of your

GIVEN A PURSE

On Saturday evening a number of friends gathered at the home of Miss Curtis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Curtis, Aylmer street, and presented the young lady on behalf of her associates in George street church, with a well filled purse. Mrs. Mann read the following address, and Mrs. George Syer made the presentation;

To Miss Mabel Curtis:

Having learned that you intend leaving us and going as a missionary to British Columbia, we desire to express our appreciation of your efforts to advance the Kingdom of Christ. As you go on His errand, provided with His seed, directed by His unerring wisdom, to your place in the mission field, we feel sure of His co-operation in giving sun and shower and rain, and pray that you may receive more and more of His fulness, more love and light, more, above all, of His spirit.

We earnestly pray, that our gracious Lord may daily and hourly bless you with His presence and keeping, as you begin to bear the burden of souls and learn to look upon serving and saving your fellowmen as the highest honor.

We will miss you, dear girl, in many ways. Your influence amongst the young people has been most uplifting, and your ready acceptance of any duty placed upon you is a lesson to us all. Your cheerful and sunny disposition has been a noticeable feature of your character.

We ask you to accept this purse (which would have been doubled but for the short notice) and hope at some future time, to be able to give a more tangible proof of our love. Our thoughts and prayers will follow you in your career.

OBITUARY

H. A. MICKS.

Mr. A. E. Micks, stove merchant, Hunter street, yesterday received the sad intelligence that his brother, H. A. Micks, of Coe Hill, had died at his home, on Sunday evening. The deceased was about 65 years of age, and had always enjoyed good health until only a short time ago, when he was taken ill and never recovered.

He was a farmer, but for the past few years had lived retired, and enjoyed life in his old age. He was a resident of Coe Hill for some fifteen years, and was very widely known and highly respected. Since he was a young man Mr. Micks was an active worker in the Methodist Church, and for years taught a class and filled the duties of superintendent of the Sunday school. He was also a Conservative and took an active part in politics, as he also did in municipal affairs, having held several offices in the council and on the school board.

The funeral took place this afternoon at two o'clock to Coe Hill cemetery for interment. Mr. A. E. Micks left last night on the midnight to pay his respects to his brother's remains.

The deceased is survived by a wife, four brothers and two sisters. The brothers are A. E. Micks, city; A. J. Micks, Michigan; J. M. Micks, of Warkworth, and Mr. Micks, of Listowel. The sisters are Mrs. McLean, of Chicago, formerly of Port Hope, and Mrs. Nattress, of Port Hope.

Delegates Off For High Court

Will Attend Independent Foresters' Gathering in Ottawa

Messrs. D. Wallace, P.C.R.; W. G. McKee, V.C.R.; Thos. Dale, C.D.; F. C. Rooke, S.W.; W. E. G. Armstrong, of Court Chemong, No. 530, Independent Order of Foresters, and Companion Mrs. D. Wallace, left today at noon for Ottawa, where they will attend the annual meeting of the High Court of Eastern Ontario, which will be in session on Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

Bro. A. Bradshaw, D.S.C.R., will accompany the delegates to Ottawa, and after the meeting of the High Court will work in the interest of the Order for two months in the district east of Ottawa. During Mr. Bradshaw's term here he has been very successful in his labors and won a valuable prize given by the Supreme Court for competition among their own deputies. Doubtless he will do equally as well in his new sphere of operations.

Interested in Emigration Work

Miss Haig on a Visit to Canada —Delighted With the Country

Miss Haig, of 13 Askew Road, London, England, has been spending a few days at Hazelbrae. She is greatly interested in emigration work, and has brought out on her own account over two hundred people, all of whom are settled in Ontario and all doing well. She is much delighted with Canada, and with the prospects it holds out, of happiness and prosperity to industrious young people. She hopes to send out more persons next year, and that her visits, which are made for the purpose of visiting her proteges may become an annual institution, in which hope her many friends in Canada, will cordially share.

Will Take Part In Rifle Matches

Sergt. Jos. Gibson Gone to Toronto as Representative of 57th Regiment

Sergt. Jos. Gibson left this morning for Toronto where he will take part in the Ontario Rifle Association matches going on there now. Sergt. Gibson is the only representative from the 57th regiment taking part in the shooting contest and one citizen was heard to ask this morning if he was the only officer in the regiment who could shoot. It is true that the 57th is sadly lacking in rifle practice. There are no ranges and the officers and men have no opportunity to do any shooting.

VERY LOW WATER IN CHEMONG LAKE

How a Resident Woke up to Find His Wharf High and Dry.

Chemong Park, Aug. 19.—The water in the lake has lowered over 18 inches during the past few days and many amusing stories of the extra work it entailed are heard in the Park. Sergt.-Major Brittain has been one who suffered. In front of his cottage the beach is very sandy and it was difficult to land his big punt, which he uses for fishing. So he built a wharf some ten or twelve feet out from the shore, where the water was low enough to float the boat. Going down to the beach on Saturday morning, he found his wharf high and dry on the shore, and the water not even touching it. He had to build a new one further out, but declares it will be the last one, even if lake drains dry. Many of the boat houses cannot be used until the water is raised again.

Service was conducted by Rev. Dr. Langfeldt in the pavilion on Sunday afternoon. There was a fairly large attendance of the cottagers, who appreciated Dr. Langfeldt's discourse.

A very pleasant little dance was held at the pavilion on Saturday evening and was much enjoyed by all present.

The lake was so smooth yesterday, all day and evening, that everyone who could get a boat was out on the water.

Mrs. Mills, Miss Marguerite and Master Leonard Mills, of Chicago, who have been summering at the park, left for their home this morning. They will be much missed by their many friends who hope to see them again at the park next year.

Mr J. W. Fulton, of the Royal Bank was the guest of Mr. and Mrs Alex Elliott over Sunday.

Mr. E. H. D. Hall and Mr. R. D. Kerr were guests at the park on Sunday.

Mr. Alex. Lockington spent Sunday at the park.

Mrs. Gordon and party from Rochester, who have been occupying Mr Tully's cottage have left for their homes in the States.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Tully are in their cottage, until the end of the season. Mrs. J Main, of Toronto is their guest.

Progressive Twin Cities Are Described by Mayor McWilliams

Delegates to Union of Canadian Municipalities Convention Had Profitable and Enjoyable Time—Municipal Ownership is a Success—Notes of the Convention.

The convention of the Union of Canadian Municipalities at Port Arthur and Fort William last week was a great success from every point of view. There was a large representation from the provinces, including one or more from every important city from Halifax to Edmonton, and especially from the prairie provinces. The educational end of this gathering was very good. The leading municipal politicians of the Dominion, it might be said, talked over matters of general interest and everyone carried away many good ideals to be brought before their respective municipalities. His Worship, Mayor McWilliams had a talk with some of the leading delegates and he had several new things to introduce to this city, as time offers opportunity. He took part in discussing some of the subjects and was elected vice-president for Ontario to fill the vacancy caused by Mayor Coatsworth of Toronto, being elected president.

Speaking of his trip and the convention, Mayor McWilliams stated that he was in Fort William four days, arriving there Monday noon on the steamer Manitoba, and leaving Friday noon, on the steamer Alberta. Both these boats belong to the C.P.R. and they are very comfortable. Going and coming the weather on Lake Huron was ideal, but Lake Superior was rough both ways and on the return trip everyone was sick including some of the sailors. There were several who said they had not felt the storm at all, but they failed to put in an appearance at the dining table, which is an unusual thing on board ship in fine weather. The twin cities of Fort William and Port Arthur are both prosperous and thriving. There has been a great deal of speculation in real estate and a most surprising and noteworthy fact is the large amount of western money invested there. Prices are now at a top notch, but show no signs of decline. At present, however, speculation is very quiet, owing to the tightness of the money market. This is common all through the west, and all the travellers remark on the same fact. The suddenness with which the banks closed down on their loans, has hampered, not only extravagant speculation, but legitimate business development.

Port Arthur, from the point of residential sections, has a decided advantage over its twin sister. It is a pleasant surprise to see the large number of handsome, modern dwellings there. A picturesque bluff angles through the city, and affords ideal situations for homes. From this hill is presented at once a wonderful and attractive scene. On the one side is the magnificent harbor, 18 miles wide and 28 miles shore line, with Thunder Cap and its Sleeping Giant, High Island and Mount Mackay in the distance giving a grandeur to the view that is scarcely rivalled any place on the continent. At the same time Port Arthur's business possibilities are exceedingly great, and the future prospects very bright.

In spite of these advantages, however, it seems that the larger population will go to Fort William. It has the advantage of being bounded by the Kaministiqua river and is also the headquarters for the C.P.R. and G.T.R. roads, while Port Arthur has only the C.N.R.

Both cities are enterprising and progressive to a high degree and the people never tire of proclaiming the advantages of the twin cities. Attractive and instructive advertising matter has been gotten out by the cities, and real estate men are found in great quantities in every section.

The future of Port Arthur and Fort William is primarily one of transportation and in that there seems to be almost no limit. That they will on day be united is an accepted fact by everyone, although for the present it seems to be the opinion that the greatest prosperity can be obtained by independence and competition. The residents of both places are most anxious to impress the visitor with their future as a manufacturing centre, as well as transportation, but except for certain things for which they are peculiarly adapted, their future in this regard is not particularly impressive.

THE ENTERTAINMENT.

The delegates to the convention were royally entertained by the corporation and had there been more time it would have been more pleasant. One of the first trips was around the harbor to inspect the Atikokan Iron Works, and the Kennedy Iron Furnace Co., and the development is nothing short of marvellous. The latter company's plant is now in course of construction. On another day the party were taken on a special C.N.R. train to Kakabeka Falls, the main source for the electric power supply. This great waterway is being developed by Montreal people, the Ogilvie Milling Co. and the C.N.R., but is not sold to either of the companies, or to Fort William for less than $25 per horse power, and there is no possibility of any material competition, so that the price will remain where it is. Port Arthur has the Falls in Current River, which they are developing for their municipal enterprises.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP.

The two cities are remarkable for the number of public institutions carried on by the municipality. The delegates had not a very good opportunity of inspecting these. There was a severe electrical storm the day before they arrived and one the day after. These interfered with the electrical current and consequently the telephones and street railway were not operating satisfactorily. The telephone service is also undergoing reorganization. There is no question, however, that the management and ownership of these two utilities have been very profitable, and large decreases have been made in the taxes.

THE CONVENTION.

The convention was attended by representatives from nearly every important city in the Dominion. Sessions were held three days, and a number of very interesting and instructive papers were read. Among them were those on Municipal Ownership, as illustrated by Port Arthur and Fort William, by Ex-Mayor Dyke of Fort William; Municipal Electric Supply by Mayor Scott of Ottawa; The Advantages of Natural Gas, by Mayor Cousin of Medicine Hat; Municipal Financing by Commissioner Kinnaird of Edmonton. The latter was particularly interesting as Edmonton is governed by a commission, consisting of two experts and the Mayor. These three men carry on all the work of the city, the council being a purely legislative body. This system is meeting with more and more favor, particularly with towns and cities, like Peterborough, that are finding the work of municipal government increasing to such an extent that it is too much to expect men who have personal business to attend to, to spend so much time in the service of the city.

NEXT MEETING.

The next meeting will be held in Medicine Hat, where the town is saving the people, $25,000 a year by owning its own natural gas wells. This profit will increase each year as rapidly as the population increases. The western towns were particularly anxious for the convention and it was decided to accept the invitation of the Mayor of Medicine Hat.

Dame Fashion Abroad as Seen by Mr. S. Dickson Hall

He Recently Returned From a Seven Weeks Business Trip to Great Britain and the Continent—Speaks of the Styles, Colors and Materials for the Coming Season.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Dickson Hall arrived home a few days ago after a seven weeks trip to Great Britain and the continent. They sailed via the handsome C.P.R. liner Empress of Ireland, from Quebec, and returning crossed on the big Baltic of the White Star Line to New York. Both Mr. and Mrs. Hall had a delightful trip and are looking much better for their outing. The voyage back to New York was particularly enjoyable. The weather was ideal and the long list of cabin passengers were able to be out on deck all the time. One day was devoted on board the Big Baltic to athletic games in which the ladies also took part and which were very exciting. The upper promenade deck was used as the campus. The programme of events included an egg and spoon race for the ladies; a cigarette race, not for the ladies; a thread and needle race; a potato race; a pillow fight on spar; a tug-of-war between married and single men, and swinging the monkey. There was also a three-legged race for the ladies.

So enthusiastically did all the passengers enter into the sports that there were as many as thirty entries in some events and took two hours to decide. The prizes consisted of silver cups, belt buckles, ash trays, souvenir spoons, etc., and the next day Mrs. Hall had the honor of presenting them to the winners.

A few days were spent in New York and then Mr. and Mrs. Hall started for their home in Peterborough.

LARGE PURCHASES.

Speaking of the business end of the trip Mr. Hall says it was the most successful he has yet made. He has purchased a larger assortment of fine goods than have ever been imported into this before. In a short time these goods will arrive and will at once be opened up and placed in the store for sale.

TALK ON FASHIONS.

The returned merchant was greatly enthused over the fashions this year and in a interview gave the Review the following hints which will be of great interest to the thousands of ladies who read this journal.—

After some weeks spent in such fashion centres as London West end, with its various functions, at Paris randezvous, such as the Bois de Boulogne and other resorts, with a view of evening entertainments, where the beauty and wealth of that Elyseum of fashion were in parade, besides having had a careful survey of the creations salons and ateliers of the modistes and costumers on the Rue de la Baix, besides a somewhat lengthy stay in Berlin, Germany's capital, where was on show, the newest of the new, from the hands of their own designers, and those of Vienna styles that were in vogue in the time of Louis XV., which are at the present moment in favor. In hats the Champegnon or mushroom shape is a favorite, many of these in finest French felt, either in whole or part are shown. Some are shown with brims of soft furry close shorn felt, with velvet crowns on wire frames, with garnitures which nearly cover the top, mounted high in Panache or Hussar plume style, very large double wings, long and wide at the base with the lower portion bent up so as to form part of the brim, are a novelty. Smaller toques of felt or velvet, with a jaunty broad quill and cabushon or two of velvet with a large gold pin inserted make a fitting finish for a costume.

Very large headed hat-pins are in vogue, some of them real works of art, at prices corresponding to their size. Hats at 200 and 300 Francs, ($40 and $60), are quite common in Paris with a latitude in price lower or as much higher as you care to go. Some of them, not too many of course, will be on show at Richard Hall & Son's, Ltd., this autumn, and will be at least an education if nothing else.

The colors shown mostly are brown, very dark purply tinted rose, Mausse or moss green, copper, Copenhagen blue and eveque or Bishop's purple, each color generally combined with lighter tint to set it off by way of contrast.

Dress fabrics for street and visiting toilettes are largely in plain colors in fine faced goods, the tones following the same order as mentioned for millinery. Besides these are the fine goods in shadow checks, stripes and plaids, not the firmest colors of tartans, but soft almost invisible blendings of great beauty. The variety of light fabrics for dressy functions covers every imaginable creation in wool and silk and wool, enough at any rate to suit the taste of every person.

In outer garments some new things are strong and could not be procured unless by a personal visit to the manufacturers. Short jaunty coats for young ladies and longer styles for their elders are shown in that fine silk and wool and wool, pressed cloth like fur, called caraculea, in appearance like the fur called broadtail and paw, of flat lamb. These are very new and very stylish.

The general run of outside wraps is in full lengths from 48 to 52 inches. Black will be the favorite and will lead, but in most cases relieved as to garniture of collar and cuffs by a touch of color either self or of Oriental weave with the least dash of gold. Gold in thread and tissue is a strong feature for ornamentation for the coming season.

The very light colored and hence unservicable materials used so much last winter season are practically tabooed. Their similarity and hence their commonness has put them out of the race. In their place fine Eskimo cloths with a good proportion of navy in various tints are the accepted thing for the dressier and general wear garment. In this connection the shadow stripes, checks and invisible plaids appear. Colors as noted for dress goods, but in such exquisite taste and in style so subdued that they do not strike the observer as such, so much as forming a beautifully completed whole. These are mostly in a smooth fabric with a touch and look like short shorn velvet and are the novelty in evening fashion centres approved by those well dressed, who know.

Toronto Man Will Back Mr. Hartley Against Mr. Reynolds

That Mr. David Hartley, of East City, accomplished a remarkable feat the other day when he walked from Peterborough to Bailieboro, a distance of thirty-four miles in five hours and forty-eight minutes is evidenced by the fact that he is now considering an offer from a well-known Toronto man, who is at present visiting relatives in the city.

Having heard of Mr. Hartley's performance, he is desirous of seeing him do greater things and is confident that he can do a much longer walk. This Toronto man is well-to-do and is willing to put up anywhere from $1500 to $2000 that Mr. Hartley can beat Reynolds, the Port Hope barber's walk, from Port Hope to Toronto and return, a distance of 138 miles. Mr. Hartley stated that he would walk from Port Hope to Toronto in 32 hours, 8 hours less than the time Reynolds was given to accomplish it and failed. "But the next time I walk it will not be for fun or marbles," said the local pedestrian today. "There has to be a few hundred dollars in it." Mr. Hartley states that there would have to be one hundred dollars put up at the first agreement and three weeks after that he would be ready for the journey. Mr. Hartley got nothing out of his walk of a week ago and very little encouragement. He also claims that he can do the same distance in much less time than he made on Civic Holiday. He says he can do it in five hours and fifteen minutes. Although Mr. Hartley is a man over fifty years of age, he is confident of accomplishing the walk which Reynolds failed to do, in six hours' less time. The news of Mr. Hartley's successful walk to Bailieboro is widespread, and since then he has been invited to several places to give exhibitions. Mr. Johnson Paudash, who is supervising plans for a big day at Hiawatha on Labor Day, at which it is expected the famous Longboat will be present, has invited Mr. Hartley to come down there. He wants him to enter the 10 mile run of that day. There is also to be a five-mile run. Mr. Hartley has not yet decided whether he will go. He says that he does not claim to be a long distance runner.

Big Business Man's Excursion

Jolly Party Went Down the River to Idyl Wyld Yesterday

About seventy-five business men took in the business man's excursion per steamer Otonabee to Idyl Wyld yesterday afternoon. The boat left the Water street wharf sharp on time and had a good trip down, reaching Idyl Wyld in lots of time for supper. The meal served at the hotel was excellent and everyone was well pleased. After supper two or three hours were spent on the island and the Otonabee started for home about eight o'clock. The water in the river is very low and yesterday it was six inches lower than for several years before. This made navigation very difficult and and the big boat dragged considerably in river. Coming home it struck a log in the channel just below Yankee Bonnet and was delayed for about half an hour. The log was caught in the steering gear and this morning men are work making repairs.

In spite of the disadvantages the party on board had a thoroughly enjoyable time. It was the last excursion of the kind for the season, and the men went in for a time accordingly. They arrived home about 11.30 feeling greatly benefitted by their trip in the open air.

WEDDED IN CALIFORNIA

Former Peterborough Lady Married in California—Miss Jessie Rutherford Becomes Wife of Mr. R. C. Gill

Word has been received by relatives of the bride in the city of the marriage a month ago, of Miss Jessie V. Rutherford, youngest daughter of the late Arthur Rutherford, a former well-known resident of the city, to Mr. Roscoe C. Gill, son of Judge Gill of San Bernardino, California. The wedding took place amidst a profusion of orange blossoms at the residence of the bride's mother and sister at Sierra Madre, Cal., and was a very quiet affair. Mrs. Gill has been for the last three years nursing at Los Angeles, and was very successful in her profession. After a short trip Mr and Mrs. Gill have taken up their residence at 941 [illegible] Park ave, Los Angeles.

Mrs Gill, who is a sister of Mr. B. Shortly and Mrs. Robt. Mann, has many friends in the city who will extend best wishes to the happy couple.

New Site for Big Pavilion

Stony Lake Cottagers' Asso. May Abandon Juniper Island

One of the most important matters to be settled by the Stoney Lake Cottagers Association at the annual meeting on Friday night, will be the location for the new pavilion and store. It has been deemed advisable to put up a new pavilion and the association endeavored to secure a long lease of Juniper island, but were unable to do so. Now it is a question where to locate a new site. Mr. Robinson has expressed his willingness to move his store any place the association desires to erect the pavilion. Several other important matters will also be taken up.

Peterborough's Big Exhibition

Bills Being Posted All Over the District

The directors of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition are rushing up the big posters for the great exhibition to be held on the 26th, 27th and 28th of September. The secretary and president are personally looking after this work, and it is being done thoroughly. Every place one turns in the four counties are seen bills for the Peterborough Show.

In a few days the directors are going to meet at the exhibition grounds to see what repairs are needed and what improvements can be made. They want to get the grounds in the very best possible condition. One of the great things about this year's fair, will be the Saturday exhibition. This will be as big or a bigger day than the other two. There will be the same programme of races, and the same special attractions, and there should be the biggest crowd of all on the grounds.

Largest Flag On Fair Grounds

Messrs J. J. Turner & Sons Exhibit at Toronto Exhibition

Messrs John and Reginald Turner left today for Toronto, where they are making big preparations for their exhibit at the National Exhibition which will be unique. They will have the largest British ensign on the grounds. The flag is 40 feet long by 20 wide. It was made by Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons. The firm will also have a silk tent, a consumptive tent and other tents the grounds. The display will be the finest ever made by Turner & Sons.

Everybody is talking about the great game of baseball to take place next Saturday at Riverside Park between Cobourg and the local nine. The excitement is at fever heat and no doubt a bumper crowd will be in attendance to cheer the local boys on to victory. Cobourg and Peterborough are tied and Saturday is the deciding game, for the winners play off with Port Hope for the championship of the Midland League. This will be the best game of the season, and no one ought to miss it. Cobourg is sending her strongest nine here that day and will try hard to win. Manager Johnston of the local nine, was in communication this morning with President Jecks, of the Midland League. Cobourg will be strengthened by four big leaguers, including a pitcher. Manager Johnston will have his strongest nine. The same bunch that won from Port Hope a week ago will face Cobourg, with the probable exception of Jack Connors, who may be unable to play, owing to injuries received in the last contest. In case of Connors' inability to play Manager Johnston has a good man to take his place.

The game on Thursday with the senior Lindsay nine will prove a good practice for the locals' contest on Saturday. It will be an interesting struggle. Lindsay is bringing down a strong aggregation and will try hard to make up for their loss last week in their own town. It ought to draw a good crowd as Thursday is a half holiday.

GOLF

PORT HOPE WON.

Nine enthusiasts of the golf links went to Port Hope yesterday afternoon to play a return game. They had a splendid outing although they lost by eight points. Those who went from here were;—Messrs. Northern Townships Should be Taken Out of Free Grant List

And Large Leases Given to Live Stock Companies Composed of Bonafide Farmers for Grazing Purposes so as to Produce Supplies of Beef and Mutton —Would be a Great Benefit to the County.

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—Nearly half a century ago many townships to the north of us like the townships of Burleigh and Methuen, were surveyed and placed in the list of free grant townships, that means that a settler could not take up a lot in these townships and and pay the cash and get his deed, but that he could be located, and after building a house, clearing and fencing a certain number of acres; then in three years from date of location he could take out his deed.

Now, at least a quarter of a century ago any lands fit for agricultural purpose sin all these free grant townships were located, which, I venture to say, does not comprise one-third of this whole area. The other two-thirds of this vast area, composed of rocky ridges and blue joint marshes and beaver meadows, etc., and excellent for cattle ranching cannot be had possession of for that purpose by farmers in the southern part, who are anxious for grazing grounds for their young cattle, unless they agree to build a house, clear and fence so much land on every lot, when there is not a lot in the whole area fit for agricultural purposes. Does not this, Mr. Editor appear to you absurd, when I tell you that alone in the townships of Burleigh and Methuen there are fifty thousand acres (within a few hours' drive from the city of Peterborough) on which five thousand head of young cattle can be fed the year round, and with a never-failing supply of pure water and free from blizzards and droughts which cannot, from past experiences, always be said of our western fancies.

What our Provincial Government should do is to take these townships out of the free grant list, and give a lease of twenty or twenty-five thousand acres of these rocky and marshy areas to Live Stock Companies, composed of bona-fide farmers in the southern parts of the different counties in which the townships are located, and the result would be that, instead of these vast areas, as now, being overrun with noxious weeds, and polluting the country to the south, in a few years it would be producing a good supply of the finest beef and mutton.

The ordinary farmer, with his hundred acres of land, worth, say from $40 to $60 an acre, cannot afford to let any of this land lie idle for pasturing young stock or sheep. He requires any spare pasture he has for his dairy cows, and, consequently the young calves are knocked on the head or given away a week old, and he has almost given up entirely keeping sheep, and the result is that the consumer has to pay about 20 cents a pound for a quarter of lamb, and 15 cents a pound for beef. And I venture to say this would not be the case if the vast areas of waste country to the north of us was in a position to be utilized by the farmers of the county.

A Live Stock Company, controlling twenty thousand acres of these waste areas, could take in farmers' young stock at twenty-five cents per head per month for eight months, and fifty cents per month for the four winter months. At these figures the companies would have a fair margin of profit, and the farmers would have their young stock cared for at a minimum cost.

Yours truly,
R. C. STRICKLAND
Lakefield, Aug. 20, 1907.

UPHOLDS HIS STAND

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—Rev. Mr. Potter is doing the work of his Master, who bade His disciples to cast out devils in His name. Because the marks of his criticism are well-known and alas! managers of churches (as he says) they should not escape. "The heart is above all things deceptive and degenerately unaltered." We cannot do as the world does and be of God. We must conform to His standard. Mr. Potter will do a great act for the spread of this glorious gospel of Jesus Christ, if he does not falter in his denunciation of those who pollute the temple of the Most High. It is not what they think, but what God thinks that must be our guide.

Yours, etc.,
BE YE STEADFAST.

Large Excursion From Belleville

About 800 Visitors are Seeing the City and Lift Lock

Between seven and eight hundred excursionists from Belleville are in the city today, and are taking in the many sights that are to be seen.

They arrived shortly after eleven o'clock, there being nine coaches in the train, filled to their utmost.

The excursion was run under the auspices of the Holloway street Methodist church, of Belleville. The steamer "Otonabee" made trips during the day over the lift lock, and each time the boat was crowded, and nearly every visitor must have seen the great hydraulic wonder.

On arrival of the train a great many took the street cars for Jackson Park, where they had dinner. Others walked around the city and visited the parks.

The special train will leave the G.T.R. station for Belleville at six o'clock this evening.

The picnicers are a healthy, happy and prosperous looking crowd. The committee in charge is composed of Messrs George T. Woodley, chairman; O. S. Hicks, secretary, and Jas. Hudgins, treasurer. The Bellevillians and their friends are being accorded a hearty welcome to Peterborough.

Eko Camp Club Outing is Over

Messrs. Stanley Canniff, Willis Garrow and W. Hatton, the remaining members of Echo Camp Club, who have been enjoying a pleasant outing for two weeks at Stony Lake, broke camp today and will return to the city at once with the camp's launch, "The Echo."

The annual camp of the boys this year proved to be very successful.

PETERBORO'S WIN AND LOSE

At Dominion Bowling Tournament at Toronto Yesterday

Review Special.

Toronto, Aug. 20.—Although the rain caused a stoppage for some time, many games were played, and satisfactory progress was made yesterday in the Dominion Bowling Tournament. The second and third rounds in the Walker Trophy were finished, as were the first and second rounds in the Ontario Cup, and the first and second rounds, and a part of the third round, of the Toronto Trophy.

Peterborough's rink, which is skipped by Mr. Robert Kerr, was defeated in the second round for the Ontario Cup, by A. J. Taylor's rink of the Victoria Club. Score was 23—15.

In the second round for the Toronto Trophy, Mr. Kerr's rink won from A. F. Lawrence's Granite rink by a score of 14 to 11.

In the second round for the Walker Trophy Peterborough lost by 15 to 11, to C. A. Swabey, of the Victorias.

EARLY SETTLER HERE ON VISIT

Mr. Wm. Choate Was One of Peterborough's First Born

Mr. Wm. Choate, of Illinois, is in the city on a visit to relatives in this district. Mr. Choate is a cousin of Mr. Arthur Choate, and the late T. G. Choate, of this place. He is 77 years of age and left here when a child. He has been back here on several visits. He was born on the east side of George street, near the C.P.R. station, and one of the first to see the light of day here. there being then only a few houses in this city. So much has Peterborough changed that Mr. Choate is unable to locate the spot, further than he knows that it was north of Spauldings Bay and east of George street.

NOTED OUTLAW ATE BIG MEAL

What the Train Robber Succeeded in Disposing of.

MENU OF A DESPERADO

One loaf of bread.
Three lbs. of meat.
Five cups of coffee.
One quart strawberry preserves.

Bill Miner is still being looked for near Nicomen, east of Mission. Mr. George Deroche, a well-known rancher, was today in Winchester. He is certain, by pictures of the train robber in the Province, that on Monday afternoon he entertained Bill Miner, says the Vancouver Province.

The old man, tired and footsore applied at his house for food. He said he worked at a logging camp and was looking for a stray horse. He ate ravenously and the above was what he disposed of at one sitting.

If this man was Bill Miner, he has probably escaped to the mountains south of Chilliwack.

BOND STORY REVIVED

Not the least remarkable of the many stories centering upon this Miner's exploits since his escape from the penitentiary at New Westminster last week, is one relating to the mysterious $50,000 worth of bonds which, shortly after the Mission train holdup on September 8, 1904, it was alleged formed part of the loot upon that occasion.

These bonds were American securities, owned in the United States and it is now declared that less than two weeks before the time Miner and his fellow convicts escaped, American secret service officers visited the penitentiary and had a conference with Shorty Dunn relative to these bonds. Dunn is supposed to know the place where they were secreted, and it is reported that inducements were offered to him to disclose their hiding place. Just what the officers intimated they could do for him is a matter of conjecture; neither is it known what results their interview brought forth.

Big Slaughter Among Arabs; Latest in Moroccan Affairs

New French Gun Works Havoc Among the Rebels.

Fourteen Rounds Put 1,500 to Flight—Kabyles Marching on Casablanca—Will Make Determined Attack—Is Sultan Bluffing?—French Colony to Leave Fez—Fear Outbreak of Fanaticism—New Sultan.

Tangier, Aug. 21.—Five hundred shereefs and troops, the best of the Sultan's army which usually are under the command of Caid Sir Harry MacLean have arrived here. It was originally the intention to send them to Casablanca to co-operate with the French-Spanish forces, but Marine Minister Gabbas now talks of sending them to Mazagan.

Abbel-Krim Ben Sliman, the Minister of Foreign Affairs, in a letter to the French charge d'affaires, has reiterated the Moroccan Government's condolences as a result of the assassinations at Casablanca, and added an expression of the hope that the relations between Morocco and France would remain friendly.

The Spanish charge d'affaires is reported to be much disturbed by the attitude of Gen. Olalla during Sunday's fighting at Casablanca, when the Spanish commander, acting under a misunderstanding of his instructions, only used his troops in defending Casablanca, not taking part in the fighting outside the walls.

Paris, Aug. 21.—The correspondent of The Matin at Casablanca speaks in loud praise of the 75-millimetre gun, fourteen rounds of which he says, put 1,500 Arabs to flight. In attacking the centre of the camp on the right the Arab horsemen galloped to within four hundred yards of the French positions, where two rapid-fire guns had been mounted on the roof of a farm building. These guns opened each with 500 shots per minute, swept the ground with a rain of lead and covered it with the dead and dying.

The spahis, the correspondent continues, were a brave sight as they rode back into camp. Men and horses were covered with blood. The faces of the men were blackened with powder.

The attacking tribes Sunday were the Zenata and Ziada, who are newcomers and were fighting for the first time.

Still Planning.

It is announced that a number of Kabyles are marching from Mazagan to Casablanca with the intention of delivering a formidable attack shortly.

The Tangier correspondent of The Matin telegraphs that, with the object of getting rid of the fanatical members of the Ulema, who favor a holy war, the Sultan has appointed them to a delegation that is to come to Tangier to discuss measures of pacification.

The French Government has received confirmation from Fez of the report that the Sultan has declared his intention to send a deputation of notable Moors to Tangier, but neither the object of their mission nor date of departure is known. The announcement is regarded as a "bluff" on the part of the Sultan to appease the anti-foreign sentiment of the fanatics. It was made during the excitement caused by the ceremonies commemorating the birth of the prophet, and even if the deputation comes to Tangier, it is considered doubtful whether it will be received by the diplomatic corps.

Colony at Fez Leaves.

The Government has also been advised that the members of the French colony at Fez, fearing an explosion of fanaticism, especially against the French, are leaving for Tangier today. It is presumed that the French consul and the French military mission will not accompany them. The Moroccan Government has agreed to furnish an escort to the French, and the shereefs have agreed to assist in protecting them, but, nevertheless, the five-day trip to the coast is considered dangerous. The Government has received confirmation of the report that Mulai Hafig, the Sultan's brother, has been proclaimed Sultan. The news is creating excitement, especially in the neighborhood of Morocco City.

Strongly Favor Arbitration; Conference at the Hague

Powers Desire to See Permanent Tribunal Formed.

Treaty Cannot Bind All—Convention Will Make It Obligatory Only Among Powers Which Agree—Newfoundland Fisheries Dispute Submitted to The Hague Conference—Modus Vivendi to Continue.

London, Aug. 21.—The American Government, which has taken the lead at The Hague Peace Conference in endeavoring to promote arbitration, will be responsible for giving The Hague tribunal the most important case yet submitted to it, in the Newfoundland fisheries dispute, which undoubtedly will be taken there as a result of the negotiations conducted in London between the Foreign Office and the American ambassador, Whitelaw Reid.

Both the Foreign Office and the embassy maintain diplomatic reserve, but it has been learned from unquestionable sources that the long correspondence made it seem that their contentions could not be harmonized and had reached an impasse.

Finally Mr. Reid made a proposal to submit the dispute to the arbitration of The Hague tribunal, having the authority of President Roosevelt and Secretary Root to do so. After a week or two of consideration the British Government accepted the proposal, and then the American Government proposed that for another year, while the matter was under arbitration, the fisheries should be conducted as they were last year, under the same modus vivendi.

There has been delay in concluding the arrangement. While the British Government has secured the assent of Sir Robert Bond, the Newfoundland Premier, to the agreement, Sir Robert, undoubtedly will be reluctant to accept the modus vivendi, which he opposed strongly last season. However, there is little doubt that the agreement will be enforced and that the fisheries, during the new season beginning next week, will be conducted on the same methods as the last.

Obligatory Arbitration.

The Hague, Aug. 21.—Nearly all of the Governments have sent instructions to their delegates to make an effort to bring about some kind of obligatory arbitration and also the establishment of a permanent court of arbitration in order to save the conference from failure.

The efforts of the delegates are now directed toward the arrangement of a treaty of obligatory arbitration acceptable to Germany, which country, although admitting the principle of arbitration, has so far opposed a world treaty, arguing that it would tend to minimize, rather than promote, obligatory arbitration. It is believed that it will only be possible to conclude a convention providing for obligatory arbitration among the powers which agree to it.

Servia has presented a proposition aiming to make the awards of arbitration tribunals obligatory on the signatory powers after an appeal has resulted in the confirmation of the first judgment.

It is understood that all the Latin-American states will accept a permanent arbitration court, although making reserves regarding the allotment of judges if all the countries are to be represented.

Emigrants Not Deceived.

London, Aug. 21.—(C. A. P.)—In the House of Commons the Lord Advocate, replying to Mr. Cleland, stated that many complaints had been received from Scottish emigrants to Canada that promises of employment and wages, whereby they were induced to emigrate were unfulfilled. The complaints were subject to careful enquiry, and the results so far unjustified the proceedings that the Lord Advocate announced any offenders in this direction were liable to severe penalties.

Wetmore a Probability.

Ottawa, Aug. 21.—It is understood that four out of the five judges who are to be appointed to the new Supreme Court of Saskatchewan will be the present members of the judicature who reside in that province, Justices Wetmore, Prendergast, Newlands and Johnstone. They must reside in Regina, but will go on circuit.

It is expected that the chief justice will be appointed shortly. Judge Wetmore will probably get the position.

Investigates Escapes.

Brockville, Aug. 21.—The [illegible] Problem Turner from the Brockville jail on July 16 has been made the subject of an investigation by Dr. Bruce Smith, inspector of prisons. Dr. Smith enquired fully into all circumstances of the case, and will make a report to the Department.

Montreal Strike.

Montreal, Aug. 21.—The Garment Workers' strike has spread, and 300 men and women are now out demanding shorter hours, weekly pay, and abolition of piece work. The employes of Vineberg were out last week, got their demands and are back at work.

Senate Building on Fire.

Ottawa, Aug. 21.—The Parliament buildings of Canada were threatened with destruction by fire Monday night. Telephone and electric light wires [illegible] at the [illegible] to the Senate side of the building and set the woodwork on fire.

INDIANS SHOOT POLICE

Fusilade of Bullets Greets Constables Sent to Make Arrest.

Two Were Wounded and Had Narrow Escape From Death—Indian Who Made Savage Assault Upon Woman Resists Capture—Armed Force Sent From Pembroke to Bring Them In—Indians Usually Peaceable.

Pembroke, Aug. 21.—In attempting to arrest an Indian on the Golden Lake Reserve, two Pembroke constables were fired upon by a party of Indians, with the result that the constables had narrow escapes. Both were slightly wounded.

A special force of constables was despatched from here on the noon train yesterday to effect the arrest of the hostile Indians.

The constables are heavily armed. There are 100 Indians on the Golden Lake Reserve, and they have always been considered industrious and peaceable.

The quiet of the reserve was disturbed on Friday last, when an Indian named Serazan arrived on a visit. He tarried too long at the wine and the firewater on Saturday, and this roused his savage nature to such a pitch that he made a violent assault on one of the Indian women, a Mrs. Seymour, lacerating her face and beating her badly.

Word was sent to Pembroke, and Constables Young and Dixon were sent out to arrest the Indian. When the constables arrived at the house Dixon called out to the inmates to open the door. They replied they would not, but would shoot any person who attempted to get in.

While Young was endeavoring to break open the door, Dixon tried to gain an entrance through the window. Almost immediately there was a fusilade of bullets, one of which tore Dixon's chest. Dixon fell to the ground.

When Young came to Dixon's assistance the firing started again and one bullet pierced the constable's hat, grazing his forehead.

As the house was occupied by a number of armed parties and Constable Dixon was wounded, the constables decided to return to Pembroke for assistance.

WOMEN DEFEATED AGAIN.

New Zealand Council Throws Out Bill For Upper House.

Wellington, N. Z., Aug. 21.—The women politicians whose cause was championed by the House of Representatives of New Zealand received scant consideration from the Legislative Council, which yesterday, without a division, rejected the bill providing for the election of an Upper House by the House of Representatives. According to one of the clauses women electors were to be eligible as members of the Upper House.

The Legislative Council of New Zealand, or Upper House of the General Assembly, now consists of forty-four appointed members, some of whom are life members. The House of Representatives or Lower House is composed of eighty members, elected by the people for terms of three years.

Foresters Robbed.

Ottawa, Aug. 21.—Letters, cheques and express orders have been stolen from the letters of Court Royal Albert, Canadian Order of Foresters.

The name of G. W. Steacey, secretary of the Foresters, has been forged, the cheques were endorsed and cashed at local banks and express offices. The thief is unknown, but the matter has been placed in the hands of Lieut.-Col. Sherwood of the Dominion police. The cheques are only for small sums.

Robbers Caught In Napanee.

Napanee, Aug. 21.—Monday night three burglars were making a raid in Belleville when they were chased by the police. The robbers made a run for a through freight and fired shots at the Belleville constable. The Belleville constables immediately telephoned Chief Graham of Napanee to stop the freight and arrest the men. The men were thus caught. They were taken to Belleville yesterday for trial. Considerable money and jewels were found concealed on them.

Gen. French Coming.

London, Aug. 21.—The Canadian Associated Press learns that Gen. Sir John French, inspector-general of the forces, intends to visit Canada, and make an official examination of the state of the defensive service. No date is fixed, but it is likely to be early next year.

Lieut. Rogan states the Coldstream Guards' band hope shortly to again visit Canada.

Ill-Treated His Sons.

Stuttgart, Aug. 21.—Herr Sleindel, the leader of the well-known quartette that bears his name, was sentenced to seven months and three days' imprisonment for alleged continued barbarous ill-treatment of his three young sons.

Fearing that he would attempt to flee, the court refused to release him pending an appeal of its sentence.

Canada Won Four.

Ottawa, Aug. 21.—William A. Burns, secretary of the exhibition branch of the Department of Agriculture, has arrived home from Christchurch, New Zealand, after winding up all the business in connection with the New Zealand international exhibition.

Te four highest awards in the competitions went to Canadian displays.

Grasshoppers Invade New York.

Brockville, Aug.—The farmers of Northern New York have within the past few days been threatened with a serious situation as regards the pasturage for their cattle. Owing to the continued drought the pastures and fields have been invaded by an army of grasshoppers, which are eating everything in sight.

Spinners' Strike Settled.

Montreal, Aug. 21.—The strike of the cotton spinners at Valleyfield was settled Monday night, when an agreement was signed by which a 10 per cent. increase was granted to mule spinners, on behalf of whom the strike occurred.

Engines Wrecked.

St. Thomas, Aug. 21.—A collision between No. 5 Wabash train and a yard engine last night, both locomotives were wrecked, but no one was hurt.

METEOR CAUSES SCARE

Drops Into the Sea Off Long Island Coast.

Residents Thought End of World Had Had Come — Upheaval Destroyed Buildings on Shore—Several Huts Washed Away—Hundreds of Fish Killed—Fiery Mass Was 75 Feet in Circumference.

New York, Aug. 20.—At 6 o'clock Sunday evening an immense meteor, apparently about 75 feet in circumference, fell into the sea, about a mile off the Amagansett, L. I., life-saving station. First a roar was heard, and an instant later a great stream of fire seemed to come down from the clouds and plunge into the sea in the wake of the meteor. The meteor fell into the water with a noise as of a mighty boiler letting off steam.

Great waves rolled in upon the beach. Part of the bathing pavilion was washed away, and along with it several fishermen's huts. Much damage was done to property abutting the waterfront. Some persons thought the strange incident marked the end of the world. Even the old fishermen, used as they are to facing death at sea, were terrified, and not for an hour or more did the excitement quiet down.

Capt. George Green, who was in command of a vessel in the harbor of St. Pierre, when Mount Pelee blew its head off and destroyed that city, was sitting on the waterfront when the meteor fell. He declared nothing had ever frightened him so much except the Mount Pelee disaster.

The meteor apparently fell vertically. From the time the noise was first heard until it plunged into the sea was probably three-quarters of a minute. After the disturbance had subsided hundreds of dead fish were found on the shore. These were gathered up by boys and peddled by them.

Like an Earthquake.

Middlebury, Vt., Aug. 20.—Prof. Sheldon of the Brooklyn Polltienic Institute went to Bristol Notch yesterday to investigate the fall of an unusually large meteor, which was observed by many people throughout Addison Sunday morning. Those who saw it fall say it was of unusual brilliancy and size. The effect of its fall was like that of an earthquake, the country within several miles of the scene of its landing experiencing shocks, which caused damage to many houses.

SHOOTS SWEETHEART.

Girl Decides She Cannot Marry Out of Her Religion.

New York, Aug. 20.—The two years' courtship of 18-year-old Ellen Fiska and Joseph Pallog, aged 21 years, ended tragically last night. The girl is a Catholic, while her lover is not, and after a protracted struggle with her conscience, she decided finally that she could not marry out of her church. The renunciation was made in the presence of her family, and a moment later Pallog had shot the girl in the breast and put a bullet into his own body.

FEARS A CRISIS.

Too Many Japs and Chinese Coming Into Canada.

Ottawa, Aug. 20.—According to reports to the Department, 657 Japanese arrived in Canada during the month of July, to stay, and 201 passed through to United States points. One hundred and thirty-three Chinese came in the same period, 44 of whom were exempt from the tax on celestials. R. G. Macpherson, M. P., wired to the Department and said that unless the Government stepped in and stopped these aliens a crisis will arise in British Columbia.

The Guelph and Goderich Railway will be formally opened on Sept. 12.

MASQUERADES AS A MAN.

Girl Thief Uses Disguise to Rob Her Employers.

Ottawa, Aug. 21.—For the past nine months a young English woman has been masquerading in Ottawa as a man and evidently a member of a gang of light-fingered gentry.

"He" called on arrival at the Y. M. C. A. in search of work, and after being employed in the scullery of a gentleman's house obtained a position as a clerk in a leading drygoods store. Articles began to be missed, and eventually the young man was asked to enter the manager's office.

In searching "his" person the identity of "his" sex was discovered, and enough evidence was secured to convict, but the proprietor, for business reasons, refused to prosecute. "James Thompson," therefore, from being a [illegible] man, is now a free woman, and has made herself scarce.

MORIKAWA DENIES IT.

Jap Not In Partnership With Immigration Company.

Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 21.—The British Columbia bar is looking for an interesting reply from Justice Clements to Sir Adolphe Caron's stinging open letter to the Ottawa press. Judge Clements is on a vacation.

Kikijiro Ishii of the Japanese Foreign Office, now in California investigating trouble there, is expected next month to look into the local situation. A member of the Japanese employment agency, which landed 300 Japanese here Monday, and is bringing 1,700 more, re-asserts in an interview in Honolulu that Vancouver Japanese Consul Morikawa, is in partnership with the Tokio Immigration Co., which Morikawa stoutly denies.

Bigamist Goes to Jail.

Whitby, Aug. 21.—George Hicks, the Pickering Township bigamist, is now in jail, having been sentenced yesterday afternoon to two months by Police Magistrate Harper.

Hicks' first wife, now living in Detroit, was brought over by the crown to prove that she had seen and spoken to her husband within seven years. The defence was that Hicks had been informed or thought he had that if he lived apart from his wife for seven years he could marry again. This was claimed to be reason for acquittal.

The magistrate, however, found the prisoner guilty, and imposed a light sentence.

OPPOSE BOTHA'S PRESENT.

Purchase of Cullinane Gem Not Opportune—Transvaal Loan Bill.

London, Aug. 21.—The plan of Premier Botha of the Transvaal to present the Cullinane diamond to King Edward meets with much criticism both in England and the Transvaal.

The finances of the colony are in bad condition, and many persons think that the expense of purchase ($1,000,000), is unnecessary. Moreover, the magnates of the Premier Diamond Mining Co. have found the Cullinane diamond to be a white elephant. There is no market for such huge stones. The Premier people are political supporters of Gen. Botha's party and critics say that if the stone belonged to the De Beers Co., which is an opponent of Gen. Botha, there would have been no thought of presenting the diamond to the King, adding that the Botha party wants to gain the credit for a patriotic act, while putting money from the treasury in the pockets of their friends at a time when the colony can ill afford such luxuries.

Mr. Asquith, replying in the House of Commons to the allegation that the Transvaal loan bill is an invidious form of colonial preference, said no communication had reached the Government from any responsible statesman through the Empire in protest, or even criticism, of the loan.

The truth was, the self-governing colonies regarded the matter entirely from the point of view as a Government guarantee.

The loan was inevitable through unforseen consequences of the war, wherein they played so conspicuous and honorable a part, and as a necessary incident of the completion of the settlement, which settlement, as all know from the language of Sir Wilfrid Laurier had been ratified by practically the unanimous sentiment of the self-governing colonies of the Empire. The second reading of the bill carried by a majority of 137.

BORDEN BEGINS TOUR.

Public Ownership Forms Big Part of Party Program.

Halifax, Aug. 21.—R. L. Borden, K. C., M. P., last night began his continental tour at a largely attended meeting held under the auspices of the local Conservative associations. Mr. Borden was given a gratifying reception.

As befitting the occasion, the leader of the Conservative party announced the policy which would be followed in the next election campaign.

It was noticed and remarked upon that public ownership forms a big part of the party program.

C. P. R. Operators May Strike.

Montreal, Aug. 21.—It looks as if the C. P. R. operators would go out to-day. They had an interview yesterday with Vice-President McNicol, but there were no results.

It is understood that the men will see Sir Thomas Shaughnessy this morning and failing to come to a satisfactory agreement they will stop work this afternoon.

New York, Aug. 21.—Officials of the two big telegraph companies stated yesterday that business is moving normally and that, as far as they are concerned, the strike is over. The strikers deny this statement. Harry Behnekin, an operator, became insane in the Western Union operating rooms, yesterday from overwork and was removed to Bellevue Hospital.

Farmer's Wife Murdered.

Camden, N. J., Aug. 21.—While Edward Horner, a farmer, was trying early yesterday to extinguish a fire thought to have been kindled in his barn for the apparent purpose of drawing him from his home, at Merchantville, a few miles from this city, someone entered the house and murdered his wife with an axe, and with the same weapon attacked Victoria Napoli, an Italian servant, who probably went to the rescue of her mistress. The servant died a short time later in a hospital in this city.

A negro named Charles Gibson was arrested on suspicion. He had two pawn tickets for watches, which, when located, were found to bear the name of "Horner."

Mysterious Death.

Ottawa, Aug. 21.—A farmer named Thomas McTiernan, while driving home towards Bryson, Que., met an intoxicated man, John Matheson, who did not reply to his salutation. A few yards further on he had to pull up as his rig could not pass. A dead body lay on the road. It was Hugh Matheson, brother of the first. There was blood on the face of the dead man. The brothers Matheson lived about two acres from the spot and had been drinking in Bryson.

Drove Horse to Death.

St. Catharines, Aug. 21.—A boy of about 17, who gave his name as Lavern Hillis, charged with stealing a horse and buggy from A. H. Pettirt, fruit grower, of Winona. He stole the horse one night last week, and drove it so hard that it fell dead at Attercliff. Then he sold the buggy and harness for $21, and proceeded to this city on foot.

Explosion Kills One Hundred.

Berlin, Aug. 21.—The directors of the Shantung Mining Co. yesterday received a cable message from Taintau, announcing that an explosion of dynamite had occurred underground in the Fantage Mine, killing two Germans and 110 Chinamen.

Small Wreck at Guelph.

Guelph, Aug. 21.—A collision on the Grand Trunk at Guelph Junction yesterday evening resulted in a refrigerator car being smashed by the engine on the passenger train from Sarnia to Toronto. No one was injured.

Circus Employe Killed.

Brockville, Aug. 21.—Augustus Hill, a driver for the Forepaugh-Sells circus, fell from one of the circus trains near Watertown and was run over and killed.

Brakeman Loses Leg.

St. Catharines, Aug. 21.—John Metcalfe, a Grand Trunk brakeman, had his leg cut off by his train yesterday morning.

Five men were committed for trial at Niagara Falls on charges of robbing cars in the G.T.R. yards.

SHOT DEAD BY WOMAN.

Attempt to Force "Undesirables" to Leave Ends in Death.

Wiarton, Aug. 21.—Philip Gilbert, a bachelor, aged 45, was shot and killed, supposedly by Agnes Thomas, alias Mrs. Reid, at 10 o'clock last night.

In company with a girl called "Stella," the woman is now under arrest for the shooting.

She was conducting a house of ill-repute on the northeast hill, above the town. Gilbert, it is said, organized a crowd of about 25 men and they started for the house to order them out of the neighborhood.

The women refused to go. An attempt to tear down a fence was made and a second afterwards a shot rang out and Gilbert fell dead with a bullet through his heart.

Both women were placed under arrest. Agnes Thomas had a 32-calibre revolver. She hails from London.

Jealous Women's Crime.

Winnipeg, Aug. 21.—Catharine Godynuk and her mother, Annie Wascow, are lodged in the police station, charged with an attempt to poison Rosa Fischer, while in addition, it is believed they endeavored to poison Catharine's husband, Frederick Godynuk. They were thought to be jealous of Rosa Fischer, and it is known they had a violent quarrel with Godynuk.

Bodies Washed Ashore.

London, Aug. 21.—(C. A. P.)—The body of S. M. Kennedy, a Canadian visitor drowned at Belfast, July 17, together with that of a girl, believed to be that of his daughter, who was drowned at the same time, was washed ashore at Balantrae. On Kennedy's body was found $250 and two South African medals.

Killed by Dynamite.

Ottawa, Aug. 21.—As a result of a premature dynamite explosion, which took place two miles north of Merrickville, Nicholas Carocaggio, aged 40 years, and his son, Sam, aged 17 years, both of Young street, Ottawa, lost their lives.

Child's Skull Found.

Brockville, Aug. 21.—A portion of a human skull, evidently that of a child, was found while a gang of men were at work at Thousand Island Park, where a baseball diamond was being laid out. Along with the skull there were other bones in a more or less fragmentary state. The bones were carefully collected in one corner of the field.

Determined to Die.

Hamilton, Aug. 21.—Hillard Culp, a butcher's assistant at Beamsville, made the second attempt on his life yesterday morning, making a big gash in his throat with a razor. Two years ago while in a camp at Orillia he tried to commit suicide. His friends do not know any good reason why he should try to make away with himself.

Japs' New Dreadnought.

Glasgow, Aug. 21.—The Japanese Government has placed an order for an 18,000 ton battleship with the Fairfield Shipbuilding Co. The new vessel will be one of the most formidable armored ships of war afloat. A feature of her construction will be the extreme width of beam.

Nobel Prize For Kipling.

Stockholm, Aug. 21.—The newspaper Tidningen announces, on what it declares to be good authority, that Rudyard Kipling has been designated to receive the Nobel literary prize for 1907. The paper adds that Samuel L. Clemens (Mark Twain) was suggested for this honor.

WORKMEN'S RIGHTS

In Canada a workman may proceed against his employer under the Workman's Compensation for Injuries Act, and at common law. That means untold annoyance and inconvenience to an employer. An employer is even liable for damages to an employee for injury resulting from the negligence of a fellow employee. Oft-times a workman will get back at an employer in this way. The employee may or may not win. Whether he does or not it means a great deal of anxiety to you as an employer. Let us relieve you of all this. Our liability policies are designed to do this very thing.

Will be glad to explain our plan.

Harry Adams

Walked into Undertaker's To View His Own Remains

Woodstock, Aug. 20.—After being officially declared dead, following what was believed to be a positive identification, William Sommerville of South Norwich, walked into Fields' undertaking warerooms this morning and asked to be shown his own remains. It required but a cursory examination to establish the old gentleman's mind that the body that lay before him was not his own, nor was it of any of his relatives.

High County Constable Hobson, who had been working on the case in an endeavor to establish the identity of the man who was brought to the hospital on Sunday night, and who died soon after, thought it was Sommerville. Warren Buley, formerly of South Norwich, and Marsh Anderson, night watchman, with the High Constable visited the undertaking rooms this morning, and after viewing the remains unhesitatingly pronounced them to be those of Sommerville.

This information was given to the newspapers and arrangements were about to be made to notify the man's friends, when Constable Hobson happened to go into the new Dufferin Hotel. Almost the first man he met was his old acquaintance, William Sommerville, whose dead body was supposed to be at the morgue. In the meantime the dead man was still unidentified. A Toronto man wired today for a full description of the body, believing that it might be that of a man named Watson, who disappeared from Toronto a few weeks ago. A friend of Watson is expected in the city tomorrow.

OBITUARY

HENRY E. ROBINSON.

The death occurred this afternoon of Henry E. Robinson, at the residence of his mother, Mrs. T. Fitzgerald, 225 Charlotte street, after a lengthy illness. The deceased was 37 years of age, and was a brother of Dr. F. L. Robinson of this city.

The funeral will take place Friday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from the family residence, Charlotte street to Little Lake Cemetery, and will be private.

County Magistrate Has Many Cases

Two Employees Had Altercation—Blow Was Costly One

County Magistrate Edmison went to Norwood yesterday to hold court there but was unable to do so. It appears that one day last week, Fred Woods and Jas. Morrow were drunk and disorderly. The disorder consisted of a fight between the two fellows in which Woods got the worst of it. When the magistrate went down yesterday Woods was confined to his bed suffering from injuries received in the fracas. The doctor stated that he would not be able to leave his bed for a couple of weeks and the case had to be postponed until such time as Woods is able to be around again.

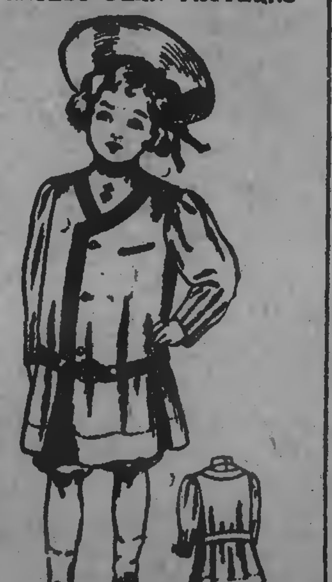
AN ASSAULT CASE.

At the county police court this morning before Magistrate Edmison, William Griffin was charged with assaulting G. J. Waldron on August 16th. These two work at the Sandstone Brick Works, and it appears were engaged in a rather heated controversy which soon came to blows. Griffin struck Waldron and not being satisfied with what he gave him at the works, followed him home where he administered some more. Griffin was fined five dollars and costs, amounting to $10.40.

Mr. Thos. Darcy, proprietor of the "Park" hotel, Burleigh Falls, comes up before Magistrate Edmison tomorrow, charged with selling liquor to Indians on Civic holiday. The case of disorderly conduct against the three "red men" also comes up tomorrow.

Chas. Jones of Smith, for resisting County Constable Thos. Nicholls on Civic holiday will face the magistrate this afternoon.

LATEST DEAN PATTERNS



4243.—A NATTY BLOUSE FOR THE LITTLE MAN.

Tub suits that are easy to make and easy to launder are an inestimable boon to the mother of a small boy, for the wear and tear to which children's clothes are especially subject render it very necessary to have a good supply always on hand. The natty Russian blouse suit shown in the accompanying drawing is neat and practical and can be made at home with small trouble. The shield is detachable and the embroidery, which ornaments it can be purchased ready made. The box plaited sleeve is pretty as well as comfortable and the breast pocket cannot fail to appeal to the small wearer. The suit is modelled in white duck, with trimming bands of navy blue, but any tub fabrics will answer the purpose equally well. For the medium size 4 1-2 yards of 27 inch material will be needed.

4243.—5 sizes, 2 to 6 years.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

Leave your order and 10c at the REVIEW OFFICE and will be sent you by mail.

Steamers Do Not Run on Sunday

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir—In the Toronto World of yesterday's issue I saw an article evidently emanating from Peterborough which said that Rev. J. G. Potter, pastor of St. Andrew's church, had in a recent sermon, made certain remarks that are liable to be misinterpreted by readers all over the Province, but more particularly in this city or district. The reverend gentleman is alleged to have said or insinuated, that Sunday excursions by steamboat are a common occurrence on these waters. Now, I do not say but what occasionally some gentlemen owning a steam launch or yacht may sometimes ask a few friends to spend an hour or two on the waters in his launch: I do, however, protest most vehemently against such an imputation as that by this gentleman being used, unless specifically. The Otonabee Navigation Co., which has large interests in the summer trade on the Trent canal waters, has never, nor never will allow any of their steamers to be used for Sunday excursions.

W. H. ROBERTSON.
President Otonabee Navigation Co.

TO-NIGHT'S EVENTS

vevents tonight

(Young Conservative Club Rooms—Important meeting of the Executive of the Liberal-Conservative Association at the Young Men's Club at 8 o'clock. Full attendance requested.

INTERRED IN LAKEFIELD

The remains of the ten months' old child of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McClure, corner of Brock and Sheridan streets, were interred in Lakefield on Monday. Rev. J G Potter conducted the services.

TOMORROW'S REGATTA

A large number of citizens intend going up to Stony Lake tomorrow to attend the first annual regatta which will be held under the auspices of the East End Cottagers' Association at Crowe's Landing. There are fifteen events on the programme.

ANOTHER SECRET.

That romantic play, "A Wife's Secret," is going the rounds. The average wife's secret, just now, is that she hasn't "done up" half the berries she did last year, and she wonders what the grouchy head of the family will say next winter, when he finds it out.

WOLVES ABROAD.

A Peterborough minister insinuates that some Presbyterians in that city are following in the footsteps of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde. Shocking! But are there no wolves in sheep's clothing in other places besides Peterborough?—Belleville Intelligencer.

FINED HEAVILY.

There was nothing doing in police court this morning, except one drunk. An elderly man who was found lying drunk against the Bank of Commerce Buildings yesterday, pleaded guilty and was fined five dollars.

STEEL WORK HERE

The steel work for the Charlotte street bridge has arrived and is being placed in position. The Street Railway Company has had to raise its tracks about two and a half or three feet in order not to interfere with the men working. This will make a steep grade for the cars, but it will only last for a few days, when the bridge work will have been completed and the tracks replaced.

COMMITTEES MEET.

The Board of Works and the Fire, Water and Light Committees will meet in the city clerk's office this evening to dispose of several matters that have accumulated during the past couple of weeks.

TURF

At the Dufferin races in Toronto yesterday, Hasel Bell was entered in the 2.22 class, and got fifth place. The time was 2.23 1-4, 2.24 3-4, and 2.21 1-2.

In the five-eighths mile running race, Marius Carlos, W. Duncan's horse took second money.

Other Peterborough horses will be entered in today's races.

WEDDING BELLS

McFADDEN—BEGLEY

At eight o'clock mass in St. Peter's Cathedral this morning was celebrated a very interesting ceremony in the marriage of Miss Mary Philomena, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. P. Begley, to Mr. Hugh Francis McFadden, of Lindsay. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father McColl, in the presence of a number of the friends and relatives of the contracting parties.

The bride, who was attired in a neat travelling costume, was assisted by her cousin, Miss Mary Begley of Lindsay, both carrying beautiful bouquets. Mr. James Gillogly, of Lindsay, ably filled the duties of best man

At the conclusion of the wedding mass, the happy couple drove to the residence of the bride's brother, Mr T. J. Begley, Victoria avenue, where a dainty wedding breakfast was partaken of.

The popularity of the bride was attested by the beautiful wedding presents received.

Mr and Mrs. McFadden left on the 5.33 G.T.R. train for Toronto and on their return will take up residence in Lindsay.

STOCK MARKET QUOTATIONS

New York, Aug. 21.—Professionalism was accountable for ninety per cent. of the trading today. The market opened weak, influenced by the rather inadequate response given in London to the rally of yesterday here. In addition London sent over selling orders all through the list to the extent of 15,000 shares and in the course of their execution leading stocks showed losses of a point or more from yesterday's closing.

Short covering was next in order as the bears were unable to force any great amount of new liquidation and the list easily recovered the lost ground when the market became dull and sagged off to even lower figures than at first, being influenced by the fears of another advance in the Bank of England rate tomorrow.

Most of the selling seemed to come from the bears and buying to cover short contracts was responsible for a half-hearted rally in the afternoon. The closing was steady and quiet.

Wheat advanced 3 cents per bushel, on reported hard freezing in Manitoba, and higher foreign cables. Corn was 2 cents and September oats sold at 50 cents, an advance of nearly 3 cents.

NIGHTLY DANCES VERY POPULAR

Guests at Viamede are Enjoying Themselves

Viamede, Stony Lake, Aug. 21.—On Wednesday of the past week about thirty of the guests at Viamede, under Messrs. McLean and Highbee, took Blewett's launch to Lovesick, where a most enjoyable time was spent. Mr. McLean's picnics are always good, and this was no exception to the rule. The only mishap that occurred was the accidental ducking of Mr. Harry Mitchell, who fell from a log.

Two euchre parties were held last week, under the direction of Mrs. Crisfield, who is most energetic in entertaining both young and old.

Every night the dances in the pavilion prove a great attraction to the young people. The two-step still remains the most popular dance, but the Virginia reel is still a great favorite.

Owing to the high winds the proposed regatta had to be postponed last week, but if all things are favorable it may come off this week.

On Sunday the regular service was taken by Rev. Mr. Gibson, of Thornhill, Ont.

On Monday of this week a large touring party went to Eel's Creek, and spent the day. Messrs. McLean and Diemer were the leading spirits in getting up the picnic, which was a brilliant success. Blewett's launch was full of people and twelve boats were towed behind.

The guests at Viamede at present are: Mr and Mrs Edward C Scheid, Urbana, Ill.; Miss E L McRitchie, Miss Norma Ritchie, Ottawa; Wm H Hammond, Lockport, N.Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A Clarke, Urbana, Ill.; Miss Caroline M. Diemier, Miss Corinna L Mahan, Miss Rhea T Powers, Miss Marie L Fee, Leo F Powers, Rochester; Miss Edna L Jenkins, Toronto; Mrs Jack O'Connor, Brantford; B Millward, George C Mortimer, A E Clarke, Toronto; Mr A S Burchart and wife, Lakefield, Ont; Miss Mabel Notter, Owen Sound; Mr. C and Mrs Jas Allis, Rochester.

The "Sailor Boy" brand of canned goods are the best that are put up. They never fail to please. Try a few cans.

Peterboro' Boy in Leading Role

Mr. Walter H. Cluxton Appears in "A Message From Mars"

In "A Message From Mars" which appears at the Grand Opera House tomorrow night, the theatre going public of Peterborough will have more than usual interest in the production.

The role of the Messenger is most capably taken by a popular and talented Peterborough boy, who has won a high place in the histrionic world, in the person of Mr. Walter H. Cluxton, who is a brother of Captain W. Harold Cluxton, of this city.

Mr Cluxton has for several years been a bright ornament on the stage in both this continent, and in England. He has appeared with many leading companies and has always been assigned important parts. Mr. Cluxton has by his conscientiousness, fidelity and thoroughness, won universal encomiums from influential papers and managers. He takes infinite pains in his work and his engagements have always been with superior attractions. He has played in all classes, from tragedy to comic opera and is a most versatile and accomplished actor. He is also a capital vocalist, being the possessor of one of the purest and sweetest tenor voices of any Canadian artist.

Since his last visit to Peterborough two years ago he has travelled all over the American continent, and his many friends in this city rejoice at the success which he has achieved in his profession. They will certainly accord him an enthusiastic welcome tomorrow night, when he will be seen in a leading role in a comedy success that has proved to be the signal triumph of two continents.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE RE-OPENS

Splendid Attraction Presented to Large Audience

Looking spick and span the Grand Opera House was re-opened for the season last night, when a large audience witnessed Spencer & Aborn's production of the great emotional drama, "A Wife's Secret."

The offering was a splendid one and the patrons manifested their pleasure by frequent outbursts of applause.

The story is a sad one, but the pathetic incidents are relieved by a liberal intermixture of comedy, laughter and tears being cleverly blended.

The story deals with the unjust, narrow and unfounded suspicions of a clerical husband, who is so absorbed in his books and led about by the nose, by a pernickety and hypocritical old maid sister, who deems it her "Christian duty" to point out the alleged shortcomings of the pure and innocent woman, that he has sworn to "love, honor and protect," that separation follows.

One misunderstanding after another and constant fault finding by the rector's sister, finally leads to such strange accusations that the woman is driven from her home and her child.

After undergoing many privations and rebuffs, enduring the jeers and overtures of scoundrels and hypocrites, by the instrumentality of her child, of whom the husband has been declared its legal guardian, a re-union is at last brought about, but not before the husband has seen the terrible mistake that he has made, and how selfish, mean and unchristianlike he has been in his suspicions and hasty conclusions.

Two truths are strongly emphasized in the melodrama—one, the sacredness of the marriage tie, and the other that "a little child shall lead them."

Miss Grace Bayley, as the rector's wife, took this difficult, emotional role in a most acceptable manner, while Frederick Brandon, as John Madison, the rector, portrayed the unattractive attributes of a selfish and misguided husband with much success. Miss Josie Sisson, as Aunt Dilsey Lee, the firm, faithful, devoted friend of the rector's wife, furnished the comedy element, admirably.

Tommy Toner as Danny McGlynn, a typical bowery newsboy, was ideal. Mr. James J. Higgins as a real, true-hearted Irish policeman certainly was one of the finest. The songs of the policeman and the newsboy were bright, fresh and catchy and were tumultously applauded.

Little Lorne Evans as Marie Madison, the only child of the rector and his wife, proved herself to be the brightest and most promising juvenile that has appeared on the local stage in many months.

Miss Clare Elliott, as the canting, sanctimonious and meddlesome sister of the rector and Mr .W. H. Cavanaugh as a cold-blooded, persistent and deep-dyed villain, who woulds top at nothing to gain his ends are also worthy of mention.

"A wife's Secret" certainly proved to be a melodrama much above the average and Messrs. Turner & Sons are to be congratulated in presenting such a worthy and meritorious initial production for the season of 1907-08.

Three Cows Were Killed by Flyer

Train Ran into Herd of Cattle Near Agincourt

The G.T.R. flyer that arrives here at ten o'clock at night, looked somewhat as if it had been in a fight when it came in last evening. The front part of the engine was besmeared with blood. At the crossing this side of Agincourt, it came into sudden contact with four cows, three being killed. Fortunately the bovines did not ditch the train. They got the worst of the encounter, which would mean a considerable loss for some farmer, who is likely now saying nasty things about the train. Only one animal was quick enough to get across before the train. Beef will be selling cheap at Agincourt for the next few days, as a result of the collision.

EXECUTIVES WILL MEET TO-NIGHT

Important Meeting at Young Conservative Club Rooms

A special meeting of the executive committee of the Liberal-Conservative Association of the west riding of Peterborough has been called by the president, Mr. James Kendry, for this (Wednesday) evening at eight o'clock in the Young Conservative Club rooms. A full attendance is requested as business of importance will be considered.

A special meeting of the Young Conservative Club executive is called for the same hour and place tonight.

Scarcity of Fruit Causes Alarm Among Housekeepers

Bananas are Away Short and the Price is High—All Fruits Are Scarce and Costly—Early Tomatoes are Good Crop, But the Late Ones Will be Scarce.

The despised banana, the common, ordinary yellow-skin that is really a plantain, is so scarce in Toronto to-day that retailers of fruits are trying in vain to figure a profit on it, and the barrow men at the street corners have to sell at regular store prices. In fact a banana famine is threatened, and this at a time when all other fruits promise to be scarce. Only one-half the usual number of cars are coming into the city.

"I'm sick of handling bananas," complained a grocer this morning. "People think we are robbing them if we charge more than 15 cents per dozen. Yet we pay 12 1-2, and when you allow for loss in handling, there is quite as likely to be a loss as a profit."

"Yes," agreed a wholesaler, "bananas are certainly scarce. We have been getting only three cars a week where we used to get five and six. Last week we got only two cars. The car we have now is one that came to us by mistake. If I were a grocer I would quit selling bananas at 15 cents, for there is no profit in them at that."

To add to the troubles of the fruit man, an unusually large number of watermelons have "gone bad" this year. This is the tail end of the melon season, and a certain amount of loss is always expected. This amount however, has been far exceeded.

"All fruit is unusually scarce," remarked one of the big dealers this morning. "With the banana scarcity we have a crop of pears less than one-third what it ordinarily is, and peaches are similarly fix.—Toronto Star.

Inquiry at several of the local fruit stores found conditions here the same as in Toronto and a little worse. Bananas, the early part of the season, were bought direct from Baltimore, but now the dealers only buy in small quantities and from Toronto. The scarcity is due to a lack of winter and spring rains and the high price is largely due to a combine which now has control of the banana trade. The bunches are small this year and a big price is paid so that by the time freight and loss from spoiling are deducted there is nothing left for profit.

Bananas are not the only fruit that is scarce. All domestic fruit is a small crop and high prices prevail, but probably one of the worst features is the poor outlook for tomatoes. The early variety is now in and are very reasonable in price, while the quality is good. The late crop, however, for which the housekeepers wait before making catsup and sauce, has poor prospects. The season is late and frost is liable to attack the vines. But a more serious proposition are the worms, which have been doing great damage already. It will be a wise woman who buys her tomatoes now and not wait for the late crop and pay a higher price.

What are apples like this year? a merchant was asked. "So far," he replied, "they have been fairly good."

There were some sitting in the store which were so small and miserable that they were not worth carrying away. Yet those same little runts cost the man 15c a peck wholesale. The only plan for the housekeepers this year is to buy the first time that fruit is at all reasonable.

Lindsay Plays Here To-morrow

And Cobourg on Saturday—Two Good Games May be Seen

The baseball game tomorrow afternoon should be largely attended. It will be between the Red Skins of Lindsay and the Peterborough league team. The contest will begin at three o'clock at Riverside Park, and as Lindsay will bring down their strongest nine, a lively and interesting tussle may be expected. Quinland and Burridge will be in the points for Peterborough, and Gray and Miller for the visitors.

The league game here on Saturday with Cobourg should also draw a large crowd. Both teams will have the strongest line-ups possible on, and it will be a battle royal from start to finish.

Chris Graham will be back on first and with Anderson on second, Cheatham at short, and Haliburton on third, the infield should be the strongest that ever represented Peterborough.

Some Excitement for Big Crowd

Lively Disturbance Which May Result in Police Court Case

Excitement reigned last night on Hunter street east for awhile. About half past nine o'clock, a large crowd was gathered in front of an east city shop. There was a flow of uncomplimentary terms from one person to the other, coming from the people who occupy the rooms over the shop. It appears that the man, who is the head of the house came home feeling a little the worse of liquor and undertook to eject everyone from the place. Of course, they refused to go, but the disturber was bound they should and for awhile things were moving in all directions, and rough house order existed. Each party was hurling compliments at the other, the words of which would shock the most sensitive. Finally the people gathered their things together and went off down the street, and the old man yelled "Goodbye Salvation." The other party reciprocated with "Go on you d—— old Scotsman." After they had gone one of the parties must have been "seeing things," for he was out on the sidewalk, jumping and shaking his fists, evidently at imaginary beings. A police court case is likely to ensue from last night's fracas.

ROMAINE ST. SEWER AGAIN

Romaine Street Section is Clear and Men are on Aylmer St. —Will be Satisfactory

The Romaine street sewer is going to be all right before the time for opening the King Edward School. By the looks of things now, the school will not be opened anyway until after the first of September as it will take a few days to get the furniture, etc., put in place. The engineer has men at work on the sewer and the Romaine street section is running first class. There is no obstruction there at all. One cause of the recent trouble was a brick in the pipe. How it got there is hard to say, positively, but it has been removed. The men are now on the Aylmer street section and are making satisfactory progress. There is every reason to believe that the sewer will be ready for use as soon as the school is, and that it will also be satisfactory.

In July 858 Japanese arrived at Victoria.

RURAL SCHOOLS HAVE RE-OPENED

After a six weeks' vacation, the pupils and teachers of the rural public schools of the county, re-opened on Monday. The country schools re-open on the third Monday in August each year, so that the holidays there are two weeks shorter than in the city and town.

Principal of St. Peter's School

Mr. Charles McDonell Will Succeed Mr. M. J. McDonell

Mr. Chas McDonell, who has been principal of the Plantaganet Separate school, has been appointed principal of St. Peter's school. He will succeed his brother, Mr. M. J. McDonell, who has been in charge for some years, but has entered the service of the Sun Life Assurance Co. Mr. Charles McDonell is a successful and experienced teacher and taught for some years in Ennismore with great success. His work has been marked by thoroughness and progressiveness, and he comes to the principalship of St. Peters school highly recommended.

Mr. M. J. McDonell, who is retiring, will carry with him to his new sphere of labor, the heartiest well wishes of many friends. He will remain in this city.

How Kindness Led to Trouble

The Winnipeg Free Press says; A week ago Mrs. A. E. Pilkie, of Vermillion, Alberta, was brought into the hospital suffering from typhoid fever. This morning her brother-in-law, C. H. Pilkie, came in by the C.N.R. express and was removed to the same hospital. The disease was contracted by the Pilkie family in a somewhat unusual way. The family of a neighbor was stricken with fever and Mrs. Pilkie compassionately took one child to her home to nurse it, believing that if she took every precaution her own household would not contract the disease. The child is now well, but the fever has obtained a serious hold upon the Pilkie family. Mr. and Mrs. Pilkie moved to Vermillion a few months ago from Lindsay, Ont.

White Feather Was Annoying

Disturbed General Booth While Addressing a Meeting

London, Aug. 20.—General Booth, head of the Salvation Army, is self-controlled and not easily ruffled, but he lost his equanimity while addressing a Salvation meeting at Monmouth. A waving plume in a young women's hat was the cause.

The wearer of the hat, a local reporter, fashionably dressed, was sitting in the front of the audience, taking notes of his address, when General Booth suddenly stopped speaking, and addressing the girl, said that he could not get her out of his mind, and asked if she would move out of his sight. The girl moved, not to the place indicated, but to the reporters' table, where she continued her note taking.

Presently General Booth stopped again and exclaimed with suppressed annoyance;

"That white feather in your hat keeps bobbing about in my vision."

The reporter, quite unabashed, looked up smiling, and said;

"I'm sorry. It should have been a red one."

She refused to quit her seat and General Booth finished under the obvious influence of the aggressive hat, when he rebuked his staff for not seating the woman behind him.

Stony Lake Won in Lively Race

Defeated a Motor Boat in Five Mile Contest

A lively race took place on Clear Lake on Monday, when the fast steamer Stoney Lake, defeated Mr. Dodsworth's speedy motor boat.

Mr. Dodsworth was waiting for the Stoney Lake at Young's Point, and the contest up to the head of Clear Lake was somewhat exciting, the passengers greatly enjoying the trial of speed. The Stoney Lake proved a winner by two hundred yards. Mr. Dodsworth's boat is a fast gasoline one. The race has created considerable talk at Stoney Lake and the popular steamer of that name is still the fastest craft in those waters.

CAMPING WITH AN AUTOMOBILE

Interestingly Described in Issue of Rod and Gun

With a long and varied list of contents the August number of 'Rod and Gun and Motor Sports in Canada,' published by W. J. Taylor at Woodstock, Ont., is more than usually welcome. Camping with an automobile gives an account of the efforts ever being made to bring into closer contact the startling contrasts of civilization as compared with the peaceful calm of the back woods. Now that a sportsman can go in fair comfort from his own door to the solitude of the health-giving northern woods, the exodus may be expected to increase to the advantage of those who are able to thus enjoy their vacation and to the education in the art of the new mode of locomotion of those quiet dwellers in the woods. Mr. J. E. Campbell gives his diary of a successful trip of a party of hunters in the north of British Columbia. When the adventures and experiences of this party are read, every sportsman will feel a desire to visit that part of Canada for himself and see with his own eyes something of the wonderful scenes in mountain, valley, lake and river, British Columbia has to show, to say nothing of the equally wonderful sporting facilities in both game and fish, open to sportsmen in the Province. There is plenty about fishing, and shooting is not forgotten, while an account of the virgin ascent of Mount Begbie is excellent reading. A settler's view of the dog hunting controversy should not by any means be overlooked; while New Brunswick is to be congratulated on the formation of a protective association under such auspices as promise a career of usefulness unsurpassed throughout Canada.

Mrs. Elizabeth G. Turner, of Gananoque, relict of the late James Turner, is dead, aged 93.

REQUIRES EXPLANATION

Speaking of the street mail delivery in that city, the Stratford Herald says;—

The arrangements for the new postal delivery evince a desire on the part of the Post Office Department to satisfy the expectations of the people, though it is a question whether the delivery to merchants and manufacturers will be as prompt as is required in such cases. But there will be patience on the part of the people while the new system is being worked out, and expectation that if further improvement is needed to make the service satisfactory it will be made. The newspapers, however, have a distinct ground of objection in regard to papers mailed from office of publication. They expected that special charge would be made on papers mailed to subscribers residing in the city and served by the postman; but they expected that subscribers not residents of the city yet coming for their mail to this post office would be on the same basis as a subscriber at a distant post office, say Vancouver, B.C. The regulations, however, have been interpreted to require extra postage for such, hence the Herald has been obliged to make other arrangements in such cases. There is both absurdity and injustice in this, for the township subscribers have nothing in the remotest sense to do with the postal delivery system, and should not be interrupted in their use of the post office as before. There ought to be prompt action to remedy this change, the motive for which we fail to understand.

PEN POINTS

The Transvaal Assembly has decided to vote £200,000 to buy for the King the Cullinan diamond, said to be the largest in the world. The nation shows good-will whatever may be thought of the judgment. Perhaps on his visit to the Imperial Conference Premier Botha was as much impressed with England as England was with him.

Protests are coming from British Columbia members of Parliament, who voted for the Japanese treaty against the free admission into Canada of Japanese immigrants. The Japanese treaty provides for the free admission into Canada of Japanese immigrants. The British Columbia members of Parliament waited too long before they began thinking.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier last week paused long enough from thinking of his Cabinet muddle to write a letter saying that he did not count Mr. Bourassa among his friends and did not favor Mr. Bourassa's platform. Mr Bourassa's platform at present calls for an effective and honest administration of Quebec's provincial affairs. If it does not meet with Sir Wilfrid Laurier's approval, the fault can hardly be said to be in the platform.—Montreal Gazette.

As proof of its poverty, the New York World mentions that on Thursday the Standard Oil Company declared a quarterly dividend of $6, making the dividends declared so far this year $30 a share. To pay $90,000,000 in dividends since the first of the year would indicate satisfactory dividends. By the end of 1907 it looks as though the trust might pay 40 per cent. in dividends as it did in 1905 and 1906, or even 48 per cent. as it did in 1900 and 1901.

An order recently issued from the St. Thomas offices of the Michigan Central Railway has created quite a little bit of talk among the men. The order is a decidedly plain one, and leaves no doubt in the minds of the readers as to what it means. It starts off by telling the men that one of the employees of the M.C.R. recently gave an interview to a newspaper criticizing the methods employed on another road and winds up by warning them that the management of the M.C.R. strongly disapproves of this kind of work. In other words the men are gently, but firmly requested not to point out publicly the defects of any road.

Every once in a while one runs across a party who has just returned from the great west and in nearly every case it is the same story;—"Business not what it used to be; outlook for winter not promising; many people are coming back and more would come if they could." A gentleman writing from a western city to relatives says that trade is in a chaotic condition and there would be no surprise if many of the smaller merchants went to the wall this winter. Another coal famine this winter too, would not be a surprise. Taking one consideration with another, as our old friend Gilbert says, it would appear that Ontario people can go a whole lot farther and fare a good deal worse than they are faring in this province. Far away fields may look green but a close inspection often shows them to be strewn with weeds. Wasn't it Gladstone who said; "No man unless he works in a mint, can make money fast, without somebody else loses it."

Busy Season at Burleigh Falls

Record Business Being Done—Guests Unable to Get Accommodation

"Yes, the present month is one of the busiest we have ever had," remarked Mr. Warren Darcy, of the Burleigh Falls hotel, to the Review today; "There have been a large number of visitors who have never come to Stony Lake before, but have heard of its attractions. They are delighted with the fishing which on the whole has been good. We have had many American tourists and have been crowded to our utmost capacity. All our cottages and the hotel have been filled, and we have been obliged to turn a large number of people away. In fact, we have been so crowded during the past week that we have had to put up camp beds in the corridors upstairs in order to accommodate those who would not be denied admission."

Quarterly Board Held Meeting

The Quarterly Official Board of Mark street Methodist church held a meeting last evening. A good number of the members were present and business of importance to the church was transacted. Rev. Mr. Coor occupied the chair and opened the meeting. Mr. Albert Throop was elected recording steward in the place of Mr. B. Carson, who resigned.

Strange Effect of Lightning Flash

The Minden Echo relates the following effects of a thunder storm. On Wednesday morning of last week lightning struck the barn of Mr. Samuel Lewis of Elsie, doing considerable damage. The thunder clap was like the roar of a large cannon and appeared to come at the same instant that the barn was struck. Splinters flew from the barn in all directions. The rafters were split to slivers, and a piece was torn from a log, three legs from the ground, twenty feet long; a hen and rooster in the barn were killed, but, although Mr. Lewis was in the stable adjoining the barn, he sustained no injury, except that the concussion caused him to stagger. Miss Lewis saw the splinters fly as she looked from the door of the woodshed.

Handsome Plans Submitted For the New Public Library

Three Architects are Seeking the Work of Making the Alterations—Will be a Handsome Structure—Library is to be Free to Every One.

The way things look at present the new Nicholls Library will be a public one free to everybody. It will also be maintained by the city and any revenue received from donations. Three plans have been submitted for the approval of the Council and in all cases the cost will run in the neighborhood of $10,000. This provides for putting in a new front of stone and glass and dividing the two first floors into the different departments and furnishing the shelving for the stack room. It, in short, completes the two floors, leaving the top story for an assembly hall or any other purpose which may be desired. One plan however, cuts out the first ceiling and makes the first and second floor into one with a skylight in the roof. This plan would certainly make a very handsome interior, but it takes up too much space.

The Property committee of the City Council and a committee from the library board along with Mr. Richard Hall, met last night and discussed the proposed alterations and also whether it will be a free library or a mechanics institute. Some of those present desired to open a long discussion on this point, but Mr. Hall of the Nicholls estate, stated that it was one of the provisions in the offer that the library should be a public one. This of course, settles that point, although nothing was said further.

Those present were Mayor McWilliams, in the chair, Ald. McIntyre, Morgan and Elliott, Messrs. R. Hall, James English, Wm. Pringle, T. A. S. Hay.

Mayor McWilliams explained in opening the meeting that the meeting was called for the purpose of discussing the offer of the Nicholls estate trustees of the building on Simcoe-st. for a public library. The offer was made to the Council and the Council accepted it. But it is not the intention to carry this matter through without seeking the co-operation of the Library Board. The committee advertised for architects to prepare plans for the remodelling of the building, and as a result three had been received which all would like to see.

The first thing to decide was the nature of the institution which the offer would make. At present the library is a mechanics institute and the board has a large stock of books on hand and a nice sum of money, the gift of the same estate, for the purpose of improvement to the building. Would the new institution still be a mechanics institute or a public library?

Mr. Jas. English said that the present board would like to see it a free library to be maintained by the city.

Mr. Hall said that that was one of the conditions in the gift. The library must be free to everyone and maintained by the city.

Ald. Elliott explained that his idea was that the Mechanics Institute be amalgamated and be controlled by one head.

Mr. English pointed out that the County Council should be waited upon to secure a substantial grant yearly towards maintenance of the library as there are at present many country people getting books. If the county does not make a grant then the country people will have to be charged for the use of the books. Many people in Lakefield get the books.

A public library board is a body of ten men appointed by the Council, the Board of Education and Separate School Board. One drops out each year in each set, so that three new members are elected each year. This board is entitled to spend up to one-half a mill of the city's assessment, which in the city's case would be $3,000 a year.

THREE PLANS.

Plan A changes the front considerably. It places the main entrance to the west side of the building. Inside the entrance is a hall from which the stairs go up to the second floor. To the right is a large reading room in the immediate front. The librarian's office is in the centre of the building with the stack room with accommodation for 16,000 books, occupies the balance of the floor space except the north-west corner, which is for the reference library. On the second floor are four class rooms or reading rooms.

Plan B shows a very handsome and attractive front of stone, Roman stone, or Roman stone and brick. It runs up to the top of the second floor, thus doing away with the second floor entirely. The ground floor shows the main entrance and vestibule at the west side with the entrance hall immediately behind. A ladies reading room is placed next the entrance in the front of the building, with the general reading and reference room adjoining. The stack room takes up a large area in the north-east corner, with a librarian's office and cataloguing and sorting room adjoining. It also provides for an elevator to the top of the building which is divided into children's reading rooms, conversation rooms, etc. Also an excellent space is available for a picture gallery and a newspaper room.

Plan C, which was mostly favored by the joint committees, has a very attractive front. The main entrance also at the west side, with three large windows in front and two stone pillars to the top of the floor and one stone pillar to the top of the second floor. The ground floor provides only for a stack room in the north-east part of the building, the librarian's room in the north-west corner and the general reading room in front. The plan for the second floor shows a board room, smoking room, reference library, ladies' room and a boy's room.

Another sketch of the same plan shows the reference library on the ground floor instead of upstairs and the general reading room put upstairs with the other rooms, and the Board room put on the third floor.

Ontario Crops Are Not as Promising as They Might Be

The Farmer's Sun, a journal published in Toronto, gives in a late issue, a comprehensive statement of the crop situation in Ontario as it appeared in the first week of August, the statement being based on reports from representative farmers in various parts of the province.

In order to fully understand the facts set forth in the statement presented, says the Sun, it is necessary to know something of the respective areas of the different crops dealt with. Roughly, then, we have nine million acres devoted to the various field crops grown in Ontario. Of this total about three million acres are in hay and two and three-quarter million in oats. Thus, well over sixty per cent. of the entire acreage given to field cultivation is in these two crops and these two main crops are the poorest in many years. Hay will not give over two-thirds of the tonnage per acre this year that has been harvested in recent years—probably not over half.

Oats are likely to be nearly 25 per cent. below the average yield, and this is equivalent to cutting off twenty-five million bushels on this one crop alone.

On the other hand, the hay, which has been harvested has been exceptionally well saved and corn, which, can be largely substituted for hay, has of late been making splendid progress, while the area in this crop is larger than usual.

There is only about one-sixth the acreage in corn that we have in hay, but the tonnage per acre is six times as great in one case as in the other.

If we have an open fall thus permitting of the full maturity of the corn, the increased yield in this crop may pretty well offset the shortage in the other coarse fodder. Peas, which had been steadily declining in acreage up to 1904, have since shown a rapid increase, and the area in this crop in the present season, will probably be one-fourth greater than that of three years ago.

At present, the promise is for an excellent yield in peas.

Barley again, of which we will probably have 800,000 acres this year, seems as if it will go somewhat above the average in yield per acre. If the season had been a normal one for fall wheat we would probably have had eight hundred thousand acres in this crop, but a great deal of the land intended for the production of fall wheat has been drilled in with barley and this while it means a shortage in flour, will add considerably to the available supply of feed stuffs. But, after all allowances are made, there will undoubtedly be a material shortage in feed in 1907, as compared with recent years.

So far as grain is concerned, Ontario will have practically none for export this year. Our dependence in products for sale will have to be on butter and cheese, bacon and beef cattle, and the cost of making these will be higher than usual because of the high values which will undoubtedly be placed on feedstuffs. On the whole this will be a lean year for Ontario farmers.

Dean Helps the Methodists Tear Down Their Church

St. Catharines, Aug. 21.—Dean Harris, of this place, is one of the best known priests in the Roman Catholic church in Canada, and is as remarkable for his literary productions as for his ecclesiastical virtues. He is so popular with citizens of all denominations that he has found it comparatively easy to collect subscriptions from Anglicans, Baptists, Methodists and Presbyterians. But a time came when the members of the Methodist church determined to erect a new church and inaugurated a popular canvas for funds for that purpose. A deputation ventured to call upon Dean Harris and ask him for co-operation. They were met most politely, but when they explained their mission they were told that it was with the most sincere regret that he was unable to help them. One member of the deputation ventured to recall that he and other Methodists had in times past assisted the dean's church building enterprises.

"I know, I know," replied the genial priest plaintively. "I'd be glad to help you, but the rules of my church positively forbid the faithful to contribute towards the building of a Protestant church. But," he added, "what are you going to do with the old edifice?"

"We are going to pull it down" was the answer of one of the "heretics."

A great light dawned on the dean's countenance. "And will that cost you anything?" he asked.

"Several hundred dollars or so."

"That's a fine situation. Now, I'll tell you what I'll do. The mother church has nothing to say against pulling down what the Protestants have set up, and it'll be a good deed to destroy the work of the enemy. I'll help you tear it down."

Thus the Methodist went away smiling with a substantial sum to their credit towards the demolition of the old church.

Walk 1000 Miles In 1000 Hours

An Old Time Pedestrian is to Make a Difficult Effort

Cincinnati, Aug. 17.—To establish a new science of physical endurance and to prove that it is possible for a man to walk 1,000 miles in 1,000 consecutive hours, is the gigantic undertaking of Dan O'Leary, the greatest heel-and-toe pedestrians the world ever knew. O'Leary is determined to have a record of having walked 100,000 before retiring from the profession.

He further desires to aid the medical fraternity in ascertaining the actual physical endurance of the human, and to establish a record for coming athletes and pedestrians to equal. For that reason he expects to begin at once the task of going the thousand miles in the allotted time, and has begun active preparations along that line. In looking around for a suitable track O'Leary has selected Whitehead's Tuxedo Garden, at the end of the upper Licking River bridge, Newport, Ky., which is admirably fixed for convenience.

The track will be tanbark, twelve laps to the mile, and in the centre of the grounds will be a tent equipped with the necessary articles and a resting couch, where O'Leary expects to put in every spare moment after each mile within each hour. He will have two attendants, one for the daytime and the other at night time.

Official timers and scorekeepers will also be engaged, and, if all arrangements are completed by this morning, O'Leary states he is ready to make the start at an early date.

BONDS SELLING AWAY BELOW PAR

Vancouver Just Accepted 90c for $100,000 Debenture at 4 per cent

Is the money market tight? Ask any of the members of the Finance committee who have been trying to sell Peterborough debentures at 4 1-2 per cent. par. They can tell a few things about the scarcity of money so can the people in Vancouver, B.C., who just put through a deal for $100,000 at 90 and 4 per cent. interest. The following clipping will be of interest to the aldermen and citizens generally:—

A despatch from Vancouver, B.C., received in Toronto yesterday, stated that Messrs. Aemilius Jarvis & Company had purchased $100,000 of the city of Vancouver debentures at 90 and accrued interest. These debentures bear 4 per cent. interest, and it is understood that they are repayable at the end of twenty years. Both interest and principal are to be paid in Vancouver, Toronto, New York and London, England. This is part of a block of bonds, amounting to half a million dollars, which were to have been purchased about a year ago by a Toronto firm of brokers at about ninety-nine and one-half, but owing to the bonds not being valid at that time they refused to carry out the transaction. The price compared with the price offered a year ago represents a loss to the city of Vancouver of about $50,000, but when grouped with what was paid a short time ago for $300,000 city of Hamilton debentures, which the same firm obtained at 90 Vancouver can be said to have got fairly good value.

Waterways to be completed that the route to the sea may be provided.

Agricultural interests to be attended to, and cold storage to be supplied.

The civil service to be made non-partisan and the political factor to be removed.

Immigration to be restricted, that the population of Canada may be of the desirable class.

An independent commission to manage the Intercolonial railway and to make it a paying enterprize.

The Railway Commission to be developed into a Utilities Commission so that all public services may be under control.

Telegraphs and telephones to be under Government managemnet as in Great Britain.

The public lands to be administered for the people, and not for the grafters.

Grafting to be put down, and the the dishonest man to be punished.

Clean elections; corruptionists to be imprisoned, and ballot box stuffers to be similarly dealt with.

Election petitions to be tried immediately after the contest, and a public prosecutor to take action against the briber.

Parliament to be ridded of corrupt men; and the Senate to be made useful and independent.

Provincial rights to be observed and the provincial lands to go to the provinces to be administered for the people.

Halifax, Aug. 20.—Mr. R. L. Borden, M.P., inaugurated his Canadian tour tonight by a splendid meeting in this city. The large audience which assembled is a tribute to the interest of the people of this city in Mr Borden and in the issues he has to present to their attention.

The meeting was held in the Empire Rink, the largest auditorium in Halifax, though not the most centrally located. The spirit manifested was one of bright expectancy and enthusiasm. Mr. Borden was given a cordial and hearty reception and his reference to the fact that, despite the figures of the returning officer, after the election court revelations, he considered himself still the rightful member for Halifax was the signal for applause that frequently afterwards punctuated his speech, which took an hour and a half in its delivery.

With Mr. Borden on the platform, as speakers were Dr. F. C. Weldon, J. C Omullin and J G H Bergeron, the last named making the closing address, and by his bright, forcible style, sending the audience home in the best of good humor though it was 11.30 o'clock.

The chair was occupied by Senator MacKeen.

RECEIVED GREAT WELCOME

Mr Borden's speech was mainly divided into two parts. The second of these, devoted to an enunciation of Conservative policy, and the proclamation of new features in it, evoked intense interest and loud applause. The statement that Mr Borden stands for Government control of public utilities was particularly well received. There was continuous applause as he laid down the policy of management of the Intercolonial Railway, by an independent, non-partisan commission, the creation of a commission on public utilities, the establishment in due time, of a national system of telegraph and telephone, of a civil service modelled to a large extent on that of Great Britain and the principle that the people have a right to a share of the increment in value of public franchises On resuming his seat, Mr. Borden was given an ovation.

Mr. Bergeron spoke for three-quarters of an hour and created a fine impression by his address.

THE LEADER'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Borden, who on rising was received with loud cheers, said in part,—

"There are three essential features of good government upon which all men should unite and in respect of which they should feel themselves absolutely unshackled by the ties of any political allegiance. Honest appropriation and expenditure of public moneys in the public interest—the appointment of public officials upon consideration of capacity and of personal character and not of party service alone—elections untainted by the corrupting influences of bribery and fraud. These essentials are not to be denied for they have a moral significance and they involve the future of democracy. We boast of our representative institutions, but these cannot be enduring if they develop a debased public service or bring into existence legislatures, representing not the will of the people, but the degradation of electoral corruption.

"How brazenly the present Administration has voted and expended public moneys for private and partisan purposes, and has offered bribes to greedy followers and to baser element of certain communities—all these are set forth in the record of Parliament during the last three sessions and will be emphasized on due occasion.

"The same may be said of the outrageous abuse of patronage. A Government holds the power of patronage for the benefit of the public, and it is entitled to fill public offices solely in the public interest. The duties of those officials are for the public benefit and are fixed by the laws of the country; their salaries are paid out of the people's moneys. To use the power of filling such positions as a reward for party service and without regard for the character and capacity of the individual selected, is a gross breach of a solemn public trust. A private trustee so dishonoring his office would be subject to punishment by the criminal law, but the one punishment which can be meted out for such abuses of public trust is dismissal by the electorate.

"The present Government came into power on pledges of electoral purity; but since 1896 a series of electoral crimes have been brought to light from time to time, which are a disgrace to our political history. The probabilities are that not one-tenth part of the iniquity has been revealed. Inquiry into the elections of West Huron and Brockville; the St. James division, Montreal; West Hastings; St. Antoine and St. Ann's divisions, Montreal; Sault Ste. Marie; Prince Albert; Queens and Shelburne, and last but not least, London has disclosed a conspiracy to retain power founded upon an unlimited command of money, the source of which can only be surmised, carried out by the most unscrupulous methods and supported in many cases by a control of the administration of criminal justice which rendered the criminals absolutely fearless. In 1896 the Government of this country in its unwisdom saw fit to repeal the Act providing for pensions to retired civil servants, the party in power did not fail to establish out of a secret fund at its command, a pension system for bribers and ballot switchers, who, upon discovery, were forced to leave Canada, and seek an asylum in the United States. The existence of this bribers' pension fund has been demonstrated by affidavits of men who have enjoyed it; witness the affidavits of Pritchett some seven years ago, corroborated some few months ago, by his own sworn testimony in the London conspiracy case, and the recent declaration of the deputy returning officer, James Farr.

MR. R. L. BORDEN
The Popular Conservative Leader Who Began His Great Campaign Tour in Halifax Last Evening.

"If I am right in asserting that untainted elections are essential to the success of democracy, am I not right in believing that the Conservative party has today an opportunity of performing a service to the country greater than any which it has rendered in the past? That service will include a determined and vigorous effort to reform and enforce our electoral laws, but it will chiefly consist in the future conduct and management of electoral campaigns. Fight the ballot thief and the briber of the Liberal machine. Strike not only at them, but expose and send to the penitentiary if possible, the respectable gentlemen, who supply the funds and superintend the work from a safe distance. Fight also any influences within your own party which favor corrupt methods. Let there be no party fund, the details of which may not be known, and the expenditure of which cannot be made public. Let your elections be conducted according to honorable, decent and clean methods.

"A campaign of education to this end should be begun and persisted in But above all these there should be an unflinching determination to pursue by every punishment known to the law, the respectable conspirators, and not alone their infamous instruments employed and paid to subvert the will of the people by bribery, ballot switching, and every other fraudulent and corrupt practice. At the opening of the past session the Government pledged themselves in the speech from the throne to introduce a bill amending the electoral laws. No such bill was introduced. I criticised their inaction and moved a resolution which was voted down by the usual Government majority. The substance of that motion, which I submit to you as an essential article of Conservative policy is as follows;

"More effective provision to punish bribery and fraud at elections, to ensure thorough publicity as to expenditures by political organizations to prevent the accumulation of campaign funds for corrupt purposes, and to prohibit contributions thereto by corporations, contractors and promoters, to expedite the hearing of election petitions and to prevent collusive arrangements for the withdrawal or compromise thereof, to provide for a thorough investigation of corrupt practices, and if necessary to appoint an independent prosecuting officer charged with that duty, to simplify the procedure therefor, and to enforce the laws so amended.

A NON-PARTISAN CIVIL SERVICE

"What I have said concerning appointments to public office leads me to submit to you another article which should find a place in the Conservative policy, and it is this;

"A thorough and complete reformation of the laws relating to the civil service so that future appointments shall be made by an independent commission, acting upon the report of examiners after competitive examination.

"I need not dwell upon the importance of this. Of necessity some appointments must be left to the responsibility of the Executive; appointments to the judicial bench, and certain other high public offices are of this character, and the people have it in their power to compel an honorable and decent performance of this great public duty. There are also many minor appointments which could not for the present be brought within such a system But, for the rest, I prefer a competitive system of appointments to the present partisan system. Three-fourths of the time of members supporting a Government is occupied in dealing with matters of patronage. Party pressure and party service have more weight than character and capacity. The public service is cumbered with useless officials I am convinced we will perform a great public duty by establishing in this country that system which prevails in Great Britain, under which a member of Parliament has practically no voice in or control over any appointment to the civil service. Upon attaining power we shall without delay enter upon and complete the necessary investigation to guide us as to details; and this investigation will be promptly followed by the requisite legislation

A PLEDGE TO THE PEOPLE.

"The Toronto Globe has courteously expressed its approval of my proposed tour as well as the hope that after the next elections I may lead a steadier, more responsible and more capable Opposition. May I be permitted to pass on that patriotic aspiration to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, or some of his lieutenants, for I do not expect to lead an Opposition after the next general elections. The country had had 11 years of Liberal rule and is tired of it. No Government in Canada ever had so splendid an opportunity as that which is now in power, and no Government ever failed so signally in its duty. Even its most partisan supporters have become weary of voting to condone scandal, to deny investigation, to conceal the trail of the grafter.

"Shall our advent to power mean no more than a mere party triumph Are the experiences of the past ten years to be repeated in all their degrading details of broken pledges, opportunist policy stolen elections, indecent public appointment and robbery of public assets! Those who know me best are aware how little I have desired a public career; and if I thought such an outcome possible I would turn with unspeakable aversion from the task before me. Victory must mean for us more than party triumph. The power to control the destiny of this great country in a most interesting and important period of its history should be received with a solemn and abiding sense of its responsibility. In the Commons of Canada today there are Conservatives good men and true, who at my urgent request have entered and continued in public life at the sacrifice of their public interests and inclinations. These men were impelled by the duty of public service, a duty too lightly regarded by the representative men of Canada. Let the people of Canada send to our aid at the next elections a reinforcement of sixty men, the best that Canada can produce, pledged to stand for a progressive policy, to maintain the rights of the people, to uphold honest Government, and no other, to enforce decency in public life. In return you have my pledge that any Administration which I am called upon to form shall be so constituted that it will not be unworthy of the great country which it is to serve."

Train Went Out In Two Sections

The excursion from Belleville and intermediate points was so heavily patronized yesterday that the return home had to be made by two trains.

The big excursion special was divided into two sections, the first leaving the G.T.R. station at six o'clock, and the second at 6.30. Supt. Woodley, of the Holloway street Methodist church Sunday school, which had the excursion in hand, stated last night that there were 800 people on board, and that some 600 went over the lift lock on the steamer Otonabee. The picnicers greatly enjoyed the day and were much pleased with the parks and prosperous appearance of this thriving centre.

Band to-night at Jackson Park.

Large Crowds at Jackson Park

Although the weather was a trifle chilly last evening, there was an unusually large crowd at Jackson Park to see the moving pictures. The views are good, some of them being very amusing. There is a change in the programme each week, and the patronage extended the park this year has been generous.

CARELESSNESS KILLED A HORSE

Mr. Wolstenholme Lost a Valuable Animal—It Was Hired to Two Men

Mr. R. J. Wolstenholm met with a serious loss, early this morning. Two men went to his livery barns at 196 Charlotte street, and hired a horse and rig to go out to the country to a dance. The men were feeling pretty good and they wanted the best outfit in the city. They got it too. The horse was a handsome black one and valued at $200. Instead of going to the dance, the men went to the race track and put the animal through its paces. Coming out of the park, the horse dropped dead just at the gate. One report says that the animal dropped into a hole and fell on its head. Another version is that the men were reckless in coming out and drove the horse into a post. There is a scar on its head where it struck something hard, and there is a tuft of horsehair on the post. Dr. Blanchard, veterinary, went down to the park, but the horse had been instantly killed and he could do nothing. Whether there will be a police court case or not, has not yet been decided.

Lindsay Cursed With Stray Canines

Lindsay is cursed with an innumerable number of stray, half-wild canines that roam the streets day and night, and cause extreme annoyance to citizens. Not only have complaints been made about dogs biting children, but adults have been attacked by these savage and half-starved brutes. That something should be done, and that immediately, to thin their numbers, is evident to all but the owners, who lie to the assessors rather than pay a dollar for the cur they allow to hang around their premises.

Lady Excursionist Got on the Drunk

Appeared in Police Court To-day —Was Allowed to go

At the police court this morning before City Treasurer Frank Adams, who was again on the bench in the absence of Magistrate Dumble, Mary Irwin was charged with being drunk and disorderly in a public place yesterday. "Are you guilty or not guilty," asked His Worship.

"I don't know. I took a glass because I wasn't feeling well," said Mary Irwin, as she sat in the box half dazed and feeling slightly the worse of the after effects of a good spree. "I came in on the excursion yesterday from Belleville," she added.

Prisoner said that she lived here some years ago and was employed at the Cavanagh house. She was lying in a shed at the rear of the hotel yesterday evening surrounded by a large number of men, when taken into custody. "You may go if you get right out of town," said His Worship and the poor unfortunate promised to leave immediately.

TAGLESS DOG.

Mrs. Thomas Connors was charged with harboring a dog without a tag. Mrs. Connors pleaded not guilty. The informant, Mrs. Guerin, went into the box and swore that Mrs. Connors has had a dog around her place for two weeks. On Sunday last Mrs. Connors' son set the dog on witness' children.

Mrs. Borns, mother of the first witness, corroborated her daughter's evidence.

Mrs. Connors denied owning a dog or even harboring one. On Civic holiday one followed her son home and it was around for three or four days. It wouldn't go home and kept following her son.

His Worship enlarged the case until to-morrow to bring the owner of the dog into court.

A charge against Mrs. Connors of using grossly insulting and abusive language towards Mrs. Guerin was also enlarged until to-morrow. Mrs. Connors denied ever using any insulting language. "I mind my own business and that is what Mrs. Guerin doesn't," said Mrs. Connors.

New Sewer on Benson Street

From Normal School to the Trunk Sewer on G.T.R. Tracks

A new sewer on Benson street was decided upon by the Board of Works last night. It will provide sewage for the new Normal school, Benson street and Manning avenue to connect with the new trunk sewer along the G.T.R. track from Smith street to Aylmer street. A plan was submitted to the Board of Works showing a trunk sewer through Dixon park and private property. This would get around the deep cut through the brow of the hill on Benson street, but it would furnish sewer to very few people. It was therefore decided to make the deep cut and give the people a sewer.

Moved by Ald. Wilson and McIntyre that the engineer be instructed to proceed with the construction of the sewer on Benson street at such a depth as to provide for drainage at the corner of Manning-ave.—Carried.

Tragedy in Northern Town; How Resident Lost His Life

Life of Prominent Citizen May Go Unavenged.

Self-Defence May Be Pleaded—The Tent Occupied by Dissolute Characters Was Torn Down — Women Pelted With Stones and Rotten Eggs—Fatal Shot May Have Been Accidental.

Wiarton, Aug. 22.—This city is still in a state of great excitement on account of the shooting and killing of Philip Gilbert by Agnes Thomas, alias Mrs. Reid, a woman of ill-fame, at 10 o'clock Tuesday evening.

The woman, together with a girl named "Stella," who occupied the tent of ill-fame on the outskirts of this city, which was attacked by Gilbert and a crowd he had organized, are being held by the police.

If a charge of self-defence can be substituted by Agnes Thomas, or if it cannot be proven that she fired the shot, the two women will go free and the taking of the life of one of this town's most prominent citizens will go unavenged.

Either one of these pleas may be entered by the prisoner. It is said that Gilbert, who is a moral man and instigated the raid on the tent, struck the Thomas woman after the two females had been rotten-egged and the tent torn down from above them. It is reported that the shot, which entered Gilbert's heart and killed him instantly, was fired immediately after the blow which felled the woman to the ground.

A 32-calibre revolver was taken from the Thomas woman on her arrest, which immediately followed the fatal shooting.

Her companion in crime, the girl named Stella, was taken into custody and found unarmed.

The women are not strangers in Wiarton nor, indeed, in the vicinity. Two years ago they pitched their tent at Four-Mile Point, and the Township of Keppel tolerated their presence there a long time. In fact, when they were routed out of the township it was by intimidation from Wiarton, which had no jurisdiction in the matter.

Philip Gilbert was one who had laid a complaint against them, with this result.

Last Friday they returned to town and pitched their tent in the outskirts of the north ward, and life in that section had become intolerable to the residents, and they decided to take the law in their own hands, which was, under all the circumstances, thoroughly justifiable, but which was unfortunately carried out with fatal results.

Just how many were in the raid is not known. It is claimed the women were both drunk at the time. Philip Gilbert was English by birth and was a constable for years in South Africa. He had lived about 20 years in Wiarton. Gilbert was an honest and law-abiding citizen and his sad death is sincerely regretted by everyone who knew him.

Immediately after the shooting the mayor swore in about thirty special constables, as he thought there might be men in the tent. The arrest was then made.

It is said that Agnes Thomas came out and warned the men that she would shoot, and shot into the air, and that her arm was hit by a club, and one of the shots intended for the air accidentally hit poor Gilbert and went through his heart.

The coroner's inquest last night resulted in the following verdict being given:

We, the jury, find that Philip Gilbert came to his death from a bullet from a pistol fired while in the hands of Agnes Thomas.

Stella Lamont goes free. The hearing of the Thomas woman will be held at 10 o'clock this morning.

The funeral of the victim, Philip Gilbert, takes place at 3 o'clock today.

MORE GOLD AT COBALT

Camp Agog With Story of Rich Gold Discovery.

McDougall's Gateway to New Eldorado—Stream of Prospectors Set Out For New Field—Small Settlement Almost Deserted—Discovery Made by Two Swedes of Gold-Bearing Rock 130 Feet Across.

Cobalt, Aug. 22.—The camp is agog with the report of a very rich gold find near Night Hawk Lake, a large sheet of water west and slightly south of Abitibi Lake. It is stated that two Swedes have found a vein of gold-bearing rock 130 feet across, and have already traced it two miles. Lurid stories are told of its wealth. McDougall's Chute will be the starting point from which the stream of prospectors will set out for the new field, it being about 18 miles from their objective point. The small settlement there is almost deserted, the inhabitants having migrated to the new goldfields bag and baggage. Prospecting syndicates all along the line are sending out men to investigate.

ACCUSED OF FLIM-FLAM.

Serious Charge Against a Prominent Detroit Business Man.

Windsor, Aug. 22.—A sensation was created here yesterday when it became known that a warrant had been issued for the arrest of Edgar A. Davis, a prominent member of Windsor's summer colony, on a charge of larceny by conversion.

Davis, who occupied a prominent position in the Wolverine Fish Co. of Detroit, is charged by Gilson Williams, a wealthy stock broker of Buffalo, with having "flim-flammed" him out of $7,500 on a mythical deal.

The information against Davis was laid before Justice Jeffries of Detroit yesterday morning, and alleges, among other things, that Davis, acting in the capacity of a promoter, induced him to become a party to a deal for the purchase of the Johnson Chemical Co. of Detroit. G. E. Fleming, a local politician, was to put $2,500 in the deal, Williams $7,500, and Davis the balance. Checks were sent to Davis by Williams and Fleming aggregating $10,000, but it now develops that but $2,000 of this money was paid over to the owners of the chemical company.

Davis is out of the city, it is said, at his residence here, and no arrest has yet been made.

A hog board along the lines of the cheese board is proposed in Prince Edward county.

At Quebec some of the crew of the Empress of Britain engaged in a fight yesterday, and Finnerty, a sailor, may die.

HOT TIME IN COURT.

Witness Calls Another Man a Liar—Editor Apologizes.

Winnipeg, Aug. 22.—There was the hottest kind of a sitting of the Beef Commission yesterday afternoon, when one of the witnesses, H. T. Mullins, a big cattle dealer, called Brauer, another commission dealer, a liar, because Brauer denied that he had not tried to bribe him (Mullins) by robbing a consignee.

Brauer challenged him to come outside and fight it out.

There was also another scene in court, when R. L. Richardson, editor of The Tribune, was on the stand. He admitted that misrepresenting statements had been made in his paper and apologized, but refused to take back his statement regarding W. Hoggart, K. C., solicitor of the commission, that he was biased, as he was also solicitor for one of the big packing houses.

SAT ALL NIGHT.

House of Commons Reject Lords' Change in Tenants' Bill.

London, Aug. 22.—With the Irish Nationalists wide awake and nearly everybody else asleep, after a night-long session, the House of Commons at 5.30 yesterday morning commenced the consideration of the House of Lords amendment to the evicted tenants' bill.

Practically all the changes introduced in the bill by the Upper House were rejected, and at 7.45 a.m. the weary legislators went home after appointing a committee to confer with the Lords and attempt to arrange the differences.

Girls Disappearing.

Berlin, Aug. 22.—The mysterious disappearances of young women in Berlin is increasing to an alarming extent. No less than five such disappearances were reported to the police yesterday, and a number of others were reported this week.

It is supposed that the "white slave" operators are at work, and probably export their victims, as most of the girls disappeared without leaving any trace of their whereabouts.

Bold Highwaymen.

Philadelphia, Aug. 22.—William Hicks, paymaster for Schaum & Uhlinger, a textile machine manufacturing company, was held up yesterday afternoon by three highwaymen in the northwestern part of the city, and robbed of a satchel containing $6,000.

The men were pursued, and one of them was captured after several shots had been fired at him.

The other two men escaped with the satchel.

Given Five Years.

Guelph, Aug. 22.—Ed. Hornbostle, the horse thief and eloper with Mrs. Streeter, who was arrested last Thursday, was sentenced yesterday by Judge Chadwick to five years in the penitentiary.

CHOKED INDIAN CHIEF

Rolling River Squaw Confesses Killing Her Husband.

Man Had Come Home With Whisky—Wife Had It and the Husband Threatened to Kill Her—She Acted in Self-Defence Not Meaning to Kill Him — Committed For Trial Yesterday.

Shoal Lake, Man., Aug. 22.—The arresting of a squaw, charged with murder, and the finding of the body of John Assinwassis of Rolling River, has cleared up the peculiar disappearance of that Indian about a month ago. The squaw is on trial here for the murder of her husband.

Between three and four weeks ago Assinwassis disappeared. Indian Agent Wheatley asked for an investigation. A mound about two miles northeast of the town was found. Scraping the earth away they came upon the body of the Indian, which had been buried in a badger hole.

The squaw made a confession, stating that her husband had been drinking and brought home two large bottles of whisky, which she had hidden from him. He threatened to kill her if she did not give up the hidden whisky. He chased her, and she laid down her child, threw him down and choked him. She did not intend to kill him, but he died shortly after.

Early in the morning she dragged his body to a big knoll nearby and wrapped him in his blanket and buried him, putting his drinking cup under his arm.

CALL LOANS INCREASED.

On Outside Stocks They Amount to $60,609,114.

Ottawa, Aug. 22.—The statement of the chartered banks of Canada for July is of unusual interest by reason of the exceptional conditions prevailing in the financial world at the present time.

The call loans of $58,208,627 in Canada represent a decrease of $9,767,550, compared with July of last year, but the call loans on stocks and bonds outside Canada of $60,609,114 represent a gain of $6,347,898.

The current loans in Canada of $561,327,878 show a gain of $80,393,943, and the current loans outside of Canada of $23,723,397, a decrease of $10,656,381.

The deposits, on the other hand, amounting in all to $587,894,585, show gains all along the line.

The deposits payable on demand in Canada, of $166,352,146, a gain of $1,274,356; the deposits payable after notice in Canada of $423,121,376, a gain of $44,090,875; the deposits elsewhere than in Canada of $56,421,023, an increase of $7,584,571.

NORWAY NEUTRAL.

Russia and Germany Will So Regard That Country.

London, Aug. 22.—It was learned in diplomatic circles yesterday that one of the principal questions discussed by Emperor William and Emperor Nicholas during their meeting at Swinemunde was the neutrality of Norway.

An agreement was reached under which Germany and Russia undertake to regard Norway as neutral territory. This is in accordance with the desires of Great Britain, which has been supporting Norway's endeavors to secure guarantees in this direction.

The Emperor also intimated that Germany would not seek to thwart the policy of Russia in carrying out her accords with France and Great Britain.

Swells Sink Ferry.

Windsor, Aug. 22.—The Grand Trunk transfer ferryboat Huron met with a peculiar accident while lying at her dock on this side of the river some time early yesterday.

In order to facilitate some repairs, the boat has been listed to one side by placing several cars loaded with coal on her forward end. This brought the portholes close to the water line, and it is supposed that the swells from a passing vessel washed enough water into the hold to cause her to sink to the bottom. There was no one on board at the time, and the first known of the accident was when the workmen came to work for the night and found the vessel on the bottom.

The damage will not be more than a couple of thousand dollars.

Thief Pays Penalty.

Utica, Aug. 22.—A thief Tuesday night stole a valuable launch owned by William Winterbottom of Rochester, from Camp Maynard, on First Lake, Fulton Chain, took it out into the lake and attempted to operate it. Unfamiliar with the workings he allowed the gasoline to escape and accidentally set fire to it. The launch burned to the water's edge and drifted ashore. No trace of the man has been found, and it is supposed that he lost his life in the explosion.

West Australia and Tariff.

London, Aug. 22.—The Premier of West Australia has given notice of a motion expressing the opinion that the proposed federal tariff bill will most injudiciously affect primary industries in West Australia, and will subject the state to a period of depression fraught with gravest danger to her existence.

I. O. O. F. Convention.

Ottawa, Aug. 22.—The thirteenth annual convention of the High Court of Eastern Ontario, I. O. O. F., opened yesterday morning here. A goodly number were present at the first business session.

Steeplejack Falls 400 Feet.

London, Aug. 22.—John Goldie, a famous steeplejack, met death by a fall from the Townend chimney, said to be the highest in the world. The chimney is 440 feet high.

Phoebe Gothard, aged 14, employed at Welland, had her right hand fearfully burned and it may have to be amputated. [illegible]

POISONER IS FREE.

Chinaman Charged With Crime Escapes From Regina.

Regina, Aug. 22.—Charlie Mack, the Chinaman who, it is alleged, put poison in porridge at Regina, which resulted fatally, is a free man, with the Mounted Police, and, in fact, all the police in the western provinces, looking for him. He has managed to make his escape and a warrant has been issued for his arrest. He was last seen at Pilot Butte, and it is believed he has taken a train for the east.

TUG TURNS TURTLE.

Engineer and Firemen Drowned in Blackwell Canal.

Buffalo, Aug. 22.—The tug Gee turned turtle in the Blackwell Canal last evening and sank in 15 feet of water. William Whalen, engineer, and Michael Malone, fireman, were drowned.

Takes Dose of Morphine.

Detroit, Aug. 22.—Worried and unable to sleep, James Sanderson, 26 years old, rooming on Adams avenue, Detroit, took a heavy dose of morphine and was only revived with difficulty. Sanderson says he married Hazel McGregor at Stratford three years ago, while he was a brakeman on the Grand Trunk Railway. His wife deserted him two weeks ago.

Knives Used Freely.

Hamilton, Aug. 22.—There was a lively row amongst the foreigners employed at the Steel plant last night. Knives were used freely. John Ouse, covered with cuts and bruises, was arrested on the charge of committing an aggravated assault on John Shath, who was marked up much in the same way.

Orders Coal From Australia.

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 22.—The scarcity of labor in the west has reached an acute stage.

It has resulted in a curtailing of so much coal and mine work that the Harriman lines, which have an abundance of fuel in their own mines, have been compelled to order coal from Australia.

Fire at the Falls.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Aug. 22.—At 2 o'clock yesterday morning fire damaged the premises in the rear of a number of stores on Erie avenue to the extent of about $6,000. MacFarlane, gents' furnisher, lost half of that on stock in storage. A man named Tomlinson is charged with incendiarism.

England will be a ready purchaser of Canadian apples this season.

EDDY CASE CLOSED.

Chandler Claims "Next Friends" Have Nothing to Gain.

Concord, N. H., Aug. 22.—A sudden though not wholly unexpected ending of the masters hearing in connection with the suit in equity brought by relatives for an accounting of the property of Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, leader of the Christian Science faith, came in the Superior Court room here yesterday, when Wm. E. Chandler, senior counsel for the relatives of the "next friends" announced to the board of masters that they had filed a motion with the Superior Court to dismiss their action.

The suit was brought on the ground that Mrs. Eddy being incompetent on account of age and infirmities to manage her own affairs, was the victim of persons associated with her in Christian Science work who were named as defendants.

Three masters were appointed by the Superior Court to determine the question of Mrs. Eddy's competency.

The reason for the petition for dismissal, as stated by Mr. Chandler, was the belief that the success along the lines desired could not be obtained and the unprofitableness of any immediate result of a decision in favor of the "next friends" in the exact issue as now framed, compared with the burdens and disadvantages to be endured both before and after such a decision.

Gen. Frank S. Streeter, counsel for Mrs. Eddy, objected to a dismissal of the case before the question of competency had been decided by the masters as to the possibility that after Mrs. Eddy's death attempts might be made on behalf of the relatives to break her will, in which he intimated provisions had been made for carrying on the work in which she is interested.

The masters decided, however, that under the instructions given by the court, they could not proceed after the filing of a motion with the court to dismiss the case, and announced that they would so report.

With the termination of the proceedings before the masters the case reverts to the Superior Court on the question of petition to dismiss the original suit. There is little doubt among those interested that Judge Chamberlain, before whom the action was brought, will grant the motion.

DANGEROUSLY COOL.

Freezing Point Touched in Alberta—Crops Suffer.

Winnipeg, Aug. 22.—The last few days have been nervous ones for the west, as the weather has been dangerously cool. Tuesday night the freezing point was touched in Alberta. The probabilities, however, are warmer, and the outlook is more encouraging.

The crops are looking good, but warm weather is needed to ripen the wheat. Oats cutting is general in southern Manitoba.

Wheat took a jump of some four cents yesterday, reaching 95c, as a result of the frost reports Tuesday night through all parts of the west. The lowest reported is from Kamsack, where the thermometer dropped to 28. Brandon was 29, while Regina, Moosomin, Virden and many other points had two and three degrees of frost.

Reports are very conflicting as to damage.

The C.P.R. reports claim there was practically no damage, while many grain exchange men claim it will be very heavy.

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

Pope Considers Japs.

Rome, Aug. 22.—The press declares that as a result of the Japanese mission to the Vatican, Japan will send an accredited minister to the Holy See and that the Pope will appoint a permanent apostolic delegate to Japan. The pontiff has accepted from a Japanese of high position the gift of a building site in Tokio upon which there will be constructed a Benedictine church and monastery.

Grasshopper Plague.

Ottawa, Aug. 22.—Pontiac County is suffering from a serious plague of grasshoppers in Clarendown Township. Near Yarm, a ten-mile strip of crops is utterly ruined.

One farmer had to stay his reaper as the grasshoppers got into the machinery of the binder and clogged it.

Were Only a Mask.

Belleville, Aug. 22.—The residents of the western section of this city are on the lookout for a man who, it is alleged, chased a young woman Tuesday evening. The man, it is said, had a black mask on, but was otherwise in a complete state of nudity.

King Meets French Premier.

Marienbad, Bohemia, Aug. 22.—M. Clemenceau, the French Premier, who is taking the cure at Karlsbad, lunched with King Edward here yesterday afternoon.

TRIAL OF TERRORISTS.

Court Rushing Case Through—Prominent Families Are Suspected.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 22.—The trial by court-martial of the persons implicated in the terrorist conspiracy against the life of the Emperor, which was revealed May 15 last by the arrest of a soldier of the Guard Regiment at Tsarskoe-Selo, and in which women took a leading part, made rapid progress Tuesday, and it is expected that it will come to an end within a week.

The sitting developed no details beyond the contents of the original indictment. The case of the Government rests principally with the testimony of the soldier of the Guard Regiment, who has confessed to the acceptance of a large money bribe to assist in the murder of his Emperor. For more than one year this man maintained close relations with M. Naounoff, a mail clerk, one of the suspects, and it is worthy of note that he is closely related by family ties to several well-known military and naval families.

Boris Nikitenko, another of the conspirators and a retired naval lieutenant, is a son of a colonel in the army who distinguished himself in the suppression of the mutiny on board the cruiser Otchakoff. M. Fedossieff is the son of a vice-admiral, and Mme. Teodossiewa, one of the women suspects, is a daughter of Gen. Schwerin, who distinguished himself in the Russo-Japanese war and was decorated for personal bravery.

FRENCH REINFORCE ARMY.

Sultan's Troops Again Defeat Great Force of Tribesmen.

Paris, Aug. 22.—The Government has sent instructions to Oran, Algeria, to send 1,000 men to reinforce the present French force at Casablanca.

Casablanca, Aug. 22.—The arrival yesterday before this town of three new columns of warring tribesmen, who have joined the army of the fanatics besieging Casablanca has rendered more serious the problem undertaken by France and Spain to "restore order." The new arrivals constitute an imposing opposition to the French force now wearied with their long vigil.

Tanger, Aug. 22.—The Sultan's troops are reported to have again defeated a great force of the Kmass tribesmen, in whose territory Caid Sir Harry MacLean has been held captive. Many of the Moors were killed and several of their villages were burned.

Whenever the men on board the cruiser Gloire off Casablanca sight groups of Arabs they open upon them with shell fire, and during all Tuesday night there was a constant rattle of rifle fire from the French sharpshooters directed again Arabs who were trying to steal in toward the town under cover of darkness.

BISHOPS OPPOSED.

But Lords Pass Second Reading of Deceased Wife's Sister Bill.

London, Aug. 22.—After a prolonged and animated debate, the House of Lords Tuesday night passed the second reading of the deceased wife's sister bill, by 111 votes to 79. The minority included every one of the 17 bishops, who are members of the House.

The Archbishop of Canterbury said the colonies were young and eager. Home-life in a sparse population is subject to conditions other than our own. They made experiments, legislative, social, educational and fiscal which we are not called to follow. Legislation in the colonies in relaxation of the ancient marriage law was very recent. It was too soon to argue from their experience of the nature and working of the change.

He heard surprisedly from those who were declining and rightly, he thought, to be led by the colonies on the path of fiscal change, the argument that it was the mother country's duty to follow them in a matter intimately affecting the social and domestic life.

Jilted, He Sues Railroad.

St. Louis, Aug. 22.—Because he was jilted suit has been entered against the Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Railroad by Chester Coppeck, who wants $200 damages. He alleges that on an excursion to Hamilton he was pulled out of his seat by an employe and roughly treated. He was accompanied by the woman to whom he was then engaged, and she was so angry because he did not resent the indignity that she jilted him.

Board of Conciliation.

Montreal, Aug. 22.—Efforts are now being made to secure the appointment of a board of conciliation for the cotton operatives' strike at Valleyfield. The question was talked over by the operatives and officials of the Montreal Cotton Co. Tuesday night, and another meeting of the strikers is to be held to take a vote.

Great Steel Plant in B. C.

Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 22.—J. T. Shadforth, ironmaster, Newcastle-on-Tyne, is here preparatory to the erection of a modern steel works. The initial capital will be raised in B.C., a greater amount in Manchester and London.

The company will be registered for fifteen million.

Bold Burglars.

Belleville, Aug. 22.—Three young men giving their names as Arthur Lachapelle, Arthur Labouchere and Joseph Plouffe, all of Montreal, were arrested at Napanee on charges of burglary here. They all had loaded revolvers.

Testimonial for Blake.

Ottawa, Aug. 22.—A movement is on foot among the Irishmen of the Ottawa district to present Hon. Edward Blake with a fitting testimonial of their appreciation of his public services for Ireland, as well as for Canada.

Denied.

London, Aug. 22.—The rate war rumors are denied at Liverpool.

Galt will have about $1,000 to the good after the old boys' reunion accounts are settled, it is claimed.

WORKMEN'S RIGHTS

In Canada a workman may proceed against his employer under the Workman's Compensation for Injuries Act, and at common law. That means untold annoyance and inconvenience to an employer. An employer is even liable for damages to an employee for injury resulting from the negligence of a fellow employee. Oft-times a workman will get back at an employer in this way. The employee may or may not win. Whether he does or not it means a great deal of anxiety to you as an employer. Let us relieve you of all this. Our liability policies are designed to do this very thing.

Will be glad to explain our plan.

Wellknown Family Holds Celebration

Provincetown, Mass., Aug. 21.—Provincetown was again today the scene of an historical ceremony connected with the landing of the Pilgrim Fathers. Another stone was dedicated by members of the Doane family from all parts of America in commemoration of the founder of the family, Joan Doane. The exercises of the day were conducted by Dr. William H. Doane of Cincinnati, and among the members of the family who spoke, was Robt. W. Doane of Toronto.

Mr. R. W. Doan, manager of the Bell Telephone Co. in this city, is a member of the foregoing well-known family.

OBITUARY

JANE WHEELER

The death occurred this morning of Jane Byers, wife of Mr. George Wheeler, who resides near the lift lock. She had been ailing for the past nine months. The deceased was 59 years of age and was born in Donegal, Ireland. She came to Canada when 18 years of age and was married to her now sorrowing husband, George Wheeler, in 1870. He survives her, along with a family, of five children, three sons and two daughters. The sons are George, William and Harry, all of this city. The daughters are Mrs. G. T. Chisholm and Mrs. C. F. Gregg, of Toronto.

Mrs. Thos. Doman, of Lakefield is a sister of the deceased, who was an earnest and respected member of St. Luke's church.

The funeral will take place on Saturday afternoon at two o'clock from the family residence, to Little Lake cemetery.

MR. R. N. WILSON

The Washington County Press, of Washington, Iowa, in the issue of August 16th, contains the following notice of the death of a resident well known in Peterborough;

"Robert Nicol Wilson, aged 81, died at the home of his son, Mr. R. M. Wilson, Friday evening. His death was due to old age and general debility. He has been a sufferer for many years, was not bedfast much of the time and the greater part of that time he had made his home with his only surviving son, who came here from Chicago six years ago. Deceased was born at Simcoe, Canada, May 23, 1826, and married Agnes McInnes, to whom three children were born; one died in infancy and a daughter died at the age of 20. They resided in Saginaw, Mich., Mr. Wilson being engaged as a notary public, and had other business interests until his wife's death, when he came to live with his son and retired from his active business life. The funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the residence, conducted by the Rev Elias Handy.

Are Fighting for Big Fortune Millions of Dollars Involved

Thos. Derry of Peterborough and Two Toronto Men Are Among the Many Claimants—Fortune Valued at $5,000,000—Death of Diamond King.

Mr. Thos. Derry, who resides near the corner of McDonnel and Park street, is in a legal fight for millions and he seems to have as good a chance as any of the other hundred or more, who claim to have a share in the big fortune. A despatch from Toronto today is as follows and will be read with interest,—

Toronto, Aug. 22.—A fight for millions is being waged by Mr. C. G. Derry, a commercial traveller for Berry Bros. of Detroit, and his son, Mr. D. M. Derry in the employ of Mickleborough, Muldrew & Co., 60 Front street west, who lives at 41 Woodlawn avenue. With about a hundred others, they claim to be the rightful heirs of Edward Derry, a one time Milwaukee man, who became a diamond king in South Africa and was afterwards murdered. His estate had been valued at $5,000,000, and for years efforts have been made by the British Government to find the rightful heirs to this fortune. One of the claimants is a Wisconsin woman, Mrs. Ruth Derry Vance, and her claim is protested, among others, by Mr. Derry and his son of Toronto. Mr. Thos. Derry, a Peterborough farmer is also said to claim to be a lawful heir.

Edward Derry, whose millions are now being sought by the many claimants, was murdered by an Englishman, who sought to get possession of a large diamond found by the former. The diamond was afterwards found, where it was dropped during the fight.

New Section of Trent Canal Was Opened to Victoria Road

Government Tug Bob Hall Surprised the Villagers by Steaming up to the Main Street—First Boat That Ever Went Up the Grass River—An 8 Foot Channel Found.

Another link has been added to the Trent Canal waterway, and yesterday, the Government tug Bob Hall steamed up the Grass river four miles to Victoria Road village. This was the first steamboat ever seen in that little village, and nearly all the natives were down to see it. The event was of great interest and importance to the village. Not only was it a curiosity to see the boat, but it meant that in future Victoria Road village will be a port of call on the Trent Canal. It affords water transportation to and from the village, and instead of being on the outskirts of civilization, the people there will now be inside the boundaries.

For a long time the village of Victoria Road, Victoria County, has been asking for this water connection to be made. The Grass river which runs through the heart of the village, has a clear eight-foot channel, all the way down to the Portage Road, which crosses the canal right-of-way. Here a bar, or old coffer dam, proved an obstacle to navigation, but it has been removed. The dredge Simcoe, which had been engaged digging a turning basin near Portage road bridge, was taken up the stream to the coffer dam and cut a channel through, and now all obstruction is removed. When the Bob Hall started up stream it was not known what obstructions might be encountered, and the trip was made with care. It was, however, with pleasure that a good clear channel was found, and navigation will be open in future to the little village in the back country.

Victoria Road is an important little settlement, and there should be considerable traffic up and down Grass River. The Condensed Peat Fuel Co's peat bogs are situated near the village and a flour mill is also running there. The river empties into the canal on the new section between Balsam Lake and Lake Simcoe, which was recently opened.

Four Indians Found Guilty; One Charge Was Disposed of

Two Other Charges Being Taken Up This Afternoon David Jacobs Fined $2.00 and Costs—Judgment Reserved in Other Case—Got Liquor at Burleigh

The trial of the four Indians, viz., Dave Jacobs, Jonas Jacobs, Isaac Johnson and Alex. Knott, who created a disturbance on the steamer "Esturion" on Civic Holiday on its way from Stony Lake to Chemong was taken up this morning at eleven o'clock before County Magistrate Edmison at the court house.

The first charge was one of assaulting Fred Wright, against Dave and Jonas Jacobs, and Alex. Knott.

Mr. R. E. Wood conducted the case for the crown, while Mr. D. O'Connell appeared for the four Indians and pleaded not guilty.

The magistrate found them guilty. Dave Jacobs was fined two dollars and judgment was reserved in the case of the other two.

Mr. Fred Wright was the first witness called. He said he was mate of the steamer Esturion. On the return trip witness was at the wheel until they reached Lovesick when Captain Fee took it, to allow witness to have his tea. The Indians were down in the lower deck of the boat swearing and cursing. He met Isaac Johnson, who had the purser up against the wall, he told Johnson to behave himself or he would have to pay a fine. He refused, saying they hired the boat and would do as they liked. He warned them again and Johnson called him a bad name and witness caught Johnson by the shoulder and then Johnson lit into him striking him on the face, and Dave Jacobs also jumped onto him. They tore his clothes, gave him two black eyes and used him up so he couldn't work for three days. Witness stated that Albert Nicholls was the only man who came to his assistance.

Mr. Jas. Jopling, of Bridgenorth, a passenger on the Esturion that day, was the next witness. He said that Isaac Johnson and the mate were having a rather heated conversation, which eventually grew to a fight. The four prisoners were all in the fracas. Wright's face was all covered with blood and his clothes were torn. The Indian boys were running around on the upper deck and John Tobicok was chasing them. The four prisoners were all implicated and Nicholls and Wright were the only white men engaged in it.

Mr. Thos. Cullen, jr., another passenger, was called. He said that he heard the conversation between Mr. Wright and Johnson. He saw the two Jacobs strike Wright and tear his shirt off. Mr. Nicholls and Mr. Tobicok came to Wright's assistance.

Mr. R. E. Wood made a statement about the affair. A number of Indians were sitting in a bunch singing. Mr. Wood went across to the other side of the boat, and while there he heard some loud talking. One of the Jacobs was telling Mr. Wright that the boat was chartered and they would do as they liked. Then the fight commenced. There were the four prisoners, and one other, all striking and pounding at Wright. Mr. Wood pulled one off and thought that was all he could manage. The scene was one beyond description and the language was something abominable. He never saw such a row before in his life. Three Indians attacked Mr. Wood, pulling his coat, but none of them struck him.

Alex. Knott was the first Indian called for the defence. There were seven Indians on board. There was whiskey in the gang and they were all under the influence of liquor. He said that he was not in the fight. There were some boys using bad language to the Indian ladies. They started drinking at Burleigh. He said that was where they got the bottle first. A man sitting on the verandah got it for them. He said that he did not know the man.

David Jacobs was next called. He said that he remembered the fight. He had four drinks but was not drunk. Johnson and Wright were fighting and witness tried to separate them. His brother tore the shirt of Wright and witness pulled his brother off. On the return trip witness had two glasses of lager at the Burleigh Falls hotel bar.

Mrs. Isaac Johnson was called. She was on the excursion. She only saw the last part of the fight. She coaxed her husband not to fight, and he stopped.

Mr. O'Connell, in summing up the evidence made a strong appeal for the four accused. He said that there was no evidence that Dave Jacobs struck any one. He went in to pull off his brother. It was just a case of common assault, incurred through drinking.

His Worship and Mr. Wood commended Dave Jacobs for his truthfulness in the witness box.

The magistrate found them all guilty. Dave Jacobs was fined two dollars. In the case of the other three, judgment was reserved till tomorrow.

The other charges against them are being taken up this afternoon.

C.P.R. Will Run To Maynooth

By Sept. 1st. in Time for the Hunting Season—Beautiful County

Bancroft, Aug. 22.—All summer a large staff of men have been engaged in the extending of the Central Ontario Railway from Bancroft north and it is now stated that the road will be open for passenger traffic from Bancroft to Maynooth after September 1st. Maynooth is the most northern village in the county and those who have ever visited that part of the county will testify as to the beauties of the scenery in that district. It is said to be the nearest approach to the Highlands of Ontario that at present is accessible. It is a veritable hunter's and fisherman's paradise from Bancroft north and needless to say the opening of this road will be appreciated by sportsmen, especially.

C.P.R. Service To Exhibition

At Toronto From Aug. 26 to Sept. 7—Five Trains Daily Each Way

During the Toronto Exhibition, from August 26th to Sept 7th, the C.P.R. has organized an excellent train service for Peterborough people. There will be ten trains daily, five each way. This is two extra trains a day each way. They will leave Peterborough for Toronto at 5.16 a.m., 5.46 a.m., 8.00 a.m., 4.48 p.m and 5.18 p.m. Returning from Toronto they will arrive in Peterborough at 11.16 a.m., 11.46 a.m., 8.47 p.m., 12.28 p.m. and 12.58 p.m.

It will be noticed that the local which is usually due here at 7.47 p.m. from Toronto is one hour late. This is on account of the exhibition. The train will leave Toronto at six o'clock in the evening instead of five o'clock.

The other trains from Montreal to Toronto and the return through trains will be run in two sections each trip. Thus Peterborough people can figure on five trains each way.

A GOOD POLICY

The Ottawa Journal (Independent) has this to say of Mr. R. L. Borden's address:

"The speech which Mr. Borden delivered in Halifax last evening is worth every Canadian's reading.

"It is the forcible presentation by a strong and honest man of an honest, wise and progressive programme for this country.

"The Conservative party is fortunate in its leader, and we think the Dominion would be fortunate with Mr. Borden as its ruler."

Yachting News of Much Interest

Mr. J. B. Tudhope, M.P.P., and Party Will Visit Peterborough

The Lindsay Post says;

Mr. Jos. Brown's yacht, the Betta, in command of Captain J. L. Brown, has been cruising around the lakes for a few days with a party. Among those on board are Mr. and Mrs. A. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. B. Parish, Mrs. Matthie, Miss Helen Wood, Mrs. Brown, Miss Betta and several others. They visited Rosedale, Coboconk, and the lift lock at Kirkfield.

Mr. Geo. Goodwin left for Orillia yesterday, having been engaged by Mr. J. B. Tudhope, M.P.P., to pilot a private yachting party down the lakes as far as Peterborough. The party touched at Sturgeon Point, spending an hour on shore.

Forest fires are raging in northern Frontenac and much farm property has been destroyed.

WILL HOLIDAY.

In accordance with its usual custom the Havelock Standard will take a two weeks vacation and in consequence no paper will be issued during the next two weeks, August 29th and Sept. 5th.

IS TRANSFERRED

Mr. Ron White, G.T.R. agent at Meaford, has been transferred to Midland to fill the vacancy at the station, caused by the death of Mr. F. J. McCallum.

BIG INCREASE.

The Brockville Times says; Belleville is making rapid increases in population and it is estimated that there has been an increase of 500 people during the past year. Good for Belleville. But what about Brockville? In the past Brockville people have been accustomed to exercise their wit at the expense of Belleville's activity and growth, but they must change their tune now. Brockville must get busy.

ISOLATION HOSPITAL

The Belleville Intelligencer says;—"We saw Mr. Arthur McGie, chairman of the Board of Health, and asked him what was likely to be done in regard to the Isolation hospital. Mr. McGie said he could give no definite information, but the Board of Health intended to have plans prepared for a smaller and less costly building, and would try and have the plans ready inside of two weeks limit set by the City Council. Further than that he had nothing to say.

LEADING DOUBLE LIVES

Certain Peterborough church members are charged with leading double lives. The defence is that they're married.—Toronto Star.

GONE BANKRUPT.

While some people in Eastern Ontario are complaining at the high prices charged for coal it seems timely to point out that, in western Ontario, a coal dealer has just gone bankrupt.

ANNUAL OUTING.

Court Chemong, Independent Order of Foresters will hold their annual excursion to Idyl Wyld on the steamer Otonabee on Labor Day, Monday, September 2nd.

LOTS OF SUNSHINE

The farmers of the west have had little to complain of in the matter of weather this year. In many parts the records show 295 hours of sunshine and this without extreme heat.

SONGSTER'S MEETING.

The Songsters' Brigade will take the service at the Salvation Army barracks tonight, and the weekly band concert will be given by the band at Victoria Park. An interesting programme will be given by the Songsters, and Mr. J. Dawson will be the leader.

ORGANIZING CLASSES.

Mr. E. Dingman, physical director of the Y.M.C.A. is in the city again and will start at once, re-organizing the athletic classes for the fall and winter terms. The results of last years work was so satisfactory to both the members and the director that the coming season should be the most successful in the history of the institution. The classes will start about the middle of September.

IN HARD LUCK.

Doc Walters and Alex. Eaton are having a streak of the "darndest" luck imaginable these days in their boating expeditions. During three consecutive trips the engine of the gasoline yacht they were on, has kicked up, leaving them stranded. To cap the climax they were held up for a fourth time last evening and compelled to exercise an extreme amount of patience until help, in the form of a man in a skiff, came along, and they were towed home. — Lindsay Post.

REVIEW LETTER BOX

CANADIAN LIBRARY

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—In discussing the question of a public library, with a couple of old residents the other night, one gentleman remarked that it would be a good scheme to apply to Andrew Carnegie for a grant of $30,000 for a public library. This would enable the city to have a new building entirely and to have it away from other buildings. It would be more artistic and more creditable to the city. It would also be more economical, in this way. — Carnegie only requests a free site, which would cost the city probably $2,000 or $3,000: he also specifies that the city must spend ten per cent. per annum of the cost of the building, for maintenance, which is $3,000.

If the city goes ahead with the present scheme, it will cost $10,000 to remodel the building, and it will cost $3,000 a year to maintain it, and in the end only have a built-over library.

Yours truly,
OLD RESIDENT.
Peterborough, Aug. 22, 1907.

LIGHT IS NEEDED

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—I was glad to see in Monday's issue of Review, calling the attention of the city aldermen to the necessity of placing an arc light at the corner of Smith and Fairbairn streets. Placed there, it would show over that very dangerous piece of road crossing the railway track and narrow bridges on either side, over which so many hundred people pass each evening when coming from the park. Better place it now than wait for an accident to occur. Thanking you Mr. Editor for your interest in the PUBLIC WELFARE.

SHOULD BE CLEANED UP

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—When Mr. Ball was appointed sanitary inspector, the news was hailed with delight by those who had been suffering from the filth of others. Time has shown, however, that at least one notorious spot has not been improved since his advent to his new office. That spot is the back yard or small court in the rear of the stores on the north side of Hunter street from the post office to George street and up George street as far as Long's confectionery store. There banana stalks, rotten oranges and other fruits, etc., are piled in heaps promiscuously and left pestering in the sun of these dog days, which together with the daily rubbish fires, fill the air with obnoxious smells continuously and make our lives unpleasant. One case of typhoid fever has just developed in this territory and the wonder is that there are not many more. Other cases may follow soon if a daily inspection is not made of the locality. It is a pity that the people who pay the taxes should have to suffer through the negligence of its paid officials.

Yours, etc.,
PROPERTY OWNER.

SIXTY YEARS AGO

A watering place on Douro road is a topic of the day,
Which has been discussed in council but the members can't agree.
Some members say, "It should be there," while others think it o'er.
"If that be so, it would be there some sixty years ago.

For grandpa was a knowing head and a far-seeing man was he
He never talked of watering troughs on roads, and why shoul dwel
What's good enough in grandpa's days, is good enough for ours,
Let man's noble friend, his faithful horse, be watered by the showers.

Now I'm a man three score and ten I knew grandpa quite well,
He was a splendid fellow, dear boys respect him well,
And when I tell you how he worked, I know you'll say 'twas slow.
But look not down on grandpa, for 'twas sixty years ago.

For grandpa took a sickle when the harvest did appear,
And grandma took another to assist him, and to cheer,
Little Maurice, Mike and Betsy, were the binders, you will know,
But, this was swift, in bygone days, —some sixty years ago.

They worked away for six hours long, till grandpa took a smoke
And struck his sickle on his flint; in two, he found it broke.
And for Port Hope he set on foot, his gait it wasn't slow,
And in two days was back to work, some sixty years ago.

Now well I do remember, poor Mike Dooley when he died,
And as he breathed for the last called grandpa to his side.
"I've a brother, Peter Dooley, he lives sixty miles away,
Send him word that he may see me before I'm laid down in the clay."

So grandpa got his oxen, with a sick and heavy heart,
He struck for Patsy Murphy's for to borrow Murphy's cart,
He went to Martin Finharty's and you bet he wasn't slow,
When he oiled the cart with Finharty's grease some sixty years ago.

So he left in search of Peter, and inquired the country round,
And two weeks he kept on searching until Dooley he had found,
For grandpa was a hustler, you bet he wasn't slow,
But grandpa lived in slower times, some sixty years ago.

If grandpa only could come back and stay here for one day,
And see our trains, our telephones, and the wonders of our day,
And see the farmer cut his crop, he'd say "It can't be so,
I never dreamed of such a thing some sixty years ago.

If grandpa then would walk our roads, our wasting springs to see,
He'd look around, not slow, and say, "this waste astonishes me,
My boys put in those watering troughs, you're sixty years too slow,
For those who lived, when grandpa died, some sixty years ago.

So boys respect dear grandpa, but don't do as grandpa did,
For the wonders of the present, by a cloud from him were hid.
So let "Hustle" be your password, but let the past be buried dead
And look out for the present, as the ancient wise man said,
And I hope in a near future, that man and the beast that's dumb.
Shall drink your health at Douro springs for sixty years to come.

Fodder Crops Near Norwood

Will be Very Light—Grain Will be Average—School News and Other Notes

Special to the Review.

Norwood, Aug. 20.—Miss May Benvis of Asphodel, is the guest of her cousin, Miss Mabel Lang, Peterborough street.

Quite a number of Norwood people intend going to Stoney Lake on Thursday to attend the regatta at Crowe's Landing.

Mr. Walter Sedgewick of Tweed is visiting his mother, Spring street, Norwood.

SCHOOL NOTES.

The principal and teaching staff the Norwood High School are to be congratulated on the success of their candidates at the recent departmental examinations. The percentage of passes was high and several who passed received honors.

The opening of the scholastic year promises a record attendance at the High School. A large number passed the entrance both here and in the surrounding villages, and the success the school has attained in the past will no doubt attract many from outside points.

Mr. J. L. Squire has been unable to attend to business for the past few days on account of illness.

A good many of our village streets are being improved by a much needed coat of gravel.

Reeve A. Brault, who was indisposed for a few days is able to be around again.

POOR FODDER CROPS.

The sale of binder twine this year has been little more than half of most previous years, thus indicating the scarcity of straw in this locality. While the straw is short farmers claim the yield of grain will be nearly up to the average. The greatest draw back will be the scarcity of coarse feed for stock during the coming winter. Hay is also a poor crop and fodder corn will not be heavy. The outlook is for cheap cattle this fall as a good many farmers will not have sufficient feed to winter their present number of cattle

Cordova Mines Will Not Re-open

Havelock, Aug. 20.—The report that the Cordova gold mines would open up in the near future has caused considerable excitement and interest in town. Those who own property there are wearing a wide smile and a glad heart at the thought that it would once more be worth something. Men thought of purchasing property in the village so as to make on it when the price of property goes up, and it is reported that several capitalists in town have already invested in property there.

But, if the last report be true, these visions of future richness are over, and like on several occasions before, the report of the opening of the gold mines at Cordova is a fake.

It is indeed true, that Contractor James Scott of town, has a large gang of men at work at the falls at Deer river, repairing the flume, there, but according to the statement of several reliable men at Cordova no electrician has the contract for repairing the machinery at the mines, but that the company is repairing the flume in preparation to selling the plant to an electric company that is going to install two flumes, so as to get all the electric power possible out of it.

What the name of the company is, or what they intend doing with the power is not yet known, and several suggestions have been made. One of these is that the Marmora Electric Company is about to purchase it. They already have electric power in Marmora, but it is produced by steam, whereas water power would make it much cheaper.

Until the truth is known the citizens of Havelock and Cordova will anxiously wait.

Grass fires are keeping the Vancouver fire brigade constantly busy.

Most Successful Regatta Was Held on Tuesday at Viamede

Mt. Julian Won Men's Tandem Canoe Race—Ladies Double Skiff Contest—Prizes Presented and Speech Making at the Close of the Sports.

Viamede, Stony Lake, Aug. 22.—On Tuesday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock, a regatta was held at Viamede under the direction of Mr. W. C. McLean, whose regattas and picnics are famous. It was an ideal day for the regatta, the weather being cool, while there was not much sun. A large number gathered at the wharf to view the spectacle, and more went up to the pavilion and balcony. The first event was the men's tandem canoe race. Two canoes entered, one containing Messrs. Diemer and Powers of Viamede, and the other containing Messrs. Barnum and Eckfer, of Mount Julian. The race was specially interesting, because of being Viamede vs. Mount Julian. The race was a very close one, but Mt. Julian passed the winning post first and won the prize.

The second race was the ladies' double skiff race, each lady being allowed only one oar. Four skiffs entered and all rowed bravely. The Miss Diemer won, with Misses Young and O'Hara a close second. The contest was exciting and many were the cheers from the shore as the boats passed the winning goal. The other boats were manned by Mrs. Ridout and Miss Hauckner, and Misses Mahon and Powers, respectively.

The hand paddling race was very funny and was won by Prof. Edward Schmidt, Mr. George Diemer being second. Prof Clarke was third

The mixed tandem canoe race was captured by Mr. and Miss Diemer, after a very close race with Mr. and Miss Powers.

CANOE RACE.

The canoe race, bow paddled, was also exceedingly funny, and shrieks of laughter greeted the competitors as they endeavored to make progress to the goal. Four canoes entered, and after an exciting contest, Mr. Barnum won, and Mr. Diemer came in a close second.

The swimming race was won by Mr. Eckler. The ladies' single skiff race was very exciting. Three skiffs entered, and though all three ladies rowed well, Miss Diemer got first place, Miss O'Hara second, and Miss Mahon third.

The tub race did not come off as there was only one entry, Mr. Chas. Young, who made things lively, paddling gaily around in his tub. He enjoyed it immensely, and as his antics were very amusing and entertaining, he was awarded the prize, which he certainly deserved. At 6.15 the regatta was over and all dispersed to "fix up" for the evening performance, which consisted of the distribution of prizes, singing, dancing, etc.

PRIZES PRESENTED.

Mr. W. C. McLean, in his usual agreeable manner, presented the prizes, and the winners responded in a suitable manner. Mr. Clarke also made a short speech on the pleasure of the occasion. The prizes were donated by Mr. and Mrs. Graham and Mr. Ralph Lawrence. After a vote of thanks to Mr and Mrs. Graham for their kindness the gathering dispersed. Thanks are also due to Messrs. Powers, Diemer and McLean for their energy in getting up the regatta. All present regretted the absence of Mr and Mrs. Mitchell, and Messrs. W. T. McLean and Highbie, who took such a prominent part in the previous regatta, held Aug. 10th.

Canadian Money Going Into American Stocks by Millions

Call Loans on Canadian Securities Decreased by Nine Millions—Seven Hundred Million Dollars on Deposit in Canadian Banks.

Ottawa, Aug. 21.—The statement of the chartered banks of Canada for July is of unusual interest, by reason of the exceptional conditions prevailing in the financial world at the present time.

The call loans of $58,208,627 in Canada represent a decrease of $9,767,550, compared with July of last year, but the call loans on stocks and bonds outside of Canada of $60,809,114 represent a gain of $6,347,898.

The current loans in Canada of $581,327,878 show a gain of $60,393,-943, and the current loans outside of Canada, of $23,723,897, a decrease of $10,656,381.

The deposits, on the other hand, amounting in all to $647,894,555 show gains all along the line.

BIG GAIN IN DEPOSITS.

The deposits payable on demand in Canada, of $166,352,146, a gain of $1,274,356; the deposits payable after notice in Canada of $423,121,286 a gain of $44,090,875; the deposits elsewhere than in Canada of $58,421,-023, an increase of $7,504,577.

If to the deposits in the chartered banks are added the deposits in the Post Office and the Government Savings Banks, the total is brought to seven hundred million dollars.

The note circulation of the Canadian banks has increased four millions in the year, and decreased three millions in the past month.

Returned After Sixteen Years

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Aug. 21.—Sixteen years ago, Reese Roman, a miner, left this city and went to Ohio to escape a lawsuit in court, his wife having had him arrested for assault and battery. Two years after leaving here Roman was reported to have been killed in an explosion in an Ohio mine, and his wife received word from a friend to that effect. Another man, John Boster, proposed marriage to her, she accepted him and finally six children were born to the couple.

Some weeks ago, a stranger arrived in town and secured board at the Boster home. Everything went along smoothly until yesterday, when Boster kissed his wife goodbye, as he was going to leave town for the day.

The boarder was present and at once proceeded to knock the husband down with an iron bar and would have killed him, had not some neighbors interfered.

Explanations then followed. The boarder said he was Roman, the woman's husband, and the wife fainted. She had not recognized her former husband, as he was badly disfigured by a mine explosion, and had grown a long, grey beard over the scars on his face.

Husband No. 2 had husband No. 1 arrested and taken before Magistrate Carkhuff, where the modern Enoch Arden told his story. He said he was badly injured in a mine accident fourteen years ago, and was in the dead list in the newspapers. He finally thought he would make a trip back here to see his old friends never thinking that his wife had married again.

Owing to his disfigurement no one knew him, not even his wife. He had made up his mind to go away again and not reveal his identity, but when he saw Boster kiss his wife it was more than he could stand, and he assaulted him. He said that if the case against him was withdrawn he would not arrest his wife for bigamy. This was agreed to and Roman left town for his home in Ohio.

Board of Works Short Session

Sewer Question and More Sidewalks Were Discussed

A short session of the Board of Works was held last night, when a number of matters were disposed of, although none of them were of very great importance.

Those present were; Chairman Ald. Duncan, Ald. Wilson, Ald. McIntyre, and Mayor McWilliams.

The claim of Mr. Thomas Barrie for damages from the city on account of the running water off the street into his cellar and damaging his stock, was considered. The committee discussed the matter, and dealt with it by the following motion;—

Moved by Ald. Wilson and Ald. Johnston, that the chairman, the Mayor and City Engineer be a committee to wait upon Mr Barrie and investigate the claim for damages.—Carried.

PARK STREET CHURCH.

Mr. Thomas Gillespie wrote the Board, asking permission to move the Park street Baptist church to the end of Stewart street, for a period not extending over six months.

City Engineer Hay pointed out that the bylaw covering the moving of houses provided for the payment of $1 per day for each day on which the building is on the road. He stated that there was a little street running from Stewart street to Park street, which the church might be put on, or else move it to the north end of the lot.

It was decided to ask the management of the church to send a committee to meet the Board of Works in reference to this matter.—Carried.

ONTARIO COAL CO.

Mr. Arthur McClellan, representing the Ontario Coal Co., said that they wanted to have a sewer put in to drain their property. The water from Rehill's hydrant overflowed on to their property. They also wanted an approach built to their sheds so as they could get out on to Wolfe street.

The engineer was instructed to make a report on the matter and the members of the committee will also go down and look over it.

Mr. George Schneider wrote for permission to put a siding on Dalhousie street, north-east side. —Received.

WATER STREET SEWER.

A communication was received from Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons, asking the Council to take immediate steps to prevent the sewer overflowing into the cellar of the opera house again.

The city engineer said that an overflow pipe could be built to the river down King street at a cost of $300, or extend the Water street sewer down to the corner of Sherbrooke street, which is [illegible] few feet from the river and [illegible] overflow pipe would cost very little.

No action was taken by the Board but Mr. Turner will endeavor to have the Board of Health order the work done.

Special Prizes For Good Seed

Exhibitions Held at Four Important Points in Canada

At the last annual meeting of the Canadian Seed Growers Association, detailed explanations were given of the plans that had been adopted to offer special prizes to members for creditable exhibits of 'hand-selected,' 'improved,' and 'general crop' seed that were brought together in connection with the various provincial or district exhibitions. These exhibits of selected seed were always an attractive and educational feature of the exhibition and have done much to make the work of the Association more widely known and better understood and appreciated by the general public. The places at which these special exhibitions are now held annually throughout Canada, are as follows;

1 At Amherst, N.S. open to all members in the Maritime District and held in connection with the Maritime Winter Fair.

2. At St. Hyacinthe, Que., open only to members resident in the Province of Quebec and generally held in the month of April, in connection with the regular Spring Seed Fair.

3. At Guelph, Ont., open only to members in the Ontario District and held in connection with the Ontario Provincial Winter Fair.

4 At Brandon, Man., open to all members resident in the District of Manitoba, and held at the time of, and in connection with the Winter Fair.

5 At Regina, Sask., open to all members in the District of Saskatchewan and held in connection with the Winter Fair. The exhibition to be held at Regina next winter will be the first of its kind ever held in the Province of Saskatchewan.

Creditable prizes are offered at each of these places for special selections of seeds and plants taken from the 'hand-selected' and 'improved' seed plots. The classification of the prize list provides for two sections for each of the smaller grain crops considered. Section 1 makes provision for hand selections of plants from the standing crop on the breeding plot. These plants are exhibited in the form of sheaves.

Section 2 provides for a "group exhibit," consisting of a hand-selected sheaf from the breeding plot, a half bushel of threshed seed from the same plot and a bushel and a half of threshed seed from the 'improved seed plot.

Where prizes are offered for corn, the best ten ears are called for, the said ears to be selected from the seed corn plot. In the case of potatoes, prizes are also offered in the east for special selections from the seed plot. In addition to the general prizes offered, special awards are also offered to those members making the most creditable showing of selected seed. These awards are usually in the form of medals or cups.

Without a single exception, these exhibitions have amply justified their establishment. The publicity that they have given and are giving the work, the interest that has been taken in the exhibits, and the service they have rendered the various exhibitors in advertising their surplus stock, has proven their inestimable value to this country. As time passes and the general public, as well as the members themselves, come to look upon these fairs in their respective districts, as permanent organizations and as annual meeting places, their real place and importance will be revealed. Their perpetuation, extension and perfecting is obviously the duty of this Association.

Note.—Circular letters have just been issued by the Secretary of this Association to all growers in the different districts, submitting an outline of the next annual exhibition and the prizes offered. Such advice coming at this time gives every grower ample opportunity to select and lay aside his exhibit until the date of the Fair.

KICKED BY A HORSE

What Zam-Buk Did for a Farmer!

I. S. Kelly, of Markerville, Alta., was badly kicked by a horse. "The wound turned to an open sore, he says, "which refused to heal. When I had tried nearly everything in vain, we got some Zam-Buk, and, to our surprise and joy, in a few days it healed the sore completely. My father had a bad burn, which had refused to heal, and in this case also Zam-Buk healed. Zam-Buk should be on every farmstead."

For all accidents peculiar to farm or home life, keep Zam-Buk handy. Cuts, burns, chafing sores, sore feet scratches from barbed wire, insect stings, blistering, sunburn, eczema, itch, ringworm, ulcers, abscesses, eruptions, blood poison—for all these, Zam-Buk has over and over again proved unequalled. [illegible] sure cure for all forms of piles. Stores and druggists everywhere sell Zam-Buk at 50c a box, or from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Three boxes for $1.25.

WEDDING BELLS

BIGGS—PATTON.

A quiet wedding was solemnized at Baysville, Muskoka, that will be of interest in this city. On Tuesday Rev. Mr. Hazelhurst, rector of the Baysville English church, performed the ceremony in the church, which united in the holy bonds of matrimony Miss Julia Amelia Patton, sister of Mrs. McEwen Spence, of this city, to Mr. Frederick F. Biggs, of Dorset, Muskoka. The couple were unattended, and the event was witnessed by only a very few intimate friends. After the ceremony they took the train for Toronto, and after spending a few days in western Ontario, they will visit Mr. and Mrs. Spence for a couple of days before returning to Dorset, where they will reside.

Forty bushels to the acre is the estimated crop around Battleford.

Dollar Peaches This Year The Crop is 40 Per Cent

Housekeepers Will Not be Able to Make Up the Shortage in Small Fruits—Cold Weather is the Cause—Grapes Will be Plentiful, But a Good Price.

Grimsby, Aug. 21.—Housekeepers who have been expecting to make up for the scarcity of strawberries and raspberries by preserving an extra supply of peaches are going to be disappointed. There may not be dollar wheat in the west, but there will be dollar peaches in the Niagara Peninsula.

From extensive inquiries through the fruit belt from Stoney Creek to Niagara-on-the-Lake the best information that can be gained is that the peach crop will this year be from one-third to one-half a normal crop; perhaps 40 per cent. would be a high average of the estimates given your correspondent.

The early and late Crawfords—the peach that made Niagara famous—are almost a complete failure. They will not average the tenth of a crop. The Elberta, which is a second-grade peach, lately introduced because of its superior shipping qualities which fit it for the Northwest trade, is a crop almost all over the district, but the Elberta does not constitute more than 20 per cent. of the total crop. Other varieties are half a crop or less, so that altogether perhaps 40 per cent. cent. will be a liberal estimate.

The earlier reports sent out of an average crop were too optimistic, based on the number of fruit buds. However, owing to the late, cold spring and the absence of bees at the right time to fertilize the blossoms, the fruit did not "set," and consequently men who were counting on thousands of baskets will now be glad to get that many hundred.

Of all the varieties of fruit, grapes alone promise a full crop, but growers confidently expect that the prices for these will be high because of the scarcity of other fruit. Growers state that no grapes will be sold this year lower than $30 per ton.

The scarcity of all kinds of fruit this year has about finished the commission agent, so far as this district is concerned. Practically no fruit has this year been shipped on commission, but buyers from Montreal and Toronto and local firms have bought and paid for fruit on the station platform or in the orchard. This is what the grower wants, because shipping fruit on commission was always a gamble and conduced to low prices and careless handling.

Camping Season at Trent River Has Been an Attractive One

Fishing Has Been Ideal—Many Persons Leaving for Their City Homes—A Good Supply of Fish Stories—Visitors in the Village of Havelock.

Havelock, Aug. 21—The camping season at Trent River this year has been a great success, being a great improvement over other years, but now that the evenings are getting cool the summer population is dwindling down. Trent Bridge and Hastings are the two most important summer villages along the route of the Trent River and both have been crowded this year with tourists, sportsmen and anglers from all parts in quest of game, comfort and enjoyment. The fishing at Trent Bridge this season has been ideal. Above the bridge towards the village of Hastings, trolling for lunge has given good results while still fishing has been best below the bridge, although in an expansion 3 miles down the river, called Mud Lake, some very large lunge have been taken. At the beginning of the season, the bass were to be found the most plentiful along the sand beds of the river, but lately they have taken to the weeds, where they live on live minnows. The best bait seems to be dew worms although on some days they bite freely at craw-fish, frogs, or minnows.

The campers are now returning to their city homes, quite satisfied with the enjoyable time they have had and with their minds stored with an ample amount of fish stories to entertain their friends during the winter months.

Miss Stella Armstrong was operated on for appendicitis at Mrs. Jas. Campbell's residence on Wednesday.

Mrs. D. S. Somerville, of Lotus, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Watson, returned to her home this week.

Mrs. Chapman and children have returned from visiting friends at Rideau Lakes.

Mr and Mrs. Robt. Gillies, of Port Hope are visiting friends in town.

Mr F. Buck, of the Sovereign Bank staff, is visiting friends in Toronto.

After six weeks' holidays, the rural schools re-opened on Monday, a gentle reminder to the youngsters in towns of what is in store for them.

The rain on Friday last was greatly welcomed by the farmers, although it was too late to effect the grain in general, but will prove of great value to vegetables and pasture lands.

Dr. McLean, of Bancroft, spent a few days in town last week.

Miss Maggie Marks is visiting friends in Peterborough.

There is a great demand for houses in town at present and in consequence rent is very high.

Bachelor Lived Over 103 Years; Resident of Stromness 60 Years

Many old residents of Peterborough County have passed away during the past few months and it is always a matter of regret and also interest when their demise has to be chronicled. A county or city is always proud of its old people. The older they are the greater the respect in which they are held. The more old people in a district the better is that district. This county has had its share of old people and there are still many living here. But a despatch from Welland gives a brief sketch of a man who died a few miles outside of that town who was 103 years old and a bachelor. The despatch is as follows;

"Patrick Corcoran, of Stromness, died at the home of his nephew, Mott Corcoran, Thursday morning at six o'clock. He was 103 years of age on Feb. 2nd last. He was born at Killarney, Ireland and emigrated to Canada sixty years ago, and has lived all that time at Stromness. Two sisters and three brothers preceded him to America, but he did not come till after his parents had passed away. All his family are dead, but his youngest brother, Michael, who resides at St. Catharines. his general health was good all his life. He never took a dose of medicine in his life, and never wore glasses but read his papers every day. He did not use tobacco in any form, and did not use liquor, except for medicinal purposes. He always had a good appetite.

He was a Liberal in politics, and was always most straightforward in his dealings with his fellowmen. Add to this an amiable disposition and it is no wonder that he held all through his life a host warm and admiring friends. He never married.

Two weeks ago he suffered a stroke of paralysis. He never rallied and was unconscious from the time of the first stroke until the second and last one on Sunday morning last.

The funeral took place on Saturday morning. The remains were brought to St. Michael's church, where Rev. Father Donovan celebrated Mass and the remains were interred in St. Michael's cemetery.

Numerous Millionaires Sell Their Autos Owing to Losses

New York, Aug. 21.—More than two hundred thousand New Yorkers, some of them ranking as millionaires, says the World to-day, have sold their automobiles within the last few weeks. Almost as many more, it is estimated by the trade, have cancelled orders for new machines. These automobiles represent a total cost of over $15,000,000. They are now probably worth $7,000,000.

"The 'rich man's panic' in Wall-st. has made all the trouble," an automobile dealer is quoted as saying. He exhibited several letters and telegrams cancelling orders for machines.

Every dealer in high priced machines, American or imported, has stories to tell of orders cancelled by New Yorkers who, until recently, were generally supposed to be rich enough to afford any luxury. Some of the stories are pathetic.

The average rich New Yorker has an expensive family and his expenditures are on a large scale. Any curtailment of income cuts off the luxuries, because he lives up to his income.

So the automobile has to be sacrificed.

The Horse Show Great Success

Exhibition at Cobourg is a Splendid One

A Cobourg despatch says;

Hon. Adam Beck formally opened the Cobourg Horse Show yesterday. He was introduced by Mr. D Hayden, president of the association. The minister spoke briefly and expressed the hope that another year he might not only be a visitor at the show, but an exhibitor. He congratulated the officers and directors of the association upon their enterprise and ability in inaugurating such a popular and successful summer show as Cobourg had the past two seasons, a success which doubtless would be far eclipsed this year. He thanked them for the honor conferred upon him. Some of the awards were as follows;

Hackneys—1st, Nether Hall, Robert Beith; 2nd, British Yeoman, T. H. Hassard; 3rd, Cedar Go Bang, Robert Beith; 4th Borrow Moss, T. H. Hassard.

Harness and saddle mares — 1st, Robert Beith; 2nd, Dr. W. A Young, Toronto; 3rd, Robert Beith; 4th, Chas E. Speer.

Best saddle and harness horses — 1st, Sporting Girl, Crowe and Murray; 2nd, My Lady of Dreamland, Dr. Young; 3rd, Black Satan, Chas. Wilmot; 4th, Fan, Dr. Elliot, Cobourg.

Visitors' livery class — James R. O'Neill, all awards.

Ladies' Saddle Class — 1st, Dr. Young; 2nd, Chas. Wilmot, Belleville; 3rd, Sir Richard, E. H. Cuter, Cobourg; 4th, Maud, Col. Rogers, Grafton.

Hunters' and Jumpers'—Crowe and Murray all awards.

Lindsay Team Playing Here

This Afternoon—Visit of Cobourg Nine on Saturday

Next Saturday's game is the sole topic of conversation among the sporting population of the city and it will be a dandy.

The local boys have been practicing hard all week and the chances for winning are good and an exciting game is promised. One of the largest crowds of the season will witness this contest. It is likely a number from Cobourg and Port Hope will attend and almost everybody in Peterborough is going. No better game will be seen here this season.

This afternoon the local league team and the Lindsay senior nine are playing at Riverside park. Quinlan and Burridge are the battery. A large crowd is in attendance.

Speaking of the match the Lindsay Post says:—

The team to play Peterborough today will be: Workman and O'Keefe, battery: Mollhargey, 1b; Killen, 2b; Menzies, Capt., s.s.; Cain, 3b; Cotey, r.f. Burgess, c.f.; Perkins, l.f. Manager E. Wetherup will accompany the boys.

Peterborough will no doubt put on their strongest line-up for a good practice before meeting Cobourg on Saturday. Any "rooters" wishing to go can do so for 95c return fare. Come along for a good afternoon's sport.

BASEBALL

The Hastings Star says:—The Warkworth ball team came over on Tuesday afternoon for a game of ball and played the locals a seven innings game.

Warkworth scored one run in the first innings and were shut out for the balance of the game. The locals scored 14 runs.

Feat Performed by Mr. Nat Ray

The Horse Review has the following to say of Mr. Nat Ray, a relative of Mr. Sam Ray, of this city:—

Nat Ray, after riding the victor of the steeplechase at Brighton Beach on Saturday, the 3rd inst., went over to Parkway, L.I., and drove his pacer, John McEwen, a winning race at the matinee. On last Thursday he left the runners at Saratoga, and ran down to Parkway again, and won the 2.11 pace with John, and incidentally gave him a new mark of 2.09 1-4. He also displayed the skill of a Geers or a McHenry in piloting a pacer. John McEwen formerly wore hobbles, kicking straps and other ornaments, but now goes clean and is a great wagger. Nat might open a winter school and teach the drivers of hobbled pacers how he did it.

Canadian City Had Clever Young Cassie Chadwick

How a Plausible Female Newspaper Canvasser Victimized Many Business Men--Bought an Automobile and Claimed Relationship to Federal Cabinet Minister.

Details of a campaign of the Cassie Chadwick variety, in which a number of Winnipeg business men were victimized, have recently come to light, says a despatch from the Prairie City. The operators were a Miss Mary Allen O'Brien and her mother. While the amount of bad debts they left behind are not definitely known, they run well into the hundreds, and at least one of the creditors has threatened legal proceedings.

Something over two years ago Miss O'Brien, nicknamed Bunny, and her mother, arrived in the city, saying that they were from Ottawa. Apartments were secured and for the first year all went well. Miss O'Brien told a variety of stories. To her physician she claimed to be an invalid, while to the druggist who filled her prescriptions she stated that she had an invalid niece, who was on the point of death. After being in the city for some time she secured a situation with the department of education, but left it, and she and her mother went away for several months. This was in 1905.

STARTS HIGH FINANCE

Returning the two rented a house at 277 Spence street, where they took boarders. It was after this return that the operations were begun. Miss O'Brien purchased an automobile from the firm of McCulloch & Boswell, giving in payment her note for $1,500. She hired a chauffeur and the firm supplied the gasoline and repairs for the time she had the machine in her possession. The chauffeur received $25 for six weeks' work, and is waiting the balance. The firm seized the machine and since sold it at a loss.

Next she entered into several real estate transactions. From George Higginbotham she bought two houses worth $10,000 and $6,500 respectively. The deeds were made out but no payments were made. She also borrowed some $300 from Mr. Higginbotham. The story she told him was to the effect that she had been left $60,000 by an uncle in Ottawa. She stated that $40,000 of this money was the sale price of a piece of property, which had been made through the kind assistance of her uncle, Hon. C. S. Hyman, who had used his position to dispose of the land for twice its value to the government. This had been investigated by Mr. Higginbotham and found to be false.

NUMEROUS OTHER CREDITORS

Among other victims are the Hudson's Bay Company, several druggists and other merchants, including V. J. Hammond, the fur dealer. Miss O'Brien purchased a handsome fur coat from Hammond, making a small payment. She placed the coat in store during the warm weather and in the fall had to borrow money to release it. On the strength of the payment she had two coats sent to the house for her to choose one. The best one was chosen and was taken away when the family left in December last.

Extensive preparations were made for the departure. A story told one of the disappointed creditors was that Miss O'Brien was related to Hon. H. R. Emmerson. When all was ready for the flitting she came to his store and called up a telephone number, presumably the traffic department of the C.P.R., and on the strength of her relationship to the minister, chartered a private train for Ottawa to take her invalid niece home. Similar stories were told at other points, and all expected to get their money as soon as the will left by the uncle was straightened up. A third relative mentioned was Senator McLaren of Perth. When leaving the city Miss O'Brien had her baggage sent to the depot in the automobile, and arranged with the chauffeur that he was to crate the machine ready for shipment to the continent, where she proposed to make an extensive tour. He is still awaiting instructions and his pay. When he started in to crate the machine it was seized by the selling agents.

SUBSCRIPTION CANVASSER.

In January last a meeting of the creditors was held. The attorney-general's department was asked to take action but demurred. Mr. Higginbotham, however, refused to be content with this. He located the girl in Ottawa and threatened to place her under arrest unless she returned the money borrowed from him under false pretences. She has sent him a portion of the money and recently wired him that the balance had been forwarded and that she was sending a tracer after the letter.

Miss O'Brien and her mother came to the city in 1904, and the young lady secured a position on a local paper as a canvasser, a position which she held for about eight months. From Winnipeg she is reported to have gone to Almonte last December. She was credited by her employers on the paper with being one of the most successful canvassers that they had ever secured. From Ottawa it was learned that she had been for many years employed on the Ottawa Free Press as subscription canvasser and was well known throughout the Ottawa Valley. She is described as 35 years old, small and not pretty, but very bright and with faculties of a very convincing style in business transactions, as her success in misleading merchants in this city has indicated.

Mr. R. L. Borden Will Speak In Peterborough on Sept. 11

Arrangements Being Made for Monster Meeting in Grand Opera House—Leading Members of Great Conservative Party Will Accompany the Popular Leader Who Will be Given Rousing Welcome.

Mr. R. L. Borden, the popular and talented Conservative chieftain, who began his great transcontinental campaign tour, so auspiciously in Halifax, Tuesday night of this week when he was accorded a hearty reception, will in the course of his visit to Ontario, address a big public meeting in Peterborough on Wednesday, September 11th.

Arrangements for Mr. Bodren's visit were made last evening at a joint meeting of the executive of the Liberal-Conservative Association of West Peterborough, and the Young Men's Conservative Club. An active committee was appointed with Mr. Jas. Kendry, as chairman to complete full arrangements, the details of which will be announced later. Mr Borden will speak in the Grand Opera House, which has been engaged for the occasion, and the great gathering will be in the interests of the ridings of East and West Peterborough. Among the leading members of the Liberal-Conservative party, who it is expected, will be present and deliver addresses are Messrs. T. Chase Casgrain, ex-M.P., Montreal, Claude Macdonnell, M. P., Toronto, W. B. Northrup, K. C., M. P., Belleville; Andrew Broder, M. P. of Morrisburg, W. H. Bennett, M. P. of Midland, T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., West Peterborough, and others. It is believed that the rally here on Wednesday, Sept. 11th, will be one of the finest political gatherings ever held in Peterborough city and county, and no stone will be left unturned to make the demonstration a complete success, worthy of the eminent leader of the great Conservative party and the sound, progressive, and broadminded policy on which he will appeal for support at the next federal campaign.

Where Big 'Lunge May be Captured

The last issue of Rod and Gun contains the following of local interest:

Bobcaygeon, Ont., is a famous sporting centre. It is situated in the heart of the beautiful Kawartha Lakes in Ontario and from it the best of fishing and hunting excursions can be made as the seasons come round. Our readers know from the stories of Mr. W. Hickson, which have appeared in our pages, that fish and game abound in the neighborhood, and that with a good guide, no sportsman need ever be disappointed. This year the maskinonge fishing has been good and we present to our readers an illustration of one caught by Mr. W. B. Crandall, host of the Rockland House, Bobcaygeon, near that town. This fish weighed twenty-six pounds, had a length of forty-six inches and a girth of eighteen and a half inches. The 'lunge was on exhibition for a time in the window at the city ticket office of the Canadian Pacific Railway at Toronto, and attracted a great deal of attention.

TURF

Marius Carlos took second money again yesterday in the three-quarter mile running race at the Dufferin races. No other Peterborough horses were entered.

HASTINGS' HOLIDAY

Civic holiday this year was very quietly celebrated, as far as the village itself was concerned. Most of those who managed to get on board the Rainbow and barge took in the Foresters' Excursion to Idyl Wyld, and the disappointed ones spent their time picnicking at home.—Hastings Star.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

Seven Sutherland Sisters beg to announce to the ladies and gentlemen of Peterboro' that they have made arrangements with Messrs. Much Travelled Letter Received

Addressed to Peterboro' N. Y. and Travelled Thousands of Miles

The post office department a few days ago received a letter addressed to Dr. F. E. Quinlan, Peterborough, N.Y. Of course there is no one by that name in this city. But the letter had gone to Peterborough, N.Y., and found no claimnant. Then it was sent to Peterborough, N.H., and was still unclaimed and as a last resort was sent to Peterborough, Ont., as there are only three places called Peterborough in the United States and Canada post office directories. The local post office sent the letter back to New York city to the writer for better directions.

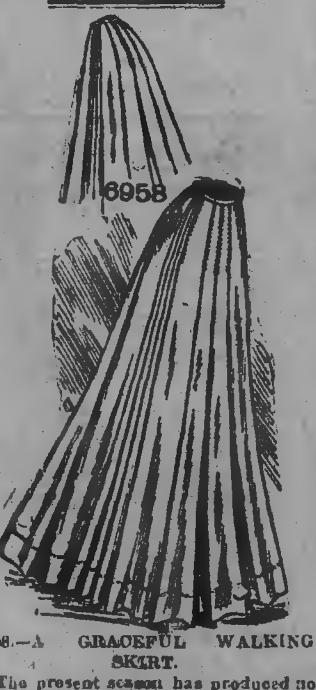
Largest Lunge Caught This Year

To Messrs. Andrew Cameron and Wm. Hermiston is due the honor of landing the largest lunge caught in the river to date. On Thursday last while trolling up near Dr. Coughlan's cottage they hooked a fish which necessitated their going to shore to land and which tipped the scales at 18 pounds.

The fish was on exhibition in front of Mr. Cameron's store on Thursday evening and was very much admired by all who had the pleasure of seeing it; in fact, a visiting sportsman was so much taken up with it that he could not leave until he had taken it home with him.—Hastings Star.



6958.—A GRACEFUL WALKING SKIRT.

The present season has produced no more attractive skirt than the seven gored, tuck-plaited model displayed in the accompanying drawing. It possesses, too, the rather uncommon advantage of being equally becoming to slender or stout figures. The effect of combined smartness and elegance is achieved largely by the arrangement of the plaits, a graduated triple box plait ornamenting both front and back, while two groups of tuck plaits appear between. The plaits are stitched in position over the hips and below are permitted to hang in free, well creased folds. The wide hem is finished simply with a double row of stitching. As illustrated the skirt is cut to round length and made of navy blue panama; but the pattern may be adjusted to either short round or instep length, if desired; while it may be developed with admirable effect in linen, taffeta, brilliantine, or serge. For the medium size 6 yards of 44 inch material will be needed.

6958.—In 7 sizes, from 20 to 32 ins. waist measure.

Leave your order and 10c at the REVIEW OFFICE and will be sent you by mail.

Youngster Played With Dynamite

A distressing accident occurred on Saturday afternoon to a six-year old boy of Mr. Arthur Price, of Point St. Ann. It appears that the lad picked up a piece of dynamite and in his innocence commenced to break it on a stone. The result was an explosion occurred with dire results. The top of the boy's thumb and the tips of two fingers of the right hand were blown off, his face and chest badly lacerated, and the left eye injured to such an extent that it is feared that the eyesight is destroyed. As soon as possible after the unfortunate affair, the boy was brought to the city to receive medical aid. Some other children who were nearby at the time were fortunate enough to escape injury.—Belleville Intelligencer.

STOCK MARKET QUOTATIONS

New York, Aug. 22.—It is evidently continued absence of liquidation rather than any concrete development that influenced a local buying movement in the first hour. It was not confined to any two or three issues, but included pretty much the whole active list. Trading was the most brisk in Union Pacific, Atchison, Reading, St. Paul, Steel common and Hill stocks, all of which moved up easy. There are symptoms of improving sentiment. It is more the disposition of men of influential opinion to treat unfavorable news, such as points to reaction in business as having been discounted in security prices. Brokers report an extraordinary borrowing demand for Steel common. It appears that a good many people have sold that stock short as a hedge against long committments elsewhere in the market. If the large short interest start to cover it might find stocks to be temporarily very scarce and a considerable upturn would be the result. The market was quiet at the last hour and inclined to sell off a little.

Have You Viewed Daniel's Comet?

To-morrow Morning Will be Last Time it Can be Seen

Dr. Marsh informed the Review today that tomorrow morning would be the last time that Daniel's comet would be seen. He said that it was moving northeastward very rapidly.

Rev. Mr. Wilson of Dunsford, who is visiting his father, Mr. John Wilson, Springville, with Dr. Marsh viewed the comet this morning at four o'clock. At that time it was right ascension, 7 hours, 43 mins., declination plus 16 degrees, 15 mins.

Williams given command of Royal Canadian Dragoons at Toronto. Col. Hemming came here from Toronto yesterday. He completed twenty-four years in the permanent service.

Have You Viewed Daniel's Comet?

To-morrow Morning Will be Last Time it Can be Seen

Dr. Marsh informed the Review today that tomorrow morning would be the last time that Daniel's comet could be seen. He said that it was moving northeastward very rapidly.

Rev. Mr. Wilson of Dunsford, who is visiting his father, Mr. John Wilson, Springville, with Dr. Marsh viewed the comet this morning at four o'clock. At that time it was right ascension, 7 hours, 43 mins., declination plus 16 degrees, 15 mins.

Nations Agree to Establish A Court of Arbitration

Three Great Powers Agree on Text of Proposition.

Will Come Before The Hague Conference Shortly—Court to Be Easily Accessible and Free of Charge—Judges to Represent Various Systems of Law—To Get Twelve Years' Appointments.

The Hague, Aug. 23.—Great Britain, Germany and the United States have agreed upon the text of a proposition for the establishment of a Permanent Court of Arbitration, and the question will come up for discussion on Aug. 28. It consists of 26 parts. The first article regards the desire of the signatory powers to organise into an international court of justice, easily accessible and free of charge, with judges representing the various systems of laws of the world and capable of insuring a continuation of arbitration by jurisprudence.

Competent Judges.

The second provides that the judges must be "juris-consults of known competence in international law, selected so far as possible from the members of the permanent Court of Arbitration.

According to the third and fourth articles the judges are appointable for terms of 12 years, and will enjoy diplomatic privileges and immunities while exercising their functions.

Article five provides that the court shall consist of 17 judges, nine forming a quorum.

Article six allots the appointments to various nations.

Article seven provides that the High Court yearly shall appoint three judges, with three substitutes, constituting a special tribunal, which can, if necessary, try cases elsewhere than at The Hague.

Appointment of President.

Article eight says that the president of the court shall be elected every three years by a majority of the votes.

Article nine deals with the payment of the judges. The amounts are not fixed, but the proposal contemplates a fixed yearly salary, besides special remuneration when engaged in cases and traveling expenses.

Article ten forbids judges from receiving remuneration from their own or other Governments for services in connection with the High Court.

Article eleven says that the court shall sit at The Hague except in cases of "force majure," and the special instances provided for by article seven.

Articles twelve and thirteen deal with secretarial matters.

Article fourteen states that the High Court shall sit once or twice yearly, in July and January.

Court Procedure.

Articles fifteen, sixteen, seventeen and eighteen relate to the cases which the High Court is competent to try.

Article nineteen provides that "each party shall be entitled to have its own judge to participate in the trial of cases submitted to the court. If a special tribunal acts as a commission of inquiry even a person not connected with the court can participate in a trial."

Articles twenty, twenty-one and twenty-two deal with the court procedure and the calling of witnesses.

Articles twenty-three and twenty-four empower the court to establish its own rules.

Article twenty-five proposes the ratification of the convention at The Hague as quickly as possible.

Articles twenty-six proposes to establish the duration of the convention, but the term is not yet fixed.

Any signatory power is entitled to denounce the convention by notifying the Dutch Government two years before the expiry of each period, but the convention remains intact for the other powers.

Approve Prize Court.

The Hague, Aug. 23.—The special commission which has been examining the proposition to establish a supreme international prize court yesterday approved the project drafted by the United States, Great Britain, Germany and France by 10 to 2 votes.

Latest on Wiarton Tragedy; Crown Cannot Get Evidence

Raiders in Wiarton Case Fear to Speak Out.

Could Be Indicted for Housebreaking—Accused Women In Court—Magistrate Averse to Committing Her For Trial—Case Referred to Attorney-General For Instructions—Annie Thomas Badly Assaulted.

Wiarton, Aug. 23.—Annie Thomas was brought before Magistrate Miller yesterday morning for trial, and the result was that the magistrate, after hearing evidence, thus declared himself:

"I do not feel like taking the responsibility of acquitting the prisoner, nor do I care to commit her. I will, therefore, remand her for eight days, while I send the evidence to the Attorney-General for his consideration. He can then take whatever course he sees fit on the evidence."

Dr. Albert Fisher and Chief Hull were again examined, but little new evidence was produced. It was brought out, however, that the tent had been completely demolished, the furniture broken and strewn in every direction and the jacket and skirt of Stella Lamont covered with egg marks, while the chief noticed that she had been struck with a stone in the back and another on the face, and that Agnes Thomas had a tooth knocked out. He said the woman had sufficient cause to be alarmed of bodily injury, and in his opinion was justified in firing in the air.

The chief said he could not find one of the crowd of raiders, variously estimated from 25 to 50, who would come forward and say he was there during the raid and to give evidence.

The crown attorney produced the town bylaw against the use of fire arms within the corporation, and the counsel for the defence objected. Robert Lancaster, to whose house the deceased had been carried when dead, under the rapid cross-examination of A. G. Mackay, got badly tangled. He would admit nothing. Lancaster is reported to have been one of the organisers of the raid. The counsel for the defence warned him that he was liable to an action for perjury.

The crown attorney asked for the committal for manslaughter, claiming that there was not sufficient justification for the shooting when it was only to protect property.

Mr. Mackay made an able appeal for her discharge, claiming that the crowd who raided the tent were liable to imprisonment for life, and that the shooting was perfectly justifiable. He asked the magistrate to take the advice of the Attorney-General's Department before a committal for manslaughter, as no judge would allow it to go to the jury, and on account of the expense to the county the magistrate so decided.

In the meantime the prisoner has been sent to the jail at Walkerton.

The raiders are keeping mum lest they be indicted for housebreaking. It is said that they declare that bullets went whizzing around them, and that Gilbert was taking to the bush to protect himself, when he was shot.

As there was no charge against Mrs. Lamont, she has been given her liberty, but she remained with her friend, Mrs. Thomas, at the lockup all night. She was with her in the Police Court yesterday morning. Both women were dressed in black, and seemed to feel their position. During the recital of the shooting, tears ran down their cheeks. Mrs. Thomas is about 45, striking of figure, but worn of face.

Scalds Boy to Punish.

Montreal, Aug. 23.—Shrieking with agony, Dan Murphy, a 13-year-old boy of 385 Beaudry street, was taken to the hospital suffering from scalds inflicted by his mother in a fit of anger. His back is one huge blister.

The boy had refused to do what his mother wanted, and in a fit of passion she snatched a pot of boiling water from the stove and threw it at him.

Neighbors sent for the ambulance of Notre Dame Hospital.

There the boy cried for his father, but begged the nurse to keep his mother away from him.

Blind From Smoking.

Ottawa, Aug. 23.—William Wagner, a young man residing at 260 Albert street, went completely blind suddenly Wednesday evening, from excessive smoking, and remained so until yesterday morning, when he partially recovered his vision.

He was attended by Dr. T. A. Watterson, who pronounced the blindness due to cigarettes.

Wagner, however, smokes nothing but a pipe, but as he indulges heavily in this the same result followed.

Many at Conference.

Mystic, Conn., Aug. 23.—Advocates of universal peace from many eastern states gathered in the peace temple at Mystic Grove yesterday to open the 41st annual conference of the Universal Peace Association.

A preliminary roll call showed delegates present from 23 states and the Maritime Provinces, and one each from England, Cuba, Japan and Mexico.

Barred From Palma Shoot.

Ottawa, Aug. 23.—The Newfoundland team will not shoot for the Palma trophy. The team arrived yesterday morning for the D. R. A., and there are but six men. This precludes any possibility of their entry to the famous contest.

At Exeter the Hartleib's brick block of stores was burned with $30,000 loss.

The assessment of Edmonton, Man., is $31,000,000, over $4,000,000 more than 1906 [illegible]

FIGHTING IN MOROCCO.

Twelve Frenchmen Wounded—Cruiser Bombards Fidallah.

Casablanca, Aug. 24.—Twelve Frenchmen were wounded during the fighting Wednesday. They include Capt. Detulles of the foreign legation. A battery of 75 millimetre guns was disembarked from a transport and used shrapnel with tremendous effect upon the enemy. The Arabs again showed reckless courage. They would ride close up to the French camp, dismount and fire persistently until they were disperse by the shell fire from the cruiser Glore.

The cruiser Gueydon has bombarded the port of Fidallah, to the north of Casablanca. The smugglers of arms had their headquarters at Fidallah.

Tangier, Aug. 23.—The Government troops, under command of Elmerani, the uncle of the Sultan, have been defeated by the Kmass tribesmen. Elmerani retreated in the direction of Alcasar.

Elmerani's defeat means there is danger of the hill tribes looting Alcasar. Three days ago Raisuli, who is holding Caid Sir Harry MacLean prisoner, was not more than eight miles from Elmerani's headquarters.

Paris, Aug. 23.—Vice-Admiral Philibert, commanding the French naval forces off Casablanca, telegraphs that while the Moors were advancing on the French camp near Casablanca Wednesday morning under the cover of a fog, the fog lifted and permitted the French batteries ashore and afloat to shell the Moors with deadly effect.

TARIFF MODIFICATIONS.

Progress Being Made In Franco-Canadian Treaty.

London, Aug. 23.—The Standard's Paris correspondent says the Franco-Canadian tariff negotiations are progressing satisfactorily. French efforts are devoted to obtaining modifications in the intermediate tariff. France is particularly anxious to succeed because this is the first treaty Canada has proposed in deference to the sentimental regard of the French-Canadian.

BUILD 'EM IN BRITAIN.

Battleships Ordered In England for Foreign Power.

London, Aug. 23.—A foreign Government, supposed to be Russia, says The Chronicle, has awarded to a British firm of shipbuilders a contract for several battleships, cruisers and gunboats, a record insurance of nearly $35,000,000 has been effected on the building and launching risks, the policies covering two years.

STILL AT LARGE.

Man Implicated In Shooting Affray Takes to the Bush.

Pembroke, Aug. 23.—The two men implicated in the Golden Lake shooting affair were committed by Police Magistrate Mitchell to stand their trial at the October Assizes. Thomas Sarasin, is still at large. No efforts are being made to capture him.

At present he has taken to the bush with his rifle.

Dynamiters Get Busy.

Cripple Creek, Col., Aug. 23.—An attempt was made yesterday to blow up the incoming Short Line passenger train with dynamite at St. Peter's Dome, midway between Cripple Creek and Colorado Springs.

Every window in the last car was broken, and M. J. McCarthy of Victor, deputy state mine inspector, had his hand cut. A number of women fainted, and there was great excitement.

A similar attempt was made to blow up the same train at Duffield the day before. The dynamiters escaped, but the sheriff is on their trail.

Two Fires at Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, Aug. 23.—Two fires yesterday, caused by the explosion of gasoline in clothes pressing establishments, caused damage estimated at $250,000, and for a time threatened the entire east end section of this city. The three-storey brick building was destroyed, and 14 employes were rescued from the windows by firemen.

The second fire, before it was under control, wiped out seven buildings.

Four men were hurt during the fighting of the fire.

Italian Gets 18 Months.

Ottawa, Aug. 23.—Antonio Bardesci, for stabbing Arthur Charbonneau 12 times with a stiletto, was yesterday sentenced by Judge Gunn to eighteen months in Central Prison. The prisoner shielded others in the affair, and the judge suggested that these men should see that Bardesci's wife and family did not suffer. He has five little children.

Jealous Farm Hand.

Trumble, Conn., Aug. 23.—Lucas Koplinski, a married farm hand, yesterday shot and killed Lillian Mallett, aged 25 years, because she had promised to marry another farm hand. He then set fire to the shed containing the body, which was rescued before the flames consumed it. He was arrested.

Tariff With Australia.

Ottawa, Aug. 23.—It is stated that the Acting Minister of Trade and Commerce has for the past two weeks been in daily communication by cable, under the direction of the Canadian Government, with Mr. Ross, the Canadian commercial agent in Melbourne, regarding tariff arrangements.

Youth Drowns.

Windsor, Aug. 23.—Theo. Northeast, son of James Northeot, was drowned yesterday at Walkerville.

He was standing on the dock and fell off while watching some members of the Tecumseh Boat Club preparing their launches. Deceased was 17 years of age.

Child Drowned In Milk.

Washington, Aug. 23.—Raymond Lane, one year old, while in his father's dairy, fell headforemost into a full can of milk while no one was about. The child was wedged fast and was drowned.

Phoebe Gothard, aged 14, employed at Welland, had her right hand fearfully burned and it may have to be amputated. [illegible]

BORDEN AT GLACE BAY, C. B.

Addresses Audience of 2,000 People In Cape Breton Town.

Glace Bay, C.B., Aug. 23.—R. L. Borden, M. P., leader of the Conservative party; J. G. M. Bergeron, M. P., and C. E. Tanner, M. P. P., leader of the party in Nova Scotia, arrived here yesterday afternoon at 2.30. They were met by Rev. Dr. Thompson, J. C. Douglas, second vice-president of the local Conservative Association; C. M. Odell, resident engineer of the Dominion Coal Co., and others.

The afternoon was spent in visiting all the surrounding collieries. In the evening Mr. Borden was escorted to King's Theatre, the procession being headed by the local band. The theatre was splendidly decorated and was filled to the doors, hundreds being unable to gain admission. The ladies were in full attendance.

Hundreds of people came from Sydney, North Sydney and other cities to swell the local attendance, and about 2,000 persons listened with interest to the addresses. On the platform were many prominent and representative men of Cape Breton. At the opening of the meeting Mr. Borden was presented with an address from Cape Breton Conservative Association, endorsing his leadership and policy.

FIERCE DENUNCIATION.

Statesman Favors Policy of Nations Giving Up Colonies.

Stuttgart, Germany, Aug. 23.—An interesting discussion of the colonial question developed at the International Socialists' Congress, which is now in session here.

Dr. David, one of the German delegates, expressing the views of the majority, said that colonization was necessary as a means of civilization, but that the present method of conducting colonial wars purely for conquest, followed by the exploitation of the country for the benefit of capitalists, must cease.

Mr. Quelch of London referred to the Peace Conference at The Hague as "a gathering of thieves and murderers who are endeavoring to organize easier methods for the carrying out of crimes."

Milford Haven as Port.

London, Aug. 23.—Yesterday at the half-yearly meeting of the Milford Dock Co. the chairman, dealing with the all-red route, referred to the claims of Milford Haven as a port against Blacksod Bay and Plymouth.

Soon to Enter Cabinet.

St. John, N. B., Aug. 23.—The Telegraph says: "It will not be surprising if Hon. Mr. Pugsley, who was nominated last spring by the Liberals, is made a Cabinet Minister within a few days."

GUARDS SHOOT INSANE

Rifles and Pistols Used to Quell Outbreak in Prison.

One Man Killed, Several Wounded —Insane Prisoners Tried to Escape —Locked Themselves in Dormitory —Streams of Water Failed to Subdue Them — Finally Officers Had Recourse to Firearms.

Schenectady, Aug. 23.—A special to The Gazette says: "One of the worst outbreaks among the insane prisoners in the history of Clinton Prison at Dannemora occurred Wednesday night. As a result, Isaac Dubois, one of the inmates, is dead, having been shot through the heart by a guard. Besides Dubois being killed, several others were injured with rifle shots.

"The insane prisoners were being marshalled to bed when, at a given signal, they rushed into the two big lower domitories and slammed the doors in the faces of the guards. Having locked the doors, they proceeded coolly to set about making their escape, by smashing the doors and sawing the bars. Some of the less violently insane, however, helped the jailers.

"Seeing that the struggling convicts could not be reached through the big steel doors, the guards turned on them from the windows, with streams of water from the fire hose. This kept them at bay, but did not subdue them. The guards were finally obliged to use rifles and pistols, and it was after midnight before the uprising was quelled."

RIOT AT LONG ISLAND.

Over One Hundred Hurt In a Fight Over Ice Cream.

New York, Aug. 23.—A petty quarrel over a plate of ice cream Wednesday evening precipitated a riot at Witzel's Grove, College Point, L. I., in which nearly eight thousand men were involved, and in which one hundred and fifty were hurt.

Of these fourteen were seriously injured. Mr. Witzel received a fractured skull and may die. It took reserves from six stations to cope with the remarkable outbreak.

It was a turbulent windup to a day of merrymaking by the Jefferson Tammany Club of the Bronx, which, headed by Leader Louis F. Haffen, had embarked on two steamboats and three barges at the foot of East One Hundred and Thirty-Fourth street in the morning.

About 8,600 strong, they poured into the grove. They had friendly games of baseball, and the dice rolled merrily in obscure corners for a while.

DETECTIVES AFTER MOSELY.

Head of Montreal Shoe Co. Wanted For Alleged Fraud.

Montreal, Aug. 23.—Detectives are looking for E. Frank Mosely, who was manager of the now defunct Mosely Shoe Leather Co. The detectives are acting on complaints of Mosely's creditors that he has been guilty of obtaining money on warehouse receipts for goods that did not belong to him. His total liabilities are about $300,000.

Paul Galibert, leather manufacturer, has been victimized to the extent of $24,000, and James Robinson, wholesaler in boots and shoes, to $33,000.

Cholera at Shanghai.

Berlin, Aug. 23.—A special despatch from Shanghai says that cholera has broken out among the Chinese there, and that several Europeans have been affected.

Crop Outlook Good.

Ottawa, Aug. 23.—In general the outlook for the crops in the Ottawa Valley is reported as fair.

COLONIAL OFFICE CHANGES.

Third Department Created For Self-Governing Colonies.

London, Aug. 23.—In the House of Lords, Lord Elgin announced that it was proposed to divide the Colonial Office into three departments, instead of four, as now. One is to be a Dominion department, exclusively for business of the self-governing colonies; the second for crown colonies; the third for legal and financial business; the last to have seven assistants under the Secretary of States, for duties arising out of the Imperial Conference. Mr. Just, joint secretary of the conference, is to be appointed.

LAND BILL ABANDONED.

British Government Afraid of Lords' Amendments.

London, Aug. 23.—Because of the drastic amendments which the House of Lords threatens to make in the Scottish small land owners' bill, which was attacked by Lord Rosebery in a brilliant speech, Aug. 15, the Government has decided to abandon the measure.

Arrested at Funeral.

Ottawa, Aug. 23.—The funeral of the victim of the tragedy at Shawville, Thomas McTiernan, at Bryson, Que., was attended by large crowds, for opinion is greatly excited over the allegations bruited about. After the service at the church Wednesday, however, and as he was about to leave the sacred building, John McTiernan, brother of the deceased, who was with him on the fatal walk, was arrested.

He pleaded not guilty in answer to the charge. The preliminary investigation into a charge of manslaughter against him will be made next Tuesday.

Mail Clerk Suicides.

Windsor, Aug. 23.— E. O. B. Rogers, aged 47, for many years a mail clerk on the Grand Trunk, committed suicide by shooting himself through the heart.

He had been suffering for some time from mental derangement and about four months ago returned from a private sanitarium.

While his wife was at supper he took advantage of her absence and fired the fatal shot. Mrs. Rogers and three children survive. Coroner Labelle did not deem an inquest necessary.

Jews Must Conquer.

The Hague, Aug. 23.—The close of the eighth International Zionist Congress, which has been in session in this city since Aug. 14, was marked with great enthusiasm, all the delegates uniting in singing "The Hatikwoh," or Psalm of Hope.

Dr. David Wolffsohn of Cologne delivered the closing speech. He said, among other things, that the Jewish people must yet conquer the world.

Georgian Bay Scheme.

Ottawa, Aug. 23.—Mr. Perks, M.P., in the British Parliament, and a member of one of the largest contracting firms in England, is in Ottawa for a meeting with the Dominion Government, relative to the Montreal, Ottawa and Georgian Bay Canal project.

Fire on the Temeraire.

Kingston, Aug. 23.—Fire on the yacht Temeraire, at 5 o'clock yesterday morning, burned the jib and blistered the bow. A cigarette is blamed. The craft has just been purchased by Major Carruthers of this city.

Auto Trip Across Africa.

Berlin, Aug. 23.—The automobile trip across Africa by the Germany army lieutenant, Graetz, has been temporarily halted by a broken cylinder.

Steamer Released.

Kingston, Aug. 23.—The steamer Pellatt has been released from a shoal at Clayton, N. Y., and is being reloaded before going on to Montreal.

Cleaning 'Frisco.

San Francisco, Aug. 22.—Mayor Taylor began his promised cleansing of the municipal departments by sending a notification of their removal from office to four police commissioners. The communication scored the commission for failure to remove Chief of Police Dinan, who, Mayor Taylor declared, is incompetent and lacking in character. The commissioners, after a secret conference, announced that they would not recognize any power except the court.

Lake Islands.

Lake Huron contains 3,000 islands. Loch Erne, in Ireland, has 365. The Lake of the Thousand Isles is only an expansion of the St. Lawrence river and has 1,700.

Entire Lockout Threatened.

Montreal, Aug. 23.—The garment workers' strike is larger again yesterday, the total on strike being 372. Employes of H. Gallop and of S. Felstein and Segar went out. It is said that the contractors have decided on a lockout at noon to-day, which will affect 1,000 men. The contractors for the clothing firms say they can't give an increase to the men at the prices they get, but will increase wages if the factories they work for will increase the scale for garments.

Fire Agents Organize.

Toronto, Aug. 23.—Fire insurance agents from all parts of the province held a preliminary meeting at the King Edward Hotel yesterday for the purpose of forming an organization similar to that of the life assurance agents.

About 70 attended and many others are expected to be present to-day for the framing of a constitution and election of officers of the new body, which will be known as the Ontario Local Fire Insurance Agents' Association.

German Empress Hurt.

Wilhelmshohe, Aug. 23.—The Empress Augusta Victoria, while walking in the park here Wednesday, slipped and fell, injuring a vein in her left leg, and making it necessary for her to remain in bed for some weeks. All Her Majesty's traveling engagements have been cancelled.

HOW CLERGY ARE PAID.

Small Stipends Create What Is Really "Modern Simony."

A fashionable congregation filled St. Peter's Church, Eaton Square, London, when the Bishop of London preached recently on behalf of the Queen Victoria clergy fund. Dealing with the special object for which he made an appeal, he said that in this country there were 5,234 benefices under £200 a year, and 1,139 under £100. The fact was that these clergy were weighted with the problem how to make ends meet, and were worn out and hurried into their graves before their time. Only this week the wife of a bishop told him how it cut her to the heart when, during a visit to one of the dioceses, she found that a clergyman's daughter had got up at 6 in the morning in order to clean the boots of the guests in the house. Again, only recently in the country a vicar's wife said to him, in confidence:

"The truth of the matter is we have not one penny in the house."

He often felt that words were useless to describe the rottenness of the system of a church that would leave such a scandal as that. How was it possible for a man to do his work and preach his sermons when weighed down by a terrible cross he was never meant to bear? Such a state of things led to what they might call "the new simony," because, instead of getting the best man for the post in the Church, it led to the asking of the question, "Has he any private means?" He has particulars showing that in one parish of 3,000 souls the net income was £19, and in one of 1,100 the yearly income was £53.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Toronto Live Stock.

TORONTO, Aug. 22.—Receipts of live stock at the City Market since Tuesday, as reported by the railways, were 104 carloads, composed of 1334 cattle, 1127 hogs, 2365 sheep and lambs, and 242 calves.

Exporters.

None of choice heavy weights were on sale. One load weighing 1200 lbs. sold at $4.75. Export bulls sold at $3.75 to $4.50 per cwt.

Butchers.

Butchers' cattle sold at lower prices than at any market this season, but the general run of the cattle was of the poorest quality. A few picked lots sold from $4.25 to $4.70, and few brought the latter price; medium cattle and good cows sold at $3.50 to $4.10; fair cows, $3 to $3.25; canners, $1 to $2.50.

Feeders and Stockers.

A few loads were offered, which were generally of common to medium quality. Trade was dull, with little demand, few farmers being on the market, this being harvest time. The farmers that were on the market were looking for better quality. Drovers bringing stockers and feeders of poor quality should come prepared to make a present of them to some person, as nobody seems to want to buy them. Common stockers, 500 to 650 lbs. each, sold at $2 to $2.25; some light feeders, 850 lbs. each, sold at $2.50, and one load of 1000 lb. feeders sold at $3.15 to $3.50 per cwt.

Milkers and Springers.

Trade for milkers and springers, with the exception of those of good quality, was dull, and common light cows were almost unsaleable. The demand was for good heavy milkers or springers that promised to become good milkers. The bulk of the best cows sold around $40; some few reached the $50 mark, and one $57. Some inferior cows were reported at $25, and some did not sell at all.

Veal Calves.

Trade remains steady for veal calves of good quality, with a good demand. Prices ranged from $3 to $6.50 per cwt., with the bulk selling from $5 to $6 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.

There was, as usual, a good demand for sheep and lambs. Export ewes sold at $4.50 to $4.75; rams, $3.50 to $4 per cwt.; lambs sold at $6.00 to $6.40 per cwt., with a few selected lots at a little more money.

Hogs.

There was not a large run of hogs, but that did not stop a drop in prices. Mr. Harris quoted selects at $6.50, and lights and fats at $6.25 per cwt.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, N.Y., Aug. 22.—Cattle—Receipts, 100 head; slow and prices unchanged.

Veals—Receipts, 100 head; active and 25c higher; $5 to $8.50.

Hogs—Receipts, 2100 head; fairly active and 10c to 20c higher. Heavy, $6.20 to $6.60; mixed, $6.60 to $6.70; Yorkers, $6.70 to $6.80; pigs, $6.85 to $6.90; dairies, $6 to $6.65.

Sheep and lambs—Receipts, 800 head; steady; sheep active; lambs slow; unchanged.

New York Live Stock.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Beeves — Receipts, 1460; no trading in live cattle. Feeling dull. Good beef in fair demand at 8½c to 10½c for native sides; good steers, 10c to 11c. Exports, 440 quarters of beef to Liverpool.

Calves—Receipts, 142; feeling firm at yesterday's quotations. Veals, 6c to 9c; grassers and buttermilks, $3.50 to $4.50; dressed calves, steady; city-dressed veals, 8½c to 13½c; choice, 14c.

Sheep and lambs—Receipts, 4404. Sheep steady at $3.50 to $5.50; culls, $3. Lambs full steady, but slow for medium to common grades; medium to choice lambs at $6.75 to $8.12½; one car, $8.25; culls, $5 to $5.50.

Hogs—Receipts, 2161; feeling firm on Buffalo advices. No sales reported.

Chicago Live Stock.

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—Cattle—Receipts, about 5500; market steady. Beeves, $4.25 to $7.25; cows, $1.20 to $5.40; Texas steers, $3.75 to $5; calves, $5.00 to $7.75; western, $4.25 to $6.50; stockers and feeders, $2.65 to $5.50.

Hogs—Receipts, about 15,000; market steady. Light, $5.90 to $6.25; mixed, $5.50 to $6.20; heavy, $5.25 to $5.95; roughs, $5.25 to $5.50; pigs, $5.40 to $6.15; bulk of sales, $5.65 to $6.05.

Sheep—Receipts, about 12,000; market steady; native, $3.85 to $5.70; western, $3.85 to $5.70; yearlings, $5.50 to $6.30; lambs, $5.25 to $7.60; western, $5.25 to $7.50.

Cheese Markets.

KINGSTON, Aug. 22.—The Frontenac Cheese Board was held this afternoon. There were boarded 465 white and 427 colored, all of which, except thirty, were sold at 11 1-8c.

Fire in Adirondacks.

Utica, N. Y., Aug. 23.—Unless rain descends upon the Adirondacks to check the spread of forest fires, enormous damage will be done within the next few days. Many acres of valuable timber land have already been burned over, and the fires threaten the destruction of extensive private estates.

Fires are raging at Independence River and at Red River, and several hundred men are at work trying to check the flames.

Gave the Boy Another Chance

Chas. Burgoyne Will go to Live With His Uncle at Mariposa

Chas. Burgoyne, one of the youths who entered Jas. R. Bell's grocery store a week ago and took the contents of the till was arraigned before the Magistrate this morning in the police court. Mr. G. N. Gordon appeared on his behalf and pleaded guilty. Burgoyne has been at the shelter since Saturday last, and since that time has shown great improvement in his conduct. It will be remembered that he could not be found when the other lads were arrested. He went to the Chemong regatta and stayed for a couple of days, earning two dollars. Mr. Gordon asked that he be given one more chance. His father will send him away to live with an uncle at Mariposa, and his parents think that if he is away for awhile he will be all right.

His Worship allowed him to go on suspended sentence, giving him some good advice. "You have another chance," said the magistrate, but if you ever come up again you will be sent to the reformatory.

Penalty of Burleigh Falls Hotel Proprietor for Selling Liquor to Indian

Yesterday afternoon the county police court session was resumed at 2.30 o'clock and a large number of persons gathered to hear the proceedings.

Mr. Darcy, proprietor of the Burleigh Falls hotel was charged with selling liquor to an Indian on Civic Holiday, August 12th. Mr. R. E. Wood conducted the prosecution and Mr. B. F. McWilliams appeared for the defendant and pleaded not guilty.

David Jacobs was the first witness called. He was in Darcy's hotel on Monday, August 12th. He said that he had two glasses of lager. The brother of the defendant, Rolly Darcy, served the witness.

Mr. Alex. Elliott, proprietor of a wholesale liquor store, was next called. Mr. Wood asked him if lager was intoxicating and witness replied in the affirmative.

Mr. H W Darcy was called for the defence. He remembered the excursion boat passing through Burleigh. On the return trip several persons called at the hotel. Witness said that he refused to allow the bartender to sell any intoxicating liquor to the Indians. He had warned the bartender in the morning not to sell liquor to the Indians.

Wm. Dever, bartender at the hotel was called and denied ever selling liquor to the Indians.

Mr. H W Darcy said that his brother was not an employee of the hotel but did whatever he liked about the place. To Mr. Wood he said that he was sometimes serving the bar.

Mr. McWilliams submitted that there was no evidence to make a conviction. Mr. H W Darcy did not sell it and took precaution to warn his bartender not to do so. the bartender is not liable for the offence as he did not sell it. The only evidence is that two glasses of lager were procured from a visitor in the person of Mr. Rolly Darcy, unknown to the proprietor, who was absent at the time.

His Worship said that he would reserve judgment till Friday that he might think over the matter.

HEAVILY FINED

His Worship Magistrate Edmison gave judgment in the case of H. W Darcy, proprietor of the Park Hotel, Burleigh Falls, for selling liquor to an Indian on Civic Holiday, August 12th. Mr. R. F. McWilliams appeared for Darcy. He was fined fifty dollars and costs which is the minimum fine under the clause relating to the sale of liquor to Indians.

Delivery Horse In a Runaway

Mr. Jeffrey O'Brien's delivery horse became frightened at the street cars near the corner of George and Charlotte streets this morning and ran away. It collided with a bill board and telephone pole at the corner and broke the shafts away from the waggon. The horse then ran towards the store where Mr. O'Brien caught it. The only damage done was to the shafts and a bent axel.

Quartette of Indians Fined For Assaulting Mate on Boat

Three Were Also Assessed $5 and Costs Each for Being Drunk on Steamer Esturion on Civic Holiday—Magistrate Edmison Delivered Judgmedt To-day

At the afternoon session of the proceedings against Jonas and David Jacobs, Alex Knott and Isaac Johnson, the four Indians who raised the disturbance on the steamer "Esturion" on Civic holiday, they were charged with being drunk, which in the case of an Indian comes under the Indian Act. Mr. R. E. Wood conducted the prosecution and Mr. D. O'Connell appeared for the prisoners and pleaded not guilty. On this charge all four were convicted but the magistrate reserved judgment till today.

Mr. W. R. Hartshorne was the first witness called in this case. He was on the excursion on the Esturion on civic holiday. He saw the two Jacobs boys. On the return trip they were pretty much intoxicated.

Mr. Hopwood also swore to seeing the prisoners very much intoxicated.

Mr. Thos. Nicholls, constable, was called. He saw the Indians on board. They acted as if they were the worse of liquor, and their conduct was very wild.

At this stage, after the four prisoners had been convicted of the charge of being drunk, and previous to Mr. Darcy's case, an altercation arose between Mr. Wood and Mr. D. O'Connell. Jonas Jacobs was put in the box and the Crown Attorney was about to ask him where and from whom he got the liquor on Civic holiday, and was also about to read to him the section of the Criminal Code which compelled him to tell when the counsel for the defence objected. Mr. O'Connell argued that after a conviction had been made, as it was in this case, the Crown Attorney had no right to further examine the witness. Mr. O'Connell said that Mr. Wood wanted to know who it was for no other reason than to convict the man who sold the liquor. He thought that the defendant or the man who sold the liquor had a right to protection. Mr. O'Connell considered it unjudicial.

His Worship, Magistrate Edmison, said that while it might seem unjudicial, the law provided for it. He quoted part of the section of the Code which says "that an Indian on being found guilty of being drunk and on refusing to give information as to the parties who supplied the liquor is liable to a further penalty to that for being drunk or being intoxicated. After considerable discussion between the Crown Attorney and Messrs. O'Connell and McWilliams, Mr. Wood was allowed to go on.

Jonas Jacobs, knowing the result of refusing to tell who supplied the liquor, stated that he got it from Phil Aldridge, who was on the Esturion that day. Witness gave Aldridge a dollar and the latter bought the liquor at the Burleigh Hotel. Aldridge worked on the drive with him, but he didn't know where he lived.

Alex. Knott also went into the box. He said that Rolly McCaulay bought him the liquor at Burleigh. He didn't know where McCaulay could be found. Witness' evidence in the afternoon did not correspond with what he said in the morning. He admitted that what he swore in the morning was not true.

CHARGE WITHDRAWN.

The charge against Dave Jacobs for resisting Constable Nicholls was withdrawn. In view of the fact that he proved himself to be honest and upright in the evidence in the morning, the charge was dismissed. He was highly commended by His Worship and the Crown Attorney for his straightforwardness in the witness box.

ALL WERE FINED

In the case of the four Indians who created such a disturbance on the steamer Esturion Civic Holiday, Magistrate Edmison gave judgment as follows;

On the charge of assaulting Fred Wright, mate on the steamer, Isaac Johnson was fined ten dollars and costs On the same charge Jonas Jacobs and Alex. Knott were assessed five dollars and costs and David Jacobs, one dollar, without costs.

For "being drunk" David and Jonas Jacobs and Alex. Knott were each taxed five dollars and costs.

What the costs in each case will amount to is not known yet, but it is expected that they will be pretty heavy.

Mr. Thos. J. Wallace Resigns; Goes to Queen Alexandra School

Toronto Takes Another Teacher From Peterborough—He Will be Assistant Head Teacher- Duties Start September 3rd.

Among the changes incidental to the re-opening of the local schools is the resignation of his position on the teaching staff by Mr. T. J. Wallace, who has accepted the position of assistant head teacher in the Queen Alexandra School, in Toronto, and who will take up his new duties on September 3rd. Mr. Wallace has had charge here of the entrance class for the last three years, coming here from Keene, where he had charge of the village school for the six years previous. Mr. Wallace has handed in his resignation to the Board of Education, who will no doubt select a successor for the position. The staff of the local schools, as well as pupils, will regret the departure of Mr. Wallace, who has been very successful in his work, and is highly esteemed on all sides. Few teachers enjoy the same popularity, while maintaining a strict discipline and keeping thoroughly in touch with the pupils and encouraging them in their work by earnest endeavor.

Regatta at Crowe's Landing Was Pronounced Success

Events Were Closely Contested—Affair Was Splendidly Managed and Course Was an Ideal One—Masquerade Ball in the Evening.

The first regatta ever held at Crowe's Landing, took place yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the East End Cottagers Association and was a most pronounced success. It was splendidly managed and everything passed off in admirable style.

The course is an ideal one and may be viewed from any part of the surrounding water. This lent great interest to the proceedings, from the spectacular point of view. The finishes in many contests were very close. The judges were Messrs. H. LeBrun, H. C. Winch and Alex. Gibson. In the dinghy sailing race, J. S. Knapman's "Cygnet" won by fully three quarters of a mile, from Robert Shaw's Skirmisher. The committee in charge of the regatta was composed of Rev. F. D. Roxburgh of Smithville, chairman; John McKelvie, J. W. Bork, Norwood; Judge Hudspeth, New York; H. LeBrun, and R. J. Winch, Peterborough. The winners in the different events received their prizes in the evening and the East End Cottagers are to be congratulated on the success of the regatta. There was a large attendance, all parts of the Kawartha Lakes being well represented, while the lake was dotted with all kinds of craft

The winners were,—

Sailing Dinghy race—12 miles or twice around course—W. D. Hall, Peterborough; W. E. Curry, Toronto.

Sailing Yacht Race—twice around course—J. S. Knapman's "Cygnet," Robert Shaw's "Skirmisher."

Canoe Sailing race — Once around course, six miles — Jack Roxburgh, Norwood; Robt. Eakins, Toronto.

Ladies' Single Canoe, paddling — Miss M. Rogers, Peterborough; Miss Perry, Peterborough.

Men's Single Canoe, paddling — C. Gordon, Lakefield; Capt. Grylls, Lakefield.

Ladies' Single Skiff — Miss Genevieve Sanderson, Peterborough; Miss Florrie Burnham, Peterborough.

Boys' Tandem Skiff—Rise and Wallace; McCall and Currie.

Lady and Gentleman's Tandem Canoe Race—Miss G. Cameron and Mr. C. Gordon, Miss Helen Hall and Mr. Norman Bell.

Men's Single Skiff—K. Hull, Stony Lake, John Fraser, Stony Lake.

Ladies' Tandem Canoe — Misses Helen Hall and Elmer, Peterborough; Miss M. Erskine and Miss M. Rogers, Peterborough.

Men's Swimming Race—G. L. Gullet, Cobourg; Mr. Richardson.

Boys' Swimming Race — Master Morrow; Master Lees.

Tug of War—Four men in a canoe —Messrs. Bell, Gordon, Guillet and Hull.

Crab Race—Allan Cameron, Master Lees.

Upset race—Norman Bell, Mr. Currie.

Tilting contest — Capt. Hopkins, Sturgeon Point, and Robt. Eakins Stony Lake.; Messrs. Norman Bell and Richardson.

The prizes were presneted to the winners in the evening by Mr. J. R. Stratton.

MASQUERADE BALL.

The masquerade ball at the new pavilion in the evening, was a decided success and was greatly enjoyed by all present. The masqueraders provided plenty of amusement for the onlookers and the prizes for those in costume were presented by Mrs. Stratton.

Mrs. Bliss in the costume of "A Gypsy," won first prize, while Miss Pentand captured the second premium as "Indian Maid." For third prize there was a tie between Miss Rush and Miss Florrie Burnham.

Sawdust Piles Again on Fire

Are Burning Fiercely and Giving the Firemen Trouble

Shortly after twelve o'clock to-day a fire alarm was sent in from the box at the Quaker Oats Co., and the brigade was once more on the run to the sawdust pile at the rear of the Quaker Oats Co. mills.

The fire was burning pretty fiercely. Nothing but smoke could be seen and the fire seemed to be raging underneath. It is still smoking, but the brigade is working at the flames which, owing to the uncertain footing along the shore are difficult to get at.

WEDDING BELLS

SHANNON—DARRAH

A quiet wedding took place at St. Andrew's manse yesterday afternoon when Mr. George Edward Shannon, of Campbellford, and Miss Ethel Darrah, daughter of Isidon Darrah, of Marmora, were united in the bonds of matrimony by Rev. J. G. Potter, The young couple left on the 5.30 G.T.R. train on their honeymoon.

The G.N.W. Telegraph Company refuse to remove their poles from Colbrorne street. Brantford.

OBITUARY

MRS WM. DAVIS

It is our sad duty to have to chronicle the death of one of the oldest residents in the person of Mrs. Wm. Davis, sr., at the ripe old age of about 90 years. About three years ago deceased was stricken with paralysis but recovered therefrom. At intervals since she was afflicted with other strokes, until Wednesday last the final stroke came and she passed to her long home on Thursday morning. She leaves to mourn her loss, a husband, five sons and one daughter. The funeral on Saturday to St. Mary's cemetery was largely attended. Rev. H. C. Aylwin conducted the services at the house and grave. —Omemee Mirror.

EDWARD SHEFFIELD CASSAN.

On Sunday the 11th inst., after a short illness of paralysis, Mr. Edward Sheffield Cassan, died at the residence of his son, Mr. Ernest E. Cassan. Deceased was the third son of the late Captain M. S. Cassan, and was born at "Castleview," Marybow, Queen's County, Ireland, in 1833, Coming with his parents to Canada the following year he has resided in Seymour all these years.

Mr. Cassan was a remarkable man in many ways, surmounting difficulties and achieving success on a bush farm that was simply surprising. By his kindly disposition and noted hospitality he won for himself a host of friends. A widow and six children survive, viz., Mrs. Hopps, of Peterborough, Alfred and Ernest, of Seymour, Mrs. John Govan, of town, Mrs. C. E. Bonnycastle, Seymour west, and Miss Leticia at home. A brother and four sisters also survive. In the demise of Mr. Cassan a well known figure has been removed from our streets and many friends can recall his genial, kindly nature which endeared him to all his acquaintances. —Campbellford Herald.

STREET MAIL DELIVERY

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir—Before Peterborough takes the plunge, it would be well to see how the so-called free postal delivery works in other places. In Stratford, where it has just been introduced they are already complaining that for business men the delivery is not prompt enough and that those who are residing in the country and not enjoying the free delivery are taxed double postage just the same as those within the territory for free delivery and even newspapers are subject to the burden.

Reynolds Will Accept Challenge

Of David Hartley Providing He Gets 4 Hours Handicap

In reference to the challenge of David Hartley, of Peterborough, that he would walk from Port Hope to Toronto and return—a distance of 136 miles—in 32 hours, which is less time by six hours than what Reynolds, of Port Hope agreed to perform the feat, the Port Hope Guide, after reproducing the article from the Review, says: When interviewed on the above Reynolds stated that he would be quite willing to arrange a match with Hartley. Considering that Hartley is sure he could make Toronto and return from Port Hope in 32 hours, the undertaking which Reynolds failed to accomplish in 38 hours, Jimmy thinks he is deserving of at least 6 hours handicap. However, to make things interesting he will take four hours handicap and walk with Mr. Hartley to Toronto and return on any date which may suit him, and for any amount of money.

THE CITY AND VICINITY

TO-NIGHT'S EVENTS

Victoria Park.—Band concert by 57th Regt. Band.

S.O.E. Hall—Ice cream social and entertainment by Chosen Friends.

CHARITY BOARD.

A regular meeting of the Charity Board will be held on Monday night in the city clerk's office.

JUNIOR REGATTA.

A large number will go out to Chemong Park to-morrow afternoon to attend the junior regatta which promises to be very interesting. The different events will be keenly contested.

AT JACKSON PARK.

Jackson Park was visited last night by one of the largest crowds of the season to witness the moving pictures. A section of the 57th band was present and provided fine music.

BAND CONCERT.

The Salvation Army band gave a fine concert in Victoria Park last evening, at which there was a large and appreciative gathering. The programme was an attractive one and was much enjoyed.

COLD SPRINGS SUNDAY SCHOOL.

The annual outing of the Cold Springs Sunday School, Otonabee, will be held to Idyl Wyld on Tuesday, August 27th, on the steamer Otonabee. Mr. C. F. Kitley is chairman of the committee, and Mr. Isaac Pimmett, secretary.

GOING TO LINDSAY.

The annual excursion of the Gilmour Memorial Church, will be held on Friday, August 30th, to Lindsay by the steamer Esturion. Mr. F. Scott, superintendent, Mr. A. McGregor, secretary, and Rev. L. McKinnon, pastor, is the committee in charge.

A NEW PARSONAGE.

Rev. Mr. Clare moved into the new parsonage, the bank building purchased by the church from the A Ferguson estate, which has been thoroughly overhauled and made most comfortable and home-like. It will prove a desirable property and convenient parsonage for the congregation.—Millbrook Reporter.

WON SIX DOLLARS

Corp. J. Gibson of the 57th Regiment won $6 in the City of Toronto competition at the Ontario Rifle Association meeting at Long Branch.

CHOIR PRACTICE

St. Luke's choir are urgently requested to turn out to choir practice tonight as the harvest festival music will be rehearsed.

C.O.C.F.

Ice cream social and musical entertainment in S.O.E. hall Friday evening, August 23rd at 8 p.m. Admission 15 cents, or 2 for 25 cents. Everybody welcome.

BROKE CAMP.

The Otonabee campers broke camp on Friday last and returned to Millbrook, having enjoyed one of the best outings they ever experienced, the weather being delightful and the fishing very good.

NEW BRANCH.

The Bank of Toronto has opened a sub-branch at Campbellcroft, which will be open for business on two days in each week. The days will be Tuesdays and Thursdays.

HOSPITAL ADDITION.

Tenders are being invited for the erection of a surgical ward to St. Joseph's hospital. Mr. J. L. Belcher is the architect. Tenders will be received by His Lordship, the Bishop of Peterborough, up to Wednesday, Sept. 4th.

MILLS CHANGE HANDS.

The Octogon mills, Millbrook, have been sold by Mr Collins to Mr R. J. Ross, of Bowmanville, who has taken possession and is giving the mill a thorough fitting up for all kinds of work.

CHOIR OUTING.

The choir of St. Luke's church held their annual picnic yesterday to Chemong Park. The members were accompanied by a few friends and drove out in a large carry-all. A most enjoyable time was spent at this delightful resort.

COULDN'T CHEAT HIM.

Now we hear of a canny Scot that wanted everything that was coming to him. He invested ten cents in a lottery ticket—wicked man — and drew a fine horse and carriage. Going to claim his property, he surveyed it critically and noticing a lack in the equipment, exclaimed with a sternness in his tone that made the clerk tremble, "Whaur's the whip."

LOCAL OPTION.

Local Option bylaws will be voted on in upwards of 120 Ontario Municipalities in January next.

JUST TRY IT

A new crossing is being laid on Hunter street, opposite the Review office. The crossing is not being put down any too soon, but, nevertheless it will be a convenience that will be much appreciated.

MONSTER LUNGE.

The best fish of the season was caught by Miss Nora Ross in the Otonabee last week, a monster lunge weighing 16 1-2 pounds and measuring forty-two inches from tip to tip. It certainly was a beauty and admired by many when brought to town.—Millbrook Reporter.

WILL EXCHANGE.

Rev. H. M. Manning, pastor of the Charlotte street Methodist church and Rev. C. H. Coon, pastor of the Mark street Methodist church will exchange pulpits on Sunday morning. Mr. Roger Manning, of Toronto will sing in Charlotte street church on Sunday morning next.

CARS WERE TOO SCARCE.

Speaking of the I. O. O. F. Grand Lodge gathering in that city, the Orillia Packet says: The only one of the expected excursions to materialize, was the one from Midland which brought in between four and five hundred on Wednesday afternoon. The proposed excursions from Collingwood, Barrie, Peterborough and Burk's Falls had to be abandoned, because the Grand Trunk was unable to provide trains for them.

AERIAL NAVIGATION.

The air ship that is coming to the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto, will make a trip, within the first four days, from the exhibition grounds down to the city hall, around the city hall tower, and back to the place of starting, thus exemplifying the great progress that has been made within the last months in aerial navigation. It is not so many months since Santos Dumont, the great Brazilian aeronaut, had his name on the lips of pretty well every man and woman in the civilized world for his great feat of rounding the Palace of the Elysee, and now within a year of that performance the feat is to be more than repeated in the City of Toronto, Canada.

Mr. Pickard has been a valued member of the Methodist church choir during his residence in Norwood, and was also popular among the young people, and will be greatly missed. He has the good wishes of all our citizens.—Norwood Register.

HOSPITALS CROWDED

MAJORITY OF PATIENTS WOMEN

Mrs. Pinkham's Advice Saves Many From this Sad and Costly Experience.

Mrs. Robt. Glenn

It is a sad but true fact that every year brings an increase in the number of operations performed upon women in our hospitals. More than three-fourths of the patients lying on those snow-white beds are women and girls who are awaiting or recovering from operations made necessary by neglect.

Every one of these patients had plenty of warning in that bearing down feeling, pain at the left or right of the abdomen, nervous exhaustion, pain in the small of the back, pelvic catarrh, dizziness, flatulency, displacements or irregularities. All of these symptoms are indications of an unhealthy condition of the female organs, and if not heeded the trouble may make headway until the penalty has to be paid by a dangerous operation, and a lifetime of impaired usefulness at best, while in many cases the results are fatal.

The following letter should bring hope to suffering women. Mrs. Robert Glenn, of 434 Marie St., Ottawa, Ont., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so well and widely known that it does not need my recommendation, but I am pleased to add it to the many which you have in its favor. I suffered untold agonies from serious female troubles for nearly three years, and the doctors told me that I must undergo an operation, but as I was unwilling to do this, I tried your Vegetable Compound and I am only too pleased that I did so, for it restored me to perfect health, saving me the pain of an operation and the immense bills attending the same. Pray accept my hearty thanks and best wishes."

Just as surely as Mrs. Glenn was cured of the troubles enumerated in her letter, just so surely will Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cure other women who suffer from female troubles, inflammation, kidney troubles, nervous excitability and nervous prostration.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all women who are ill to write her for free advice. She is a daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years has been advising sick women free of charge. Address, Lynn, Mass.

SPLENDID PLAY AT THE GRAND

"A Message from Mars" Attracted Good Attendance

"A Message from Mars," was the attraction which drew a good crowd to the Grand Opera House last night. It was a most creditable production and had it been later in the season and the people who most appreciate such a play, were back from their holidays, the house would undoubtedly have been filled. As it was everyone there was delighted and the strong moral which is presented must can impression.

The comedy-drama is a delightful one, appealing to all classes, the artists are thoroughly capable and give an intelligent interpretation of the various roles, and the audience was ... arge for the season and thoroughly appreciative in the way it received the performance. The play is constructed in logical style and comes to a rational conclusion. A novel feature is the introduction of a messenger from Mars, which part was taken by Mr. Walter B. Cluxton, in a clever and impressive manner. Mr. Cluxton is a Peterborough boy and has many admirers here who were present to see him last night. The messenger from Mars is condemned to remain on earth till he converts the hero of the story from his selfishness. It is a meritorious production without any weak parts. The story is clear cut and simple, the lesson is taught in a sapient way, its humor is pleasingly dignified yet irresistibly funny, the dialogue is bright and sparkling, and the various situations while not the least overdone are worked out in a clever manner. The scenic embellishments are not called on to be elaborate, but are thoroughly realistic.

The cast throughout is excellent and well balanced. Wallace Widdicombe, as Horace Parker, the selfish man of earth, acted the part to the life. He had room for considerable scope in the way of acting and proved equal to all demands. Alfred Beaumont, in the role of the tramp, was exceptionally clever. His part called for an exacting interpretation and was well sustained. In voice and action the work was excellent and not overdrawn. Miss Eileen Errol, in the leading feminine role is a bright and vivacious actress and her work was artistic. But to pick out the meritorious ones of the cast would be to enumerate them all.

The audience was thoroughly delighted last evening, and was kept in constant good humor, by the scintillating comedy. The laughs were frequent and hearty and the appreciation of the work of the members of the cast was enthusiastic and unstinted. Curtain calls marked the close of each act, and as the audience left the theater none but words of praise were heard.

More Property Changes Hands

Mr. Thomas Edmison, of Bridgenorth, has sold his farm to Mr. Jas. Newman, of Mt. Horeb. Manvers township. The farm consists of 80 acres. The transfer was effected through Mr. George Ruth, real estate agent, who also sold yesterday Mr. Robert Pollock's house and lot, on Dufferin street, East City, to Mr. Thomas Castle.

Miss Noma Logan Won the Prize

Donated by Mr. C. E. Frost at the Roller Rink Last Evening

The opening of the Charlotte street roller rink for the fall season was attended by a very large number of persons last evening and the pastime is as popular as ever in Peterborough.

Considering the numerous other attractions the attendance was excellent. A portion of the 57th regimental band was there and furnished excellent music. The lady's skating contest open to all the ladies on the floor for a prize donated by Mr. C. E. Frost, was very interesting and a large number of ladies entered. The judges, who were Messrs. Armstrong, Banks and Savigny, had a difficult time in picking the winner. Finally there were only two skating, Miss Maud Penrose and Miss Noma Logan. Their skating was excellent and it was hard to say which one was the best. Miss Noma Logan was finally given the prize amid much applause. The prize was a handsome gold locket and chain. A grand masquerade carnival will be held at the rink next Thursday night.

Fine New Church at Maple Lake

Marks the End of Many Months of Faithful Work

Wednesday, Aug. 11th, was a day of heartfelt thanksgiving for the people of Maple Lake, for the opening of the church. It marked the successful end of many months of faithful work and self-sacrificing efforts. The service began at two o'clock, when a good congregation assembled in the new building now set apart for the worship of God. The Rev. J. E. Farthing preached the special sermon, which was full of good practical suggestions for the upbuilding of the spiritual life. After service a picnic was held, when speeches were made by Revs. Rural Dean Archbold, J. A. Fenning and F. H. S. Carey. The building is substantially built of stone and is well fitted up inside. It is most satisfactory to know that only $40 remains to be paid off to clear the church of debt.

Did Not Follow Him to House

In the report of the assault case in which Wm. Griffin an employee of the Peterborough Sand Stone Brick Company, was fined for striking C. J. Waldron, another employee of the firm, it was stated that Griffin, not being satisfied with what he gave Waldron, at the works, followed him to the house, where he administered some more punishment. The defendant states that this is not correct. He did not follow Waldron to the House, in fact, and did not go near the place, and the Review regrets that it was wrongly informed.

New Departure by C. P. Railway.

Few people in the west have ever heard of the telegraphone, nor do they realize how marvellous is the discovery that is about to aid the railways both in the operation of their lines and the carrying on of commercial communication. The C. P.R. is about to establish a telegraphone system on its lines, and before long expects to have it in operation.

There is but one of these systems in operation in Canada at present, and that is on the C.P.R. between Montreal and Fort William. The company, however, intends placing them on a number of their lines, such as between Winnipeg and Fort William, and between Winnipeg and Brandon, but these will only be used for railway purposes, such as receiving orders from the despatcher and the sending of happenings along the lines.

When messages are sent over the telegraphone at night the same price will be charged as if they were sent by the telegraph instrument.

Will Say Goodbye to the President

Conservative Club Will Give Mr. J. H. Burnham a Send-off

Mr. J. H. Burnham, the energetic president of the Young Conservative club for the past two years, is leaving early next month for Toronto where he will reside.

At a well attended meeting of the executive of the club held last night, it was decided to give Mr. Burnham a fitting send off on Thursday evening, September 5th, when the members will gather to say good bye to a gentleman whose departure from the city is greatly regretted. Mr. Burnham has been an indefatigable worker in the interest of the club and has done yeoman service in promoting its welfare and bringing the organization up to the high standing, both numerically and financially, which it enjoys at the present time.

A committee was appointed last evening to make arrangements to honor the departing president with a suitable memento. The presentation will take place on Thursday evening, September 5th and a good programme of speeches, music and songs will be presented.

THE LOCALS WON FROM LINDSAY

Score Was 5 to 4 Peterborough Winning in the Ninth Innings

Peterborough won the second game from Lindsay yesterday afternoon at Riverside Park. It was not until the ninth however, that the game was decided, as the visitors led right up to the eighth when the locals tied the score. The final count was five to four, with only one man out and another on first and third.

There was only a small crowd in attendance, although the game was fair all through with the exception of a few errors, especially three or four on Johnston at third base.

For the opening three innings Flaherty and Burridge were the battery, and while it was only a workout for the pitcher, no runs were scored. Then Burns went in the box and pitched the remainder of the game, delivering as his chief ball a nice drop which kept the boys from Scugogville guessing. But they managed to run up a score of four runs mostly on account of errors, and the locals did not get more than one run until the seventh innings when they made two.

The feature of the game was Workman's nice drive past centre field which brought in one man and gave him third base. Burns and Flaherty each got a drive at the ball which was good for two bags.

Altogether the game was a good workout and while it was not snappy and far from championship form, the boys are not sorry that they played and Lindsay went home satisfied.

Following is the summary.;

Score by innings;

Peterborough—000101102—5.

Lindsay.—000202000.—4.

Summary.—Two base hits, Burns and Flaherty; three base hit, Workman; first base on balls, off Workman 1, off Burns 0, off Flaherty 0; struck out by Flaherty 3, Burns 6; Workman 5; double play, Cain, unassisted; Perkins to Menzies; left on bases, Peterborough five, Lindsay three; hit by pitcher, by Workman 3; sacrifice hits, Flaherty, 2, Sharpe.

DROWNED MAN IS IDENTIFIED

Was English Immigrant Had Been Minister and Lawyer

A Lindsay despatch says: Coroner Wood informs us that the man recently found drowned near Cameron village, has been identified as John Maw, an English immigrant from Yorkshire. He had been laboring on farms around Little Britain and Valentia, previous to the tragedy, and was identified by a Valentia farmer, C. H. Stokes, by means of a locket the victim had received when working at his place.

The poor fellow was well educated, being a minister and later a lawyer in England. He was about 35 years old.

Three Hotel Men Fined at Tweed

A fine of $10 and costs in each case amounting to about $13.50, was imposed last week, upon the proprietors of the three hotels in Tweed, in connection with the recent charges of selling liquor to minors. The charges were laid before Magistrate Bowlby, and all three hotelmen pleaded guilty.

Lawn Hose Was Taken Last Night

Party Walked onto H. P. Kennedy's Lawn and Stole 100 Feet of New Hose

Mr. H. P. Kennedy had a loss last night which was one of the boldest thefts that has been reported for a long time. Last week he bought a new piece of rubber lawn hose 100 ft. long. It was left on the lawn during the evening and as it was bright moonlight it was not thought that anyone would dare touch it. But between 9.30 and 11 o'clock some one went into the yard and cut the hose off the tap and carried it away with the sprinkler. Mr. Kennedy has a pretty fair idea who it is and he gives them a few hours to put the hose back.

Pays Tribute to Local Army Band

A rare musical treat was experienced by the people of Campbellford on Thursday evening, when the Peterborough Salvation Army corps visited the town. The concert given in the opera house was one of the best ever presented before a Campbellford audience. The officers here feel pleased with the impression left by the Peterborough bandsmen, and should they choose to call into requisition the services of so select a number of musicians, a crowd is already assured.—Campbellford Herald.

Yankee Consuls' Work Increased

Have Now Five Times as Much Work to do as Formerly

The United States consuls in Canada have five times as much work to do now as formerly. Those now in office had to undergo a severe examination test of their knowledge of matters connected with this work.

Within the past year the duties of the consuls have been greatly increased. Those on the border have been asked to look into the question of smuggling from Canada particularly of furs, of which large amounts go from this district. They have also now to pay attention to the registration of United States citizens of their districts, and see that such citizens claims are genuine.

IS WATER LOW OR IS IT NOT?

The Lindsay Post says: Owing to the low water and a large crowd of passengers, the Esturion had to stop at the lower wharf yesterday, and the Kathleen followed suit this morning. Both boats will continue to make that point their stopping place until further notice.

The Post also says: Curious, isn't it! The captains of the steamers Esturion and Kathleen say the water in the river is growing less day by day, rendering it impossible for their crafts to reach the upper wharf. On the other hand, Lockmaster John Makins, who enters up the levels for transmission to Supt. McClelland, says there has been only a trifling variation in the last two weeks and that yesterday, the water was a quarter of an inch higher than usual. And there you are! Quick march! Shoulder your baskets!

Thousand Farm Laborers Wanted

Thousands of farm laborers are wanted in all parts of Manitoba and the Northwest, and the C.P.R. is making great preparations for handling them. Three special excursions will be run out at greatly reduced fares and all those who desire to see the West and to earn some money while out there, will do well to take advantage of this opportunity. All information can be had at the C.P.R. city ticket office.

Newfoundland is to have a new bank, the National bank, with a capital of $2,000,000.

Decline in Land Values in Calgary

Prices Were Inflated Beyond all Reason—Money is Scare

In a letter to a business man in this city, a former resident of Peterborough writes interestingly on the conditions in Calgary. "We have had a very cool summer here. I have not had occasion to perspire more than one day so far. There has also been an exceptionally generous rainfall, quite enough to give the C.P.R. irrigation scheme the merry ha, ha. I do not think Calgary will ever see a real estate boom like the past. The people made hogs of it, and expanded values until they wont expand any further. The banks have shut down tight and money is scarce. However, if the wheat dodges the frost and prices go to the dollar mark, there will be something doing. Rents are high here and living on the whole about thirty per cent dearer than in Peterborough.

This is the country—not so much for the wage earner—as for owning land or being in business. It is largely self out here, and the interests of the individual municipality."

EXHIBIT AT TORONTO FAIR

J. J. Turner & Son Will Have Splendid Display

Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons are busy getting their exhibit for the Toronto fair fixed up. Messrs. Reg. and John Turner are now in the city putting up the four tents and other members of the staff are finishing up the big flag and the code signals. The flag is a Union Jack 40 feet by 20 feet, and is the largest one that was ever manufactured. It contains 240 yards of the best wool bunting and inscribed on it is "Exhibit of J. J. Turner & Sons, of Peterborough." This great ensign will be floated over the four tents and will be seen from all parts of the grounds. Two large metal flag staffs 60 feet high, have been erected and the flag will float from both of these. On the outside of each pole will float a burgee 15 feet long with J. J. Turner & Sons name inscribed on it. Over the tent will be strung the 27 code signals used in the British navy.

The four tents will be something out of the ordinary. There will be the consumptives tent, which is like a house with regular doors and windows; then comes the silk tent for surveyors and prospectors, with a mosquito door; a small box tent 15x30, and a canoe tent complete the list. The canoe tent is an entirely new idea got out by this firm. It slopes from the front and can be tied to a stump or a tree. It is very compact and gives more room than the ordinary tent.

Messrs. Turner & Sons have won first prize for two years and they expect to take it again this year.

Mrs. Hatner, of Plattsville, ran in front of a train at Paris, Ont., and was killed.

The brewery workers of London, Ont., have been organized with 41 charter members.

THE ELECTION LAW

Mr. Borden at Halifax said that the machinery for punishing bribery and fraud at elections was inadequate. If any proof of this were needed it could be found in the petition to unseat Mr. Roche, M.P., for Halifax. That case has dragged its slow length along since December 13, 1904, almost three years. Naturally when, or rather if, it come to trial on September 3rd next, counsel for the petitioners will have the greatest difficulty in proving their case, says the Toronto News. Witnesses die or move elsewhere, and even those who remain may have difficulty in remembering the sequence of events, or even the events themselves, after so long an interval. Certainly it is not in the public interest that an election case should be delayed for three years, or even for months, after the filing of the petition. The appointment of an independent public prosecutor to handle all election cases is a suggestion wholly admirable. It might be found that the existing laws are sufficient, if they were properly enforced against Liberals and Conservatives alike. These laws as they stand seem designed to cover every likely form of electoral corruption. Yet in spite of them the London bye-election took place, and since the accused "workers" were committed for trial, nothing has happened. It is too early yet to say that nothing will happen, but a glance at the Roche case induces doubts. A public prosecutor, with a free hand, could surely expedite election court business, and free certain judges from suspicions which may or may not be unjust.

Mr. Borden proposes to prevent the accumulation of campaign funds for corrupt purposes, and to prohibit contributions from corporations, contractors and promoters. But even now no politician will admit that such funds exist. Ministers say in the witness-box that they do not know of any funds, what if there is money laid up for a political rainy day, they have not the faintest idea who is the treasurer. Secretaries of political committees make similar declarations. And yet when a bye-election comes on in a doubtful constituency ten-dollar bills are as plentiful as fallen leaves in November. Where does the money come from? This is the question, and while most of the members of the inner circle could make a shrewd guess, they never do their guessing in court. If there were a fearless public prosecutor whose main duty in life was to keep elections clean, he might trace campaign funds to their source, and, perhaps, incidentally, institute some actions for perjury. But without such an official, Mr. Borden and his party might make such laws from now till doomsday without changing appreciably present conditions. All laws touching controverted elections, saw-offs, campaign contributions and corrupt practices are valuable only when they are enforced. Enforcement is generally difficult under partisan auspices. Therefore, if the Conservative leader is in earnest in his hatred of crooked election work—and no doubt he is—it might be better for him to concentrate his campaign on the appointment of a non-partisan prosecutor similar in status to the Auditor-General.

A COSTLY INSTITUTION

Some of the expenses connected with the establishment of a Canadian branch of the royal mint at Ottawa may appeal to some as a move intended to erect an institution that will furnish big salaries to those who are fortunate enough to get on the list. An Ottawa correspondent points out that the building as completed, with the grounds and the walls, will have cost close upon $400,000. The equipment, furnishings and machinery will probably bring the bill to considerably over half a million. Four of the officers have already been engaged. The Canadian master of the mint, Mr. Bonar, starts out with a salary of $5,500, and the contract provides for increases to $6,500. Mr. Cleve, the superintendent, is now paid $3,500, but will later receive $4,500. Two foremen have salaries of $1,200, to start with, and promises of increases. These four officers will thus draw some $12,500 a year, with certain expenses additional. Now, it may surprise the reader to know that $12,500 a year is more than the average amount paid by the Dominion for the manufacture of all its coins, silver and bronze, during the last 12 years. By arrangement with the royal mint in England Canadian silver coins are manufactured at 3 per cent. of the face value. As the average quantity obtained has been about $200,000 a year, the cost of this service was $6,000. During the last three years the quantity of silver coins has been larger, averaging about $600,000 in consequence of the exportation of United States coin and the return to the treasury of worn money. But even in these years the average yearly outlay was only $18,000, to which may be added $1,000 or $2,000 a year for cents. At most the average cost of coining the silver, bronze or nickel required in Canada for many years to come would not be more than $20,000 to $30,000—or about twice as much as the country will pay in salaries to four officials of the mint. The interest charge on the cost of this mint at the present rate will be $20,000 a year. Maintenance and repairs, heat, light and motive power will amount to a large sum, as those matters are managed in public buildings at Ottawa. A force of mechanics, mostly brought from abroad, will be employed. There will be the usual large army of secretaries, stenographers, clerks, porters, and doorkeepers. Although the annual charge, without the sinking fund, will probably run over $100,000. All for the performance of a service which has hitherto cost the country less than $10,000 a year. It is true that Mr. Fielding supported the mint proposition by pointing out that there was only fifty cents' worth of silver in each of a dollar face value, making $100,000 profit in $200,000 coinage. But this does not affect the question, because the profit has been received without a Canadian mint. If the $100,000 of profit has gone to the mint in England, the Minister's argument would have been sound. But the mint of England took only its 3 per cent, and the Canadian Government has always had the rest. As the country only pays the 3 per cent., so the total earnings of the Canadian mint must come out of that.

Important Gold Discovery Made up Montreal River

By Mr. W. H. Fletcher and Mr. J. L. Garvin, Brother of J. W Garvin of Peterborough—One of the Few Big Discoveries Made on American Continent.

Between 60 and 80 miles from Latchford, Ont., up the Montreal River, a few miles north and south of the Hudson Bay post, Fort Matachewan the east and west branches of the river, after flowing many miles northward, make two immense bends as they turn into the main river flowing south eastward, says the Ottawa Journal of August 21st. These bends are known in that region as the North Bend and the South Bend.

Near the apex of the latter, a couple of miles west of Willison township, in the latter half of June last, Mr. W. H. Fletcher, representing Salkeld & Co., of Cobalt, Ont., and Mr. Jos. L. Garvin, B.A., of Ottawa, representing himself, Judge A. Constantineau, of Ottawa, and Mr. J. W. Garvin, B.A., of Peterborough and Ottawa, who were prospecting opposite Willison township in the Temagami reserve, discovered numerous large gold quartz veins, and since then they and their assistants have staked out 15 valuable claims. The quartz is of the milk quartz variety and shows free milling gold on the surface. The first discovery was made by Mr. W. H. Fletcher and the second and third by Mr Jos. L. Garvin and the fourth by Mr. Jules Mourey of Argenteuil County, Que. who accompanied Mr. Garvin.

Mr. Fletcher is an experienced and expert gold miner, and is of the opinion that the gold discovery made by him and Mr. Garvin is one of the most important made in Canada, and he is also of the opinion that it is one of the few big discoveries made on the American continent.

Mr. Fletcher's opinion has just been confirmed by Mr. J. T. Carmody, a well known mining engineer of Cobalt, who has had experience in the gold mines of Arizona, Australia and South Africa. Mr. Carmody has just inspected and reported on the claims in the interest of one of the large financial institutions of Canada.

One of the veins when stripped measured 35 feet in width and the others from four to eight feet.

Mr. Garvin, who has just returned from South Bend, states that four of the five discoveries made by him and his assistants, and which were staked out by him, show on the surface of the veins free gold visible to the unaided eye.

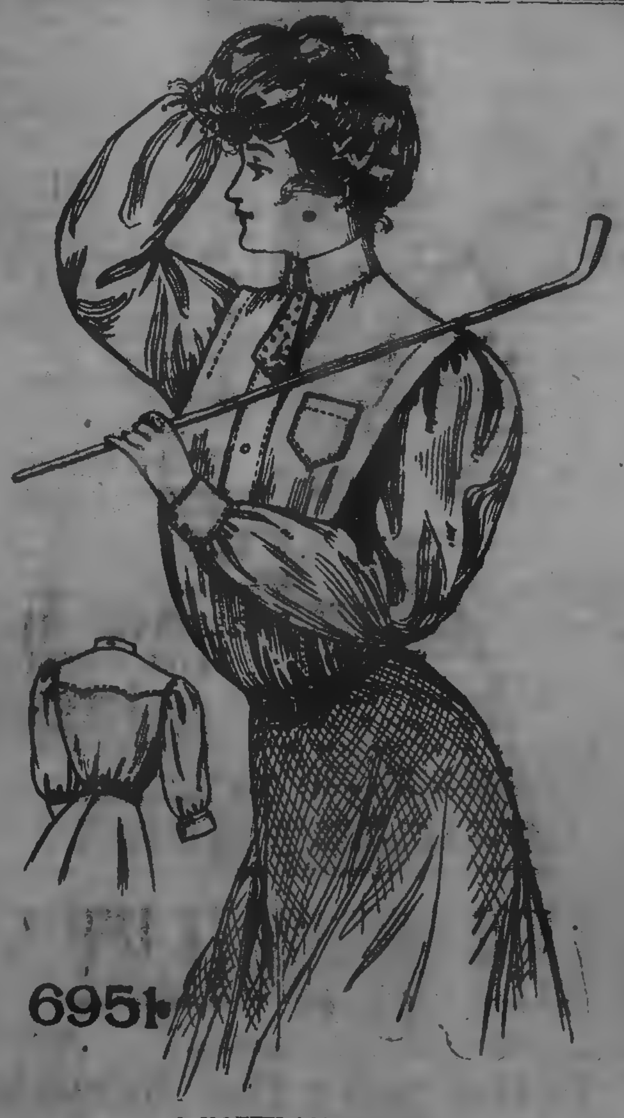
Talk on Public Library; Valuable Information Given

Rev, Mr. Bradley of Berlin, Vice President of the Public Libray Association of Ontario, Was Seen by the Mayor and Chairman of the Property Committee.

An interesting visitor to the city is Rev W H Bradley of Berlin. He is the chairman of the Berlin public library board and vice president of the public library association of Ontario. He was met by Mr. Wm. Pringle and went to see the building on Simcoe street, which has recently been donated to the city by Mr. Richard Hall, trustee for the Nicholls estate. They were later joined at the building by His Worship Mayor McWilliams, and Ald. McIntyre, chairman of property committee.

These four gentlemen then discussed public library matters at some length and with much profit to the local people. Rev. Mr. Bradley was shown the three plans which are before the council for the remodelling of the building and he was decidedly in favor of plan No. 2, which does away with the second storey and combines the whole space in one. His reason was that it gave more air and light which are two of the most important features of a public library. Lots of light is especially essential in the stack room and plan No. 2 gives both of these. The reverend gentleman, however did not entirely agree with all the features of this plan. He was strongly in favor of giving the public access to the stack room, except for fiction. Another matter he mentioned was that the idea of furnishing a ladies' reading room aside from the general reading room, was not so much in favor as it used to be. It means a duplication of newspapers and magazines and the number who use it does not warrant the expenditure. The only other way to get around it would be to cut the general reading room short, which would be unsatisfactory. He favored having as much of the used space as possible on the one floor in order to keep down the expense of the staff. If two floors are used, attendants have to be on both floors, which is not a necessary expenditure in a city this size. The reading rooms and stack room on the ground floor with the librarian's office in the centre is much more convenient for all parties and more easily supervised.

Speaking of the front for the building Rev. Mr. Bradley thinks it would be advisable to have more light than any of the plans provide in order to make up for the lack of light from the sides. He strongly advised that a committee visit the new libraries in Western Ontario, and he mentioned Guelph, Galt, Berlin, Paris and Brantford, as they can all be reached by electric car and only a minimum amount of time would be used in covering the territory. Then all these towns and cities have new libraries ranging in cost from $10,000 to $35,000.



A NATTY SHIRT WAIST

To the woman who realizes the importance of good style in every detail of dress the well-cut, trimly-built shirt waist here sketched will appeal with special force. The broad-shouldered effect secured by the deep tucks stitched over the shoulders will be found particularly becoming. The sleeves may be made either in full or shorter length mode with a choice of two styles of cuff. It is to be noted that the fastenings of both waist and sleeves consist of small pearl buttons, a rather agreeable change from the usual studs and cuff buttons. The only possible decoration for the waist is machine stitching. The correct neck finishing is a linen collar, of which any preferred style may be worn. The waist as sketched is developed in linen, but it may be made of any material that will bear tubbing. For the medium size 3 7-8 yards of 27 inch goods will be required.

6951.—Six sizes, from 32 to 42 inches bust measure.

Dyspepsia Is Often Caused By Catarrh of the Stomach—Peruna Relieves Catarrh of the Stomach and Is Therefore a Remedy For Dyspepsia.

Hon. M. C. Butler, Ex-U. S. Senator from South Carolina for two terms, in a letter from Washington, D. C., writes to the Peruna Medicine Co., as follows:

"I can recommend Peruna for dyspepsia and stomach trouble. I have been using your medicine for a short period and I feel very much relieved. It is indeed a wonderful medicine, besides a good tonic."

CATARRH of the stomach is the correct name for most cases of dyspepsia. In order to cure catarrh of the stomach the catarrh must be eradicated.

Only an internal catarrh remedy, such as Peruna, is available.

Peruna exactly meets the indications.

Queen Alexandra Circle Meeting

Address From Companion Geo. Record Who Has Been in the West for Two Years

There was a large attendance of members at the regular meeting of Queen Alexandra Circle No. 136 A.O.F. held on Wednesday evening in the S.O.E. hall. The Chief Companion, Mrs. Stevens, presided. Mrs. Scott occupied the sub-chief chair in the absence of Mrs. Head, who is delegate to the High Circle in London, now in session. No less than eleven candidates were duly initiated into the Circle. A pleasant feature was the return of Companion Geo. Record, who has been in the west for the past two years. He was pleased to meet with the Companions again and was delighted to see so many new members and the interest they were taking in the Circle.

Speeches were also made by Companions T. Hendry, R. J. McWilliams and J. O. Moss. After the business was concluded light refreshments were served to all present and a very sociable time was spent.

At the regular meeting, Sept. 4th, a report of the High Circle meeting will be given by Delegate Mrs. Head so let there be a full attendance of members.

GREAT PROGRESS

The Free Press is in receipt of a letter from Joseph O. Green, of Kamsack, Sask., who took up one of the Doukhobor homesteads which were thrown open in that locality this spring. He states that he was employed on the street railway here before homesteading and that he is perfectly satisfied with the change he has made. A wonderful alteration has been made in that section during the past few years. He sends a copy of a paper from Antigonish, N.S., containing an interview with a man from Kamsack, who returned to his home on a visit in 1909. The interview tells of hauling stuff to market for two hundred miles, where now the railways are close at hand.—Winnipeg Free Press.

Western Canada Wheat Crop May Suffer from Frost Tonight

Much Damage Done Last Night in North Dakota—Loss Estimated at from Ten to Fifty Per Cent.—Worst August Frost Since 1883.

A special despatch to Messrs. J. R. Heintz & Co., of this city, from Chicago today, states that the weather in the west is cool and that they are predicting frost in the Northwest this evening. Considerable uneasiness prevails.

A despatch from Chicago conveys the information that the frost in North Dakota last night was the worst that has occurred in the month of August in that State since 1883. The damage is estimated at ten per cent. Another message from Minneapolis says that in the Devil's Lake district the damage by frost is very severe, and that the yield has been reduced fifty per cent. in that section.

As a result of the rather disappointing outlook wheat and corn on the Chicago stock exchange went up three cents a bushel today and oats two cents.

Former Peterborough Man Tried To End His Life with Laudanum

A despatch from Toronto refers to an attempt of Mr. Thomas Brady of that city, formerly of Peterborough, who attempted to end his life by taking a dose of laudanum. Brady lived in Peterborough for many years. He worked for Mr. Mulhern, who then conducted the Otonabee Mills, later owned by Mr. McAllister.

Brady afterwards went into the flour and feed and grocery business at the corner of Brock and George streets, in the stand now occupied by the George Matthews Co. He left here some years ago for Toronto. The despatch says;

After purchasing a two-ounce bottle of laudanum at McDermitt's drug store, Queen and Sherbourne streets, Toronto, Thomas Brady went to his home at 106 Shuter street and emptied one and one-half ounces down his throat.

Brady's wife found him in a stupor and knowing that her husband often resorted to drugs, she suspected the cause of his condition. Dr. McConnel was called and Brady was taken to St. Michael's hospital and at a late hour it was reported that he would live.

Last December Brady took an overdose of laudanum, and almost succumbed.

Little Girl Fell into Well; Had Narrow Escape from Death

A little girl about five years of age, whose home is in Toronto, but who is the guest of friends in east city, had an experience yesterday afternoon which to say the least was not very pleasant.

For some time the child's life was in danger. It appears that the little Toronto visitor went over to spend the day with a friend on Wescott-st., and with a number of other small children was playing in the vicinity of a well. Unfortunately the well was not covered and not noticing the hole, the tot, who was running about stepped into the opening, falling to the bottom. Had the water been very deep the child would have been drowned, but as it was, she was badly shaken up and scared. She also received a few bruises. The instant the youngster fell the other children ran for a man who procured a rope and got her out. The little one was terribly frightened, but to-day is alright and is playing around the same as ever.

Pleasant Outing For B.A.C. Boys

All Records Were Broken at "Corn Cob" Contest

The members of the B.A.C. journeyed to Chemong yesterday afternoon and enjoyed one of the best outings in their history. The party were ferryed across the lake to a suitable rendezvous in the wilds of Ennismore by the Dobbin Bros. new gasolene yacht "Dorothy." Elaborate preparations were made for a camp supper by four cooks under the especial direction of Dr. Middleton. In the meantime the rest of the clan were playing baseball in an adjoining field, only adjourning as the musical notes of a fish horn announced the grand event of the evening, the "Corn Cob Contest." All records were broken in this event, last year's champion Mr. William Richardson, being badly beaten by Mr. Wallace Wood. It is understood that he had a clear majority of over 13 cobs. Mr. Bert Boomer just "nosed" out M. P. Hetherington in the watermelon competition. Songs and sage remarks around the camp fire concluded a particularly happy evening.

Disturber Was Heavily Fined

Aftermath of Row on Hunter St. in Police Court

Police Magistrate Dumble was again in his place at the police court this morning, and a number of cases, chiefly disputes between neighbors, were settled by him. Two of the cases today were very amusing and Chief Rossel was obliged to call order several times as the crowd burst into laughter at the funny sayings of the parties interested.

The aftermath of the row on Hunter street, east, on Tuesday evening was heard this morning in the police court, when John Robinson was charged with assaulting Lillian Mary Bateson. This case was very laughable, and the compliments fired at each other on the night of the fracas, were repeated this morning with equally as much enthusiasm. Robinson pleaded not guilty.

Mrs. Lillian Bateson went into the box. She said that on Tuesday night she was about to go home after visiting her mother-in-law, who lives in rented rooms at Mr. John Robinson's. Out on the walk, from the house to the sidewalk, witness said that the defendant struck her with his fist, giving her a "black" eye. She did not know his reason. Robinson was allowed to question the witness.

"Didn't tell you to keep out of the house?" said Mr. Robinson.

"No, sir," was the reply.

"Now, you are a Salvationist, and mustn't tell a falsehood," said Robinson, but the witness denied being told to "get out."

Mr. Bateson was called. He was an eye-witness of the assault. He said that he was going home, and Robinson and another man were fighting, and he tried to separate them.

John Robinson went into the box. He said that he wished he had knocked the head off Bateson.

"There seems to be murder in your heart, all right," said His Worship.

Witness said that he only tapped Mrs. Bateson on the shoulder. He had forbidden her to come near the house, and "If it was Your Worship that came near the place after I said not to, I would treat you the same way," said Robinson.

"You are fined five dollars," remarked His Worship. "You mustn't strike a woman"

"How much more will you take and let me give the scoundrel a d——d good trimming?" said Robinson.

He paid his fine and then started off in pursuit of his enemy, vowing vengeance upon him.

OTHER CASES

The case of two lady residents on Elm street for using grossly insulting language to each other, was dismissed by His Worship. He thought that if the women could not live agreeably they better move about a mile away from each other.

Rolly McClelland was fined $2 for trespassing on John Williams' field, and also for milking his cow. It appears that this boy and a number of others went into the field and milked a good large pail of milk from a cow in the field, and when they saw Mr. Williams coming, upset the pail. His Worship imposed the above fine, saying it would teach boys to leave other people's cows alone.

DRUNK AND DISORDERLY.

Fred Eastland pleaded guilty to being drunk and disorderly last evening. Mr. C. Nixon said that the prisoner was drunk and wanted to fight in his hotel. Eastland was fined two dollars and costs, amounting to $6.60, to be paid forthwith, which he paid.

Robert Smith pleaded not guilty to being drunk on August 12th. The case was not proven and His Worship dismissed the charge.

STOCK MARKET QUOTATIONS

New York, Aug. 23.—The news this morning was mostly of a negative character, and it was though probable, therefore, that the market would continue to be influenced by technical conditions. Such pressure as there was upon the active stocks came almost entirely from the professional element. The volume of transactions was smaller and tended to become smaller as prices receded. Absence of liquidation was acted upon short selling. While we do not think the situation sufficiently clear as yet to permit an extensive movement, some further improvement would be logical in view of the violent decline.

In the afternoon, when wheat and corn advanced so violently on reports of damage by frosts in the northwest, the stocks sagged off quite fast, losing two points or more and closing well toward the low for the day.

Great Game Will be Played Tomorrow

How Peterborough and Cobourg are Shaping for the Contest

The local baseball nine had their final workout in preparation for tomorrow's big game with Cobourg, yesterday, when they defeated Lindsay's senior aggregation at the Riverside Park.

It was a good practice game, and the homesters are now in fine form for tomorrow's battle with the lakeside town. Everybody is going to see this contest, that will decide who will play off with Port Hope for the championship of the Midland League. Cobourg is bringing a strong team, which is further strengthened with four imports. Sutton of the Tri-State ball league will do the twirling for the visitors.

The locals will also be greatly strengthened. Joe Hickey, of Toronto will be on first base and Jim O'Hearn will be on third. Weekes of Bowmanville, will umpire the game.

The team for tomorrow will be picked from the following men,—Burns, Cheatham, Burridge, O'Hearn, Haliburton, Hickey, Callaghan, Anderson, Flaherty, Graham, Quinlan, and Johnson. Jack Connors will not be able to play.

A large number will see this game. A special car will be attached to the regular from Port Hope and a large crowd is expected from both Cobourg and Port Hope.

NASSAU

Rev. Dr. Langfeldt will open a Sunday school at Nassau Orange lodge on Sunday, Sept. 1st, at 2.30. The service will begin at 3.15.

Simon Marshall Was Acquitted

No Evidence to Show That Furs Were Smuggled

A Lindsay despatch says: — The case against Simon Marshall on a charge of having beaver skins, supposed to come from Algonquin Park, illegally in his possession on June 20, was re-opened yesterday morning. The witnesses examined were James Horn, Stratford Barnett, the expressman; T. M. Beloh, the assistant at Kinmount, and Constable Jones, of Fenelon Falls. Practically no evidence was brought out to show that Marshall shipped the furs, or that there really were furs shipped at all in the bale of wool, as alleged.

The Magistrate referred to the carelessness of the express people in handling the bale and keeping track of it.

The case was closed before 1 o'clock yesterday, and County Magistrate Moore acquitted the accused.

Sergt Mayor Fee is Progressing

Recovering Nicely From the Effect of the Assault Upon Him Some Weeks Ago

Dr Blanchard, V.S., has received a letter from Sergt.-Major Fee of the 24th Field Battery, who was injured by being struck in the eye by some toughs while on the train on the way to Petawawa camp, in June last. The sergeant major is still in a hospital in Toronto but is making good progress and his many friends hope to meet him in Peterborough in a few weeks.

Many Heard the Band Concert

In Victoria Park Last Evening—An Excellent Programme

The band concert season is now drawing to a close and there are only one or two of these delightful entertainments to be given in Victoria Park for this year.

Last night the crowd at the park was the largest yet. The programme was excellent and received loud applause, several numbers being encored. The cornet solo, "My Rosary" by Bandsman Hughes was exceedingly well rendered and was well received. What caught on with the crowd was Renwick's hits, which contains a number of the latest and most popular songs, and the band was forced to repeat these. The medley of popular songs also was a great favorite. Godfrey's "Reminiscences of Ireland" was also an enjoyable number. The concert on the whole last evening was one of the finest ever given and is one of the programmes to be provided on the occasion of the band's visit to the Toronto exhibition.

Following is the programme;

March, Dunlap Commanding.

Overture, Morning, Noon and Night in Vienna.

Cornet Solo, "My Rosary," Bandsman Hughes.

Concert Mazurka, "Amourroso."

Medley, "Renwick's hits No. 2." (this is new) introducing the song, "The Story the Church Bells Tolled."

Euphonium Solo, Third Air Vary, Bandsman Cronk.

Medley, Selection of Popular Songs.—New.

Godfrey's Reminiscences of Ireland.

God Save the King.

City is Free From Contagious Diseases

No Cases of Typhoid are Traceable to City Water

There are no cases of contagious diseases in the city at present. This is a very gratifying state of affairs. Dr. Bingham, medical health officer, reports that the general health of the city is good. Although there are several cases of typhoid fever in the hospitals, Dr. Bingham states that so far as he has been able to learn not one case of typhoid has broken out the cause of which is directly traceable to the drinking of city water. The disease has been contracted in every instance outside the city limits.

Norwood Ladies Were the Hostesses

One of the most enjoyable parties of the season was given on Monday evening by the Misses Robertson, of Norwood, and Preston of Tweed, at their camp at the eastern end of Stoco Lake. Invitations on birch bark were issued to about forty guests for Friday evening, but owing to the heavy rain the affair was postponed until Monday evening. Shortly after seven o'clock two jolly boat loads left town and enjoyed a very pleasant sail down the lake. About the time they reached Stoney Point the camp, which was gaily lighted with Chinese lanterns and a huge bonfire, appeared in sight. On their arrival the guests were given a most cordial reception and the freedom of the camp was thrown open to them. Entranced by the delightful surroundings all seemed to be in the best of humor and the guests were not bored by any attempt at entertaining. Refreshments were served in Mr. Robertson's house-boat at a suitable hour and after enjoying the delightful surroundings for a short time the return trip was made, reaching Tweed shortly after midnight. The guests were unanimous in saying that their hostesses had provided a most delightful evening.—Tweed News.

Mrs. Harry Thaw is on Vacation

Yarmouth, N. S., Aug. 23. — Mrs. Evelyn Thaw of New York, accompanied by her brother, arrived on the Prince Arthur from New York. Mrs. Thaw is going to a quiet place between Liverpool and Shelbourne, where she will spend several weeks in an effort to recover her health. Soon after the boat arrived, she and her escort boarded a train. Here and at Bridgetown, where the train stopped there was a rush of curious people to see the young woman. The women especially, showed unusual interest in watching Mrs. Thaw.

IF THEY TAKE PAIL OF WATER

From Scugog River Lindsay Citizens Feel Sensation of Guilt

Peterborough citizens are not suffering much from low water in the river. The papers of yesterday, referring to an excursion, says: This steamer left on her return trip about eight o'clock, and the journey home was somewhat slow on account of the condition of the water, which is about six inches below its normal height......Just fancy! Here the Scugog has dwindled to a shallow creek and citizens of high principle feel a sensation of guilt when they have occasion to dip a pail or two. That is because they realize that the water may be needed for Peterborough's industries.—Lindsay Post.

Water in Lake Scugog is Low

The water in Lake Scugog is said to be lower than for many years past, and our fishermen are apprehensive that if a severe winter occurs the result will be another general freeze-out of fish. The people of Port Perry and the country roundabout, seem to have forgotten that the Trent Canal is supposed to extend to that village. They should get busy and petition the government to maintain the level for navigation purposes.—Lindsay Post.

Some Delights of "Batching it"

Mr. W. A. Russell, John street, who is at present keeping batch, was taken by surprise last evening, when fifteen of his gentlemen friends took possession of his home. William extended his guests a warm welcome, and a pleasant time was spent in progressive euchre. Music was furnished in abundance, and it was another great night for the merrymakers. Dainty refreshments were served and before the close a flashlight was taken by Mr. H. J. Byers. The evening was one of solid enjoyment, and the unanimous opinion was that "Russell is a great entertainer."

New Master of The High School

Campbellford Board of Education Engages Mr. Sexton of Kemptville

The School Board met on Thursday night last and out of a list of 11 applicants, chose Mr. Sexton, M.A., as principal of the High School. Mr Sexton has been principal of Kemptville High School and is an honor graduate and gold medallist in the Science Department of Queen's University. He comes with high recommendations and will no doubt carry on the work of the school with marked success.

ALL RUN DOWN
Weak---Nervous---Unstrung.

Thousands get run down and become invalids before they realize anything is wrong. By permitting low vitality to develop, the way is paved for fevers, pneumonia and diphtheria. To put off makes it all the harder to get well. The time to repair the system is right now, before the damage gets any worse. The remedy is Ferrozone; it revitalizes, renews, builds up vitality that outlasts old age.

FERROZONE is a genuine invigorator that banishes weakness, and instils surplus force and vigor into every organ of the body. Ferrozone sharpens the appetite, produces rich nutritious blood, and thereby contributes that sense of buoyancy that adds so enormously to one's pleasure and usefulness in life.

For all forms of debility, weakness, lack of blood or nerve tone, sleeplessness, tiredness and exhaustion, there is no medicine so vitalizing and potent as Ferrozone. Even one trial demonstrates its rapidly and certainty of action.

To restore the energy of youth, to get back your vital stamina and reserve force, there is positively no treatment so certain as Ferrozone. You have only to try Ferrozone to know the enormous benefit it invariably brings to all in poor health.

FERROZONE

Miss Dorothy E. Ledue of Chester gives the following convincing evidence of Ferrozone's power:—"My work compels me to rise early in the morning and work ten hours daily as a saleslady. Last Spring I was run down, lost my color, and fell off in weight. I seemed to lack ambition and the life was out of me. A friend recommended Ferrozone, and I took one tablet after meals with wonderful results. Ferrozone brought back my complexion, and has given me new strength and abundance of energy and spirits. I would advise all young ladies to use Ferrozone."

Mrs. H. G. Wilder of Dexter says:—"My daughter was not very well last Winter, and lost her strength completely when the Spring came. I gave her Ferrozone, and am glad to say it did wonders. After six boxes were used my daughter was strong, and looked the picture of health."

Gave New Strength

FERROZONE

It makes the weak strong, the sick well, and assures lasting good health.

WARNING—Beware of any substitute for Ferrozone; it alone can cure you. Sold by all druggists and dealers in medicine, only in 50c boxes containing 50 chocolate-coated tablets. By mail to any address if price is forwarded to N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., or Hartford, Conn., U.S.A.

Senator Cox Gives Evidence At Underwriters' Gathering

Hon. G. A. Cox's Views on New York Insurance Law.

Underwriters' Banquet Brings Convention to a Close—Senator Cox Says He Will Oppose Legislation for Canada Along New York Lines—Laws Should Not Be Too Drastic—Commission on Renewals.

Toronto, Aug. 24.—"It is immaterial, gentlemen, whether we live north or south of some imaginary border line, whether we be subjects of King Edward or citizens of the great republic, we will all of us, I know, most heartily follow the customs of our hosts and begin our proceedings tonight by a toast to the King."

Thus did Charles W. Scovell of Pittsburg, U. S. A., toastmaster at the National Underwriters' Association banquet, open the speechmaking last night. Fully 300 guests were assembled, principally delegates and their wives and daughters from the United States. They rose at once and joined in singing "God Save the King." They fell down, however, in an effort to sing the "Star Spangled Banner" when the President's health was next proposed. It is not usual to drink the President's health in his own country and few Americans ever attempt to sing their National Anthem.

Senator George W. Ross was to respond to the toast of Canada, but in his absence, owing to indisposition, Rev. Canon Cody responded. He greeted the underwriters as "propograndists of thrift." He admired thrift and opposed old-age pensions as calculated to destroy thrift. The canon briefly traced the history of Canada. The country had passed from the crown of France to the crown of Great Britain, and he believed that it was destined to remain permanently a British country. At the same time the Government was free and democratic Canada, if daughter in her mother's house was mistress in her own.

Value of Insurance.

W. F. Cockshutt, president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, was given a cordial reception. He gave an address on the topic "The Value of Life Insurance to the Country at Large," and began by admitting that insurance was one of the greatest factors for the upbuilding of a man's savings and the protection of his heirs.

"What was the destiny of Canada?" The speaker confessed that he could not say. It was enough for us to consider the duty of Canada. It was the duty of Canada to fix upon high ideals and then to try to live up to them. We should avoid the dangers of Socialism. The state could not do everything. There was danger in too much "paternalism," but there could not be too much true fraternity. He extended an eloquent welcome to the American visitors and in return they gave to him when he resumed his seat a magnificent demonstration.

"A Builder of Canada!" Thus it was that the toastmaster introduced Senator George A. Cox, who was greeted with cheers and a chorus proclaiming that "he was a jolly good fellow."

Work of Half a Century.

The Senator spoke of "fifty years of life insurance in Canada." He re[illegible] pride his hard work with the rate book as an insurance solicitor. In that capacity he believed that he had done more good for the country than in any other way, although he had been honored by many positions of power and trust. He had always a soft side for the men in the field. As a rule they were not paid enough. They were the men who did the hard work and who brought in the money and they should get the lion's share of the profit.

The Senator advised the agents in making their contracts with the companies to stipulate for commissions on renewals. They counted far more than the initial commission. Personally he was still getting a commission on policies secured 46 years ago. The Senator denounced section 9 of the New York insurance code. They may try, he said, to pass a similar law in Canada. "Well, gentlemen, I promise you to fight such legislation in and out of Parliament. Any such law will certainly have one vote cast against it."

Charles Jerome Edwards, the newly-elected president, was called upon and briefly responded.

For Workingmen.

London, Aug. 24.—(C. A. P.)—The provost of Glasgow has received from Earl Grey a copy of the Royal Atlas of Canada, issued by the Department of the Interior, with the request that it be placed in the library most frequented by workingmen. Earl Grey states that he knows no publication in any country, which either in form or substance, equals the merit of this Atlas. The provost fulfilled his request.

Cemetery Grant.

Ottawa, Aug. 24.—A grant of 65 acres has been made to the City of Regina for the purposes of a cemetery.

On the recommendation of the Minister of the Interior the lease of lands adjacent to Manitoba to Hon. John M. Kirchhoffer for the purposes of a game preserve have been cancelled.

Crooked Italian Caught.

Port Arthur, Aug. 24.—An Italian who did up local concerns, had a store at Kakabeka Falls. He has been arrested at Niagara Falls, and last night Chief Connors and merchants from here and Fort William left to bring him back. He is accused of skipping out with some thousands of dollars.

Infantry Fight Flames.

Toulon, France, Aug. 24.—The forest fires, which broke out Aug. 15, in the neighborhood of the forts, have again become menacing.

A large force of colonial infantry is engaged in fighting the flames.

Montreal Warehouse Scorched.

Montreal, Aug. 24.—Fire yesterday morning caused $25,000 damage to the Caverhill, Learmont Hardware Co.'s premises and stock.

This fire was in the district where insurance companies have recently been refusing to renew heavy risks.

Transformer Burns.

Welland, Aug. 24.—Fire yesterday afternoon destroyed the transformer house of the Ontario Power Co. here. The cause of the fire is not known. The loss is not great.

FIND THREE SKELETONS.

Manner in Which They Were Buried Suggests Foul Play.

Islington, Aug. 24.—A gruesome discovery was made yesterday morning in this quiet little village.

Robert H. Tier was working in his gravel pit at the rear of his home, when he unearthed three human skeletons, buried about four feet below the surface of the ground. Two of the skeletons are those of adults, and the third that of a child, apparently about one year old.

The appearance of the teeth in one of the adult skulls would suggest that the person had been somewhat advanced in years, while the other skull seemed to belong to someone not over thirty years old at the time of death, as the wisdom teeth were only partially developed.

The skeletons were found in a hole which had been dug out and filled in again, and were all lying in a heap as if they had been thrown in. There is no indication of coffins having been used, and the indiscriminate way in which the skeletons were lying would suggest either foul play or that an epidemic of some kind had broken out and these three victims were thrown in the one grave.

PILOT MOUND'S QUANDARY.

Town Finds Itself Without Houses of Entertainment.

Pilot Mound, Man., Aug. 24—Thursday night was one of the most disorderly in the history of Pilot Mound. All day the roomers and boarders that had been turned out by the closing of the Mound's two hotels as a result of local option paraded the streets in search of other lodgings, and were found grouped together discussing the outcome of the action taken by the hotel proprietors. In the evening those who were still homeless formed a parade and presented a number of temperance leaders with an assortment of eggs. Mayor Baird had to be called, and after some difficulty succeeded in restoring order. Yesterday two arrests were made, and the offenders will appear before Magistrate Preston. During the day a number of travelers stopped at the Mound and had considerable difficulty in finding accommodation. Some of the town laborers are being compelled to drive to Crystal City, a distance of five miles, to get their meals.

AIRSHIPS FOR MOROCCO.

Several Captive Balloons Sent to Casablanca.

Paris, Aug. 24.—Several captive balloons are being forwarded to Casablanca, Morocco, from the army's aerostatic park for use in locating the enemy.

A despatch from Melilla says the rebel Caid Dyalimoul has raided the local tribes and returned to Tetuan with two Imperial caids as prisoners and much booty in his possession.

Washington, Aug. 24.—Cable information has been reported to the State Department to the effect that the bandit Raisuli has defeated the large force sent against him by the Sultan of Morocco in the effort to secure the release of Caid MacLean. According to the report, the important city of Alcazar, which is distant only two days by the caravan route from Tangier, is in great danger.

BOOKMAKERS SUMMONED.

Nine Operators at Fort Erie to Be Prosecuted.

Niagara Falls, Aug. 24.—Summonses to appear in the Police Court has been served on nine bookmakers of the Fort Erie race track. The prosecutions are instituted by Chief Mains of this city, who has been spending a lot of time on the Fort Erie track since the opening of the present race meeting. The informations against the bookmakers were laid before Magistrate Cruickshank of this city, and the charge in each case is keeping a common gambling house. Magistrate Cruickshank will go to Fort Erie on Tuesday, and the cases will be tried before him then.

INJURED AT FALLS.

Four Men Hurt, Being Caught by Bursting Penstock.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Aug. 24.—Late yesterday one of the penstocks of the Niagara Falls Hydraulic Power and Manufacturing Co. burst. Station No. 3 was flooded, and four men caught in the rush of water were injured. They were removed to a hospital, where it was found all of them were seriously bruised. The penstock was nine feet in diameter and two hundred feet high, and it was full of water when the break occurred.

8,000 Prisoners Free.

Bucharest, Roumania, Aug. 24.—King Charles yesterday granted amnesty to those who were implicated in the recent agrarian revolt, with the exception of about 200 militant priests and those already sentenced for murders committed during the uprising.

The prisoners, who total about 8,000, will forthwith be released.

Down on the Yankees.

Rio Janeiro, Aug. 24.—A remarkable change in the attitude of the press towards the United States, is noticeable since the rating of Brazil, in the permanent court proposition at The Hague, became known. A number of the papers are inviting Latin-America to array itself against "Yankee pretensions."

Bookkeepers in the Pen.

Kingston, Aug. 24.—There are about 450 convicts in the penitentiary. The number is growing less each year, due to the ticket-of-leave system. McGill, Phillips and Martineau are cheerfully doing the work of bookkeepers, for which there is much work.

"Black Hand" Again.

Coaldale, Pa., Aug. 24.—While Frank Pennolas and Samuel Ambrose were walking together along Ridge street yesterday they were attacked by several men and stabbed to death.

The crime is charged to the members of the "Black Hand."

The G.N.W. Telegraph Company refuse to remove their poles from Colborne street, Brantford.

THE MEDICINAL VALUE OF FRESH FRUIT JUICES

One of the Greatest Wonders of the Age.

Hundreds Have Been Made Well by Taking Advantage of an Ottawa Physician's Discovery.

Everyone knows how beneficial fruit is, when eaten regularly. Fruit is nature's laxative—the finest kidney regulator—and the ideal skin tonic. Unfortunately, the medicinal principle of fruit occurs only in minute quantities. In order to consume enough fruit to relieve Biliousness, one would also consume a large amount of woody fibre or pulp, which would upset the stomach and impair digestion.

An Ottawa physician discovered a way to get around these difficulties. He pressed the juice from apples, oranges, figs and prunes—and then forced one more atom of the bitter principle from the discarded orange peels, into the concentrated juices. This formed a new compound, having all the curative effects of fresh fruit—and in a highly intensified degree. Then valuable tonics and internal antiseptics were added and the whole pressed into tablets.

These are "Fruit-a-tives" the wonderful Liver Tablets you hear so much about. "Fruit-a-tives" cure the most obstinate cases of non-action of the bowels, biliousness, headaches, sleeplessness, nervousness, kidney trouble, rheumatism, sciatica and neuralgia. They are the greatest blood purifying medicine in the world, while their action on the skin, in clearing and beautifying the complexion, is nothing short of marvelous. Ask your druggist for "Fruit-a-tives" and see that you get them. 50c a box, 6 for $2.50. By mail, postpaid, from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa. 118

FATAL BLUNDER.

London Paper Says Sir Edward Grey Should Guard Fisheries.

London, Aug. 24.—(C. A. P.)—The Standard says that Sir Edward Grey will be committing a blunder fatal to his well-earned reputation if he allows himself to be used a second time as an instrument of Americans enterprise. England cannot expect that the people and Government of Newfoundland will assent to a confirmation of the anomalous oppressive interference with their rights.

Italian Uses Knife.

Bridgeburg, Aug. 24.—A man by the name of Moxon, who works as a fitter at the Canadian Ship Yards here, was seriously wounded yesterday afternoon by being stabbed three times by an Italian.

The trouble arose by the Italian stepping on some work which Moxon was doing, when he struck the Italian.

RAILWAY CO. IS BLAMED

Finding of the Jury in the Essex Disaster.

Fatal Car Was Four Days on Way—No Precautions Were Taken—Regulations Ignored—Dynamite Produced In Court—Railway Official Admits Negligence—Many Claims For Damages Settled.

Windsor, Aug. 24.—Gross negligence on the part of the Michigan Central was charged in the verdict of the coroner's jury at the Essex inquest yesterday afternoon. Witnesses were called to trace the car from Black Rock to Essex. The evidence went to show that it was four days on the way, being sent on the morning of Aug. 6, reaching St. Thomas on the evening of Aug. 7, and remaining there until the morning of the ninth, then being shipped to Essex, where it was kept until the next morning—the day of the explosion.

It went all the distance as way freight, stops being made at Welland, St. Thomas and Ridgetown before reaching Essex to unload and receive consignments.

The regulations concerning shipments of explosives were produced and called for special construction of cars. The evidence was to the effect that no precautions were taken by the railway employes.

Six trainmen were called, and only one had seen the regulations. Conductor Barry said it had been the rule to send a despatch ahead of dynamite cars, but this had not been done.

A case of dynamite belonging to the same consignment was produced, and an expert, Frederick Julian, employed by the consignors, the Pluto Powder Co., testified that the dynamite was properly manufactured.

Superintendent Adams of the Michigan Central admitted that the car was not handled as it should have been, but he would not admit the explosion was due to that.

The jury were out 20 minutes before returning the verdict. Crown Attorney Rodd would not make a statement as to whether he would institute criminal proceedings or not.

The verdict against the railway company caused no surprise, particularly in view of the fact that claims agents of the Michigan Central have been on the ground ever since the explosion, quietly making what arrangements for settlement were possible with those whose property was destroyed or damaged. Claims amounting to over $20,000 have already been settled in this way, and it is expected that practically a full settlement will be reached without recourse to the courts.

FOUR MEN ENTOMBED.

Caught In Cave-in In Pennsylvania Mine.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Aug. 24.—Four of the miners who were Thursday caught in a cave-in in No. 14 tunnel of the Pennsylvania Coal Co., near here, are still entombed, and it is believed they are dead. The voice of James Boyle, one of the entombed men, was heard at 2 o'clock yesterday morning, but since then silence has reigned in the vicinity of the cave-in. Boyle's companions are Peter Flynn, John Koening and Joseph Koening. The cave-in was caused by a heavy fall of rock. Six men were entombed, but two of them crawled from under some of the debris after several hour's effort. Of these Michael Naghton was badly injured, but the other man escaped unhurt. Rescuing parties working in shifts labored all night to free the men still in the mine.

RAMMED AND SUNK BARGE.

Steamer Imperial's Steering Gear Went Wrong.

Montreal, Aug. 24.—The steamer Imperial, belonging to the St. Lawrence Navigation Co., rammed and sank a barge yesterday afternoon in the St. Lawrence River. The Imperial was leaving for Quebec on her regular trip, and had just got nicely started when her steering gear went wrong and she headed at full speed for the dock. Her engines were reversed too late, and she crashed into the barge, which was unloading brick, and sank her. There were six people on board the barge, but they escaped in time. The barge lies 35 feet under water, with 60,000 bricks on board. The Imperial backed off and proceeded on her way to Quebec, as if nothing happened.

TERRIBLE SNAKE FIGHT

New Jersey Blaster's Battle With Poisonous Reptile.

Attacked by Huge Pilot Snake—Was Swinging Over Chasm In Mid-Air on Rope Ladder—Serpent Crawled Down — Fought With One Hand While Clinging to Rope With the Other.

New York, Aug. 24.—A despatch to The Herald from Trenton, N. J., says—Half a dozen laborers and fifty or more convicts at the stone quarries of the Mercer County workhouse farm yesterday helplessly watched John Hutchinson, blaster, as he fought for half an hour in mid-air with a big mountain pilot snake, a poisonous species, that had crawled down a rope ladder to attack him as he was swinging half-way to the bottom of a chasm one hundred and fifty feet in depth, preparing to place a dynamite blast.

None was able to render aid, and Hutchinson was obliged to fight alone until he beat off the reptile with an iron drill in his one hand, while he clung to a rope with the other. He dared not drop the dynamite lest he cause an explosion that would have blown him to pieces, and he was obliged to keep a tight hold on the rope or fall to the bottom of the pit. He slipped the dynamite into his pocket, and as the snake dropped within his reach he struck it with a small drill. The swinging of the rope spoiled his aim and he missed. He struck again and again, the snake's progress was impeded, and finally it uncoiled from the rope and dropped to the pit below.

Hutchinson signalled for help and was drawn to the top in an almost exhausted condition. As he stepped back two other pilot snakes struck at him, but his heavy boots blocked their fangs. They were quickly killed.

PRAYER PREVENTS MURDER.

Incidentally It Keeps Desperate Man Behind the Bars.

Philadelphia, Aug. 24.—Prayer prevented the escape of a prisoner from the Mt. Holly jail early yesterday morning. George R. Clark, who recently attempted to murder Thomas J. Barrell, had his plans to flee from the institution, but his threat to kill Joseph Misler, his cell-mate, proved his undoing.

Clark was engaged in removing bricks from a chimney in his cell. The noise awoke Misler, and when Clark realized that his effort to escape had been discovered, he removed the blade from a razor, rushed toward Misler and commanded him to pray, saying: "I am going to kill you and then commit suicide."

Misler prayed so fervently that Charles Williams, a "trusty" prisoner, heard his voice. Williams summoned Deputy Sheriff Fleetwood and Turnkey Gaskell, and the crime was frustrated.

A DESERTER MURDERED.

Done to His Death by a Band of Italian Counterfeiters.

Palermo, Aug. 24.—The finding yesterday of two half-burned chests containing portions of a human body in the forest of Belletampe brought to light a brutal murder and led to the discovery of an extensive plant for the manufacture of spurious bank notes. Italy has recently been flooded with counterfeit money. The victime of the murder was identified as Henry Francois, a deserter from the French army.

A local engraver, his wife and two merchants were arrested both as the assassins and as counterfeiters. The motive of the crime is alleged to have been the fear of betrayal by Francois, who was a member of the gang.

DANGER IS PAST.

Crop Report From West Indicates Crisis Is Over.

Winnipeg, Aug. 24.—The general belief of grain men is now that the danger point in regard to frost has been passed, and that the chances are good for fine harvesting weather for the next two weeks.

Reports received by the Canadian Pacific Railway from all parts of the west indicate that no serious damage has been done by frost. Garden stuff, potatoes, etc., were nipped, but wheat was not hurt, except in rare spots.

Pastures Burning.

Brockville, Aug. 24.—A fire of alarming proportions is raging in the pasture lands near Carthage. Hundreds of acres of land have already been burned over. Serious fires are also raging along the east bank of the Black River, between Carthage and Naumburg.

Hotelman Will Be Tried.

St. Catharines, Aug. 24.—James Wadsworth, the Queenston hotelkeeper arrested on the charge of receiving stolen goods from freight cars by boys at Niagara Falls, yesterday elected to be tried summarily by Judge Carman and trial was set for Sept. 10.

Clavet Vetoes Race Track.

Port Arthur, Aug. 24—Mayor Clavet has countermanded the instructions issued by the Electric Railway and Light Commission, and as a result there will be no race track at Current River Park. The stakes had been driven for the track.

Cobalt Silver Coinage.

Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 24.—Director of the Geological Survey A. P. Low, in an interview here, favors coins made from Cobalt's silver. He says it would suit better than the silver five-cent pieces, which are too small.

To Stop Export of Coke.

Nelson, B. C., Aug. 24.—The Board of Trade passed a resolution calling upon Premier McBride to enforce the law against the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Co. exporting coke to Montana smelters.

Edmonton shows a surplus of $7,495 on its civic telephone system numbering 727 telephones.

THREE ARRESTS ARE MADE.

Italian Bank Mystery Develops Another Phase.

Toronto, Aug. 24.—Three arrests were made in connection with the "Banco Giannetti" tangle yesterday noon. Another man is wanted and a day-long conference of detectives, lawyers, prisoners and interpreters led to the discovery of documents which cast some light upon the affairs of the "Banco," though it still teems with mystery.

The suicide of Giannetti, too, is slightly cleared by the discovery of the man from whom he purchased the razor used for the deed.

The men arrested are:

Domenico Vetromile, 160 Mulberry street, New York, broker.

F. E. Martirani, same address, clerk.

D. Confortia, Yonge street, Toronto, clerk.

The man wanted is Coroneo of this city, a clerk for Giannetti. He cannot be found, and is supposed to be in hiding, whether from fear of arrest or of the threatened violence of his countrymen the police cannot say.

The warrant charges that the men "did conspire with one another, and with another, by deceit and other fraudulent means, to defraud Gennard Gorrasi of the sum of $2,300 in money, his property." Gorrasi lives here and paid the money in at the local office of the "bank" in July. It is said to have been sent to New York, but cannot be shown to have been sent further.

The evidence which led to the arrest of the trio is a card found among the defects of the dead man. It purports to set out the branches of the bank, and their managers. It reads:

Banco Giannetti, 460 St. James street, Montreal. Raggioniere A. Giannetti, director.

Banco Giannetti, 160 Mulberry street, New York. Sig. Domenico Vetromile, director.

Banco Giannetti, 300 Victoria avenue, Fort William, Ont. Raggioniere G. Vetromile, director.

This directly contradicts the statement of V. D. Vetromile that he is in no way connected with the bank, save as a friend of the dead man.

Mr. Eric Armour, counsel for the creditors, says that to this there has been found among the papers taken from the bank safe a partnership agreement drawn up by Messrs. Bandouin and Bandouin, notaries, 99 St. James street, Montreal, between Archimede Giannetti, thought to be the dead man, and Gaetano Vetromile, the brother of the prisoner of that name. It sets out that both agree to devote all their time and energy to the business of transmitting money to Italy and other points and the sale of steamship and railway tickets in Canada, but says nothing of the banking business. It bears date Nov. 12, 1906.

A further find was made last night of books of entry purporting to show the despatch of moneys from Toronto, to the stubs of which are attached official looking receipts bearing Italian stamps and dated from Genoa and Naples. These are thought by the detectives and Mr. Armour to show that these sums were actually received in Italy. The attached receipts stop in June, but the other entries continue, which leaves the sending of these moneys in doubt.

The ledger of the bank taken from the safe opens the door for a second long avenue of fraud. In this book long columns of deposits appear, against which stands only $24.78, the balance to the credit of the banco in the Merchants' Bank here, against which the last draught was made Aug. 19 for $365. These withdrawals, as shown by bundles of returned checks, were made by Coroneo, since the beginning of June, before which Giannetti had done the signing.

The check book of the bank shows a steady stream of remittances, each for about $300 going to the Fort William branch till June, when the tide turned in favor of New York.

Miss Eva Armstrong of Westmount, Montreal, says that she was engaged to Giannetti, but knew of no reason for him to suicide.

Giannetti was well known as a business man in Montreal. He was a member of the Chambre de Commerce and was prominent on its committees. He was a friend of C. H. Catelli, the president of the chambre, and spent a few days recently on his private yacht.

Killed by Train.

Toronto, Aug. 24.—Alex. McDonald of this city, a foreman in the construction department of the G. T. R. was killed by a train near London yesterday.

He was directing his gang of men and failed to get out of the way of the west-bound Sarnia local. He was hurled 50 feet and had his back and ribs broken, his skull fractured and his collar bone broken. He died in Victoria Hospital, London, a few minutes after arriving there.

Deceased was 70 years of age and had been railroading for thirty years.

LIGHTHOUSE BURNS.

Bush Fires Doing Great Damage In Wingfield Basin.

Wiarton, Aug. 24.—Word has reached here from Wingfield Basin, one of the most northerly points on the peninsula, to the effect that bush fires are doing great damage to property in that locality by destroying the timber limits of Thompson Bros., together with their sawmill, office, men's quarters, stables and all the camp supplies.

It is also reported that the lighthouse fell a prey to the flames, and the keeper, Charles Webster, with his family, were forced to take refuge aboard a steam dredge, then at work in the basin.

These fires are likely to continue unless heavy rains come.

Three Years for Forgery.

Toronto, Aug. 24.—William Tanner, who pleaded guilty to two charges of forging the name of A. E. Dyment, M. P., to checks, was yesterday sentenced to three years in the penitentiary by Magistrate Denison.

Will Celebrate Victoria Day

Peterboro' Will Hold a Monster Demonstration Next Year

Peterborough young men do not intend to let every holiday during the coming year go by without some demonstration in the city—a demonstration that will be sufficiently attractive to keep the people at home and not have them running off to other places to spend their money.

It is many years since a big celebration was gotten up in Peterborough, but a movement is now on foot to observe Victoria day on a large scale next year. A number of energetic and public spirited young men have the matter in hand and will see that the project is carried out on an elaborate scale. Although May 24th, 1908, is a long way off, steps are already under way and it is understood that a preliminary meeting will be held this evening to start the ball rolling.

DIRECTORS VISITED FAIR GROUNDS

Everything Found in Good Shape —Some Improvements

President Leary and Secretary Hall accompanied by Messrs. W. E. Conway, J. R. Bell, John Bennett and James Baptie, directors of the Peterborough Agricultural Society visited the exhibition grounds yesterday on a tour of inspection. Everything was found to be in good shape and all will be in readiness for the big show on September 26, 27 and 28. Some improvements will be made to the buildings by way of needed repairs and the grounds given a thorough cleaning up.

The midway this year will be provided with tents and there will be some first-class attractions.

The directors afterwards held a meeting and discussed several matters. Everything is looking most promising for this year's exhibition.

North Harvey Man Had Lively Experience With Male Lynx

Fired Three Shots at Animal Before He Succeeded in Killing it—Lynx Was Large and Showed Fight.

Mr. Edward Earl, of North Harvey, was somewhat surprised the other evening when he noticed a very large male lynx quietly and leisurely prowl by the house. He at once got his rifle and Mrs. Earl held the dog, says a correspondent. When he came out the lynx or wildcat, as it is called, had only moved a short distance. Mr. Earl is a first class shot, as a rule, and should have brought him down, but for a wonder he missed the first chance and didn't touch him. He scared him, though and the way that long-legged, lanky son of an untamed feline struck for the woods across the road was a caution.

Teddy made a remark or two and shouted to the wife to let the dog go and he went. Then there was some hustling around and presently the ungainly animal loped on to the road. Teddy was on his mettle this time and when the smoke curled from the rifle, the cat stumbled. It was not the fatal shot, though it broke the front leg, and the infuriated animal made a lame bound or two straight towards Teddy.

It is just at such moments that Ted is coolest and most confident, and though the animal offered the smallest possible mark the way he was coming, Ted sent a ball through the upper part of the mouth and into the head. That was the finish. He took him to Bobcaygeon next morning and Mr. Hutchines bought it with the intention of having it mounted. Standing upon its feet it was about three feet long and two feet high, the hind legs having great length compared with the size of the body. It will make a great Teddy Cat when it is mounted.

Are Canadian Wares Not Good Enough for Peterborough Schools?

Speaking to the Review today a member of the Board of Education remarked that he understood that Mr. C. A. J. Duranceau, who has the contract for the plumbing, etc., of the extension to the North Ward school and the new Collegiate Institute building, obtained his supplies from Chicago. The trustee further said that he was informed that all the enamel ware, such as the baths, basins, sinks and closets, were purchased from a Chicago firm, notwithstanding there is a thirty-five per cent. duty on these goods.

"Now what I would like to know," he continued, "are Canadian products of this kind not good enough for Canadian schools? I understand there is a company in Port Hope — the Standard Ideal people—who turn out as excellent supplies in this line as can be secured anywhere in the United States, and I believe we should encourage our own manufacturers, providing equally as good material and prices prevail, and I am led to believe they do. I strongly favor buying at home and am at a loss to comprehend why Canadian firms have been overlooked in a matter embodying an expenditure of some $5,000 on the schools of our city! I am not a crank, but we should have a little more national pride, spirit and patriotism, and our Canadian contractors should set a good example."

Three Children of One Family Were Drowned Near Madoc

Children Aged 9, 7 and 6 years in a Light Skiff Capsized in Lake Wadsworth—Deep Water Only 45 or 50 Feet From Shore.

Madoc, Aug. 23.—Three children, Willie Green, aged 9 years; Burnett Green, aged 7 years, and Helen Green, aged 6 years, were drowned at Gilmour, 30 miles north of here on Wednesday afternoon. They were children of Norman A. Green, agent for the Anglo-American Iron Company for North Hastings. Wadsworth Lake, where the family reside in the summer, was the scene of the fatality. It is about 2 1-2 miles long, and three miles from Gilmour.

Mrs. Green and one of the older boys Percy, had gone out picking berries. Another boy, Roscoe, was in the house putting the baby to sleep.

On the shore of the lake, close to the house, was a new skiff which Mr. Green purchased this summer.

It is thought that the children got the boat into the water, climbed in, and pushed out from shore. When about 45 or 50 feet out, they in some manner capsized the skiff, which was very light, and as the shore is rocky and slopes away rapidly, they were thrown at once into deep water.

Roscoe was the first to discover the accident. Having succeeded in putting the baby to sleep, he had gone out to join the others in their play, when he was horrified to see the skiff floating bottom upwards, and the children nowhere to be seen. He immediately gave the alarm, but as there are no other cottagers on the lake which is in a lonely spot and the nearest neighbor is nearly a mile away, it was some time before help arrived.

The news of the drowning soon spread, however, and neighbors from miles around came to assist in dragging for the bodies.

That of the little girl, Helen, was the first to be discovered. Her body was found about seven o'clock, three hours after the accident. The body of Burnett was recovered at 7.30 the following morning, and that of Willie an hour later. The bodies were brought to Madoc last night by Mr. Green.

Mr. Norman A. Green is known all through Hastings county, having been engaged in business here for many years. Previous to his appointment as agent of the Anglo-American Company he kept a general store at Gilmour. He moved to Madoc about 3 years ago.

Great sympathy is felt for the family in their terrible bereavement.

The surviving children are Percy, aged 14, Roscoe, aged 12, and a baby a little over a year old.

Y.M.C.A. Summer Training School at Lake Couchiching

Mr. E. Dingman, Physical Director of the Peterborough Y.M.C.A. has Returned from Attending the Sessions —Interesting Description of the Work—An Idea Camping Spot.

Mr. E. Dingman, physical director of the Peterborough Y.M.C.A., who has been attending the Y. M. C. A. Summer Training School, at Geneva Park, Lake Couchiching, has returned to the city. He has written the following interesting report of the session at the school, for the Review,—

Just a few lines to tell you about the Y.M.C.A. Summer Institute and Camp at Geneva Park, Lake Couchiching, which has just been closed for this year. This camp was organized in the first place for the purpose of training men for association work, and of fitting men who are already in the work for larger fields. To say that it has been a success so far is putting it mildly. A large number of men, some of them middle-aged and some of them young men, just entering the work attended the Institute this year. Quite a number of these men had their wives and families along, for whom ample provision was made. The regular programme for the Institute began on Monday, Aug. 5th. The day usually began with a dip in the lake by those who were brave at 6.45 in the morning. Breakfast at 7.30, Bible Study at 8.15, led by Mr. Southam, of the International Committee, the first week, and Mr. Green of the Buffalo Central Y.M.C.A., the second week At 9 a religious work conference, led by Mr. Southam. After that was over, the work was divided into two sections, secretarial and physical. At 10, elementary gymnastics for new men, led by Mr. Brens of London. Advanced gymnastics and nomenclature for the advanced men, led by Mr. Lee, of Ottawa. At 10.30, lecture on different types of athletics by Mr. Cameron, of Buffalo. At 11 lectures on methods of organization of physical work, led by Mr. Ball, of Detroit. At 11.30, massed drill, led by Mr. Cameron, a swim in the lake at 12, then dinner at 12.30. Then at 2 lectures on physical diagnosis and prescriptions of exercises, by Mr. Ball. At 2.30 a course in rythmical exercises for gym use, by Mr. Lee, of Ottawa. At 3 a class in wrestling, by Mr. Lee, and 3.30, fencing, by Mr. Walters, of Toronto Central Y.M.C.A. Then apart from this was the work from the secretaries. All phases of their work was dealt with by able leaders. Their social, personal and religious life was taken up and discussed, as well as the financial end of of the work. The relation of the Associations to the churches was discussed and in fact almost everything in connection with the work was touched on At four o'clock work was over and play began Baseball, football, basketball, swimming, fishing, canoeing and many other amusements were indulged in Occasionally it would be secretaries vs. physical directors, or men vs single men. Then each night after supper there was some kind of a programme arranged. Some splendid musical talent was on the island, both vocal and instrumental, and some splendid musical evenings were arranged. Owen A. Smily was engaged for an evening and gave a high class entertainment. Following that came an evening with Dickens, by Mr. Williamson, of New York, a man of great ability as an entertainer. He recited Dickens' Christmas Carol in a masterly manner and delighted his hearers. Taffy pulls, corn roasts, etc. were arranged for the campers by the ladies and were much enjoyed. One night a circus was put on by the physical men and was very amusing. It opened with a grand parade and cake walk. Then came gymnastic work, mat work, a bout with sabres, tight rope walking—over a table 3 feet wide—, wrestling matches and many other feats, some good, some amusing. Apart from this, perhaps the most helpful thing at camp was the good fellowship which prevailed all through and the regular Sunday service was helpful and inspiring. The religious element was not forgotten and was helpful to all, and when camp broke up on Saturday morning, all were sorry to leave the camp and a larger and even more successful camp is looked forward to for next year.

BYE ELECTION TO BE HELD IN SEPTEMBER

Ottawa, Aug. 23.—It is probable that the bye-elections to fill vacancies in the House of Commons will be held about the middle of September, probably on the 18th or 19th. Nominations will be a week earlier. There are four vacancies. They are St. John and County, where the vacancy was caused by the death of A. A. Stockton; Northumberland, caused by the death of Edward Cochrane; Wellington, caused by the death of Thomas Martin, and London vacated by the resignation of Hon. Chas. S. Hyman. It is probable that the final fixing of the date for the elections will be considered at a meeting of the Cabinet on Saturday, and that the writs will go out early next week.

IS WATER HELD?

Mr. J. H. McClelland, superintendent Trent canal, was in town yesterday for a short time, coming up from Fenelon on the tug "Bob Hall." The Post did not have time to interview him re the low water question and the rumor that Balsam Lake is being held at a high level for the sake of canal navigation.—Lindsay Post.

HOME FROM WEST.

Mrs. A. S. Harrison and Mrs. W. H. Cuthbertson, of Norwood, arrived home Monday evening after a few weeks' sojourn in the North-west, where they visited their brother, Mr. W. A. Eaton, of Oxbow, Alberta, and Mr. Gordon Scott. They met a number of former Norwood people while away and had a most enjoyable trip. Their mother, Mrs. Wm. Eaton, who has been staying with her son in Oxbow for several months past, accompanied them on their return.

MONSTER LUNGE.

The best fish of the season was caught by Miss Nora Ross in the Otonabee last week, a monster lunge weighing 16 1-2 pounds and measured forty-two inches from tip to tip. It certainly was a beauty and admired by many when brought to town.—Millbrook Reporter.

TOURING THE KAWARTHAS.

The handsome steam yacht Sancie, from Lake Couchiching, arrived in port last evening, with the Tudhope party of Orillia, who left that town Tuesday to make a tour of the Kawartha Lakes, under the guidance of Mr. Geo. Goodwin of this town. The party comprised, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Tudhope, the Misses Begg, Mr. and Mrs. E. Cooke, Mr. Roy A. Crance and Dr. A. H. Morton. They spent the night at the Simpson House and this morning, secured carriages and inspected the town thoroughly, being most favorably impressed. After dinner they boarded the yacht and left for Bobcaygeon on their way down the lakes.—Lindsay Post.

SUNDY SERVICE AT GOSPEL HALL

The evangelistic meeting tomorrow night in the Gospel Hall, will be held at eight o'clock. The change last Sunday night was very satisfactory. For a few minutes before the meeting Mr. Mulligan will sing from the balcony.

A very large number listened to the singing last Sunday, which could be heard distinctly a mile out of town. Tomorrow night, Mr. Mulligan will sing some new songs, also one or two familiar ones. Everybody is invited to come to the meeting inside.

INSPECTING LINE OF CENTRAL ONTARIO

M. S. J. Ritchie, president of the Central Ontario Railway, has just returned from a tour of inspection of the road, in his private car, 'Bancroft,' and he expressed himself as highly pleased at the progress being made in the extension of the road, which has now almost reached Maynooth. Some little difficulty has been experienced over the filling up of a "sink hole" which has been found in a swamp near Maynooth, but the difficulty is now past, and the work of extension will proceed in earnest. In company with Mr. Ritchie was Mr. Caranebe, a prominent lawyer of Cleveland, Ohio, and they both paid a visit to the celebrated Princess Marble quarry, of which Mr Thomas Morrison is manager. They took back with them some beautiful specimens of the marble, which is fast gaining a great reputation. A large number of men are employed at this mine. The two gentlemen also paid a visit of inspection to the celebrated Farnum Bessemer Iron mine, which is worked night and day.

Saturday Market Well Attended

Despite the threatening looking weather early this morning, which was afterwards followed by a heavy shower, there were a large number of farmers on the market. The buyers were also present in large numbers and there was a great demand for the farm produce.

Butetr sold at from 23c to 25c. per pound and eggs brought 17c. and 18 cents per dozen. Chickens sold at 60, 65 and 70c per pair.

On the outside market there were a large quantity of harvest apples, which sold at 15cents per peck. Potatoes brought $1.25 per bag. There was also the usual amount of vegetables on the market which sold at the usual prices.

Underground Work for Bell Telephone Co. Progressing

Will Take About Two Months to Get the Cables Laid and Two Months to Make the Connections—Present Service Will Not be Interfered With for a Minute.

Favorable progress is being made by the Bell Telephone Company with their underground work in the city. A large force of men are digging the trenches and manholes and considering the exceptionally hard road bed to be dug up, a lot of hard work has been accomplished. Mr. H. H. Leach foreman of the underground construction work for the company, assisted by his brother, is in charge of the job here. He is a thoroughly practical man, and is a hustler, too. Every day he has added more men to his force and has room for several more if he could get them.

He will be at the excavation work for about two months and during that time will lay a three and a half inch conduit on Hunter street from the new office to Aylmer street and east to Water street; on George street from Charlotte to Brock; on Charlotte from George, half way to Aylmer and on Simcoe from Water to Aylmer. The trenches are 30 inches deep, or two feet, six inches, at the bottom of which is laid the conduit. This is made of vitrified brick tile, three and a half inches in diameter inside measurement and 18 inches long. This is laid in a casement of cement three inches thick, so that once the conduit is laid it will never have to be touched again. After the conduits have been finished and the trenches filled in, the cables are pulled through from manhole to manhole, and there will be 404 pairs of cables each way from the office. Connections from the offices or business places are made from terminals in the allies and by block wiring on the back of the buildings, as far as it is possible. Of course, there are a few cases, or maybe, where it will be difficult or impossible to connect with the back of the building.

It will be interesting to know how the workmen distinguish the wires in the cable, as all the cables are laid and connections made afterwards. The Bell Telephone Company has worked out an excellent system of their own for what is called cable distribution. Each wire, before it is put into the cable is numbered and lettered and located. For instance, on Chambers street, say the cable is 25, there will be several branches of it and each branch will have a letter, such as M., which will have wires 1 to 50. By the system in use, it is almost impossible to make a mistake. The manholes at the corners and street intersections are used for making splices and putting in branches and while all this work is going on the present service will not be interfered with for a second. Even when the change is made from the old office to the new one, very few of the subscribers will know anything about it. The system is being put in in duplicate. The new offices will be completed and all connections made, before they are used. Then when the time comes, all that will have to be done will be to cut off the old wires and start using the new service, which is the work of half a minute or less.

The "Trip to London" Party Had Most Enjoyable Trip

Miss Thompson Will Reach Peterborough To-morrow Morning—How Girls Enjoyed Visit Across—Some Were Luckier Than Others in Their Experiences With Mal de Mer.

Miss Birdie Thompson, of this city, who is one of the Toronto World "Trip to London" party, is again on Canadian soil after a three weeks' pleasant jaunt abroad. The company on the return voyage came over on the Virginian, which landed in Quebec yesterday. Miss Thompson is expected to reach Peterborough Sunday morning. She will be accorded a hearty welcome by her many friends.

Mr. A. E. S. Smythe, the Toronto World correspondent, who accompanied the "Maple Blossoms," writes as follows regarding the sail over "the pond":—

Liverpool, Aug. 16.—Spinning down the Irish sea within an hour or two of landing at Liverpool, an opportunity occurs to look back on the voyage of the Maple Blossoms since they left Rimouski. Last night (Friday) a quite brilliant dancing party brought the week to a sparkling close. Most of the days had been dull and grey and monotonous. Nothing had occurred to relieve the tedium, since passing Belle Isle such as usually enlivens an ocean passage. An iceberg was seen but it was in a decadent condition and evidently had been upended. Porpoises and whales avoided the track and even seagulls were scarce. A solitary steamer was seen on the dim horizon one day, and yesterday the "Corsican" came plowing along through head seas, which dashed over her bows. A brave old sailing craft appeared to the south and shortly after the "Virginian" was in touch with the Irish coast. If other features were wanting the Atlantic is always strong on waves. [illegible] passengers twitted the World man with having unwonted opportunities for holding hands. He was restricted entirely to holding heads. Naturally he only held one at a time; and they advanced to the ordeal with pitiful regularity. Of course there were exceptions and wild horses would not drag from the World records the names of either the unfortunate or the forlorn. Each must make her own boast. It is only fair to say, however, that Toronto made a better showing on the bill of health than the provinces.

LOST A DAY.

The voyage has not been a record one in the matter of time. Heavy fogs in the Straits of Belle Isle delayed the steamer for 15 hours, which counted a day off the London trip. An effort will be made to lengthen the metropolitan days as a compensation. Some grumbling occurred when the vessel lay to in a fog, but this ceased after a somewhat exciting incident. A horn was heard on Monday morning, not far off, and after some time the fog lifting revealed a big liner right across the bows of the Virginian, and much too close for nervous passengers. After this no more complaints were heard about caution.

On Sunday three church services were held, two of which were largely attended. The steerage passengers were duly warned against the evils of wealth and the saloon people were told of the blessings of faith, and everybody sang heartily and contributed to the Sailor's Orphan Fund. A clever cornettist, who plays his instrument with one hand and accompanies on the piano with the other, led the hymns. In the evening the Aurora Borealis flashed out over the north and paled and wavered with the pulsing vibrations of the great one Life. Then as it died away the dear old Dipper shone clear and the Maple Blossoms remembered that the familiar stars would watch them on one land as in another.

TOURED THE VESSEL.

A tour of inspection of the vessel itself resulted less pleasantly for some than had been expected. The cleanest of ships has a way of generating peculiar odors and the unwonted motions of the Atlantic made a poor combination for amateur sailors. By Tuesday the more robust of the passengers were busy at the usual ship pastimes. Shuffleboard is the chief of these, and two rinks were kept going at all available hours. This is one of the pleasantest and most informal ways of getting acquainted and among the 66 saloon passengers there were many congenial spirits. A Kingston graduate of Queen's, for example, bound for Nigeria, discovered that he was well acquainted with the first cousin of another medical officer stationed out there. A New Zealander made himself popular and United Statesers fraternized with Britishers as though the millenium had already come.

Postcards are a marvellous fad. One of the Maple Blossoms addressed over 400 and another had over 300 all ready this morning for the first mail home. What thousands of pleasant thoughts must be engendered by a kindly greeting of this nature the recipients will best know, but one no longer wonders at the popularity of the Maple Blossoms, who are so full of gentle courtesy.

EAT, EAT, EAT AND EAT

Exercise is one of the essentials of healthy travelling. Round the deck the promenade has been fairly constant. Eleven laps to the mile, is the dead reckoning, and sturdy individuals did 22 before dinner. After dinner the records were lower. It was evident, however, that the exercise was effective. Eating is the great end of steamer travel. Breakfast, beef tea at noon, luncheon, afternoon tea and dinner are the great events on which the day turns. The saloon tables are a pretty sight and the excellent taste and charming appearance of the Maple Blossoms was the subject of general comment.

But, as has been said, the passage concluded in a wave of glory. Everybody was better. In fact, everybody was well. On the previous evening a reviving capacity for flirtation, indicated the convalescence of the sickest. By Friday morning the purser's suggestion for a dance was hailed with delight. After dinner the port deck was found to have been closed in with canvas covers, and draped with bunting. A piano was lashed in a corner and well thumped subsequently. The smooth deck had a fair surface and if the lurching of the ship occasionally banged the gyrating couples against the rail, no harm was done, and there was much hilarity. Everyone felt jubilant with the thought of London on the morrow, and when "God Save the King" was sung, a stranger called for three cheers for the Maple Blossoms, and they were given with a will. The World man felt very proud of his party and would be glad to prolong the trip round the world again.

BETTER THAN SPANKING

Spanking does not cure children of bed-wetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W. 82, Windsor, Ont., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances are, it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

Tomatoes Will Be Very Scarce

Picton, Aug. 23.—The crop outlook in Prince Edward is considered seriously, particularly in the case with canning factory produce. A factory crop overseer stated today that unless the county was visited by rain there would not be half a crop of tomatoes. This is serious, when the twelve county canning factories, representing a very large percentage of the provincial output, are considered. Grain fell considerable below the expectations. The later crops, corn, potatoes, tomatoes, etc. have been pinched by the drought and the latter has been severely blighted. The apple crop promises a fair yield, but the long continued dry spell is causing many of the earlier varieties to fall off.

MODERN LEATHER MEN

Who Upholds the Old-time Saying, "There' Nothing Like Leather."

London Free Press.

The late Governor Pingree of Detroit was a shoe manufacturer, and his elevation no doubt inspired Governor Douglas to the position he occupied with honor in Massachusetts. Both of these manufacturers built up an enormous shoe trade by stamping on every shoe they made their trade mark, as an evidence of their own faith in the shoe, following the idea of the Slater Shoe Company. American visitors say that had the Slater Shoe been introduced into the United States ten years ago, the company would now be doing ten millions a year instead of one million. "I'm satisfied with Canada," said the president of the Slater Shoe Company, "for I believe that the boys of today who live to be men of fifty, will see Canada the home of 50,000,000 people.

The "Sailor Boy" brand of canned goods are the best that are put up. They never fail to please. Try a few cans.

Ice Cream Social Was a Success

Held Last Evening Under the Auspices of Chosen Friends

An interesting ice cream social and concert was held last evening in the Sons of England hall under the auspices of the local Council of the Canadian Order of Chosen Friends. A large number were present despite the numerous counter atractions, and the affair was very successful. Much credit is due Mrs. W. Gibbs for her indefatigable efforts in making the entertainment a success.

Mr. R. B. McGill acted as chairman and the following programme was given:—

Vocal Solo.—Mr. R. Cunningham
Humorous Reading.—Mr. Hannah.
Instrumental Solo.—Miss Buyers.

After the programme ice cream and cake was served and a pleasant time spent in social intercourse. The evening was brought to a close with the singing of the National anthem.

Sensational Report From Peterboro'

The following despatch from Peterborough appears in the Montreal Star on Thursday:—

Peterborough, Ont., Aug. 22.—Peterborough is suffering at the present time from an epidemic of crime among the women. At the police court this morning the prisoners dock was filled with women, who monopolized the attentions of the magistrate, not a male offender being on hand to keep the eight or ten female prisoners company. The charges against them ranged from keeping a dog without a license to assault, one of the number being in court on a charge of giving one of her neighbors a thrashing. One of the women, charged with being drunk and disorderly, came to the city yesterday on a Methodist excursion from Belleville.

HOW TWO BOYS GOT TICKETS

For House of Commons—Late Sir John A. MacDonald's Desire to Oblige

There has been a good deal of reminiscence during this week, in which Canada has celebrated her fortieth birthday. A man who is now a prominent politician was speaking of the Sir John's geniality. Of course, there were and are several "Sir John's," but a Conservative of the Kingston school means the old chieftain, and hardly thinks it necessary to add 'Macdonald.' The narrator said:

"When I was a boy about sixteen years of age I was walking along an Ottawa street, one wintery day, with a young chum. We were anxious to attend the night session of the House for a big debate was expected, and even in those days I was interested in politics. Suddenly we saw Sir John walking along and my small companion turned to me in a flash of challenge.

"Bet you're scared to ask Sir John about it," he said.

"I'm not," I answered warmly.

"Bet you a quarter," he persisted.

"Before my courage had time to ooze out, I approached the Premier, as he was at that time, and said, quaveringly, "Please, Sir John, would you tell me how to get into the House to-night?"

"Sir John looked surprised, then surveyed the other boy and myself with a smile of comprehension, and, drawing a card from his pocket, wrote a few words on it. "Give that to Mr. B——," he said, "when you come up to-night, and you'll have good places." Then he laid a hand on my shoulder and on that of my chum, whose father was a staunch Liberal. "You're fine-looking lads," he said cheerfully, "and I'm sure that you're both good Tories." He went on, chuckling, and I lost no time in claiming the quarter for my display of disgusting cheek. We went to the House that night, and had a good place, as Sir John had promised. He remembered us afterwards, and always had a nod for me and Jim. Ah! he knew how to manage men—and boys," concluded the politician, with a regretful sigh, for the days when he bet on Sir John's willingness to oblige.—The Canadian Courier.

Buckhorn is a Fishing Paradise

Phenomenal Season Enjoyed by Windsor and Buckhorn Houses

The pretty little village of Buckhorn, which is easily reached from Lakefield, has this summer attracted a great crowd of tourists, from all parts of Canada and the United States. The fishing there is exceptionally good and it is a convenient centre from which to visit other places of interest. The new dam and new bridge, which are now in course of construction, will very much enhance the beauty and utility of this popular summer resort. The famous Windsor House is crowded with visitors to its utmost capacity and so also is the well-known Buckhorn House.

Services are held under the auspices of the Presbyterian church in a hall until the new Presbyterian church can be erected, for which a handsome sum has been subscribed and a suitable site already purchased. Mr. William M. Potter, brother of the Rev. J. G. Potter, B. A., of St. Andrew's, Peterborough, ministers to the tourists and to the residents, and also holds services at Lakehurst and Rockcroft, where there are already comfortable Presbyterian churches. The speedy erection of a Presbyterian church at Buckhorn will be a great desideratum. There are also many tourists who do not forget their religious duties, even when they go away on their holidays and who do not fail to observe the Lord's Day.

FARM PURCHASED

Mr. M. A. Hawley has purchased seven acres of Mr. David Johnston's farm along the river bank, and through which the Trent Valley Canal will pass. The place is just below where the dam will be built, and it is expected that a lock will be required there for the canal. Mr. Hawley has also purchased the Goulin property on Grand Road, next to Mr. Chas. Benor's residence.—Campbellford Herald.

MR. BORDEN'S TOUR

It will be learned with pleasure that in his great tour across the continent, out of the fifteen centres in Ontario, at which Mr. R. L. Borden, the popular and talented leader of the great Liberal-Conservative party, will speak, Peterborough has been selected as one of the points to be visited.

Mr Borden will address a big mass meeting in the Grand Opera House in this city, on Wednesday, September 11th, and will be accorded a most enthusiastic welcome. The reception will certainly be worthy of the great Conservative chieftain, and the sound, broad, progressive policy on which he will appeal to the electors of Canada during the next campaign.

True, his policy has not met with the approbation of Grit journals. It is too radical and comprehensive, too far-seeing and advanced in character to be commended by the supporters of the corrupt and extravagant aggregation at Ottawa. It contains too many reforms, and the changes recommended are too sweeping in character for them to sanction. The leader of the Conservative party has shown that he is constructive, progressive and fearless, and some of the planks in his platform would never be countenanced by a hide-bound Grit.

Three of the most important issues are:

A thorough and complete reformation of the laws relating to the civil service, so that future appointments shall be made by an independent commission, acting upon the report of examiners, after competitive examination.

The reorganization of the present railway commission as a public utilities commission, with wider powers and more extended jurisdiction, so as to establish thorough and effective control over all corporations owning or operating public utilities, with franchises of a national character.

The establishment, after due investigation, of a system of national telegraphs and telephones, under conditions which shall be just to capital already invested in these enterprises.

The foregoing are measures of great interest and will appeal to all intelligent and broad thinking people, who place the good name and sound business management of Canada before mere opportunism, or party expediency. Government telephones and telegraphs ought to be most popular, and especially at a time when people are daily being inconvenienced by the strike of telegraph operators.

The British Government's lead in that direction affords an object lesson which Canada may safely follow. Government ownership of these public services gives the best results at the lowest figures, and this feature of the programme ought to meet with special favor.

To the minds of most people the plank in civil service reform will stand out foremost, for unquestionably this reform has been prominent in the minds of Canadians for a long time now. Years ago, under the Conservatives, a distinct move towards civil service reform was made. The appointment for party reasons became less frequent, and the principle of selection and promotion for merit was commenced. This advance was repudiated when the Laurier Government took office. Now the civil service is managed on an absolutely partisan basis.

The Conservative leader proposes to thoroughly reform the election laws so as to prevent corruption, to prohibit campaign contributions by corporations and to compel publicity of expenditure. He favors the appointment of an independent prosecuting officer charged with the duty of investigating and prosecuting all cases of electoral corruption and fraud. He proposes to reform the immigration laws by abolishing the bonus system—save in exceptional cases to secure a desirable class of immigrants. He proposes such reform in the method of selecting senators as will make the senate more truly representative. He proposes the improvement of the national waterways, tariff protection, imperial preferential trade, the restoration to the western provinces of their public lands, and maintenance of the principle of provincial rights.

Mr. Borden's is a progressive policy of Canada for the Canadians; it stands for clean government instead of graft, and its adoption would mean advancement instead of the weak and standstill policy we have now.

The facts and figures issued by the License Department directly and clearly show that the worst law violators in the Province of Ontario are the license holders of the province, and indeed when local option bylaws are passed the men who give by far the most trouble to the law enforcing officers are the men who formerly were license holders. They broke the law under license. They still strive to break the law under local option, but they soon find out that the ease of detection is greater and the penalties more severe under local option and soon have to conform to the new conditions. There is a great sympathy in the public mind with energetic, and forceful efforts to secure better enforcement of the law, both under local option and under license and whenever a determined effort is made by the inspectors to bring law violators to time they find themselves backed up strongly by public opinion. It is, perhaps, not going too far to say that no policy of the present Provincial administration has been more warmly commended by people generally throughout the Province than its earnest attempt to enforce the Liquor License Act. —Pioneer.

Sunday Services at Springville

In the Springville Presbyterian church tomorrow the pastor, Rev. Dr. Marsh will preach at both services. In the morning he will speak on "The Sabbath" and in the evening his subject will be "The Rich Young Ruler." Mrs. Smith, of Rochester will sing at both services.

Extensive Alterations to Organ Of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church

Instrument is Being Entirely Remodelled and Rebuilt by Toronto Firm—Work Will Not be Completed Until November—Auditorium Renovation is Decidedly Attractive.

The auditorium of St. Paul's church presents a very pretty appearance and the walls and woodwork look lovely and fresh from the painter's brush. The renovation when completed, will make St. Paul's church one of the finest in the country and the congregation might well feel proud of it. The church will not be ready for service for about a month and it will be well into November before the swelling notes of praise peal forth from the new organ.

The painting is finished and the edifice presents a very bright and attractive appearance. The walls are done a pale green, and the woodwork is in a dark graining, as are also the doors. The seats of the church have also been repainted. Mr. Ralph Carton had the contract for the repainting of the building, and he deserves great credit for the excellent manner in which it has been done.

St. Paul's church, in the course of a couple of months will have the finest pipe organ in Peterborough and it will equal many of the best instruments in churches of the large cities. The firm of Breckles & Matthews of Toronto, who have built some of the best pipe organs in the Dominion, have the contract for building St. Paul's, and it is needless to say, that it will be well done, for this firm are known all over the country for the excellent and high-class organs that they turn out. Since Wednesday last, Mr. A. E. Breckles, senior partner of the firm, with another gentleman from Toronto have been busily engaged in tearing down the old instrument and getting parts of it ready for shipment to Toronto.

Mr. Breckles stated to a Review representative yesterday, that it would be November before the new organ would be ready for use. The new instrument will be up-to-date in every particular. It will be a three manual organ and it will be the first one of its kind in this city. It will have tubular pneumatic action and the tubes used in the organ will be only half the size of those used in the old one. When a key is struck the sound is not sustained as was the case before. Yesterday the old bellows was removed and will be sent to Toronto, where it can be used in a smaller organ. A large auxiliary bellows will replace it. The new instrument will have sixty-one notes. It will also have a concave and radiating pedal board. All the pipes of the old organ will be re-voiced for the new one and will have a much better tone. The pitch of the new instrument will be international which will be a marked improvement on the old one. The volume of sound will range from a whisper to the most ponderous notes. Be admirably suited for concerts and the international pitch will be of great assistance to a soprano soloist or in fact to any voice, with the exception of a bass. This firm put in similar instruments in the McLeod Street Methodist and Bank Street Presbyterian sanctuaries in Ottawa last year.

The seating arrangement and position of the choir will be entirely different to that previous to the renovation of the church. The members of the choir will sit to the front of the minister, instead of behind, and the organist will be located in front of the choir.

Altogether St. Paul's church will be a very handsome edifice when all repairs have been effected.

Punish Severely Man Who Buys or Presents Liquor to an Indian

Such a Party Should be Most Stringently Dealt With—The Man Who Acts as Intermediary or Go-Between is Worst Offender of All—Intoxicated Red Men are Getting Somewhat Numerous.

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—I hope our license laws in the East Riding especially with regard to the sale of liquor to Indians will henceforth be more rigidly enforced. The fining of a hotelkeeper on Friday 50 dollars, may have a salutary effect, although I have not as good faith in fines as I have in the vigilance of an officer who is ever on the warpath.

Drunken Indians are beginning to be altogether too common. Only yesterday morning I met one on George street. Nearly every day you can see one or more. I am also told that the boat plying between Burleigh Falls and Bobcaygeon is frequently troubled with them. Now an intoxicated white man is troublesome and dangerous enough, but an intoxicated Indian—an aborigine filled with fire water—is a positive menace to any life or community. The Government recognizing this has made the penalty very severe. If an officer is vigilant he can easily secure a conviction against any offending hotelkeeper, but what about man who buy liquor and present it to Indians either by the bottle or in giving drinks? Is there no way to get after these sneaks? Is there no punishment adequate to fix the offence. They really are more dangerous than the Indian himself. It certainly is time this matter was looked into and the intermediary or middle man—the coward who buys and hands the stuff over to the Indian—be made to suffer. In the evidence before Mr. Edmison I see that two Indians told from whom they got liquor, one white man accepting a dollar from an Indian to buy liquor at the Burleigh Falls hotel. Now what efforts are the authorities going to make to hunt up these men, Phil Aldridge and Rolly McCauley? The matter cannot be allowed to drop with the fining of the hotel keeper, and the Indians who got drunk and created a disturbance. I am glad that the law in the west riding of Peterborough appears to be well observed, but the inspector in the east riding, especially as far as the northern part of it is concerned should wake up. How many charges has he laid since appointed to office? The good name of this county will suffer seriously if we have another such disturbance and dare-devil proceedings as was witnessed on the boat on Civic holiday. I wish, Mr. Editor, to say in conclusion that I do not think any sane hotelman would wilfully and deliberately sell or give liquor to an Indian who could obtain it only by means of a drunken bartender or by co-operation with some friend who would volunteer to purchase. If the fine on the hotelkeeper is heavy, in the name of common sense, right and justice the intermediary, or speaking plain, "sneak," who will give or purchase liquor for an Indian should meet with the most condign punishment. A term of six months in gaol is not too severe. The drunken Indian must be eliminated no matter what white man or how many of them suffer.

Yours, etc.,
ORDER.

Campbellford Man Gets New Position

Major Hamilton Appointed Principal of Fort William High School

The Campbellford School Board and community in general, regret very much the departure of Mr. W. J. Hamilton from Campbellford. His year here has been marked with success and his energetic efforts to improve the condition of the school have met with unanimous approval. The appointment of Mr. Hamilton to the principalship of Fort William High School, at a much larger salary than he was getting in Campbellford, is complimentary to his ability as a successful teacher and principal.

Returns Thanks For Fine Flag

The flag offered by the Orillia Board of Trade to the first steamer to bring in an excursion from the Kawartha lakes was forwarded to Fenelon Falls on Friday last, and on receipt of the trophy Capt. Burgoyne, winner, wrote the secretary as follows: "Permit me to express my sincere thanks for the beautiful flag received to-day. It is very handsome, and far exceeds our expectations in every particular. I have it on exhibition in our store window, and needless to say it is the centre of attraction. I shall have it photographed on the Kawartha some day soon, and shall have pleasure in sending you a picture. Again thanking you, and hoping that this is only the beginning of many pleasant dealings."

Two Accidents in Woollen Mill

Employees Meet With Painful Mishap at Campbellford

On Monday of this week Frank Keating, a lad about 15, in the employ of the Trent Valley Woollen Mills, at Campbellford, lost two of his toes. He was working about a machine, and inadvertently placed one of his feet in such a position that it caught in the cogs, which crushed two of his toes so badly that the surgeon found it necessary to amputate them. The patient is doing well.

LOST A FINGER AND OTHERS BRUISED.

An accident occurred in the Trent Valley Woollen Mill, at Campbellford, on Saturday, Aug. 3rd, Mr. Jack Scott being the unfortunate victim. While walking across the room in which he was engaged, he was tripped on a piece of tin, and, in trying to break the effects of the fall, his left hand was caught in the wheels of a machine, and but for Mr. Scott's forethought in suddenly throwing off the belt, he might have lost his whole hand. As it was, the little finger was severed at the second joint, and the third and large fingers were badly bruised, but the doctor has hopes to save them both.

OBITUARY

KATHERINE IRENE HOGAN

The death occurred yesterday afternoon of Katherine Irene, second daughter of Mr. John Hogan, 210 McDonnel street. The deceased had been ill for some months. She was 18 years of age and was of a loving and kind disposition and endeared herself to all with whom she came in contact. She was a member of St. John's church and until her illness took an active part in church work. She was born in Toronto and lived there until the family moved to Peterborough a few years ago. Through her long illness she bore it all with patience and Christian fortitude. The news of her death was received with the deepest regret by a wide circle of friends.

Besides her parents, two brothers and two sisters are left to mourn her loss.

The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock from the family residence, 210 McDonnel street, to Little Lake cemetery.

PETERBOROUGH LAWN BOWLERS

Home From Toronto Tournament —Mr. Robt Kerr Umpire in Big Game

Some of the members of the rink which represented Peterborough in the Dominion Lawn Bowling tournament at Toronto, got home last night. They were well pleased with their trip and, while not winners of any trophy they were only beaten by a small margin. Mr. Robt. Kerr, the skip, who was one of the oldest players there, and who is one of the best umpires, was given the honor of umpiring the final game for the Walker trophy. Mr Kerr had a hard job ahead of him, as he was called upon to give two very close decisions, but he was satisfactory to both rinks. Mr. Kerr won his first game in the singles, but lost yesterday by a score of 17 to 18.

EVERYTHING READY FOR THE BIG GAME

The Cobourg baseball nine with a large number of supporters from their own town and several enthusiasts from Port Hope, arrived in the city this morning and are ready for the big battle this afternoon at 3.30 o'clock at the Riverside Park, with the local nine, weather permitting. Both aggregations are in the pink of condition and a close, exciting game is assured. It is expected that the crowd will be a bumper one and the interest is very keen as to the result of the game.

COBOURG TEAM HAS IMPORTED BATTERY

It has been further learned that Cobourg has on their team for this afternoon Jack Toft, of the Toronto ball team, who will catch, and Barton, of Providence, who pitched a one to nothing game against Rochester on Thursday last. This is a strong battery.

BASEBALL

AS VIEWED IN LINDSAY

Speaking of the ball game here on Thursday, the Lindsay Post says;

These old-time rivals met for the second time of the season on the Peterborough diamond yesterday and the "Petes" pulled out two runs to the good.

In the holiday season it was hard to get nine players together and a pitcher was not available, but 'Pony' Workman jumped into the breach and pitched a whirlwind of a game. The locals led by a good margin at several stages of the game, but a few juicy errors gave the Electric City nine the game.

That the score was so close came as a surprise to local fans. Fast fielding and good batting, however, helped the locals.

Flaherty, Burns and Burridge were on the points for Peterborough and were touched up frequently. Quinlan's wizard arm was saved for Cobourg's benefit Saturday.

WILL INCREASE ATLANTIC RATES

London, Aug. 20.—It is understood that there will shortly be an increase in freight and passenger rates between Liverpool and Canadian ports. The increase will be made by agreement between all lines.

COTTAGE MEETING

The weekly cottage meeting will be held by Rev. Dr. Langfeldt on Wednesday, Aug. 28th, at the residence of Mr. George Curtis, brickyard, at 8 p.m.

New Concrete Dam Will be Built Close to the Town of Trenton

Section One of Trent Canal From Glenmiller to Trenton Will Have Nine Foot Channel—Tenders Now Being Called for the Work.

town of Trenton is the decision of the Government to build a new concrete dam just north of and close to the present dam, the canal, of course, taking first place, says the Trenton Courier.

a Section No. 1 of the Rice Lake division of the Trent Canal covers five miles of construction commencing at the time honored covered, bridge and ending a little above Glen Miller.

The canal will be of much larger dimensions than at first contemplated, the plans being enlarged from a six-foot to a nine-foot canal. The locks and width of which are correspondingly enlarged so that steamers such as the Varuna and sailing vessels will have no difficulty in going as far as Peterborough.

Lock No. 1 will be on the west bank of the river just north of the G.T.R. tracks of 175 feet length and corresponding width and will have a lift of twenty feet. About three quarters of a mile further up the river is where No. 2 dam will be built and Lift Lock No. 2 constructed on the eastern bank, having a lift of twenty feet.

A swing bridge will be necessary at Glen Miller and just above the bridge will be placed lock No. 3. This lock will have a lift of twenty-seven feet, the canal at this point leaving the river up to Dam No. 3 a distance of a mile. This section will be very expensive on account of the number of dams and locks to be constructed and the rock cutting necessary.

Elected to Important Positions by Companions of Forest

At the High Circle meeting of the Companions of the Forest, A. O. F., held in the City of London, August 20th and 21st, Mrs. R. Lloyd, also of Peterborough, was elected District Deputy Chief Companion of this district.

New Principal Has Arrived

Mr. Dunlop, Head of King Edward School, in the City

Mr. Dunlop, late principal of the Tavistock public schools, is in the city and will take up his residence here.

Mr. Dunlop is the principal of the new King Edward school, which will be opened on Tuesday, September 3rd. His wife and family will arrive in a few weeks.

EASTERN ONTARIO FARMERS' STRAITS

If misery likes company, as the old saw says, farmers in this locality can congratulate themselves on the fact that their brethren of Eastern Ontario are as badly off as they are—if not worse. In the agricultural district around Carleton Place and Lansdowne the evils of the drought are said to be inconcievably sad. Farmers who refused $50 per head for their cattle in the spring now offer them freely at $5. One farmer sold 65 tons of hay in the spring, which he had kept for thirteen years at $8.50 per ton. He wishes now he had kept it another year. Thirteen he believes, was an unlucky number.

Too Many Stones On the Roads

Board of Works Should Get Busy, Says a Merchant

"Many of the streets of Peterborough are in a very bad condition," remarked a Hunter street business man to the Review today. "Why on Hunter street east, there are stones lying in the roadway, as large as your head and apparently no attempt is made to remove them. Why should this state of affairs continue? Who is responsible? It is high time that someone woke up. A well-known physician who came to the city a few years ago to practice his profession here, told me the other day, that the life of a buggy in Peterborough, was only about half as long as it was in the town that he came from, owing to the streets being rough and stony. This in a city of 15,000 people is not very creditable."

HEAVY RAIN PUT OUT THE FIRE

A North Harvey correspondent writes; We had a big fire the other day, which came from Peter Graham"s follow and about 12 to 15 men had to turn in and help, or the old stable on Lee's place and cutter, buggy and a lot of other things would have been burnt. It was well the rain came to stop these fires or Lee would have no home.

NEW REGULATION AS TO MARRIAGES

Rome, Aug. 22.—An important decree has been issued by the Congregation of the Council materially altering the conditions necessary for the validity of marriages of Catholics.

The decree, which becomes operative at Easter next year, provides that marriages after that date will be invalid everywhere unless celebrated in the presence of a priest and two witnesses. Exception is made when the district in which the couple live has no priest. In that case the couple may express mutual consent in the presence of two witnesses.

NEW RECTOR FOR BOBCAYGEON

MONARCH RAN MOONLIGHT TRIP

The steamer Monarch brought up a party of about fifty guests from Gore's Landing to the city last evening to the band concert in Victoria Park. The trip is somewhat out of the regular routine for the Monarch but it proved a very delightful one for the party, who comprised chiefly Americans, who had never been in this city before. The evening was grand, the beautiful moonlight enhancing the pleasure of the outing. The excursionists returned about eleven o'clock and music was provided on board for dancing and altogether a very enjoyable time was spent. This trip will be repeated next Friday night.

NEWS NOTES FROM BEST'S STATION

Miss Alberta Fowler has returned to the city, after a pleasant visit with Mrs. Frank Fowler at Best's.

Miss E. A. Finley, New York, and Miss E. McCague, Toronto, spent the past week, with Mrs. F. Fowler.

Miss Bertha Smith, city, is at present the guest of Mrs. F. Fowler.

KINMOUNT HOTEL KEEPER WAS FINED

The Bobcaygeon Independent says; —Mr. Lithgow, license inspector for the district had a case at Kinmount on Wednesday, before County Magistrate F. D. Moore. HJ Simpson, the proprietor of the Northern Hotel, Kinmount, and his bartender, Wm. Watson, were charged with having sold liquor after hours on a Saturday night. The magistrate was satisfied with the evidence and imposed a fine of $50 and costs of $8.50.

GETTING READY FOR DUCK SHOOTING

Season Will Open on September 2—Birds Plentiful

Duck shooting is going to be well partonized this year, as is evidenced by the large number of our sporting men who are making preparations for their annual expedition to the abode of this winged target. Many an old fire-arm is taken from its place on the wall and put through a severe course of cleaning, as well as those that are used yearly in this attractive sport.

Ducks are said to be quite plentiful around Rice Lake and it is expected that the influx to this part will be large from this city, as well as from outside towns. The duck shooting season opens on September 2nd.

VETERAN PREACHER AT CHARLOTTE ST.

Rev. T. M. Jefferis, of Hamilton Conference Will be Heard To-morrow Night

There is an unusual treat in store for the congregation of Charlotte street church on Sunday night.

The preacher will be Rev. T. M. Jefferis of the Hamilton Conference to whom the Christian Guardian refers in the following terms,—"A very bright and interesting service was held in the Burlington Methodist Church on Sunday morning, July 7. Rev. Thos. Jefferis was the preacher. His clear voice, his arrangement of subject matter, his clear and forceful utterances, his present day application of Bible truths would not lead you to think that the preacher her the weight of four score winters resting upon his brow." Every member of the congregation should try and hear this veteran preacher. Mr. Rodger Manning's singing will be another feature of the service.

MANY NEW WALKS LAID IN NORWOOD

Village Has Not Yet Sold Debentures to Cover the Outlay

Mr. Cotton, of Orillia, who had the contract of putting down the cement walks in town, completed his work for this season last Saturday. Altogether about 37,000 feet has been laid, totalling, including crossings and extras for curbing, and building a concrete crosspit at the corner of Peterborough and Colborne streets, about $4,000. The balance of the $7,000 will be expended next season. The debentures have not yet been disposed of, but the council expects to find a purchaser before long. They have received an offer of ninety-two fifty from a Toronto broker but expect to do better than this.—Norwood Register.

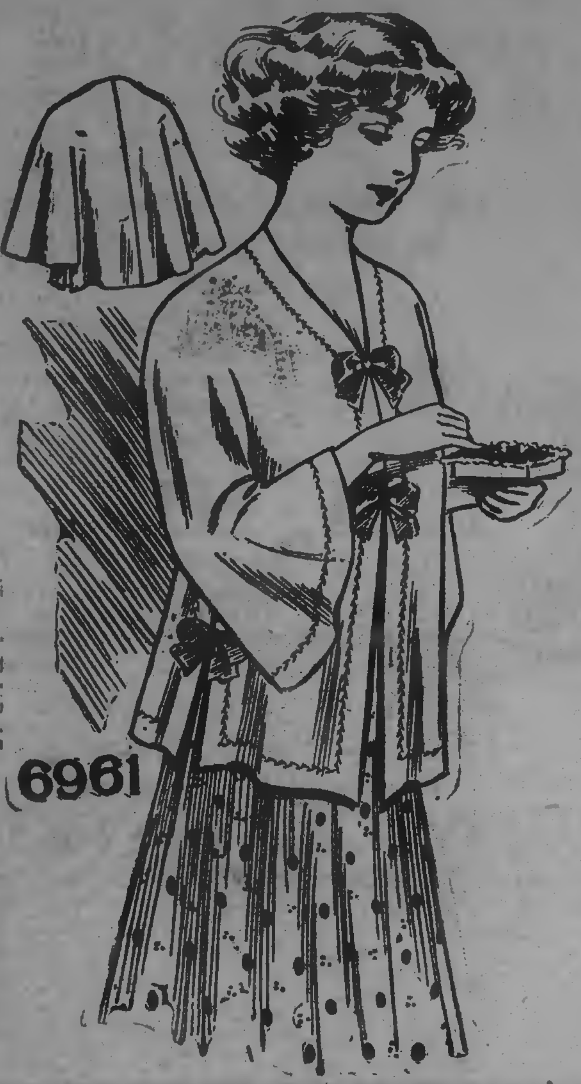
For the Home Dressmaker

The Latest Dean Patterns



A PRETTY ONE-PIECE NEGLIGEE

The modern American woman can never be too well supplied with dainty dressing sacques, and when a model presents itself which is both pretty in effect and easy of development the temptation to add one more to her store is irrestible. The accompanying sketch charmingly illustrates a sacque which answers both descriptions. To fashion it is simplicity itself, for since it is made in one piece it is well within the capabilities of the least experienced of home dressmakers. As portrayed in the illustration it is made of white Japanese cotton crepe, and ornamented with bows of pale rose satin ribbon; while a featherstitching of pale rose silk supplies the garniture for the edges. The same model may be made up quite without trimming, as shown in the outline sketch and utilized as a bed jacket for an invalid. In this case French flannel of fine flannelette would be an appropriate fabric for its development. For the medium size 3 1-8 yards of 36 inch material will be needed.

6961.—In three sizes, small, medium and large.

The price of this pattern is 10 cents.

Leave your order and 10 cents at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.

6958.—A GRACEFUL WALKING SKIRT.

The present season has produced no more attractive skirt than the seven gored, tuck-plaited model displayed in the accompanying drawing. It possesses, too, the rather uncommon advantage of being equally becoming to slender or stout figures. The effect of combined smartness and elegance is achieved largely by the arrangement of the plaits, a graduated triple box plait ornamenting both front and back, while two groups of tuck plaits appear between. The plaits are stitched in position over the hips and below are permitted to hang in free, well creased folds. The wide hem is finished simply with a double row of stitching. As illustrated the skirt is cut to round length and made of navy blue panama; but the pattern may be adjusted to either short round or instep length, if desired; while it may be developed with admirable effect in linen, taffeta, brilliantine, or serge. For the medium size 6 yards of 44 inch material will be needed.

6958.—In 7 sizes, from 20 to 32 ins. waist measure.

Leave your order and 10c at the REVIEW OFFICE and will be sent you by mail.

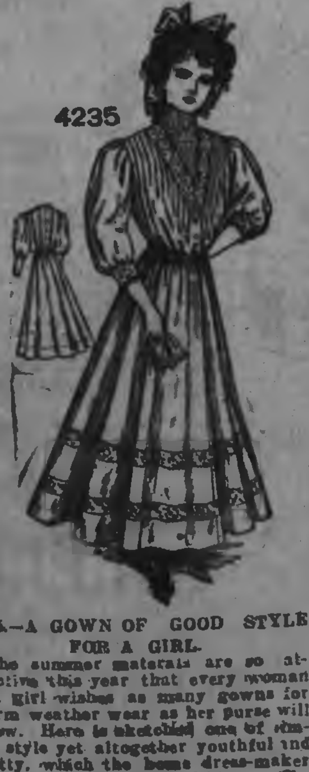
◆

A Bretelle Dress

The fashion for bretelle dresses is a very economical one and the woman who must make ends meet by remodelling her last year's dress or using a left-over skirt with shirt waists by combining it with bretelles, will appreciate the pattern sketched. The skirt is a seven-gored one showing inverted box pleats at centre front and back and three backward turning tuck-plaits at each side seam. Very neat trimming sections are inset at front and back, or may be omitted. The shoulder straps or bretelles are of the material of the skirt and finished with stitching or a narrow braid. Such a costume may be worn with any lingerie or silk shirt waist and prove very smart. For the medium size 5 3-8 yards of 44 inch material are needed.

◆



4235.—A GOWN OF GOOD STYLE FOR A GIRL.

The summer materials are so attractive this year that every woman and girl wishes as many gowns for warm weather wear as her purse will allow. Here is sketched one of simple style yet altogether youthful and pretty, which the home dress-maker will find quite to her liking. The waist has a deep pointed yoke of Valenciennes lace in strips which is finished with a band of coarse lace. Tucks extend a short distance from the yoke edge and the entire length in back. The sleeves may be to the wrist or elbow as desired. The skirt is in seven gores and gathered at the top. Any of the washing fabrics, pongee, foulard, taffetas or veils might be developed in this way. For the medium size 4 1-2 yards 44 inches wide are needed.

4235.—Sizes, 14, 15, 16, 17 years.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

Some Timely Suggestions Giving Directions in the Leading Styles and the Best Materials to be Used Clouded Glass.

To cloud a glass for the sake of protection purposes, as in a bathroom, and yet to preserve the light a man who works in glass says that it is done with a solution of epsom salts and vinegar applied with a brush. This should give a frosted look that becomes very durable if it is gone over at once with damar or white varnish.

A Hebrew Proverb.

If a man make but a mouse trap better than his fellows, though he makes his tent in the wilderness, the world will beat a path to his door, says a Hebrew proverb.

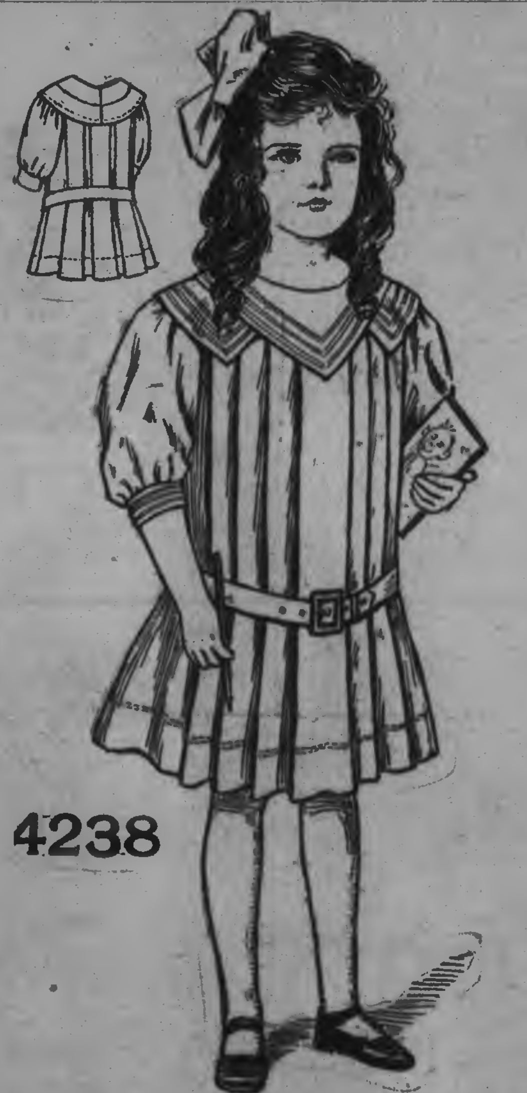
Tonsilitis.

Tonsilitis in the first stages can often be cured at once by gargling with a wash made by adding to one glass of water one teaspoonful of baking soda, one teaspoonful of borax and two tablespoonfuls of listerin.

Stained Marble.

To remove a stain in a marble basin caused by dripping water apply with an old toothbrush a little pulverized chalk moistened with ammonia.

Labor Day September 2.



A COOL TUB FROCK FOR A LITTLE GIRL

White linen was used for modelling this pretty little frock, which is equally adapted for home or summer resort wearing, while for trimming narrow blue washable braid was selected. An attractive feature is the tuck pleated arrangement of the front, and the novel shaping of the bertha also contributes to the general effect of style. This little frock, which possesses the advantage of being made with body and skirt in one, may be developed in pongee or any preferred tub fabric; or, for wearing on cool days, it might be made of cream-white French serge and trimmed with soutache braid. For the medium size 3 1-8 yards of 27 inch material be needed.

4238.—Six sizes, from two to seven years.

This price of this pattern is ten cents.

Leave your order and 10 cents at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.

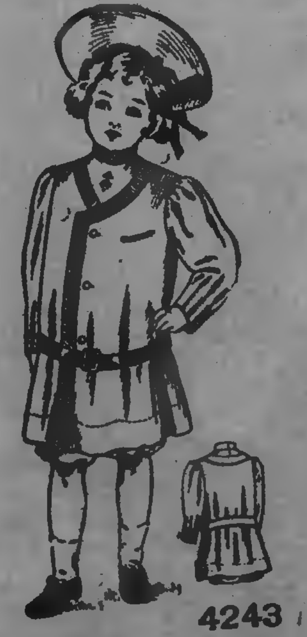
6954.—A MODISH AND SERVICEABLE COAT.

The separate coat, suitable for wearing with any skirt, presents a problem which many women find difficult of solution, since it must not be too elaborate to harmonize with a simple gown nor too plain to wear in conjunction with a dressy one.

6954.—6 sizes, 32 to 42 inches bust measure.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

Leave your order and 10c at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will will be sent you by mail.



4243.—A NATTY BLOUSE FOR THE LITTLE MAN.

Tub suits that are easy to make and easy to launder are an inestimable boon to the mother of a small boy, for the wear and tear to which children's clothes are especially subject render it very necessary to have a good supply always on hand. The natty Russian blouse suit shown in the accompanying drawing is neat and practical and can be made at home with small trouble. The shield is detachable, and the embroidery, which ornaments it can be purchased ready made. The box plaited sleeve is pretty as well as comfortable and the breast pocket cannot fail to appeal to the small wearer. The suit is modelled in white duck, with trimming bands of navy blue, but any tub fabrics will answer the purpose equally well. For the medium size 3 1-2 yards of 27 inch material will be needed.

4243.—5 sizes, 2 to 6 years.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

Leave your order and 10c at the REVIEW OFFICE and will be sent you by mail.

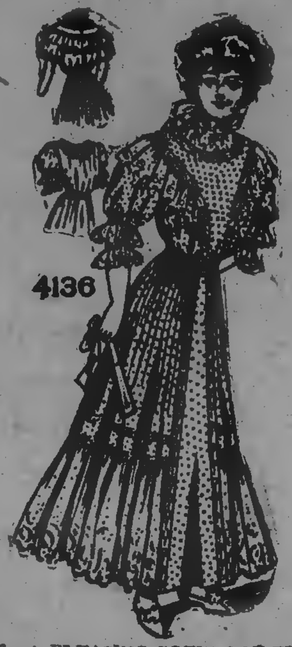
6932.—A PRETTY TUCKED DRESSING SACK.

The vogue for tucks manifests itself everywhere nowadays and on all descriptions of garments. The dainty dressing sack illustrated owes much of its charm to this fad of Fashion, for its graceful shaping is effected by means of tucks disposed evenly around the neck. There is no armhole seam, the kimona sleeve being cut with the garment, and as there are but three pieces in the entire pattern the sack may be made with little trouble by the least expert of home sewers. A thin challis was used for the present development, but organdie, batiste, cotton crepe, or any goods adapted to the season may be used and the sack may either be finished with neck and sleeve frills of lace or left plain as pictured. To develop the medium size 4 1-2 yards of 27 inch material will be required.

6932.—3 sizes, small, medium and large.



4136.—A PLEASING GOWN FOR THE GIRL IN HER TEENS.

There is nothing prettier nor more dainty for nice frocks for the young girl than the much used dotted Swiss or the small figured mulls. An illustration of a dress which might serve for afternoon or evening wear is developed in dotted Swiss and an idea of its attractiveness may be gained from the above drawing. The waist is round and gracefully full, being completed by a round yoke which may be in high neck or cut away as shown. The becoming bertha meets the girdle in front and suggests taper of waist. This is made of the Swiss and edged with embroidery to correspond. The sleeves are prettiest ending at the elbow, but they may be long with the deep cuff finishing. An attractive panel forms the front, the tucked side sections being lengthened by a gathered flounce of embroidery or a plain fabric. A simpler or more elaborate development may be realized in the dress; the style being suitable to any soft fabric which may become the girlish figure. For the medium size 5 3-8 yards of 44 inch goods are needed.

4136.—Sizes 14, 15, 16 and 17 years.

The price of this pattern is 10c

Leave your order and 10c at the REVIEW OFFICE and will be sent you by mail.

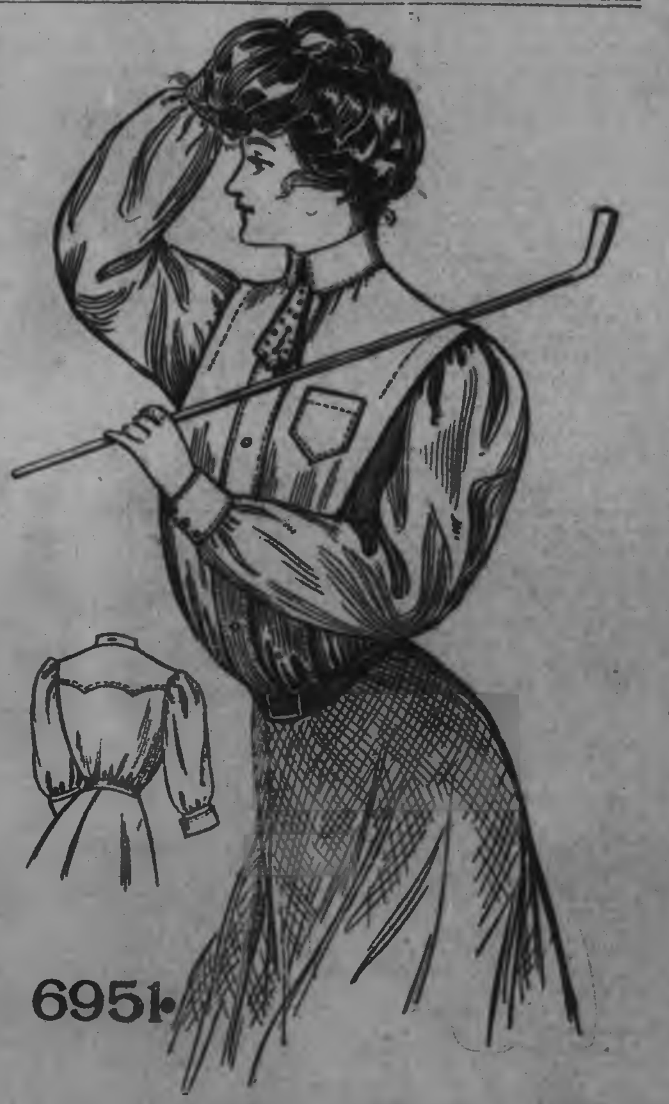
Rev. Dr. Langfeldt will open a Sunday school at Nassau Orange lodge on Sunday, Sept. 1st, at 2.30. The service will begin at 3.15.



A NATTY SHIRT WAIST

To the woman who realizes the importance of good style in every detail of dress the well-cut, trimly-built shirt waist here sketched will appeal with special force. The broad-shouldered effect secured by the deep tucks stitched over the shoulders will be found particularly becoming. The sleeves may be made either in full or shorter length made with a choice of two styles of cuff. It is to be noted that the fastenings of both waist and sleeves consist of small pearl buttons, a rather agreeable change from the usual studs and cuff buttons. The only possible decoration for the waist is machine stitching. The correct neck finishing is a linen collar, of which any preferred style may be worn. The waist as sketched is developed in linen, but it may be made of any material that will bear tubbing. For the medium size 3 7-8 yards of 27 inch goods will be required.

6951.—Six sizes, from 32 to 42 inches bust measure.

The price of this pattern is ten cents.

Leave your order and 10 cents at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.

The New Minister

By Frank H. Sweet

Copyright, 1906, by Frank H. Sweet

"HE'S come," said old Herkamer as he came into the kitchen and began to unload himself of the packages which he had brought from the trading post ten miles away, "an' now I reckon the next thing will be for him to go. We ain't waited five years for a meetin' house jest to carry it on as a nursery now we've got it. I don't see what Dr. Brown was thinkin' on."

"Is he very young?" asked Mrs. Herkamer, transferring the packages to a small cupboard fastened against the logs of the cabin wall.

"Young!" and old Herkamer's grim face seemed yet grimmer as it peered out through the small triangle formed by his down drawn cap and big, upturned collar. "He's younger'n our Seth, an' he couldn't speak ten words to folks lookin' at him to save his life. What we want is a tough, hard headed man who knows our ways an' can put up with 'em. This feller's store made an' soft. I could see that soon's the doctor introduced him. I wouldn't be s'prised if he shaved every day, an' cleaned his nails an' ba-th-ed," drawing out the word derisively. "Huh! What can a feller like that do with our young men? S'pose he had to tramp ten miles through a Dakota blizzard to say pra'rs over a remains; s'pose he'd meet a fightin' grizzly in the forest; s'pose some of our high speerited boys got to chaffin' him in their b'ar cub way! Say, what'd he do then?" And without waiting for what he thought an impossible answer to his comments old Herkamer turned back to care for his team and to hasten his evening chores in anticipation of a gathering storm.

When he again appeared and had emerged from the depths of his greatcoat his mind still seemed to be harking back to his day's discontent, for he went on:

"Ain't old's our Seth, no; an' ain't more'n five feet four an' has hands soft'a a ba-by. Huh! Our old minister where we come from had hands like the bark of an old hick'ry an' could chaw terbaccy an' wrestle with a grizzly an' pitch a man through a winder when he got sassed. That's the sort we need here. Hoss sense comes 'fore book sense, an' hard hands 'fore p'liteness. That's my idee."

He drew a stool to the fireplace and spread his hands out over the blaze with thawing satisfaction. One by one the grim lines of his face softened and mellowed under the fire's influence, and presently he turned half round toward his wife, who was preparing supper.

"Of course we needn't say anything like this outside," he observed, half apologetically. "The boy ain't to blame for what he is, an' the doctor got him here. An' furder," still mellowing, "we won't be hard on the doctor either. He's our nearest neighbor an' gener'ly does things pretty sensible. We can pass over a slip now an' then. An' that reminds me," turning entirely round, "the doctor said he'd bring him over this evenin' if it didn't storm too hard, an' if it did they'd likely be round tomorrer. The boy seemed spry an' good natered an' said he wanted to visit everybody an' get acquainted. We'll treat him right's we can, for he won't be here many days. Poor little feller! He don't realise how soon the boys'll run him out. You might save the wild turkey I shot yesterday, Liza, an' thar's plenty of venison. We'll treat him right."

Outside they could hear the sounds of the approaching storm, and Herkamer went to the windows and door and fastened them more securely.

"The doctor won't bring him out tonight," he said as he resumed his stool by the fire, "an' I don't reckon Seth an' the half breed will come in either. Leastway, I hope not. It'll be safer in the gulch than finding one's way through this snow."

But he was mistaken, for presently there came a tramping and stamping outside, and as the cabin door was thrown open a tall, white haired old man stepped in, accompanied by a boyish figure of slight but compact build. The old man was Dr. Brown, the neighborhood autocrat, and in his companion Herkamer recognized the new minister. But he was no longer the fashionably dressed figure which had alighted from the train at Minot, but rather a trim frontiersman in appropriate costume. Old Herkamer's eyes darkened a little as they rested upon him. He did not approve of ministers in masquerade.

"I hardly thought you'd get over tonight," he said rather shortly, "the storm"—

"That's just why we came," the doctor interrupted genially. "The storm is likely to be a long one, and we can get back before it becomes severe. By tomorrow even the mile between our homes may be difficult to make. You are one of our prominent members," frankly, "and I wanted you to see more of Mr. Irwin before hearing him in the pulpit. We are apt to be prejudiced against strangers."

Herkamer's grimness increased. He was not prejudiced, he told himself, only conservative and steadfast. The man was all right, of course, but he was in the wrong place. It was a manifest duty to discountenance the mistake.

And yet there was something in the clear, earnest gaze of the young minister, in his frank smile and warm, sympathetic eyes that somehow thrilled the cynical old heart. If only the boy had been content with his professional costume, well, who knew but in time— But this outfit, so ridiculously new! Probably the boy had never had on such clothes before in his life. It was masquerading, trying to appear what he was not.

At this moment came a stumbling outside and an ineffectual groping for the latch string, then an "Open do do'! I sa-say, open do do'!"

Herkamer sprang forward to comply, and as the door swung back a short, squatty figure half fell into the room.

"The half breed!" ejaculated Herkamer, forgetting to shut the door in his consternation. "What's up, Baptiste? Where's Seth?"

"Busted," responded Baptiste, throwing out his arms dramatically. "Tree fall on shanty, break t'rou. Seth busted, me—Ba'tiste—busted too. Come for help, med'cine—rub on."

"Not dead!" gasped Mrs. Herkamer, her face whitening. "Seth ain't dead?"

This brought the half breed to his senses.

"Non, on'y jes' busted," he reassured her. "Leg hurt so can't walk. Me—Ba'tiste—busted, too; finger broke. Come for med'cine—rub on. Ain't busted bad, non."

With trembling hands Mrs. Herkamer produced some bottles and bandages from the cupboard; her husband reached for his greatcoat.

"We must hurry back to him," he cried. "If his leg's broke it must be attended to at once. You'll have to excuse me," to his guests.

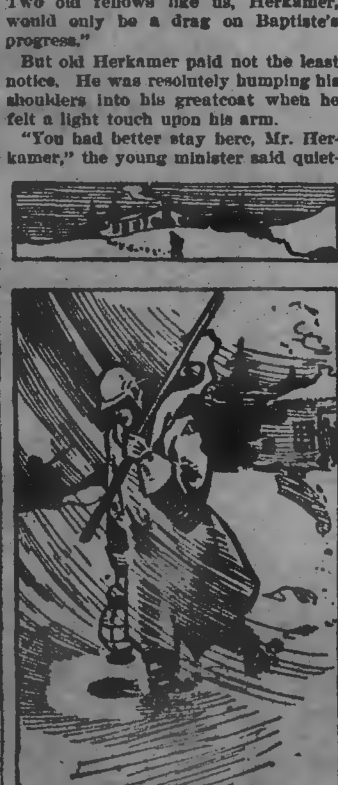
Baptiste raised his squatty figure to its full height.

"No good you go," he declared sturdily, "bad way t'rou' ravine. Fo'teen mile me come, all time fallin' an' climbin'; take five, six hour. You no strong like young man. Better me go 'lone. Go two time quick. Leg broke, want look out for soon. Me fix him, den we stay two t'ree day an' come home all right. Bes' way."

"The half breed's right," said Dr. Brown. "If the leg's broken it needs looking after at once, and Baptiste is just as good at that work as I am. Two old fellows like us, Herkamer, would only be a drag on Baptiste's progress."

But old Herkamer paid not the least notice. He was resolutely humping his shoulders into his greatcoat when he felt a light touch upon his arm.

"You had better stay here, Mr. Herkamer," the young minister said quietly. "Your son is in need of help which should reach him just as speedily as possible. I am used to this sort of thing and am young and strong; besides I have some little knowledge of medicine. Mr. Baptiste and I can do all that is necessary." He buttoned his coat and turned to the half breed, who had been listening with open derision. But somehow, when Baptiste met the straight gaze of this young fellow, the contempt faded from his face. Like those who live close to nature, he was accustomed to look into eyes, and these eyes were strangely legible.



He strode out into the gathering darkness.

"Well, I guess mebbe you go 'long," he acquiesced graciously, "dat is, if you t'ink you good for tough job."

Old Herkamer stared. That soft handed boy "used to this sort of thing," and Baptiste accepting him in preference to himself. What was the world coming to?

"Why, the boy can't get through that ravine to save his life," he blurted out.

"Ain't go t'rou' ravine," Baptiste declared stolidly; "go roun' by hill dis time. Take two time longer, but mo' safe. Go in ravine, find snow t'ick, mebbe no get t'rou'. Bes' go safe. But no time wait for old peoples."

Herkamer snorted, but slowly removed his coat.

"Well, young feller," ignoring Baptiste and speaking to the minister, "you'd better put on my big coat an' all the other warm stuff we can scare up. Better freeze comfortable long's you're bound to freeze. An' don't let that half breed push you on too fast. We don't want no remains on our hands even if Seth has broke his leg."

The young minister smiled.

"This costume is all I need, thank you, Mr. Herkamer," he said reassuringly. "I had it made especially for this sort of work, and it is very warm. I do not like heavy wraps for hard walking; the exercise is better. If the wind is hard or the cold becomes very severe I have a hood which I can draw over my head and shoulders. Now, Baptiste, about the route. Is this ravine you speak of a plain trail? Would a greenhorn like me be likely to lose his way?"

"Non; it be narrow, an' dere be rocks high on bot' sides, an' de camp be right in de middle. It can't be miss if one go dat fur. But we ain't goin' in de ravine, non. We go roun' by de hill. De ravine no let us out, mebbe, an' him berry dark now."

"Well, we must remember that a man is waiting in urgent need of help and that a barrier is liable to block any trail. We must take no chances. You go round by the hill, and I will take the ravine with a lantern. I am used to climbing and can probably get through without any trouble."

Baptiste raised his hands as though to protest, but no words came from his lips. Those straight glances were controlling him, and his hands fell to his side. The minister was a leader; he was to obey.

When they turned toward the door the rest accompanied them. Baptiste bent his head to the storm and plunged stolidly away to the hill route; the minister waited for a few directions from Herkamer, then he strode out into the gathering darkness toward the ravine.

"Do you think there's any chance at all of his making it?" asked Herkamer in a troubled voice as they turned back into the cabin.

"Chance," echoed the doctor, with a curious ring in his voice, "of course I do. That young fellow is small only in size. Why, he's climbed half the mountains in Europe and likes nothing better than a tough wrestle like this to help somebody. It's the best job I ever did for the neighborhood, getting him here. I was afraid I couldn't, for he has plenty of money and only took to the ministry through love for the work. I thought he'd want a softer place; but, no, he actually seemed pleased when I asked him to come out to our wild country. Of course he'll make it."

And he did, but with a sheer force of will that made it linger for many a long year about the neighborhood firesides as a story of pluck and endurance, and when he stood in the pulpit the next Sabbath, with one arm in a sling and his face still pale from the journey, there was not one in the rough audience but listened with respectful and earnest attention. And later, when they crowded about him to shake hands after service, it was not an effeminate, boyish figure they saw, but a brave, strong man to whom all were more than pleased to pay homage.

Grateful Snakes.

That hoop snakes roll up hill I can vouch for on the authority of a man by the name of Bell, whom I knew in Ohio and whose statements were accepted as gospel truth, says Ananias junior in the Chicago Inter Ocean. Out on his farm he had four hoop snakes that were as tame as kittens and seemed to understand everything he said to them. On one occasion Bell started at cider making, and after the press was started and the cider began to fill the first barrel it was found that the juice began to run out of the barrel joints because the hoops had not been tightened. The tools necessary to drive in the hoops were some distance away at the house, and it began to look as if the entire barrel of cider would be lost. But the pet hoop snakes took in the situation and two of them voluntarily surrounded the barrel and held it tight until the hired man came with the necessary tools.

Bell told me that it was a custom of the snakes in cider making time to imbibe cider until they became frisky and then start to run races. They had a favorite course down a hill for some 200 yards and in returning always came back in hoop shape.

The Flight of Birds.

The course of flight is a distinguishing characteristic of many birds. The grouse rises gradually while flying in a straight course; the woodcock rises to a height of several feet or even yards, then flies straight away; the cuckoo's flight is also in a straight line, but peculiarly arrow-like, being graceful and silent, the long slender tail and body of the bird still further suggesting an arrow. A number of the birds, notably the brown thrasher and the song sparrow, progress in short flights, as from bush to bush, with a queer eccentric or bobbing motion, as if their flapping tails were a great hindrance. A Wilson snipe flies in a zigzag line, a goldfinch in long undulations or bounds. All of these and many other ways of flying can be indicated by dotted lines in the notebook, supplemented by such words as "sailing," "rapid," "slow," "heavy" or "graceful" flight and "rapid," "slow," "silent" or "clattering" wing beats; the wings of the grouse hum, those of the woodcock and the mourning dove whistle.—St. Nicholas.

Slot Machines.

The first coin in the slot machine dates back to Egypt's halcyon days. It was an automatic receptacle which sold holy water and was placed at the doors of the temples in which the Egyptians worshiped daily. A tiny coin was dropped into the basin and immediately a certain amount of water was ejected.

Humor

THEY MET AGAIN.

Why the Sporty Looking Chap Cut His Vacation Short.

After the sporty looking chap had had breakfast at the little hotel in the Catskills, where he had come for a few weeks' vacation, the old farmer who ran the place called him aside and said:

"I understand ye gave my boy a big roll of money an' some jewelry to put in the safe."

"Yes. I thought that was the best place for them. You don't mind keeping the stuff for me, do you?"

"Great snakes, no!" replied the farmer as he rubbed his hands and chuckled. "The boy says ye brung three purty heavy trunks with ye."

"Yes; I always travel with plenty of clothes, tennis rackets, fishing lines, etc. You've no objection to so much baggage, have you?"

"Not a bit of it, sir—not a bit of it! I wish ye had brung 'leven or twelve with ye. It's kinder funny ye ain't recognized me yet."

"No; I don't remember to have ever seen your face before," said the new arrival.

"Well, mebbe my whiskers be a leetle longer or suthin', but ye orter know my voice. We had quite a talk one day in Noo York."

"In—in New York?" stammered the sporty looking chap as he turned pale.

"Yep. Don't ye recollect 'bout me handin' ye $100 fer that gold brick? I knowed ye the minnit I seen ye on the wagon last night. Snakes, but that was a most bewtiful swindle ye worked on me, son!"

"W-what are you going to do about it?"

"Oh, nuthin'. I never raise no fuss unless there's a good occashun fer it. The boy says ye jest went wild over the scenery comin' up on the wagon, an' mebbe ye'd like to walk down to the depot an' git some more views on the way. The next train to the city passes there at 'leven thirty, an' if ye start now, while I'm lookin' fer the constable, ye'll jest about ketch it. An' don't do no worryin' 'bout that cash of yours, son, as I'll take the best of care of it."

It was a ten mile walk to the depot, but when the 11:30 for New York came along it carried away a footsore and dusty looking individual, who scowled and muttered and shook his fist through the car window as the train started off again.—A. B. Lewis in Judge.

A Compromise.

In a jury trial in a small town not many miles from civilization the rural gentlemen into whose hands the fate of the plaintiff was placed were so stubbornly divided that they were some twenty odd hours in reaching a verdict. As they left the court, after returning their verdict, one of them was asked by a friend what the trouble was.

"Waal," he said, "six of 'em wanted to give the plaintiff $4,000, and six of 'em wanted to give him $3,000, so we split the difference and gave him $500."—Woman's Home Companion.

Poor Consolation.

Aunt Lucindy was in deep distress over the loss of her son Jim, and a neighbor sought to console her, saying:

"Don't grieve for him, Aunt Lucindy. He has gone to a land flowing with milk and honey."

With a dismal countenance, the old darky replied:

"Jim never did like milk, an' honey always made him sick."—Lippincott's.

His First Banquet.

City Nephew—But, Uncle Henry, you left the banquet table too early. You should have waited for the bonmots and the repartee.

Uncle Henry—Oh, don't worry, bub. I was satisfied. You see, I don't drink nor smoke.—Des Moines Register.

His Forte.

"Bragley tells me he's doing wonderful work with his present employer. I didn't know he was particularly strong in business."

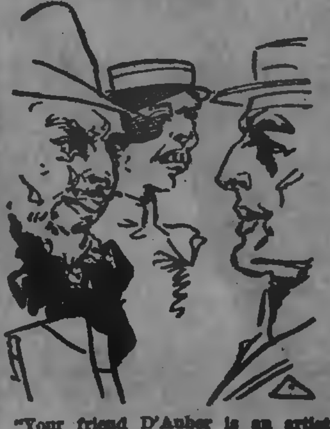
"He isn't. He's merely particularly strong in talking about business."—Philadelphia Press.

The Good They Do.

Arline—Do moth balls really keep the moths away?

Yvonne—No, dear, but they keep people too far away to examine one's clothes critically.—Kansas City Times.

His Limitation.



"Your friend D'Auber is an artist, isn't he?"

"Yes, that fellow can draw anything."

"Indeed! I have heard it said that he hasn't drawn a sober breath for years."—Philadelphia Press.

At Exeter the Hartleib's brick block of stores was burned with $20,000 loss.

The assessment of Edmonton, Man., is $31,000,000, over $4,000,000 more

WORKMEN'S RIGHTS

In Canada a workman may proceed against his employer under the Workman's Compensation for Injuries Act, and at common law. That means untold annoyance and inconvenience to an employer. An employer is even liable for damages to an employee for injury resulting from the negligence of a fellow employee. Oft-times a workman will get back at an employer in this way. The employee may or may not win. Whether he does or not it means a great deal of anxiety to you as an employer. Let us relieve you of all this. Our liability policies are designed to do this very thing.

Will be glad to explain our plan.

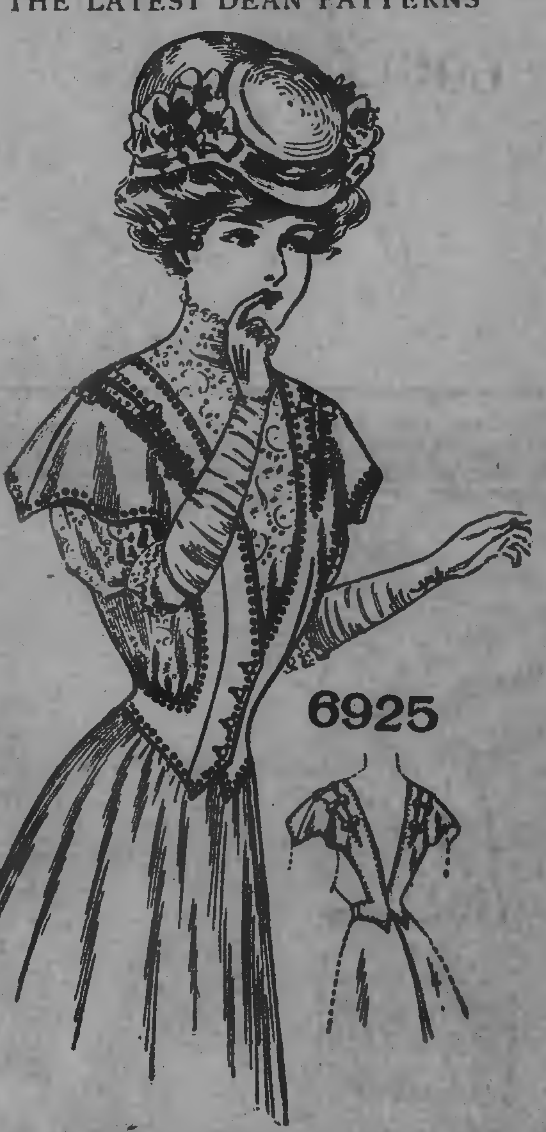
THE LATEST DEAN PATTERNS



A NOVEL GIRDLE BRETELLE

It is a season of accessories and happy is the woman or girl who is clever with her needle to fashion such becoming apparel. A very attractive girdle bretelle which is full of style and built according to the newest fashion lines is sketched. It may be made of silk, velvet or cloth as well or other seasonable materials and will be smart worn with any style of blouse or shirt waist, the elaborateness of its development deciding its dressiness. Three pretty buttons close it at the waist line, the open spaces at the shoulder being joined by straps of braid or velvet ribbon. For the medium size 1 1-4 yards of 27 inch material are needed.

6925.—Sizes, 20, 24, 28 inches waist measure.

The price of this pattern is ten cents.

Leave your order and ten cents at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.

SPOKE STRONGLY ON TEMPERANCE

Rev. J. G. Potter Refers to the Awful Effect of Strong Drnik

In St. Andrew's church last evening, the pastor, Rev. J. G. Potter preached a powerful sermon on "The Prodigal Son," and in the course of his remarks referred to the evil influences of liquor. He spoke of the temptations of the great cities, and how many a young man was lured from the path of duty, and right living by the wine cup, the gambling den and the houses of shame. He told of how, many a father's and mother's hearts were being broken and torn by the dissipation of sons and daughters and particularly referred to a young man who had been sent to College at a terrible sacrifice on the part of his parents, but who, although he passed his examinations, had the seeds of intemperance so implanted in his system that he could not resist temptation.

Another young man in Peterborough, married only a few years, was seen going home drunk, yet a hotelkeeper had given the helpless husband, another drink, which had so incapacitated him, that he had to lean upon a post for support. A sad sight was that witnessed at a Stoney Lake wharf recently when a 12 year old boy was seen reeling under the influence of liquor, and told his mother that he was sorry he had taken the "stuff." Alas, how great was the havoc wrought. All were pained to read of the death of a little Indian child at Hiawatha, while the father was recovering from a two weeks' debauch, the fire water having, it is said, been supplied by white men. Who was responsible for all this misery and woe. It might be those who were seated in cushioned pews, reaping directly or indirectly the harvest that accrued from the horrible traffic.

Mr. Potter spoke of the influence for good that Godly parents wielded, of the benefits of good home training, and how children should, by God's help and guidance seek so to live, that they would be a comfort and a blessing to their parents and make upright, useful and law-abiding citizens.

EEL CAME THROUGH WATER WORKS PIPE

Discovered in a Hole While Men Were Engaged Repairing a Break

An eel over a foot long, which emerged from a waterworks service pipe in front of the Oriental Hotel, was captured today, and is now in the possession of Mr. Anson Henry of the hotel staff, who has the creature in a bottle.

A break was discovered today in a pipe and the men under Foreman Dick Martin, have been excavating to find the leak and repair it. While engaged at this work the eel was thrown out by one of the shovellers this afternoon. At first the men thought the slimy, crawly thing was a snake, but it turned out to be a lively eel. It is nice to have drinking water, supplied with fish. It saves consumers the trouble of going angling, but it is not every day that such a rare prize as an eel is captured.

MANITOBA WHEAT IS IN EXCELLENT CONDITION

Dr. M. A. Morrison Says That the Frost Has Not Done Any Damage

"The wheat crop in the Northwest is going to be a splendid yield," said Dr. M. A. Morrison, who, with Mrs. Morrison had been spending the past two weeks in the West. Dr. Morrison went from here to Brandon and from there travelled out around the country. In the district around Brandon and Souris and in the southwest part of Manitoba generally, the crops are splendid and the farmers expect a yield of from 20 to 25 bushels per acre. "The report that there was frost last week in the west is not true," said the doctor. "The farmers are beginning to cut their wheat this week. There will not be such a hard time in the west this winter as last, as the farmers are getting in their supply of coal."

Dr. Morrison met Mr. B. F. Ackerman in Souris, and in Winnipeg, where he spent a day, he had a chat with Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, who is more than delighted with western life. He is doing well and is busy all the time. Dr. Morrison also spent a day at Fort William. He enjoyed his trip very much, and he thinks the west a great country, and a land of opportunities.

STOCK MARKET QUOTATIONS

New York, Aug. 26.— The market opened at about a parity with high London prices on a rather small volume of trading. New York Central was sold down and the weakness of that stock affected the whole market. The room crowd turned abruptly to the selling side and supplied a good many active stocks at price recessions.

The woods again are full of rumors touching credits. Some of them come from outlying points, which gives rise to the suspicion that they may have been sent out of town privately to be reported back. Traders are mixed in their attitude toward the market. Some of the more aggressive operators would play for a recovery in the absence of fresh liquidation. There is general feeling that a demonstration against short interest would be successful if not interfered with by unexpected developments, as on Saturday.

In the afternoon a strong rally set in and stocks recovered from 1 to 4 points on active buying, coming mostly from the shorts. The closing was active and strong, at the best prices of the day.
